Two householders on Centre street, who have asked several times for sewer connections, sent in a petition signed by two owners of vacant property which would be passed. The Aldermen, informed that the sewer would cost $1,300, decided that the city could not do the work at present.

The C.N.R. asked that something be done to get the Bell Telephone poles removed from in front of the freight shed when the paving is done on Aylmer street. The City Engineer will take up the matter with the agent and company.

Ald. Denne proposed that the streets be paved at the C.P.C. and Romaine street crossings where the street railway tracks are to be pulled up. The sidewalk in front of the International Harvester warehouse will be raised.

Ald. Cotton moved that danger signs be placed on Romaine, Westcott and Parnell streets, near the C.N.R. crossings, in order to give some protection.

The north settling tank of the sewage disposal plant is being used as a digestive tank to try out the disposal of the sludge before other digestive tanks are built. The sludge is at present being drawn away and all trouble with bad odors has been eliminated.

Ald. Phelan proposed that the angle parking bylaw be rescinded. Aldermen Cotton and Denne agreed with him, the latter adding that no parking should be allowed on George street between Brock and King streets.

Ald. McIntyre called attention to the Automobile Association's suggestion to change the angle, and Ald. Denne proposed that the markers be made of wood.

City Engineer Parsons said that the angle here is 30 degrees, while in most places it is 45 degrees.

Ald. Fife said he was in favor of angle parking, but thought that there should be no parking on George street.

Ald. Fife asserted that the Council was not responsible for the bylaw. The Chief of Police had recommended it, and it was done on his suggestion.

Ald. Cotton said he had favored the law, but had changed his mind, while Ald. Denne re-iterated that he had opposed the scheme and would continue to oppose it.

A bylaw will be prepared rescinding the bylaw.

Mother Kills Child And Ends Own Life

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Leaving a note saying she was tired of life and did not want her boy to "suffer" as she had, Mrs. Margaret McCusker, thirty-five, yesterday killed her eight-year-old son and then ended her own life with the same revolver. Police were told the woman's estranged husband was living in Rochester with a daughter.

NEVER INTERESTED IN PURCHASE OF LIQUOR, DUFF TELLS BOARD

Antigonish - Guysboro Member Feature Witness at Customs Hearing.

FINAL SESSION.

Questioned As To His Connections With Rum-Running Vessels.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 2. —(Canadian Press.)—"I was never interested in the purchase of liquor. I never smuggled any liquor in my life. I never bought or sold any smuggled liquor in my life, although my Tory friends in Nova Scotia have stated that I was a smuggler and a bootlegger."

Thus, William Duff, member in the Federal Parliament for Antigonish-Guysboro and formerly representative for the constituency of Lunenburg, declared to the Royal Customs Commission during the course of an examination by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., yesterday afternoon. Mr. Duff was the feature witness of the opening day of the commission's final sittings. He occupied the witness chair for a large part of the afternoon, during which time Mr. Rowell plied him with questions as to his connection with rum-running vessels, his intervention on behalf of persons who got into trouble with the authorities for their activities in the liquor business, and other matters pertinent to the inquiry.

On the question of intervention, Mr. Duff declared frankly that he had interceded on behalf of a large number of persons who had been guilty of infractions of the law. As a member of parliament, he said, he felt that it was his duty to lay before the Minister of Customs the facts in regard to a large number of cases. He did not intervene when the case was in the courts, he said, nor did he do so when he thought that the punishment was fully merited. But, when, in addition to a fine, a man was deprived of his boat or car which he required to earn his living, he frequently took the matter up with Ottawa.

"The only thing is that I did not get paid for it," declared Mr. Duff. "Lots of others did get paid for it."

"You have got votes," suggested Mr. Rowell.

Mr. Duff denied that even this was always the case. He instanced the case of a vessel called the "Lois Conrad," in connection with which he had used his powers of intercession. The captain, he declared, had voted against him.

Mr. Duff was asked by Mr. Rowell about a statement attributed to him during the general election campaign of 1925 which appears in the record of the Lemieux Royal Commission. Mr. Duff admitted that the news report as quoted into the report was approximately correct. As read by Mr. Rowell it was as follows:

Would Make Revelations.

"In the matter of the customs probe, Mr. Duff said that, if the Tory whispering of scandal continued, he intended to make certain revelations that would bring men on the platform in Halifax face to face with him. He suggested that he could tell of licenses for bonded warehouses being issued in Halifax since the Conservative government came into power, when, in one instance, $10,000 and another $15,000 was placed in the pockets of those who were responsible.

"I know the facts and I will tell more some day if this whispering campaign goes on,' said Mr. Duff."

"That had absolutely nothing to do with Federal matters," declared Mr. Duff when the record was read to him. Chief Commissioner Brown suggested that this might be one of the statements which, made in the heat of an election campaign, could be discounted.

"Emigration King" Gets Four Years

NAPLES, Sept. 2.—Ernesto Acanfora, commonly called "The Emigration King," was sent to the penal colony for four years on sentence by the Provincial Commission for Admonition.

He was found guilty of persistently smuggling would-be emigrants aboard ships bound for the United States and of taking the money of hundreds of peasant victims lured with false promises of getting them to America.

OLD MASTERS

Give me a look, give me a face,
That makes simplicity a grace:
Robes loosely flowing, hair as free;
Such sweet neglect more taketh me
Than all the adulteries of art;
They strike mine eyes, but not my heart.

—Ben Jonson: From "Epicoene."

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Wife Stabs Husband In Fight Over Money

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Patrick Healey, forty-three, a janitor employed and living at No. 60 Allen street, was stabbed last night in the right lung and right cheek during an altercation with his wife, Mary. He was taken to Gouverneur Hospital in serious condition. His wife was arrested, charged with felonious assault.

James Flynn, of Middletown, N. Y., and Mary Stetz, of the Allen street address, detained as material witnesses, told the police Healey demanded his wife to give him money. An argument developed.

PLAN FLIGHT FOR TO-DAY

French Aviator To Start Westward on Atlantic Hop This Morning.

FAIR WEATHER REPORTS.

LE BOURGET, France, September 2. Canadian Press. — Unless some unforeseen circumstance arises, Leon Given, the French aviator, will start on his transatlantic flight early this morning. He came on the field last evening and surveyed his plane, the "Bluebird," carefully.Only a few more gallons of gasoline are needed in the tanks.

Given went home to rest. He said he would sleep until 3 a.m. "This is the night," he told a friend.

Dieudonne Costes, another French ace, who is anxious to make a transatlantic flight, announced at the same time last night, that he would not take off in the morning, but would come to the field to see the departure of his friend Given.

Despite the increasing anxiety felt over the lack of news of the British plane "St. Raphael," there was no let up in their preparations for the French attempt. It is believed that the hop off will take place between 3 and 5 o'clock in the morning. None of the catastrophes of late days has affected the enthusiasm of Coates and Given. The latter remarked that he had just received the first real good news in weeks from the meteorological service, indicating favorable atmospheric conditions for an overseas attempt.

REDFERN'S FATE UNSOLVED MYSTERY

Nothing Heard From Aviator Who Attempted South American Flight.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Sept. 2. — (Associated Press).—The whereabouts of Paul Redfern, the young Georgia aviator, who disappeared since starting his solo flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Brazil, August 25, remained an unsolved mystery at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Up to that time no confirmation was received here of an earlier, circumstantial report that Redfern had "fallen down" near Alemouer, State of Para.

The Brazilian Government, in order to prevent the dissemination of misleading reports, has ordered all land, cable and radio stations not to give to the public the slightest news of the aviator until after flashing it to Rio Janeiro, so that the Government may inform Edwin Morgan, the U. S. Ambassador.

The Minister of Communications has taken personal charge of the task of running down all clues tending to confirm or deny the report of Redfern's forced landing near Alemouer.

As soon as the authorities heard of the rumor, realizing that he may have met with an accident somewhere along the frontier of Northern Brazil, urgent instructions were broadcast to all operators in the states of Amazonas and Para to be on the alert.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—Improved demand, a fair volume of which was attributed to exporting interests, and unsettled weather conditions in the Canadian West imparted a bullish trend to the wheat market here yesterday.

Offerings were more restricted and buyers were taking all available supplies without exerting undue pressure. At the close wheat values were 7-8c to 11-8c higher. The Canadian pool was credited with some unloading on the bulges.

Coarse grains were lifted into higher ground by the firmness of wheat, oats advancing 5-8c to 11-8c; barley, ¾c to 11-8c; flax, 1¼c up, and rye, 11-8c to 1¼c above the previous day's close.

WEDDING BELLS.

BROWN—LINTON

ROSENEATH, Sept. 2.—The marriage of Miss Effie Linton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Linton to Mr. Cephas Brown, son of Mr. Robert Brown, was solemnized at the parsonage on Wednesday, August 31, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Mr. Brown.

After the wedding the young couple drove to the home of her parents where a sumptuous dinner was served after which the happy couple left for a trip to Toronto and other points west. They will reside in Alnwick township.

ATTENDED MINING CONFERENCE

Many distinguished authorities on mining practise and minerals attended the second triennial Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress in Toronto, Ont. Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Evans, shown here, came from Johannesburg, South Africa, where Mr. Evans is managing director of the Crown Mine, the largest gold mine in that country.

Prince of Wales to Use Marlborough House; Will Not Disturb Queen Alexandra's Suite

LONDON, Sept. 2 (A.P.). — The Prince of Wales will go into residence at Marlborough House soon after his return from Canada.

Marlborough House, an almost square, solid red brick building, was built by Sir Christopher Wren just over 200 years ago for the first Duke of Marlborough. Later it became the residence successively of various members of the royal family, and finally was acquired by the nation as a residence for King Edward VII., then Prince of Wales.

The present Prince of Wales will actually use only a small portion of the house himself. His suite will be on the first floor, which looks out on two acres of garden. A large room, which was formerly an audience chamber, will be converted into a combined writing room and study, where the Prince will conduct the principal part of his correspondence.

On the ground floor is a large room which will be used for the entertainment of friends who are not of the Prince's intimate circle.

Queen Alexandra's boudoir and bedroom will remain exactly as they were in her lifetime, as will also the four state rooms with their pictures and statuary. The same course was followed with regard to Queen Victoria. Rooms at Osborne House, Isle of Wight, where she died—although her death took place more than a quarter of a century ago and although Osborne House as a whole has been put to different use—remain as they were in her lifetime.

WORK IS SCARCE IN BORDER CITIES

Local Boy Here on Holidays Says Stories of Activity Attract Many.

A local lad who is back from the Border Cities on holidays says conditions are not the best there. Many along the line pace the streets day by day in search of work, which they seldom find. Tales of the wonderful opportunities in cities along the border have attracted thousands more than the industries can use, and many are stranded there, although conditions are more favorable further south where labor is not so plentiful. The Ford factory in Windsor, which has been closed for some time, is re-opening now and this should relieve the situation somewhat.

FINDLAY, O., Sept. 2.—When the physician attending Perry C. Thomas, 74, pronounced him dead, Mrs. Thomas screamed. But her husband was not dead; the scream caused him to open his eyes, attempt to rise. Mrs. Thomas swooned, died of fright and shock. Mr. Thomas, disturbed by his wife's death, died three hours later.

Boy Dies, Pilot Hurt, As Plane Crashes

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 2. — (AP).—A fourteen-year-old boy was instantly killed and the air pilot seriously injured when the plane in which they were flying crashed at Wildwood Gables early last night. The dead youth was John Applegate, Cape May Court House, a helper employed by the South Jersey Flying Company. Bun Cole, twenty-six, of Avalon, pilot, was in Mace's Hospital, Wildwood, suffering from a possible skull fracture, fractured left knee and internal injuries.

Western Farmer Has New Variety of Wheat

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press.) — Herman Trelle, world's champion wheat and oat grower, is paving the way for a new triumph that will likely cause a stir in the grain growing belts of Canada and the United States. This is a new variety of wheat which can be sown later and ripens 18 days earlier than present varieties and which is expected to cause a revolution in wheat growing in Western Canada.

When members of Hon. Dr. Kings party visited Mr. Trelle's farm at Wembley during their recent tour of the north country, they found that successful experiments are being conducted with this mystery wheat. It has been supplied from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Ottawa and gives indication of creating a sensation in Western Canada. The samples were examined by members of the party and all were impressed with the results of the initial tests.

Mr. Trelle it is believed, plans to continue experimental work on a large scale.

LONDON PLANE FORCED DOWN NEAR CARIBOU

"Sir John Carling" Forced Off the Course By Fog.

LANDS IN MAINE.

"Royal Windsor" Makes Landing at St. John's—Wing on Fire.

CARIBOU, Maine, September 1. — The monoplane "Sir John Carling" attempting flight from London Ont. to London, England, landed about 6 o'clock (Eastern Standard Time) last night in an open field in the Township of Washburn, six miles from here. Foggy conditions forced the fliers southward from their course to Newfoundland and compelled them to interrupt their flight.

The plane first appeared over this town about 1.30 p.m., flying very low and circling as though in an effort to gain bearings and identify the town. It then headed off in a northeasterly direction toward the New Brunswick line.

The next report came from Washburn when a farmer telephoned in that the plane had landed there. The pilots, Captain Terry Tully and Lt. James Medcalf left the plane in the field where they landed for the night and came in to this town, going immediately to the Vaughan House.

Wing Caught Fire.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 1. — Canadian Press. — The monoplane Royal Windsor was forced down at St. John, Quebec, last night, when a wing took fire in the air, according to a long distance telephone call received here at 11.30 o'clock last night from the fliers, Clarence Schiller and Phil Wood. The airmen made a safe landing and the fire was immediately placed under control. The airmen stated that they would be able to have the necessary repairs made to their plane during the night and would take off in the morning for Harbor Grace, Newfoundland.

FARM WORKERS ARE IN DEMAND

CUTTING IN FULL SWING.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, September 1. — Canadian Press. — Harvest workers from eastern Canada reaching Winnipeg in thousands for distribution in the three prairie provinces, have encountered a keen demand for their services.

With cutting now in full swing, agents from Alberta and Saskatchewan have established temporary offices here and are arranging for the services of more than 20,000 men.

Saskatchewan already has absorbed about 12,000 of the harvesters that have arrived to date. Only a few hundred workers have been placed with Manitoba farmers.

G. E. Tomsett of Regina, who is here as representative of the Saskatchewan government declared that the demand for help was keen in all parts of Saskatchewan. He expected to send 2000 men last night for distribution in the Regina, Saskatoon and Melfort districts. Farmers are reported to be paying from $4 to $4.50 a day.

During the past 24 hours the two railroad companies have handled approximately 11,000 harvesters, mostly from points in Ontario.

BARN IS RAISED AT KING'S WHARF

Thomas O'Neill Has Fine New Building—Crops Are Poor.

KING'S WHARF, Sept. 2.—On Wednesday afternoon a very large crowd of men, women and children gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neill, Pigeon Lake View Inn, to witness the raising of their fine new barn. Everything went well under the direction of Joseph Gooslaw, carpenter. The ladies afterwards served a dainty lunch.

This is Mr. Gooslaw's seventh barn raising in this locality. He was a very busy man this year.

Threshing is the order of the day now. Messrs. Herlihey and Dorgan are operating one outfit, Joseph McCallum and son another, Messrs. Hoar and Lee another, and Bell Bros. another. There are plenty of threshing machines, but not much threshing. The crops are poor. Fall wheat is only a fair crop, peas no good and oats poor. This last rain is needed for the buckwheat and root crop, but there is much oats out.

The raspberry season is over and they were a very poor crop around here.

AND SHE SLEPT.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 2. — The father of little Rachel Sternberg, 3, left her asleep in the back seat of his car when he parked it the other night for what he thought would be a few minutes. When he came back, the car was gone, but was found five hours later, abandoned, with Rachel still slumbering. The thief is believed to have left it to escape a kidnapping charge.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

THE BEST THINGS IN LIFE

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for September 4. The Best Things in Life. 1 Kings 3:4-15.

When a man has the opportunity of choosing what he desires most in life his choice reveals his true character and his whole sense of values.

He may choose thoughtlessly something that is worth little, and as he regrets his choice he may feel that it has not expressed himself, that if he had only had more time to reflect, his true character would have been shown in a different choice.

His regrets and his afterthoughts, whatever influence they may have in effecting some change in his character for the future, do not reflect what the man really was at the time of his choice. His hastiness and his lack of consideration were the predominant element in him.

A man may choose things that seem easy and pleasant, material comforts and satisfactions, and he may stand by his choice not regretting it even when he finds that life has given him all it has to offer with nothing for the future. There have been men and women who have been content to say "a short life and a merry one," and who have said it to the end even without apparent regret. But these have never known the profound satisfaction that comes to those who have made the choice of deep and lasting things.

Solomon's Wisdom.

Solomon stands in religious history as traditionally the wisest of men because of this portrayal of his course in the making of his choice for life.

There were a good many things about Solomon that were not altogether in harmony with his reputation for wisdom. His much-married condition did not reflect much credit upon his judgment or good sense, and the splendor of his reign, with all the glory attached to the building of the temple, has not concealed from the record the fact that he was in many respects an oppressor of his people.

Almost immediately after his death his son experienced the results of this oppression, and revolt took place in Israel resulting in a divided kingdom.

It should not be forgotten that while Rehoboam's foolishness was the immediate cause for this revolt the real causes dated back to the time of Solomon, for the occasion of Rehoboam's foolish announcement that he was going to rule with an iron hand was the appeal of the people to him when he came to the throne to lessen the burdens which Solomon had placed upon them.

Nevertheless, despite these sins and shortcomings of Solomon, the narrative of our lesson is important as revealing the ultimate wisdom of a man who in his greatest moment made a supreme choice.

Supreme Choice.

His great prayer was for an understanding heart, for the power to discern between good and evil, that he might be in all things an able and righteous judge and ruler over Israel. If Solomon in every moment of his life had lived in the spirit of that prayer he might have been, in fact, and not merely in tradition, the world's wisest man.

A clue to something of his failure is found in verse fifteen of our lesson. "And Solomon awoke, and, behold, it was a dream." Unfortunately it is much easier to have dreams than to translate dreams into realities.

Solomon hastened to Jerusalem to offer up burnt offerings and peace offerings and to make a feast to all his servants. If in every moment of his life he had offered to God a lowly and contrite heart, some of the things that mar the otherwise bright and glorious record of a great king and builder might have been obviated.

To Every Man.

Does there not to every man come the opportunity of choice that confronted Solomon? It may not come in a dream; it may not come in some specific moment when some power stands before us to offer us whatever we choose; yet in a very deep sense even humble and lowly men have the capacity of choosing what they most of all desire in life.

A man may have outward longings and ambitions that will never be fulfilled, he may be conscious of capacities that his environment and his obligations in life may never allow him to develop, and yet under these very circumstances how many men have become masters of their character and destiny?

They have not allowed life's limitations and disappointments to destroy or mar their character. They have been essentially rulers over their own souls, and "he that conquereth his own soul is greater than he that taketh a seat." This is the way of truth, of triumph, and of wisdom.

Texts: 1 Kings 3: 4-15.

And the king went to Gibeon to sacrifice there; for that was the great high place: a thousand burnt offerings did Solomon offer upon that altar.

In Gibeon the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night: and God said, Ask what I shall give thee.

And Solomon said, Thou hast shewed unto thy servant David my father great mercy, according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee; and thou hast kept for him this great kindness, that thou hast given him a son to sit on his throne, as it is this day.

And now, O Lord my God, thou hast made thy servant king instead of David my father: and I am but a little child: I know not how to go out or come in.

And thy servant is in the midst of thy people which thou hast chosen, a great people, that cannot be numbered nor counted for multitude.

Give therefore thy servant an understanding heart to judge thy people, that I may discern between good and bad: for who is able to judge this thy so great a people?

And the speech pleased the Lord, that Solomon had asked this thing.

And God said unto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, and hast not asked for thyself long life; neither hast asked riches for thyself, nor hast asked the life of thine enemies; but hast asked for thyself understanding to discern judgment;

Behold, I have done according to thy words: lo, I have given thee a wise and an understanding heart; so that there was none like thee before thee, neither after thee shall any arisen like unto thee.

And I have also given thee that which thou hast not asked, both riches and honor; so that there shall not be any among the kings like unto thee all thy days.

And if thou wilt walk in my ways, to keep my statutes and my commandments, as thy father David did walk, then I will lengthen thy days.

And Solomon awoke; and, behold, it was a dream. And he came to Jerusalem, and stood before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and offered up burnt offerings, and offered peace offerings, and made a feast to all his servants.

LACK OF GROWTH

"The growth of the community depends, in large measure, upon the existence and influence of intelligent leadership. The experience of the faster-growing cities shows, unmistakably, that, when the city's men and women of highest integrity and ability counsel and work together with definite purpose and unrelaxing persistency, they get what they go after. The most prosperous cities have grown, almost in exact degree, as they were organized to promote growth."

Do you think, Mr. Ritchie, our Chamber of Commerce reflects the spirit of which you speak?

"The Peterborough Chamber, as it stands, is a credit to the city. I think it one of the best, if not the best, examples of its class in Ontario. It needs larger support, stronger financial backing, in order to function more effectively. Its purpose is to reflect the business mind of the community and every worthwhile citizen should sustain it by membership. The usefulness and prestige of a chamber of commerce grow out of its own procedure. If its service is given in good faith, for the economic benefit of the community, it will gain a high place in public confidence. Its chief usefulness is in furthering those enterprises that increase profitable occupation. Business and the professions should give to the city's service those men and women who are the best qualified to help solve the problems of development. They are usually assembled in the chamber membership."

In what way should Peterborough move along the lines you suggest?

"Simply by the intelligent exercise of our own initiative, experience, genius and enterprise. The other day I asked an old friend the too common question, 'why doesn't Peterborough grow?' He said the city is what watchful waiting has made it, that as a result it was in the dumps. In his view, the problem of the city is much like the problem of the national railways, as it stood two or three years ago; it was solved by busines sacumen. One doesn't need a post-graduate degree to know that the citizens must comprehend their civic problems, see their opportunities and be capable of taking practical advantage of them."

Then you think the citizens of Peterborough know what is necessary to community progressiveness?

"Certainly they do. Educated, well-informed men and women know what stands in the way of progress. They know that the businesslike conduct of public affairs is the most important interest of citizenship. Why do cities like Peterborough get in a rut? Why do they do things by rote?

"The present administration of the city has, apparently, been excellent. In the difficult office of mayor, Dr. Holloway has done credit to the community as well as to himself. By the time he completes his term of office he will have the knowledge of practical experience, in the same way he gained it in his own profession. What's the sense of calling men like Mayor Holloway to office and then 'swapping horses in the middle of the stream'? As soon as a mayor or a city councillor 'learns the ropes' or develops the characteristics of a civic statesman, out he goes and in his stead a novice is 'honored' by the electorate Why shouldn't a city be as capably managed as a railway?

"Soon after the business men of the city reorganized the Chamber of Commerce, the citizens had the benefit of two visits from Thomas Adams, then in the service of the Dominion Government. That distinguished gentleman is now the acknowledged leader, in the U.S., of the profession devoted to community planning and development. He gave Peterborough the benefit of a searching study, of his counsel and advice. One outcome of his visits was the creation of a city development commission, by vote of the City Council. Its purpose was indicated by its name. It was to have been an intermediary body, the city's bureau of research, to be fitted for investigation and report to the Council upon policies and projects affecting the public welfare. The progressive urban centres of England and America have been proud to have and ready to pay highly for the study, counsel and advice of Thomas Adams. Peterborough had them. Maybe we didn't see their value then. Some day his suggestions will be conspicuous in our city planning."

NEVER INTERESTED

"Who paid it?" asked Mr. Rowell.

"I would prefer to tell you who got it," countered the witness.

At the outset of his examination Mr. Duff stated that he was nominally secretary-treasurer of the Lunenburg Outfitting Company.

"Is it your company?", asked Mr. Rowell.

The witness denied that it was. "H. R. Silver, of Halifax, is the principal owner," he said.

"You are interested in a number of vessels?" asked counsel.

"Yes."

"In the W. C. Kennedy?"

"Yes. I built the W. C. Kennedy." He did not remember when she was built. She was registered in the name of the Kennedy Shipping Company.

"And all the shares of that company are registered in the names of members of your family except 40 in the name of George Silver," counsel informed him.

Mr. Duff explained that was at the time the vessel was built and launched. The Kennedy had been operating three or four years until it was lost in January, 1926. He said that he had not been interested in the D. D. McKenzie since 1926. He knew nothing of the Arcola except that he had purchased her in 1926 "after she stopped dealing in liquor."

"How about the J. H. Sinclair?" asked Mr. Rowell.

"I had four shares in her, but nothing to do with her management," was the reply.

In Liquor Traffic.

Mr. Rowell continued to read the names of schooners which evidence has connected with the liquor traffic.

Mr. Duff explained that many of these vessels had been regular freighters who were chartered to carry lumber and other commodities as well as for carrying liquor. Some of the vessels named were the Esthonia, the Hiram B. McLean, and the Mary S. Duff. In the latter vessel, Mr. Duff stated that he had $7,000 invested.

"What is she doing?" queried counsel.

"She carried lumber," replied Mr. Duff.

"She is down on our list as carrying liquor," said counsel.

Mr. Duff replied that this boat perhaps had two or three charters for liquor cargoes.

The member for Antigonish denied that he had furnished the money to release the W. G. Kenendy after this vessel was seized by the Customs cruiser Margaret. He had interviewed the former Deputy-Minister of Customs, Mr. Farrow, about the seizure of this vessel and when that official found that the seizure had taken place nine miles from the coast, release was ordered, said Mr. Duff. He explained that he had shares in about seventy vessels, very few of them he had any control over.

"When I knew a captain had been chartered to load liquors, I took him into my office and read the third degree to him, and told him to respect the laws of all the nations," Mr. Duff declared. "Lunenburg vessels did not break the laws. They were not rum-runners, smugglers, or bootleggers."

Observed Regulations.

Mr. Duff stated that not only did the Lunenburg captains observe the territorial regulations of the United States, but they had obeyed the terms of the convention between Britain and the United States. The landing of the liquor was done by Americans.

"How were the landing certificates obtained?" asked Mr. Rowell.

"I don't know anything about how they were obtained," replied Mr. Duff. He asked the Commission not to blame the captains or owners of the vessels which carried liquor. If there was any blame attached to the traffic it should be placed on the Americans who sent up the money and who landed the liquor in the United States, he declared.

Payments made from the bank account of Mr. Duff, which was looked up by Commission auditors, were gone into. The witness told the Commission that he had suffered a loss of $10,000 when the W. C. Kennedy went down, because the vessel was not insured. He admitted that he had secured the release of a vessel for Percy W. Young, "one of my constituents.'

"The Customs thought that it should be seized, and you interfered," said counsel.

"Yes," replied Mr. Duff. He said that he was not ashamed of the action he had taken. It was his duty to his constituents to try and help them out of these difficulties.

"Did you ever fail to intervene when one of your own constituents was concerned?" asked Mr. Rowell.

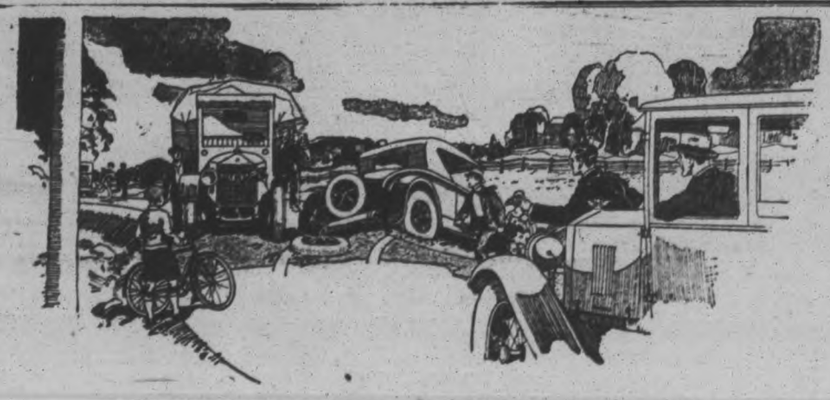
"No, I don't think so," was the reply.

The Commission adjourned until to-day.

RISKED HER LIFE TO SAVE PET DOG

This is Mrs. John Coleman, Toronto, Ontario, who was badly burned about the hands when she went to the rescue of her dog which was imperilled by flames from an oil stove which upset when she was making a cup of tea.

Owning an automobile in China is a distinct luxury. The license fee in one city costs $37.50 a month, and gasoline at the cheapest is $1.50 a gallon. In addition a drive through the main thoroughfares requires the services of at least four attendants.



Give Trucks a Wide Berth
They always have the "Right of Weight"

THE truck was a big brute—wide, long, and none too wieldy.

The merchandise that made up its seven-ton load represented an important part of the daily food supply of the city to which it was consigned.

The driver had been doing his best to keep plugging along—always well within the speed limit.

Right at this curve the driver of the sport car wanted to "cut in" ahead of the sedan. In five seconds more the truck would have passed and the way would have been clear. But rather than wait, Mr. Sport took a chance.

The truck driver—in his proper place well to the side of the road—couldn't turn out. So it happened . . . a side swipe . . . the ditch!

Motoring on the highways would be so much safer if everybody would remember that, in any argument with a truck, the best one can get is the worst of it.

DO IT NOW.

If you have not already done so, why not drop a line to your friends tonight and invite some of them to be your guest during Peterborough's Exhibition week?

Sometimes it is a problem to entertain your visitors.

That is why we offer the suggestion that you have them come while the Exhibition is being held; that solves the problem immediately.

In entertainment features of merit Peterborough's big fair never before offered so much; you will find a programme full of interest, greatly improved grounds and a host of exhibits of merit and quality.

THE PARKING SYSTEM.

Suggestions offered by the Peterborough Automobile Club as likely to improve traffic conditions in the downtown section of the city will doubtless be given proper consideration by the City Council.

Members of the Automobile Club feel that the present angles marked out for the guidance of motorists on George street unnecessarily narrow the driving area, and that four more feet of roadway could be made available for traffic were the angles to be altered.

That is a matter of importance, and even more so is the desire of the Automobile Association that the by-law limiting parking in the business section to thirty minutes should be vigorously enforced.

This limit is being very much violated at the present time, with the result that many business places are cut off by cars that have been parked much longer than the regulations call for.

The Examiner believes that in the general interest motorists should be given to understand that in leaving their cars for longer than a half hour in the business section they are paving their way for a Police Court appearance for themselves.

IMPORTANT PROGRESS.

The announcement made by Plumbing Inspector A. G. Metheral yesterday that the pollution of the Otonabee within the city limits either from private houses or from industrial plants has been entirely eliminated this year, is a matter upon which the whole community is to be congratulated.

It has been a long and up-hill fight to completely clean up this situation, and citizens generally and those who like to swim in the Otonabee in particular will be glad to learn that this very important step toward better conditions has been taken.

The city perhaps has been fortunate in the past that an outbreak of intestinal diseases did not eventuate in other years among bathers at local beaches as the result of the pollution that existed to more or less of a dangerous degree in the waters frequented by swimmers.

The linking up of the Quaker Oats factory and of the Auburn plant of the Canadian Woollens to the city's sewerage system this year is an important advance toward a healthier city and more satisfactory bathing conditions.

Now that we have cleaned up the situation within our own borders, the next step must be to satisfactorily deal with the sewage disposal plant problem.

THE DARK SIDE.

The dark side of such contests as the Canadian National Exhibition swimming marathon is perhaps lost sight of in the thunder of applause that greets the winner.

The cold truth is that there probably has never been an athletic contest of any kind in which there was so much actual suffering as in Wednesday's epic struggle for long distance swimming honours.

The worst beating that any prize fighter ever took was mild to the punishment sustained by some of those men and women who battled for hours in the cold water of Lake Ontario the other day.

Newspaper men who followed the race closely and were able to see the condition of some of the swimmers as they were taken from the water were impressed with the cruelty of the contest.

E. George Smith, in The Globe, describes the race as "the most beautiful and the most cruel athletic event" ever witnessed. Here is what he says:

"Vierkoetter's performance, the swing of his mighty grease-black arms, his drive through the water with scarcely a ripple to mark his course, was more splendid than any artist's characterization of physical prowess.

"The agony of countenance and the dull, dogged determination of the utterly exhausted as they summoned every ounce of physical energy and grit within them to crawl on to a possible rich reward, only to crumple up far from the finish, was the other side of the story.

"Out there in the open lake a poor doubled-up creature was hauled up, stiff and motionless, except for the pitiful shivering of his body, and laid, bent up like a jack-knife, in the bottom of the boat.

"Another, a woman, was rowed off the course in apparent stupor. Face ashen and drawn, jaws set, she lurched in the boat, barely able to retain a sitting posture. There were scores like that."

AN EMPIRE MINERAL REVIEW.

If as one result of the second Empire Mining Congress now in session there should result the making of a complete review of the mineral resources of the Empire the Congress will attain a worthy purpose. It is well recognized that Canada and the other Dominions have ownership and control over all resources in their own territory, according to the political principles which have been long accepted regarding the public domain and Crown lands. But ownership apart from utility may be of slight value beyond the right of conservation. All the Dominions have more or less complete estimates on mining resources and it would be an advantage to have that compiled. But it is no secret that so far as Canada is concerned there is much yet to be learned about the mineral wealth of the country. Private enterprise is going ahead with plans for development and investors are showing an ever larger confidence in the potential power of production and earnings. But it is essential to cultivate markets for products so that the demand will be there in fair proportion to the supply.

The British Empire, the United States, Russia and China are the four great reserves of natural resources. It is agreed that the economic power and financial status of the United States is explainable by natural resources and industrial development. The unity of the political life of the Republic has led to co-ordinate economic development. Something of the same opportunity in kind is offered to the British Empire. The political unity is substantially equivalent, though with more local autonomy for the several nations in the big Empire. What is wanted is to develop and encourage the economic unity of the Empire in a manner which will conserve the local property rights and extend the co-operative spirit so as to secure the power in production which belongs to combination and financial unity.

Sir Thomas Holland urges that the paper unity of the British Empire, due to the economic independence of the Dominions, should be adjusted by information so as to make the relations more of mutual economic interest than is now actually the case. It will not be the function of the Imperial Conference to attempt to revise tariffs, but, as pointed out by Sir Herbert Horne, technical, non-political committees might accomplish much in the way of a better understanding of the situation which the Imperial Conference could implement.—Montreal Star.

FOOL MOTORISTS TO BE JOLTED.

Premier Ferguson has announced new measures for dealing with stupid and reckless motorists and restoring safety on the highways. The number of traffic officers is being doubled, and instructions have been given all Provincial officers rigidly to enforce the provisions of the Highway Traffic Act.

Mr. Ferguson pointed out that the Government had urged "all people to use proper precautions" on the highways, but "the appalling toll of death and damage continues." Then he added:

"It is with regret that the Government finds it necessary to resort to drastic measures, but it seems obvious that a large number of people who drive cars give no consideration to the lives or safety of others, and it is felt that they are not entitled themselves to any consideration at the hands of the law."

The public will commend the Prime Minister's policy of increased severity towards highway offenders. We need have no sympathy for the reckless or drunken driver who puts in peril not only his own life but the lives and property of other people. The law must use its iron hand on such people, because gentleness towards them is interpreted as weakness and laxity, and it is exercised at the expense of lawful drivers and innocent pedestrians.

Magistrates and police officers all over Ontario will take note of the Government's attitude, and no doubt will govern themselves accordingly. Col. Price, the Attorney-General, made it plain in an address at a Toronto Exhibition luncheon that he was heartily in support of the Premier's policy and he intimated that possibly 1,000 drivers' permits would be suspended this year.

While the immediate district of Ottawa has been comparatively free of serious accidents during the past few weeks, yet almost every issue of The Journal reports fatalities in other districts. On nine miles of the highway east of Woodstock, for instance, we are told thirteen cars were in the ditch at one time, and a baby was killed when a foreign car "cut in" on a slippery road, involving a triple smash. We have laws covering criminal negligence and manslaughter which ought to be invoked in such a case. Visitors in the Province, as well as residents, must be taught that the laws against reckless driving are to be obeyed equally with the laws against murder and theft.

No more important problem faces the Provincial Government today than the regulation of vehicular traffic, and Premier Ferguson has shown that he is fully alive to its difficulties and its importance. After a fair test of moral suasion, coupled with moderate penalties, he now has ordered drastic enforcement of the Traffic Act, and all drivers who value their liberty, their driving licenses, and their cash assets will do well to heed his pronouncement.

If the increased force of traffic officers pursue their duties wisely there should be an immediate improvement in conditions. It is an easy matter to catch the driver ambling along with his family on a clear road at 36 miles an hour. Technically he is violating the law, but he is not the real offender. The duties of these officers should be so arranged that they are patrolling the highways in full force on Sundays and holidays, in the evening hours when traffic is heaviest, and frequently at night. Those are the times when the irresponsible hoodlums at the wheels of powerful cars do their deadliest work. Blind curves should have very special attention, the "cut in" artists should feel the rude hand of justice, and all the gentry who delight in taking chances ought to receive summary treatment. Officers will not encounter these people by patrolling the main roads during banking hours. They will find them in the thickest of traffic and at the most dangerous spots.

A dangerous speed is relative to the circumstances, and there are many offences more serious than to exceed by a few miles the official limit on a straight road when no other traffic is endangered. For that reason the old-fashioned speed traps usually caught parties who were committing no serious breach of the regulations, and nobody wants to see them restored. The enlarged traffic squad should concentrate on the real offenders. —Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Peterborough Automobile Club wants the parking time limit enforced. That makes it unanimous.

Peterborough's big fair will be all the bigger if everybody decides to become a booster.

Various reasons are offered for George Young's collapse. The real reason seems to have been a one-eyed German named Vierkoetter.

If prizes in the swimming marathon were to be awarded on the basis of pluck and gameness a very large percentage of the contestants would qualify.

Again we ask the question, "Are these stunt flights contributing enough to the world's knowledge of aeronautics to justify the risking of valuable lives in a gamble against death?"

One thing worse than being bothered is being ignored.—Oshawa Times.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—The inquiry from foreign buyers for grain here overnight showed some improvement, and especially so for Canadian Western grades of barley for nearby and future shipments, but as the offerings of such were limited, exporters were only in a position to work a few odd loads. Some business was also done in Canadian Spring wheat and American hard Winter wheat.

A feature of the local grain trade was the demand from exporters for wheat and barley and sales of several loads of No. 1 Northern were made at 20c to 21c per bushel over the Winnipeg October option, and a few loads of No. 3 Canadian Western barley sold at 17c to 17⅛c per bushel over the same option, c.i.f. Montreal. There was also some demand from domestic and country buyers for car lots of grain and the tone of the market was firm.

The trade in Spring and Winter wheat grades of flour was quiet but prices were unchanged.

Owing to the scarcity of most lines of millfeed and the good demand, the undertone to the market continued strong and indications are that prices will be advanced in the near future.

Prices for all grades of eggs were well maintained under an improved advices. The receipts were 2,007 cases.

Although there was no improvement in the demand for creamery butter yesterday, the undertone was again stronger and prices scored a further rise of ¼c per pound. This was attributed to the stronger cable advices. The receipts were 2,0007 packages.

A feature of the local cheese trade was the increased demand from English importers and a fair amount of business was done. The spot trade was also good, and prices were steady. The receipts were 4,518 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—All grain advanced in price yesterday, chiefly owing to curtailed estimates of the domestic wheat yield and because of a long range forecast of frost. Closing quotations on wheat were firm ½c to ¾ net higher; corn ¼ to 1⅝c up; oats unchanged to ⅝c advance, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 30 cents.

With Liverpool wheat quotations higher than due and with deliveries here on September contracts being readily absorbed, bearish crop figures from other sources stated that the Canadian crop promised but little better than last year, export demand yesterday for wheat from North America was fair, with 200,000 bushels bought here for shipment to Europe via Montreal. Total deliveries of wheat in Chicago yesterday on September contracts were 4,799,000 bushels.

Strength in the corn market yesterday was associated a good deal with an unofficial forecast of severe frost beginning in the Canadian Northwest by September 3 and extending as far south as Iowa by September 5. Private monthly crop estimates regarding corn were less bearish than had been looked for. Estimates of the probable yield of oats were construed as bullish.

Provisions sympathised with upturns both in hog values and grain and in the cotton market as well.

A Thought For To-day

FIND OUT WHY.

A business that must depend upon getting new customers to make up the loss of so many of its old customers is certainly on the wrong track.

New customers are good to get, but old customers are better to keep.

True, price inducements may tempt old customers to trade elsewhere, and occasionally old customers may move and sometimes sickness or death takes its toll, but the biggest loss of old customers comes from real or fancied grievances.

The important idea in business is to keep the old customers smiling and satisfied.

When old customers a start spending money somewhere else, the time has arrived to find out why.

MORE FLIERS START TO-DAY

FAVORABLE WEATHER.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press). — The contrary wind which refused to blow from the west as long as the Old Glory was waiting for a flight to Rome, suddenly swung to that direction after the airmen today had temporarily abandoned the flight in favor of a search for the missting St. Raphael. As a result preparations were made for the getaway on the flight to Rome, possibly this afternoon. The fliers, however, intend to follow the reverse course of the Raphael.

Courtney Hops Off

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—Capt. Courtney hopped off in the big flying boat, Whale, for Plymouth, the first jump of a proposed trans-Atlantic flight. The Whale had been waiting weeks for favorable weather.

Courtney was accompanied by F. W. Downer and R. F. Little, his crew. The big flying boat also carried two German mechanics, who will be dropped off at Plymouth. It is believed that at Plymouth, Courtney will take on board a Canadian millionaire, reputed to have paid seventy-five thousand dollars for the aerial trip across the Atlantic. Besides the five men the Whale carried no less than 750 gallons of gasoline, but it rose gracefully from the water without hesitation. Courtney expects to cross the Atlantic by way of the Azores.

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sep. 2. — Canadian Press. — Captain F. T. Courtney made another futile attempt to leave Calshot in his flying boat "Whale" yesterday. After loading up 600 gallons of petrol he took off splendidly in the afternoon with five persons on board: two German Dornier engineers, in addition to himself and his colleagues. The trial flight was described as satisfactory.

Last evening, however, after loading another 150 gallons, he tried again to take off from Southampton water with the two German engineers, but all efforts failed. The machine did not leave the water.

It had been Captain Courtney's intention to fly to Plymouth but he was obliged to abandon this intention and return to his moorings.

Had he succeeded in reaching Plymouth he would have dropped the two Germans and taken aboard a Canadian unnamed passenger, who is reported to have paid for the privilege of participating in the flight.

Courtney has decided to have the machine overhauled again, with the possibility of another attempt early in the morning.

SERVICE APPRECIATED

Montreal Man Leaves Card of Thanks in Elite Cafe.

"Thanks! An excellent meal and very efficient service."—G.H.W.

This was the very gratifying way of showing his appreciation of the dinner served him at the Elite Sweets Cafe by Geoffrey H. Wood, general manager of the G. H. Wood & Co., Ltd., Montreal, Toronto and Ottawa.

The words were pencilled on Mr. Wood's card and left on the table after he had eaten. This speaks well for the excellence of the menu and skill of Mr. Yeotes' chef, and also includes the service which is already developed to a high state of efficiency.

APSLEY NEWS

APSLEY, Sept. 1.—The Jack's Lake Frog Orchestra, from Pittsburg, supplied the music for two very successful dances held in the Community Hall on Tuesday and Friday. They arrived in Apsley on Saturday at 9 p.m. after travelling from 3 a.m. and in spite of their fatigue yielded very graciously to the solicitations of the young people who had been expecting them earlier, and played for them until 10.30 o'clock, after which they went on to their destination, Jack's Lake. The hall was crowded on Tuesday evening and a very enjoyable time was spent, the dance breaking up at 2 a.m. The party returned to Pittsburg on Saturday and gave a farewell dance the evening before. It is interesting to note the derivation of the orchestra's title. Two years ago they were in Apsley and offered to play at the hall if the boys would supply them with fishing bait. The boys took up the offer and procured three hundred frogs, and since then they have been known as the Jack's Lake Frog Orchestra, both in Apsley and in the States.

A party of over forty local young men left Coe Hill on Friday last for New Ontario, where they will be engaged in building operations at a wage of 55 cents an hour. Another party is leaving next week.

A change of staff has taken place at the Red Cross Hospital; the new nurse, Miss Campbell, and housekeeper, Miss Brown, commencing their duties on Monday last. They were accompanied here by Miss Wilkinson, assistant director of the Ontario Branch of the Red Cross Society, who returned to Toronto on Wednesday.

Hughie Winters, a lad of twelve years of Owenbrook, is the proud possessor of a tame fawn. Two months ago when searching for a strayed calf, he discovered the little thing lying on a log apparently helpless. He brought it home, where it soon recovered and attached itself to the family, and is now a great pet. It has never been tied up and roams the woods at will. The children have only to call out its name, "Beauty," when it will at once come, following them even into the house, where it seems quite at home.

Steamer Passenger Spends $500 to Get Shoes And Then Leaves Them In His Taxi Cab

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (United Press).—Standing on the deck of the Grace liner "Santa Anna" yesterday, ready to sail for South America, W. F. Berggren, a paper company official, suddenly remembered he had forgotten to buy an extra pair of shoes. He taxied from the pier to the borough sale section of Brooklyn and made the purchase.

Returning to the ship his taxi cab stalled in a deep puddle. There were no other cabs in sight. Berggren hired a horse-drawn delivery wagon and was deposited at the pier.

The ship was in mid-stream.

Berggren chartered a tug and caught up with her. The shopping trip cost him about $500 he computed, but it was worth it.

The special shoes, the shoes——

Reports Of Frost Cause Rise In Wheat

CHICAGO, September 2. Canadain Press. — Reports of Frost in Canada rallied wheat prices sharply today after turndowns at the start.

The initial declines were brought about by an unexpected setback in quotations at Liverpool, ascribed to gains in Argentina and Australia.

Opening at 3-8c to ½c off wheat prices later rose to above yesterdays finish. Corn and oats were easy, starting unchanged to 1¼c lower, but subsequently recovering somewhat. Provisions showed strength.

Opening prices were:

Wheat, September 1.33 1-8; Dec., 1.37 5-8, corn, Sept., 1.06; December 1.09½; oats September 44, December, 48½.

Stock Prices Continue To Move Up In New York

NEW YORK, September 2. Canadian Press. — Stock prices continued to move forward to-day despite a heavy week end realizing sale and the renewal of the selling pressure against some of the oils, but call money ruled steady at 3½ per cent.

Rails gathered strength when a brisk demand developed for some of the southwestern carriers, particularly the Missouri Pacific issues. Pan-American issues and Houston again bore the brunt of the selling pressure in the oil group. Greene Cananea was an outstanding strong spot among the specialties soaring seven points. Gains of three to nearly four points were recorded by General Railway Signal, Baldwin, General Motors, Woolworth and several others.

Imperial Oil and Brazilian Lead In Busy Session

TORONTO, Ont., September 2 (Canadian Press). — Imperial Oil and Brazilian were leaders of this morning's busy session of the Toronto Stock Exchange. Imperial went to 55, and at noon was 1⅜ higher at 54½. Brazilian, on only one-quarter of Imperial's turnover, was up 1⅜ at 184⅝. International Nickel firmed somewhat at 67, and Canadian Pacific Rights were slightly higher at 4⅛. Hiram Walker's, in heavy trading gained a half at 50, while Gooderham & Worts was around one point higher at 54½. Cockshutt Plow advanced 2½ at 80.

Mine Market Strong Trading Heavy To-day

TORONTO, Sept. 2. — (Canadian Press.)—A stronger tone was evident on the standard mining exchange in heavier trading to-day. A feature of the whole market was Wright Hargreaves' climb to 755, forty-five cents higher than yesterday. Towagamac at 485 was 20 points higher and Dome Mines also registered a considerable gain at 8.50, twenty-five cents higher. Amulet firmed eleven at 7.15, but Argo was only fractionally better at 35½. Central Manitoba sold up three at 197.

TWO C.G.E. BOYS IN C.N.E. EVENT

Dick Bates and Herb Tranter Enter 12-Mile Marathon.

Peterborough has two runners entered in the 12-mile Marathon to be run at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto to-morrow. Herbert Tranter and Dick Bates have been entered by the Canadian General Electric Social and Athletic Club.

This race is always considered one of the best of the whole athletic programme at the Exhibition, and there is always a large number entered.

The two Peterborough runners are well known in this city both having taken part in many long-distance races.

TUG-OF-WAR TEAM WANTS OPPOSITION

Fred Jopling's Stalwarts Won't Enter Unless Fight Is Guaranteed.

The local tug-of-war champions are anxious to have some real opposition at the Exhibition Grounds this year, and are eager to try their skill and brawn against some outside talent.

Fred Jopling's team has won the tug-of-war for three years straight, thus becoming permanent possessors of the trophy. They have met with very little opposition from any of their opponents, usually winning in two pulls, and do not intend entering a team this year unless some "real opposition" is guaranteed. This team is willing to meet all comers, and Mr. Jopling suggests that the Exhibition Board offer some inducement to a Campbellford team which is said to be very powerful, to compete at our Exhibition.

The lack of some individual medal or trophy for each man on the team is descried. There is considerable expense entailed in transporting the men to the city, most of whom live in Harvey, and also in paying men to replace them in their work for the day. The team consists of eleven men who average 223 pounds. The anchor man, McCulloch, is 240 pounds, while one 23-year-old giant goes 260 pounds.

DIVING AT BRITISH MEET

Mr. Jopling thinks that such a good drawing card should be encouraged by keen competition and suitable awards.

MANY ATTEND AT TABERNACLE

Mrs. Berg's Addresses Heard By Many People Every Night.

STIRRING SERMONS.

"The world says, "Seeing is believing"; the Word says. "Believing is seeing," Mrs. Berg said last evening in her message on Faith in Bethany Tabernacle.

The meetings are being well attended, the building being nearly filled last evening. Mrs. Berg's bright but serious manner of address together with the deep spiritual message that she brings is attracting those in the city who are interested in spiritual things. Many are coming into the meeting each night who are not accustomed to go to such meetings as a show of hands revealed last evening.

Mrs. Berg's message last evening on the prayer of Elisha in I Kings 18, for rain clearly pictured the power of faith and revealed that the Lord would work in behalf of those who simply took God at His word.

The speaker said when Jesus wanted to set an example of faith He did not take a learned gentleman but set a child in their midst. She said that the Lord's way of getting faith was clearly revealed in the Bible in the passage: "Faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the Word of God."—Rom. 10: 17.

In a brief message given to those who are interested in the provision of God for their bodies, before the service Mrs. Berg gave five steps as necessary to receive a physical touch: 1, "Get right with God," get saved; 2, "Get in touch with Jesus," by prayer and study of God's Word and faith and a sincere walk as a Christion; 3, "Get holf of the truth in God's Word," learn of His provision; 4, "Get committed," when you learn in God's Word His provision, because it is His Word commit yourself to it; 5, Believe it, and He will work.

"If the attendance to these meetings increases, we will have to secure another auditorium," Rev. R. K. Mills says. Rev. Mills is greatly pleased with the result of the meetings thus far and says he is expecting great things to happen.

The prayer meetings over the city are a great help to the meetings.

Mrs. Berg's subject tonight is "The Scarlet Woman," at 7.45.

DRAW FOR PRIZES AT DOWNEYVILLE

DOWNEYVILLE, Sept. 2.—The drawing for the several prizes in connection with the annual social was held here in the hall Monday evening and was attended by a large crowd.

The pony with cart and harness, which was such an attraction the day of the social, was won by Mr. Edward Thurston, of Bobcaygeon. The ten-dollar gold piece was won by Mr. Albert Herlihey, Dunsford; the luncheon set by Mrs. Joseph Hutton, Lindsay, and the doll by Mrs. W. B. Scully, Downeyville.

The doll was a very beautiful one and the people had a chance to guess her name. Her name was Emily Downey and no one was fortunate to guess, and it was drawn for.

The evening was spent in dancing, with music furnished by the Dinner orchestra of Lindsay.

LESS PIG IRON IS PRODUCED

Since May—Ahead of Last Year.

GERMANY HAS DECLINE

The peak of production of pig iron and steel in Great Britain was reached in May of this year and June figures show a substantial decline. Pig iron production in June amounted to 651,300 gross tons from 176 furnaces, as compared with 720,100 tons from 184 furnaces in May. In June, 1926, after the strike had been in effect three months, iron production amounted to only 41,800 tons and only 11 furnaces were in blast. According to advices just received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its British Information Service, for the first six months of 1927 British pig iron output at 3,728,900 tons was 10.3 per cent higher than that of the corresponding months in 1925. Comparison with the similar period of 1926 is valueless because of the strike conditions then prevailing.

In Germany pig iron production in June showed a reduction from May, totalling 1,050,900 gross tons from 133 furnaces, as compared with 1,112,100 tons in May, but was still substantially above production in the same month of last year, 708,800 tons from 80 furnaces.

French and Belgian production of pig iron in June were both in reduced volume, totalling 735,000 gross tons from 143 furnaces and 297,300 tons from 54 furnaces respectively. In May, French production amounted to 781,800 tons and Belgian production to 314,000 tons.

In the production of steel Great Britain's output fell to 747,300 tons in June from 884,600 tons in May. For the six months ended June production amounted to 4,989,100 tons and was 32.1 per cent greater than for the same period of 1925. In Germany, steel production increased in May, the latest date for which the statistics are available, amounting to 1,356,800 tons as compared with 1,268,300 tons in April. Production in France decreased from 700,800 tons in May to 661,400 tons in June, and Belgian steel production decreased from 316,100 tons to 295,100 tons in June.

The United Kingdom imported in June 332,600 tons of iron and steel—48,300 tons of pig iron, and 284,300 tons of steel; exports amounted to 22,400 tons of pig iron, and 343,700 tons of steel, in all 366,100 tons. For the period January to June inclusive import amounted to 2,570,200 tons as compared with 1,396,100 tons imported in 1925 and 1,370,500 tons imported last year. The exports amounted to 1,947,100 tons as against 1,831,700 in 1925 and 1,900,800 last year. In spite of the fact that exports of iron and steel were higher this year than in the past two years, imports were 623,100 tons or 32 per cent greater than the exports as compared with an export balance in both 1925 and 1926.

KIWANIANS HEAR TALK ON SERVICE

J. H. Burnham Is Speaker at Weekly Luncheon To-day.

J. H. Burnham, ex-M.P., was wittily introduced as the speaker at Kiwanis Club to-day by John J. Turner, and delivered a splendid address on "Service."

"In discussing the motto of the Kiwanis Association, it is best, no doubt, as in all other cases worthy of discussion, to trace the idea from its origin down to the present moment. This affords a panoramic view of its history and furnishes opportunity for taking stock of the results.

"The brain is the seat of the intellect as well as of the emotions and keeps them moving and interchanging pretty much as a telephone exchange. The intellect is, however, a different part of the brain from that of the emotions. The brain is the seat of the great nerve centres and of the intellect and the emotions which are excited to action in them.

"The emotions, unless guided by the intellect which is clearly for that purpose, are simply forms of excitement which tend to become forms of insanity. Therefore excitement in its various forms, whether religious, social, sexual or otherwise, if not guided and sternly controlled by the intellect, becomes a danger and a source of great damage to the body as well as to its ally, the intellect and the soul. When carried to excess, excitement invariably ends in suicide or murder. It is, however, the only form of enjoyment which appeals to the animals and chiefly to the lower humans.

We must remove, therefore, this brain function of service from the arena of the emotions and place it so far as necessary under control of the intellect.

Does service always serve? The answer of time and experience certainly is "not always." It is possible as at the present time to have so many religious denominations that there is, practically speaking no real religion amongst them at all. It becomes a wild, helter-skelter with revivals, modernism and the higher criticism so mixed up as to be of no service whatever and to be little short of the ridiculous. Is that fate likely to overtake social service? No so long as it is not overdone, and so long as people who should and can work for a living are not pauperized and reduced to state of degeneration by too much "service."

Service in its true meaning is the devotion of one individual to another, but it has so expanded as to have become the devotion of each individual to an indiscriminate mass with the result that the mass has overwhelmed and obliterated the individual and left him bereft of his spirit of liberty, independence and pride, without which no man and no woman is worth a farthing.

The large number of people permanently employed by others in distributing good works has caused the rise of a class and the development of a propaganda which is saddling the people with a mass and burden which threatens to break the individual down literally as well as theoretically.

It is all due to organization. The over organization of service which latter is much more than mere charity, has made it a business more than a virtue, with the result that it works so smoothly and efficently as a business as to excite little comment, and so guilelessly as to conceal the fact that true service must be voluntary and individual to be of spiritual benefit to the doer and reasonable if to be of benefit to the receiver.

Briefly, we may say then, in concluding, that there is grave danger of letting the emotions get the better of our intellect, and when that time arrives in a people they begin at once to degenerate and to prepare the way for the dominance over them of those guided more by the intellect or what we call common sense. The world is passing under control of the wicked.

Now the truest thing in the world is that only the poor are capable of enjoying the good things of our natural life. By the poor we mean those able by hard work to get on without any superfluity or luxury except when fortune exceptionally favors them, and it is then that they and only they appreciate to the full their good fortune just as it is only the hard-working who appreciate a holiday. I have seen more enjoyment of food and of the other good things of everyday life, including health and friendship, amongst those who could not, except on rare occasions, afford luxuries than the pampered, the rich and the blase could ever hope for. In this very essential particular of life, the rich envy the poor, and it is a basic fact that may well be studied by all engaged in the cult of modern service. A very casual survey of life reveals to us the fact that from the hysterical dancing dervishes of the east and the hashish fanatics to the present time, there is a vast body of people in all countries who enjoy excitement of one form and another as a sort of intoxication or spiritual drunkenness which makes them feel good. It is a very dangerous form of devotion, and is and has been the cause of our present world-wide breakdown.

The emotions are not intended to be a guide, and unless we restrain ourselves by watching them closely, the emotions will reduce us to the level of the lower animals who are creatures of the emotions. 'Men and women must rise above that condition and apply their minds to the intellectual advancement of the race in both religion and social service, not substituting social service for religion but realizing that service is the offspring and fruit of religion or religion also will disappear.

The general recognition of the evolution of the body, although especial divine origin is still claimed for the soul, has, it must be remembered, reduced the human body to the level of the whole animal kingdom with, it would seem, the distastrous result that the human body is now admittedly to be regarded and treated and, necessarily so, according to the rules and regimen of the animal kingdom. Animal desires, therefore, become legitimate where before they were regarded as unholy.

To what depths of degradation this admission is leading us if apparent, and accounts for much of the immodesty (to put it mildly) of the present time. The whole human theory of the being of man must be recast and the sooner we get away from animal emotionalism and regard God in the calm light of pure faith the sooner will we substitute order for the present chaos and celestial harmony for the noise and excitement of animal stampedes.

STATE DISMISSES RAILWAY WORKERS

Queensland Government Will Re-engage Those Leaving Unions.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 2.—(United Press.)—The stage has been set for one of the greatest industrial dramas in Australian history, following the ultimatum of Premier McCormack of Queensland to the Australian Railway Union.

The railways throughout the State cease to operate at noon to-morrow and 18,000 railwaymen will be dismissed, but those promising to refuse to obey the union leaders will be reengaged on Monday.

The struggle is likely to be a bitter one.

The unions are planning to blockade the whole state by calling out the seamen serving on coastal service.

Several days ago the government decided to dismiss on Saturday, September 3rd, all members of the Australian Railways Union and to reengage on the following Monday only the men guaranteeing to carry out the Railway Commissioners' instructions.

APPOINT DIRECTOR FOR TEMPERANCE

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—W. D. Bayley, former Member of the Legislative Assembly and a member of the teaching profession for many years, has been appointed as director of school correspondence courses and as director of temperance instruction in the public schools of the province.

In the former capacity Mr. Bayley will direct the teaching of public school subjects by correspondence to children so located that they are unable to attend school, and as director of temperance instruction, he will deliver addresses in the schools and at teachers' conventions on the scientific side of temperance as related to physiology and health.

Before books became so generally used, persons fortunate enough to possess any guarded them closely, often chaining those containing business records to their ledge; thus they became known as "ledgers."

Half Credit For Twins Goes to Fathers In Families Having Many In Pedigree

GENEVA, September 2 (United Press). — Half the credit for twins belongs to the father, Professor F. A. E. Crewe, of Edinburgh University, told the World Population Conference to-day.

The theory has been entered that mothers alone were the determining factor when twins were born. Professor Crewe attacked it.

"Statisticians show," he said, "that twins occur with equal frequency in the pedigree of fathers as in those of mothers among families that produce many sets of twins over long periods."

Professor A. M. Carr-Saunders, of Liverpool University, declared that a most important connection existed between high social status and low effective fertility.

Education should be regarded in countries that seek a high birth-rate," he argued.

"The more intelligent the parents, the less their contribution to the next generation.

"The differential infertility among the several classes is due largely to deliberate family limitation."

QUEBEC ROADS WELL GUARDED

Drive Slow or Don't Drive at All is Warning Given.

LICENSES HELD UP

QUEBEC, Que., September 2 (Canadian Press). — "It's a fair wind that blows ill to nobody"—to reverse the old proverb . Roads through the mountainous sections of the Province of Quebec have been improved to such an extent of late that farmers who previously gained a healthy income by hauling automobiles over impassable patches of highway are now deprived of this source of extra revenue. In order to make the best of a bad bargain, some of the rustics are to a certain degree making good their loss by getting jobs on the Government roadwork gangs. But many of them have only hard words for the Hon. J. L. Perron, father of Quebec's good roads.

In the good old days a motorist who became bogged on the highway between Montreal and Ste. Agathe, one of the most popular of the Laurentian highways, had no recourse but to call a farmer and his team of dobbins. The farmer was always on hand, with an eye open for easy money. He charged two dollars for a job which seldom took more than five minutes of his time. To-day the bad spots have vanished, graded away into oblivion, and the automobiles bowl merrily along past their former barriers,—past Ste. Adele and half a dozen other long dreaded points,—to regions far beyond Ste Agathe.

But they don't bowl along at too high a rate of speed. The department of roads takes care of that. Furious drivers are accorded scant consideration, simply because the department and its minister are jealous of their beautiful new highways upon which so much money has been expended and are determined that they are not going to be torn to bits for the amusement of the mile-a-minute fiends.

To this end Mr. Perron is cancelling auto licenses right and left. No $10 fine and warning on the provincial roads. Over 160 motorists have been deprived of the right to sit behind the steering-wheel during a single period of three weeks.

"Drive slow, or don't drive at all!" is the ultimatum issued to the motorists who sally forth to view the wonders of old French Canada.

While the war against the speedster is not primarily humanitarian in its object, the general public appreciates its benefits and the Minister of Roads has gained greatly in popularity since its inception.

Mr. Perron himself inexorably sets a good example when he conducts an inaugural tour over a newly opened highway. His car, heading a string of others which carry government officials, newspapermen and such like dignitaries, proceeds at a stately rate of 12 or 13 miles an hour.

"Is this a funeral march?"—"What's holding up the procession ahead?"—and other caustic comments fly unheeded. The Minister is out to demostrate to drivers the tender treatment which his roads demand.

Now Make Archies Of Seamless Tubes

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—Three-inch anti-aircraft guns are being made of seamless steel tubing in this city and the Government is now experimenting on larger guns of similar manufacture. Six-inch guns can be made by the same process and according to Captain F. A. McMahon executive officer of the Pitstburg Ordnance Office of the Government, may be able eventually to turn out guns of the largest calibre by the same process. Under the new process of using seamless tubing it is said both guns and ammunition can be turned out much more quickly and cheaper than by the methods used in the past to manufacture them.

C.N.R. MARGIN IS LESS IN JULY

Gross Earnings Decrease and Working Expenses Go Up.

AHEAD ON YEAR

Gross earnings of $21,032,354 and working expenses of $18,565,372.04 are shown by the summary of earnings and expenses of the Canadian National Railways for the month of July which is issued today.

These figures compare with gross earnings of $21,278,013.43 and working expenses of $17,813,007.13 for the month of July, 1926, a decrease in gross earnings of $245,659.43, equivalent to 1.15 per cent., and an increase in working expenses of $752,364.91, or 4.22 per cent.

The net earnings for the month of July last total $2,466,981.96, as against $3,465,006.30 for July, 1926, a decrease of $998,024.34. The operating ratio for July, 1927, thus rose to 88.27 per cent. in comparison with 83.71 per cent. for July, 1926.

For the seven-month period from January 1st to July 31st of the current year the gross earnings of the system amount to $150,731,168, as compared with $146,739,904.27 during the similar period of 1926, an increase of $3,991,263.73, or 2.72 per cent. in favor of 1927.

Since January 1st last the working expenses total $134,193,398.78, in comparison with $127,717,162.98 in 1926, an increase of 5.07 per cent.

The net earnings during the seven-month period of 1927 are $16,537,-769.22, as against $19,022,741.29 in 1926, a decrease in the current year of $2,484,972.07. The operating ratio in seven months of 1927 is 89.02 per cent., in comparison with 87.04 in the similar period of 1926.

The figures quoted for both years are for the Canadian National system exclusive of the eastern lines. In accordance with the Maritime Freight Rates Act, 1927, the accounts of lines east of Levis and Diamond Junction, Que., have been withdrawn from the Canadian National Railways accounts as from July 1st, 1927.

The decrease in gross earnings is due to fewer working days, five Sundays and a protracted holiday period at the beginning of the month when the Diamond Jubilee celebration was under way, reducing the loading period and resulting in the carriage of 146,000 fewer passengers and the haulage of 44,000 less tons of freight.

The increase in working expenses is due partly to wage increases granted during the current season and partly to increased and advanced maintenance work, including the laying of heavier rail and new ballast. Other factors are an additional 131 miles of line in operation in July, 1927, and an increase in passenger service during the month under review.

ROSENEATH NEWS.

ROSENEATH, Sept. 1.—The fields about the village are presenting the appearance characteristic of Autumn. Many of the farmers have completed their hauling of grain and some have begun ploughing.

The time of the year is approaching when schools are to re-open for the beginning of a new school year.

Congratulations are being tendered Burton Roberts for his success on the upper school examinations obtaining six first class honors, two seconds and one third on nine subjects and ranking highest in the Cobourg Collegiate. This is a very fine showing considering the fact that he was absent from school two or three weeks this term with illness.

Rev. H. A. Hunt conducted church services on the Roseneath circuit on Sunday. Rev. M. R. Brown has recovered nicely from his surgical operation and is camping at Rice Lake.

Rev. J. N. Lovelace and Rev. George C. R. McQuade are still enjoying their vacations at their cottages near Robins' Landing. The Rev. Mr. Lovelace motored to Ivanhoe last Sunday and conducted regular services there.

On Friday, August 26, Baltimore won in the baseball tournament held at Vimy Ridge.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Davey and their son, Wilfred, are at present on a motor trip through the central and western parts of the United States.

NEW CHURCHES COMMEMORATE PIONEER SAINTS

SCOTCH MISSIONARY

Memorial Church to John Black Erected in East Kildonan.

By R. P. STOUFFER.

Pioneers are coming to be the saints most recognized in United Church building operations throughout Canada. In addition to all the churches dedicated to the Trinity, to St. Paul, St. John, St. Matthew, St. Andrew and St. George, there are an increasing number of memorial churches bearing the names of honored ministers of bygone days, each having a story to be told to the youth of the land.

On Cape Breton Island—Scots country if there be such anywhere in the Dominion—a church to the memory of Alexander Grant, first settled pastor in the district of East Lake Aimslie, has been duly dedicated, and its first Gaelic and English services held. In Manitoba the story of the flood that almost, but not quite, daunted Lord Selkirk's Scottish settlers is being treasured in stone by the new John Black Memorial Church. The newest United Church at Moncton, N. B., is to be not just Wesley Church, but Wesley Memorial Church, signifying plainly the desire to commemorate the Wesleys. And in localities where one or other of the old church buildings is being converted into a church school or community hall following union of two congregations the school or hall is often getting the name of Wesley Hall or Knox Hall, thus carrying over the name of a congregation that is now merged with another.

Boys Remembered Hardships.

But few of these older structures have stories to surpass that of the granite rock that now becomes the foundation stone of the John Black Memorial Church in East Kildonan. In 1852 the waters of the Red River rose and flooded the farms of the settlers of Old Kildenan, forcing them to flee westward to higher ground. During the weeks the water remained on the low-lying farms the settlers encamped in the wilderness, suffering great hardships.

During this time their pastor, Rev. Dr. John Black, was among them, with no roof over his head as he preached to them the gospel of their fathers' faith, and no pulpit under his feet. At service he stood upon a rough granite boulder, quite ordinary, but it is today a memorial raised to him. Brought from the place where it rested 75 years, this symbol of a rock-like faith was made part of the new building of John Black Memorial Church, Roberta avenue, East Kildonan, now nearing completion.

In its virgin state, with the initials, J. B., and the date, 1852, roughly carved, still on its surface, the boulder was lowered into place at the corner-stone laying and formally dedicated by J. H. Black, of Mordon, Man., the only living son of Dr. Black, the missionary.

How did it come about that the stone was marked and remembered through all these years?

Noble Record Engraved.

Four young men of the settlement, Donald, Angus and William Polson, and Alexander Matheson, conceived the idea of perpetuating the memory of the services in the wilderness by engraving on the boulder the initials of John Black and the date. Young Matheson became the first man from the Red River valley to enter the ministry, and so was a living memorial of Dr. Black's inspiring leadership which is now commemorated by the momento and by the church building.

Black had a remarkable career. Born in the south of Scotland in 1818, he went to the United States as a boy, living for some years in New York State. After coming to Canada he studied at Knox College, Toronto, where he heard of Lord Selkirk's settlers, deprived for 40 years of the rites of their church. He went out to them and they welcomed with joy their first minister.

Rev. Mr. Black had learned French while living in Quebec, and this was of great service to him in his work in the Red River settlement. He learned Gaelic, too, on his arrival, in order to minister to the Scots folk. His missionary work covered many far-distant places, and incessant labors brought about his death in 1882 at the age of 64. In the audience which heard Dr. A. B. Baird give a sketch of his life were many who had known Dr. Black. There were two, James Fraser and his sister, Mrs. Neil Campbell, who 75 years ago had taken part as children in the services conducted in the wilderness by the pioneer.

AN "ARSENAL AND BAR."

SHANGHAI.—(United Press). — Paul Muller, a German youth of 17 years, is serving a jail sentence of four months on a charge of burglary. Police refer to Muller as a "walking arsenal and bar." When arrested he was weighted down with 750 rounds of ammunition, 2 pistols, 18 bottles of beer, 2 bottles of whiskey, 1 bottle of gin, 6 bottles of soda water, 2 tumblers, 6 forks, 6 knives and 8 claret glasses. Muller said he "found" the goods.

GIRL DROWNED AT BELLEVILLE

BODY RECOVERED.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 2.—Edna Maracle, 15-year-old daughter of John Maracle of Shannonville, last her life yesterday afternoon as she was bathing in the Salmon River, not far from her home. She was swimming alone, but two children were watching her from the bank. The girl managed to get beyond her depth, and was soon helplessly struggling to reach shore, when the children ran for help. A draftsman who was a guest at the hotel hurried to the scene, but could not find the girl, who had gone down. Dragging resulted in the recovery of the body an hour later.

CASINO SEASON OVER.

Coral Gables Will Close on Saturday After Good Year.

CAMPBELLGORD, Sept 2.—Saturday, September 3rd, marks the end of the most successful season the management of Coral Gables Casino has ever experienced. Since the opening night, May 24th, the Varsity Entertainers have enjoyed the popularity of favoritism. The largest number of dancers has always been found where the musical quartette was ragging the scales. The most direct roads from Campbellford, Hastings, Norwood and various villages and towns in the district have become main thoroughfares leading to Coral Gable Casino where the Varsity Entertainers cater to the most critical tastes of the modern dancing crowd.

Jack Griffin at the piano must surely possess more than eight fingers and two thumbs. When he plays a solo part the dancers congregate as near the great man as possible, their feet moving unconsciously as they watch with admiration his fingers march obediently over the keys.

Leslie Clegg's trumpet has won him fame. Dancers from practically every province in the Dominion and the majority of states in the Union to the south, claim for him second place to none they have ever heard. As a trumpet player, Clegg has most decidedly won the favor of every dancer at Coral Gables. But his saxaphone has been instrumental in acquiring his musical status.

Everet Thomas is quite capable of upholding the solo saxaphone and clarinet parts. His capacity for entertaining is one of the high lights of any evening's dancing. Thomas has been a student of music since his early years in public school. The popularity of his solos with the Varsity Entertainers is but the just reward of effort along the lines of natural ability, genius in fact.

Al Mulleur, traps, banjo and violin, smiles continuously as he beats time for the boys. The patrons of Coral Gables never failed to be amused at the vocal numbers which Al sang in costume. In the waltzes, when the other instruments were muted, the singing melody of Al's violin made hearts as well as feet keep time. Hearty applause was always forthcoming when ever such a number was played.

During the entire season the Varsity Orchestra has lived up to its reputation as a musical institution and a quartette of gentlemen undergraduates of the University of Toronto. They are not a collection of second-rate musicians hastily assembled for a backwoods job, but four students who play together the whole year through. At different of the University social functions, their services are considered indispensible, and to satisfy the hyper-critical students one must be well past the novice stage. Theirs is truly the music that charms.

Cricket fighting is a popular sport in China. The contests are held in large earthen jars and are fought to the finish.

Heavy Damage Done In Lumber Plant Fire

LADNER, B.C., Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press).—Damage amounting to $200,000 was caused here Wednesday night by a fire which destroyed the Ladner Lumber Company's planing mill, three-quarters of million feet of dressed lumber and five cars loaded with boards. The fire at its height covered an area of a city block and was kept from spreading into the town by a change of wind and the efforts of practically the entire male population of Ladner. Townspeople kept the roof of adjoining houses flooded and furniture was removed from residences in greatest danger.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 2.—Mrs. Fred Baron of Paris, who has been holidaying here, returned with her family to Paris yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hendy and son are attending Belleville Fair.

Dr. and Mrs. Carrol and party returned to Cleveland, Ohio, by motor yesterday. They have been spending their holidays at their cottage, Healey Falls.

Mrs. F. deF. Free and Miss Margaret Dickson returned from their vacation at Trent River yesterday.

Mr. C. B. Williams, Mr. Carl Maguire, Mr. James Garret and Miss Muriel Garrett motored to Toronto to attend the Exhibition. Mr. Garret and his granddaughter will remain at their home in the city.

The police are reminding motorists that the law requires them to keep their license markers free of mud and other materials that tend to deface the markers. Owners and drivers of motor vehicles will not only be obeying the law but doing themselves a good turn if they just take a few minutes every day or so and dust off their markers.

Mrs. James Grier left yesterday for Winnipeg, Man., where she will visit her mother Mrs. Nichol. Her daughter Betty and son Robson accompanied her.

Mrs. E. H. Greig and Mrs. J. C. Birmingham were hostesses yesterday afternoon at the Bowling Club bridge. Due to the fact that many of the ladies are out of town, there were only four tables this week. The ladies' bridge is only one of the Bowling Club's many social activities. To-day the club will entertain four rinks from Stirling. At bridge yesterday, Mrs. George Dickson had the highest score.

"Quo Vadis" at the Regent has met with the approval of the critical first nighters. It is a picture made with all the extravagant splendour that is typical of the First National, and the complicated plot of the story becomes even more difficult as the scenes move through the narrow streets of ancient Rome. The extremes to which the Romans went in order to satisfy their slightest whims and the cruelty, immorality, the strength, power and grandeur of the Roman Empire at its zenith are vividly depicted in "Quo Vadis."

Nero, by his position alone the mightiest Roman, willingly sacrifices everything that modern civilization now holds most dear, in order to afford himself the amusement his depraved mind craved. Even in the face of opposition from thousands of his subjects, he will not even momentarily give way to the more humane course. But in the end, even Caesar must do as the Romans do, and submit to the laws of humanity. "Quo Vadis" is not a take-off on the doings of Rome, but a mighty picture that will afford food for thought for many days after it has been seen.

ENTHUSIASTIC FAN IS TOTALLY BLIND

SPRINGFIELD, O., Sept. 2.—You don't have to have eyes to enjoy a baseball game, says Clarence Hawkes, sightless poet, nature-study writer and ardent baseball fan. His sense of hearing is so perfect that he unconsciously interprets the language, grunts and yells of the crowd into a mental picture of what's going on. He knows where the players are and what they are doing and can tell where the ball has been hit and whether it is likely to be caught.

ANXIETY INCREASES

able conditions for the long distance fliers.

As the London, Ont., aviators had planned previously to make theirs a nonstop flight, no arrangements had been made here for refuelling the plane. However, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, Detroit fliers, who started from Harbor Grace to attempt to lower the time record for circling the globe, left 300 gallons of gasoline here with the understanding that the Canadians might use it if necessary. To refuel the plane would require about four hours, it was estimated here.

Although it was believed that the St. Raphael, if still in the air, had passed unseen over the colony lighthouses and radio stations continued on the alert last night and flares were burned at the flying field to guide the pilot to a landing should he reach Newfoundland far behind schedule.

Prepared Welcome.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—Great crowds of Ottawans gathered at the capital's main airport ready to greet Captain Leslie Hamilton and his two partners in the monoplane St. Raphael, but up until 9.30 p.m., their welcoming gestures had gone unaccepted.

With the receipt at Lindbergh Field here of reports of the sighting at various points in the eastern province of aeroplanes, the waiting throng of some 15,000 burst into cheers, optimistic that the Upavon air argosy was at last nearing its goal. But each time, Federal Government officials checked up on the source of origin and the reports were proven false, an outward feeling of gloom again pervaded the crowd.

A biplane which set out from here in the early afternoon and gave cause for reports at Montreal that it was the St. Raphael, as it circled over that city, arrived back at Lindbergh Field at 3 o'clock. It was a Canadian Government plane sent out to scout the air in the hope of obtaining some word of the trans-Atlantic machine.

OBITUARY.

WIDMER BAILEY

CAMPBELLFORD, September 2.—Widmer Bailey, of Seymour West, died early yesterday morning. Mr. Bailey had been in poor health for some time but had only been confined to his bed for the past three days.

DR. THOMAS R. HANLEY.

TORONTO, Ont., September 2. — A noted sportsman and prominent medical man passed away in Toronto yesterday in the person of Dr. Thomas R. Hanley, of 124 Bloor Street West, and 12 Lawrence Crescent.

In sport the late Dr. Hanley made a name for himself in his earlier days in the fields of lacrosse and hockey. In medicine his specialty was anaesthesia, and he was a member of the Societies of Anaesthesia of Ontario, America, England, Ireland, and Austria. The late Dr. Hanley had many friends in several countries of the world which he had visited on a lacrosse tour and during the post-graduate studies which he pursued after graduating in both arts and medicine from the University of Toronto.

He played hockey for the Midland team, one-time champions of the O. H. A., and captained the Varsity hockey and lacrosse teams when they were intercollegiate champions. When the Orillia lacrosse team won the championship of the Canadian Lacrosse Association in 1904 they were supported by his fine playing on their defence line. In 1907 he toured the world as a member of the Canadian lacrosse team.

In addition to post-graduate work in the Toronto General Hospital and the Manhattan Maternity Hospital of New York, Dr. Hanley worked in hospitals in England and Vienna. An authority on anaesthesia, he had studied this branch of medical science in London, England, and in Vienna, and in the United States in New York, Cleveland, and Madison, Wisconsin.

The late Dr. Hanley is survived by his widow, Margaret Hanley, two young sons, Bob and Tom, aged respectively twelve years and three weeks, and a daughter, Mary Clare, three years old. Dr. Hanley was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hanley of Midland, Ont. Of four brothers, Drs. James and Guy Hanley of Toronto were partners with him in his medical practice and W. J. Hanley of Toronto is a barrister. A fourth brother, John Hanley, lives in Midland. The funeral service will be held on Saturday.

TEN HORSES PERISH WHEN STABLES BURN

Construction Camp on the Welland Canal Catches Fire —Five Teams Burned.

WELLAND, Ont., September 2. — Five teams of horses were burned to death early yesterday morning when the stables at a construction camp on the island between the Welland Canal and Welland River, a mile and a half from this town, were completely destroyed by fire. The stables and horses were the property of Porter Brothers, contractors on the new Welland Ship Canal. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

No cause can be found for the fire, but it is believed that some one smoking in the barn had set the straw afire. Several of the workmen attempted to remove the animals, but the smoke was too dense to allow any one to enter the building. Robert Gilroy, stable foreman, was severely burned about the arms in his attempts.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

To Cherry's almost hysterical plea to accompany Bob and her sister on their trip to Peach Tree Hollow, in search of the old negress, known as Aunt Chloe, Chris' former nurse, Faith firmly advanced the following argument:

"My hunch that Chris has taken the baby to his old negro nurse may be entirely erroneous, and word may come at any time from the police department that the baby has been found elsewhere. In that case, you would want to be here, of course. Besides, you are too excitable, and Chris himself might be there and a terrible scene result. No, you're going to stay here, darling."

Bob, in the meantime, had commandeered Mrs. Minnock's little blue coupe, explaining that Chris Wiley undoubtedly knew the Hathaway car by sight and, if he saw it scouting around in Peach Tree Hollow, might be warned in time to escape with the baby. On the same principle, Faith swathed her hat with a voluminous silk scarf, and Bob attempted a slight disguise by donning one of Jim Lane's old slouch felt hats and a pair of enormous motor goggles.

"Not that I think Chris Wiley has done anything so obvious as to hide the baby right here in the city," he told Faith, but the sight of her despairing disappointment made him add: "But your reasoning is surprisingly acute, darling. You may have hit upon something."

"I reasoned that Chris would feel utterly helpless with a tiny baby on his hands, that he would not dare attempt a long journey with her, knowing that the police all over the state would be on the lookout for him. He would naturally think of the one person he can trust absolutely and the one person who, in his mind, is connected with taking care of babies—his own old nurse. Of course the old negress wouldn't have the least idea how to feed Hope. But a man like Chris would not think of that. We've got to get her away from the old woman before she can poison our baby's stomach with the wrong kind of feeding," Faith explained with a calmness that surprised and delighted Bob.

"You're a wonder, honey," he told her, his fatigue-dulled eyes lighting up with such a fondness that Faith's heavy heart was lightened—sang for a moment with joy that she felt was traitorous to poor little Hope.

"Don't you think maybe we'd better take a plain clothes man along with us?" Faith asked, as the borrowed car skimmed swiftly through the almost deserted business district, on its way to Peach Tree Hollow.

"No. Better keep this party looking as innocent as possible," Bob answered. "If the baby's there, I'll get her, even if I have to commit violence on the old negress. If Chris is there, I'll kill him anyway—"

"Don't, Bob!" Faith cried out sharply. "Don't even say a thing like that lightly. Heaven knows we've had enough publicity and murder trials in this family. And," she added irrationally, "I'm a little sorry for Chris. After all, Hope is his baby, and Cherry is his wife. He must love her as much as he is capable of loving anyone—"

"I'd rather see her dead than living with Chris Wiley again!" Bob interrupted savagely. "But don't worry, sweet. I'll not kill the blackguard unless he tries to keep us from taking that baby back to Cherry."

Faith's hands, suddenly cold, gripped each other convulsively in a return of that old fear that had never quite let her alone since she had fallen in love with and married Bob Hathaway. Cherry, Cherry, always Cherry!

"I thought you were interested in giving Hope back into my arms," she choked, unable to keep back the betraying words. "I've mothered Hope since she was born. She's more my baby than Cherry's—"

"What did you say that street and number were?" Bob interrupted, as if he had not sensed the undercurrent in her protest. "We're entering Peach Tree Hollow now, honey."

LETTERS OF A FARMER'S WIFE

DEAR OLIVE:

I am wondering if the time speeds by as quickly where you are as it does here. My stars! the week slips away almost before I realize it is half through. We are having fine nights to sleep now. It is so cool, and after the sun goes down, there is a fallish twinge in the air. The summer soon will have passed, seemingly far too short for all we have planned to do.

The huckleberry campaign is still on. A great many have had their "day" and left for their several homes, wherever they are. Some places I know nothing of, for they have come from far and near all over the country. Still some have continued to stay in camp, while I notice lots that appear to be just going away to camp and get their supply of berries. I believe it has been a good season for the berry pickers, and no doubt they are all well satisfied with their gains, made from picking and selling the fruit.

One thing plain to be seen and felt also is the wornout roads leading to the vacation grounds. So much traffic over them has left them in a hard shape, but after a little the general road work will put them in better condition for the fall. We will miss the travel by the place. Every day will be a great deal quieter, after the berry and vacation rush is over. I don't mind the noise on week days, but I would rather have it more calm on the Sabbath. So many come along and go fishing and berry-picking on that day, telling how they never can get a day through the week to spare—in most cases that's all bosh. They could take a day off in the week if they wanted to. I'd hate to be so all-killing busy as that. It's certainly right and proper to be industrious and saving of time to a good degree, but when we get so greedy of a day that we have to utilize the Lord's day, the one day out of seven that He especially chose as a time to rest, I say let's quit. I don't want to use it that way and what's more I will not do it, and we will live just as well as those that do.

Ethelbert is away on another cow-hunting expedition. Since these cool days have come, our cattle roam away farther. You know they have a large run of hundreds of acres of unfenced property; the feed is fine on the range, and now that it is cool, the flies do not annoy the cattle nearly so much and consequently they go a greater distance from home. They stayed away overnight not long ago, and we didn't get them until late the next morning. It was ten o'clock when Ethelbert had his breakfast. He arose early and started on the hunt for those prodigal cows, and when he located themh, tey were partaking of their breakfast, but were eating right away from home, instead of getting up and coming in the home direction. We have a young two-year old mother and wee bossy in the herd. He said that calf could slip through the bushes like a deer, although its mother is very careful to see if it is along pretty close to her.

It's wonderful the instinct that dumb animals possess. A few days after the wee calf's arrival, we had turned it and the mother out with the other cows (after having had her shut in a lot by herself until the calf was strong enough to follow her well). The herd leader started away, the others had followed, and we hadn't taken any notice about the calf at all, supposing the mother had taken it along. That night when Ethelbert fetched the cows home, he saw that it wasn't along; so, as he brought them along the main road, he noticed the mother kept moving her ears forward. He expected to see the calf come out from a fence corner or some other place, but it didn't appear, so on they all came until right in front of our barnyard gate. In a large bunch of thistles right beside the main travelled road, up jumped that scamp of a calf out of those thistles, but not until its mother had said, "moo moo." No matter if the other cows did bawl, it didn't come in sight until it heard the right voice. For a few days after that she left it and went for the day feeding with the others and it stayed where she left it all day. Then at night when she came back, she'd give that soft little "moo," and it knew a good warm supper was there for it. And how it would lug on to it—it is getting as fat as a seal.

Did you notice that ink blot on the other sheet? I sat here writing; everything was perfectly quiet with the exception of the scratching of the pen, and the ticking of the clock. I noticed a mouse running around the floor, not a bit afraid of me it seemed, so I got up and got a knock-out trap and put a little piece of cheese on the bait-holder and set it to catch mousie. I resumed the writing and had forgotten the trap being set, when all of a sudden, bang! went that trap and it started me so much that up flew my pen and made that nasty ink blot. I went over to see if I had my victim; sure enough, and say it was a real knock-out. He lay about a foot and a half away from the trap, quivering in a death fit. I suppose it was. I quickly put him out where the kitty could finish it.

Well, here goes again, I've had three interruptions since starting on this letter. If one or two more come I'll give up until the morning, then perhaps I can proceed in peace, and I'll see that our regular mailman takes it to the office. I gave one to Ethelbert to mail for me to-day and if he didn't go to town, and cart that letter all around and bring it home again. That ends my trusting him with my mail matter for a while at least.

This is to-day again, it was no use, I couldn't get this letter written all through last night. Along came two fellows, one wanted the loan of a hundred pounds of shorts to feed their pigs until some came in; the other lad is a tourist. He came for a little evening visit. He is of the Dubois Press staff, Rochester, N.Y., and gave us an interesting talk on his experience in several printing offices. He says this is a slack time for his work just now, but it will revive as soon as the fall advertising comes in. I must ask him some more things about the machinery of the place he is at. He says times are dull for a good many in different businesses over there, as they are in the shadow of their presidential election. I always notice that a time like that causes a depression in financial circles. Money seems to be in bondage; it appears to be a gambling problem. I'm so glad that ordinary folks like us don't need to be involved in such mix-ups. It's all our poor brains can do to carry on in what little buying and selling deals we have in order to make both ends meet.

I got my letter from Eva, it was just a case putting-off writing from one day to another. What do you think has been proposed to me? They want me to go over and accompany her home—you know I hadn't made plans on taking a trip this year. I'm not in the least ready to go, and I'll have to get some new duds to wear and scratch up train fare, and, really, it takes all the cows are bringing in to keep up expenses. Hired help must be paid—canning time brings needs too. That is the way it goes, yes, and there is fall clothing to be thought of soon now. Eva must have a new coat for this winter, she has taken great service from the old one and has outgrown it, therefore a new one is in demand. Of course later we will have our pigs and lambs to sell, but we cannot count on that money for our own personal needs—taxes have to be paid and other things looked after.

I would like to go on the trip in some respects, and in some others I would rather someone else went; it will be tiresome and I wouldn't have a great while to stay. It's getting along so late, if I go it will have to be a flying-trip (on land) in order to get her here in time for school opening. If I could pick up and go just as I am, and leave everything just as it is, I wouldn't mind, but I'll be working to leave things in good order while I'm away, and then hurry back as soon as possible, to get home and do it all over again. Last year when I went to the States, they managed fairly well, only the hawks caught a lot of my chickens, no one being around the house through the middle of the day. They became very bold, and played havoc with my fowl.

As I look out the window, it looks like a typical fall day. The sky is a deep blue, the clouds rather cold-looking, overshadowing the sun just enough that it shines through hazily. The cornfield is all in bloom; soon will be ears in the boiling stage. The grain will soon all be in stooks. Ours is rather late this year. I see leaves on different shrubs and trees are turning red. Neither drought or frost have caused that, so it must be the effects of maturity. It's a beautiful time of year, now, but the fresh greenness of spring days has passed, the leaves on the trees have that real dark green color that comes with age, and soon now the autumn air will bring the colorful tints we all love. Some think of that time as melancholy. I guess that all depends on our temperaments, and the mood we happen to be in, sometimes joyful, others sad.

I, too, have been canning huckleberries, and I think I have all we will use. We haven't much of an apple crop around these parts this year, so have to put by quite a good deal of certain other fruits. Most anything is good when the ground is covered with snow and there is no chance to get fresh stuff and we out of reach of the markets have to depend on our cellars for all such.

Our garden is fine, everything at its best now. I haven't ripe tomatoes yet, but it will not be long as they soon ripen after reaching full size. I tried some celery this year and I'm in hopes it will be a success. I have a fine recipe for mustard pickle with celery as an ingredient; perhaps you will want it.

Bye—MOLLY.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

This rose-colored sport frock of tailored design is made of a lightweight flannel of a sort that may be washed without danger of shrinking.

One usually thinks of the better class Englishman as being extremely well groomed—an immaculately clean individual who would as soon wear a ring in his nose as spots on his clothes. Yet certain Englishmen have come to the conclusion that they really aren't so spick and span after all.

"A man takes a clean shirt," writes one of these Englishmen, "and carefully inspects the white cuffs to make sure they are spotless." And yet, he sighs, "What would the edge of the sleeve of his coat look like if the stuff were also white? The clean white collar is mere camouflage and typical of the humbug of our clothes."

In order to set matters right, certain super-cleanly individuals in England are encouraging the making and use of woolen materials which can be washed and really kept clean. One well-dressed Londoner has trousers that actually are washed and ironed. He wears a fresh pair of 'em every week.

Women are really at least a half century ahead of men in matters of dress anyway. They have discarded the high collar and refuse to have it back again. They wear really cool clothes in summer and hats that really cover their ears and forehead in winter. Doubtless that is the reason why women everywhere are less troubled with colds and nasal troubles than men.

And women have gone ahead of men in the use of washable woolens. Of course, we think of woolen materials as not being washable. Yet washable woolens have actually been made and are extensively used for making clothes for women and children. There are flannels that neither shrink nor harden when washed with care. For the woman who likes fairly warm clothes in autumn and winter I would certainly recommend these washable flannels and other woolen materials.

Visitors Make Bid For Victory With 4-Run Rally in Ninth.

Playing at home to Peterborough Crescents on Thursday afternoon in the O.B.A.A. semi-finals, Deloro won a 9-7 decision from the visitors. Billingsley was Manager Brioux's choice for mound duty, and he was hit hard, Deloro collecting fifteen safe hits off his delivery. His team mates played errorless ball behind him but healthy clouting by the Deloro aggregation earned them the decision over the left-hander. Leal started for Deloro and allowed Crescents only three runs in the seven innings he worked. He was relieved by Ralph in the eighth and this move came near losing the decision for Deloro, Crescent pouncing on Ralph for four runs in the ninth.

Crescents made a great bid for victory in the ninth when they staged a rally that netted them four runs. They needed two more to tie it up but could not shove them across.

First Inning.

LeBarr opened the game by grounding out to Leal. J. Jones singled off Hughes. Kennealey grounded out to Hughes, Jones taking second. Ranger doubled to right to score Jones with the first run of the game. Barry ended the inning by grounding out to Hughes.

For Deloro, Bond walked on four pitched balls, and stole second a moment later. He scored when Jack doubled to left. J. Quinn sacrificed Jack to third. Boudreau doubled to right, scoring Jack. Regan walked. Brown forced Regan at second, Boudreau advancing to third on the put out. Boudreau scored on a passed ball, and Brown pulled up at third. Hughes struck out.

Second Inning.

Scully started the Crescents' half of the second by grounding out to Jack. Jack made a fast play on Scully's hit. Corbett grounded out to Wood. F. Jones fanned for the third out.

Woods started Deloro's second with a high foul fly to Kennealey. Leal fanned. Bond walked, but was out a moment later when he tried to steal second, Kennealey making a perfect peg to nail the runner.

Third Inning.

Billingsley grounded out to Leal to start the third. LeBarr singled to right. J. Jones flied out to Brown and LeBarr was caught off second.

Jack doubled to right in Deloro's half of the third. J. Quinn sacrificed Jack to third. Boudreau doubled through short, scoring Jack. Regan doubled to right, scoring Boudreau. Brown lofted a high one to Ranger and Hughes struck out.

Fourth Inning.

Kennealey started the fourth with a single to centre, but was out when he attempted to steal second. Ranger grounded out to Woods and Barry was called out on strikes.

Woods struck out, Leal grounded out to Billingsley and Bond fanned in Deloro's half of the fourth.

Fifth Inning.

Scully grounded out to Jack. Bond made a nice running catch of Corbett's long fly, and F. Jones flied out to Brown in Crescents' half of the fifth.

Jack singled to right to start Deloro's fifth. J. Quinn singled to left. They pulled off a double steal. Boudrea then flied to left, Jack scoring. Regan singled to centre and Quinn pulled up at third. Regan stole second. Brown safe on fielder's choice, Quinn scoring. Brown stole second. Hughes struck out. Woods bunted safe, scoring Regan. Woods stole second. Leal grounded out to Ranger to end the rally.

Sixth Inning.

The Crescents were easy in the sixth. Billingsley grounded out to Jack. Bond came in from centre to take LeBarr's fly, and J. Jones rolled out to Woods.

In Deloro's half of the sixth Bond, first man up, struck out. Jack singled to left, but Quinn flied out to Ranger and Jack was doubled off first.

Seventh Inning.

Crescents shoved over two runs in their half of the seventh. Kennealey started with a walk. Ranger then tripled to centre, scoring Kennealey. Barry grounded out to Woods, and Ranger scored on the putout. Scully flied to Jack and Corbett flied to Boudreau.

A fast double play by Crescents kept Deloro off the score sheet in their half of the seventh. Boudreau was thrown out by Billingsley to start, but Regan singled through short and Brown shot one through the same place. Hughes hit into a fast double play, Billingsley to Scully to Corbett.

Eighth Inning.

Ralph was sent in to pitch at this stage, Leal being benched. F. Jones grounded out to Regan. Billingsley was safe on Woods' error. Billingsley was nipped off first, Ralph to Hughes. LeBarr fanned.

Deloro added another in their half of the eighth. Woods rolled to Billinsley for the first out. Ralph, however, singled to right. Bond was thrown out by Ranger. Jack bunted safe, Ralph taking second. Quinn singled to centre, scoring Ralph, but was out when he tried to stretch hit into a double.

Ninth Inning.

Crescents staged a great rally in their last inning but were short two runs to tie it up. J. Jones started with a single off Regan's glove. He was safe on his steal of second when Quinn pegged badly to get him. Kennealey hit to Jack who threw Jones out going into third. Ranger hit to Woods who made a bad peg trying to get Kennealey at second and both runners were safe. Barry singled, filling the bases. Scully hit a sharp single to right, scoring Kennealey and Ranger. Barry pulling up at third and Scully taking second on the throw to the plate. Corbett hit to Woods who threw him out at first, Barry scoring on the put out. F. Jones was safe when Jack threw low to Hughes, Corbett scoring. Billingsley was safe on Woods' error, F. Jones pulling up at second. LeBarr fanned to end the game.

DEMPSEY KEEPS TRAINERS BUSY

WORKS THREE ROUNDS

CHICAGO, September 2. Canadian Press. — Jack Dempsey was no easy target for right hand smashes to the chin yesterday, as he was Wednesday. The Manasse mouler worked three rounds: one with Jack McCann, another with Sullivan, both St. Paul boxers, and one with Oak Till, Rochester light heavyweight. Dempsey won the honors in each round.

Manager Flynn sent Dempsey into the ring to box with strict instructions to spend his time within the ropes exclusively to avoid left jabs and hooks. Flynn was not particular if Dempsey did not strike back a single blow. But with 3000 customers jammed around the ring Dempsey was not content to duck and weave. He simply could not restrain himself and his sparring partners had more trouble keeping away from Jack's left hooks than in evading their thrusts.

Dempsey also presented a more impregnable defense. He kept on the head roll continually and even Oak Till, who possesses the fastest left hand in camp, had trouble in stabbing Dempsey with his excellent defensive weapon. Till, a sparring mate of Tunney a year ago, cut loose a couple of times trying right hands to the chin, and Dempsey tamed him with those uplifting and sickening left hooks to the jaw.

FIRST GAME GOES TO BEARS

SECOND A SHUT-OUT.

TORONTO, Sept. 2. — Toronto scored one run in each of two games at Leaf Stadium yesterday afternoon and made a total of six hits for the day, yet managed to break even with New ark and remain tied with Bears for third place in the league standing. Thanks to air-tight pitching by Johnny Prudhomme and a timely base hit by the same player, the Leafs were able to win the abbreviated second encounter by a 1 to 0 score. The first game went to the Bears by a score of 3 to 1. It was Newark's last appearance of the season here, and they won three out of four.

Both games were pitchers' battles. Mamaux, Newark's leading hurler, scored his twenty-first victory of the season in the opening game. Opposed to him was Vic Sorrell and Sorrell pitched good ball. But his teammates could only get him one run, and, though this served to give Toronto the lead for several innings, it succumbed to a two-run rally by the Bears in the seventh, which, together with an additional counter in the ninth, provided a barrier over which the Leafs could not leap.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AT PERCY BOOM

Friends of Mrs. William Knight Gather To Honor 71st Anniversary.

SUCCESSFUL EVENT.

On Monday Aug. 29, the intimate friends of Mrs. William Knight, of Grafton, met at Percy Boom to honor her on the occasion of her 71st birthday.

Although the weather was far from perfect, the event was most successful.

A cottage was secured for the day and tables fairly groaned under their load of delicacies, and a hungry multitude did ample justice to this—the handiwork of the ladies. In the centre of the table stood the birthday cake, beautifully decorated with tiny pink and white candles.

This happy occasion also marked the fourth birthday of little Miss Lois Hay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hay, of Campbellford, and she was also presented with a cake on top of which stood four tiny candles.

After dinner the male members of the party played a very fast and interesting game of softball, during which Mr. Ernest Bonney, one of the most jovial players, got into rather serious difficulties, from which he was finally extricated by Messrs. Henry Knight and Percy Roberts.

Supper was served about five-thirty, and after adieus were said, the party broke up, many voicing their hope that this gathering be an annual event.

With Mrs. Knight on this occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Knight and family, of Wicklow; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knight and family, of Norham; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Roberts and family, of Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Campbell, of Morganston; Mr. and Mrs. George Oliver, Mr. John Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Oliver and family, Mr. Carl Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. William Bland and Percy, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bonney, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hay and family and Mr. John Oliver, all of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Morgan, of Peterborough; and Miss Helen and Master James Hare, of Oshawa.

INDIANS WIN FROM CHICAGO

Two Budding Plays Break Up Budding Rallies for 8-5 Victory.

TIGERS WIN 8-4

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press).—Cleveland bunched hits off Thomas and Jacobs yesterday to win at Chicago, 8 to 5, in the first game of the series. Hudlin was hit freely by the Sox, but was given great support in the pinches, two double plays breaking up budding rallies. Summa's drive into the right field bleachers in the third inning scored a runner ahead of him.

Breaking their losing streak, which had extended to eight games, the Detroit Tigers scored four runs in the tenth inning and won from the Browns at St. Louis yesterday, 8 to 4. Three singles, three walks, two stolen bases and a sacrifice figured in the final four runs. The Browns tied the score in the ninth with two runs when three walks filled the bases, and Sisler and Williams both went home on a double play. Each team used three pitchers.

Only games scheduled.

NEW RULES SET FOR NATIONAL LEAGUE

Players Cannot Pass Over Field Limits to Catch Ball.

NEW YORK, September 2. Canadian Press. — Baseball fielders "cannot jump over any fence, railing or rope marking the limits of the playing field in order to catch the ball," according to new rules constructions issued by John A. Heydler, president of the National League, to his umpires and made public yesterday.

In connection with rule 48, which limits a home run to any fair hit going into stands at least 250 feet from home plate, President Heydler rules that the fielder may (1) reach over such fence, railing or rope to make a catch; (2) fall over the same after having completed the catch; or (3) jump on top of a railing marking the boundary of the field and catch the ball."

Where ground rules are in effect, with part of the crowd roped off, "that rope becomes the boundary line of the playing field," the chief executive points out, adding:

"In general a ball hit into a crowd beyond the rope becomes automtically a two base or three base hit, as may be determined by the special ground rules made prior to the game."

"Parasol ants" derive their name from the fact that they cut large pieces out of leaves and then march along carrying the pieces over their heads like umbrellas.

PIRATES LEAD IN LEAGUE RACE

LEAD BY SINGLE POINT

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(Canadian Press).—The Pittsburgh Pirates went into first place in the tight National League race yesterday by defeating the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3. The Corsairs' hold on first place rests on a single percentage point.

Joe Harris was the individual batting star, the Pirate first baseman figuring in all of the home team's runs, including a long home run drive to the centre field fence.

Lee Meadows had the better of Hal Carlson on the mound. The Chicago hurler was hit freely in the first four innings and was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Meadows was ably supported by sparkling throws by the Waner brothers. Lloyd Waner's throw to Traynor stopped Wilson in the second inning when he attempted to go to third on Beck's single. In the next inning Paul Waner cut off Beck at the plate with a throw to Gooch.

Pittsburgh drew first blood in the second inning when Grantham beat out a hit. Harris doubled and Gooch singled, scoring both of them. Harris' homer came in the fourth with none on base. After Grantham had singled in the eighth, Harris drove him in with a sacrifice with what proved to be the winning run.

The Cubs scored twice in the fifth on an error by Grantham and singles by Grimm and Carlson. Chicago threatened again in the ninth, but with one run over and runners on first and third, Meadows retired pinch hitters.

"NAUGHTY BUT NICE"

PETERBOROUGH'S DIAMOND JUBILEE CELEBRATION!

WHY IS A BAD BOY?

Psychologists and scientists are gradually coming to the belief that there are no inherently bad boys. From the dawn of civilization, mothers have been bewildered by incorrigible characteristics in their children. They have usually blamed the boys' bad behavior on some hereditary influence, and a favorite way for the mother to dodge responsibility is to claim that all of the boy's bad habits come from the father.

Science is now stepping in and is a tempting to prove that physical and mental defects, which often make the bad boy, are mostly developed after birth, and are due to wrong training on the part of both parents and teachers.

In Chicago they have inaugurated what promises to be a new era in the treatment of wayward children. The Institute for Juvenile Research, recently opened, is to examine every boy and girl who passes through the juvenile court with a view to determine what physical and mental defects may be responsible for the child's delinquency. Ailments when found will be treated with a view to returning the children to society in such condition that they will be assets rather than liabilities.

"Scientific study of human behavior," said Dr. Herman Adler in charge of the institute, "will yield not only new methods for treatment and prevention of crime, but also will produce new knowledge of the human mind—knowledge that will add to the sum total of human happiness."

The psychologists and scientists will find the most difficulty in controlling the child's habits of thought, especially when they are living with parents who do not understand how to carry out the proper instructions regarding such mental training. The most effective change can be made if the parents are given typewritten or printed instructions about the care of the child's diet and other physical habits which they can more easily control.

Children are never good children when suffering from enlarged tonsils, adenoids, bronchitis, frequent colds, etc., and a change of diet will eliminate many of these disorders. I have proven this to be true in thousands of cases.

As soon as the child is cured of physical defects, there is an immediate change in their mental and moral attitude. This change is definite and always takes place with mathematical certainty. This is, no doubt, not because these diseases are cured, but because the causes which have produced them are eliminated. There is plenty of evidence that these same causes are the ones which lead to mental deterioration and moral delinquency.

DELORO vs. CRESCENTS

EXHIBITION GROUNDS

Saturday, Sept. 3rd

AT 3 O'CLOCK.

ADMISSION 25c; CHILDREN FREE.

MUCH AT STAKE IN MONDAY TILT WITH OSHAWA

Motors and Petes Battling For Entry Into Ontario Series.

MAY WIND IT UP.

In Any Case Leadership of the Series Will Hinge Upon the Result.

The Labour Day senior game at James Stevenson Park promises to be a keenly fought struggle that will provide plenty of excitement for the holiday crowd.

Oshawa and the Petes play the second game to-morrow in Oshawa. If the Petes win, the Motors face elimination here on Monday; if they lose, the winner of Monday's game will lead the series. Either way there is plenty at stake, and the teams will fight it out to the last ditch.

Provided that Hardill draws the assignment at Oshawa to-morrow, as is probable, Heckman will go to the gun pit on Labour Day. From Oshawa comes the report that Matthews, who stopped the Petes in an exhibition game early in the season, is being started against Manager Swanston's outfit to-morrow, which leaves Dainty, Delaney, and Somerville ready for the third fixture.

Monday's game here will start at 3 o'clock, and will draw the season's biggest crowd.

The winner of this series will meet the Toronto winners in the O.B.A.A. senior semi-finals.

CRESCENTS WILL HAVE TO WIN TO STAY IN SERIES

Local Team Faces Elimination in the Deloro Clash.

LOSE FIRST GAME.

And Have To Grab Victory in the Game Here To-morrow.

Crescents will be fighting with their backs to the wall to-morrow, when they clash with Deloro in the second game of their O.B.A.A. series with last year's Intermediate champions. The game will be played at the Exhibition Grounds at 3 o'clock, and is bound to attract a big crowd of fans.

The Crescents were beaten after a hard battle at Deloro yesterday, and must win to-morrow to tie up the series. It is likely that Mein will be called upon to turn the trick, while Carl Woods, the Peterborough boy with Deloro, is the most probable pitching choice for the visitors.

Theatres

AT THE REGENT.

BARTHELMESS SUPPORTED BY CAST OF STARS.

An exceptionally brilliant cast supports Richard Barthelmess in "The White Black Sheep," the Inspiration First National picture now attracting huge crowds at the Regent Theatre.

Patsy Ruth Miller plays a desert dancer who rescues Dick from a terrific free-for-all fight among the Palestine tribesmen.

William H. Tooker plays Col. Kincairn, the father. Constance Howard is the girl whom the hero saves from disgrace by shouldering the shame of her theft before his father and friends.

The balance of the cast contains such prominent film names as Gino Corrado, Albert Prisco, Erville Alderson—who portrays a deaf and dumb beggar; Templar Saxe, Col. G. L. McDonell, Sam Appel and many others.

Sidney Olcott, famous director of "Monsieur Beaucaire" "The Humming Bird," "Little Old New York," and many other film epics, directed "The White Black Sheep."

Olcott was especially well fitted to direct this play because of his long experience in the Near East where a great deal of the action takes place.

He was assisted in a technical advisory capacity by Ameen Zaytoun, a Syrian gentleman whom he met on one of his jaunts in Turkey.

Col. G. L. McDonell also assisted Olcott in the English sequences, to ensure accuracy regarding the British army scenes and the social life and manners of modern England.

AT THE CAPITOL.

Colleen Moore in "Naughty But Nice."

The gay little comedienne, Colleen Moore, does her stuff to great advantage in "Naughty But Nice," the feature picture at the Capitol Theatre for this week-end. There were plenty of laughs throughout the house last night when the peppy smally lady enacts the role of a flapper from Texas who goes to Washington as the frumpy heiress of an oil-well baron and proceeds to liven up existence at a young ladies college there.

The popular idea of a bedroom farce as the basis of comedy situations is used in "Naughty But Nice," without too much emphasis, however. The heroine, through her habit of covering up disagreeable situations by telling "white lies," involves herself in a romance with a bewildered gentleman, and goes through many adventures before they are enabled to emerge from the turmoil. After claiming a chance acquaintance as a husband, she is compelled to spend a week-end with him at a country house party, and the resulting complications are outlined in the picture, which finishes after a great deal of fun has been extracted from the acting of the small lady. She arrives in the college as a distinct little prune, frumpish and dowdy, and emerges, after a course of treatment in clothes and hairdressing, as a real little peach, the metamorphosis taking place before a big sorority dance. The art of Colleen Moore makes "Naughty But Nice" very entertaining, and keeps her audience in constant good humour from start to finish.

PRINCE OF WALES AND PARTY AT CALGARY

WHITEHOUSE HAD SPLENDID SEASON

Peterborough Pitcher Home For Short Visit—Was With Clarksburg.

Frank Whitehouse, former Peterborough Central League pitcher, who has been with the Clarksburg, West Va. team, in the Mid-Atlantic League this season, is home for a few days.

Frankie had a good season with the Clarksburg club, which, by the way, is managed by an old Canadian League favourite, "Greasy" Neall, who once upon a time played left field for the London Cockneys, and afterwards starred with the Cincinnati Reds. Whitehouse won a flock of games and was going fine until several weeks ago, when he hurt his pitching arm and had to make a trip to "Bone Setter" Reese at Youngstown, to get the lame flapper treated. It is all O.K. now.

Whitehouse was not the only former Central Ontario League player to show his wares in the Mid-Atlantic League this season. Jack Williams, Belleville's Indian southpaw, was with the Jeanette and later with the Charleroi clubs of the same league, while Rice, former catcher of the Kingston Ponies, was with the Cumberland club. With three graduates in the same professional loop, the calibre of ball played in the league organized by Jake Solomon can be estimated.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate)

UNCLE WIGGILY'S FUNNY BOAT

"Daddicums, do you want that old box?" asked Tooter, one of the many little boy rabbits who had come with Uncle Wiggily to the shell cottage at the seashore. Tooter pointed one paw at a wooden Box which had held some of the things Mr. and Mrs. Longears moved from their hollow stump bungalow.

"Why, no, Tooter, I don't want that box," Uncle Wiggily answered. "You may have it. But what are you going to do with it?"

"Thank you, Daddicums!" shouted Tooter as he caught up the box and hopped off with it. "I am going to blub—wub-dub—scub——" and the rest of what Tooter said seemed to be blown away by the wind. He hopped so fast, carrying the box his father had given him, that Uncle Wiggily could not understand what the little rabbit said.

"We are going to sink!" cried Tooter

"Tooter is up to some trick, I'm sure of that," said Mr. Longears to himself as he watched his little son hop down toward a place where the waves from the ocean flowed into a little cove. In this cove the water was not deep and the bunny children often played there.

"Yes, I am sure there is some sort of a trick," went on Uncle Wiggily as he saw Tooter meet his brothers Scooter, Bumble, Stumble and Fumble. "I had better go see that my boys do not get into trouble with that box. I wonder what they are going to do with it?"

Hopping down among the stunted pine trees and brown sand dunes toward the quiet little cove, all of a sudden Uncle Wiggily heard merry shouts and laughter.

"Tooter and his brothers are having fun with that box," said the old rabbit gentleman.

A few minutes later, when Uncle Wiggily was nearer to the cove, he heard voices shouting.

"Help! Help! We are sinking! Help! We are shipwrecked!"

"That means trouble!" cried the nose twinkling bunny. "Tooter and his brothers are in trouble. I must help them!"

Reaching the top of a little sand dune, or hill, from which he could look down into the cove, Uncle Wiggily saw the little rabbit boys in the empty wooden box he had given Tooter. The rabbit boys had made a sort of boat from the box and were pushing themselves around the cove with long poles.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "You seem to be all right in your box-boat. Why are you calling for help?"

"Because our boat leaks and a lot of water is coming in and we are going to sink!" cried Tooter. "Please help us to get ashore!"

There was an old rope off some fish net, in the sand near where Uncle Wiggily stood, and, holding one end of this rope in his paws, Uncle Wiggily tossed the other end to Tooter, who stood up in the box-boat, catching hold of the coils as they sailed over his head.

Then Uncle Wiggily pulled the rabbit boys in their leaky boat close to shore, in the shallow water where there was no danger of sinking. Tooter and his brothers were quite frightened.

"You should never go sailing in a leaky boat," said Uncle Wiggily.

"It didn't leak when it was on dry land," answered Tooter. "It was only when we shoved it into the water that it began to leak."

"Of course," chuckled Mr. Longears. "And you can't play boat with this box, for it is filled with cracks and holes and the water will leak in all the while."

"Then we can't have any fun paying sailor," said Fumble.

"Too bad!" said the other rabbit boys.

But just then a voice in the water spoke, saying:

"I'll give you boys a ride on my back, if you like, and I will not sink with you nor leak. All aboard!" With that a sea turtle whose shell was larger than a washtub paddled himself toward shore with his flippers and his funny little tail went around like the propeller of a steamer.

"May we ride on the turtle's back, Daddicums?" asked Scooter.

"Since he has invited you, why you may," said the rabbit. And piling on the broad, safe back of the sea turtle the little rabbit boys had many fine rides around the cove. They pretended they were on a big steamship and they had lots of fun. And not a drop of water leaked in on them. Though when the turtle paddled very fast he made waves which splashed on Tooter and his brothers a little, but they only laughed at this. Last of all Uncle Wiggily was given a ride by himself and he liked it very much. And after that, every day, the sea turtle took some of the bunnies for a trip about the cove on his back.

Except for the eyes, women's faces lack expression nowadays, according to many critics, although they are generally better looking than of old.

SHARKEY MAY COME BACK.

EDMONTON Alta., Sept.2 — (By The Canadian Press).—Fifty British boys sent out from the Labor Ministry's training schools in England arrived in Edmonton recently. Fifteen of the boys were dropped at Daysland and other points in central Alberta on the way to Edmonton in a day or two for Westlock and the Peace River country.

"They are a splendid type of young settler and are keen on life in the new land," says the Edmonton Journal. "They have all been instructed for varying periods in the training schools at Brandon and Claydon, in Suffolk, England. These schools were instituted by the British labor ministry to interest boys in agricultural opportunities in Canada. The equipment is all Canadian and the boys are taught the methods of farming in vogue in the dominion, including dairy work and general work on the farm, such as rough carpentering, blacksmithing and lumbering.

A shoe shine stand was the first thing that aroused the wonder of the boys. "Look, Sid" said Wallace, "look at that man sitting in a chair getting his shoes polished." The boys gazed in wonder at this sight, as they did at the barber college where a row of men were being shaved.

The boys range in age from 16 to 21 years old and are being placed with various farmers in the northern sections of the province.

INDIAN POLOISTS TRYING FOR CUP

Will Play United States at Meadowbrook, Starting Labor Day.

ALL VETERANS.

MEADOWBROOK, L. I., Sept. 5 (Canadian Press). — Perhaps the greatest gathering in the history of the game will assemble at the Meadowbrook club to watch the series for the international polo trophy to determine the supremacy as between Britain and the United States. The United States has selected its best team while the team representing the British army in India has been training for almost a year.

The international trophy now remains in the possession of the United States. The American team this year will have two members who are rated as ten goal men, which is the highest rating ever made. They are Hitchcock and Milburn. The British team has two players rated with nine goal, Roark and Atkinson, and the team shows a goal-getting strength of 33 against the Americans' 34. This is not significant, but it is probable that the Americans will trot out on the field at Meadowbrook for the first game of the series on September 5 slight favorites.

At least it can be said that Great Britain never set out more determinedly in her history to win an international trophy than in the present case. The team has been training ever since last October. The Indian Army asked permission of the autocrats of the game at Hurlingham to get together a team to win back the cup and when it was granted, the prospective players were ordered to report for practice ten months ago. Throughout last Winter the team, or rather a dozen prospective candidates for it, played polo in India, and finally a selection of half a dozen was made. This group sailed for England and there played only one formal game, preferring, as Colonel Towkinson said, not to lose the feel of the fast turf of India, a type of field which he expected to find in the United States.

The final selection, as made the other day by Col. Tomkinson, is as follows:

No. 1, Captain Claude E. Fert; No. 2, Major Austin H. Williams; No. 3, Captain C. T. I. Roark; Back, Major Eric G. Atkinson.

All the players are veterans of the game, and all served through the war. The youngest of them is Captain Pert, who is 29, and the oldest is Major Atkinson, who is 40, and seven years younger than Milburn, the international hero. The Indian team is considerably lighter than the American, averaging only 157½ pounds to the American 173½. Weight is hardly less important in polo than in football, and what the invaders lack in tonnage they make up in speed.

Lyrics Of Life
(By Douglas Malloch.)

HOW MUCH EASIER

How much easier life would be
Perhaps some hill that takes your time
I know some quicker way to climb,
No doubt the problem in my hand
Is something you would understand
Yes, easier done and sooner through
If you helped me and I helped you.

The better way we'd often see
If I helped you and you helped me.
For I have walked the mountainside,
And you the very peaks have tried,
And I would show you where I fell,
And You confess your faults as well,
And then we'd try some way that's new
If you helped me and I helped you.

We couldn't always quite agree,
If I helped you and you helped me,
But counselling together so,
We'd find the wisest way, I know.
The path is sharp with many a stone,
To those who try to walk alone,
But how much easier it would be
If I helped you and you helped me!

FOUR WOMEN GET $10,000 PRIZE MONEY

Swim Was a Big Success—Not An Annual Event.

$2,000 FOR EDITH HEDIN.

Miss Stager Claims She Would Have Finished—Buoys Not Lighted.

TORONTO, Sept. 2.—The swim was a success. That is the opinion of H. W. Waters, general manager of the Canadian National Exhibition.

"The arrangements were well-nigh perfect," he said last night. "The fact that it went off with such an easy splash, in the face of so much possible danger, is proof of that. The only hitch was at night, and that was unforeseen. We thought the boats would, of course, carry searchlights. Another time I would advise lighting the water at night."

Not An Annual Event.

Asked if the swim might develop into an annual ffair, or be repeated in the future, Mr. Waters gave a definite "No!" as his answer. He explained that the swim came at the psychological moment when interest in swimming was very high, and that, as was the case with marathon racing, it would more or less die a natural death, unless another great star should appear.

Outside of its great advertising features, making the C.N.E. known all over the world, the swim had other practical values to Mr. Waters. One of these was that it caused a great many people to think of learning to swim something which nothing else could have done.

To Divide Prize-Money.

A surprise announcement last evening was that to the effect that four women swimmers are to divide $10,000, as follows: Lottie Moore Schoemmell, New York, $3,500; Ethel Hertle, New York, $3,000; Edith Hedin, Toronto, $2,000, and Martha Stager, Portland, Ore., $1,500.

All these women made splendid efforts to cover the 21-mile course. Mrs. Schoemmell swam 17 miles, the farthest of any woman contender; Miss Stager swam the longest; Miss Hertle swam the fastest and was in fourth place at the end of the second lap when she was taken out. She could not stand the cold. Miss Stager says she would have finished if the buoys had been lighted, and she could have found her way around the triangle.

Miss Stager Objects.

TORONTO, September 2. Canadian Press. — The disposition of secondary prize money in the Lake Ontario Marathon swim, among the four whose performances were considered the most meritorious, does not meet with the approval of Miss Martha Stager, of Portland Oregon, who stayed in the water longest, and who was to be the recipient this afternoon of $1500.

Miss Stager claims that the contest was above all one of endurance, and as such she is of the opinion the money should be evenly divided.

With some friends she will visit Elwood Hughes, the director of the Marathon this afternoon, and it is possible the matter will be considered.

SCHOOL BOYS ARE COMPETING

Three Hundred Youths Meet To-day For Ontario Titles.

AT C.N.E. GROUNDS.

TORONTO, Sept. 2. — (Canadian Press).—Boys from high schools, public, and separate schools of all parts of the Province of Ontario met this afternoon in the third annual track and field championships of the Province, nearly three hundred young athletes competing. Improvement in form and speed was noticeable. The meet is under the auspices of the Ontario Athletic Association Commission.

F. Waugh of Kingston was third in the twelve-pound shot, intermediate high schools, being beaten by Moore and Zvonkin, both of Hamilton.

R. Wilson of Napanee was third in the pole vault, O'Brecht of Mount Forest winning and Leonard of Windsor being second.

CROP PROSPECTS GOOD ON PRAIRIES

Will Be One of Largest Harvests in History, Says C.P.R. Official.

CALGARY, Alta., Sept. 2.—(Special.)—"With anythiung like favorable weather for the next two or three weeks, Western Canada will undoubtedly harvest one of the largest crops in its history," remarked D. C. Coleman, vice-president of western lines of the Canadian Pacific in the course of an interview on Wednesday. This, from all reports I have receieved, will particularly apply to Alberta," he said.

Mr. Coleman stated that cutting was making rapid progress in various parts of the north and a commencement had been made at a number of points in eastern portions of the province.

It would, however, be a few days yet before the work would become at all general.

With regard to business conditions, Mr. Coleman stated that compared with this time last year there was a decided improvement noticeable and that if the large prospective crop in the west is successfully harvested the west would be in a much more satisfactory condition than has been the case for many years past.

BRITISH PAPERS PRAISE CANADA

One of Party Says They Will Encourage People To Come Here.

TOUR WILL BE OF HELP.

Banff Springs Hotel, Alberta, Sept. 2. — Canadian Press. — "As a result of the present visit of our party of provincial newspaper proprietors of Great Britain I am firmly convinced that the message that they will convey to their readers on their return will be one that will strongly encourage the vigorous and young to come and try their fortunes in Canada," said Sr Arthur Marshall K. B. E., of Bradford, Yorkshire, a member of the party in an interview here.

Sir Arthur, who represents the Starmor group of neswpapers in Yorkshire and was a skip of the Liberal party in Great Britain from 1918 to 1922, stated that the visit would stir up a solid interest in Canada through out the provinces of the Motherland.

"To my mind," said Sir Arthur, the agricultural possibilities in this Dominion are absolutely limitless, and I am positive that British capital could be used to the advantage of both countries in the further expansion of this great industry in Canada."

There should be no fear markets will not be available for all the agricultural products that would be produced as a result of such expansion.

Every day conditions throughout the world are becoming more and more normal and I anticipate that before long France and Germany will become large buyers of Canadian products. I feel too that Great Britain and other countries of Europe, as well as the rest of the Empire, will import more and more from Canada." Sir Arthur further stated that he was much impressed with the great strides being made with the mining industry in Canada. "I have not been able," said Sir Arthur, "to study this growing industry as much as I would have liked. But in no way have I overlooked the importance, of this development to Canada, and here too I anticipate that British capital will become more freely obtainable.

Sir Arthur particularly stressed the importance of the Oriental markets as far as Canada was concerned, and pointed out that the next five to ten years should find China a very heavy importer indeed of Canadian products. "My conclusion," said he, "is that wheat will generally take the place of rice in China.

The 96 members of newspaper society of Great Britan who are touring the Dominion over the C.P.R. spent Monday among orchards of Vernon. They visited Lake Louise on Tuesday and spent Wednesday at Banff where they are much interested in the preparation for the monster Highland Festival, which starts here on Saturday

KEMP—LACKIE.

The marriage was quietly solemnized by Rev. T. A. Rodger, in the vestry of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, on Thursday afternoon at four o'clock, of Agnes, daughter of the late George M. Lackie and Mrs. Lackie, of Peterborough, formerly of Edmonton, Alberta, and Clarence Gratton Kemp, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kemp, of Lakefield.

After a brief honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Kemp will reside in New Liskeard, where Mr. Kemp will resume his duties as principal of the Hudson Consolidated School.

ALLEN—HUBBARD.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at eleven o'clock on Tuesday morning at St. George's Anglican church, by the rector, Rev. J. L. Hughes, when Kathleen Mary, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hubbard, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Henry Darrel Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allen, 99 Morrow street.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attendants were Miss Victoria Allen, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. Albert Hutchinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on a motor trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. On their return, they will reside at 575 Romaine street.

CAVANO—INGRAM.

The home of Mr. Joseph Ingram, 304 Pearl avenue, was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon when his daughter, Norma Adeline Ingram, R. N., became the bride of William Ernest Cavano, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cavano, of Bethany. Miss Jean Ingram was bridesmaid and Miss Shirley Porter, of Toronto, little niece of the bride, was flower girl, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Leonard Cavano, of Oneida, Wis.

The bride, becomingly attired in a dress of white georgette trimmed with sequins and lace, with white kid shoes and stockings to match, entered the living room at 4 o'clock on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Helen Byers, of Bethany. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreen in the presence of about thirty guests, immediate relatives of the bride and groom, Rev. Wm. McDonald, B.D., past of Knox United church, being the officiating clergyman.

After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Cavano left on a motor trip, the bride travelling in a two tone dress of sand and brown and green and sand coat, with hat and shoes to match. Upon their return they will reside in Bethany.

BIG DEMONSTRATION.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—The report that Gene Tunney is not a popular world's heavyweight champion got a rousing denial here today when, like a conquering hero, he swept into one of Chicago's greatest demonstrations. Thousands of cheering men, women, and children crowded the railroad station and the streets for blocks about it when Tunney came in to complete his conditioning for his return match with Jack Dempsey here on September 22.

THREE COUNTRIES PROTEST FALSE IMPORTANCE GIVEN TO LONG DISTANCE FLYING

American Bar Association Hopes Legislation May Halt Loss of Life—Aircraft Builders Refuse To Build Planes For Solo Hops.

'A GAMBLER'S HAZARD' SAYS GERMAN PRESS WHILE LONDON SEES NATURE UP IN ARMS

St. Raphael May Be Accounted Lost, While Windsor and London Planes Are Held Up By Weather — Detroit Plane Makes Another Jump.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (A.P.).—Strong revulsion against the false importance being given long distance flying, especially trans-oceanic, was manifested in three leading aviation countries yesterday as fear for the lives of the St. Raphael's crew became a sad certainty.

At Buffalo, N.Y., the committee on air laws of the American Bar Association expressed the hope that legislation might enacted to halt the mounting loss of life. The Stinson Aircraft Corporation of Detroit declared no orders will be accepted hereafter for planes intended for solo oceanic hops. From Washington, navy hydrographers called attention to the strikingly adverse conditions faced by the St. Raphael and declared these conditions might be expected to operate against other "immediate" flights reported in prospect.

Characterizing the ocean flights as "a gambler's hazard," influential German dailies decried the importance being attached to them and urged that the men, machines and money be better spent in other lines of development.

In London, the government weather bureau arrived at the conclusion that odds lie heavily against successful westward ocean flights at this stage of aviation. Not only in the present season, the analysis held, but for 365 days in any year, Nature opposes the attempts over the Atlantic with her twin weapons of fog and wind.

Some slight hope for the St. Raphael and its passengers, the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Captain Hamilton and Colonel Minchin, was revived in the report that a white light, probably belonging to an aeroplane, was sighted by the Dutch steamer Blijdendijk at sea about 280 miles east-southeast of New York.

The light was travelling in an easterly direction, however, and if it was the St. Raphael, the plane was far off its course and going in the wrong direction.

Thick weather held two more planes, the Sir John Carling, flying from London, Ont., to London, England, and the Royal Windsor, en route from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England, to the ground. They were forced down by fog, one near Montreal and the other near Caribou, Me.

The Pride of Detroit flew from Constantinople to Bagdad on the seventh day of its flight around the world, and has now gone 5,205 miles.

Tully and Medcalf

Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf, who brought down their Stinson-Detroiter plane safely in a big field near Washburn, after having been in the air nearly thirteen hours and reached a point which they believed was 40 miles out to sea from Prince Edward Island in the direction of Newfoundland, said the rain would not bother them, but that the fog would hold them here. There was no sign of clearing weather.

Another cause for possible postponement was damage done, possibly unintentionally, by curious folks, hundreds of whom visited the field during the day and many of whom climbed into the plane before State Highway Police and Boy Scouts were summoned to protect it during the remainder of its stay.

A thermometer was broken and a copper gas pipe on each side of the plane was bent as they were grasped by the visitors. The thermometer was replaced, but the fliers will not know until they have taken to the air again whether the gas pipes were seriously damaged. If they were the plane must return for repairs.

The aviators had a busy day, after a restful night and breakfast here. They visited the plane and spent much time going over it. The descent, they found, had been accomplished without injury to the machine and they have available for an easy take-off, when weather conditions are favorable, a natural runway 160 rods long.

They received and answered many telegrams and telephone calls during the day. In the afternoon they were taken in automomibles for an inspection of the great potato fields in this and adjoining Aroostook County towns, along the New Brunswick border.

Last night they were guests of local business men at a dinner at Vaughan House, the hotel at which they are staying, one of the features of which was a concert by the boys' band of fifty instruments. Later they were given a reception and entertained at the Matoaka Club. Much enthusiasm was aroused at these gatherings for the laying out of an airport in this vicinity.

Officers to Search.

DETROIT, Mich. September 3. — Captain Frederick A. Giles, British aviator who is waiting repairs on the Hess-Bluebird biplane before attempting a flight to New Zealand by way of SanFrancisco wired Mrs. Leslie Hamilton of Ottawa, Ont., wife of Captain Hamilton one of the crew of the missing Fokker airplane St. Raphael, offering to aid in search.

Capt. Giles said he would go at once to St. Johns, N.F., and make flights extending 1100 miles out over the Atlantic if Mrs. Hamilton accepted his offer. Captain Giles' telegram follows:

"Mrs. Leslie Hamilton, Chateau Laurier, Ottawa: Am waiting hop to New Zealand flying a single later Hess Bird biplane by way of San Francisco and Honolulu and Australia. My friendship with Leslie known by my backers, W. H. Rosewarne, permits the search for Leslie before proceeding to the west coast. Wire me if I can be of any assistance and will submit to my sporting backer. Keep a brave heart. With kindest wishes and with happy memories of other days. F. H. Giles."

Captain Giles believes the St. Raphael came down somewhere off the coast of Labrador and is willing to cruise in that territory indefinitely. He went into training with Captain Hamilton in England during the war and was stationed with him after the war.

Rosewarne, a local contractor backs the proposed flight to New Zealand as a "sporting venture," which nearly ended in disaster two weeks ago when the biplane came down in a field near Hobart, Ind., after taking off from here on a flight to Chicago. The plane was brought back to the Hess airport at Wyandotte for slight repairs and is reported in condition for flight.

Ship Sees Plane.

LONDON, September 3. — The Air Ministry last night received a radio message from the master of the Standard Oil steamer Josiah Macy, stating that at 9.44 p.m., Greenwich mean time, on August 31, an airplane passed them at latitude 53.15, longitude 29.45 The Air Ministry stated that the message from the Josiah Macy said the steamer saw the airplane in mid-atlantic Wednesday night in a direct line with he north of Scotland. Aviation experts say that this airplane must have been the "St. Raphael," but the message gives no idea of what happened later and no other news of any kind regarding the missing plane has been received.

Courtney Heading For Spain.

LONDON, Sept. 3. — (Canadian Press).—A message picked up from Capt. F. T. Courtney's trans-Atlantic plane this afternoon said he was making for Corunna, Spain, because there was too strong a headwind to continue to the Azores. He left Plymouth this morning.

Woman of 63 Gives Blood For Grandson

JERSEY CITY, N.J., Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press.)—A pint and a half of blood given him by the sixty-three year old grandmother for whom he had called in his delirium, brought William Ortmann, 20, back to recovery after he was almost crushed to death in a mixing machine at a baking powder plant here.

Mrs. Emily Coons, the grandmother, volunteered for the operation after two young men were rejected. "What's the matter with me?" she inquired.

Surgeons hesitated because of her age.

"Come on, let's go" the woman said.

The operation was performed in St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, where the youth had been taken suffering from a torn right arm and an injured foot so badly hurt that it had to be amputated.

Mrs. Coons has been caring for her grandson twelve years. His father is dead and his mother lives in Westfield.

AFTER AUSPICIOUS START, WINDSOR PLANE IS FORCED DOWN

FRENCH OPPOSE COUNCIL SEAT FOR DOMINION

Other Nations, Too, Are Desirous of Restricting British Influence.

MANY ARGUMENTS.

Lobbying Going On To Get Seat For Obscure Country Friendly to France.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(United Press.)—Canada's right to a seat on the Council of the League of Nations, already recognized, is being seriously challenged by France and other nations desirous of restricting the representation of the British Empire.

Although the British Empire pays most of the dues to the League, there is a distinct element hostile to the Dominion's claim to a seat and various arguments are being advanced to show why Canada should not have one.

Supporters of Canada's representation here, like the diplomatic correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, says that if Canada is elected as a member of the Council representing all the Dominions she would send a delegate to Geneva of high standing and declare that lobbying is being done at Geneva to obtain council seats for obscure South American States which would line up with certain European powers to ensure French influence becoming predominant in the League.

STORE WORKERS ENJOY OUTING

Employees of Canadian Department Stores Go To Cobourg.

RACE RESULTS.

The employees of the Canadian Departmental Stores Ltd. of the city held a picnic in Cobourg on Thursday afternoon and evening. About sixty, employees and friends, left the store in cars, at about two o'clock. They had a very good journey, in spite of the condition of the roads and detours.

On theier arrival at Cobourg a baseball tournament was played between the Pinks, Yellows, Greens and Reds, which was won by the Green team. After the question of baseball supremacy was settled several races were run off, with results as follows:

Ladies' 75 Yards—1 Mrs. Nixon, 2 Miss Murphy.

Men's 100 Yards—1 Mr. Warne, 2 Mr. Lillow.

Three-Legged Race— 1 Mr. Warne and Miss Wheeler, 2 Mr. Lapp and Miss Clark.

Especially entertaining and amusing was the last mentioned race.

Messrs. Warne, Lillow and Rose performed some acrobatics and displayed their skill in high jumping.

After the sports all proceeded to the new Royal Hotel for supper, community singing, and dancing, after which the prizes were distributed. Mr. Warne gave a skillful demonstration of the Charleston "as she is done" much to the delight and envy of other embryo performers. Mr. Fisher, proprietor of the hotel, previously of the Grand Hotel of this city, provided excellent service and appointments.

The party returned to the city about 10 p.m. and a vote of thanks was tendered to the management of the Canadian Departmental Stores and those others who helped to make the picinc a success.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—Walter Pyke, for whose arrest a warrant has been out since the police raid upon the brokerage office of Worthington and Company in the Bank of Hamilton Building, was located on Thursday by the Provincial Police at Bannockburn, Ont. Beach, prominent citizen and sole mortician of this town, was called yesterday to the near-by village of Westmeath to make arrangements for a funeral there. ALL RAILWAYS IN QUEENSLAND QUIT OPERATION

Government Has Dismissed 18,000 Members of Railway Union.

GREAT DEADLOCK.

All Other Industries Are Paralyzed—Men Refused Instructions.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 3 (United Press).—Not a wheel was turning on the ten thousand miles of Queensland railways this afternoon owing to developments in the controversy between Premier McCormack of Queensland and the Australian railways union. At noon today 18,000 union employees were dismissed.

Queensland is thus facing one of the most serious crises in her stormy industrial history, as the deadlock of the railways clogs every other individual machine.

All members of the Australian railway unions were dismissed owing to their refusal to take their instructions only from the railway commissioners. Those who change their minds will be re-engaged on Monday.

V. J. M'ELDERRY LEADS PARTY ANOTHER YEAR

Liberal-Conservative Association Re-elects All Old Officers.

DELEGATES NAMED.

The stalwarts of the Liberal-Conservative party of West Peterborough gathered in Victoria Hall last night to elect officers for the coming year and to select four delegates and four alternatives to go to the Dominion Conservative convention that is to be held in Winnipeg in October.

V. J. McElderry, J. F. Strickland, Fred Hills and Mrs. J. Mills were elected delegates, and Mrs. W. H. Bradburn, C. H. Ackerman and E. F. Reid will be the alternatives. E. A. Peck, M.P., will be present, being the member for this riding. W. H. Bradburn, M.L.A., and Mrs. Howard Fallis will be delegates from the Provincial organization.

The old officers were re-elected with Frank Kitney taking the place of the late Lieut.-Col. David Johnston, who passed away recently.

These officers are:

President—V. J. McElderry.
1st Vice-President — Dr. J. W. Fraser of Lakefield.
2nd Vice-President—J. H. Spence.
3rd Vice-President—Frank Kitney.
Secretary—J. F. Strickland.
Treasurer—Roland Denne.
Auditor—W. R. Morris.

R. Denne paid a tribute to the late David Johnston, who was a great worker for the party in this riding, and moved that a resolution of condolence be forwarded to the bereaved family.

V. J. McElderry, the president, on asking Mr. Bradburn to take the chair while the officers were being elected, said that he had been president for a number of years, and he thought the honor ought to be passed around. Those present, however, would not receive the suggestion, and the old executive was re-elected on a single ballot.

E. A. Peck, the Federal member, and W. H. Bradburn, the Provincial representative, delivered short addresses. Mr. Peck said he was glad that Peterborough was going to have such a full representation at the big convention. He paid tribute to Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, and said it was very unfortunate that he had run in the constituency where he met defeat in the last election, as he was an able leader and great debater in the House of Commons, and he hoped that some day he would return.

"Hon. Hugh Guthrie was selected leader in the House," said Mr. Peck, "and with his 20 years in the service of the country, he has shown that he was a capable debater and well posted in Dominion affairs. A permanent leader is necessary and so this convention has been called in the most central part of Canada."

Mr. Bradburn, in commencing, congratulated the executive on being re-elected. Conventions give stimulus to the party, he said, and he cited the 1920 convention in Ontario when Hon. G. Howard Ferguson was elected leader as one instance when, after the great meeting, the party forged ahead and at the next election it was in power. He prophesied that the same would be true of the Dominion convention.

In closing, Mr. Bradburn referred to the prospects of a balanced budget next year in Ontario. "I have just returned from a trip into the northern part of Ontario, and let me say that we in this part have no conception of the vast resources and the immense forest and mining areas," he said.

MANY UNBURIED IN NANKING CITY

Cholera Outbreak Proves More Destructive Than Northern Forces.

BAD AT SHANGHAI.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(United Press)—The Nationalist forces have met in cholera an enemy more powerful than the northern war lords and their troops Sir Percival Phillips related to-day to The Daily Mail.

The situation was described as especially bad in Nanking, the capital of the moderate Nationalist Government, where people were said to be dying in the streets in such numbers that hundreds remain unburied. Pollution of the rivers is aggravating the danger. Medical aid is inadequate to cope with the outbreak.

Sir Percival reported a marked increased in cholera at Shanghai also.

SLEEPS, LOSES CLOTHES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. — It was a nice night in Central Park, so Christopher Bandurand lay down for nap beneath a clump of bushes. Later he awoke and tried to pull his coat closer about him. To his horror, he found he had no coat, nor shoes, nor trousers. A taxi driver took him to a police station in a blanket.

WESTERN CHILL SPREADS EAST

Two To Twelve Degrees of Frost Reported in Alberta.

GARDENS HURT.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—A cool wave which swept out of the north and enveloped the greater part of Alberta during the night, was gradually spreading its chill eastward yesterday.

While official records issued here by the Dominion Meteorological Department indicate that only at Calgary was the frost level reached, private reports from eastern sections of Alberta placed the frost at two to twelve degrees.

It is understood that cutting is well advanced in this territory and that there is very little likelihood that serious damage had been done. Garden stuff was touched by frost at Calgary, Olds and Carstairs.

CANADA HAS BIG FUTURE

BEST IN WORLD.

LONDON, September 3. Canadain Press Cable. — Sir Robert Horne, who reached Southampton yesterday from Canada, where he attended the Mining and Metallurgical Congress of the British Empire spoke with confidence of the future of the Dominion, especially in relation to her vast mineral resources. He said it was fitting that the Metallurgical Conference should meet in Canada, because the mineral resources of Canada offered greatest prospect of lucrative development of any country in the world. He continued "They have only just scratched the mining area of the Dominion up to now. There is a wave of enthusiasm for prospecting minerals in Canada which can be witnessed nowhere else. The general prosperity of the country is giving Canadians the greatest possible hope. It is population that is wanted an dthe greatest efforts of all British statesmen should be directed toward shifting our population to places in the Empire which afford the best possible opportunities and Canaad is a leading example in this respect."

Two Montreal Men Charged With Having It—One Pleads Guilty.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—Seventy-nine gallons of alcohol were seized by officers of the Quebec Liquor Commission in two raids. Two men appeared in court, charged with possession. Anseleme Marois pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to one month in jail and costs. Rene La Joie pleaded not guilty and was admitted to bail.

False Invitation Senders In Danger

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Practical jokers who have embarrassed prominent hosts and hostesses by sending hundreds of bogus invitations to important London social functions stand in danger of prison if they should be detected.

Charges of obtaining food and hospitality by false pretences will be lodged against such offenders.

Hostesses now stand in fear and trembling when they issued invitations for large affairs because of the disaster forged invitations have worked recently. Holders of counterfeit invitations, accepted in good faith, have crowded out invited guests and exhausted the food supplies long before the legitimate guests were served.

GIRL IS KILLED BY AUTOMOBILE

Knocked Down When Going To Buy Groceries For Her Mother.

UNFORTUNATE FAMILY.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—One girl was fatally injured, and quite a number of others received more or less serious hurts in motor accidents in various parts of the city yesterday. Ten-year-old Winnifred Hedger suffered a fractured skull and other fatal injuries when struck by a motor car driven by Gordon Wilson, at Lakeview Avenue and Dundas Street. The girl was picked up in an unconscious condition, and on being removed to the Western Hospital, was operated on in an effort to save her life. It was of no avail, however.

At the time of the mishap the girl was running across Dundas Street, on the way to buy some groceries for her mother. When the child failed to return home in reasonable time she went to look for her, and discovered, to her horror, that her daughter had been injured. She hurried to the hospital, to learn that the child was dying.

Eight-year-old Gordon Redpath is in the Hospital for Sick Children, suffering from concussion and serious head injuries, as the result of being struck by a motor car driven by Morris Greenberg, near his home. The mishap was due to the boy, who had climbed upon an ice wagon for a ride, suddenly jumping off and darting across the street in front of Greenberg's car. The lad was unconscious when picked up, but he recovered later. This is the third of the Redpath family to be a victim of auto accidents, a daughter being killed by an auto, and another son crippled in a similar accident some years ago. Mrs. Redpath's mother, Mrs. Elliott, Yarmouth Road, is just recovering from injuries received in an auto mishap.

Ten year old James Maxwell, 10 Sumach Place, suffered severe lacerations of the scalp when he was struck by a motor truck driven on Ontario Street by Arthur Bayley, 361 Ontario Street, yesterday. The lad was removed St. Michael's Hospital.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Man. Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—Light frosts in parts of Alberta and forecasts of showers and cooler temperatures created a nervous feeling on the Winnipeg Grain Market yesterday. Prices averaged higher throughout the session, and at the close reflected gains ranging from ¾ to 1c higher.

Offerings were scarce, with the Canadian pool credited with some liquidations on the uptrend. Pit operations were virtually confined to local traders, exporters remaining idle.

A light volume of business was worked in all the coarse grains. Oats closed ½c to ⅝c up, barley 3-8c higher, flax ½c to 1c higher, and rye unchanged to 1-8c advance.

PRINCES LIKED CANADIAN VISIT

Edward Came First Time Because It Was His Job, He Says.

NOW 'OLD TIMER.'

MONTREAL, Quebec, Sept. 3. Canadian Press — The Prince of Wales and Prince George are both looking forward to another visit to Canada. "I always like the word 'Au revoir' the Prince of Wales said in introductory remarks at the Canadian Club lunch here yesterday. "I like it because it means you don't want to say Good-bye to friends. I never say good-bye here, and I won't say it now after my experience of this trip.

"I came to Canada the first time because it was my job and a very pleasant one it was. You were all very kind and encouraging to one who tried to be a kind of link between Canada and the Old Country. You made me feel very much at home over here and the result is I have been back three times, but only because I wanted to. You are still very kind. You even call me an old timer. I take that as a compliment as nobody can ever pretend to be an old timer who has not spent one winter over here—not that I particularly want to do that" the prince added as the guests laughed.

"But I most certainly do want to return because I find in Canada such a tonic that I believe my doctor must order it."

He was leaving Canada now, the Prince said later, adding: "I certainly hope it won't be for long."

"I find it very difficult to say good-bye or even au revoir to Canada," Prince George said. "I am extremely sorry, indeed. I will only add that I am specially grateful for your welcome to-day—a welcome which is also, I am sorry to say, farewell."

JUNIOR LIBRARY WELL PATRONIZED

Slight Increase in Circulation Over August of 1926.

The circulation of the books of the junior department of the Public Library shows a slight increase over last year. For this year to date, the the circulation was 24268 and 24073 for the corresponding months last year.

The fiction section is, of course, most largely used. Beginning the first week in October there will be story hours for the children every Saturday morning, at 10.30 a.m. The general range of children is from five to fourteen years of age, although some of the younger one cannot read and merely scan the illustrations or take them to their parents for enlightenment.

AMUSEMENT TAX OFF CHEAP TICKETS

Those of 25 Cents Or Less Exempt After November 1.

TORONTO, Sept. 3.—From November 1 the Ontario Amusement Tax, brought in years ago as a war revenue measure, will be abolished on all amusement admissions of 25 cents and under. The tax remains when the price of admission exceeds 25 cents.

According to the estimate of officials of the Provincial Treasury Department, the operation of this Amusement Tax Act amendment passed last session will exempt about 60 per cent. of Ontario theatre-goers from amusement tax payment. Patrons of 62½ per cent. of all theatres in the Province, they say, will be relieved.

Based on the 1926 figures of the Amusement Tax collection, it will mean a saving to the people of upward of half a million dollars.

According to Provincial Treasurer Monteith, the exemption from the tax as applied to entertainments of a charitable, religious or patriotic nature is to be continued, provided the major portion of the gross proceeds from such entertainments are devoted to charitable, religious or patriotic purposes.

OLD MASTERS

My fairest child, I have no song to give you;
No lark could pipe to stars so dull and gray;
Yet, ere we part, one lesson I can leave you
For every day.

Be good, sweet maid, and let who will be clever;
Do noble things, not dream them, all day long;
And so make life, death, and that vast forever
One grand sweet song.

COURTNEY OFF FOR NEW YORK THIS MORNING

Leaves Plymouth, Hoping To Land at Azores To-day.

DETROITERS ON WAY.

London and Windsor Planes Still Delayed By Bad Weather.

Courtney Takes Off.

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—In the huge, speedy flying boat Whale, Capt. F. T. Courtney took off for New York at 6.26 o'clock this morning. He plans to stop and re-fuel at the Azores. He made a perfect get-away in fine weather, and was later reported 270 miles on his way. He has F. Little as engineer and Lieut. Downey as navigator.

Besides the three aviators, there was a passenger aboard, described by air force officials as a Canadian millionaire. He is believed to be E. B. Hosmer of Montreal, although his identity was carefully guarded.

Capt. Courney's machine is up-to-date and capable of carrying half a dozen men if necessary. It was carrying a load of about four tons at high speed, and has two Napier Lion engines, with a horse-power of one thousand. It has a radio and should be constantly in touch with shipping, etc.

Only a brief stop will be made in New York before the return flight. Horta, Azores, the first objective, is twelve hundred miles distant, and he hopes to reach it this evening. Mrs. Courtney, who had waited for her husband to get away for almost six weeks, cheered him probably louder than any other spectators as the huge plane rose gracefully from the waters and vanished over the sea.

Detroiters Hop Off.

BAGDAD, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—The round-the-world plane "Pride of Detroit" hopped off to-day for Bunder Abbas, Persia, 485 miles away.

EXPERTS STILL HOPEFUL.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—While no further word has been heard from the British plane, St. Raphael, with Capt. Hamilton, Col. Minchin, and Princess Wertheim aboard, experienced aviators said it was too early to abandon hope. The public, however, was disposed regretfully to list the plane as among the vanished. The Press Association says communication has been established with the steamer Macay, which reported seeing the airplane on Wednesday night.

RAIN PREVENTS FLIGHT.

ST. GREGOIRE, Que., Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—A soggy field as a result of heavy rain last night prevented the hop off at daybreak of the monoplane Royal Windsor, enroute from Windsor, Ontario, to Windsor, England. The plane, however, may start later in the day.

MAY BE FOUND.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Captain Sydney Cotton, who searched Newfoundland for Nungesser and Coli, said today the chances were two to one that provided the St. Raphael got across Atlantic, the passengers aboard would be found. There was little chance of them turning up of their own accord, he thought, as if they landed in the interior of Newfoundland they would probably never be heard from.

Revulsion of feeling aaginst trans-Atlantic flights was not expressed here as in the States and Germany. While some newspaper had sympathetic editorials, the general feeling was that pioneers always appear fool hardy but it is those who take long chances who achieve great things.

Carling Can't Go.

CARIBOU, Maine, Sept. 3rd. Canadian Press. — Weather conditions were unfavorable for the resumption to-day of the flight from London, Ontario, to London, England, of the monoplane, Sir John Carling, the first leg of whose flight to Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, was interrupted on Thursday night, when the plane landed near Washburn.

French Fliers Prepare.

PARIS, Sept. 3. Canadian Press.—Three French planes, Blue Bird, Brequet, and Tango Bird, were being prepared to-day for a possible take off on Sunday for New York or Philadelphia, weather permitting.

Sunday is also the date set for the Philadelphia flight from Cranwell, England, of the plane Princess with which Captain McIntyre hopes to win a Philadelphia prize $25,000 prize. The Zenia is scheduled to go to Ireland for the start today.

AROUND THE CITY

He was a lad of fourteen. The rain beat down heavily on him, but he didn't seem to mind. With a cap on one side of a curly head, whistling brightly, he rode a bicycle down Hunter street. He had no coat and no shiny slicker to keep the rain off, but he had the next best thing. He had taken a large sack, cut holes in it, and slipped it over his head. "Keeps the rain off", he informed a passer-by, as he slid onto his bike and wheeled off down the street.

The new ladder truck of the Fire Department will be in place next Tuesday.

At 11.33 p.m. on Friday the Fire Brigade was called to Purdy's Mill to combat a blaze caused by an over-heated motor. No damage was done, but a serious conflagration was averted only by the despatch with which the firemen handled the situation.

Prince Served Men Who Demanded Tea

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 3.—Prince Oscar, the older brother of the King of Sweden, who renounced the throne, was once mistaken for a waiter, an incident which he recalled when he recently turned over his villa Fridhom in Gothland for a nursing home.

One day three English tourists came up to the villa and thinking it a restaurant, seated themselves on the porch. Prince Oscar said. The Prince stepped forward and asked what they wished.

"Tea and pastry", was the reply.

Prince Oscar called a servant and had the refreshments served. When he declined to permit his self-invited guests to pay for the tea and pastry, the learned his identity. The tourists evidently regarded the joke as on them for the incident did not become known until Prince Oscar told of it in handing over the deed to the villa Fridhom.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS HELP A PRIZE WINNER

Baby's Own Tablets are without an equal for little ones. From the newborn babe to the growing child they are an absolute safeguard to health. Once a mother has used them she will use nothing else. Thousands of mothers always keep them on hand.

Among the mothers who state that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones that they know of is Mrs. Russell Hill, of Norwood, Ont. Her experience with the Tablets should be of great benefit to any mother who has not already given the Tablets a trial. Mrs. Hill says:—"I have five fine healthy children, and from the youngest to the oldest they get no other medicine but Baby's Own Tablets. When our baby girl was eleven months old she won second prize at the Norwood Fair, and when she was a year older she won first prize in competition with twenty-eight other babies. It was the Tablets that gave her the health and development to carry off these prizes. I always delight in telling other mothers what the Tablets have done for my children."

WILL RAISE COYOTES.

KIMBALL, Neb., Sept. 3.—Advertising for 100 coyote pups has started Dr. J. E. Menter in the business of fur farming. The animals thrive even better than foxes in captivity and the pelts bring top prices. Quality of the fur is improved by regular feeding.

A "prettiest ankle contest" conducted at Deer Isle, Maine, with more than 100 women from the age of fifteen competing, was won by a grandmother confessing 60 years.

WORK ON ROAD SPOILING TRADE

Bailieboro Merchants Console Themselves With Thoughts of Good Times to Come.

ROAD CLOSED TO TRAFFIC.

BAILIEBORO, Sept. 3.—Owing to the Provincial Highway being closed between Bewdley and Port Hope, the traffic has become much less on the highway.

One local garage man has closed his shop and gone West with the harvesters, while the merchants and other business men are also feeling the slump in trade.

When the new concrete road is completed, however, it is expected that the traffic will be greater than ever on the good road and business will also be mush brisker.

Among the citizens of this locality great interest was taken in the swimming race at the Canadian National Exhibition. For some weeks this event has been the chief topic of the day. Quite a number of the interested public went to Toronto to witness the swim.

Without a doubt George Young was the hero in the eyes of the people of this locality, and mostly everyone had confidence in his ability, therefore it was with the keenest disappointment that they learned of his defeat.

DUCKS SCARCE NEAR BEWDLEY

Very Few Hunters Out Yesterday—Many Coming on Monday.

WEATHER TOO WARM.

BAILIEBORO, Sept. 2.—The first day of duck shooting season opened at Rice Lake with very little excitement. There were very few hunters present, and the ducks were not disturbed to any great extent.

The early birds who were out to kill the first ducks of the season reported that the harvest ducks were scarce, probably owing to the weather still remaining very warm, and the fall season birds have not as yet commerced to arrive.

It is expected that on account of Monday being Labor Day, the hunters will be out in full force. The tourist houses have already been booked ahead until it is difficult to secure either rooms or boats for Monday's fishing or shooting.

SKIING IN SUMMER.

BERLIN, Sept. 3. — A runway about a thousand feet long and sixty feet wide has been built here and covered with artificial snow for skiing and tobogganing. The snow was invented by an English diplomat, L. C. Ayscough and now is in use in several European cities.

CROP REPORTS.

Below will be found a brief synopsis of telegraphic reports received at the head office of the Bank of Montreal from its branches. The branch managers have complete and intimate knowledge of each local situation and are in close touch wih crop conditions in all sections of the districts mentioned.

General

Except where held up by showers cutting is now general throughout the Prairie Provinces, and the prospects on the whole are encouraging, with Alberta expecting a yield above the average, Saskatchewan good average results, and Manitoba waiting upon the weather. In Quebec harvesting of heavy grain crops is general. In Ontario grains show more than average yields, and rain has been of inestimable value to root crops and pasturage. In the Maritime Provinces all crops suffered damage from the recent heavy gale, though not as much as first reports would indicate. Potatoes are further affected by rot and blight. In British Columbia threshing has revealed good yields of grain. Potatoes and tomatoes are excellent, and the apple crop, though not heavy, is a very clean one. Details follow:

Prairie Provinces

Alberta, Western Area. — Cutting was becoming general but has been held up by rain particularly from Calgary south. Prospects generally continue favorable.

Alberta, Northeastern Area.—Cutting is general. Crops are reported heavy.

Alberta, Southeastern Area. — A good average rye crop is now being threshed and with favorable weather a good wheat yield is apparently assured.

Sasatchewan, Northern Area. — Wheat cutting is now general. Coarse grains are beginning to mature. Considerable frost and rust damage wil lreduce the yield and grade.

Saskatchewan, Southern Area. — All gains are maturing rapidly and cutting will be general this week. Rust, frost and sawfly have taken fairly heavy toll. Ideal weather conditions prevail.

Manitoba.—Heavy rains have held up cutting and caused further lodging of grain especially that affected by rust, which is widely prevalent. Harvesting is proceeding slowly, with ripening of late grains depending upon the weather.

Province of Quebec

Crops of wheat, oats and barley are heavy and are of good grade. Root crops, vegetables and corn are backward. An exceptionally good crop of small fruits has been gathered. Tree fruits are below the average. Tobacco is in good condition. Grass pasturages are very good.

Province of Ontario

Threshing of wheat, barley and oats continues and on the whole the yield is above the average. Prospects are better for a good average root crop, but reports of fruits are not encouraging. Tobacco cutting is general, and the yield is proving satisfactory.

Maritime Provinces

In New Brunswick potatoes are developing rot in most sections due to wet weather. Oats are well headed. In Nova Scotia apples suffered in a recent storm, many having been blown from the trees. Potatoes will be under average as rot is reported in many districts. In Prince Edward Island, late blight has appeared on potatoes in some districts. Oats promise an average yield.

British Columbia

Threshing of grain crop is well advanced with good average yields. Potatoes are sizing well. Tomatoes are above average and of excellent quality and size except Kamloops, where the yield is 80 per cent of average. The apple crop, a very clean one, will be fully 75 per cent of average, plums and prunes 70 per cent, pears and peaches below average. Hop picking is general, with a more than average crop.

HOVIS

The Bread of Health

Why is HOVIS the "Bread of Health"?

What is the Secret of the HOVIS Flavor?

IT'S the Flour that makes the difference. No other bread flour is milled in quite the same way as HOVIS.

For it contains a large proportion of wheat germ, which is the most nutritious part of the wheat grain.

The result is that HOVIS Bread, baked by leading Canadian bakers, contains those precious, health-giving vitamines and more of the true nutriment of the wheat.

That's why HOVIS Bread—"the bread of health" is so different and so much better for you.

BETTER ingredients always make better bread. But there is one particular ingredient present in such abundance in HOVIS Bread as to give it a value no other bread possesses.

That ingredient is the wheat germ, scientifically combined in HOVIS Flour.

You have only to taste HOVIS Bread once, to realize the difference this makes!

And you are certain to enjoy it—just as thousands of others do.

Costs a little more—worth much more.

Why the name HOVIS? It is coined from the two Latin words "Hominis Vis" and means "The Strength of Man"

Gordon, otherwise known as "Ralph Connor," who will conduct an open-air service on the morning of Sunday, September 4, in the setting of "crag and canyon" which played so large a part in some of his novels.

The singing of the congregation will be led by the Scottish Choir of Calgary, and the psalms and anthems selected are all identified with the great religious movement of Scottish history.

First of all will be the Hundredth Psalm, the metrical version of which was written by a Scot of the sixteenth century named William Kethe to the setting of the tune found in the Geneva Psalter of 1551. Then the apropriate Psalm, "I to the hills will lift mine eyes," will be sung to the tune named "French," which was a favourite with the Covenanters. This will be followed by Psalm 76, "In Judah's land," which was sung by the Covenanters at Drumclog before making their final dispositions for battle and for safeguarding their women and children. It was sung to the tune "Martyrs," which is still found in the Presbyterian Book of Praise used in Canada.

Three versions of Psalms and Paraphrases recently arranged with Faux Bourdon by Hugh S. Robertson, of the Glasgow Orpheus Choir, will be rendered, including two which were favourites with the Auld Seceders. In the evening Dr. Gordon will preach in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church at Banff of which he was at one time the minister.

ALDERVILLE TRIBE BUILDING MEMORIAL

Thirty-three Men Went Overseas, Nine Dying For King and Country.

ROSENEATH, Sept. 2.—Within a few weeks, the first monument to be erected by and Indian tribe in the Dominion of Canada to commemorate the great war records of members of the band, will be unveiled in the village of Alderville to perpetuate the memory of nine Indians who made the supreme sacrifice in Flanders.

Members of the Alnwick reservation are proud, and justly so, of the unusual record of patriotism established by the braves of the tribe during the Great War with a total population of 250 persons, the band sent exactly fifty percent of its male adult population, thirty-three men, overseas to fight for the country, the king, and the flag to which they held allegiance. As fighters, they were without peers; as soldiers they were perfect. During the entire army service of these thirty-three men, not one single black mark for infraction of army regulations was registered. Nine of them laid down their lives during various engagements with the enemy fighting bravely and doggedly to the last.

With the true stolidness of their race the Indians of Alnwick reservation mourned the passing of some of their bravest members impassively, their grief all the more real by reason of its restraint.

Never have they forgotten the debt of gratitude due to those wmen who died for them and they never will, but in order that their glorious record will go down in history, it was felt that some permanent memorial was necessary. A committee was formed to make necessary arrangements and A. H. McKeel of Campbellford, contractor, volunteered to design and build a concrete memorial without cost or obligation to the reservation.

$800 Out of Funds.

With the sanction of the Department of Indian Affairs, secured through the agent of the Alnwick reservation, W. R. Coyle, the tribe has already turned over $800 of its funds to the committee in charge to defray a portion of the cost of the memorial. Every Indian in Alderville as well as many outsiders, is working enthusiastically and many are giving their services free of cost to assist in preparing the park for the memorial and in the erection of the monument itself.

TO RESTORE STONEHENGE

FUNDS ARE NEEDED

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(By Canadian Press).—Every British school-child has heard of Stonehenge—that weird circle of trioliths on Salisbury Plain, built ages before even the first glimmering of the dawn of history. An appeal, signed amongst others by Premier Baldwin, Viscount Grey and Ramsay Macdonald, has been issued for funds to preserve the "lonely majesty" of this gigantic prehistoric relic. Nine years ago Sir Cecil Chubb, owner of the land upon which Stonehenge stands, presented the circle to the nation, and it is now within the safe keeping of the Office of Works. During the war, however, the magnificent loneliness of this archaic temple was ruined by the reflection that one Government department schedules Stonehenge as an "ancient monument", and takes it under its protection, while another Government department, leaves a number of unsightly buildings derelict within its immediate vicinity. One of these derelicts has been turned into a bungalow tea-room.

"The solitude of Stonehenge should be restored" declares the appeal now published," and precautions taken to ensure that our posterity will see it against the sky in the lonely majesty before which our ancestors have stood in awe throughout all our recorded history.

"Options have just been secured for the purchase of an area of the Plain which includes the whole of what may be called the 'Stonehenge sky-line.' Should the purchase be effected, the Air Force Buildings will be removed, further building will be prevented, and the valuable archaeological remains of the site permanently protected from the plough. The land purchased will be placed under the guardianship of the National Trust.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1927.

THE BEST NONE TOO GOOD.

The enterprise of the management of Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is indicated by many features, but in none more forcibly than in the quality of the amusement attractions which have been secured for this year's fair.

These features involve an expenditure that a few years ago would have been regarded as staggering but the Directors feel that the people of Peterborough and district by their faithful support of the Exhibition have shown themselves worthy of superior entertainment.

The vaudeville acts booked for this year are of a calibre in keeping with this feeling; several of them have been featured with leading circuses and others are stage headliners.

It costs a lot of money to bring such artists here, but the Peterborough Industrial will be satisfied with no second-grade performances.

This Pittsburg organization, nearly every member of which is a soloist, ranks high in the list of such bands, and their playing during the whole six days of the Exhibition will be a memorable feature.

THE FOLLY OF STUNT FLYING.

While missing flyers are being given up as lost other birdmen are clearing their way through the air or preparing to "hop off" on fresh long-distance attempts.

The epidemic of ocean flights that has already cost many lives seems to be in no wise abating, although many experts throughout the world are protesting against the folly and futility of these hazardous and spectacular attempts, which are not contributing anything of value to the development of flying, but rather are serving on this side of the Atlantic, at least, to create an altogether wrong impression of the possibilities of aviation.

The desperate nature of flights over the North Atlantic with the present meagre information obtainable as to weather has been demonstrated by an analysis of the flights of Nungesser and Coli, Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd that has been made by United States naval experts.

Their report shows that between May 1 and July 15th of this year when the flights were made, favourable weather conditions for eastward flights have existed on only four days.

As to the reverse direction, bad as the weather was which Nungesser and Coli encountered, it is the conclusion of the investigators that the day chosen by the Frenchmen was the most favourable in ten years for a westward flight.

LABOR DAY.

Ordinarily, the apearance of Labor Day is the signal for the loosing of ever so many platitudes and near-truisms about "the dignity of labor", and so on.

We have a feeling that the ordinary Canadian worker does not give two cents for all "the dignity of labor" in the world. He has his eyes on other things.

For the fact that makes our Labor Day, and the labor to which it is dedicated, stand out as a portent and an omen, is the fact that laboring men on this side of the Atlantic are not greatly concerned with the old-word shibboleths. Such phrases as "class consciousness" have little meaning here. Workingmen here, as a rule, are too prosperous to worry much about their "class." they are too busy looking at the latest models of automobiles and considering the purchase of that new house in the suburbs to worry greatly about labor's dignity.

This gives our European friends much pain. To them, labor over here is "50 years behind the times." Canadian labor does not take to sympathetic strikes; it is too well satisfied with what it has to take much interest in politicis; it, in other words, is too busy working and making money to act as European labor acts.

But there is another way of looking at it. Isn't it just possible that Canadian labor, instead of being 50 years behind the times, is 50 years ahead? May it not be that the situation in which it now finds itself is the situation toward which all laboring classes are struggling?

Our civilization is different from Europe's: profoundly different. In no way is it so different as in its industry and the relation of that industry to the workingmen who operate it. Mass production, advertising, machines and cheap power have pointed us in a new direction; and while our employers and investors are growing wealthy as a result, our workers are enjoying a prosperity that seems fabulous to a European.

And so it is that the very calm way in which labor here greets Labor Day is, after all, the most significant thing about the whole occasion. We are too busy with the concrete realities of work and work's wage to get very excited about their abstract phases. We are, in truth, hewing out a new order ;an order as unlike Europe's as the Europe of today is unlike the Europe of Louis the Eleventh; an order in which—may we not dare to hope?—the problems and clashing interests that seem at times to point Europe so dangerously close to revolution will be peacefully solved, to the satisfaction of all parties.

That is the significance of our Labor Day.

DON'T THROW AWAY AN ASSET.

If Peterborough is to maintain her reputation as a sporting centre and to continue to be represented in organized baseball and other summer sports, existing playing fields must be retained.

To scrap what should be one of the best ball grounds in the Province and thus leave the city's teams dependent...

Mr. A... Alice ... one in ... and Agnes, ... Harry Freeth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Harris and Mr. Karl, of Pittsburgh, Pa., Mrs. E. V. Story and Mrs. G. C. Leach of ...

...plenty of scope for the park-planning proclivities of the Aldermen.

When the land to the north of the ball field has been developed into a recreation ground there will be plenty of time to consider the scrapping of the baseball plant.

The maintenance of this ground has not been an expensive matter; ordinarily revenues from the ball clubs take care of most of its upkeep, and in view of the movement in other cities to provide more and better facilities for organized sport, the city fathers should be very slow in tossing away a most valuable asset that has cost the city treasury little.

There may come a time when it will be necessary to abandon the ball park in favour of a recreation area, but while Nicholls Oval is but scantily used and the undeveloped area outside the fences of Riverside Park awaits attention, the ball grounds and stands should be allowed to remain in commission.

In support of the proposal to tear down the fences and stands at the James Stevenson Park it is argued that the Exhibition Grounds have been used to a much greater extent this season than the park over the river.

That, however, does not condemn the James Stevenson Park; it is rather an indictment of its operation in civic hands.

In the first place, ball clubs have been more generously treated by the Exhibition Board than by the City Council.

In the second place, the Exhibition Board has gone to much expense to improve the condition of the diamond and playing field, while James Stevenson Park has been allowed to deteriorate to such an extent that ball teams have complained of losing baseballs in the long grass.

As a matter of fact, the grass was not moved until last week, and the first league game of the season was played with piles of hay in the outfield, more reminiscent of a pastoral scene than a city ball ground.

Instead of scrapping this convenient and entirely suitable athletic field and leaving Peterborough with only one available playing ground for organized sport, the city fathers should put the grounds in proper shape, add decent sanitary conveniences—in short, adopt a policy that would stimulate Peterborough's athletic prowess.

GETTING THE CANADIANS BACK.

(Sarnia Observer)

Canada seems to be a country with a hole in its pocket. Under Government supervision thousands of people pour into the Dominion each year from European countries, and, unassisted, thousands of Canadians depart each year to make homes for themselves in the United States. Last year over eighty thousand Canadians treked southward to tempt fortune in a foreign country.

Hon. P. J. Veniot is reported to be advocating a Government policy of repatriation for these Canadians, many of whom have given an extended trial to life and conditions south of the border and are no longer enamored of their exile. The policy would provide Government assistance for returning Canadians along similar lines to the assistance given to incoming farm settlers from Great Britain.

There is one circumstance in connection with Canadian migration that would help to make a policy of assisted repatriation a practical success. Undoubtedly the majority of Canadians who have crossed the border have been born and raised on the farms of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. They have gone to the United States, not to procure land and follow the vocation to which they are eminently fitted, but to work in the great industrial plants of United States cities. These are the men who in many instances have found that the distant pasture is not as rich as they supposed it was. They are men who know Canadian farming conditions and no doubt would grasp at an opportunity to acquire farm land in their native country under an amortized payment plan. A large proportion of them ought to succeed on farms in the West.

A Government plan of assistance in accordance with traditional policy would aim purely at the settlement of vacant farm lands. This is the only form of Government assistance that can be successfully applied with benefit both to the country and to the individual.

In the repatriation of Canadians the Dominion would be experimenting with the best material available for filling up the empty stretches of Western Canada. If such a policy cannot succeed with native sons of Canada it could hardly succeed with settlers who have no knowledge of and frequently little sympathy with the conditions applying in this country.

EDTORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

There will be few mourners when the angle parking systems walks the plank.

Peterborough delegates to the Conservative Convention will go West with a sort of a vote-as-you-like-but-vote policy.

The Conservative leadership is compared by some people to the swimming marathon, rather a test of endurance that a trial of sped.

Erickson, the floating Swede, seems to be the ideal type for trans-Atlantic flying. He'd have a chance in the event of an accident.

Peterborough' big Exhibition is little more than a week away.

A Maine game warden has been shot by a hunter. The season is now officially opened.

Mrs. Lottie Schoemell, who swam further than any of the other women in the C.N.E. marathon, is now talking of a thousand mile swim down the Mississippi. She probably figures the first two or three years will be the worst.

The Speaker's vote saved the Irish Free State Government from defeat. No administration can carry on successfully on such a margin, and before The Dail reassembles on October 11, President Cosgrave will have to figure out some way of adding to his support—or make way for the opposition.—Ex.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press). — Stimulated by frost news from Canada and from Argentina as well, wheat scored a moderate upturn in price yesterday. Temperatures were said to have reached as low as 20 in Alberta province, Canada, and fears were expressed that another dangerous fall of the mercury would take place last night.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, ⅝ to 1⅜ net higher; corn unchanged to ⅝ off; oats showing ¼ to ½ advance, and provisions at 7c to 20c advance.

Wheat prices ruled strong throughout the day except at the start when a temporary setback resulted from unlocked for lower quotations at Liverpool, accompanied by word of beneficial rains in Argentina and Australia, afterward with damaging frost reported both in Canada and Argentina, the market showed a decided trend upward, especially as the forecast indicated unseasonable cool weather last night both sides of the Canadian line. Besides, Winnipeg said that whereas 150,000,000 bushels of wheat were marketed in Canada last year during September and October, the volume would be less this year because of late harvesting and threshing. Much apprehension by wheat traders here was shown regarding talk of frost damage to Canadian wheat. Recent predictions of severe frost in Canada beginning by September 3 were recalled, and there were advices at hand saying 30 per cent of the Canadian crop needs ten days to mature. Other reports were less pessimistic, although some Canadian despatches said a drastic reduction of the amount of millable wheat appeared probable. Meanwhile, Argentine reports telling of frost mentioned that it was an early September frost which ruined last year's wheat crop in Argentina.

Corn prices averaged lower, with some selling of September by commission houses that took in cash grain on delivery. Corn belt weather conditions were favorable as a rule, and eastern cash only fair.

Provisions reflected on upturn in the value of hogs.

A Thought For To-day

HOW FORTUNATE YOU ARE!

The humorist in his primer-styel, jokes us into a more perfect understanding of human nature.

The cartoonist so cleverly characterizes our faults that even a child mind can get a good laugh at our grown up weakness.

But to my mind there is one weakness that is more harmful than almost anything else and it is — Envy.

Envy is one of the most bitter things that we have to contend with in our "grown-up weakness." Consciously or unconsciously we all envy.

Envy is the one vice that yields no return.

There is no passion in the human heart more harmful than envy.

Envy consumes us like the moth that eats the garment.

In all my life I have never met a person who would acknowledge envy save in a joking way, and yet I doubt if there are a dozen people in your town with sense and who have arrived at maturity, that do not envy some one.

Envy is not confined to any rank of men, extent of fortune or personal position, but ranges in all human hearts.

We get all excited over envy, which is the most deformed and distorted passion in the human heart.

Now you think this is far-fetched. Let me bring it home to you.

Youth, beauty, courage, wisdom, position, success, or some achievement, by some one else—all these things get your goat.

And now let me see if I can help you to get rid of envy.

You are the one person who never envies, and how fortunate you are! But are you?

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

Peach Tree Hollow, or "Shantytown," as the citizens of more respectable sections called it, was the eyesore and human dumping ground of the prosperous mid-western city.

The city's crooks, its beggars, its vagrants, and its lowest class of negro population huddled together in Peach Tree Hollow, crowding obscenely into filthy, unpainted hovels. No reputable person was safe in Peach Tree Hollow after dark. Occasionally a gunman, pickpocket or blackmailer, who had practiced his profession indiscreetly in the more decent sections of the city, was yanked out of Shantytown and haled into court, and thence to the penitentiary or the electric chair. But the newspaper efforts to "clean up Shantytown" were soon forgotten, and the place continued its putrid existence.

It was into this wallow of crime, filth, shacks and narrow, crooked, unpaved streets that Bob Hathaway guided his borrowed car. Although an occasional housewife came down there looking for a washerwoman or a window cleaner, the car with its two occupants created a flurry of interest. Ragged, unwashed children sprang up from everywhere, to clamber on the running boards of the car, to pelt it with stones, to jeer shrilly at the man and woman on the front seat.

Most of the streets were not marked with name-posts; few of the houses bore numbers, but a quarter from Bob's pocket elicited from a grinning colored boy that "Aunt Chloe" lived in a two-room shack at the end of a lane not far distant. And thither he turned the car, escorted by a clamorous mob of children.

"I hate to leave the car for these young hellions to climb over, but I can't let you go in there alone. I'll lock the door, but that may be awkward in case we want to make a quick getaway.

They pushed aside a broken-hinged gate and forced themselves to walk with leisurely unconcern to the scrap of rotting porch. It was still early—not more than eight o'clock—but a wavering column of bluish smoke from the leaning brick chimney told them that the old negress was at home and astir.

Bob knocked on the dirt-encrusted door. They waited, hearts knocking against their ribs; then Bob rapped again, more loudly. Through the door, which was slightly ajar, came the sound of a big body moving heavily, then a grunt. A black eye glinted at the crack, but the door was not swung open.

"Good morning, Aunt Chloe," Faith called out sweetly. "I'm Mrs. Roberts," she explained, with a glance of warning toward Bob. "I'm looking for my washerwoman, Nellie Stokes. She gave me this address when she began working for me, but she didn't show up this week, and I wondered if she was sick. She has my laundry, and I need it badly—"

She was closing the door as she spoke, but suddenly a high, shrill wail which was as familiar to Faith as her own voice, rose in the dark interior of the shack.

Bob acted suddenly. He flung his body against the door, which was brazed on the other side by the bulk of the old woman.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Dear me!" exclaimed Mrs. Longears one day as she was helping Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy sweep and dust the shell cottage at the seashore where Uncle Wiggily's family was spending part of the summer vacation. "Dear me!"

"What is the matter, my dear?" asked Mr. Longears who was just getting ready to hop off and look for an adventure. "Did you see a moth flying around? If you did I will get a moth ball so he can play with it and then he will forget to eat a hole in your fur coat."

"Oh, it isn't a moth, I am glad to say," answered the rabbit lady. "But here is this old, talking doll of Jingle's. The child brought it with her but she hasn't played with it and it's always around in the way. Put it up in the attic, Nurse Jane."

"I wouldn't do that," said Uncle Wiggily. "If you put the talking doll up in the attic she will be lonesome with no one to whom she can speak. I'll tell Jingle to take better care of her doll."

"It will do no good," sighed Mrs. Longears. "I have told her, every day since we have been at the shore, that she must put the talking doll away. But she doesn't care any more."

"Who doesn't care?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Jingle," answered his wife. Her talking doll is broken and won't speak, so Jingle doesn't want to play with her any longer. And that's why I almost laughed when you said the doll would have no one to talk to if Nurse Jane put her in the attic. She can't talk anyhow, being broken. The little phonograph inside her, that used to talk, doesn't work any more."

"Oh, so that's the reason?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Well, I haven't much to do to-day, and perhaps I can fix Jingle's broken doll so it will talk again. I'll surprise her."

Mr. Longears took the doll that used to talk out on the beach where the light was good and there he soon found what was the matter. The spring and wheels that worked the phonograph talking voice inside the doll were rusty. A little oil soon made the wheels spin around smoothly and by pushing a little button in the doll's chest out came the voice as good as ever.

Having oiled the doll and wound up the spring, Uncle Wiggily tried the little phonograph by pushing the button on her chest, just above her stomach. At once the doll opened her mouth and spoke.

"Ha! As good as ever!" exclaimed Mr. Longears. "I'll surprise Jingle with this." He looked down the beach and saw where some of the little bunny girls had built themselves a seaweed house like the one built by Uncle Wiggily. "I'll take the talking doll down there and give it to Jingle," decided her father.

Several times, on his way hopping down the beach, the rabbit gentleman tried the phonograph doll by pressing on the button in her chest. It was just like one of the doll's dress buttons, and if you were not told the secret you never would have guessed that a little punch there would start the doll talking. But such it did.

When Mr. Longears reached the little weed house there was no one in it. Just before he got there the rabbit children had run down the sand to see some sea urchins who had just been washed up by a wave. So Mr. Longears said:

"I will set the doll up on the sandy floor inside the seaweed house and leave her. Jingle won't guess that I have mended the phonograph and she may hit the doll by accident and start her talking. Then Jingle will be surprised. I'll hide behind the house and listen."

Propping the doll up with a bit of driftwood, Uncle Wiggily left her and hid behind the seaweed house. In a little while he heard feet shuffling along the sandy beach and a voice growling:

"This must be the place. The Sea Lion said Uncle Wiggily lived in a seaweed house and this is it! I'll go in and hide in a corner and when that rabbit hops in I'll grab him!" From around the corner of the play cabin Uncle Wiggily saw the Bob Cat who had traveled all the way from Woodland near the Orange Ice Mountains.

"Oh, what danger I am in!" whispered the rabbit. But, as yet, the Bob Cat had not seen him. Into the seaweed house the Bob Cat shoved his way. He saw the doll sitting there staring at him.

"Scoot! Take yourself off! I want to hide in here to catch Uncle Wiggily!" howled the Bob Cat. He gave the doll a shove. His paw touched the spring button in her chest and, a moment later, the phonograph doll began talking. She said:

"Get out of here! How dare you touch me! Run or I'll call the Police Dog! Go out!" And the Bob Cat was so astonished by hearing the doll talk that away he ran as fast as he could go.

Jingle was very glad to have her talking doll mended and thanked her Daddicums when she returned and found it.

BOBS TABOOED.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—There is not a bobbed-haired woman in the entire State of Holstein, except for non-residents. Short skirts and all the other whims of fashion are popular, but thick, long tresses are always worn. And barber shops are prospering by selling false hair for switches.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Big and little sister dresses of printed linen bound with solid color—short sleeves for big sister and no sleeves at all for little sister.

Symmetry and ensemble are the order of the day. We consider the design of breakfast-room furniture before we choose our breakfast set of dishes. We consider the tone and contour of the dinner set before we select candles and flowers for the dinner tables. We never buy hats or shoes at random—but consider all our clothes as part of certain definite costumes. Mothers even are beginning to feel that girl babies should be named with a view to their probable temperament, though this is sometimes difficult since it is customary to name babies almost at their arrival.

At least we can avoid giving the little brunette a name like Blanche or Lily, and the spanking twelve-pound baby who looks like a future amazon a name that can be nicknamed Dot or Tiny.

We no longer dress our children at random, but choose their clothes as part of a general nursery ensemble. Even sisters and brothers over nursery age are often made to conform to this ensemble dressing, and perhaps it is a hardship for the older or eldest of the two or three children dressed thus in harmony. But at any rate it is decidedly smart and the sophisticated little girl of today ought to be glad of that.

Once it was difficult to get these ensemble frocks and wraps and hats to suit the needs of children of different ages unless you made things yourself or had them made to order. Now many of the stores make a point of supplying children of different sizes with these sister dresses. There are also sister and brother dresses and suits that are extremely charming.

It has come to be looked on as a matter of course that young sisters and brothers should at least have similar hats and coats and shoes even though their frocks and little suits may be dissimilar.

FASHION NOTES.

ABOUT FASHION NOTES.

(By Hedda Hoyt, United Press Fashion Editor.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (United Press).—'Putting a bee in one's bonnet' is not an ideal saying, for bees are the latest millinery ornaments. Bees, butterflies and dragon flies of brilliants are being worn on many of the smaller hats of felt or straw. Also new are sprays of tiny flowers made of brilliants.

A recent fad among New York flappers is the wearing of silver or rhinestone initials upon kid glove cuffs. These tiny initials may be purchased at the jewelry counters. They are made with prongs which may be inserted through the glove cuffs.

The cowboy bandana is responsible for the handkerchief-square neckwear of to-day. Many of the season's most attractive sports dresses owe their smartness to the large square neckerchiefs which are worn carelessly about the neck and tied in a double knot either in front or upon one shoulder. Where formerly these bandanas were of colorful design recent models match the fabric of the dress having a narrow border of contrasting color.

White, yellow and pink flannel jackets of double-breasted-type are worn with white pleated skirts for sportswear. For yachting purposes, navy blue jackets with brass buttons are preferable to those of pastel shades.

One of the most attractive jersey bathing suits of the season has a white shirt, pleated black trunks and a black hip-length jacket. Pleated trunks are newer than the tighter trunks of last season and are far more flattering to the average figure. The idea of the matching jacket does away with the necessity of a beach wrap.

Long-sleeved dinner gowns are about equal in number to short-sleeved models. Somehow long-sleeved chiffon gowns seem just a bit smarter, even on warm days than short sleeves models. Chiffon in shades of light beige gray, nude or pale rose-beige is so summery that one can well afford to sacrifice comfort for the chic by wearing long sleeves. Even flowered chiffon gowns are being worn long-sleeved by many smart women.

Colorful heels are a new note in footwear. The heel now must match the main color of the gown if it's up-to-the-moment, and often the heel of the shoe matches the heel of the stockings.

Each of the three women now entered in the Kentucky primaries won her race. Mrs. Emma Guy Cromwell, now holding the position of Secretary of State, won against two men in her contest for the Democractic nomination for State Treasurer. In her present office Mrs. Cromwell is certain to be succeeded by a woman, as Miss Ella Lewis won the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State, defeating two men, and Mrs. F. D. Quinsberry won the Republican nomination for the same office with one man opponent.

When you serve RED ROSE ORANGE PEKOE to your family you are giving them the best tea you can buy.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

FRESH CHEESE

Wring a piece of cheesecloth out of vinegar and wrap around cheese to prevent its getting stale.

CRACKED EGGS

If you want to boil eggs that are slightly cracked, put a little salt in the water and it will prevent the insides from cooking out.

ZUCCHINI GARNISH

Nothing makes a more edible garnish for fish or chops than a border of Italian zucchini, cut in half-inch slices and steamed without peeling.

STATIONARY BOWL

By folding a tea towel under the bowl in which you beat eggs or make dressing, you will save strain on your arms by preventing the bowl's slipping.

CHILDREN'S FURNITURE

A charming child's room was furnished entirely with cast-off pieces that had been sawed off to make lower and painted deep cream with orange touches.

DARK NOOK

If you cannot afford to re-decorate your home, though depressed by dark nooks and corners, try using an orange chair, a gilt mirror or some other bright touch here and there.

VARIED CRETONNES

Cretonnes grow diversified; some now come in patterns for bedrooms, others for living rooms, while some are suitable only for children's rooms.

Has Excess of Merchants But Has Bright Future as Mining District.

By Martin Livingston.

A cluster of seven log shacks in January of 1925—now a lively little city of 3500 with 230 business institutions, one railroad completed, another being finished and still another preparing to enter the community—that is the remarkable story in brief of the meteoric civic growth of the town of Rouyn in northern Quebec. The citizens of this now widely-known center of the newest substantial mining development assert that in five years Rouyn will be a city of 15,000, but that's likely a bit optimistic. However, one can forgive such optimism in face of the romantic growth of the town in a little more than two years.

Right now the town has really overdeveloped from a business standpoint. Dividing the number of merchants and mercantile institutions by the most flattering population estimates, it will be seen that there is practically one business in Rouyn for every twelve people. The town has been overrun by traders from the four corners of the continent, whose imagination has been fired by the lurid tales of this magic community which sprang up practically over night in northern Quebec. They foresaw the possibilities of fortune-making—not in unearthing the gold and copper from the bowels of Mother Nature, but rather from the characteristic rush of business at fat profits which is to be found in every new mining camp. Many of these business adventurers are now having a rude awakening, for with enough stores and enterprises to take care of a city of 10,000 or more, the total trade which Rouyn's present population can offer is greatly inadequate to support the number of merchants who seek a share.

The merchants who pioneered in Rouyn, who came at the beginning and were well established even before the railroad came, have done well, and are still getting the majority of the business. It is the new-comers who started up on a shoestring capital and expected to run it into a healthy bankroll in short order, who are suffering. Practically everything is exceptionally reasonable in Rouyn—merchandise, apparel, food, hotel accommodations, even beer,—all are as cheap as they are right in Kitchener. This, of course, is directly contrary to the history of most mining camps, and is a natural outgrowth of the excess of merchants. Such keen competition for trade creates low prices.

A matter of special interest is the fact that one of the successful merchants of Rouyn is a former Kitchenerite, Clarence Huenegard. He is a son of J. W. Huenegard, who has the picture store on Queen street south, and he was one of the early birds who visioned the possibilities of Rouyn early in 1925, bought a business lot on what is now the main street for $270 and opened the trading post which has since developed into the Box & Huenegard Department store. To look over the camp at that time he had to walk over forty miles from the nearest railroad station and Rouyn was the village of seven log cabins which he found. But he satisfied himself that the mining discoveries were real, and that Rouyn was destined to rapid growth, with the result that he stayed there. His first stock of several thousand dollars worth of the usual necessities all had to be brought in from miles away by sleighs. Today this modest beginning has grown to the largest store in the town, and Mr. Huenegard is one of the leading spirits of the community. He is president of the Chamber of Commerce—yes, Rouyn has one and it has plenty of pep—and active in all of the town's public affairs.

There is no danger of starvation in Rouyn, for one can get fed in 77 of the business places mentioned. One can conceive how many eating places that is, when it is remembered that Peterborough, with its 26,000 population, has about half that many.

The rush of traders to Rouyn was no less overreaching than the influx of workers and soldiers of fortune—men and women of every nationality and from almost every walk of life. The age-old call of gold drew them on from every direction. Today the racial complexion of Rouyn is as cosmopolitan as London or New York. There are Canadians, French, Americans, Syrians, Italians, Poles, Russians, Finlanders, English, in fact almost every known nationality represented. The French-Canadians seem to be in the majority. There are many there who claim Ontario as their home, for Rouyn is not quite fifty miles from the Ontario border, and many rushed in there from the nearby Ontario mining camps, attracted by the allure of new "pastures."

The result again was inevitable. The discoveries and development of the mines, with their consequent employment of labor, could not possibly keep pace with steadily growing numbers of people looking for work. Wages in the mines, construction camps and other enterprises average 40c to 45c per hour, which means that the average unskilled laborer there, generally a man with a family, makes only about $25 per week. And yet there is a big waiting line at the employment offices of the mines every day. In time the balance of employment and labor will right itself, as more of the mines which are still in the prospect stage get into actual operation.

But offsetting the sordid details of Rouyn's too rapid commercial expansion, is the romantic record of Rouyn as a mining district, and its bright outlook from the mining angle. In the space of comparatively few years, it has proven itself a community rich in copper ores, and while there are actually only five proven mines in the district at present it is estimated that those five have ore reserves conservatively valued at over fifty million dollars. The local optimists there will tell you it's a hundred million, but the mining men themselves are more cautious with their figures. However, in addition to this handful of mines which are actually proven, there are hundreds of mining claims which have legitimate discoveries, and which, when properly developed, will likely produce a considerable additional number of proven mines.

A mammoth ore smelter is now in the process of erection in the district, which will be completed the end of September at a cost of over $4,000,000 and when this is in operation, the development work on many claims will go ahead much more rapidly. The smelter means there will be a market for the copper and gold ore right there, and production of course awaits a market.

The building of this smelter is the clearest evidence of the faith which practical men have in the future of Rouyn as a mining district. The building of railroads is another convincing proof of the confidence which big business has in this district. The Canadian National completed their branch into Rouyn from their northern transcontinental line several months ago, at a cost of about a million and a half. The Nipissing Central division of the T. & N. O. is now completing its line into Rouyn from Cheminis, at a probable total cost of something under $1,500,000. It is stated on good authority now that the Canadian Pacific are also coming into Rouyn, at a cost of probably two millions. Those three railroads, as well as the mining people, evidently feel assured that Rouyn will be a prolific mineral producer.

Still another indication of Rouyn's future is the fact that the Power Corporation of Canada, through its local company, the Quinze Power Company, spent a million and a half to furnish the community with electric power from 55 miles away. The installation was completed early last December, and since then Rouyn is brilliantly electric lighted, and the mines are able to operate with electric power.

Taking in consideration these various large investments in addition to the three million dollars which has been spent to develop the principal mine in the district, (the Horne mine of the Noranda Mines, Ltd., upon whose property the smelter is being erected,) it can be seen that something over $14,000,000 is being invested by the largest mine and the public utilities in the future of the Rouyn district. This does not take into consideration the large sums being spent in bringing the other proven mines to the point of operation, and in developing the various other discoveries in the district. It looks very much as though the hard-headed men of conservative vision who head these large corporations are thoroughly satisfied that Rouyn is bound to be a big mining field.

"You'll hear talk around town that this district will be another Calumet, or another Montana," one of the higher officials told me in comparing Rouyn with those famous copper districts of the United States, "but that's pure optimism. Rouyn will produce a lot of ore, and will last a great many years, but none of us who are actually in the mining game expect it to equal those two big producing districts."

It is significant, however, that the copper ore deposits in the proven mines of the district are far richer than the average in the famous copper areas of the United States. Ore that runs our per cent. copper is considered very good and is very profitable in the States, in fact, the Arizona copper district only averages from 1½ to 2 per cent., and is mined profitably. Compared with this, the assays of the ores found in the Horne mine at Rouyn show an average of seven per cent. copper, and some veins run as high as 18 per cent. In addition to this they show an irregular gold content, some veins none and others up to $10 per ton, which means that the ore in the Rouyn district may contain sufficient gold to pay the cost of the mining operations, and leave the copper as clear profit.

It is one of the ironies of Fate that Rouyn was prospected as a gold district and actually turned out to be a prolific copper camp. The first discoveries in the community were of gold, and all the early development was based on the expectation of uncovering the gold veins. Prospectors came in by scores, all seeking gold, and paying no attention to the evidence of copper ore which they found so frequently in the course of their work. Whenever any matters of interest were broadcast to the world regarding the Rouyn district, it was always referred to as the new gold field. Yet the very mineralized areas of copper which the prospectors stepped over and gave no consideration are the backbone of Rouyn as a mining district today!—and not gold.

The mining history of Rouyn had its beginning for all practical purposes in the discovery of the Horne mine, which is the most highly developed property in the district, and is the one on which the big smelter is being erected. It lies just across Osisko Lake from the townsite of Rouyn, and it was discovered by Ed. Horne, a quiet, blue-eyed prospector of much experience. He first traversed the Rouyn district in 1915, but he did not make his discovery until a subsequent trip in 1921. It was gold he was looking for and found. He staked out a considerable area and commenced working his claims. Meantime the Thompson-Chadburn interests, Tom Powell and the McDonough brothers were prospecting in the district and staked claims in 1922 on gold discoveries which they made. Nobody was thinking about copper. Horne ran out of funds, and got a group of friends in New Liskeard, Ont., to finance his further working of his claims. He finally got to surface trenching what is now the No. 2 shaft of the mine, and there he uncovered the rich deposit of copper ore for which the mine has achieved much fame.

That discovery immediately changed the whole complexion of the situation. Every prospector turned his efforts from gold to the search for copper. Claims which had been given up because they were not considered promising for gold, were re-staked hurriedly and many of them have since developed important copper discoveries. The men who make a business of prospecting and staking claims had a brisk demand from the various mining companies—those in the embryo stage as well as the actual operating companies—for copper claims. The real development of the Rouyn district had now started.

The Waite-Montgomery property soon was proven up by drilling as were also the Towagmac mine and the Amulet property. These, together with the Horne mine and also the Harvie property, the latter eighteen miles from Rouyn townsite, constitute the five proven mines in the district.

Horne gave an option on his claims to the Noranda interests, and they took it over from him, for a large cash sum and a ten per cent. interest which he retained. The Noranda group went right ahead with the development, and now have three shafts sunk with ore reserves already blocked out, valued at over $25,000,000 in the company's last annual report, ready to mine and haul to the smelter as soon as it is completed.

Noah Timmins, considered the leading mining operator of Canada, is the big factor behind the Noranda Mines, Ltd., and he recently completed deals whereby the Noranda has secured control of both the Waite-Montgomery and the Towagmac properties, thus giving the Noranda interests the control of three of the five proven properties in the district, and an ample assurance of a large supply of ore for the big smelter they are constructing. Timmins also has a substantial interest in the Amulet property.

A rival townsite called Noranda is being developed on the Noranda property, in competition with Rouyn. There are a few frame business buildings and company homes up now, and a number of stores and homes in the process of construction. It is aimed to make Noranda a model town, and sensible building restrictions are being enforced primarily for fire protection and secondarily for civic beauty and permanence. The Rouyn citizens make light of Noranda townsite's pretentions, but at the same time are watching the upstart out of the corner of their eye. Noranda scored one by getting the Canadian National to build their station and terminal on the Noranda property and call it Noranda, instead of going on to Rouyn townsite. The town of Rouyn, however, is retaliating by getting the T. & N. O. to build their terminal in Rouyn, with a hundred thousand dollar station. Despite their rivalry, the Rouyn citizens and the Noranda interests are working together on matters of common good, and as a result, the Noranda people are constructing a waterworks, and will supply Rouyn its water, instead of each town having its own plant.

Rouyn is spending $300,000 to put in the water mains and also a sewerage system. Despite the newness of the townsite, it is said to have an assessed valuation of something over a million dollars, and succeeded in selling a bond issue to pay for these public improvements.

Probably when the water mains and drainage system have been laid, the town will make an effort to make its streets reasonably good. Right now they are pretty rough. The town has just completed a network of board sidewalks on practically all the principal streets, and this was a much needed convenience.

With the exception of one brick building recently completed, the stores, hotels and homes are all constructed of wood, generally unpainted. The bright newness of the natural wood emphasizes the youthfulness of this growing community. Fire is of course an ever ominous possibility, but so far nothing serious has happened. A forest fire which came close threatened the townsite not long ago, but was headed off.

Looking across the lake from Rouyn, one sees the large Noranda smelter taking shape and hears faintly the staccato of the pneumatic riveters as they bind the massive steel girders in place. The smelter is the center of public interest right now, for when it opens the end of September, the district expects to settle down to business-like mining operation. It will have a capacity of one thousand tons of ore daily, and is built in two sections of 500 tons each. As soon as one of these units is completed the smelter will commence doing business. Its furnaces are what are known as the reverberatory type, and it is regarded as the very latest model of smelter construction. About the most expensive part of the smelting is the coal which is used to fuse the ore, and which has to be brought in from the States or Alberta. The smelter removes the slag, iron and sulphur from the ore and reduces it to copper ingots, which will probably be shipped to New Jersey, where any gold or other precious metals which may be contained in the ore are refined. No attempt will be made a present to refine the gold from the balance of the ore right at Rouyn.

Morally, Rouyn looks like a mighty well-behaved mining town. Most of the parasites which follow the opening of each new mining district have been weeded out. There is still more or less gambling back of every pool room, of which there are many in the town, and there is the inevitable bootlegging, but the latter is gradually on the wane, as they are selling beer legitimately now in some of the grocery stores.

It is surprising the number of things of which such a new community can boast. They have a splendid hospital, a public and also a parochial school, a good telephone system, a movie theatre, and just recently a weekly newspaper was established locally.

And they ask you up there not to call it "Ruin," for the name is French, and the way they pronounce it sounds more like "Roo-ah." But no matter how you pronounce it, it looks like "Ruin" is destined for success.

Several New Highs In New York Trading

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—The stock market to-day was more responsive to indications of the expected quickening of autumn trade. Renewed demand for merchandising, farm implement, food and chemical shares was translated into some extraordinary advances, such as the six point jump of International Harvester to 204, the best price ever reached.

A score of other well-known shares surpassed their previous best figures, including Baldwin, International Telephone, North American, National Biscuit, Postum, Allis Chalmers, Nash Motors, Woolworth, Montgomery Ward, and Sears Roebuck.

There was brisk bidding for several railroads, especially Nickel Plate, Texas and Pacific, Southern Railway, and Western Pacific, the last named showing unusual activity.

Wheat Prices Weaken Because Weather Good

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press)3.—Downturns in the price of wheat today soon followed early news of better weather in Canada. In the absence of any further visitation of frost in that country, speculative selling here enlarged and hedging pressure from the northwest was in evidence. Opening unchanged to ¾ cent off, wheat later sagged all around. Corn and oats were likewise weak, corn starting at ⅛ cent to ¾ cents decline and subsequently showing some additional setback. LONDON POLICE ON 'JAZZ' BEATS

CAN'T BE TIMED

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—"Jazz Beats," or "Beating the Burglar," is the latest move in the game of wits played between the Metropolitan Police and the intelligent cracksman who uses his knowledge of the police beats to his own advantage when committing a burglary.

So stereotyped have certain beats in some divisions become, and so regular have the "points" made between constables and their superior officers been kept that cracksmen, by watching a policeman pass a given point have been assured of a period free from interruption.

But this is being changed. With much poring over maps, fine tracings through congested streets and semi-rural lanes, and innumerable journeys of survey, beats have been arranged, and instead of being stereotyped, walks are being cut and planned in jazz patterns, which in many cases recross their own itineraries.

Thus, no matter how observant a cracksman may be, he will not be able to tell when the policeman will enter the street from the other end.

BURGLARS STEAL FROM DETECTIVE

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—Chief Constable Wensley, head of the Criminal Investigation Department, Scotland Yard, has practised what he has preached, and installed the most modern anti-burglary devices in his own house at Palmers Green, North London. Nevertheless, the burglars defied them all. Taking a small ladder from an outhouse they entered by a fanlight, and carried off a large quantity of valuable curios, which have been collected by Mr. Wensley over many years.

They also took Mr. Wensley's medals, including that which was awarded him for his share in the celebrated "siege of Sidney street," in the east-end of London, when a band of Anarchists were exterminated with the help of Guardsmen from the Tower.

"I hope they will be sportsmen and return my medals to me," said Mr. Wensley. "They cannot be of any value to the thieves, and they are naturally much valued by myself."

Mr. Wensley is the third of the chief officers at Scotland Yard to suffer a burglary. Both Mr. Hawkins and Mr. Carlin, who retired recently, were visited in the same way.

SASKATOON CAFES TO OPEN ALL NIGHT

Council Decides Against Proposal to Regulate Hours.

SASKATOON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—City fathers would make Saskatoon a good city, but despite the desire of some Aldermen to curb night life in the city, Council has failed to put into effect the proposal to regulate the hours of cafes.

"I feel that we should not take any steps in this connection at the present time," declared Alderman John Macklem, whose motion providing that no action be taken was carried.

"We should find out first what public opinion is on the matter," he further stated.

Police Chief G. M. Donald strongly favored the present system of keeping cafes open at all hours.

"I am of the opinion that if Council passes a bylaw closing the restaurants during the early hours that it would be a regretable step," declared the Police Chief. "It would be very harmful advertising for the city and would not in any way assist in keeping pure the morals of the young people, such I believe being one of the chief reasons for the contemplated action."

CUT-IN DRIVER CAUSES WRECK KILLING THREE

Occupants of Cleveland Car Killed When Hurled Over Precipice.

OTHER CAR ESCAPES.

Ohio Automobile Wrecked When Pushed Over 275 Foot Cliff at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 3.—Roy Desmond Huxley, Mrs. Huxley and their little daughter, Alison, Cleveland Heights, Cleveland, Ohio, are dead as a result of a cutting in motorist who forced them into the Niagara Goarge and kept on going and has not been caught. The man and woman were dead when found and the little girl died an hour after her admission to hospital without recovering consciousness.

The stories of eye witnesses agree that the Huxley car was going north on River road and, when about to pass a car going in the other direction, a car came from behind, found it could not avoid hitting the oncoming car and swerved to the right, striking the front of the Cleveland car, which, deflected, crashed through the railing and down the precipice which, a this point, is a sheer drop for 275 feet.

The rescuers, mostly firemen, had a tremendous task, not only to get to the scene of the accident but to send the bodies up to the bank. Ropes and fire ladders had to be used and they had a difficult time before everything was sent to the top. The car had fallen straight through space, spilling the passengers on the way and continued on to almost the water's edge, where it caught fire and was almost completely destroyed. The bodies were scattered around, giving rise to rumors that there were four persons in the car. Careful search failed to show any but the three. It was at once seen that the man and woman were dead, but life lingered in the little girl, and she was sent up the rope and rushed to the hospital, where she succumbed. While several saw the accident, no one got the number, but agree that the car carried an Illinois license. There must be damage to the right fender which may be noted elsewhere.

Inside of a very few minutes there was a crowd of ten thousand at the scene of the accident and there were many willing volunteers. The other, American, side of the river was lined with spectators watching the efforts of the men below at rescue work.

Mr. and Mrs. Huxley appear to be about thirty or thirty-five years of age and the girl about eleven. The little girl's school books were found, and it is believed the party came over the upper bridge on their way to a tour of Canada. Cleveland police have been notified, but so far no reply has been received.

The railing along the edge proved to be no barrier to the automobile, being broken as easily as wood. For some time the local Chamber of Commerce has been urging that the Park Commission erect a strong cable fence along the edge. It is understood such a project is under contemplation.

Coroner E. T. Kellam started an investigation at the scene of the accident and opened an inquest yesterday evening.

Border Police Searching

BUFFALO, Sept. 2 (Canadian Press).—Niagara Police today were bending every effort to locate the touring car reported by eye-witnesses to have shoved three persons to death in the Gorge, wiping out the entire Huxley family of Cleveland, yesterday afternoon. The search extended to garages in the whole region. The auto bore an Illinois license and was driven by a stout man. It did not stop after striking the smaller machine.

GOLDEN BLOW-OUT.

KALISPELL, Mont., Sept. 3.—Picking up gold on the run is the latest in Montana. R. C. Greesland, of Kalispell, had a blow-out on his car and the casing picked up gold for him. The only thing to worry about is if the gold is sufficient to pay for fixing the flat. The gold was discovered by the repairman at a local shop while he was fixing the tire. Small, glittering, dust-like quantities were scattered along the inside.

FEAR FIREBUG AT OWEN SOUND

Two Blazes, One Outside and One Inside Store, Not Connected.

BARN FIRE MYSTERY.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., September 3. — The store and residence of Mrs. Charles Joseph at the northern end of Third avenue east, was entirely gutted by a mysterious fire at 2.40 o'clock yesterday morning. It is believed that the fire was of incendiary origin and it is probable that an investigation will be made by the Ontario Fire Marshals Department. The house and store were pretty well in flames before the arrival of the firemen and it required two hours' work. A fire was burning in both the inside and the outside of the building and those two fires never met.

There was no one in the building for two days previous to the fire, Mrs Joseph having gone to Windsor. Before she left she told the police to watch the plaec, and gave orders that no one but herself was authorized to enter the store or dwelling. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

The large barn and contents, the property of Percy Dougherty of Rocklyn, was entirely destroyed by fire on Thursday night at 11 o'clock. The case is a mystery. When the flames were discovered they were shooting in volume from the barn, and it was impossible to save any of the contents of the barn.

Zittenfield Twins and Miss Marriott Abandon Channel Swim.

OUT FOUR HOURS.

CAPE GRIS, Nez, France, Sept. 3—(Canadian Press).—The thirteen year old New York twins Phyllis and Bernice Zittenfeld, had to abandon an effort to swim the English Channel after four hours in water.

Later Miss Lorna Marriott of England was also forced to abandon the attempt, the water turning choppy and the wind being cold. All started just before midnight.

Phyllis was the first of the Zittenfeld twins to be taken out, having a cramp in her left leg. Bernice was going well at the time but the mother urged her to abandon the attempt after her sister had been taken aboard the tug.

CITY PASSES LAW TO GUARD WORMS

GLEN COVE, L. I., Sept. 3.—This city has become famous as a haven for persecuted worms. The City Council, without a single dissenting vote, has passed an ordinance protecting them. No person who is not an inhabitant of Glen Cove can dig a worm within its limits. The reason was that Glen Cove was famous for its worms, and fishermen from many miles away came to dig them up. Resident fishermen, faced with an impending shortage of bait, appealed to the Council for aid, and got it.

THREE HOMERS FOR YANKEES

Athletics Beaten 12 To 2—Indians and Browns Win.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. —(Canadian Press). — Making 20 hits, including two home runs by Lou Gehrig and one by Babe Ruth, the New York Yankees blasted out a 12 to 2 victory over the Athletics at Philadelphia yesterday. Ruth made his 44th home of the season in the first, and Gehrig, next at bat, made his 42nd, adding number 43 in the second frame. Gehrig totalled four hits as did Combs and Koenig.

Rube Walberg withstood the Yankee battering for two innings then gave way to Sam Gray. Waite Hoyt held the home team to six hits and was robbed of a shutout in the ninth when two runs were scored on two singles, a boot and two sacrifice flies.

Chicago's ninth inning rally fell short by one run of tieing Cleveland at Chicago and the Indians took the second game of the series, 7 to 6, yesterday. Blankenship's error and a base on balls, the only one the Indians received, proved the undoing of the Chicago pitcher. Chicago used 19 men in an attempt to overcome the Inidans.

The Browns rallied in the ninth inning at St. Louis for two runs and won from the Detroit Tigers 3 to 2. Pitcher Milton Gaston's single brought in the winning run after Williams had tripled and O'Neill had doubled in the final frame.

Only three games scheduled.

ST. LOUIS LOSE TO PITTSBURGH

Waner Brothers Grab Off Seven Hits for the Pirates.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3. —(Canadian Press). — Pittsburgh took a firmer hold on the National League lead by defeating the visiting St. Louis team yesterday 5 to 3. Kremer out pitched the veteran Alexander who was hit hard. The Waner Brothers starred for the Pirates collecting seven hits between them.

Rabbit Marvanville was at shortstop for St. Louis. He registered one hit and had nine chances in the field.

Jackie May held the Chicago Cubs at his mercey when he allowed them only three paltry singles and struck out seven of their batsmen while the Reds took a five to nothing victory from Jones and Brillheart at Cincinnatti.

A disastrous fourth inning in which Jones walked three men and his teammates made two fumbles behind two singles gave the Reds a four to nothing lead.

The Braves edged the Brooklyn Robins out of sixth place by winning the series opener at Boston, 3 to 2. Eddie Farrell, former Giant, played an important part in the victory, making three hits, scoring a run and driving in the other two with well placed drives at crucial moments.

Only games scheduled.

SECOND AND THIRD, BUT HAPPY AND SMILING

The photographs in the UPPER row show Georges Michel of France and William Erickson of New York, who won second and third places in the Canadian National Exhibition 21-mile marathon swim, respectively, as they emerged from the water. Michel finished his swim of 21 miles in about 16 hours, but Erickson was some hours later. They and Ernst Vierkoetter, winner of the race, were the only three to finish the course. The LOWER picture shows a section of the crowd which remained to see the last two swimmers finsh.

PETES FIGHTING TO GET PLACE IN THE FINALS

Will Wind Up Oshawa Series in Three Games If Possible.

PLAY HERE MONDAY.

Holiday Game Should Be the Liveliest Tussle of Season.

With the leadership of the Lake Shore League at stake, and possibly with the fate of the Oshawa team hanging upon the result, the Oshawa motors and Petes will battle at James Stevenson Park on Monday in the third game of the series to decide which team is to enter the Ontario Senior semi-finals.

Make no mistake about it; if the Petes can win to-day's game at Oshawa and clean up here Monday, the gang, led by Max Swanston, will do both of those things. The series will be over in three games if the Petes can do the trick. They have been striving to get into the Ontario play-offs ever since they were beaten by the Hamilton Plowites in the finals in 1920, and Al. Heckman, now in his sixth season with the Petes without reaching the provincial series, is ready to throw his arm off to get in there. The rest of the Petes feel the same about it, and they are full of fight.

Oshawa claim they were away off color here last week, and that they will come on and win the series. They'll have a tough fight on their hands, however, with the Petes in their present mood.

The game here Monday afternoon should be the scrappiest affair of the season. It will get under way at 3 o'clock, and an old-time crowd, including many fans from Oshawa, is certain.

Inside Sportin Dope

By A Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac this is my first chance to write you since the big swim, and to tell the truth, I feel so disappointed over the failure of my 2 choices for the water grind that I ain't hardly got the heart to drop you a line. I picked Mister Geo. Young to win and Mister Pigskin Peters to cop 2nd honours, and both of them birds threw me down. The experts says it was a mental lapse that beat Mister Young. Personally, I think they're all wetter than the swimmers, for as I see it, it was old man speed that curled him up. Anyway, I don't know what happened Pigskin. It wasn't no mental lapse because Mister Peters ain't got nothing to have I with. There musta been dirty work somewhere, for the lad from Birdseye Centre looked good to me.

As to the winner, Mac, they ain't nothing left to be said. The newspaper boys has told it all. I notice where 1 paper says he swam a "well-timed race." Believe me, it was well-timed. A bird with a name like Herr Ernst Vierkeotter woulda had a swell chance to go bathing off the Exhibition Grounds 9 years ago. He'd of been sunk without a trace.

Hon. Geo. Henry told slow-driving motorists the other day that they oughta get off the main roads and keep to the country and township pikes. It looks to me that the same kinda advice oughta been handed some of them swimmers. They was a bunch of drifters in there cluttering up the lake, and all and sundry what wanted to go somewhere hadda do a lotta cutting-in.

Wasn't it too bad about that Mrs. Schoemell, Mac? The poor little thing lost her bathing suit and hadda wait way out in the lake till long after dark, hoping she could sneak in after the crowd went home. But they wouldn't go, and so she had to be taken outa the water.

That bird Erickson, which I call the Human Cork, Mac, win $2,500 for 3rd place, but, believe me, if the Ex ever charges him for all the lights they hadda keep burning all night to show him where to finish he'd been owing them jack. How that guy does love water

Well, Mister Sporting Editor, getting closer to home, I suppose you was over there Sat. to see Mrs. Heckman's husband tie them Oshawa Spark Plugs into knots. The newlywed Petes' pitcher went so good that when he run 2 bases on a sacrifice Mister Manager Swanston immediately promised free marriage licenses to all of his gang what would get married right away. He figgers that if double harness has made a combination Ty Cobb and Walter Johnston outa Mister Heckman the Petes oughta to win the Ont. title if he can get a few more of the boys married off. Anyway, the lads give a smart performance. Mister Benson's boys didn't get no runs, and if Mister Fair had forgot his bat they wouldn't have got no hits neither.

The customers better get over to Stevenson Park Labour Day, Mac, when Oshawa plays the 3rd game of the serious. It oughta be a nice little cup of tea.

Well, Mac, although the ball season was about 4 mos. late starting, I see it caught the City Parks Committee with its hay not drawn in. She was cut, but the boys hadn't got her into the barn.

More about baseball next week.

If you hear what happened to Pigskin let me know, eh Mac?

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

SHOULD SUN BURST, WE'D LIVE 5 DAYS

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—There's a chance, although it is one in several million, that the sun will swell up and burst. According to C. T. Elvey, of Northwestern University, who is studying exploding stars, there is no reason why the sun should not explode just as have many other stars since observations have been recorded.

"If this were to happen to the sun," he says, "we would know of it in eight minutes and would have 138 hours to live. By that time, the burning gases who reach the earth and we would be annihilated."

It was first believed that stellar explosions were due to collisions between stars. Now it is known that they are caused by internal eruptions liberating atomic energy. This was proven in 1925, when the star Nova-Pictoris expanded many thousand times and finally burst.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

By Douglas Malloch.

If lips would just be kinder,
How better it would be!—
If folks would just be blinder
To faults they try to see.
If ears just wouldn't listen,
If lips just wouldn't tell,
How this old world would glisten
With love, and joy as well.

If lips would keep from speaking
When what we haer is ill
If lips would keep from speaking
And not go seeking, seeking,
Some darker story still,

If lips would just remember
Some gentle word to say,
The sighings of November
Some gentle word to say,
The sighings of November
Would seem the songs of May.

For day will lose its glory
And have its darker hours
When someone tells a story
That poisons all the flowers.
But life would bloom with splendor
And joy we all would find,
If hearts would just be tender,
And lips would just be kind.

The Lockworks' Inter-Shop League Lockfitters were defeated last night by the assemblers at the James Stevenson Park by the score of 6 to 5. The game was fast and snappy and the Lockfitters looked like sure winners when they were leading up to the fifth by 3 runs. M, T. Western Hooks Fish Near Tak-It-Azy Club Camp.

M. T. Western hooked an eleven pound lunge last night on his third cast. After a twenty-minute battle he at last pulled the fish into the boat, where it was clubbed by L. Gilders and G. Cullen, who were also in the boat. This is the first big catch that any member of the Tak-It-Azy Club has made this summer.

BRITISH RAISING MONEY FOR PLAY

Have Nearly One-Third of the Three Million Pounds Required.

TO BUY GROUNDS.

LONDON, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—In connection with the campaign of the National Playing Fields Association to raise $4,850,000 with which to provide playing grounds for young people participating in organized games, the Association has announced that almost $1,455,000 have been subscribed.

The Duke of York is president of the National Playing Fields Association and personally has appealed for subscriptions to the playing grounds fund. While the Duke and Duchess of York were on their Australian tour recently the Prince of Wales made an appeal for contributions to the fund. His Royal Highness' plea for adequate playing grounds for the youth of the land being made through a microphone, this being his first experience at direct broadcasting.

AT THE GRAND

NEGRO ARTISTS HAVE HIGHER STANDARDS

Comedy no longer haphazard

Time was when the Negro Comic was just as ridiculous and uncouth colored persons whose ignorant idiosyncracies had come to the notice of some showman. Even the famous Billy Kersands, peer of all blackface performers of his day, and known by name and fame, the world over, could neither read nor write. His natural talents were sufficient to overcome this handicap; but his every performance was a torment to those with whom he worked, for his lines and business were all subject to his whims, and his faulty memory.

Such is not the case today. The "Mamie Smith" Negro theatrical company is an aggregation of people whose average intellectual status will compare favorably with any similar number of persons of any vocation, or of any nationality.

Every element of their production has been carefully planned with an eye to effectiveness, every line has been so related to the situations as to create the maximum of entertainment value. The comedy effects are the result of a close study of audience psychology. The blending of traditional racial characteristics with modern news and views is done after careful anaylsis of every stage "bit." All of this is done by alert minded folks who are educated.

An interview with the people who comprise the "Mamie Smith" Company, soon to play at the Grand Opera House here, makes one forget at a very early stage that these Negroes are not different from other folks. So diversified is their knowledge, and so well informed are they on current matters. Some, even on booklore of the deepest sort.

Mind you, they are neither bookish, nor "Dicty" to use a word long current among Negroes to indicate "uppishness" or offensive aristocracy. We got it from Leigh Whipper, the tall fellow who plays the part of a Hindoo so effectively; and who so naively admits that he is the son of a South Carolina Judge, a Howard University man, and who was once a sergeant major. Listening to some of Leigh's stories of show life hardly prepares the mind for his revelation of personal history. His claims, however, are full sustained.

Later we learn that the show has a former school teacher in the chorus, graduates of music schools aplenty, and just plain High School pupils are common.

Surely show business has advanced among Negroes. Yet the old comedy is a big asset of their race, and the harmony of their voices remains undamaged, in fact we believe enhanced by the advance.

Better see "Mamie Smith" next Wednesday at the Grand Opera House and determine for yourself.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"THE FLAG LIEUTENANT". SUPERB BRITISH MOTION PICTURE TRIUMPH

"To anyone who has never been aboard a destroyer, a battleship in real action or a seaplane equipped for fighting order there awaits more thrills and action than has ever been attempted before to place in a picture. It is action of the British Navy that thrills one to the utmost in "The Flag Lieutenant," which will begin an engagement at the Capitol Theatre Monday. With the direct co-operation of the British Admiralty the producers have let no obstacle stand in the way in making this production as fine as possible. Closely woven into the picture which was made by Maurice Elvey in England, the director has succeeded in bringing forth a tremendously appealing love sequence which is portrayed by a carefully selected cast, it will be recalled that "The Flag Lieutenant" served as a starring vehicle for that noted English actor, Cyril Maude, for a number of years.

While a great portion of the scenes include the British Navy with its fighting seamen and marines, thousands and thousands of extras were also engaged to be transformed into fighting savages, the action which also takes place at a little outpost of Empire furnishes an opportunity of bringing out many pounding and pulse leaping moments and the magnificent background, the settings and photography are achievements which have been masterfully executed.

"The Flag Lieutenant" will undoubtedly rank among the finest of productions which have been made in England to date and it is with general pride that Canada is fortunate of an opportunity of announcing its general release throughout the Dominion.

HARVEST HOME

Visit Ontario's rolling farm lands when the fruits of the year are being gathered. See the abundance that has matured. Interest yourself in the wholesome rural life of the Province, as the growing season nears its end. With an intelligent interest you may help to bridge the gap between town and coun ry.

The best way to see rural Ontario is from the highways. Your touch is intimate and sympathetic with the country and its problems. The good roads lead everywhere—well-marked with caution signs, and with easy grades and curves. The progressive road building program of Ontario has saved money for manufacturers, distributors and producers and added to the pleasure of those who live both on the farm and in the town.

When you travel these splendid roads, remember they are yours to use but not to abuse. Excessive speed is hard on roads. The legal limit is high enough. Every care must be exercised at all times to avoid accident.

Glaring headlights are illegal. They are a nuisance and a danger to others. This Department will supply simple instructions by which you may prove your headlights.

Be sure of your brakes. It is dangerous if your car will not obey.

Above all, BE COURTEOUS and considerate of others. Do not demand your rights in traffic if thereby danger or inconvenience to others will be created.

Your fullest enjoyment of the highways comes from sane, cautious driving—consideration of your own safety and that of others, and courtesy to all whom you meet.

Secure your Motor Vehicle Operator's License if you have not done so. Traffic patrol officers or city police may call upon you to produce it at any time. You are subject to fine if you have not secured it. Application Forms at any garage.

SEE EARLY WINTER.

LOVELAND, Col., Sept. 3 — Two flocks of wild geese have been seen flying south for the winter. The early appearance of the birds, which usually do not migrate until fall, has led to predictions of an early and severe winter. Sportsmen fear the geese all will be gone before the hunting season opens.

GIRLHOOD DANGERS.

In their early teens it is quite common for girls to outgrow their strength, and mothers should carefully watch the health of their daughters at this time. It is when the strength is sapped by rapid growth that anaemia develops. The first signs may be noticed by peevishness, langour and headaches. The face grows pale, breathlessness and palpitation becomes apparent, with low spirits and depression.

Neglected anaemia often leads to a decline, but if you see that your daughter's blood is enriched, there need be no cause for anxiety. The finest blood-builder ever discoverd is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They will build up your girl's health and ensure for her healthy womanhood. In proof of this Mrs. George Justason, Black's Harbor, N.B., says:—"I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a wonderful medicine. My daughter, Margaret, was in such a badly run-down condition that we feared she was going into a decline. Her face was pale, the least exertion would leave her breathless and she suffered from headaches. She had no appetite and lost a lot in weight. Up to the time we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, no treatment had helped her. But thanks to the use of this wonderful medicine she is again well and strong, showing no signs of the trouble that had so weakened her."

In all troubles due to weak, watery blood, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found a reliable remedy. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MAD CATS ATTACK.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Sept. 3 — A band of cats, all suffering from rabies, has been hunted down and killed along the waterfront here after five persons had been attacked. There were about a dozen in the group.

FRENCH PEOPLE DEPOSIT MORE

Now Have More Than Fifteen Billions in Savings Banks.

FEWER DEPOSITORS

The activity of French savings banks during the year 1926, although considerably influenced b ythe financial crisis through which the country was passing, nevertheless showed an appreciable increase over the preceding year, deposits totalling 15,603 million francs as against 13,690 millions in 1925.

In the Paris savings bank, "Caisse d'Epargne et de Prevoyance de Paris," deposits in 1926 showed a surplus of 28,953,574 francs, or nearly 20 per cent., over the figures for 1925. The number of depositors, however, declined from 232,073 in 1923 to 213,620 in 1926, the decrease being specially marked during the summer and autumn months. Withdrawals, which numbered 128,550, exceeded by 46,433,197 francs the figures for 1925.

The total results obtained by private savings banks during 1926, as published by the French Ministry of Labour and transmitted to the Bankers' Trust Company of New York by its French Information Service, show that 379,240 new accounts were opened as against 434,025 in 1925 and 376,548 in 1924. The total number of depositors showed little change—38,872,883 as against 8,879,974 in the preceding year. Deposits amounted to 3,613,395,000 francs (2,951,864,000 in 1925) and withdrawals to 2,646,049,000 francs (2,050,899,000 in 1925). If the accrued interest be taken into account, the total deposits in private banks will be seen to have increased in 1926 by 1,372 million francs and the total amount of capital deposited on December 31, 1926, was roughly 11,203 million francs as against 9,831 million francs a year before.

Deposits in the National Postal Savings Bank also showed an increase over the preceding year of about 330 million francs, the total increase for the year being 11.80 per cent., or 4,400 million francs as against 3,935,727,000 in 1925.

During 1927 deposits have continued to increase while withdrawals have been fewer. In July deposits exceeded withdrawals by 1,423,000,000 francs. The law of August 20, 1926, raised the limit of individual private deposits in French savings banks to 13,000 francs and of mutual aid societies to 50,000 francs. The interest rate is 4½ per cent. tax free, while interest on deposits in private joint stock banks is subject to a tax of 18 per cent. Also each member of a family may open a separate drawing account, which means that a family of six may keep cash on hand to the amount of 78,000 francs. This explains the increasing number of savings accounts belonging to heads of small trading or industrial concerns—16.2 per cent. as against 5.1 per cent. before the war.

BROOKINGS, S. D., Sept. 2. — Tourists on the main highways soon will be free from worry about punctures. REMARKABLE PERFORMANCE!

Hudson Cars Tested With Kerosene as Fuel.

"GOOD AS HIGH TEST GAS" SAYS MR. BREWER

Proof that Hudson Super-Six cars, with the new type high compression motor, will operate on any type of fuel, was given in a recent test near St Louis, Mo., where a Super-Six sedan was driven over varying roads at 40 miles an hour with kerosene as fuel News of this demonstration has been received by C. L. Brewer, Hudson-Essex distributor here, from the Hudson Motor Car Company.

With the test observed by newspaper representatives, the car operated as smoothly and satisfactorily on the kerosene as on high test gas, according to the reports. Even on hills the low test fuel is said to have presented no difficulties. A check-up showed that the big Super-Six Sedan had averaged 15.1 miles per gallon of kerosene. On the return trip to St. Louis as a matter of comparison the fuel was changed to ordinary gasoline; the car's mileage on this fuel was 17.9 miles to the gallon.

"The successful operation of this Hudson car on such extremely low-test fuel" said Mr. Brewer, "is due to the new motor with which all Hudson Super-Six models are equipped —a high compression type engine designed for the consumption of 'any old gas.' What the Hudson did in this instance is due to new and exclusive features of modern high compression design.

"The current Hudson and Essex motors are both of the high compression type. While the Hudson motor is technically known as the F-head type and the Essex motor as the L-head these distinctions are chiefly due to adapting design to motor size. Both motors have the same results so far as the owner is concerned. Each motor is designed according to the requirements of its particular size.

"The trend toward motor car design is strongly in the direction of high compression motors. Hudson and Essex have taken the lead in this field because the high compression motors designed by their engineers do not need premium-price fuels for successful operation. Any ordinary motor fuel purchased at any wayside station will bring satisfactory and even strikingly successful results. The cars provide amazing standard of performance and a fuel economy which is the result of skilled and original design."

WEDDING BELLS.

LAVIS—BARR.
The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Barr, Smith's Falls, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their only daughter, Marion Kathleen Barr, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Roy Lavis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lavis of Whitby. Rev. J. Semple, pastor of the United church, officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was unattended, and looked lovely in a quaint period gown of white taffeta over dainty frilled georgette. She wore silver shoes and hose. Her bouquet was of Butterfly roses and lilies of the valley. A buffet luncheon was served following the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Lavis left on a motor trip through the United States. They will reside in Oshawa.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COUNCIL OPENS 8TH SESSION AT GENEVA

OFFICERS ELECTED.

Reduction of World Armaments is Predominant Topic Before Assembly.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept. 6. — (Canadian Press). — The eighth assembly of the League of Nations began its sessions yesterday with 48 countries represented. Most of the day was occupied with the election of officers, the heads of committees and speeches. The old barnlike "Hall of Reformation," in which the Assembly sits, presented a colourful aspect, at least so far as its occupants were concerned, as almost every hue of the human skin was to be seen. There was, however, lacking the picturesque native costumes which have enlivened the scene on previous occasions.

For the first time in league history the President of the Assembly was not in formal morning dress, Senor Guani, an out and out democrat, presiding in a plain blue sack suit, and no waistcoat— an omission which the heat of the hall amply justified.

The assembly opened with an address by Enrique Villegas, of Chile, who is now functioning as President of the League Council, and proceeded with promtitude to elect another latin American diplomat, Alberto Guani, of Uruguay, as its permanent President—the third time in league history that Latin America has thus been honored.

A majority of the delegates from nations great and small who voted preferred Senor Guani to Count Mensdorff-Pouilly Dietrichstein, of Austria, a pre-war diplomat of the old school. Twenty four votes were cast for Senor Guani and 21 for Count Mensdorff. The Uruguayan was supported notably by Great Britain, France and Germany.

Reduction of Armaments.

GENEVA, Sept. 6. —(Canadian Press). — Reduction of world armaments stands out as the predominant topic before the assembly of the League of Nations which held its opening session here yesterday morning.

France and Germany are alone apparently in insisting upon something being done in the domain of disarmament whose cause was chilled by the difficulty the League's preparatory commission found in drafting a suitable protocol, which would serve as a basis for an international conference, and by the failure of the recent three power naval conference.

M. Paul-Boncour said that if a disarmament debate failed to develop he would start one himself, and the German spokesman declared that Paul-Boncour need not worry about thi, because Gustave Stresemann, the German foreign secretary, "very much intended to start such a debate.

"Do not forget," said the German speaker, "that Germany has only an army of 100,000, possesses only freight carrying or omnibus aeroplanes and no effective anti-craft guns, while France has a mighty army and powerful fleets of wartime pursuit and bombing planes. Moreover, on our eastern frontiers Poland has a standing army of 300,000 and a potential army of 1,500,000. Yes, we are very much interested in the reduction of armaments."

Germany, he continued hoped for a place on the League's mandate commission and expectantly awaited restoration of at least one colony in Africa in order to provide such raw materials as rubber, olive oil and perhaps cotton, to give German manufacturers a fair chance in the international markets.

Anti-Alcoholism.

Anti-alcoholism which was supported vigorously at last year's assembly by the Finish, Polish and Swedish delegations, is also apt to be the subject of energetic debate this year. A resolution upon the agenda declares that various world organizations founded to protect society against alcoholism have long been endeavoring to secure official action against "this scourge of the world."

Referring to the efforts of the United States to enforce prohibition by the negotiations of anti-rum running conventions, the resolution insists that experience shows there can be no hope of success without uniform international action and to combat alcoholism proposes that the problem be examined scientifically in the hope of achieving fruits beneficial to humanity.

Numerous meetings of international societies and groups dedicated to the promotion of international cooperation for peace are to be held in Geneva simultaneously with the assembly.

Among the conferences will be an international gathering founded by prominent Englishmen with the object of considering if the League of Nations is becoming a real means of appeasement and an instrument of

End of the World Is Again Predicted

PARIS, Sept. 6.—The end of the world has been predicted once more, this time by the Seventh Day Adventists of the North of France, who met here for their annual congress.

According to the signs on which the prophecy is based, the second coming of Christ will take place within a few months.

TRADE CONGRESS OPENS SESSION

Issue Warning That Legislation Would Drive Workers To Underhand Methods.

NEED CO-OPERATION.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—A warning that trade union legislation will drive workers to "underground and dubious methods to do what they formerly did in the light of day was sounded yesterday at the opening of the annual Trade Union Congress.

President George Hicks, leader of the Building Trade Workers, sounded the warning in his opening speech. He also held out the olive branch to employers, stressing the importance of creating a machinery for bringing them together with workers to peaceably negotiate settlement of trade disputes.

"Practically nothing has been done to establish an effective machinery for industry as a whole," he said. "There are many problems for which joint discussion would prove valuable at the present time. A much fuller use can be made of machinery for joint consultation and negotiation between employers and employed.

"Such a direct exchange of practical views would be of far greater significance than the suggestion which has been made for a spectacular national congress to discuss a vague aspiration toward "industrial peace." A discussion along these lines would bring both sides face to face with the hard realities of the present economic situation and might yield useful results in showing upon what terms co-operation is possible."

Danger of War.

Mr. Hicks also warned of the danger of another war through the militarism of men in power and alluded to the question of the relations with Soviet Russia, which is expected to come up for discussion.

Mr. Hicks maintained an uncompromising attitude toward the Trades Union Act, the recent Parliamentary measure which among other things makes general strikes illegal and strengthens the law regarding the prevention of intimidation in connection with strikes. Trade unionism, he said, will have to find new methods if it is to survive.

The assemblage for the congress was the smallest in many years. This lack of attendance was said to be due to the decrease in trade union membership since the failure of the general strike and the miners' strike.

Woman Recaptures Bees Single-Handed

CONVENTION OF MAGISTRATES GREAT SUCCESS

Attendance at Kingston Large —Visitors Well Entertained.

GOOD ADDRESSES GIVEN.

Magistrate Langley, of Peterborough Elected President—Next Meeting in Toronto.

His Worship Magistrate Langley, when interviewed after Police Court this morning, said that the Magistrates' convention held last week in Kingston was the most successful meeting the Ontario association has ever had.

Over half the Magistrates of Ontario were present, and they were royally entertained by the City of Kingston, and particularly by Col. T. Ashmore Kidd, M.P.P., who gave much of his time and energy to the entertainment of the magistrates and their wives. He planned motor trips for the ladies when the historical points of interest in the City of Kingston were shown them, and also Gananoque and the Thousand Islands.

His Worship said that all the addresses were splendid and would be a great advantage to the magistrates. It is Magistrate Langley's intention, as president, that at the next convention, which is to be held in Toronto, there will be much of a practical value for the members.

His Worship also said that the address of Attorney-General Price was very practical and useful, and that the association is going to have it printed and distributed to all the magistrates of the province.

Every other year the convention will be held in Toronto, and His Worship expressed the hope that Peterborough City Council might see fit to invite the association to meet here in 1929.

ADVANCE MADE IN SANITATION

Number of Houses in the City Without Sewer Being Rapidly Reduced.

NOW LESS THAN 400.

At the present rate of progress, says A. G. Metheral, the Plumbing Inspector, within four years, every house in Peterborough within reasonable proximity to the sewage lines, will have sewer connections. In other words, except for those in a few restricted areas, where there are no sewers, all the houses of the city will be connected to the system.

During the present year, forty-three outdoor closets have been abolished in favor of the more sanitary arrangements. Last year seventy-one houses were given sewer connections. In 1919, there were considerably more than a thousand houses with outdoor closets; to day the number is less than four hundred. The most rapid reduction took place in the years 1922 and 1923. In the former year, 135 houses were given sewer connections; in the latter year 124.

That Peterborough has still some ground to cover in order to equal the standard attained by the most advanced cities in the Dominion, is evident from the figures quoted by Mr. Metheral. One year ago Ottawa had only 71 houses within its boundaries that had no sewer connection. Toronto with its more than half a million inhabitants, had less than 200, and Winnipeg had only 34.

Three years ago, declares Mr. Metheral the government passed a measure that greatly facilitated the obtaining of sewer connections by the residents of localities like Peterborough. Under this act the councils are empowered to charge the cost of installation of sewer connections on the taxes the total sum being accounted for in five annual instalments. All that has to be done so far as the householder is concerned is to make application to the Board of Health. That body considers the matter and if all things are in order grants the request. The matter then goes to the council for final approval and the householder gets the benefits of the easy terms provided for by the Act of the Legislature.

VASES STOLEN FROM GRAVES IN CEMETERY

Many Complaints of Petty Pilfering Received By Management.

REMEDY SUGGESTED.

Marking of Grave Numbers on Containers Would Help Cemetery Men.

Petty pilfering has reared its ugly head in one of the most unlikely places in the city—Little Lake Cemetery.

During recent days many complaints have been made of vases being taken from plots to accommodate bouquets in other graves. In some cases, the rightful owners finding the metal containers missing from the graves of their relatives instituted a search through other parts of the cemetery and found their property on other mounds.

"We have recognized that this sort of thing has been happening on and off during a long time," said William James, Superintendent of Little Lake Cemetery, "but we are practically powerless to stop it." Mr. James points out that to set a man to watch the graves would not serve much to stop the mischief. For one reason, while the watcher was on duty in one part of the cemetery, pilfering could take place in other portions. For another reason, that no man can possibly be expected to know who are entitled to remove vases and who are not.

Men employed in the cemetery remove the flowers as they wither and in the spring they gather up the containers that are lying around after the winter storms. These are kept in a store room and are later given to the rightful claimants. Mr. James, however, emphasizes the fact that the cemetery authorities cannot be responsible for the safety of flower holders.

The remedy lies very much in the hands of the owners themselves. His suggestion is that each plot holder placing containers on the graves should mark on them the number of the grave the range in which it is placed, and its section. This, he says, is much better than inscribing initials or even the full name. A man working in the cemetery can easily tell by the location marks whether a flower holder is in its proper place. Where they were absolutely sure that an unauthorized person was interfering with decorations on a grave the men would undoubtedly interpose but it was a serious matter to challenge one who might have every right to remove vases.

As an example of self help in protecting such propertly, Mr. James quotes a case of a local family who found some flower holders missing from the graves of their friends. Fortunately they had taken care to paint the cotnainers in a distinctive color, and, on looking around, had little difficulty in identifying the missing articles placed on a nearby grave.

More regular visitation of the graves, thinks Mr. James, might also be an assistance in keeping things intact. Some people visit the cemetery to place flowers on the graves on Decoration Day and do not return until the Decoration Day of next year. It is very difficult he says, to trace articles that may have been removed eleven months before.

Needless to say, all concerned are determined that anyone found guilty of such lack of common respect as to be capable of perpetrating such ghoulish thefts will be prosecuted without any thought of leniency.

The revival of the bustle has been prophesied many times during the past few years. Yet up to the present time the prophesy never has been fulfilled. But now it has arrived in a modified form, in the shape of horse-tail sashes, said to be the latest fashion vagary seen in Paris and London. Boned so that they stand right out in a sort of half moon at the back of the skirt, at a distance the effect of the sash is exactly that of a tail, at the same time providing a bustle silhouette.

LAUNCH FIRES KILL TWO AND INJURE THREE

Man Is Drowned and Girl Missing Since Boats Burned.

IN WESTERN CANADA.

One Power Yacht Destroyed at Vancouver and One at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—Following an explosion in a small power boat at Sandy Hook, Lake Winnipeg, yesterday, W. S. King, prominent Winnipeg grain broker, was drowned. His wife and daughter were rescued from the water in an exhausted condition, while two young sons swam to shore. Mrs. King's condition is reported as serious.

The explosion of the outboard motor set fire to the boat, and in the endeavor to extinguish the flames, the boat was capsized, throwing the occupants into the lake. The two young lads, Donald, ten, and William, eight, struck out for shore, while the twelve-year-old girl clung to the overturned boat and assisted her mother until both were rescued.

Little Girl Missing.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—One person is missing, one is seriously burned and may not recover, a number suffered burns or more or less serious injury, and property damage estimated at more than fifteen thousand dollars was done when the power yacht Sutil, owned by R. Whitelaw of this city, was destroyed by fire yesterday just prior to the start of the championship sculling race between Major Goodsell and Bert Barry.

Whitelaw's daughter Jean, aged nine, is missing, and it is feared she met death, and Mrs. Hugh Davis is in hospital suffering from burns and shock from which she may not recover.

CITY PLEASES NOTED VISITOR

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen Makes First Pleasure Trip To Peterborough.

LIKES GOLF LINKS.

Unheralded by any spectacular display of welcome a distinguished visitor spent the holiday in Peterborough in the person of the Right Honorable Arthur Meighen, who, with Mrs. Meighen, and their son and daughter, was the guest of Alderman and Mrs. Roland Denne, on Sunday and Monday.

The former Premier whose earlier visits to the city were brief hurried affairs at night consisting of a trip from the station to one of the public halls for a speech with all his attention taken up by political matters, was agreeably surprised by Peterborough, as he saw it for the first time by daylight. He declared it was the cleanest and tidiest city he had set eyes on, praised the Exhibition grounds, saying that he had no idea they were so spacious and well appointed, and was delighted by the golf links, on which he played yesterday. For a city its size, he thought the link.. were marvellous.

"Mr. Meighen's visit had no political significance whatever" said Alderman Denne this afternoon. "It was purely a personal call."

SLEEPS, LOSES CLOTHES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2. — It was a nice night in Central Park, so Christopher Dandurand lay down for nap, beneath a clump of bushes. Later he awoke and tried to pull his coat closer about him. To his horror, he found he had no coat, nor shoes, nor trousers. A taxi driver took him to a police station in a blanket.

Trans-Atlantic Flier Is Laid Up As Result Of Free-For-All Mix-In

PARIS, Sept. 6 (A.P.).—An Italian stone mason named Rodesco was under arrest last night and Leon Givon, pilot of the "Bluebird," who has been waiting for favorable weather to hop off on a trans-Atlantic flight to America, was confined to his room as the result of a free-for-all fight near Le Bourget flying field.

The free-for-all occurred Saturday night on a road by which Givon was leaving the field. It was reported that Givon encountered ruffians who taunted him for "lacking courage" to hop off for New York. Givon offered to prove his courage in a fist fight and suffered manhandling when the ruffians accepted his challenge collectively.

Givon suffered a broken finger and an injury to his right arm. One eye was closed and his face was scratched. The police account showed that three men attacked Givon, Rodesco striking the aviator on the jaw before a gathering crowd separated them.

Prince Henry Will Occupy York House

LONDON Sept. 6.—Great Britain' "soldier prince," as well as the Prince of Wales, is to have a new London residence as soon as the Canadian trip of the heir to the throne is completed.

When the Prince of Wales moves into Marlborough House upon his return to London, York House, his former residence, will be occupied by Prince Henry, King George's third son.

Believed He May Have Landed Safely on Northwest Coast.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—Private as well as governmental agencies in Newfoundland joined yesterday in a search of the bleak Labrador coast for the missing English plane at St. Raphael, which took off from Upavon, England, last Wednesday morning in an attempted non-stop flight to Ottawa, Ont.

Several business firms here with branches in Labrador notified their agents to make enquiries along the coast as to whether a plane was seen or heard in that region. Because of the imperfect communications it was not expected that replies would be received here before today.

In the meantime the Government, through its coastal vessels, lighthouse service and chain of wireless stations along the Newfoundland and Labrador shores, continues its search for the St. Raphael and its occupants, Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, passenger; Captain Leslie Hamilton, pilot; and Lt.-Col. F. P. Minchin, navigator.

Wireless Stations

There are nine wireless stations on the Atlantic coast of Labrador extending for 450 miles. The more northerly of these stations serve areas where the population is very scattered and isolated and Superintendent Collins of the government wireless service said yesterday that a week might elapse before any news was heard of the fliers, if they were forced down on that part of the coast.

The mail steamer Kyle, which makes fortnightly trips from St. John's, plying along the Labrador coast to Makkovik, is now in the north. The vessel is equipped with wireless and the fact that she made no report is construed here as meaning that she heard or saw nothing of the missing plane.

The hospital ship Strathcona of the Grenfell Labrador mission is also on the Labrador coast conducting summer work among the fishermen. She does not carry wireless, but it is assumed here that if she heard anything of the missing fliers she would steam at once to the nearest wireless station and report the facts. There are ten lighthouses along the coast from Battle Harbor, northward, but none possesses wireless equipment.

May Be On Coast

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—The English trans-Atlantic plane St. Raphael may have landed safely on the Labrador coast, Captain Abraham Kean, commodore of the Newfoundland sealing fleet, said after studying a report that the plane had been sighted by the British tanker Josiah Macy, 900 miles off the Irish coast Wednesday night.

Captain Kean, who has been engaged in sealing and fishing operations off the Labrador for fifty years, said that if the plane continued on its course as far as Labrador it would first have sighted some vessels of the Newfoundland cod fishing fleet now operating there in fine weather. The fliers would see settlers' cottages dotted along the coast singly or in groups.

Communication Poor

The pilot would have been able to identify his position, the captain said, and if short of fuel would have landed for an additional supply. If this occurred at a point remote from a wireless station, a week might elapse before the news reached such a station and ultimately the outside world.

If the weather was foggy, Captain Kean said, the situation of the fliers would be desperate. If they penetrated into the interior of Labrador and were there forced to descend, they would find the unpeopled wilderness in which Leonidas Hubbard, an explorer, perished of starvation twenty-five years ago.

VANCOUVER B. C., September 6 —Canadian Press. — June Le Bond, aged 20, of Portland, Ore., died in the general hospital here Sunday as the result of a bullet wound in the head, said to have been self-inflicted.

CARLING FLIGHT POSTPONED UNTIL PLANE IS OVERHAULED

Fliers Decide Not To Leave Harbor Grace Until To-morrow.

PLANE NEARLY BURNED.

Hearst Plane Leaves Old Orchard On Non-Stop Flight To Rome.

HARBOR GRACE, Newfoundland, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—The hop-off of the London-to-London plane, Sir John Carling, was postponed today until tomorrow morning. The fliers, Capt. Terry Tully, and Lieut. James Medcalf, decided to devote today to overhauling their plane, which arrived here yesterday from Caribou, Maine.

The hop-off was delayed this morning when it was thought advisable to give the plane an overhauling because of a fire that occurred last night while it was being refueled, although the monoplane was quickly pushed out of the danger zone and suffered no damage. Capt. Tully and Lieut. Medcalf hoped to commence the long hop to England between eleven and twelve o'clock.

At Old Orchard, Maine, two trans-Atlantic planes and their crews were to hop off today with the promise of nearly ideal weather. They are the Royal Windsor, a Canadian aspirant for trans-marine honors, and the Old Glory, backed by William Randolph Hearst.

The Old Glory had Rome as its destination, while the Royal Windsor which left Windsor, Ontario, last Thursday, faced its nose toward Windsor, England. The Old Glory planned to start shortly after noon but Phil Wood and Duke Schiller, the pilots of the other plane, announced they would get under way at the earliest possible moment, probably before eleven o'clock.

Detroiters at Calcutta

CALCUTTA, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—Forging steadily ahead in their endeavor to break the record for a voyage around the earth, William Brock and Edward Schlee arrived here today from Allahabad.

The trip, made in four hours and forty minutes, added 485 miles to their log and put them 8,120 miles from the starting point, Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, which they left August 27.

Old Glory Away..

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Sept. 6 — The plane Old Glory, bound for Rome, took off from the beach here at 1.23 p.m. eastern daylight time today. The plane carried three men. A nonstop flight was planned. J. B. Hill won the toss of a coin from his co-pilot, Lloyd Betraud, and took his seat at the controls. The giant ship rolled easily down the beach at the start, gradually gaining momentum. After about a mile and a half the wheels left the ground and the Old Glory rose slowly but steadily into the air.

A few minutes later the plane was a speck on the horizon as it gained speed and altitude rapidly with a helping wind of fifteen miles from the south-west.

Phil Payne, representative of William Randolph Hearts, who is sponsoring the flight, was the last to enter the plane before the take-off. While Hill and Betraud were climbing into the cockpit, he had raced back to kiss his wife, Dorothy, good-bye once more.

Frogskins Worn By Men of Paris

PARIS, Sept. 6.—Milady now uses elephant hide for raincoats, shoes, bags and grips. A method has been found permitting to make the rough hide supple.

But milady's husband has to be content with skins of frogs as a novelty. This material is light and waterproof.

DEMAND RECALL OF PARIS ENVOY

PRESS LEADS CAMPAIGN.

PARIS, Sept. 6 (Associated Press). —A campaign demanding the resignation and recall of Christian Rakovsky as Soviet Ambassador to Paris is assuming great intensity and bitterness in all the newspapers excepting the Extreme Lefts and Communists. Even the staid and sober Temps says measures must be taken to prevent a recurrence of the Soviet Ambassador inciting workers to rebel against the Bourgeoise Government and calling upon soldiers to disobey their chiefs. The French Foreign Office has issued an official communique relative to the Rakovsky incident, saying that the Soviet Government, under the signature of Foreign Minister Tchitcherin officially disavowed their Ambassador, "reproving in the most formal manner the idea that any one of its representatives in France could attempt to organize insurrection and desertion on French territory while the Soviet Government is entertaining the most peaceful relation with the French Government."

It is stated unofficially that the incident likely will be cleared by the resignation of M. Rakovsky.

Relations between France and the Russian Soviet Government became strained because of the signature of Rakovsky to a proclamation urging workers in all countries to rise.

Becoming Intolerable.

Jean Herbette, French Ambassador to Moscow, spent two weeks of July in Paris, and when he returned to his post it was reported that he carried instructions that the Soviet Government be informed that Communistic propaganda in France was becoming intolerable to French public opinion. At that time the French Foreign Office said M. Herbette was not instructed to make official representations involving both Governments in an exchange of notes, but official circles, it was said, were certain that the French Ambassador was to make the Soviet Government cognizant in an informal and unofficial manner of the sentiment of the French people and Government.

M. Herbette called upon Foreign Minister Tchitcherin the very day of his arrival back at Moscow and was reported to have informed the Soviet Foreign Minister quite plainly that if the Soviet Government entertains hopes of coming to an agreement with France on the lines of trade, commerce and industry, the Soviet Embassy at Paris would have to put a stop to its alleged activities.

H. W. D. Armstrong, well-known Canadian engineer, who organized an expedition to Port Nelson in connection with the original Hudson Bay Railway proposal in 1882. As the result of his studies, he came to the conclusion, in that year, that Fort Churchill was the logical terminal, thus anticipating by 45 years the report of Frederick Palmer, the British esturial expert. Mr. Armstrong was for many years an engineer on the C.P.R. Later he joined Hugh Sutherland, the original Hudson Bay Railway proposer.

REDFERN SIGHTED OFF VENEZUELA

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 6 (A.P.).—The Norwegian steamship Christian Krong, docking here late yesterday, reported that it had sighted Paul Redfern, and his aeroplane, Port of Brunswick, August 26.

Redfern circled about the ship for some time, it was reported, and dropped five notes, three of which sought directions. He last was seen, officers said, heading in the direction of the Venezuelan mainland, 160 miles away. Between him and the mainland was a group of islands, but 100 miles from the point where he was sighted by the ship.

Officers expressed the opinion that Redfern has either reached the mainland or had landed on one of the islands between the ship and the continent.

The ship was proceeding from Port Au Spain, Trinidad, to Kingston, Jamaica, when the plane was sighted.

At the time the plane was sighted, the ship was in latitude 13.7 north and longitude 60.37 west.

The plane descended to within hailing distance of the deck and circled back over the ship, dropping a note enclosed in a round pasteboard box.

The note read:

"Please point ship toward nearest land."

Apparently he was not satisfied that the ship's officers had understood the note, they said.

CANADA'S GOLD FIELD INCREASING MINE CONGRESS MEMBERS HEAR

Learn of Rich Production of Dominion's Various Provinces.

ONTARIO OUTPUT LARGE.

Manitoba Has Prospects — Quebec Already Producing —Other Provinces.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—The development and future prospects of gold mining in the various provinces of Canada, was reviewed with optimism today by G. E. Cole, Inspector Mines, South Porcupine, Ont., in a paper read before the meeting here of the Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress.

Although the Province of Manitoba, in which the meeting was held, had not yet become an important producer of gold, there had been interesting developments in recent years in the Central and Nortnern Manitoba mining areas, said Mr. Cole, and some mines have now reached the producing stage. The ores occur in pre-Cambrian rocks similar in general way to those with which the gold deposits of Northern Ontario are associated.

Mr. Cole outlined the story of Ontario's rapid rise to the position of third largest producer of gold among the countries of the world, a story that was new in many of its details to the delegates from other parts of the Empire attending the meeting. The gold output last year from mines in the province had a value of approximately $31,000,000, and the fact that, in each succeeding year, the record of the previous year is exceeded may be taken as proof that it will be many years before even the mines now operating reach their maximum output.

The most important development in recent years had been the discovery that the mineralized belt of Northern Ontario extends eastward from the Kirkland and Larder Lake districts into the Province of Quebec, and a number of ore deposits of large size and proved value have been developed in the Rouyn and surrounding districts during the past four or five years. In some of these the values are mainly in gold, but most of them are essentially of copper ores, with some associated gold.

Mr. Cole spoke optimistically of the future for both Quebec and Manitoba as producers of gold. In Nova Scotia, also, he pointed to the greatly increased activity in the old gold-mining districts, which is largely a result of the amendments made during the last session of the provincial legislature to the Mining Act. British Columbia's present gold production come mainly from mines in the northern coast district, and here also there are great possibilities, as the Coast range, throughout most of its length, remains virgin ground for the prospector.

WEDDING BELLS.

FAWCETT—BAKER.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 6.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Baker, Front street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday when their only daughter, Reta Aileen, became the bride of Wesley W. Fawcett, B.A.Sc., Toronto.

At eleven-thirty, to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Miss Dorothy West, the bride, on the arm of her father, entered the room and took her place beneath an arch of evergreen and autumnal flowers. She wore a French period gown of white satin with silver trimming, the lace overdrape reaching to her ankles. Her veil was of net embroidery caught with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen Bygott, wore a charming gown of Dutch blue georgette over peach, large black picture hat and carried Sweetheart roses. William Ward Baker, brother of the bride, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. G. McKee of Baltimore, Ont., cousin of the groom.

During the signing of the register, Miss Roxie Wilson played "Perfect Day." Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding party withdrew to the dining room where a buffet wedding breakfast was served. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. J. G. McKee. The groom's brief response was exceptionally well worded and spoken. Mr. W. J. Baker of Warkworth, grandfather of the bride, proposed the toasts to the parents and the cousins to which Mr. T. S. Baker and Mr. Musgrave, of Corbyville, responded.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful gold compact, to the bridesmaid, a silver compact, to the groomsman, a chain of gold and to the pianists, silver handbags. Mr. T. S. Baker's gift to the young couple was a cheque of generous proportions.

Almost immediately after the wedding breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Fawcett left by motor for Havelock. They will travel by rail to the Muskoka Lakes where most of their honeymoon will be spent. Mrs. Fawcett wore a very smart flat crepe dress, black in color and trimmed with maize, a black corded silk coat with white trimmings and hat and shoes to match. After their honeymoon they will reside at 1278 College street, Toronto.

Some of the out of town guests at the wedding were: Miss S. J. Fawcett, Hamilton; Mrs. M. J. Baker, Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilson, Hastings; Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Barker, Picton; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Musgrave, Corbyville; Mrs. C. J. Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker and Miss Blanche all of Warkworth; Mrs. J. G. McKee of Baltimore, whose husband officiated at the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. W. Locke, Toronto.

SEVEN KILLED WHEN LABORER RUNS AMUCK

Out of Employment, Youngstown Man Takes Lives of Family.

FIVE WOUNDED.

Wounds Patrolman in the Thigh Before He Is Taken Into Custody.

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, Sept. 6. — (Canadian Press).—Seven persons were killed and five others wounded here because one man, a laborer, was out of employment. Two of the wounded are reported near death.

Late Saturday night Tony De Capua, 42, steel worker, worried because he had no work, shot and killed his wife, three daughters and three grandchildren while in a depressed mood. He said he intended to end his own life. He is alive, however, because his gun "jammed" when it came time to turn it on himself.

The bodies of the seven persons were found in different rooms of the De Capua home, where the crazed man had chased them and shot them down. Three infants were killed in their beds.

De Capua, shot down by police who were called by neighbors when the shots were fired, said at a hospital he had quarreled with his wife over financial matters and because of unemployment, and he decided to "get rid of them all." His voice choked with emotion. De Capua then described how he killed each one.

The dead were:

Mrs. Mary De Capua, 36, his wife; three daughters: Elizabeth 11, Annie 6, Gladys four months, and three grandchildren: Mary 3, Junior 14 months, and Catherine 2 months.

Patrolman Wounded.

After the shooting within the house, De Capua went outside. He was standing on the curbing of the street when police arrived, and immediately pened fire on the officers. Patrolman Leo Tyrell, 35, fell shot through the thigh.

In the fight between De Capua and the officers which followed, De Capua was wounded and captured by police. Gladys De Capua, 34, his daughter-in-law, and Ferdinand Goodwinski, 52, J. B. Giebordas, 50, neighbors, were wounded.

At a hospital physicians said the daughter-in-law and Goodwinski were in a very serious condition.

Three children escaped De Capua's gun fire. They were found crying, standing beside the other bodies in the house.

FLOWER SOCIAL

Young Folk of Millbrook Hold Flower and Candy Sale.

MILLBROOK, Sept. 6. — A very pleasing event took place at the home of Mrs. F. H. Smith on Saturday afternoon when a number of the younger folk held a sale of flowers, and home-made candy, with the service of afternoon tea, the proceeds being donated to the fund for providing city children with an outing at a Fresh Air Camp for a period of ten days, or two weeks.

There was a general sympathy with a worthy object in view, and the sale was well patronized, while again and again the daintily-decorated tea tables were filled with interested guests.

The little folk in charge included: Bernice Smith, Edna McKnight, Betty Carveth, Susanne Grasett, and Marie Douglas, and supervising the affair generally were Mrs. H. R. Armstrong, Mrs. T. Douglas, Mrs. S. Carveth and Mrs. Smith. Misses Alice Armstrong and Margaret Armstrong looked after the receipts from the candy sale, the little girls being eager to hand the boxes of sweetmeats to the purchasers. The educational value of helping the children to take an active part in giving assistance to others less fortunately situated than themselves can hardly be over-estimated, and it was this feature the mothers had in mind, as well as the need of the outing for the city children, that the mothers had in mind when planning the event.

Little A. T. Armstrong helped to entertain the guests by some songs, accompanying himself on the ukelele, and there were radio selections, besides the social intercourse which was much enjoyed.

The proceeds amounted to over thirty dollars.

HONORS AWARDED

Miss Hazel Morton Winner of Baptie Scholarship for 1927.

MILLBROOK, Sept. 6.—The winners of the Baptie scholarship for 1927 have been announced as follows: First, Hazel Morton, S. S. No. 4, Whitfield's, Miss Ethel McKnight teacher; second, Duncan Donald, S. S. No. 5, Cavan, Mr. R. Sutton teacher.

The endowment for the scholarship was made by the late Miss Margaret Baptie, of Ottawa, who bequeathed $1,000 to the township of Cavan, the interest of which is annually to be given to two pupils from schools in this township, the Council determining the standard. The two who stand highest each year in the entrance examination to high school receive $35.00 and $22.50 respectively, and a framed certificate of the scholarship. Congratulations are warmly extended to the two scholars who have been successful this year.

Last year Miss Audrey Larmer and Gladys Williamson, both pupils of Miss McKnight, had the honor of carrying off the prizes.

CASINO CLOSES AT TRENT RIVER

CARS LOOTED

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 6.—As a fitting conclusion to a very successful season, Coral Gables Casino closed its doors Saturday night after enjoying the patronage of a large crowd of dancers. The music was the best of the season and the dancers expressed their appreciation by their many requests for numbers that had been their favorites during the season and in their sincere applause of each number played.

The Casino, located as it is in a large two-story cement block building on the very edge of the river, has afforded the ideal dancing place during the entire summer. Even the faintest breath of wind finds its way among the colorful decorations, creating an atmosphere at once pleasing and ideal for dancing. The spacious gallery both inside and outside the building commands a delightful view of a long stretch of river where the scenic beauty is unsurpassed. It was with regret on the part of both the Casino staff and orchestra and dancers that the National Anthem, played at exactly eleven-thirty, brought the evening to a close and terminated the operation of the Casino for another season.

After the closing Mrs. Thomas Lloyd, Toronto, entertained the management of Coral Gables, the orchestra and several mutual friends at her cottage, Isle of View. There was but little time for anything but a very tasty buffet lunch before some of the members of the orchestra left for Havelock to take the train for Ottawa and places east. But each of the guests found an opportunity to express to Mr. Harold Burgess, manager of Coral Gables, their appreciation of the high standard of entertainment he had afforded them during the season, and a hope that he would return another year to continue his success.

Coral Gables is not merely a dance hall. It is the place where anyone may spend a pleasant evening with their friends. Spectators as well as dancers are made very welcome in the evenings and during the afternoons. Bridge is the form of entertainment afforded. The cottage colony which still remains will miss the society of Coral Gables.

Cars Looted.

It is a matter of regret on the part of several citizens of Campbellford that, just at the end of the Trent River season, petty thieves should put in an appearance among the parked cars outside the Coral Gables Casino. The loss of several articles was reported to Constable Seaborne, whose efficient action was responsible for the return of nearly every missing article. On the very last night, the thieves made a harvest of slickers, coats, sweaters, hats and other articles of clothing. Fortunately, Constable Seaborne was able to locate the culprit and recover the stolen articles. His own car resembled a coat check-room as the different articles were being returned to their owners. Having consideration for the fact that it was the last night of dancing, the owners of the missing articles preferred to dismiss the affair if their articles were returned. Otherwise, the issue might have been different. But in any case, Constable Seaborne is to be commended for the most efficient manner in which he has exercised his authority, not only in this matter, but during the entire season.

The local police are reminding motorists that there is a very strict law regarding lights on motor vehicles. Motorists would do well to see that their tail lights are in proper order and should not drive with only one headlight burning.

So far wild ducks are scarce in the marshes near here.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

international order or whether the hopes founded thereon are receding. This question will be considered with special reference to the interests of the workers. The topic of discussion in Geneva last night was the statement of Enrique Villegas of Chile, president of the league council, at yesterday's meeting that he saw no reason why the League of Nations could not interest itself in political problems outside of Europe.

Many Take Up Problems.

This is interpreted here as an allusion to the possibility that League council may take up any future political problems affecting the Latin-American states. Heretofore it has been understood in League circles that the Latin-American members preferred to settle among themselves and by themselves any political disputes arising on American continent by the process of arbitration which the Latin-American states have so strongly developed.

If the views of President Villegas meet with the approval of Latin-Americans generally, it is thought possible that the League of Nations may take on new political force and prestige, perhaps even endeavoring to settle the Tacna-Arica dispute.

M. Paul-Boncour, offical spokesman of the French delegation said: "The Latin-American states have only to bring any questions before the council," he said, "and the council will be only too glad to interest itself in the amicable settlement of these."

French as a fifth and sixth grade subject now is being offered in the elementary school at Oakwood, O. The study is open only to those who have demonstrated high intelligence.

WINDSOR TO WINDSOR FLIERS PLAN TAKE-OFF THIS MORNNG

Monoplane Royal Windsor Not To Follow Course of Old Glory.

COURTNEY HELD UP.

Aviators Announce Would Once More Follow an Independent Plan.

Old Orchard Beach, Maine, Sept. 6. Associated Press. — "Phil" Wood, co-pilot of the Monoplane Royal Windsor, announced last night at the home of friends at Grand Beach, near here, where he is spending the night, that impatient of the delays which have held the Fokker plane Old Glory here for two days, he would take off at daybreak to-day from Scarborough direct to Windsor England.

Wood intimated that the several postponements of the start of the Old Glory had caused him to abandon his previous plan of following in its wake to benefit by radio communication it has, and that the Windsor once more would follow an independent plan.

He said that there is still enough gas in the plane to take it to England, although none had been added to the original supply taken on at Windsor Ont., from whence his flight began Thursday.

Field Dried Out.

The Scarborough field, which was a mass of mud and water when he and G. A. "Duke" Schiller landed here last Saturday under a brisk wind and hot sun for two days has dried out sufficiently, Wood said to permit of a take off with a full load. He expressed great interest at the news from Caribou that the Sir John Carling had for a third time hopped off ahead of him.

His change in plans came suddenly after this news reached him

Sponsors and participants of the Old Glory's flight, were pleased rather than disappointed that a series of incidents had held the plane here for another night. On the basis of computation by James H. Carr of the New York weather bureau, who gave up his vacation in New Hampshire to assist the fliers it was believed that the Old Glory to-day would find fair weather off Newfoundland where yesterday fog banks were reported.

The plane yesterday afternoon was taken two miles up the beach from the hangar where the loading of the gasoline was completed. It will remain there and be prepared for a jump early this afternoon to Rome.

"Phil" Payne the representative of the flight sponsor, William Randolph Hearst, said that the plane was mechanically fit and fully equipped for a flight to-day.

Rush Preparations.

CRANWELL Eng., Sept. 6. — The Nottingham Evening News says yesterday that Capt. R. H. MacIntosh and Charles A. Levine are rushing preparations for trans-atlantic flights, both hoping to be the first to take off and adds that both planes are scheduled to hop-off at 6 o'clock this morning.

Hop-off Postponed.

CORUNNA, Spain, September 6. — Canadian Press. — Heavy fog yesterday caused postponement of the departure of Captain F. T. Courtney on his trans-atlantic flight. His flying boat, "Whale" which hopped off from Plymouth, and made a forced landing near here on Saturday, is in good shape, and Courtney and his flying companions are confident that they still have a chance to make the overseas voyage.

Arrive at Harbor Grace.

HARBOR GRACE Nfld., September 6. Canadian Press. — The monoplane Sir John Carling, attempting a trans-atlantic flight from London, Ontario, to London, England, landed on the flying field here at 4 o'clock Monday, Eastern standard time, from Caribou Maine.

In India.

ALAHABAD, India September 6.—Their round the world plane parked beside a railway station, the two American globe circling fliers, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee, spent last night resting here for their hop to Calcutta ,485 miles away, today.

Only a few reporters were present when the Stinson-Detroiter with 7635 miles of its trip around the globe behind it, landed at the aerodrome here yesterday. The aerodrome is near a wayside railway station, six miles from the city. But in a short time a few hundred villagers, ambling out of their countryside dwelling grouped themselves wonderingly around the Pride of Detroit.

Within half hour two military officers from the Allahabad brigade office, which had only then received a telegram announcing that the Pride of Detroit had taken off from Karachi, 925 miles away, came to visit the fliers. The officers arranged for provisions, and the bedding down of the aeroplane for the night, establing a guard over it.

Brock and Schlee were in excellent spirits, but both confessed being somewhat tired. They showed signs of strain and fatigue from their arduous flight. Both spoke highly of the efficency of the plane.

FLY-TOX QUICKLY ENDS MOSQUITO TORMENT

Normal human blood is too thick to be drawn through the mosquito's small piercing tube. They must first inject a thinning fluid. In that way disease germs are set afloat in the blood stream-bacteria of burning fever and crippling disease. There is also the danger of steptococcic infection (blood poisoning) from scratching the bite. Mosquitoes should be killed. Health authorities advocate Fly-Tox. Fly-Tox is easy to use. Safe, stainless, fragrant, sure.—Adv.

W. M. S. MEETING

Regular Business Discussed at Monthly Meeting of Warsaw Society.

WARSAW, Sept. 6.—The Women's Missionary Society met at Mrs. David Miller's home on Thursday afternoon.

The president and vice-president are both away from home. Mrs. George Taylor presided. No especial business was done. The ladies were reminded that the fiscal year of the United Church would end on December 31 instead of April 30. An effort will be made to raise the objective, one hundred dollars by that time. There is at present over fifty dollars on hand.

The topic for study was the first chapter of the study book, "New Paths for Old Purposes." Some of the main points were that human beings became larger in body and mind, not by wholly destroying the old, but by building on the old, possibly by doing some pruning, but never by destroying. Another point is that aircraft, telephones, radio and telegraphy have made the world smaller; people travel now. The missionary has not only to teach Christ but to overcome the evil done by nominal Christian in un-Christian lands. "Everything done by anyone anywhere." There must be no abating of the work by Christians.

Mesdames Foster and Hawthorne sang.

Mrs. Thomas Cooper gave a report of the sectional conference. It was very interesting. Mrs. Cooper must have carried away much of what she heard and saw for it was three weeks after the conference, when she was asked to give the report and she had taken no notes.

There was a strong appeal made for the garments for the Indian girls at the girls' school. What had seemed of most interest was Miss MacIntosh's talk on the work in China, of present conditions.

RAINY WEATHER DELAYS HARVEST

Grain Cutting Held up by Storm—Potato Rot Seen.

WARSAW, Sept. 6.—The rain the past week has been most disheartening. Grain had been wet till in some places it is almost rotted. The downpour on Friday morning drenched it again, and the air is so damp during the day there is but little drying. Some had to stack their grain and the stacks are quite wet. Some grain is still uncut.

There are some splendid crops of buckwheat in the district, if it can be properly harvested.

Tomatoes are ripening very slowly. Mrs. John Tucker, who usually has nice ripe ones about the first of August, has only an odd one yet, and others are about the same.

More and more reports come in of signs of rot in the potatoes. In some places they are lying in mud.

OBITUARY

MRS. JAS. M. ANDERSON.

MILLBROOK, Sept. 6.—The sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mrs. J. H. George, Fallis Line, who lost her mother recently, her decease occurring suddenly at the home of her son, Mr. Jas. M. Anderson, North Monaghan.

The late Mrs. Anderson was born in Monaghan, her maiden name being Jane Bell; her marriage to the late Erastus Anderson took place in Peterborough sixty-four years ago, and their first home was at Lucknow, in Bruce county; after twenty years they removed to Monaghan and here they resided practically the remainder of their married life. Her husband predeceased her by thirty years.

Deceased was an active member of the Methodist church, and an earnest Christian in belief and practice. She was a frequent visitor at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George and had been staying with the latter until within a week of the time her death occurred.

Rev. Mr. Mills had charge of the funeral services, speaking from the texts: "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints." (Psalm 116:15); and "To you which believes He is previous" (1 Peter 2:73.

Interment was in Little Lake cemetery.

The immediate surviving relatives include: three sons, William B., of Peterborough; George W., Winnipeg; Jas. M., of North Monaghan; and one daughter, Mrs. J. H. George, Fallis Line.

VERNA EVELYN GREENLY.

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 6—The death occurred Sunday evening of Verna Evelyn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Greenly, aged three days. Interment took place on Monday at Centre Church Cemetery.

STIRLING BOWLERS AT CAMPBELLFORD

Home Club Rinks Win Out in Evening's Sport.

The Campbellford Lawn Bowling Club on Friday entertained four rinks from Stirling at a friendly tournament. With nothing more at stake than the name of the game, the bowling was of a calibre seldom seen at other than championship tournaments. Each game was keenly contested and the resulting scores were very close.

For the first ten ends, Messrs L. B. Glover, R. J. Allan, W. S. Wiggins and T. S. Tait skipped the local rinks against Messrs J. W. Whitty, Wright, Morton and Leury. On the total score the visting rinks lost the round by nine points, Wright's victory over Allan being the only win for Striling These rinks were:

Stirling—skip, W. J. Whitty, Vice, Mrs. Bailey; 2nd, J. Lagrow and lead Mrs. Bellshaw.

Second rink—skip, Mr Wright; vice Mrs. W. J. Whitty; 2nd, R. W. Meiklejohn; and lead, Mrs. Butler.

Campbellford rinks— skip, Mr. L. Glover; vice, Mrs. Glover; 2nd, C. S. Gillespie; lead, Mrs. James Stewart.

Senond rink—skip, R. J. Allan; vice, Mrs. James Archer; 2nd, Mr. Lapp and lead, R. J. Allan.

Third rink—skip, W. S. Wiggins; vice, Mrs. Wiggins; 2nd, R. Veston; and lead, Mrs. A. J. Jenkins.

The scores for the first round — Whitty 8—Glover 11; Wright 12 — Allan 10; Morton 9 — Wiggins 16; Leury 7 — T. S. Tait 8. Totals — Campbellford 45, Stirling 36

For the second round Stirling made no changes in their rinks, but the local club, being desirous of allowing as many members as possible to participate, made several changes in their ranks. For the second round the following Campbellford bowlers went out of the greens, skip, James Archer, vice, Mrs. Glover; 2nd, W. S. Wiggins; lead, Mrs. Fred Linton.

Third rink— skip, Joseph Wilkinson; vice, Mrs. J. E. Birks; 2nd, A. J. Jenkins; and lead, Mrs. Townsend.

Stewart won from Wright of Stirling by a ten to seven score.

Leury, of Stirling, lost to Marks eight to fourteen, and Wilkinson did his share for his home town by winning from Whitty, ten to six. Totals, Campbellford 44 and Stirling 33. Thus on the entire play, the visitors lost by the narrow margin of twenty points.

During the evening, the Bridge tables of the club were made ready for the use of any of the members or visitors who were not on the greens or who preferred the shelter of the club house to the dampness of the night air. The greens had been well prepared for the event and during the afternoon, local members played a few ends. The heavy dew made the bowls very slippery to handle and this no doubt accounted for an occasional five and that was chalked up several times during the play.

Immediately after the bowling, the ladies of the Campbellford club served a tasty lunch which was welcomed by local members and visitors alike. The keen night air and the healthy sport combined to whet the appetities of contestants and those guess who were spectators only. The Stirling bowlers left by motor after having expressed their appreciation for an exceptionally fine evening of Lawn Bowling and their admiration for the local club as sporting winners.

The Campbellford Bowling Club is one of the strongest clubs in the district. It is well and favorably known and is one of the beauty spots of the community. Players from various towns and cities state most emphatically that the greens are second to none they have even seen.

The Pressureless Pen with Non-Breakable Barrel

28% lighter than rubber

Lesson No. 1 this Fall is that Parker's New Model Duofold introduces Pressureless Writing, and stays in perfect order or we make it good free—see standing offer below.

Pressureless Writing is something you've always wanted. It results from combining capillary attraction with gravity flow. This requires a fine channel between the nibs of the point. We grind it by hand, though the work is costly.

But it gives us a point that writes as no point ever wrote before. A feather-weight touch to paper is enough to start it instantly and to keep it going. And this point yields to every hand but never loses shape.

We now make the Duofold barrel of Parker's Non-Breakable Permanite—28% lighter than rubber formerly used. It comes in 5 colour combinations of jewel-like lustre and beauty—Jade, Lacquer-red, Lapis Lazuli Blue, Mandarin Yellow, Flashing Black and Gold—all with smart Black Tips.

A SUGGESTION FOR NEXT WEEK.

It is not too early perhaps to suggest to the merchants of Peterborough that they link up their business with the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition by appropriate window displays next week and by a liberal display of flags and decorations.

The success of the jubilee celebration was enhanced by the gala appearance of the business section; days before the actual celebration the flags and bunting had set up a holiday spirit that was infectious.

While it is not asked that decorations so ambitious as those in evidence on that special occasion shall be used, it is hoped that merchants will see to it that the streets are lined with flags during the week of the Exhibition.

A most favourable impression upon visitors would be created by such a colourful recognition of the importance of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

THE "CUT-IN" MENACE.

Hon. Geo. S. Henry, Minister of Highways, states that the Provincial motorcycle officers have been instructed to give special attention to the "cut-in" motorist who is responsible for the majority of the bad traffic accidents.

The "cut-in" menace is found on every road, but is at its worst on heavily-travelled Provincial highways.

The driver who does not make sure the road ahead of him is clear of approaching traffic before he swings out to the left side of the driving area to speed past another car is becoming all too common.

Often, of course, he "gets away with it"—but frequently he finds himself faced by another car, tries to swing back, squeezes the automobile he is passing, and there is a bad crash.

A driver of this type pushed a car into the Niagara gorge the other day and killed three people, then he sped away.

He should be facing a trial for manslaughter.

And the worst of it is that the motorist who takes such chances has no particular need of haste.

A Peterborough party travelling east on the Kingston road found their car nearly side-swiped by a speeding motorist who saw almost too late that he was facing a westbound automobile.

And half a mile further on the driver whose anxiety to "cut in" came close to causing a wreck was seen pulling up at a roadside refreshment booth in search doubtless of an ice cream cone.

THE PARKING PROBLEM.

The passing of the angle parking system will not be received with many manifestations of grief.

The experiment made few friends and has been harshly criticized by motorists, business men and the public generally.

Unfortunately, however, the parking problem will not be solved by the rejection of the angle method, and it will be necessary to give the whole question earnest consideration in order to arrive at a policy that will give satisfaction.

One conclusion, however, The Examiner believes is inevitable: any prolonged parking in the business section must be avoided.

There has been too much latitude given in this respect, and it is time to face this aspect of the situation and decide that the time limit must be rigidly enforced.

A check-up of cars standing on George street would show that many of them have been there for hours; in fact, that the street is used as a parking area by business and professional men as well as by other citizens who will continue to monopolize space so long as they are permitted to do so.

Many cities have adopted a system of having busy streets marked off in sections, affording room enough for a car to comfortably enter or leave, and using this plan with a strictly enforced time limit have succeeded in avoiding congestion and confusion.

Whatever method is tried, however, it will be found that unless the regulations in regard to the time limit are carried out to the letter there will be trouble.

The local situation will not begin to improve until motorists are made to understand that they are not to use down-town streets as their private property.

NO NEED FOR SNAP JUDGMENT.

The Examiner hopes that the City Council will not be in a hurry to decide the fate of the athletic grounds at James Stevenson Park.

There is no pressing need for a snap judgment on this most important question, as in any event nothing could be done until next year, and if the proposal does come before the Council tonight it should be shelved until time has been given to consider thoroughly what is entailed.

As The Examiner views the matter, organized sport plays an important part in community life, provides a municipality with a vast amount of valuable publicity, and should be encouraged for its tonic effect upon the health and morale.

The policy, therefore, of a civic government should be to build up rather than to tear down.

By a combination of circumstances Peterborough owns a fine enclosed athletic ground, convenient, well provided with stands, admirably adapted for baseball, rugby and other sports.

The acquisition of this splendid field cost the civic treasury little or nothing when the revenue obtained from the gravel taken out of one corner of the property is considered; its maintenance costs have been light because baseball has provided a good revenue.

It is an asset of undoubted value, costing the city practically nothing, and to toss it away in favour of a recreation ground that would involve heavy expenditure to develop and might not be used to any greater extent than the splendid Nicholls' Oval is now used, very much resembles dropping the bone for the shadow.

If accommodation for lawn bowling and tennis is required, why not provide it in the section of the Stevenson Park property outside the ball grounds?

But whatever is done the Council should be reluctant to throw away something that any other municipality in the Province would be glad to own.

GOOD WORK GOING ON.

The suggestion thrown out that future summer camps of the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville might be held much nearer to Oshawa should not be dismissed without investigation.

It is earnestly predicted by some of those in touch with the splendid results being obtained by Dr. Reaman and his staff that the name of Bowmanville will be famous in all parts of the earth before many years through the success of the school. From a purely selfish civic standpoint, Oshawa might find it worth while to seek a share in the honor.

The major consideration, however, is the school itself. The people of Ontario need to know what it is all about, and to become thoroughly aware, in speaking of it, that it is not a reformatory; that no stigma rests on the lads who are sent there for training.

True, a great majority of the boys have at one time or another shown evidence of disciplinary or spiritual breakdown. All boys show it in one way or another at some period of their lives. But these lads, for the most part, come from surroundings for which they are not responsible, but which tend to force them into criminality.

At the same time, it should be remembered that the boys at the Training School are sound inside or they wouldn't be there. Good citizens of the districts they come from believe in them, stand as their sponsors. No boy can be committed to the school from any court.

The school's real function is this: It is dedicated to the ideal of giving the neglected boy a real chance. Where, in former years, the gossips of small town or large have said: "I guess So-and-So's boy is going to the devil," the Bowmanville school replies: "No boy goes to the devil unless he is forced there. Send him here where he can learn to be a man."—Oshawa Times.

POOL AND NON-POOL.

The most dramatic struggle in the economic history of rural Canada is now being waged. The combatants are the organized growers on the one hand and the organized grain trade on the other, and the prize is the control of a big section of the world's grain business. The farmers themselves are divided into "pool" and "non-pool" camps and the contest goes merrily on. The big battleground is on the prairies. Something of the extent and meaning of the struggle, an insight into the ambitions of the organized growers, and a wealth of valuable data on the Western Canada grain production business in general, are given in the volume, "Pooling Wheat in Canada," from the pen of Walter P. Davisson, just issued by The Graphic Press. The liberal offering of tabulated facts and figures in the book is only surpassed by the zeal with which Mr. Davisson espouses the cause of the organized grain-growers. The story of wheat is written with an enthusiasm which is not only refreshing to the reader, but which also must endear the author to the camp of the "pool" members and exponents.

Aaron Sapiro, during his organizing labors among the wheat-growers of the prairies, told them they could not get together and handle co-operatively a quarter of a billion bushels of wheat "without putting into the world market the strongest single stabilizing power in the whole world." Soon after he said that, there were 138,000 growers signed to the Canadian pools, 20,000 new members having been won from the non-pool ranks. The pools marketed 190,000,000 bushels of wheat in the crop of 1925-26, as against 174,000,000 bushels marketed through the old grain trade. Out of 4,500 ccuntry elevators strung across the Prairie Provinces, only 775 are pool-owned or controlled; yet they marketed 52 per cent. of the wheat in Western Canada, and over 100 private grain-trading concerns competed for the 43 per cent. The pools are growing in membership as if they expected to take Mr. Sapiro at his word. The membership in Alberta grew from 25,601 in 1923 to 38,460 in 1926. In the same time Manitoba membership expanded from 9,216 to 19,035. Saskatchewan increased from 46,509 to 80,410.

To show the aim of the wheat pools, Mr. Davisson cites the 474,000,000 bushel wheat crop of 1923, which, he says, "ruined a large body of the growers." At that time the co-operative principle had been organized, but while the pools aimed at increasing the basic level of grain prices to the farmer, they hadn't the wheat with which to work upon a glutted market, and they failed. Since then they have got their required acreage. The present acreage in the Saskatchewan pool is greater than the total objective for all three pools in the original campaign of 1923. Further clarifying the primary aims of "The Pool Way," the writer says: "The object of the pool is to merchandise its members' grain in a modern business way—via the most direct route; and, by keeping every unessential hand away from the grain, between the farm and mill, to get back to the growers a fairer share of the consumer's dollar, without disturbing the cost of bread."

Since 1900 a vast bushelage of wheat has come out of the prairie soils: Manitoba, 1,233,200,000 bushels; Alberta, 954,500,000 bushels; Saskatchewan, 2,801,400,000 bushels; total, 4,989,100,000 bushels. It has been coming out of the prairies in an increasing stream. Manitoba's production has naturally not increased like that of the other two Provinces. Saskatchewan produced 3,443,871 bushels in 1900; in 1926 the Province was credited with 215,101,000. Alberta produced 583,806 bushels in 1900 and 26 years later sent out the total of 113,000,000 bushels. Such growth means an increasing influence of the Canadian wheat crop on the world market. World production, according to figures tabulated, has remained fairly steady around the 3,500,000,000 bushel mark, while Canadian wheat production has increased almost 2,000 per cent.

Mr. Davisson emphasizes the fact that there is bitterness growing up between the two great wheat camps that is not native either to pool or non-pool growers, and he advises that "Come, let us reason together" might be a good slogan to adopt under the circumstances. Certainly the concentration of half of Canada's wheat crop through a single selling agency gives food for economic thought, and Canadians can only hope that so vast and vital an enterprise will succeed.—London Advertiser.

And now we can soon begin to think about stoking the old furnace.

From every quarter comes a demand to put an end to the trans-ocean flying "stunts." The needless sacrifice of life is sickening the world.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—The foreign demand for Canadian and American grain in the Montreal market on Saturday was of a very indifferent character and little business of importance was accomplished. The domestic trade was also slow, but prices were steady.

A feature of the flour market on Saturday was the increased volume of business accomplished in Spring wheat grades with foreign buyers overnight, and in some cases sales of some fair sized lots were made for September shipment. The local trade was fair and prices firm.

The movement of winter wheat flour was slow but prices were well maintained.

A fair amount of business was done in all lines of millfeed and the undertone of the market was firm.

Owing to the small production of strictly fresh eggs throughout Canada and the increased importations from the United States, a much stronger feeling prevailed in the local market Saturday and prices were marked up two cents per dozen.

In sympathy with the above a stronger feeling also prevailed in the storage egg situation and values were advanced one cent per dozen. The receipts Saturday were 2,635 cases.

The feature of the butter trade was announcement made by wholesale jobbers of an advance in prices of one cent per pound. They are now selling finest Eastern townships no. 1 pasteurized cream butter at 40c per pound in solid packages, and at 41c per pound in one pound blocks. Wholesale market displayed strength throughout the week and prices closed fully one cent per pound higher. The volume of business transacted was fair. The receipts Saturday were 1,598 packages.

The local and export trade in cheese continued good and prices closed steady. The receipts were 10,908 boxes.

SCOTLAND TO HAVE ARTS COMMISSION

Will Consider Questions "Of Public Amenity or Artistic Importance."

LONDON, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press).—Scotland is to have the benefit of a Royal Commission "to inquire into such questions of public amenity or of artistic importance as may be referred to it by many of the Departments of State." Presumbably the new body will constitute the equivalent of the Royal Commission of Fine Arts in England. There are many good Scots, particularly those who are resident in and around Edinburgh, who will welcome the appointment of such a commission, for in some directions lately it has seemed as if Modern Athens, as Edinburgh is sometime termed, is threatened with the extinction of some of its natural and acquired glory. There have been complaints that huge street signs have "humiliated" famous Princes Street.

BOTTOMLY HAS CHANGED IN 5 YEARS

DOINGS IN JA NUARY, 1864

A sixty-three years' old copy of The Peterborough Review and Peterborough and Victoria Commercial Advertiser dated Friday, January 8, 1864, which came to light when "Ingleside," the family homestead of the late William Vance, for fifty years postmaster here, was changing hands, has a number of items of peculiar interest.

Under the head of "Communications," there is an account of a presentation to Mr. Vance on the occasion of his resignation as teacher of the Bobcaygeon School, before his removal to Millbrook. The address reads:

Bobcaygeon, 23rd Dec. 1863.

"To Mr. William Vance, Esq.,

Dear Sir: We, the undersigned have desired before your departure from Bobcaygeon, to present you with a souvenir of our esteem and regard.

For this purpose we beg you will accept this address, and the accompanying chain and pencil case, as a slight tribute to your capabilities as school teacher, and as an appreciation of your private character, which has gained you many friends during you stay among us. With many wishes for your future welfare and prosperity.

Believe us, Your sincere friends,
Joseph Kelso. Trustees: W. B. Read, S. McClelland, and thirty others.

Mr. Vance's reply is also published, and another teacher remembered was William McCamus, who was leaving the Fair Mount School, and who has still many relatives in the township.

A letter to The Review from J. C. Sclater, apparently chairman of the school board, gives some light on the methods and subjects of education more than sixty years since:

"Fair Mount, Cavan.
Dec. 25th, 1863

"To the Editor of The Peterborough Review.

Sir: I had the pleasure of attending an examination of the Common School in this section, conducted by Mr. McCamus, on Wednesday last. The school is the largest in the Township, and the attainments of the scholars in reading, spelling, English, history, arithmetic, algebra, geography, and other branches of common school education reflect great credit upon their own industry and perseverance, as well as the efficiency and fidelity of the teacher. There was a very pleasing finale to the proceedings: a presentation of a photographic album and dressing case to Mr. McCamus by his scholars in token of their affection, accompanied by the following address which, as such occurrences are not too frequent in the monotony of school life, I hope you will do me the favor of inserting.

I am, Sir; Yours, truly,
J. C. Sclater.

"Measures, Not Men," was the paper's motto, and in his comments on the municipal elections just concluded the editor is decidedly outspoken. Commenting on the victory of Mr. Perry over Mr. Kennedy by 182 votes, for the office of Mayor, the editorial reads:

"There was not much excitement on Monday and Tuesday in connection with the elections. Mr. Perry was, as everyone knew he would be, easily elected to the Mayoralty, his opponent being, in spite of the Catholic vote, which with a wrong-headedness that is very lamentable, supported him, left him literally nowhere. We should hope that this pretentious gentleman has learned a lesson that will be of value to him in the future."

Referring to the Toronto elections comment is equally outspoken:

"Mr. Medcalf has beaten Mr. Bowes in the contest for the Mayoralty of Toronto by a majority of 155. The fact simply proves what we have always believed of the City of Toronto, that with all its pretensions to intelligence, its inhabitants are about as unintelligent and easily moved a crowd as ever got together in any city. Any other place than Toronto would be disgraced by this result. It has simply sustained its character."

Travel was by stage to many points, and there are several announcements such as: "Stages: Peterborough and Bobcaygeon. Commencing on Monday, the 4th day of January, 1864, and continuing during the winter, will leave Peterborough every Monday and Friday mornings at 9 o'clock, and Bobcaygeon at same hours on Tuesday and Saturday. The stages will be comfortable, and have careful drivers. Fare for passengers, $1.00. Parcels carried at moderate rates. Parcels from Peterborough must be booked at Richard White's, and in Bobcaygeon at Jas. Aitken's.—James Wallis, Proprietor."

"Stages carrying the mails run between Norwood and Peterborough, via Boundary Line, leaving Norwood 7.30 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays; returning, leave Peterborough same days at 2.30 p.m. Office in Peterborough, Armstrong's Hotel, Norwood, the Post Office."

Practically all the advertisements of grocery stores list "Choice Brands of Wines and Liquors," as being kept in stock, with "whiskey as usual at distillery prices" mentioned in some cases. W. Leth, furrier, "corner of Market Block," advertises, in addition to his stock of hats and furs, "also tea, coffee, sugar, etc., at very low prices."

H. Calcutt has for sale "2,000 gallons of pure malt vinegar at 25 cts. per gallon. This vinegar is the best that can be used for pickles—they will keep hard and good for any length of time." This is a practical use for a by-product of Calcutt's Brewery.

Market quotations are of interest: Wheat, fall, 80c to 90c a bushel; spring wheat, 72c to 75c; flour, per barrel, $3.75 to $4.00; hay, per ton, new, $8.00 to $10.00; sheep skins, 50c to $1.50; wool, per lb., 37½c; beef, per cwt., $3.00 to $4.00; pork, $3.50 to $5; eggs, per dozen, 12c; butter, per lb., in firkins, 13c to 15c; fowl, per pair, 20c to 25c; geese, 25c to 40c; turkeys, 40c to 75c; cordwood, $1.50 to $1.75. A decided contrast to prices of the present day.

A "Great sale of real estate in the village of Millbrook, Township of Cavan," when, by public auction, at the Wellington Hotel, the property of James Deyell, in which was included a grist mill, a saw mill, a distillery, with several building lots, houses, park lands, and a 97-acre farm, were to be disposed of, adds this inducement to purchasers. "All this valuable property is situated in Millbrook, one of the best business localities in the Province, enjoying all the advantages of railway communication with Peterborough, Lindsay, and Port Hope, and all the world besides."

Robert Armstrong and Richard Fallis were the trustees of the estate, and older residents will recall that James Deyell and his wife, well-known settlers of Millbrook's early days, are buried in the now abandoned cemetery on the hillside opposite the school building, the tall white monument which marks the vault where their remains are interred being about the only headstone left standing.

Advertisers were not so diplomatic in setting forth the low prices of their wares in earlier days, apparently, as they are to-day, one merchant, taking up a large space on page two, mentioning among other attractions, "Dry Goods and Yankee Notions, which will be sold at such prices as can only be found in a CHEAP JOHN STORE. Persons who will call and examine the Stock will find a California at their doors, and one dollar with us will go as far as two in the old-fashioned slow stores. Don't ask for credit, as we can't afford to give it, and don't mean to try, as our goods are always sold at such prices as can always command Cash. George C. Buck, Salesman."

Educational requirements were evidently somewhat different, to judge by the following: "Notice. The next meeting of the Senior Board of Instruction for the County of Peterboor will be held on Tuesday, the 3rd of May, 1864, in the Union School House at 10 a.m. Candidates are not eligible to be admitted to examination until they shall have furnished the Examiners with satisfactory evidence of their strictly temperate habits, and good moral character. J. Edwards, Secretary."

The bill of fare for several of the hotels advertising in the paper, list "All kinds of game in season. Meals at all hours, 25 cts. Oysters, per can, 50 cts. The bar is supplied with the Choicest Brands of Liquors and Cigars."

The subscription terms to the paper were considerably lower than for any daily of to-day: $1.00 per annum if paid strictly in advance; $1.25 if paid within three months of time of subscribing; $1.50 if within six months; $1.75 if within nine months, and $2.00 when not paid until the end of the year. There is a warning added: "All communications to the Editor must be postpaid, otherwise they will not be attended to."

A few of the names under the head of "Business Directory" are: James Hall, Sheriff, Office in the Court House; W. Sheridan, County Treasurer and Clerk; C. A. Weller, Clerk of the Peace, Barrister-at-Law, County Attorney; Mr. Dennistoun, Barrister-at-Law, Master Extraordinary, Solicitor in Chancery, Notary Public; D. W. Dumble, Barrister and Attorney-at-Law, etc.; Cameron, Moss & Orde, Barristers and Attorneys-at-Law, etc.; Osmond & Gilmour, druggists, who advertise among other articles: "Coal Oil, very pure, and free from smell, and warranted non-explosive."

G. Snyder, of the Blythe Mills, evidently takes the public into his confidence in refuting a slander, inserting a notice: "Caution. The Public are cautioned against believing the story circulated by a small man in Peterborough, that I am dead, and the Blythe Mills surrendered. Call at the Mills and you will find me there, and able to supply you with goods in my line at prices lower than he will like." In another place, advertising his bedsteads, he says: "They are all made of the best dry timber, and are not like those manufactured in Dummer, where the birds are singing one day on a Swamp Elm Tree, and the day after a Furniture Dealer is singing the praises of the same wood made into Bedsteads on Hunter Street, Peterborough. My Bedsteads won't fall to pieces; the great difference is that they are carefully made of good seasoned Lumber."

Names signed to the address presented to Mr. McCamus, on leaving the Fair Mount School, recall many of the pioneer families of that section of the township: Wesley Meharry, Lizzie Kinnear, Mary A. Walsh, Eliza J. Goodfellow, Matilda Meharry, Joseph Walsh, Robert Thompson, William McIndoo, Robert H. Johnston. These styles themselves, "The Committee of Presentation."

BRITISH COST OF LIVING DOWN

Drop of 2.4 in Food Prices in July From June Figures.

OTHER COSTS LOWER.

Wholesale prices in Great Britain, measured on a basis of 100 in 1924, averaged .5 per cent. less in July than in June, the index numbers for the two months being 84.9 and 85.3 respectively. In spite of this general reduction in the index, the price of such important items as cotton, textiles and industrial materials rose; the number for cotton rising from 69.2 in June to 70.4 in July; that for other textiles increasing from 78.6 to 80.2, and for industrial materials from 89.5 to 90. With the exception of a slight fall in April the index for cotton materials has advanced month by month since the beginning of the year, the July figure being nearly 20 per cent. above the January index, according to advices just received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its British Information Service.

In the food group, each of the items compared with June declined in price in July, cereals by .6 per cent; meat and fish by 1.8 per cent, and other foods by 2.4 per cent. Iron, steel and other metals declined in price also, iron and steel 1.2 per cent., and the other metals 2 per cent.

If 1913 is taken for a basis of 100, the index for all articles in July was 141.1, the figures for 53 articles of food and for 97 industrial materails being 153.5 and 134.5 respectively.

Railways Crippled Over Labor Dispute

BRISBANE, Queensland, Sept. 6.— (Associated Press.) — This city was of gloomy aspect yesterday as the result of the industrial disruption following the dismissal Saturday of railway-men who refused to assist in transporting "black sugar" to a mill at South Johnstone.

The railways still crippled, are expected to resume part service Wednesday a large number of railwaymen have signed for work under new regulations. Mail is being brought to Brisbane by sea. The mill to which the sugar was consigned had been "black-listed" by union because of a labor dispute it had with cane cutters. Pickets of the Australian railwaymen's union are stationed at the metropolitan depots. It has been announced that the government is arranging to take over control of all foodstuffs.

FISHERMAN DIES WHEN BOAT ROCKS

Prescott Man Thrown Into River—Heart Trouble Kills Him.

PRESCOTT, Sept. 6. — John O'Leary, Jr., lost his life in the St. Lawrence River Sunday night about three and a half miles east of here. He was fishing from a skiff, and while pulling in the anchor the rope broke and he was thrown backward into the water. He was a good swimmer, and struck out for his boat, but was unable to reach it. John Adams, who was at his camp nearby, went to his rescue, and found him in an exhausted condition. He pulled him into his boat and brought him to shore, but all efforts to revive him proved futile. Death was due to heart trouble. Besides his father, John OLeary Sr., he is survived by one brother, James O'Leary and one sister, Mrs. John Young, all of Prescott. Frank O'Leary, the famous jockey, who was killed under his horse on the Aqueduct track in New York about twenty years ago, was a brother.

LET YOUR CHILD PLAY WITHOUT FEAR

Yesterday I gave you some hints about taking care of children's cuts and burns, which occur so frequently during the summertime. While it is well to prepare for emergencies, it is unwise for you to spend too much time training your child what "not" to do and scaring him into believing that he can be easily hurt while playing. As I told you yesterday, not more than one in a thousand of the injuries which occur with children are of a serious nature.

One of the worst things about minor accidents to children is that mothers sympathize too much with the children and place too much importance upon minor accidents which the child can be taught to laugh about rather than to fear. Children brought up with too much coddling develop an appetite for sympathy which in later years is not so easily satisfied by their associates. It is better to teach a child to be self reliant and to brag about no being easily hurt, rather than allow him to use very little cut or bruise as an excuse for attention and sympathy.

Mothers who teach their children by a succession of "don'ts" develop in them irritability and needless fear. All negative training is very dangerous, as the words "don't" and "not" fail to convey the meaning you wish to express. Train your child to play in his own yard, and see that he has interesting things to play with. It will not then be necessary to give him the negative suggestion of "Don't cross the street."

It is a part of your life's work to see that your children are at all times occupied at some helpful play or study. If you give them enough interesting things to do, they will not have time to search out dangerous exploits. Make your house and yard an attractive place to play that your child will not wander away on dangerous expeditions. But above all, teach him to play without fear.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTIIN: E. M. K. writes: "Have gone through much sickness and disease and nothing but your way of dieting has ever helped me, but I still have a tired feeling, no matter how long I sleep. What about a constant craving for sweets?"

ANSWER: Try taking more systematic exercise and see if you cannot build up your strength so that your sleep will do you more good. No matter how much you diet, nothing you can do will take the place of physical exercise, and it is surprising how you can gain in strength through increasing your exercise when it would probably seem to you that more rest is necessary. Your craving for sweets is a craving for stimulants and will be overcome as soon as you regain your normal strength.

QUESTION: High School writes: "I am troubled with hairs on my face, but cannot afford the electric needle as you suggest. I pull the hairs out every day but they keep coming back. I am only eighteen, and am so ashamed of my condition. Can't you help me?"

ANSWER: The electric needle is the only sure means of killing superfluous hair, but you will be able to somewhat discourage the growth of these hairs if you will use one of the rosin and beeswax preparations now on the market. This come in a cake, and the warmed wax is put on the face wherever there is hair. As soon as it cools, the wax plaster is pulled off, bringing the hairs with it, making a much better job of it than you can do with the tweezers. You will need to use this preparation about once a week to keep down the growth, during which time it will gradually become less.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

To-day's Bedtime Story

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SALT WATER TAFFY

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

"Mother, could we please have a kettle to boil something in?" asked Jingle, one of the many little rabbit girls, who had come to help Uncle Wiggily spend a pleasant vacation at the shell cottage at the seashore. This was on a morning when the sun was shining bright.

"What are you going to boil?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Oh, something!" answered Jingle with a sort of secret air about her. "But there's no harm in it, mother," she was quick to say. "Daddicums can come down to the beach and watch us if he likes."

"I may hop down a little later after I see if there are any adventures that need looking after," chuckled Mr. Longears. "But to boil anything," he said to Jingle, "you need a fire. Now a fire means matches and matches mean burns unless you are very careful."

"Oh, Scooter is going to make the fire for us," said Jingle. "He is a Boy Scout rabbit and he knows how to make a fire safely and how to put it out when we don't need it any more."

"Well, that is something," said Uncle Wiggily. "Putting out camp fires when one is finished with them is a very wise thing to do, so the flames will not burn the beautiful trees. But it's rather queer for Scooter to be willing to play with you girls," said Uncle Wiggily.

"We promised we'd give him something of what we are going to boil, Daddicums," explained Jingle. "It's good to eat!" she added. "We'll tell you about it after a while."

"If it's something good to eat I can easily understand why Scooter is willing to help you by building the boiling fire," laughed Mr. Longears. "Let them take the kettle, Mother," he said to his wife.

"But just the same," whispered Mrs. Longears to her husband as Jingle and her bunny sisters hopped out of the shell cottage carrying with them the tin kettle, "just the same you had better have an eye to what they are going to do."

"Oh, yes, indeed!" agreed Mr. Longears. "I'll hop down that way."

And when he had done this, a little later, he saw the bunny girls, with their brother Scooter, gathered about a fire of driftwood on the beach. Over the fire hung the tin kettle and steam was coming from it.

"How much did you put in the kettle?"

"Whatever it is, they have boiled it already," said Mr. Longears to himself as he hopped nearer. He was glad to notice that Scooter kept a careful watch of the fire so no sparks from it would burn his sisters.

Not wanting to show himself right away, Uncle Wiggily hid behind a hill of sand where he could watch and hear what was said. He saw Jingle go close to the boiling kettle and sniff. Then she said:

"Dear me! It's boiled and boiled and boiled, yet it doesn't seem to be any nearer candy than at first."

"It doesn't smell much like the candy they boil on the boardwalk," said Scooter. "I'm getting tired waiting for some. Can't you make it faster, Jingle?"

"Maybe if we put more wood on the fire it would boil better," said Baby Bunty.

So they piled more driftwood on the blaze and the kettle boiled harder than ever, but after another sniff Jingle said:

"I don't believe this will ever turn into candy!"

"Then I'm not going to stay here!" said Scooter. "I'll put out the fire so you'll be safe and I'm going to play ball. You promised me some taffy if I'd help you, but where is it I ask you? Where is the salt water taffy?"

"Oh, Scooter, wait just a little while longer!" begged Jingle.

"There must be some trouble here," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "I'll hop down and see what it is." His little rabbits greeted him with shouts of delight, but when Mr. Longears had leaned over the boiling kettle he asked Jingle: "How much sugar did you put in the kettle to boil to make this salt water taffy?"

"Sugar!" cried Jingle. "Why, I didn't put any sugar in at all. I thought you just took salt water and boiled it until it became thick enough to make salt water taffy. Isn't that the way, Daddicums?"

"Ha! Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! No!" shouted Mr. Longears. "Do you mean to tell me you have only been boiling salt water thinking it would make taffy." And Jingle and the other rabbit girls said they had. "Well, no wonder it didn't smell like the boardwalk taffy!" chuckled the rabbit daddy. "To make salt water taffy you need sugar and butter and molasses and all manner of things. It isn't easy to make. Come with me and I'll buy you some."

So he took them down to a boardwalk store, after Scooter had put out the fire, and soon they were all chewing on salt water taffy. So it turned out all right after all.

WILD MAN GOES WILD.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. — A crowd was staring at the wild man at Coney Island the other night when someone remarked: "It's all a fake; that ain't no wild man." The negro, enraged, threw a bottle at his heckler, followed it with a glass and was about to charge himself when police grabbed him. They agreed he was wild, but found he was just an ordinary resident of Harlem.

PLOT TO BOMB COURT EXPOSED BY POLICE RAID

Seven Arrested at Brooklyn and Explosives and Maps Seized.

BUILDINGS MARKED.

Letters Show That Two Suspects Have Just Completed Propaganda Tour.

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—A trail extending from an alleged bomb factory in Brooklyn to the Panama Canal zone and to Halifax was being followed by police today in an effort to pin on to six arrested suspects the bombing of the Supreme Court building in Brooklyn. Material used in the manufacture of bombs pictures of public buildings, and marked maps of New York subway lines were found in raids on the two apartments occupied by the men in the foreign quarter of down-town Brooklyn. The police also announced the seizure of anarchistic literature and books on the manufacture of bombs.

The men under arrest are: Mario Medreno, a Mexican, charged with possession of dangerous weapons; Jesus Silva, a Mexican, charged with possession of dangerous weapons and bombing; Julian De Hoyas, a Porto Rivan, charged with bombing; Eugenio Fernandez, a Cuban, held for investigation as to complicity in bombing; Victor Fern, a Mexican, held for investigation, and Joe Roa Chrystozal, a Mexican, held for investigation.

Had Completed Tour of Country.

The seized correspondence was said to show that Silva and Medreno had just completed a tour of the United States, distributing Red propaganda. The police have so far refused to state whether any or all of the men belonged to national radical organizations, or had simply banded together themselves.

HUMANE DEATH FOR ANIMALS

Inspector For Humane Society Advises Against Owners Killing Them.

CITES BAD CASE.

"People having animals which they wish destroyed are ill-advised in trying to do the task themselves or in calling in on the job any others than those who are qualified in the humane killing of animals" says Humane Society Inspector R. C. Smith.

Mr. Smith's statement is inspired by a very bad case which happened recently in the Trent River district, where a bull which was shot by a policeman was found to be alive and making efforts to get up on its feet when the men arrived to skin it half an hour later. The sufferings of the animal were supposed to have been ended by the officer's bullet.

VETERAN CLERK RECEIVES GIFT

28 YEARS' SERVICE.

A long connection with the dry goods business in Peterborough came to an end on Saturday evening when George McCartney, concluded 28 years service with Robert Fair and Company, preparatory to his departure to take up residence in California.

Earlier in the week, Mr. McCartney was made the recipient of a parting gift and the following address was read by E. R. Whaley and David R. Gardiner.

Dear Fellow Clerk:

After so many years of pleasant association with Fair's selling staff, it is not without keen regret that we contemplate losing you from our midst. Your unfailing good nature has always made it a pleasure to be a co-worker of yours, and we want you to know that you will be greatly missed from our little circle. As your mind is made up to try a new field of labour, we unite in wishing you every success, and trust that you will carry with you only the kindliest thoughts of those you leave behind.

As a slight mark of our esteem, we ask you to accept the accompanying gift, whose greatest value is in the spirit that goes with it.

Signed on behalf of the store employees.

E. R. Whaley.
D. R. Gardiner.

In thanking the staff for the gift, Mr. McCartney spoke at some length on his many years of association with the firm and of the many changes he had witnessed in civic and business circles in Peterborough.

PILES GO QUICK

No Cutting or Salves Needed

External treatments seldom banish Piles.

The cause is inside—bad circulation.

The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send fresh, healthy blood to the raw, sensitive membranes. Internal treatment is one safe method. Ointments and other external treatments can't give lasting relief.

J. S. Leonhardt, M.D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID and tried it in hundreds of cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at McDermid & Jury, McDermid Drug Stores, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.

DOMESTIC HELP IS VERY SCARCE

Local Employment Office Has 57 Applications During Week.

40 PLACEMENTS.

In the past week the Employment Bureau had 57 new applications, made 40 placements, and has at present 50 on the list.

There is a scarcity of domestic help not only in Peterborough, but in Lindsay and the district covered by the bureau, that would seem to show that girls prefer work in offices and factories

ROCK SAVES MAN WADING NIAGARA

Firemen Rescue James Shay and Police Lock Him Up.

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Sept. 6.—James Shay, 49 years old, in attempting to wade and swim the rapids above the falls at 8 o'clock last night was caught by the current and carried down stream. BOY DROWNED AT HAMILTON

CAUGHT IN WEEDS.

HAMILTON, Sept. 6.—As his parents were spreading their picnic lunch on the shore close by, James Britton, aged 11, who lived at 1078 Main Street East, was drowned late yesterday afternoon off Lasalle Park. His body became entangled in the weeds and was not recovered at sundown last night.

The boy was out in a rowboat with two other young companions and they were paddling about not far from shore. Mrs. Thomas Britton, his mother sent a younger brother to the shore to call Jimmy to his supper. The latter responded to the call, and he and his companions started to row the boat to shore.

As the boat proceeded toward shore, young Britton, it is believed, thought the water was shallow enough for him to wade the remainder of the distance. It was deeper than he imagined, however, for it is said that a moment after he let go of the side of the boat he disappeared. His limbs, it is thought, were entangled in the treacherous weeds, and he drowned.

CAR FURROWS BALL GROUNDS

Great Ruts Made in the Soft Ground By Wanton Driver.

AT STEVENSON PARK.

Wanton love of destruction is the only explanation that has so far been forthcoming as to the motives of the individuals who drove a motor car over the infield at James Stevenson Park on Sunday night.

The marks on the ground clearly show that the car circled the ground several times, evidently through the desire of the owner to do as much damage as possible in the shortest space of time. The ground was wet and soft with the dew of the evening and the heavy wheels ploughed furrows several inches deep.

Great indignation has been expressed by sporting officials of the city and the affair was reported to the police. Officers making an investigation discovered two gin bottles, the presence of which may help to clear up the mystery of the reprehensible conduct of the driver.

"The man who did that deserves two years in the penitentiary," was the angry comment of a member of the City Council on being shown the damage to the field yesterday.

CHAMP BREATH-HOLDER.

MIDDLETON, CO[illegible], Sept. 6 — Here's a new freak championship—holding one's breath for 14 minutes and 2 seconds. E. L. Taylor, Jr., senior at Wesleyan College, accomplished the feat before physicians recently. He gulped three large breaths of pure oxygen and held the last one for a new record.

PIMPLES AND ERUPTIONS

On Face. Looked Awful. Cuticura Healed.

"My face broke out with pimples and sore eruptions. They did not trouble me much until about six months ago when suddenly they became large and red, and I could not sleep at night for the terrible itching and burning. I could not go out; my face was awful.

"My mother read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I sent for a free sample. I purchased more, and when I had used three cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Basil Lee, 60 Gammage St., London, Ont., Sept. 1, 1926.

CARS DAMAGED BY COLLISION

None of the Occupants Were Hurt in Accident at Campbellford.

CRASH AT CORNER.

CAMPBELLFORD, September 6. — After almost an entire summer without a motor accident within the corporation, two cars met in collision at approximately ten minutes to six last evening at the corner of Palliser and Sebastopol streets. It would appear that Dr. E. J. Free and party, driving north on Palliser street, was struck as he entered the intersection of Palliser and Sebastopol streets by Howard Shapter, who was travelling east on Sebastopol street. Both cars were considerably damaged by the force of the impact but the car driven by Shapter and owned by Frank Collins, got considerably the worse of the deal. The entire front is badly battered, the top is wrecked, and the front axle and steering gear badly damaged. The doctor's car escaped with a bent front axle, damfront left wheel, and fender and lights completely out of commission.

Constable Duncalfe hastened to the scene and secured such information as he required from the motorists and eye witnesses. Fortunately none of the occupants of either car was injured and the drivers of the vehicles managed an adjustment to their mutual satisfaction.

MANY CHILDREN LEARN TO SWIM ROTARY HEARS

Club's Instructor Gives Lessons To Hundreds This Summer.

TRAVEL DAY.

Impressions and Moving Pictures Afford Fine Programme.

It was Travel Day with the Peterborough Rotary Club today. Rotarian R. J. Kidd telling his fellow club members of his impressions of Alaska as gained during a trip there this summer and Rotarian Ross Dobbin following with several reels of most interesting moving pictures illustrating his journey to the West.

Past President Claude H. Rogers, who occupied the chair in the absence of President Killaly, gave some of the results of the learn-to-swim campaign carried on by Rotary. The instructor engaged by the club had reported that 275 children had signed their cards, stating that they had learned to swim this summer.

Rotarian Doug. Loomis reported briefly in regard to this year's camp which, he said, had been completed without accidents or illness. The one weakness was that the attendance was not as large as was wished. Altogether 102 boys were taken care of this year, with an average attendance in camp of twenty-eight youngsters. Rotarian Loomis suggested that next year a senior section for boys between 16 and 20 should be added.

Grant Miller gave an outsiders opinion of the camp, expressing thanks to Rotary on behalf of the boys. He described the day's routine in camp, declaring that every minute had been full of "pep" and interest. Thanks to the power boat presented by the Rotary-Annes, the boys had enjoyed many splendid trips during the summer.

Rotarian R. J. Kidd detailed some of the features of the Alaskan trip that had impressed themselves upon him most strongly, telling of conditions in Skagway and other Alaskan points. Skagway, once the centre of life and activity during the gold rush days, was now, the speaker explained, the home of only some 650 people, some of whom were trying to get away from there. The speaker related several interesting anecdotes of early Alaskan days he had heard during the trip.

Rotarian Dobbin's moving pictures showed scenes at Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Fort William, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Jasper Park and other places of interest. Most of these pictures were taken by Rotarian Dobbin himself and they were much enjoyed by members of the club.

National City Canada

Character

When buying bonds for investment two factors should be taken into consideration—

FIRST—Property values, revenue producing powers and other tangible elements of security;

SECOND—The character and experience of the investment house which sponsors the issue.

Experienced investors everywhere recognize that the second factor is just as important as the first.

Many Small Gains In Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, September 6. Canadian Press. — A few substantial gains were recorded in the hesitant upward movement on the Toronto stock exchange this morning. Brazilian was the firmest feature advancing a point and a half at 187. Walkers, the active leader passed 52 but receded to that mark, unchanged. Gooderham and Worts firmed fractionally at 49 3-8 and Carling's a half at 28. Brompton followed Brazilian with a point and a quarter gain at 40¼, but most other advances were fractional, save for Northern Bakeries clean point gain at 29½. Imperial Oil dropped 1⅝ at 52¼.

Many Stocks Moveup To New High Records

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.— (Canadian Press.)—The resumption of speculative operations for the advance after the double holiday carried the general industrial average to a new high record level to-day.

Practically all the industrial leaders broke through their previous top prices of the year, many of them to the highest levels ever recorded. Early gains ran from one to seven points.

Banks called about $10,000,000 in loans but a plentiful supply of call money appeared to be available at the renewal figure of three and half per cent. Pools were again actively at work, accounting for a number of new high records.

Wheat Values Weak As Weather Improves

CHICAGO, Sept. 6. — (Canadian Press.) — Sharp setbacks in price formed the rule early to-day for grain. Favorable weather in the spring wheat territory counted as a bear factor and so, too, did Liverpool weakness as well as reports by holiday observers that the corn crop is making progress. Starting 3-4c. to 1 3-4c. lower, wheat values subsequently hovered near to the intial range. Corn opened 1 1-2c. to 3c. down and showed but little power to rally. Oats were easy. Provisions tended to sag. Opening prices were: Wheat, September, 1.32; December 1.36 5-8. Corn, September, 1.40 1-8. December 1.05 5-8. Oats, September 44, December 47 7-8.

Mine Market Active; Most Stocks Firmer

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—Trading passed the million share mark in an intensive session of the Mining Exchange large turnovers being rolled up in the Quebec and Kirkland groups. The largest turnover in a single stock was in Corona, which finished the morning fractionally higher at 16¼. Advances were general but not large, and a soft spot was shown in Wright Hargreaves, selling down forty at 720. Amulet lost ten at 510. Kirkland Lake with an advance of fifteen points at 234 was the strongest individual stock. Laval Quebec gained one at 44 and McIntyre was up 24 at 26.00. Teck Hughes climbed 27 at 954. Bidgood three at 22, and Duprat (New) 1½ at 13.

British Markets Active; Wider Business Desired

LONDON, Sept. 3 (Canadian Press Cable).—There have been periods of considerable activity on the Stock Exchange this week and fortunate speculators have made good profits as the price movements have strongly favored them. A possible enlargement of the speculative position may cause some reduction in the continuation of the facilities for new account, but the public interest generally is expected to continue this month with perhaps higher values in some cases. As yet, the enlivenment has only touched particular groups in a few of the markets and a wider range of business is much desired.

Specialties in industrials have been mostly affected by the lead being taken by British Celanese, which on good business reports rose since last week fully 20 shillings by Wednesday, when 75 shillings was quoted. Some re-action followed, however, and the price today was about 64 shillings. Other art silk shares have not varied much.

Textiles generally have been quiet and notable rises in cotton have affected only the Dunlop concern, whose shares have rather depreciated because of the expectation of materials becoming more costly.

Welcome but small traffic increases have benefitted the home railways, except the Southern Railway group, which has shown lower receipts and shipping and iron and steel stocks have been bettered as a result of increased railway traffic.

Improvement in Brazilian traction shares which have changed hands at over 190 is said to have been due to Canadian buying.

GIRL MAY DIE OF INJURIES

Campbellford Man's Car Is Upset On Way To Peterborough.

TORONTO, Sept. 6. — Four persons were injured, one young lady so badly that little hope is held out for her recovery, when a motor car driven by Frank May, Campbellville, Ont., while eastbound on the Dundas Highway, three miles west of Erindale, Ontario., yesterday, was struck by an American auto travelling in the same direction and hurled into the ditch. The May car turned over three times before it came to rest on top of the victims. The injured are: Miss Emily May Young, aged 19, of 152 Sanford Avenue, Hamilton, who is suffering from a crushed chest, a fractured collar-bone and other hurts May, who was cut about the ear, and May's father and mother, aged about 80, who suffered cuts and bruises, Miss Young and young May were brought to the city and admitted to St. Joseph's hospital.

The driver of the other car, Bert C. Thomas, Bradford, Pa., was overtaken by a highway constable and taken to Brampton, Ont., where he was locked up on a charge of reckless driving. Three other men who were with him at the time were not held. The party was on its way to the Exhibition when the mishap occurred.

The Mays and Miss Young were en route to Peterboro, Ont. The scene of the mishap is a clear stretch of road Eye-witnesses of the accident, who had followed in the rear of the American car, told the police that the latter vehicle had continually cut in for miles. As it passed May's car its rear swung to one side and side-swiped the smaller vehicle, sending it into the ditch and overturning it. The road was fairly dense with traffic at the time.

Motorists stopped and helped to extricate the Mays and Miss Young from the capsized car. Miss Young was suffering great pain. The American car kept on for some distance, but was overtaken by the highway officer and brought back to the scene. After an investigation had been made, Thomas was arrested.

Dr. Vernon of Clarkson was called and he attended the injured before their removal to the hospital. He conveyed Mr and Mrs. May to their home at Campbellville.

COUNTY GIRLS LEAVE FOR FAIR

Judging Team Will Compete at Canadian National Exhibition To-morrow.

IN HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE.

Representing Peterborough County in the Girls' Household Science Judging Competition to be held to-morrow at the Canadian National Exhibition, Miss Frances Moore, Miss Rosanne Tully and Miss Margaret Mann, left to-day for Toronto, in the car driven by J. B. Nelson, local representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Miss Evelyn McMurray travelled as reserve.

Final instructions were given to the girls last week by Miss Ethel Hopkins of the Women's Institute.

County competitions were held in Bruce, Carleton, Dufferin, Elgin, Frontenac, Grenville, Grey, Haldimand, Hastings, Huron, Kent, Lincoln, Middlesex, Norfolk, Northumberland, Ontario, Peel, Perth Renfrew, South Simcoe, Victoria, Waterloo, Wellington, Wentworth, York and the northern districts of Timiskaming and Manitoulin, and coaching was given to girls in Brant, Durham and Prince Edward.

The institutes that have assisted their county agricultural representative in getting the girls of their communities enlisted for training that have contributed prizes to stimulate interest, or provided money to cover expenses of girls coming to the C. N. E. competition can feel that they have done a worth while bit of home economics work. The training given by the teachers from the Department in nutrition, clothing, kitchen planning and home furnishing will open up for the bright girl an avenue of study which she will follow for herself long after the competition is over.

HOLIDAY WEEK-END ACCIDENT TOLL 19

Motor Accidents and Drownings Result in Many Fatalities.

TORONTO, Sept. 6. — (Canadian Press).—The week end and Labor Day exacted a toll of nineteen lives in motor car or other accidents in Ontario. In addition, forty-one were injured. SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

The struggle between the strong white man and the aged negress lasted but a few minutes, minutes that seemed like hours to Faith, who was sobbingly pitting her strength with Bob's against the foul old door.

When they had won and were in the evil-smelling, faintly lighted room, they faced a glowering black fury, a vast, shapeless old woman, whose head was bound in a dirty red bandanna, but whose glittering black eyes, set in an incredibly wrinkled and fat old face, looked as young as those of the colored boy who had directed them to the place.

"But you have our baby," Faith panted. "Where is she? Oh, Bob, find her quick and let's get out of here. It's terrible. I'm about to faint—these awful odors—"

"Dat mah baby cryin'," the old woman shuffled to Faith on bare, hideously deformed black feet. "You white folks git outa hyar, else Ah calls de p'lice," she threatened loudly, her voice endeavoring to drown the renewed wailing of the baby.

But Faith paid no attention. Following the sound of the baby's cries, she rushed from the front room into the one other room of the shack—the kitchen. The old negress attempted to follow her, but Bob, overcoming his distaste of touching the filthy rags with which her vast old body was covered, seized her huge arms and held her back.

And in the kitchen, lying in an ancient baby buggy drawn up to the warmth of a crackling fire in a broken, cast-iron stove, she found Hope. The baby was dressed in one of the exquisite little hand-embroidered dresses she had made for it and wrapped in its own fleecy blue-and white blanket, which the kidnapper had snatched from the crib.

Faith stooped and gathered the baby gently into her arms, deaf to the clamor in the other room. She knew only that she had her baby safe again.

"Got her, Faith?" Bob called exultantly. "Now, look here, Aunt Chloe, if you don't want to get locked up in the calaboose you'll come to the door with me and send that bunch of young hoodlums away. I guess you know how to scare 'em all right. Tell 'em we've got our baby that you were keeping for us a while, and to let us get away in peace. Otherwise Chris Witey is going to spend a long, long time in the hospital, and I gather you don't want that to happen. You were his nurse when he was a baby and you don't want him to get hurt, do you?"

The old woman began to rock and moan. "Ah ain't gwine let dat baby go outen mah sight! Mistah Chris brung her to me to tak' cyar of fo' him. He say she his'n. He ain't no kidnappah! Dat baby his'n! Dis ain't dat baby's ma," she lifted her head to glare at Faith. "Ah seen its ma. She got red ha'h, she have. Gimme back dat baby!" She tried to rise, to hurl herself upon Faith, but Bob, with unsuspected strength, held her down.

"Look here, Aunt Chloe! I'm a policeman myself," Bob panted, taking a hand from one of her shoulders to flip back the lapel of his coat. His deputy prohibition enforcement officer's badge, which had served him well before on a notable occasion, glinted brightly. The symbol of authority completely cowed the old woman. Groaning and muttering, she allowed them to leave, even followed them to the door and waved a farewell, intended to deceive the pack of curious, trouble-loving children clustered about the car and in the yard. And tucked under his arm Bob carried the big bundle of baby clothes which Chris had stolen along with the infant.

Here's a French Boudoir Jacket

IF you want to make this lovely little bed or boudoir jacket—buy a yard and a quarter of crepe de chine—or of soft, thin wool, if you like. One of those silky fabrics that really, in spite of their thinness and softness, are quite warm.

Now look at the diagram. It's a yard and a quarter the long way, a yard the other way. Turn in a hem all around and featherstitch it—in matching or contrasting sil. Then make a slit through the center, the long way, a slit about eight or ten inches long.

Turn the raw edges of the slit back on the right side a quarter of an inch, running down almost to nothing at the ends, and cover with a strip of rose-bud trimming. Or else don't turn the edges back—just bind them with a piece of ribbon, soft, narrow ribbon, not more than three-quarters of an inch wide. And lay the rosebud trimming on over that.

If you want you can bind the whole thing with ribbon, instead of turning a hem, and then bind the neck opening with the same ribbon and omit the rosebud trimming.

These little bed jackets are useful and really are about as pretty as anything you can imagine.

Remember they are just the thing for a card-party gift, for a Christmas present, for a trousseau gift. Make one, and see if it isn't as pretty as I have said.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Brown velvet ribbon in two widths gives a novel decorative note to this simple little frock of beige chiffon.

I should like to try the experiment of making an entire ensemble of ribbon, including everything a woman would need to wear save possibly shoes and gloves. And even the tops of the shoes might be made from some one of the heavy brocade ribbons and the gloves might be trimmed with ribbon rosettes as is the case with some of the new French cuff gloves.

Entire hats for late summer and autumn are made from the new ombre velvet ribbons. In some of the shops it is possible to order hats made to order at the ribbon counter—you select your ribbon and the desired model—a deft little milliner takes the measurements of your head and that is about all there is to it. Even the lining of the hat may be of one of the lightweight ribbons.

There are charming underarm bags made from the new metallic or tapestry ribbons. An excellent imitation of petit point is to be found in some of the new ribbons used for this purpose and there are large pouch bags with "fermoirs" or tops of metal or imitation tortoise shell—the pouches made of richly colored ribbon.

There are snakeskin ribbons that would deceive a snake itself—and these are used for purses, to trim street frocks or hats. For verily there seems to be no disposition to have done with the snake this season.

Calfskin ribbons that would make a cow go "moo-moo" are also to be seen and will be used for purses and trimmings on hats and frocks.

Lingerie is so light and abbreviated nowadays that it is an easy task to make it entirely of ribbon. For stepins or combinations the new gauze ribbon is frequently chosen. Heavier ribbon is chosen for bandeaux or girdles and one of the medium-weight ribbons, with edges faggotted together, is sometimes used for slips and petticoats.

In place of the necklace of pearls or beads one of the new ribbon necklace arrangements might be used. Two or three strands of narrow metallic ribbon are passed around the neck and left with long loops at the front.

FASHION NOTES.

By HEDDA HOYT

(United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6 (United Press).—A man may relish a rouge-smeared mouth but a cold creamed eyelid ruins his appetite for romance!

Cold cream has been the blight of many a happy romance. The business of keeping beautiful is a losing one unless carried on in private. All men like to come home to a well-kept, clean home but the male is rare who likes to be around when the lemon oil is being applied. Men admire wives who resort to artificial means of beauty, whether they are aware of the artificiality or not, but they don't like to see women applying the grease-paint. Faces in the cocoon stage have no attraction for them.

The clever woman conceals her weapons. Cosmetics are listed among the most poignant of feminine weapons in this day and age. Romance, with women is of stronger stuff. A man can wield a shaving stick over his face producing a Santa Claus effect without driving his wife into hysterics. She'll remove the soap-soaked whiskers which he parked on her vanity case without turning a hair. Man, on the other hand, wants to see the reconditioned article at all times. A mascaraed teardrop fills him with dismay.

A man will grow a two-week's beard for the fun of it. But if his wife's bob starts neckward he'll hie her to the barber. He feels that he can get on an old army skirt, a pair of grimy fishing trousers and an old fedora and start out on a vacation. But, friend wife, must have on proper sporting clothes. No old calico for hers!

It may be well enough to hold a man's love by culinary art. Facts prove, however, that the woman who keeps him blindfolded to her artificiality does a better job of holding. A kiss from a rouged mouth is better if one hasn't seen the applying of the lipstick. A cold-creamed pillow may dispel crow's feet, but it is a knock-out blow to marital bliss.

BELTS IMPORTANCE

Belts gain importance as cold days draw near. For winter coats, dresses and evening clothes will stress belt treatments this year.

HAT BRIMS

Autumn brims take new turns to chic—some of them have wide sides with little back or front and others are octagonal shaped or scalloped in points.

OLD-TIME DRESS

Reville, Ltd., London, is showing a new period evening frock of changeable green and silver taffeta that uses 18 yards of material.

PAJAMA TRAIN

Smartly feminine is a black satin and lace pajama suit that has a long lace train falling from its three-quarters lace jacket.

NEW TUCKS

Premet uses a new kind of tuck, tiny pin tucks in a fish-bone design to give novelty to the jumper of a faint rose-red kasha frock.

GYSUM GOOD.

Gypsum, called land plaster when finely ground, is often valuable in furnishing lime for plant growth. Its qualities in this regard are described in the latest report of the Dominion Chemist, which also gives the results of the analyses of samples. One agricultural function of land plaster is its property of flocculating clay which makes it valuable for the dressing of heavy clay loams which it improves in tilth by rendering them less plastic and more open and friable, in other words mellower, and more easily worked.

Land plaster also has the effect of setting free potash from its insoluble compounds in the soil, making it available for plant use, thus filling the role of an indirect potash fertilizer. This property makes it specially beneficial as a top dressing for clover, a crop that particularly responds to potash manuring.

The usual application is in the neighbourhood of 500 pounds per acre. It must be remembered, however, that gysum has no value for the treatment of sour and acid soils, and for this purpose cannot take the place of quicklime, slaked lime, marl or ground limestone.

PETES WIN THIRD GAME OF THE PLAY-OFFS

PETES LEAD PLAYOFF SERIES; WITH THREE REGULARS MISSING LOCAL CREW WIN THIRD GAME

FINAL COUNT 10 TO 2

(By F. D. C.)

The absence from the line up of three regulars, Hap Harrison, Ray Rose and Jimmy Hall, did not prevent the Petes from grabbing an easy victory over Oshawa Motors at James Stevenson Park yesterday in the third game of the Lake Shore play off series.

By far the biggest crowd of the season saw Manager Swanston's crew win 10 to 2 and the series now stands 2 to 1 in favor of the Petes, who hope to wind it up on Saturday when the fourth game will be played at Oshawa.

With three of the usual line up missing the Petes' pilot had to do some last minute patching. Ash came in from right field to cover first to a nicety and Batten played bang up ball at second, but the outfield was decidedly shaky and in a tighter game their lapses might have been disastrous. As it was two of Oshawa's safe hits should have been easy outs.

The whole team, however, had plenty of fight, they hit enough to make up for the defensive weaknesses shown and were always in front.

Al. Heckman coasted along to win his second game of the series. Although his usual good control was not always in evidence, Heck had plenty of stuff, holding Oshawa to six hits, two at least of which should have been fielded and he pitched himself nicely out of several jams in the early stages of the game.

Duke Dainty, for the third time during the play offs, was assigned the task of trying to subdue the Petes, but the veteran southpaw was hit hard and often and his support was decidedly unsteady. The Petes combed him for thirteen hits, seven of them doubles and only in one frame failed to get men on the runways. Heckman led the assault upon his rival twirler with two doubles and a single, while Jack Hall also had a pair of doubles.

The Petes infield contributed some snappy fielding, pulling off two fast double killings with Holyman as the pivot, while the shortstop was also in the limelight by reason of a great catch of Penu's good bid for a hit in the eighth.

The composite score of the three games played so far indicate that the Petes have a big edge over the Oshawa crew.

How It Was Done.

May rolled to Batten to open the game, and H. Morrison fouled to Johnston. Fair got two bases when Jack Hall dropped his fly to left but Johnston tossed out Penu.

Ash led off for the Petes with a single through short and was sacrificed to second by Johnston. Swanston hit to Dainty who threw to second too late to get Ash. Heckman doubled past H. Morrison scoring Ash and Batten sliced a single between short and third scoring Swanston. Holyman sacrificed. Hall was thrown out by Whitely.

For the Petes Hardill walked and went to second on Whitely's bad throw. Ralph fanned. Ash doubled past third. Johnston singled to short scoring Hardill. May making no play on the drive. Swanston forced Ash at third and went to second on H. Morrison's high throw. Heckman was called out on strikes.

Whitely opened Oshawa's third with a long double to right. Dainty filled to Hardill. May drew a walk. H. Morrison dropped a single into centre, scoring Whitely and sending May to third. Morrison stole second. Fair walked jamming the bases but Penu missed three and Johnston made a fast play on Matthews' slow roller to retire the side.

Batten flied out to Penu. Holyman crashed a long double to the left field fence. Dainty knocked down Hall's line and threw him out. May fumbled Hardill's roller and by fast running Holyman scored from second on the play. Ralph flied to Fair.

Williams gave Oshawa a good start in the fourth when he singled through short. T. Morrison bunted a fly to Heckman and Whitely bounded to Heckman for a double killing with Holyman as the pivot.

Ash got a life when T. Morrison failed to keep his foot on first. Johnston bunted a fly to Dainty. Swanston singled past Penu, but Heckman hit into a double play, May to Penu to T. Morrison.

Oshawa filled the bases but got no runs in the fifth. Dainty opened with a safe bunt and went to second on Johnston's bad throw. May got a lucky double to right, Hardill misjudging the ball. Dainty stopped at third. Heckman deflected H. Morrison's roller to Holyman and Dainty was run down between third and home. Fair struck out. Penu was hit, filling the bases, but Matthews fanned.

Two hits with two out gave the Petes another run in their half. With Batten and Holyman out on infield flies Hall doubled to right and scored on Hardill's long double to left centre. Ralph was thrown out by May.

Williams, first up for Motors in the sixth, walked, but T. Morrison flied to Ash, Whitely popped to Holyman and Hardill made a nice catch of Dainty's hard smash to right.

For the first and only time the Petes went out in order. Ash rolled to May, Johnston popped to H. Morrison and Williams made a running grab of Swanston's drive to left centre.

In the seventh for Oshawa, May struck out, H. Morrison grounded to Holyman, and Batten tossed out Fair.

The Petes got two. Heckman singled through short and Batten walked. Holyman forced Heckman at third. Hall drove a long double down the right field foul line, scoring Batten and Holyman, but was out himself trying to go to third on the throw in. Hardill rolled to Penu.

Holyman made a great catch of Penu's line drive. Matthews walked but was forced at second by Williams. The latter stole second and scored on T. Morrison's high fly to centre which should have been an easy out went for a double when Ralph left the play to Hall who could not get over for it. Whitely struck out.

Matthews was on the mound for the Motors when the Petes' half opened. Collins batted for Ralph and was safe when H. Morrison fumbled his roller. Ash hit to Matthews who threw high to second and everybody was safe. When Matthews uncorked a wild pitch, advancing the runners he was sent back to the outfield and Dainty came back from right to finish the game. Johnston's single to third scored Collins and Ash came in on Swanston's sacrifice bunt. Heckman doubled to right, scoring Johnston. Dainty sneaked a third strike over on Batten and Heckman was out at third when he tried to advance on Dainty's low throw to second.

The ninth was soon over. Dainty got a life on Holyman's error but was cut down with May when the latter hit to Batten for a double killing. H. Morrison's roller to Johnston wound up the fixture.

Champion Sculler Defeats Challenger

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—Major Goodsell, world's titleholder, successfully defended his sculling honors yesterday afternoon against Bert Barry, English champion, defeating the challenger by approximately 10 lengths. Barry had the jump at the start but Goodsell spurted and passed his opponent at the quarter mile mark and from then on the race was never in doubt. The official time was given as slightly under twenty-four minutes, the course being rather choppy.

Buffalo took both ends of a double bill at Rochester yesterday by 5 to 3 and 6 to 1. The locals played a loose fielding game behind Bagby and Thormahlen, while the visitors flashed brilliantly in the field.

Newark and Jersey City divided a double header at Newark, the visitors winning the first, 4 to 3, and losing the second 7 to 5. In the first game the Skeeters sewed up the contest by scoring three runs in the eighth on four hits, an error and a wild pitch. The Bears took the second by scoring five runs in the second and after that they were never headed. Each club used three pitchers in the nightcap. Gubris held the Cats to one hit.

CRESCENTS WIN TIES UP ROUND WITH SMELTERS

Local Boys Play Errorless Ball To Defeat Deloro Nine.

FINAL SCORE 4-3.

Mein's Good Pitching Stops Deloro in All But One Inning.

Long on confidence but short on ability, Deloro's Ontario Intermediate champions took the small end of a 4 to 3 count in their second game with Crescents at Exhibition Park, at the week-end. The third and deciding game will be played at Belleville, on Wednesday afternoon.

The champions failed to startle Keith Mein, the good rightthander feeding the Smelters an assortment of shoots, and a line of control that battled efforts to get runs for even frames, rather a fine showing for the Peterborough youngster. In the eighth, Mein was unlucky to hit Bond, the first batsman. A single across second, a drive into right, a stolen base, and Quinn's fast sprint home from third after Kenneally's sensational catch of Boudreau's foul fly at the visitors' bench, gave Deloro all three runs. Right on top of Kenneally's catch, Jack LeBarr tore across the field to rob Regan of a three-bagger, and when Scully copped Brown's short fly the rally was over.

The visitors had the tie run on base with two gone in the ninth, but Mein, who had recovered in fine style, struckout Bond to end the game.

To a lot of fans, it looked as though the champions did not overwork themselves with "Inky" Wood, the former local hurler trying to register a win. Leal messed up a couple of easy chances and switched jobs with Bond in the third, but the latter had a bad peg to third and another to the plate, good for two runs.

It was a great game of ball. Much of the hitting was solid, and the fielding immense. Jack, as usual showed a fine throwing arm in his pegs to the first corner, and also a lot of speed when he relieved Wood in the seventh. Brown, who subbed at first base, had a good day, cutting off several vicious drives from the Crescents. Boudreau stole a double from Scully with a nice catch in the fourth.

Kenneally's work on foul flies was pretty. He got four of them, all hard chances. The infielders tackled everything getable in faultless fashion as did also the flychasers, all three distinguishing themselves.

Crescents scored first, getting a cheap run in the third. Leal did a circus act on J. Jones' grounder, the ball rolling about his shoulder. Quinn's throw to Jack at the bag as Jones went down was wide. The runner kept on going and Bond who retrieved the ball threw wildly to third, Jones going on in. Jack whipped a fast one across to stop Kenneally, Leal went down and came up with the ball, on Ranger's fly, and Barry who singled, was caught off first and tagged out at second.

Two were out in the sixth when the locals counted two more. Scully cut a single through second, and stole, scoring on Corbett's drive into left. F. Jones got a hit down first, Quinn tried a throw to Bond to bottle Corbett, the runner scoring when Bond's return peg was high.

Crescents started a promising session in the seventh. LeBarr was safe on a bunt down third. J. Jones doubled to middle. Quinn's peg to third caught LeBarr away from the bag. Kenneally fanned. Jones was hit in by Ranger's drive to left. Wood went to short, and Jack to the mound. Barry flew out to Ralph who had replaced Berry.

Deloro put runners on second and third with one out in the third but couldn't land the punch. Quirr, a good sticker, was struckout and Boudreau drove a fast one at Barry.

In the sixth, when the champions needed a run to tie it up, they failed again. Jack, who had doubled, and was resting at third with one gone, watched Boudreau strick out. With Regan up, the clever shortfielder proceeded to go in, only to see the play mussed up by Regan who bunted a pop to Scully.

Woods tried hard for a counter in the seventh when he singled across second, and stole second and third cleanly. Ralph, batting for Berry ended the frame with a foul fly to the catcher.

Finally, in the eighth, the visitors broke out and scored three. Bond was hit, Jack singled across second, and Quinn drove two in with a single to right. Quinn who had made second, and stole third, flashed across the plate following Kenneally's catch on Boudreau's foul at the Deloro bench. The Crescents' backstop was unable to steady himself for the throw to the plate in time to nip the runner. The next two went out.

Two were gone in the ninth when Ralph singled to left. It was a right place to be in with the visitors' heavy artillery all lined up. Bond watched the first one go over and Ralph hugged the bag. The second strike was a foul, and the third one went right through into Kinneally's big mitt.

HARDILL IS OFF COLOUR IN GAME AGAINST MOTORS

HARRISON'S HOMERS

First Baseman Drives in Five Runs in Second Game of Series.

(By F. D. C.)

The Petes lost the second game of the Lakeshore play off series in Oshawa on Saturday when they were nosed out by a run in a heavy-hitting affair which the Motors won 9 to 8.

The game was one that would have been safely tucked away in the bat bag by the Petes had Jeff Hardill shown any of his usual stuff. The big youngster had neither speed, control nor a hook and was hit hard during the 4 2-3 innings he remained on the hill top. Ray Rose contributed a neat exhibition of pinch pitching when he took over the gunnery duties in the fifth and held Oshawa without a hit for the balance of the fixture. He baffled the Motors with a nice assortment of stuff and the Petes, five runs behind came on and almost pulled the game out of the fire.

Duke Dainty, sent back at the Swanston gang, took a bad lacing, the Petes nicking him for twelve hits and eight earned runs but he managed to stagger through on the big lead secured from Hardill's ineffective pitching in the early stages, saving the game by his judgment in walking Harrison and Heckman in the ninth when a hit from either of them would have meant defeat.

Hap Harrison led the attack, coming through with two homers and a pair of singles for a perfect average for the day. Altogether the big first sacker drove in five runs. His first circuit clout came with the bases empty but the second found two runners waiting transportation. Both homers were terrific wallops on which he easily made the circuit. It was Harrison's day for in addition to his great hitting he made a sensational gloved hand pick up of a vicious roller back of first that cut May out of a possible triple.

Both outfields did some great work, with Jimmy Hall in left for the Petes and Williams in the same position for the Motors supplying the chief fireworks.

The Petes got away well. Rose fouled to Benson. Johnston was passed but was forced at second by Swanston. Ash singled to right. Harrison ripped a single through short to score Swanston and Jim Hall hit to right for a base to send Ash in and Harrison to third. Hall stole second but Holyman flied to left.

Oshawa evened it up in the second. Schultz was passed and went to second on Matthews' bounder to the box. Williams doubled down the left field foul line scoring one. Dainty flied to Jack Hall but Benson singled to second sending Williams to third. Morrison rolled to Holyman, whose throw pulled Harrison off the bag, Williams scoring. Jimmy Hall's fine running catch of Fair's foul fly ended the inning.

The Petes again took the lead in the fourth. Harrison, first up, hit the first of his two homers, a mammoth drive to the race track in deep left. Jim Hall got a lucky hit when Harrington misjudged his high fly. He was forced at second on Holyman's bunt. Holyman went to second on an infield out and scored when the wind blew Hardill's lofty fly away from Harrington. Rose struck out.

The lead was short-lived. Matthews opened Oshawa's half with a home run on a vicious drive past Jimmy Hall. Williams singled to centre and was sacrificed to second by Dainty. A balk by Hardill put him on third and he came home on Whitely's long sacrifice fly to Jack Hall.

The fifth saw the exit of Hardill. He started off by walking Fair and fumbling May's bunt. Penu sacrificed the pair along a peg and they both scored on Harrington's single to centre. The batter tried to go to second on the throw and was nipped. Rose made a fine stop of Matthews' hard hit roller but threw low to first. Hardill then walked Williams. Dainty singled to centre to score Matthews, and Whitely crashed another single to right to send Williams in. Hardill retired at this stage and Rose went to the mound, Batten replacing him at second. His second ball was a wild pitch that scored Dainty but after passing Morrison the relief pitcher fanned Fair to end the innings, and for the rest of the game had Motors tied up.

Five runs down the Petes kept hammering along and in the seventh Harrison's second homer put them right back in the game. Rose opened with a single to left out Johnston flied to Penu and Swanston forced Rose on a rap to Morrison. Ash, however, drew a pass and he and Swanston jogged, home ahead of Harrison on the first baseman's huge drive to deep right centre. That made it 9 to 7. Jimmy Hall walked but Holyman died on strikes.

The Petes made another bid in the eighth when Heckman, batting for Jack Hall, singled to left and was sacrificed to second by Batten. Rose, however, fanned and Johnston's hard hit liner was right at May.

They threw a big scare in the Oshawa camp in the ninth. Swanston started with a hot single over third and Ash ripped another in the same territory. Dainty took no chances on Harrison and passed him, filling the bases. Matthews came to the rescue with a fine catch of Jimmy Hall's fly to short right, Swanston holding third. Holyman was called out on strikes. This brought Heckman up and Dainty decided to present the Petes with a run rather than to give the hard-hitting pitcher a chance to break up the game. He tossed four wide of the plate and Heckman walked. Swanston being forced in with the Petes eighth run. It was good judgment on the Duke's part for with the count 3 and 2 on Batten, he went after a wide one and tipped a foul into Whitely's hands to end the game.

REDS TAKE TWIN BILL

Misplays Expensive for Pirate Infield in Double Victory.

CINCINNATI OUTHIT

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press.)— The Cincinnati Reds tightened up the already closely drawn National League pennant race yesterday by taking both ends of a double header at Pittsburgh, whittling down the slender hold of the Corsairs on first place. The Reds took the morning game 8 to 6 and the afternoon contest 4 to 3.

The Pirates outhit the visitors in both games, but the Reds connected with the ball when hits counted, generally after expensive misplays by the Pittsburgh infield.

Rixey and Donohue were the winning pitchers. Miljus, Cvengros, Hill and Dawson toiled for the Pirates in the first game while Meadows went the entire route in the afternoon.

The Giants climbed to within one game of the Pirates by splitting with the Braves at the Polo Grounds, dropping the opener by 6 to 1, and annexing the second by 9 to 8. Boston stopped New York's winning streak of 10 straight in the first game Robertson holding the McGraw men in check while his mates pounded Barnes. About 55,000 were at the Polo Grounds when the Giants closed out the double bill and an avalanche of straw - hats descended upon the diamond when New York won.

Hits Two Homers.

George Harper hit two homers in successive times at bat in the second game, none being on base either time. After Terry and Jackson singled in the ninth with one out, Harper tried to win the game with a hit, only to strike out. Cummings came through with a double for the deciding run. Henry's relief pitching saved the day for the Giants, New York made five errors in the nightcap, three being charged against Horne-by. Boston had four misplays.

Jess Haines' airtight pitching shut out the Cubs in the afternoon game of the Chicago double header, and St. Louis won 2 to 0. The Cubs hammered out a victory over the Cardinals, 6 to 1, in the morning combat.

An overflow crowd yesterday afternoon led to the Cubs' downfall. Chuck Hafey drove two balls into the crowd for doubles and each paved the way for a Cardinal run. With Frisch on base, Hafey drove him home with a double. In the seventh Hafey got his second two bagger, went to third on an infield out and trotted home on Bush's wild pitch.

The Phillies registered a double triumph over the Robins at Brooklyn, 6 to 1 and 7 to 1. Cy Williams stretching his home run total to 28 by clouting for the circuit in each game. Ulrich held Brooklyn scoreless until the ninth in the opener while Jack Scott kept 11 hits well distributed in the afterpiece. Brooklyn used four pitchers in the second tilt, Robinson finally calling upon Vance to finish after the Phillies had reached Doak, Plitt and Ehrhardt.

"WE" IN THE PRIZE RING.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 6. — (United Press).—Even a great jockey has to have a good horse under him to win, you can hear it argued around the race tracks. A great horse, the argument follows, will win with any kind of a boy on him but a Sande or a Fator can't push a plug first under the wire.

Along the same line you can find expert opinion to tell you that the best of football coaches have to have good material to turn out a winner and the "master mind" of baseball can't make a batter single with the winning run on third base.

Applying the same reasoning to the prize ring, opinions can be found differing as to whether the manager makes a fighter or the fighter makes the manager.

Lindbergh has been given credit for inventing the expression "we" but it has been in use for a generation around the ring.

When the fighter wins, the manager says "we." When the fighter loses the losing end of the firm is "he". And it thus follows that the manager of a greater fighter insists upon the credit for making him and if he finds himself with the contract of a punk—"I can't do nothing with that bum."

Jack Kearns always has insisted that it was he who made the left hand of Dempsey the deadliest punch in the ring.

"When I first got him," Kearns says, "I strapped his right hand to his side and made him fight with his left alone. That's how he got that left."

Dempsey stood for the table as long as he and Kearns were on friendly terms but when their partnership was dissolved it was one of Dempsey's first acts to blow up the myth.

"Nobody taught me to fight," he said, "I learned in the back rooms where you had to have both hands. If anybody taught me control and how to punch it was Jimmy De Forest."

There may be some doubt about the value of a manager in handling a fighter outside of the business end of the game but there can be no question of the value of a good trainer and a good second in the corner.

If there could be any doubt, it was proved in the case of Jack Dempsey and Leo Flynn.

Dempsey came to New York to sign for the Sharkey fight without a manager. Tex Rickard knew that he had been poisoned by worry before the Tunney fight and he insisted that Dempsey get someone to handle him and take charge of his camp. Rickard suggested Leo Flynn and Dempsey accepted.

"I'm not taking you for the money in it," Flynn said when he accepted. "If I didn' think I could do something for you I wouldn't waste the time. I know where you were wrong in Philadelphia and I know how to beat this Sharkey but I will have to be the boss of everyone."

Flynn then tossed a contract on the table calling for his services for the Sharkey and Tunney fights for a consideration of—One dollar.

It was a hard job for Flynn, as Rickard knew it would be. There were around Dempsey one or two secretaries, Gus Wilson, an assistant manager and trainer, Jerry the Greek, the rubber ,and a couple of cops.

But Flynn let them know he was the boss and told them if they didn't do what they weer told he would sock 'em himself and then toss them out of the camp. They grumbled behind his back, but they danced when he was looking.

"Get your legs and wind in shape," Flynn told Dempsey. "Not too much or correct him. The camp motto fighting and punch short. And don't hit that guy any place but in the belly."

Dempsey followed instructions to the letter and the result is known. Flynn really made over Dempsey in the short space of a few weeks. Before that there never had been anyone around Dempsey to coach him road work. Get off your toes when was—"Nobody can beat the champ."

The work that Flynn did on Dempsey in the corner after the first round was a work of particular art. He not only worked on him to bring him back physically but he used the old conversation to restore the morale that might have been slipping.

"Just a bum over there," Flynn said, "You don't see him making faces now. In the belly, Jack. No place else. In the belly." And he chanted the same thing from the corner all through the fight.

If Jess Willard had had a Flynn in his corner in Toledo, Jack Dempsey might not have won the championship. If a Flynn had been behind Firpo Dempsey might have been knocked out. But they were too arrogant or too ignorant to realize the importance of a good man in the corner and they paid for it.

Tom Gibbons never needed attention or instruction from the corner until the Tunney fight, but he always wanted a friend back of him. "Seems then like I am not alone," he often said.

TILDEN AND HUNTER WIN DOUBLES TENNIS HONORS

Defeat Johnston and Williams in Three Sets, 10-8, 6-3, 6-3.

KEEN CONTESTS

Eileen Bennett and Henri Cochet Take Mixed Doubles.

BROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press)—William T. Tilden II of Philadelphia and his Wimbledon partner, Francis T. Hunter of New York, are the national doubles tennis champions for 1927. They won the title on the main court of the Longwood Cricket Club yesterday by defeating William M. Johnston of California, and Richard N. Williams, of Philadelphia, in straight sets, 10-8, 6-3, 6-3.

Following the men's doubles match Miss Eileen Bennett of England and Henri Cochet of France won the mixed doubles title from Mrs. George W. Wightman of Boston and Rene La Coste of France. The scores were 2-6, 6-0, 6-2.

The first set of the men's doubles match was a keenly contested battle that ended only when Tilden loosed a remarkably steady attack that gave him and Hunter three straight games and the set. The next two sets, although hard fought, were more in favor of the new champions throughout. While Tilden and Hunter improved their game, Johnston and Williams found it difficult to find their pace. Tilden was largely responsible for the victory. He played an accurate and speedy game. Hunter was nervous at the start but he seemed to improve as the first set wore on and played a noticeably better game in the last two sets Tilden bore the brunt of the attack, and in turn took the lead in serving furious volleys that Johnston and Williams found increasingly difficult to return.

The last two sets were decided in favor of Tilden and Hunter mainly because Johnston and Williams repeatedly drove to the net or outside. Whatever they gained on their service they more than lost by their unsteady play in returning terrific smashes.

The tennis displayed in the mixed doubles finals by Cochet and Miss Bennett was just as sparkling as that of Tilden and Hunter. There were times when Cochet's brilliant work rose above that shown previously by the redoubtable Tilden. Mrs. Wightman and La Coste were at their best in the first set, which they won, 6 to 2. After that they were outclassed.

Cochet and his English partner took the second set without losing a game and volleyed throughout the third set, 6 to 2. Cochet who seems to play best in doubles, was all over the court, although Miss Bennett contributed numerous fine shots. Mrs. Wightman played erratic tennis in the last two sets.

Glen Schultz Wins Pike's Peak Climb

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—Glen Schultz, Colorado Springs automobile racer, yesterday won the ninth annual Pike's Peak Hill climb. His time was 18 minutes, 25 1-4 seconds. This is 6 1-10 seconds slower than his time last year, when he also captured the event.

Joe Unser won second place with a time of 20 minutes, 24 4-5 seconds. Bob Mason with second place money in sight, wrecked his machine at the finish line and was disqualified. He was uninjured.

Gehrig Now Tied With Homer King

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—The largest crowd to watch American League ball in Boston in years witnessed the cellar Red Sox take a sensational 12 to 11 contest from the first place Yankees in 18 innings yesterday and then remained to see the New Yorkers romp off with a 5 to 0 verdict in a five inning second game. Darkness ended the closing tussle. The paid attendance was 34,385 making ground rules necessary. Hundreds stormed the gates after the sale of tickets was stopped.

Lou Gehrig made his 44th homer in the third inning of the first game to tie with Babe Ruth for the season's total. Koenig was on base at the time, with Ruffing pitching. Ruffing twirled 15 of the 18 innings, Wilcse finishing. The Yanks came from behind to tie the score in the ninth with a two run rally. Each team scored three runs in the 17th and in the next inning successive doubles by Myer and Flagstead off Hoyt, the fifth New York pitcher, settled the battle. The game lasted four hours and 20 minutes.

The Athletics strengthened their grip on second place by taking the morning and afternoon games from the Washington Senators by scores of 2 to 1 and 3 to 0. The Mackmen got to Tom Zachary in the closing innings of the morning game by scoring a run each in the eighth and ninth that overcame the Senators' 1 to 0 lead. Hale's double scored Bishop with the tying run in the eighth inning, and Zach Wheat delivered a single in the ninth with the bases filled.

Jack Quinn blanked the visitors with seven hits in the afternoon contest. The Athletics made a triple play in the seventh inning of this game when Bluege lined to Boley with men on first and second. Boley's throw to Bishop caught Judge off second and Bishop's throw to Dykes retired Ruel on a loose play at first.

Browns Break Even.

Cleveland and St. Louis broke even in a double header at Cleveland the home teams taking the first, 7 to 6, while the Browns won the second, 3 to 2.

Fonseca's hitting was largely responsible for the Indians' victory in the first. He made a single, triple and homer, all of which figured in making runs. Ken Williams led the Browns' attack in the first with a single and a homer.

The Tigers earned an even break in the holiday double header at Detroit with the White Sox by winning the afternoon game 10 to 6 after being shut out 5 to 0 in the morning. Thomas held the Tigers to four hits in the forenoon while both Blakenship and Barnabee were hit hard in the second game. Carroll, who started in the afternoon for the Tigers, was knocked out of the box in the seventh inning.

Johnny Mostil, who attempted suicide while the Sox were training at Shreveport, La., made his first appearance of the season in the outfield this afternoon. He went to his old position in centre field in the sixth inning. He had only one fielding chance and made an error on that. Heretofore Mostil had been used only as a pinch runner.

AT THE GRAND

MAMIE SMITH AND HER GANG.

When Mamie Smith and her bouquet of brown-eyed Susans come to the Grand Opera House on Wednesday theatregoers will be given a rare treat. The many admirers who have been thrilled by Miss Smith as a world-famed Victor Record artist and originator of the "BLUES" songs will have the opportunity to hear her perform in person. In addition they will have the pleasure of seeing her as a terpsicorean artist of rare accomplishment. She will be accompanied by a blue ribbon company of forty (all colored) artists. It is the verdict of prominent New York critics that these artists excel European importations in that their talent is of the inborn variey, with all the charm of spontaneity, youth and grace so often lacking in the studied performance of the foreign artist.

AT THE CAPITOL.

"THE FLAG LIEUTENANT."

One of the most interesting British films shown here in many moons is "The Flag Lieutenant," running at the Capitol Theatre during the first half of this week. It has action and romance and an element that is seldom injected into modern pictures or literature, self-sacrifice. Is is the story of the friendship of one man for another and shows the lengths to which the younger man, with his apparently frivolous nature, went to help his pal. "The Flag Lieutenant" is absorbing and lacks the heavy touch which is sometimes apparent in British pictures, while having the atmosphere of reality and steadiness which the producers of English films know so well how to impart to their stories. To watch it is like looking at a cross section of real life.

Henry Edwards is the star of "The Flag Lieutenant" and gives a wonderfully fine delineation of the feckless lad whose proverbial luck has brought him to an outstanding position in His Majesty's Navy, and the love of the Admiral's daughter, and whose irresponsibility has earned him the reputation of a playboy among his fellows.

In a scrap with Arabs, the Flag Lieutenant and his comrades are ordered ashore and the subsequent fighting at the fort gives the hero, "Lucky" Dick Lascelles, his chance to make good and prove that he is able to achieve something more than mere frothy popularity. However, a twist of Fate gives the honor to his friend, and he acquiesces in the arrangement, in order to give the older man what he has failed to attain, after twenty-six years in the service. How Dick finally vindicates himself in the eyes of the Admiral and his daughter is skilfully worked out in a satisfactory ending.

The characterizations of the picture are immense and the backgrounds afforded by the ships in action, the fighting seaplanes and the boys of the Navy are unusual in motion picture annals and distinctly worth while. From one angle alone, the glimpse it affords of Navy life and customs. "The Flag Lieutenant" is notable, and exceptionally entertaining.

With the feature is a good comedy, "On the Run," and some excellent short reels.

The audience last night was extremely appreciative, the applause for "The Flag Lieutenant" being very noticeable.

CENSORS BAR BIBLE VERSES

Order Change Made in Play, "Potipha's Wife," in London.

PLAY WELL RECEIVED.

LONDON, September 6. Canadian Press. — The Lord Chamberlain's Department which is responsible for the censorship of stage plays, regards with no favorable eye the inclusion of Bible references in dramatic works. "Potiphar's Wife," which has just been produced at the Queen's here was returned for revision because the passage, Genesis xxix, 7-20, was put into the mouth of one of the characters. The playwright Edgar Middleton, expunged the passage but the management printed it on the loose sheets which were inserted in the programmes.

Potiphar here proves to be an elderly member of the peerage, married to a young wife and the Joseph is a chauffeur who declines without the least hesitation to become infatuated with Mrs. Potiphar. There is a scene in her ladyship's dressing room, and at the close, stung by the modern Joseph's refusal, her Ladyship calsl the rest of the household in and accuses Joseph of assault. He takes his trial and needless to say, "gets off." The wonder rather is that any police magistrate found the slightest ground for committing him on such flimsy evidence. Mrs. Potiphar leave the court alone—and what happens to her ultimately we are not told.

The critics here acknowledge that the dressing room scene and the trial scene secure some grip on the beholder but the work as a whole they assert is uneven and has little more real depth than an ordinary monthly magazine story. The introduction of a woman barrister is something of a novelty in stagecraft, but in the present instance it has been described as an unintentional argument against women barristers. The play had an enthusiastic reception on its first night. It seems to be one of those productions which may flicker for a few weeks and then suddenly expire, or it may have a run of many months in London alone.

MINE ASBESTOS IN SOUTH AFRICA

Firms Produce Three Varieties From Deposits, Says Delegate.

OTHER MINERALS.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—South Africa's base metal and base mineral resources were reviewed in a paper before the Empire Mining Congress here to-day by C. J. N. Jourdan, of Bloemfontein, South Africa. Of special interest to Canadian delegates was his account of the South African asbestos mining industry, which has been expanding rapidly in recent years. Three distinct varieties of asbestos are mined in Africa. These include "chrysotile," the variety for which the Eastern Townships of the Province of Quebec have become world-famed; "Cape blue," which is peculiar to South Africa, so far as deposits of commercial size are concerned; and 'amosite,' a very long-fibre asbestos.

Mr. Jourdan's description of the African corundum deposits was also of considerable local interest, in view of the fact that there are, in the Craigmont district, Ontario, enormous deposits of corundum-bearing rocks which for many years formed the basis of a prosperous industry. This however, was killed by competition from the more cheaply made artificial abrasives. The South African corundum-bearing reefs frequently carry as much as 45 per cent. and sometimes even 90 per cent. of corundum, and in places weathering of these reefs has given rise to deposits of loose bounder or "crystal" corundum. These latter were worked on a fairly large scale during the war, and there are signs that the demand is again increasing.

Nickel ores occur in several districts in the Transvaal, and there is a striking similarity between some of these occurrences and the famous Sudbury deposits. Platinum is associated with the nickel and copper in the recently discovered Merensky platinum reef, which again recalls the fact that the recovery of platinum from the Sudbury ores has placed Canada third among the platinum-producing countries of the world.

Other South African papers presented at this meeting were by W. A. Quince, on "Methods of eliminating barren rock from ore at the Sub Nigel Mine, Transvaal," and by Messrs. Carl R. Davis, J. L. Willey, and S. E. T. Ewing on "The Operation of the Reduction Plant at West Springs, Limited."

STOCKHOLM.—(United Press). — Shorthand writing was in use 2,000 years ago, according to Colonel Olof Melin, the originator of the Melin shorthand system, most popular in Sweden. The Colonel, who has for many years been the pioneer of shorthand in Sweden, has just published a history of stenographic writing in which he tells about a marble slab found in 1883 in the old Akropolis in Greece on which a system of Greek shorthand writing was described.

Worry Over Bob Is Cause of Suicide

LONDON, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press).—Mrs. Saran Ann Turner, of Buckland, Hampshire, was found dead with her head in a gas oven. King George Enjoys His Grouse Shooting

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(Canadian Press).—King George, who every year in the grouse-shooting season is a guest of the Duke of Devonshire, former Governor-General of Canada, at Bolton Abbey, Yorkshire, is one of the best shots in Great Britain, and he greatly enjoys the grouse season, which opens always on August 12 and closes December 10. His Majesty, as usual, arrived at Bolton Abbey in good time for the opening. His departure from London on August 11 was the beginning of his only real holiday this year so far.

The King will go to Balmoral, Scotland, from Bolton Abbey, and will pay a series of private visits there. No Cabinet Minister will be in attendance, and only one private secretary will accompany him to attend to matters of urgency. While in residence at Balmoral Castle he will be troubled by affairs of state as little as possible, according to the usual custom.

GOOD BILL OFFERED AT REGENT THEATRE

Gene Tunney Plays Leading Part in Serial—Building Repainted.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 6.—The Regent Theatre is offering an excellent bill for the first half of the week. The comedy is full of genuine laughs. The fighting Marine, a serial picture of the life and adventure in a Californian mining town across the Mojave desert, has already won the hearts of the movie fans. Gene Tunney, in a most unusual role, plays the leading part. It is not yet too late to pick up the trend of the story, which is absolutely devoid of all trace of far-fetched, hair-raising scenes. The scenes are all perfectly possible and probable and are dealt with in a sane manner. The very true-to-life character of the picture is strongly in its favor.

The feature picture, "Whispering Smith," is a powerful picturization of life, love and adventure on and about the railroad. The scenes are mostly photographed in the Rocky Mountains. Whispering Smith, a tall, thin, clean-shaven man, plays a strong part as a silent man whose nerves are of steel and who is the most feared and at the same time respected man on the railroad.

As a special feature, Earle Waterman, the Smiling Boy Tenor, wins applause by his pleasing voice and manner as he sings the latest popular numbers. Mrs. James Benor, Campbellford, is playing his accompaniments.

The Doxsee block which houses the local telephone exchange, has been newly decorated throughout the entire interior. The ceilings are done in cream flat-tone paint, with similarly colored kalsomined walls. The woodwork is grained and varnished. The entire interior is that of a new building. William Dunstan, who was in charge of the work, is now engaged by the local branch of the Standard Bank of Canada to repaint the large gilt signs which extend the full length of their buildings. This work will be completed in a few days.

NEW PASS GATE.

All citizens who have concessions and use passes to the Exhibition for any reason, must enter this year through the new pass gate, at the George street entrance. This is really a convenience rather than a hardship as no other ticket will admit through this gate, and there will be no delay to those who have business to attend to inside the grounds. This rule will be strictly adhered to, and it will be necessary for the pass bearers to remember where their entrance is.

LABOR DAY AT CATCHACOMA

The Catchacoma Lakes, composed of Catchacoma, Gold, Gull, Eagle, Bottle, etc., were visited by a great number of Peterborough people on Labor Day. This country, thirty-five miles straight north through Buckhorn by an excellent road, can be reached in two hours by auto from the city. The district is some four hundred feet higher than Peterborough and is the most beautiful in Ontario, if not in the world. The Government has reserved all public lands for representation, but while no more lands can be bought there from the Government, they are not barred to tourists.

FIRE IN BEDROOM ENGAGES BRIGADE

Firemen Have Run This Morning To 423 Driscoll Terrace.

The Fire Department received a hurried call, sent in at 9.16 to-day by Mrs. Speer, to 423 Driscoll Terrace, and when they arrived Mrs. Huard, with some neighbors, was busily engaged in throwing water on a smoking pile of clothes and papers in a corner of a bedroom. The firemen carried the smouldering debris outside and more water was applied where the paper on walls and ceiling was scorched, and where the floor was burned.

Mrs. Huard was first attracted by the decided odor of smoke while she was seated on her front porch, and, turning, she saw a dense cloud coming from the window of the bedroom, which is on the first floor. There were many speculations as to the origin of the blaze, and as a box of matches lay on a shelf amidst papers, some thought mice might have been the incendiary spirits, while others held that the matches may have fallen on a large knife which was under the shelf.

These theories were exploded by the Fire Chief, who later visited the scene, and who stated that the fire originated from a cigarette butt or the head flying off a match as it was being lit.

The Fire Department was called to 456 Monaghan Road yesterday at 8.23 a.m. to a chimney fire.

There was no damage.

DOG SHOW MEETING.

Members of Kennel Club Will Meet on Friday.

The Peterborough Kennel Club will meet on Friday evening, Sept. 9th at Chamber of Commerce, at 8 o'clock to complete arrangements for the coming dog show. All members please be present.

Today is one of sackcloth and ashes for thousands of children in the city; today the long summer vacation came to an end and school lessons and discipline became once more part and parcel of daily juvenile life.

All the schools report full attendances of staffs and a large proportion of scholars in attendance. The issuing of school supplies is one of the most important items of business at the first day of school after the summer vacation.

Alexander Mowat, School Inspector, anticipates a slight increase in the numbers of scholars attending during the coming months, but no overcrowding.

A large Entrance Class of 293 with some out of town pupils bringing up the number to more than 300, went out leaving room for incomers.

So great a stimulus has prohibition been to the California wine-grape industry that now there are only ten California counties where grapes are not grown. Formerly, there were eighteen.

WEDDING BELLS.

GARDNER—LONGMUIR.

Trent River Church, beautifully decorated with gladioli and asters, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at eleven o'clock Saturday, when Pansy Pearl, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Longmuir, Havelock, was united in marriage to Percy William Gardner, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner, Asphodel. Leaning on the arm of her father, the bride entered the church to the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Berenice Hall, of Peterborough. She was becomingly attired in a gown of rose petal georgette crepe, with picture hat of black velvet, and black satin shoes to match. She carried a large bouquet of ophelia roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Longmuir, sister of the bride, wore a pretty gown of olive green crepe, with black felt hat and shoes to match. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses. The groom was supported by Mr. Jack Snedden of Kemptville, Ont. The ushers were Mr. William Longmuir and Mr. Ted McGee.

The ceremony was performed by the pastor of the church, Rev. W. R. Archer, assisted by Rev. F. Stillman, of Norwood United Church. During the signing of the register, Rev. W. R. Archer rendered a solo, "O Promise Me."

After a sumptuous dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Sunny Slope Farm, the house being beautifully decorated with gladioli and pansies, Mr. and Mrs. Gardner left on a motor trip to Kingston, Ottawa and Montreal. The bride travelled in a powder blue canton crepe dress and powder blue charmaleen coat, with felt hat to match. Upon their return they will reside in Asphodel.

The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome black morocco covered hat box; to the bridesmaid, a fancy gold finger compact; to the groomsman, a pair of engraved gold cuff links, and to the organist, a bar pin set in pearls.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

FINLEY—LEWIS.

"Sunnyside Farm," Peterborough, was the scene of a very pretty autumn wedding at noon on Saturday, when Gladys Elizabeth, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Lewis, was united in marriage to Ralph E., only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Finley, Toronto, Rev. A. P. Latter of Oakwood, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. V. McNeely, of Bridgenorth.

To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march played by Mrs. H. J. Lewis, the beautiful bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, wearing a charming bouffant gown of romain crepe and chincille lace, with white shoes and gloves. The wedding veil of embroidered brussels net was held in place with a crown of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of sweetheart roses and valley lilies.

Miss Mary F. Lewis as her sister's bridesmaid, wore a lovely gown of maize taffeta with maize hose, and black satin slippers and carried an arm bouquet of ophelia roses and French daisies. Little Elizabeth Jane Lewis, two year old niece of the bride, in blonde georgette, over pale shell pink crepe with shoes and hose to match, carrying a basket of roses and French daisies, made a dainty flower girl.

The groom was supported by Mr. Stanley Wadlow of Toronto.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Theora Arnold-Lewis of Mishawaka, Indiana, sang "I Listen for You."

After the ceremony, the reception was held. The bride's mother received, gowned in rose-wood- satin-faced crepe. Mrs. Finley, mother of the groom, wore a gown of navy-blue georgette and satin.

Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left by motor for New York and other Eastern points. The bride travelled in grey flat crepe gown, trimmed in green, with green sport coat, grey hat, shoes and hose, and gloves to match; also the gift of the groom, a beautiful silver fox fur.

On their return they will be at home after October 15th at 150 Indian Grove, Toronto.

The home of the bride was artistically decorated with palms, evergreens, gladioli, and other fall flowers for the wedding ceremony.

WHYTE—HERD

On Saturday morning, September 3rd, the marriage was solemnized at Knox United Church Manse by the Rev. Wm. McDonald; B. D., of Mary Cowan Herd, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herd, and Allan Keith Whyte, eldest son of Mrs. Wm. K. Whyte and the late Mr. Whyte, of Montreal. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of orchid georgette trimmed with cream lace and ribbon, a black lace and net hat with orchid flowers, orchid stockings, black satin and silver shoes, and carried an arm bouquet of ophelia roses. IN MEMORIAM.

In loving memory of Mrs. H. Windover:

When the evening shades have fallen
And I am all alone,
Into my heart there comes a longing:
If you only could come home.
What would I give to clasp your hand,
Your happy face to see,
To hear your voice and see your smiles
That meant so much to me.
You always had a cheerful smile,
You smiles, I see them yet,
Your tender love for everyone
I never shall forget.

VICTORIOUS LIFE MEETINGS PLANNED

Mrs. Berg Will Conduct Conferences at Bethany Tabernacle.

Mrs. Virginia Brandt Berg, evangelist, who is holding a two weeks' evangelist campaign in Bethany Tabernacle, will be the speaker at the Victorious Life Conference being held in Bethany Tabernacle this week in connection with her meetings there.

Mrs. Berg has held Victorious Life Conferences all over the United States and in many places in Canada. These meetings have been the means of helping many Christians to see and accept the overcoming victorious life that is so fully provided for in the Word of God.

Mrs. Berg's long experience as national field secretary for the Florence Crittenden Homes, which took her into every State in the United States and to Europe bringing her into many thousands of poor, needy people and also the best minds of both continents, has given her a training that makes her sympathetic with and very proficient in dealing with the problems of hungry hearts. Mrs. Berg's clear understanding of the Word of God and her deep spiritual life enables her to help her hearers in their deepest spiritual troubles and lifts them to places of victory.

Those who miss these afternoon meetings will suffer an irreparable loss to their spiritual development.

These meetings will be each afternoon at 3 o'clock and will last only an hour.

Mrs. Berg's meeting will continue every evening this week at 7.45.

Charles Toplis appeared in police court this morning before Magistrate O. A. Langley on three charges, two of stealing automobiles and one of reckless driving. To the charge of stealing H. J. Boyle's car from King street he pleaded guilty, but to the other two charges he pleaded not guilty.

On Saturday night, it is charged, he drove recklessly down Charlotte street in one of the stolen cars and struck a farmer from Ida in his car at the corner of Park street. The Ida man had obeyed the stop sign and was proceeding across Charlotte street when he was struck by the car driven by Toplis. Both cars were badly damaged.

The prosecution asked for an adjournment until next Tuesday which was granted.

A local resident pleaded guilty to being intoxicated on Bolivar street on Saturday and was fined $20 and costs. He said he drank four or five bottles of beer which put him to sleep.

OLD GLORY SILENT AFTER CALLING FOR HELP

ALDERMEN DECIDE AGAINST REPEAL OF ANGLE PARKING; WILL ENFORCE 30-MINUTE RULE

Has Not Had Sufficient Trial is Opinion of Supporters of System.

PARK STANDS TO STAY

Work at James Stevenson Park to be Confined to North End This Year.

That the angle parking rule for George street shall continue in force, with the 30-minute limit also enforced, was the decision of the Aldermen at the regular September meeting held last night. The by-law to repeal the angle parking by-law was the centre of a long discussion, first on the parking question and then on the Council's rules of order.

Two committees were suggested, one to consider the parking question and one to decide whether a member might call for the ayes and nays in committee of the whole on discussion of a by-law.

Mayor Holloway opposed the repeal of the angle parking by-law. His first reason was that the Chief of Police wanted the system retained. Second, the Council would look ridiculous. Third, that speeders have been eliminated from George street, and that there have been no accidents. Fourth, that other cities allow parking on their streets and that the merchants want parking.

He said that when the by-law was considered it was found that busses could pass each other in the space between cars.

He asked, if there is any talk about danger, that the aldermen buy a silent policeman for the corner of Hunter and Water streets which he characterized as a most dangerous corner.

Ald. Fife—Too many of them are silent now.

He advocated that the Chief's request that no left-hand turns be allowed on George street be granted, which would prevent joyriding on that street, and the enforcement of the 30-minute parking by-law, with the future provision of stop and go signals.

He further claimed that no person, not even The Examiner, has given a logical reason for discontinuing the system.

Ald. Ackerman seconded his motion that the committee rise.

Ald. Macdonald said that he was opposed to angle parking but that it should be given a thorough trial before being rescinded.

Ald. Ackerman suggested that there should be some prosecutions of motorists who insist on leaving their cars parked for hours at a time or of motorists who stop behind parked cars while they go in for a paper or a cigar.

Ald Denne reiterated his opposition to angle parking, but he said that the by-law has not been enforced. He urged the appointment of a committee to consider parking problems and the setting aside of areas on side streets for parking places.

Ald. Fife said that the by-law was put through too hastily. There should be a committee to consider the matter thoroughly, but the present by-law should be rescinded. The cars are parked on George street for hours at a time for the purpose of letting the drivers watch other people walk up and down. He favored a 20-minute limit.

The mayor asked how a limit could be enforced with the present force. Ald. Denne suggested that a card could be printed and put in each car so that the people might know of the law.

Ald. Ackerman suggested that the policeman could put marks on the tires and come back in 45 minutes and see which one are still there. A few fines, starting at a dollar, would produce results.

Ald. Denne suggested warning the people who sit in the cars and the distribution of notices. The motion was carried.

Ald. Cotton, who was in the chair for the committee, suggested that the Council consider buying stop and go lights, while the Mayor proposed the purchase of signs calling for 30-minute parking.

By-Laws Passed.

By-laws were passed as follows:

2733—To authorize the mailing of tax notices.

Park Stands Remain.

Alderman Green introduced the resolution for alterations to James Stevenson Park, the result of deliberations of part of the Parks Committee. His suggestions were as follows:

That the northern half of James Stevenson Park be terraced.

That on Oct. 1 tenders be called for the razing and material of the

SUDDEN BLAZE STARTLES MEN AT INCINERATOR

Sawdust Containing Something Volatile Flares Up When Put On Fire.

ENVELOPS WAGON.

Truck Load of Flaming Rubbish Is Dumped Out By Workmen.

Flames suddenly leaping upwards, through the long steel funnel immediately after the deposition of sawdust from one of the garbage wagons, endangered the lives of the furnacemen at the incinerator, yesterday, and threatened the safety of the entire structure.

Judging from external appearances there was nothing on the wagon to warrant the exercise of anything other than the precautions usually observed. Evidently, however, the sawdust was impregnated with oil or contained some highly inflammable admixture, for on being thrown into the hole leading to the fires below, it instantly produced a great blanket of flames which, issuing out of the wide round top enveloped the wagon and speedily ignited the load. Jack Murphy, one of the men on the job, declared that he never had a similar experience during his years of service at the incinerator.

The flames reached to the roof of the building, which fortunately was of metal, instead of woodwork.

To the excitement of the men, natural under the circumstances was added the fear of the bolting of the terrified horses, and the sickening apprehension of what must inevitably follow a race of the fear crazed animals through the street of the city, dragging a holocaust behind them.

The commotion brought on the scene, Humane Society Inspector R. C. Smith who had just concluded the shooting of an unwanted cat at the Society's pound below the incinerator. Rushing up the incline he took hold of the horses, had them loosened from the wagon and led them down to the level ground facing the incinerator where he held them until with the help of all the men employed at the incinerator, the furnace men pushed the blazing wagon down the incline at the back, up which the horses had drawn the load for deposition in the destructor. Cautiously guiding the wagon to-men uniting in one mighty heave, wards the edge of the runway, the at a great risk to themselves tipped up the cart and emptied the rubbish close to the junk pile where it burned itself out without danger to property.

CARLING AWAY ACROSS OCEAN THIS MORNING

Take Off Made Under Good Auspices at 7.25 O'clock.

S.O.S. KEPT QUIET.

Fliers Not Told of Distress of Old Glory—Royal Windsor in Air.

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Sept. 7. —(Canadian Press.)—The plane Sir John Carling, bound from London, Ont., to London, England, hopped off from the airport here at 7.25 a.m. to-day (Eastern Standard time).

The plane took the air easily. Just before the take-off, thermos jars of coffee were put aboard. The Carling fliers had received a request last night from Phil Wood that they await the arrival of Wood and Duke Schiller on the plane Royal Windsor before starting across the Atlantic, but they decided that in order to be sure of favorable weather it would be better to make the start this morning. Preparations were made at the airport here to refuel the Royal Windsor, which was expected to reach here from Old Orchard, Maine, this afternoon.

Chapter of Accidents

Captain Terry Tully and Lieut. James Medcalf are co-pilots of the Carling. The plane on its first attempt to hop from London was forced back by bad weather. On the second attempt she reached a point estimated by the aviators as well beyond Prince Edward Island, but encountered such heavy fog that they feared they could not locate Harbor Grace, where they had arranged to stop for a new supply of gasoline. They flew back over New Brunswick and finding clear weather in Arcostock County, Maine, landed in a hay field in the town of Washburn last Thursday night. The fliers then went to the nearby town of Caribou in the heart of Maine's potato growing region.

There they waited for favorable weather reports until Monday, when they flew to Harbor Grace.

Monday night the plane narrowly escaped destruction when a lantern set fire to a barrel of gasoline, as laborers were refueling lit. The Carling was pulled away from the flames out this necessitated quick and rough handling As a result the fliers, who had planned to start across the Atlantic yesterday, were forced to put in the day overhauling the plane and making minor repairs.

These were completed last night and the plane took the air in good shape today. Tully is the pilot of the plane and Medcalf is the navigator. If they reach London they will receive the $25,000 prize offered by the backers of the flight.

Belle Isle Gives Clue to Flying Princess; Plane Neared Coast Friday, Turned To Sea

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 7, —(AP)—. The missing transatlantic plane St. Raphael may have reached this continent and in confusion put out over the ocean again, it was indicated in detailed reports yesterday of the sighting of an unidentified plane over Belle Isle on Friday night.

When first seen the plane was travelling in a north-westerly direction, and proceeded out of sight over the coast line of Labrador, the lighthouse keeper of Belle Isle reported to C. P. Edwards, Superintendent of Radio for the Department of Marine and Fisheries

Two and a half hours later it re-appeared, he said, pursuing an erratic course to the south-east. This course would have taken it out over the Atlantic although veering to the west would have brought the plane over the eastern coast of Newfoundland.

It was pointed out that no Canadian plane was known to be in the vicinity of Belle Isle, and at the time the plane was reported seen there, the St. Raphael, bearing Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim, Colonel F. F. Minchin and Captain Leslie Hamilton, from Upavon, England, to Ottawa, was not many hours overdue.

Water Acts As Rake; Saves Gardener's Back

Applying the principle that clear heads obviate aching backs one of the men employed by Jos. Grierson, in cleaning Victoria Park, yesterday substituted the water hose for the rake in gathering together the immense quantities of leaves lying on the grass. The water issuing with great force from the hose pushed the leaves in the desired direction much more speedily and effectively than did the rake and in addition thoroughly irrigated the growing grass.

CATHOLIC W. [illegible] IN CONVENTION AT ENNISMORE

REPORTS AND ADDRESSES.

Helpful Talks Given—Officers Tell of Progress During Year.

The proverbial hospitality of Ennismore people to strangers within their gates was exercised to the full yesterday, when the seventh annual convention of the Diocese of Peterborough of the Catholic Women's League was held in St. Martin's parish hall. Between seventy and eighty ladies were present for the meeting, with groups from Peterborough, Lakefield, Norwood, Hastings, Keene, Cobourg, Downeyville, Kinmount, Lindsay and Ennismore. His Lordship Bishop O'Brien was present also.

The session was featured by addresses from Miss Helen Lynch of Belleville. Speaking on the work of the Sisters of Service, and from Rev. S. A. Corrigan of Frankford, who delivered an inspirational address along the lines of greater endeavor among the members of the League. Election of officers also took place, and diocesan reports were given. The Diocesan president, Mrs. J. T. Lalonde, of Cobourg, presided. At the conclusion of the business session, one of the delicious suppers for which Ennismore is famous was served by the ladies of the parish. The tables were decorated with flower-filled vases, and the stage which acted as a platform for the officers and speakers was arranged with quantities of flowers and ferns, and crossed overhead with brightly colored paper streamers.

The convention opened with a few well chosen words of welcome from Rev. J. McAuley, followed by a brief report from the president, Mr. Lalonde, in which she spoke of the League's membership in 27 dioceses and 346 centres and the total membership of eighteen million women in 34 countries of the world.

The report of the last Diocesan convention, held in Port Hope last year, was then given by Mrs. Wm. Young of Ennismore and the treasurer's report was presented by Miss Nellie Doherty of Hastings, showing receipts during the year of $163.79 and disbursements of $129.05, with a balance on hand at present of $34.74.

Sisters Of Service.

Miss Helen Lynch of Belleville gave an interesting and enlightening review of the work done by the Sisters of Service, who strive mainly to propagate the faith among the new settlers in Western Canada.

At the conclusion of this address, Mrs. Lalonde read a letter received from the Sister in charge of the mission at Vilna, Alberta, asking for a donation towards payments on a motor car to be used in covering long distances, necessitated often by hurried visits to sick and injured people. It was decided to vote the sum of $100 towards this purpose.

DRAGGING CARRIED ON.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 7.— Allen Drinkwater ,7 years old, living on Eugene avenue, East Sandwich Township, was believed to have drowned in Lake St Clair on Monday night, near the Belle River waterworks.

The boy disappeared after he ate supper. He was wearing a bathing suit when he left home and when he did not return after several hours relatives instituted a search. He was believed to have gone swimming. Chief Gareld Desjardins, of Tecumseh, and Chief Adam Marlindale, of Maidstone, directed dragging operations, but without success.

NEW TEACHER IS APPOINTED TO COLLEGIATE

Miss G. Meta Meredith is Latest Addition to Staff.

ACCOUNTS PASSED

Sept. 14 is Half-Holiday for Children's Day at Exhibition.

Routine business chiefly occupied the Board of Education which met last night in the Board Room in the Toronto Loan and Savings building. There were present J. A. McKone, Dr. H. M. Yelland, E. F. Reid, J. F. Strickland, W. R. Turner, Jr., G. H. Thompson, secretary-treasurer of the Board; Alexander Mowat, public school inspector; H. R. H. Kenner, principal of the Collegiate Institute; Norman Edmison, representing School Section No. 3 of Smith, appeared in connection with the rural residents' arrangements as to a payment of fee for attendance at the public schools of the city. In the absence of E. B. Fowler, president of the Board, Dr. Yelland was appointed chairman.

On the recommendation of the committee on appointments, the Board confirmed the engagement of Miss G. Meta Meredith on the staff of the Collegiate Institute at an initial salary of $2,000, with increase according to schedule, and duties to commence on the opening of the school.

At the request of the Exhibition Board, Wednesday, September 14, was fixed as a school half holiday, it being Children's Day at the Exhibition, and special rates being arranged for them.

The report of James Abraham, chief supervisor, was referred to the Supervisory Committee.

A communication was read from Norman Edmison, requesting an arrangement whereby the pupils from School Section No. 3 of Smith attending the schools of the city should be called on to pay the same fees as are now being paid, the section to be billed with the amount covering the balance, with the proviso that this sum will be collected in January and June; the Board agreed to the request.

Mr. Kenner reported that the Commercial Department of the Collegiate Institute opened yesterday morning with all the teachers and 184 pupils present.

Signs Erected.

A letter was read from the Peterborough Automobile Club, stating that the work of erecting school signs for motorists was completed, under an agreement whereby the Board was to finance the work, the Automobile Club procuring the signs.

A letter was read from Mr. Kenner, requesting information as to the method of dealing with applications from pupils living outside the county. Mr. Kenner stated in answer to an application from a pupil living in Bobcaygeon, he had replied that the applicant should arrange with Victoria County Council to pay the required 80 per cent. of the cost or to undertake to pay it herself. On the motion of Mr. McKone, seconded by Mr. Reid, the Board confirmed Mr. Kenner's handling of this situation.

Open On Time.

Mr. Kenner emphasized the necessity of the Collegiate being available for use on the nineteenth of the month, and asked the moral support of the Board in hurrying on the contractors with the work.

Mr. Mowat paid a neat compliment to the Property Committee. The public schools were never in better condition than at present, he said.

The treasurer was authorized to make payments to the various contractors, on the Collegiate extension, on the certificate of the architect and the order of the chairman of the Building Committee and the chairman of the Advisory Vocational Committee.

Book of Announcements.

Dr. Yelland complimented Mr. Kenner on the book of announcements issued by the Collegiate Institute, specimens of which the Principal brought with him for presentation to the members of the Board. At the request of the secretary, the Board adopted a resolution declaring the small accounts received now stand as referred to the Finance Committee.

Restive Horse's Capers Fail to Stop Business

Driving an obviously skittish horse, an out-of-town resident found himself in a quandary, as he pulled up outside a store on Water street, anxious to enter, but not daring to leave the animal untended for a moment. Fortunately for the country visitor a sympathetic passer-by, noticing his plight, went up to him, and after making some inquiries, unwilling himself to hold the horse, stepped inside the store and brought out the proprietor, who transacted business on the curb of the sidewalk.

PETERBOROUGH EXHIBITS DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Patte-Wolfe Fox Display Is Particularly Popular at C.N.E.

TURNERS SHOW TENTS.

Supplied Bunting and Canopy For Prince—Peterborough Canoes There.

Products of Peterborough's industrial plants are being prominently displayed at the Canadian National Exhibition, thus helping to spread the fame of the city among the various provinces of the Dominion, in addition, in many states of the U.S.A.

One exhibit in particular that is proving its value as a publicity feature is the display of the Patte and Wolff Fox Farm. This exhibit is drawing record-breaking crowds daily and enquiries being received by Mr. atte are indicative that fox farming is in a fair way toward becoming a prominent business in this country.

J. J. Turner and Sons' exhibit is another rendezvous for thousands of sightseers. Displaying a number of tents to suit every purpose, from a silk prospector's tent weighing only eight pounds, to a large marquee capable of seating a large number of people, they demonstrate their ability to manufacture "Everything in canvas."

Of special note is the fact that this firm supplied the special flags, pennants, and royal flags on the new eastern entrance of the exhibition which was opened by H.R.H. the Prince of Wales recently. They also supplied the canopy in front of the grand stand from which H.R.H. reviewed and spoke to the troops on Warriors' Day.

The Peterborough Canoe Company, with a magnificent display of boats, ranging from canoes to launches, is maintaining Peterborough's fame as the premier city in this connection.

White Out Of Running For Tory Leadership

WINNIPEG, Man., September 7. — Canadian Press. — Right Hon. Sir Thomas White, K. C., M.G., of Montreal, yesterday reaffirmed his statement during a brief stop in Winnipeg, that he would not allow his name to go before the Conservative convention, to be held here October 10, as a candidate for the party leadership. The eastern financier was one of a party of four Canadian Bank of Commerce men who passed through Winnipeg on a western inspection trip.

Refusing to name any one individual as the East's favorite for leadership Sir Thomas scouted the idea that the convention would temporize by re-affirming Hon. Hugh Guthrie in the position of temporary leader and delaying the election of a permanent leader for the time being.

Two Men Narrowly Escape Death In Attempting Stunts At Niagara

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(AP). —Vincent Patrick Taylor, 58-year-old "Australian dare-devil," barely escaped death in the swift waters of the lower Niagara on Monday when he made an exhibition parachute jump from the falls view bridge.

Taylor sank as he struck the water and the silken folds of the parachute enveloped him. He cut it way and swam out. A motor boat that was to have picked him up developed engine trouble and could not get near him. Taylor succeeded in keeping afloat until E. L. Grimm superintendent of the Canadian Maid of the Mist dock, came to his rescue in a row-bow and brought him safely to the American shore.

Later James Shay, 49 years old, in attempting to wade and swim the rapids above the Falls was caught by the current and carried down stream. Shay succeeded in reaching a rock a short distance above the falls, to which he clung while the Fire Department was called out to rescue him.

He was brought ashore after being on the rock for about half an hour and was locked up in Police Head-quarters. He will be charged with disorderly conduct, the police said.

S. O. S. Signals Sent By Hearst Air Plane Ships Search Futile

Big Monoplane Last Heard From 500 Miles From Newfoundland—Ship Combs Approximate Locality of the Distress Calls.

IRONY OF FATE SEEN IN PLANE'S LOSS; DROPPED WREATH FOR FRENCH FLIERS

Aviators Hope That Carling and Windsor May See the Other Plane and Guide Ships To Rescue — Both in the Air at Present.

NEW YORK Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—A hasty search of the thirty-mile area around the estimated spot in the North Atlantic from which the monoplane Old Glory sent its dramatic S.O.S. shortly before dawn today has failed to reveal the plane and its three occupants. The hunt has now turned to the spot where the plane was last sighted.

Captain David Bone, master of the liner Transylvania, whose wireless picked up the S.O.S. at 3.17 a.m. Eastern Standard time, quickly estimated the position of the Old Glory at the time the S.O.S. was sent. He sent the Transylvania ploughing through rough seas and fresh winds, and circled about the spot, but saw nothing. Having searched the area from which the S.O.S. was believed sent, Capt. Bone then sent his vessel coursing through the seas to the spot where the Cunarder-Anchor liner California sighted the Old Glory, then in the air speeding toward Rome at 100 miles an hour, at 11.57 Eastern Standard time last night.

The steamer reported to Associated Press by wireless that it is making continuous search for the plane. A message from the captain read:

"At G.M.T. 8.17 heard message from W.R.H.P. Old Glory airplane, S.O.S. five hours out of Newfoundland East. Transylvania proceeding immediately towards estimated position in Lat. 49.30, North Long. 41.00 West. No further signals heard. Am continuing search. Fresh west by south winds and rough sea prevailing. Barometer 29.50, rising slowly."

Planes May Help

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—Aviators saw the possibility today that the Canadian trans-Atlantic planes might effect the rescue of the crew of the monoplane Old Glory, which sent a distress signal this morning from a point about 500 miles off Newfoundland.

If ships at sea had not salvaged the Old Glory from the waves in the meantime, it was believed possible that the Sir John Carling, the London, Ontario, monoplane, which left Harbor Grace at 7.25 E.S.T. this morning, might lead them to the rescue.

Flying at its cruising speed of 100 miles an hour, the Carling was expected to pass the spot where the Old Glory sent out its S.O.S. at about 12.30 o'clock this afternoon.

The Royal Windsor, which took off from Maine before daylight, was also bound along the Old Glory's trail but more than six hours behind the Carling. At eight o'clock this morning it was passing over Clarkesville, in Hants, N.S., about 1,000 miles from the S.O.S. position. Even if the planned stop for fuel at Harbor Grace only lasted an hour it could not reach the place where the Old Glory came into distress before seven o'clock tonight.

Had Memorial Wreath

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—The bitter irony of Fate was seen today in the message dropped into the sea from the monoplane Old Glory a few hours before ships picked up the S.O.S. message that told of the plane's distress.

When the Old Glory left the Maine Coast yesterday it carried, to be dropped at sea off Newfoundland, a wreath in honor of the memory of Nungesser and Coli, the French aviators who attempted the perilous westward passage and were never heard from.

A message attached to the wreath read: "Nungesser and Coli. You showed the way. We followed. Bertaud and Hill and Payne."

Presumably the wreath and message were dropped according to plan about midnight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—A wireless S.O.S. from the monoplane Old Glory, sent out during the early morning hours of darkness, when she was apparently some five hundred miles from Newfoundland on her trip from Old Orchard, Maine, to Rome, sent liners and warships racing to her assistance.

The Old Glory's cry for help was picked up by several trans-Atlantic ships and relayed to the Radio Corporation of America. It was sent out at 8.30 oclock to-day, Greenwich mean time. Beyond the fact that her crew of three adventurous aviators, Lloyd Bertaud, James Hill and Philip Payne, were in the grip of some tragedy over the trackless wastes of wa-

W. L. DOYLE HEAD OF CORPORATION

Former Taxation Officer To Manage New Brewery Here.

ON WATER STREET.

W. L. Doyle has returned from Buffalo, where he spent the last few weeks, and has been successful in conjunction with American capitalists in acquiring the rights to manufacture and sell the famous Calcutt brand of Lager, Ales and Porter. Mr. Doyle has affiliated himself not only with responsible American business men, but also with prominent capitalists of the city and vicinity.

Realizing that the Calcutt Brewery Company presented unusual facilities under the old regime, Mr. Doyle said he and his associates have purchased three and eight-tenths acres of land located on Hilliard and Water streets of this city. This property abuts on the Otonabee River, and the Canadian National Railway runs through the property, giving extremely valuable railway sidings, which will be of substantial benefit in the course of operations, enabling the brewery to ship its product to all parts of Canada, with ease and despatch and also to have placed at its door the material for the manufacture of the beer and ales at a minimum cost.

This building is now in the course of construction on these premises, and is owned by this company. It is 65 feet wide, and 203 feet in length, and is of steel, brick and concrete construction. This building will be equipped with the most modern equipment known to the brewing industry, with a view to the efficiency of the output and the minimum of expense in the manufacture of this product, as the expense in manufacture is largely eliminated by modern machinery, which has been acquired by this company.

Asked why he had chosen Peterborough Mr. Doyle said: Peterborough is the leading industrial city of eastern Ontario, and industrial cities are noted for requiring a beer beverage rather than a strong liquor. This has been proven by the enormous sales since the passing of the Ontario Liquor Control Act. Peterborough has within fifty miles a population of 259,000 with no brewery to supply its wants. It is natural, therefore, that Peterborough, being the industrial metropolis,

CAPT. COURTNEY CHANGES PLANS

Weather Conditions Force Him To Make Flight in Three Jumps.

START TO-DAY.

CORUNNA, Spain, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press). — Weather conditions have caused Captain Frank Courtney, British aviator, to change his plans for a non-stop flight from here to New York.

He has decided to make the first leg of his journey a hop from Corunna to the Azores, the second from Azores to Newfoundland, and the third from Newfoundland to New York.

Weather conditions being favorable Captain Courtney intends to hop off Thursday morning.

CORUNNA, Spaint, Sept. 7 (United Press).—Storms forecast northeast of the Azores yesterday presented Captain Frank T. Courtney from resuming his flight from Plymouth, England, to New York, which was interrupted by head winds, Saturday.

The Mayor of Corunna gave Courtney a letter to be delivered to the Mayor of New York.

DOG SHOW PRIZES ARE ON EXHIBITION

It Is Not Necessary For Dogs To Be Registered Stock.

The fine collection of special prizes, cups, trophies and medals, for the Dog Show at the Industrial Exhibition is now on display in the south window of the Canadian Departmental store. All local dog owners are asked to co-operate with the committee, by getting their entries in at once. These should be made at LeBruns Store before Thursday evening if possible, Saturday being the last day on which entries can be accepted.

The idea that many have, that all dogs must be registered stock in order to show them, is a mistaken one, as any good dog may be entered and allowed to compete in the classes, on payment of a 25c listing fee. The management wish this to be known so that there will be a large class and help build up a bigger, better dog show.

FISHERIES NOW ON CURRICULUM OF UNIVERSITY

New Faculty Established at Dalhousie University, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

MARINE LABORATORY.

Biological Board of Canada Co-operating With Universities Authorities.

OTTAWA, September 7. — For the first time in America a faculty of fisheries is being established in a Canadian university. Such an instructional course is to be provided at Dalhousie university at Halifax, as a result of negotiations between the Department of Marine and Fisheries, the biological Board of Canada and the University authorities.

Different universities provide courses in mining, agriculture and forestry. Fisheries have never been a subject of college study here.

Marine Laboratory.

An arrangement has now been entered into whereby competent instructors at Dalhousie will give the needed course in the fundamental sciences, while the biological board will treat fishery subjects. An essential to the course is a marine laboratory, and for this the government has just appropriated an initial outlay of $25,000.

FAVOR CANDIDACY OF THE DOMINION

Austen Chamberlain in Favor of Canada For League Council.

GENEVA, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's).—Austen Chamberlain frankly replying to questions by newspaper correspondents referring to the forthcoming elections of the members to the Council of the League, said the present position was not quite definite, as he did not know exactly who would be candidates. There was one candidature of more interest than any other to the British Empire, namely that of Canada, and if the Dominion stood for a Council seat it undoubtedly would receive his vote. It was a matter for regret that at the 1926 assembly, Ireland's last moment desire to stand as a candidate could not, in view of engagements entered into the time, be supported. "This time I am free and will have great pleasure in supporting Canada."

Employee Wounded In $8,000 Holdup

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press). — Earl Lafleche, 22, employee of a large butcher company was wounded in the thigh and robbed of money belonging to the company amounting from $5000 to $8000 when four men, lying in wait in an automobile pounced on him on St. James Street. Lafleche was taking the money to a bank when attacked. His assailants fired four shots during the scuffle and escaped in their car. Nearby pedestrians were too excited to give the police any definite clue as to the robbers' appearance.

DISTRICT NUMBER NEEDED ON MAIL

Letters to Toronto Likely to be Delayed By Omission.

As a result of a check kept by the Postmaster at Toronto, it has been ascertained that the public is not co-operating with the Post Office Department in having mail matter addressed to district numbers. If mail addressed to Toronto does not bear the district number, it will not receive preferential treatment and may be liable to delay in delivery.

The Post Office Department is going to considerable expense in installing mechanical equipment for the speedy handling of mails in Toronto, and once this mechanical equipment is in operation, it will be absolutely imperative that the district numbers be used if mail matter is to receive the benefit of speedy delivery.

The public is, therefore, advised to ascertain the district number of their correspondents and have this number placed on all addresses.

OFFICIAL GIVES TESTIMONY AT ROYAL INQUIRY

Assistant Customs Commissioner Questioned Before Board at Ottawa Sittings.

OPPOSE CANCELLATIONS.

R. R. Farrow, Former Deputy Minister, Suggests Improvements For Customs Service.

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press Service). — Representatives of guarantee companies which issued bonds covering shipments of liquor from ports on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts, appeared before the royal customs commission yesterday morning. Their evidence, given under examination by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., consisted in stating that they had issued the bonds during certain years, the names of the companies shipping the liquor and the general result. In nearly all cases, according to the evidence, bonds were duly cancelled, presumably by the production of landing certificates.

Against Cancellations.

C. P. Blair, assistant commissioner of customs, gave it as his opinion that, under the Customs Act as it stood up to last year, neither the minister nor any departmental official had any right to permit cancellations of a bond, save by production of genuine landing certificates.

Interprovincial Shipment

Mr. Blair was asked how it came that the Atlas Shipping Company, of Halifax, had been granted the right of interprovincial shipment which was given to no other export company in Nova Scotia. He stated that such consent was granted only after the province of Nova Scotia had agreed.

After the province withdrew its consent, the department allowed continuation of this form of shipment only long enough to clear out the stock on hand.

Suggest Improvements

OTTAWA, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—From a former deputy Minister of the Customs Department, now the Department of National Revenue, the Royal Commission on Customs yesterday received some suggestions designed to improve the service. R. R. Farrow, who was Deputy Minister of Customs at the time that changes of maladministration of this department were made on the floor of the House of Commons, which resulted in the present investigation, was on the stand. His recommendations were made in answer to questions by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., commission counsel.

Appointment of a Dominion Board of Appraisers made up of highly-trained officers; elimination of certain inland outports; careful investigation by trained men to detect undervaluation; increased salaries in the service; more jurisdiction for collectors in the matter of suspension of officers; careful and thorough appraisal of goods; appointment of export gaugers attached to headquarters at Ottawa—these were among the suggestions offered by Mr. Farrow. He occupied the stand for a large part of the afternoon sitting, and was questioned by Commissioners as well as counsel.

AVIATOR DISGRACED.

Jean Callizo Disqualified for Falsifying Barograph Records.

PARIS, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press)—Jean Callizo, who gained fame as an altitude flier, today stood disgraced and stripped of his honors. The sports committee of the French Aero Club last night, after a hearing on the charges that he had falsified the barograph records of his latest record breaking attempt, decided that they were fully proved. It inflicted the severest penalty within its power, disqualification for life, and struck from its list previous records with which he had been credited.

OLD MASTERS

Through the night, through the night,
In the saddest unrest,
Wrapped in white, all in white,
With her babe on her breast,
Walks the mother so pale,
Staring out on the gale,
Through the night!

Through the night, through the night,
Where the sea lifts the wreck
Land in sight, close in sight,
On the surf-flooded deck,
Stands the father so brave,
Driving on to his grave
Through the night.

CANON RUSHBROOK TO VISIT MARMORA

Distinguished Western Clergyman Will Preach at St. Paul's.

MARMORA September 7. — On Sunday, September 16th, the pulpits of almost every Anglican parish in the Diocese of Ontario will be occupied by Bishops and clerical delegates from outside dioceses who are attending the General Synod of the Church of England in Canada, which will be held in Kingston for a period of eight days embracing that Sunday.

The Rector of Marmora announced on Sunday that Canon Rushbrook of Prince Rupert, B. C., of the Diocese of Caledonia, would be visiting Marmora in that connection.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7. —(CP). Bearish news generally undermined values on the Winnipeg grain market yesterday, wheat prices, under mild pressure throughout the session, closing ½ to 1c below Saturday's close.

The favorable weather in the Canadian West inspired heavy liquidations, and a re-action of 2½c was registered in the price of wheat before mid-session. On the down grade shorts took profits, which temporily rallied the market. There was no trace of foreign interest in the pit and shippers were inactive.

All the coarse grains were weaker.

ALDERMEN DECIDE

That the government landscape artist be asked to come and assist in planning for the beautification of the property.

Ald. Greene explained that the committee has $500 in its appropriations and $255 from the sale of the old buildings in the north half of the park and it is the wish of the committee to do the work this year.

Regarding the baseball field, Ald. Greene pointed out that he himself is very interested in this game but that the Council must consider the needs of other sports. The Exhibition Grounds offers splendid facilities for baseball, with conveniences difficult to secure at James Stevenson Park.

He read a comparison showing that the games at Exhibition Park drew much larger crowds than these at James Stevenson Park, the gates being the same for O.B.A.A. games at both places and larger for league games at the South End field.

At James Stevenson Park there will be room for many bowlers and tennis players.

The stands there are now in very poor shape, while the loss of baseball is an important item.

That conveniences will be needed, anyway, he admitted, but he submitted that the comparative crowds shows that the Exhibition diamond is more popular.

He recommended that the toboggan slide be left in place for this winter at least, although the attendance last year was poor. This was partly due to the poor weather.

Ald. Stocker was fully in sympathy with the suggestion, with the exception of the west grand stand, which he said had been repaired at considerable cost only four years ago.

Ald. Cotton favored making some start at once. The bowling green could be made without pulling down the buildings.

Ald. Ackerman expressed the belief that a central athletic grounds is an asset and that the money available could all be spent on the north half of the grounds without going to the expense of tearing down the buildings and fences. These could be left until later, when work has been finished on the other part, several years hence.

The Mayor remarked that the baseball fans had expressed great opposition to the plan of tearing down the stands and he believed that this clause could be struck out of the report. He agreed with Ald. Ackerman that the money could be spent on the north section.

Ald. Denne explained that the Exhibition Board has not tried to corral the sport, and has not charged the teams enough to pay for the upkeep. He opposed doing anything to the southern half until a definite plan is drawn up, while the northern half will take up all the money.

Ald. Greene said that the time will come when baseball will not be played there and that now is the time to plan ahead. The only suitable land for a bowling green is the land in the eastern end of the fenced off portion.

Ald. Denne suggested that the aldermen should inspect the stands, which need much repair, and remarked that the ground is made land, soft and hard to keep level.

Ald. Hancock believed that an inspection should be made of the stands, but was opposed to calling for tenders.

The clause calling for the destruction of the stands was eliminated.

Council May Investigate.

The right of Municipal Councils to inquire into the affairs of such bodies as boards of education, utilities commissions, etc. conferred by a 1927 amendment to the Municipal Act was pointed out in a letter from City Solicitor Joseph Wearing, who referred to the adverse decision of the Appeal Court in the case of the Maple Leaf Milling Company some years ago.

Charles Cheu, Charles Hum, Mrs. J. Fowler, and E. M. Austin were granted eating house licenses.

The Hydro Electric Power Commission offers the lot at the corner of McDonnell and Park streets to the city for $600. The city wishes to acquire this land to allow for the rounding off of this corner to keep traffic to the diagonal C.N.R. crossing.

Fifty Dollars For Lot.

Fifty dollars a month is asked by the Department of Public Works of Canada as rent for the vacant lot at the corner of George and Sherbrooke streets, which the city wished to use for parking space.

The chairman of the Board of Works and the City Engineer were instructed to investigate the blocking of the Downie street creek and take the action needed.

The damage done to the instruments of the Rangers Band, amounting to $119.40, will be paid and charged to the Jubilee Celebration. The men were travelling in a truck which was not covered by insurance, and it upset.

The Mayor opposed the grant on the grounds that the band was paid and no effort was made to get the money from the owners of the truck.

Ald. Greene sponsored the bill on the grounds that the men were citizens and were travelling like cattle at the time. No one else could pay the loss, he submitted, and Ald. Denne supported him, seconding the motion.

The Council authorized the purchase of a license and an insurance policy for the motor ladder truck of the fire department which arrived yesterday.

Ald. Hancock asked if the Border Transit Co. had taken busses off the regular service on holidays to charter them for private parties. The Mayor could not say whether this was so but assured the aldermen that the company is bringing in extra busses for fair week.

Improved lighting will be placed on the C.P.R. bridge as the present lights are shaken out and broken by the vibration of the bridge.

ROYAL PRINCES SAIL TO-DAY

Leave For Homeland On Empress of Scotland This Afternoon.

FIVE WEEKS TOUR.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—In the early hours of to-day the Prince of Wales and Prince George will begin the last lap of their present visit to Canada. Their final day here was a busy one, although there were no really public engagements. Shortly after they arrived in the city from Cartierville, where they have been since Saturday, the two brothers paid a visit to the two British men of war, Calcutta and Cairo, lying in Montreal harbor. The Prince of Wales played golf at Dixie while Prince George remained in town, making calls and shopping. Together, the two brothers then returned to the Cartierville, residence of Brigadier-General and Mrs. Frank Meighan, where they were entertained to dinner.

The royal trains leaves Montreal at 4 a.m., the two Princes sailing by the Empressof Scotland this afternoon.

Rather more than five weeks have passed since the two Princes, with Premier Baldwin, landed at Quebec from the Empress of Australia. During that time ,they have traversed Canada from Quebec to Victoria. During the first twelve days or so they travelled in company with Premier Baldwin and his sparty; at Calgary the two parties separated. Mr. Baldwin went on to Banff, crossed the Divide, that he might actually stand in British Columbia territory and then returned East, visiting the Maritime Provinces before taking the boat home. The two Princes proceeded to the Prince of Wales' ranch south of Calgary and then continued West to Vancouver and Victoria. They returned East via the Kettle Valley line and the Crow's nest.

Woman Stands Still As Husband Shoots

FLINT, Mich., September 6. — After missing twice with a double barrelled shotgun, Walter Videau, aged 24, reloaded the weapon and killed his wife, Stella, aged 20 years, he told the police, to whom he surrendered yesterday.

His wife he said, was paralyzed with fright after he had emptied both barrels of weapon and stood perfectly still while he inserted two more shells. The shooting occurred in the home of his wife's mother Mrs. Nora Fuller. The motive was jealousy, Videau said.

Which sustained him perfectly during the gruelling second Wrigley Marathon, in bitter cold Ontario Lake water, just as it did during his Record English Channel swim.

Here is his letter, written to us after the event—a splendid tribute to Ovaltine:

Toronto, Sept. 1, 1927.

Gentlemen:

I wish to inform you that during the Wrigley contest I did not take any other food but Ovaltine, which I took in milk or black coffee. Furthermore, I particularly appreciate your product, because Ovaltine was my only nourishment when I crossed the Channel last spring. Ovaltine also sustained me during my training. I appreciate this strength-giving food for its light consistency and rapid assimilation.

With best regards, I beg to remain,

BLUE RIBBON OF PETERBORO EXHIBITION WOVEN OF MONEY, THOUGHT, LABOR AND DREAMS

Fair Directors and General Public Have Spent Years Working Together, Acquiring the Prestige Peterboro's Exhibition Now Possesses—Equal of Ottawa and London Exhibitions.

If with scant capital, just your slender earnings, you have gradually improved your farm or "fixed up" your city home, you can appreciate the yearning, fretting struggle of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

Your net profits you plowed back into your property, this year enlarging your barn, or building a new one, next year buying more pure bred stock, then tiling the north field, adding the comfort of hot and cold water to your house, and finally as you contemplate your finished work many of its details stand out in your memory as familiar milestones of the years of your endeavor.

* * * * * *

And so with the Fair Board. Inheriting a liability, a dilapidated humiliating plant and a slightly tarnished reputation from the days when the treasury lacked suficient funds for the prize-winners, the directors have raised the Peterborough Exhibition to parity with Ottawa and London.

It has been a slow, tedious, wearisome progress, like the evolution of the efficient, thriving farm that is built on its somewhat irregular returns.

For the directors there have been days and nights of doubt and disappointment, rain and chill weather and a consequent despairing emptiness and bleakness, with seeming futility about the sodden grounds and bedraggled decorations that assailed the Board's courage almost to the point of surrender.

Stimulated by Revenues.

But reverses only spurred the directors on to stern effort, and each little success opened up broader and brighter vistas and visions for an ambition impatient of old restraints and embarrassments.

Year by year, then, permanent improvements have been made to the exhibition plant. The directors were forced by necessity to adopt the installment plan of expansion, like the progressive farmer and the city man in their gradual betterment of their properties.

* * * * * *

This year a horse barn was built, that year the old grandstand disappeared, next a cattle barn was provided, and after that the grounds were levelled and rolled and seeded.

Step by step; so much to do and so little means for all the needs. Oh, for $35,000 to spend in one grand splurge, to accomplish your plans over night! How many times that wish was uttered by the impecunious directors. Instead of wiping out their obligation at the bank and relieving themselves from personal liability to which they had subscribed their names, they spaded their surplus receipts into the exhibition property and begged for grants that all their pressing expenses might be paid.

The Purpose of the Directors.

And all this time and thought and work has been directed to one general end—the raising of the prestige of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition until it was recognized as first and best in Central Ontario and the peer of Ottawa and London.

Prestige and eminence and usefulness, these have been the dominant, correlative ideals of the Fair Board.

* * * * * *

Usefulness to the agriculture industry of this district is the fundamental purpose of Peterborough's Exhibition, and inevitably bound up with that objective of usefulness to the rural interests is that indefinable, elusive quality comprehended by the word prestige.

Significance of Prize Ribbon.

A prize ribbon or ticket of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibtion must mean something more than its cash equivalent. That was the high purpose of the Fair Board.

A blue ribbon must be more than a silken badge, and its imprint bearing the superscription of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition must signify a distinction and honor which breeders will envy and strive for.

* * * * * *

Hence, the Fair Board's equation resolves itself into this simple but true and striking fact, that a Peterborough prize ribbon is the ultimate product of year's of work, many thousands of dollars expended as prize money, for grandstand attractions, and the construction of an adequate exhibition plant.

All this money, thought and labor have been fused with the Fair directors' dreams and the people's encouragement and support, and have been woven into our red and blue ribbons, symbols of the prestige the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition has acquired and now bestows through its judges upon those exhibitors who win its awards.

Board of Works Report

The Board of Works reported and recommended as follows:

That a petition for a sewer on McFarlane Avenue and Centre Street be received and that the Clerk reply to the petitioners that owing to the extreme cost of constructing the sewer the Council cannot see its way to construct it at this time.

That a letter from A. McNab, Agent of the Canadian National Railways, in regard to moving poles on Aylmer Street between Charlotte Street and King Street be referred to the City Engineer with power to act.

That the letter from W. F. Skitch asking that a stop sign be placed at the corner of Dublin and Aylmer Streets be received, and that the Clerk reply that this could only be done by making one of the streets a through street with the approval of the Provincial Highway Department.

That the street railway rails on George Street south of the Canadian Pacific Railway and north of Romaine Street, where there is no paving between them, be removed and those parts of the street paved, and that the sidewalk on the west side of George Street south of the Canadian Pacific Railway be raised and an Amiesite sidewalk crossing constructed across the railway, provided the Board of Works has sufficient money in its appropriation to pay for this work, and that the Chairman of this Board be authorized to dispose of the street rails removed.

That danger signs be placed at Romaine, Westcott, and Parnell Streets on Park Street.

Offers to Submit to Electrocution To Prove That It Doesn't End Life

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 7.—(United Press).—A young Danish author, Thorkild Barford, yesterday offered to submit himself to electrocution in the same way and with the same current used at the electrocution of Sacco and Vanzetti. He desires to prove that electrocution does not kill.

The offer was published in the newspaper Politken. It resulted from a controversy now raging in Denmark over the declaration of Dr. Claudius, Danish scientist, that electrocution does not end life but that death is caused by the physicians after the electrocuted man is taken from the chair.

Barford made his offer on two conditions—that a physician be present to revive him from the electric shock and the newspaper be present to assure fair play.

MR. HANNA'S WARNING.

The announcement from D. B. Hanna, head of the Ontario Liquor Control Board that the Board intends to see that permit-holders who are convicted of drunkenness will find their privileges in regard to the purchase of liquor taken away from them, has caused a flurry of excitement.

Mr. Hanna evidently holds to the view that while it is legal to purchase liquor the privilege is only to be afforded those who will not abuse it, and that the people who patronize the Government's stores must exercise some liquor control on their own account.

Those who cannot effectively do so are likely, in view of Mr. Hanna's warning, to find their permits cancelled.

The penalty for drunkenness is, therefore, to be more severe than was at first thought.

A fine of $10 is one thing, but the loss of a permit is another and quite different matter, and if the policy enunciated by the head of the Control Board is carried out it should have a very effective influence.

DRIVE THEM OFF THE ROADS.

While the demand in some quarters that motorists who exceed the speed limit should be deprived of their driving licenses will meet with little favour from those who realize that speeding under certain conditions may not be particularly dangerous, there is undoubtedly a feeling that the reckless drivers who "cut in" on crowded roads or speed at a dangerous rate in city streets or over intersections should be severely dealt with.

Drivers of the type of the man whose recklessness killed three people at Niagara Falls have no business on Ontario's highways, and it is that class of motorist that the Minister of Highways is being urged to get after with every means at his disposal.

The time has come for something more effective than warnings.

The department's campaign of education has undoubtedly had its effect in improving driving conditions, but it has failed to reach the real offenders, and they continue by their wild driving to furnish headlines for the newspapers and work for coroners' juries.

The only remedy is to drive off the roads those who have shown themselves to be deaf to good advice and callous in regard to the peril in which they place others.

NEW RECORDS.

The Canadian National Exhibition is humming along to new records in attendance.

Labour Day saw the mark for one day broken when 260,000 people passed through the gates of the world's greatest annual exhibition, and with good weather until the end of this week, the grand total will reach a figure that only a few years ago would have been thought impossible.

While it is undoubtedly true that the great growth in automobile traffic has been a very important factor in building up this remarkable attendance record, it has not been the only factor.

Rather, the enterprise and vision of the Canadian National Exhibition in planning new features, adding new buildings and constantly marching forward to fresh triumphs have made the progress of the great fair possible.

Canadians generally delight in watching the growth of the Canadian National Exhibition.

There is no jealousy of Toronto, because the Exhibition is not looked upon as a Toronto fair, but as a Canadian institution and one that brings Canada prominently before the world.

It is a proof of Canadian progress that impresses every visitor as nothing else could do.

NEXT WEEK'S INVASION.

It is the expectation of the Directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition that next week will see an invasion of Peterborough by visitors from all over the Central Ontario district.

The reputation won by the Exhibition in recent years because of the excellence of its entertainment features and the quality and variety of its exhibits has spread far and wide until a visit to Peterborough during Exhibition week has come to be accepted as inevitable as a journey to the Canadian National Exhibition.

This year the number of visitors, it is anticipated, will surpass that of any previous year, and with the unanimous support that is expected from the citizens of Peterborough, the total attendance will undoubtedly climb to a new level.

Everything will soon be in readiness.

The grounds are being groomed, and only the last touches remain to be done.

The appearance of Exhibition Park, which never looked better than at present, is a proof of the desire of the management to leave nothing undone that will add to the success of Peterborough's big fair.

Good weather next week will mean a record-breaking Exhibition.

THE LAST CHAPTER.

The royal commission appointed by the Quebec Government to enquire into the Laurier Palace Theatre fire, which cost the lives of 78 Montreal children, has reported that "there was no criminal or civil responsibility on the part of anyone." The tragedy, according to this solemn finding, was caused by panic "occasioned by a fire resulting from the negligence of some unknown person." This is small consolation to the parents of the boys and girls who perished miserably in the disaster, but if the lesson has been driven home in the minds of civic officials and the owners of theatres that every possible precaution must be taken to ensure safety under all conditions at such places of entertainment the lives of these 78 may have been given not in vain.

The commission, which had authority to enquire into the general conditions of motion pictures, has gone on record with the official opinion that "The cinema, generally speaking, is not immoral." This adds little to the fund of public information, because even the severest critics of the "movies" have not charged immortality against them. They are produced with an eye to the box offices of the great, conventional American public and to the variety of complexes and inhibitions possessed by a host of censors, and immorality in the films would not pay. Sundry notable instances have shown that the public demands respectability in its film stars, and public scandal has sent to oblivion important figures in this mimic world.

The commission finds also that children under sixteen should not be admitted to cinema performances on any account. Probably this means that they should not attend alone, because parents may expect to have the privilege of taking their own children should they so desire. Finally the commission interprets public opinion in Quebec as in favor of Sunday cinema shows. That is a matter which concerns Quebec only, but it may be noted in passing that Sunday shows are not immoral and outrageous things merely for the reason that in Ontario they are not permitted. It is a sign of our inter-Provincial tolerance and understanding that we are able to hold our own points of view on such subjects without giving them obnoxious expression.—Ottawa Journal.

THE PRESS AND THE PUBLIC.

The newspaper holds a large place as an institution in modern life, but rarely does it happen that news about the men who run the papers and the questions related to the daily operation of newspapers gets the prominent attention extended during the past month. A convention recently closed at Geneva at which problems of news gathering and treatment were discussed. Parties of English newspaper editors and publishers have been touring Canada and have been welcomed in many places. The handling and treatment of news has been the subject of critical comment by Lord Hewart in Canada. Now in the wake of all that the American Bar Association attacks the conduct of criminal cases by the newspapers of the United States and demands better judgment and some co-operation with lawyers and the courts. All that tells in unmistakable terms that the newspaper holds an ever larger place and that its importance is more fully appreciated than ever before.

The meeting at Geneva gave emphasis to the point that there is property in news, that, while even Government information and events may be common property at the source, the news attains added value in circulation and should be considered exclusive while it retains that extra value. This point will admit of varying degrees of application, particularly when some specially big event is being covered by an enterprising news distributing agency. But in general the principle is sound and is being more widely recognized. The news distributor should be protected from unfair appropriation of his property when it is just possible to realize on a return for the investment made in the interest of the public, as it was interpreted.

The modern newspaper represents investments, and it also represents a large, steady outlay for operation of the newspaper, particularly the daily newspaper. There has grown up a trained body of men who have studied the business side of the newspaper and have made possible the wide activities of news gathering and exercise of influence which it is now possible for the journalist to exercise by his writings. The former dominance of one editor is not the feature it once was, for he has to share his place with the editors of the news columns, who may be in closer relation with the world of events and the outside business world.

There has grown up an important body of men, staff writers, copy readers and sub-editors, who have much to do in the making of a newspaper and in the influence exercised on public opinion. Many of those men are holding their positions more by the actual training received in the office than by education acquired in schools. They are hard-headed and know much of the facts of life and are prone to listen to the approaches of the men in the business office and the factory worker, than to the doctrines of the college professor. This type of journalist is too often overlooked, but it is a mistake to do that. There are some big newspapers where the guiding arm is the editor-in-chief, who was trained in the steady school of journalism, but most big, modern newspapers are directed by an executive news editor. This all represents development.

When Lord Hewart attacked the press he naturally attacked the press as a unit, the daily and weekly newspapers and magazines all as one. It is no new thing for him to give direct attention to the press, for, as we recall it, he had an active part in formulating the law which forbids the printing of divorce news in the British press. That may or may not have been a good thing; the point is that Lord Hewart is critical of the press and regards it as requiring further treatment.

An organization which has developed as has been outlined is sure to be in need of introspection, which if not given will deserve criticism. No newspaper should claim to give all the news; it must make selections of what is vital and what is news. There is no news in the mere recital of the commonplace facts of everyday life, as Lord Hewart himself seemed to realize. But the fact is so often overlooked that much of the commonplace may become artistic if taken up by an artist. The best work of the newspaper is frequently done by a reporter who has the faculty of telling the story true to life. Given the touch of the artist and the commonplace may become romantic or ideal. The editors are continually looking for the artist on the staff.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Peterborough's big Exhibition needs only good weather next week to break all records.

As an exchange puts it, the world will soon need larger navies to hunt for missing aviators.

A man who tried to swim across the rapids above Niagara Falls was arrested by the police. But transoceanic flyers are still at liberty to dice with death.

Miss Agnes MacPhail seems to be the storm centre of the North Huron by-election. At least, it can be said of her that she keeps life from being monotonous.

The management of the Canadian National Exhibition has decided against staging another swimming marathon, and most people will applaud the decision for more reasons than one.

The trouble with Hon. Geo. S. Henry's warnings is they are addressed to people who have not the necessary equipment with which to understand them. A Police Court appearance would have more effect.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press). — Extreme dullness marked the export trade in Canadian grain on the Montreal market yesterday.

The only business of importance in the local cash grain market was the sale of 20,000 bushels of combination barley at c. i. f. price Montreal. The trade in car lots of grain was slow but prices were unchanged.

Prices for all grades of Spring and Winter wheat flour were well maintained under a moderate demand.

The millfeed market continued active and firm. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was limited and values were steady.

Owing to the good demand and the small supplies available, the undertone to the egg market was again firm but there was no further change in prices. The receipts were 1,136 boxes.

The butter market was quiet but prices were firm. The receipts were 278 packages.

In sympathy with the higher prices paid at the country boards at the close of last week, a stronger feeling developed in the local cheese market yesterday, and prices were advanced ¼c to ⅝c per pound. The receipts were 7,058 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. — (Canadian Press). — Corn took the lead in the speculative grain markets yesterday and a big decline in corn prices followed. Improved crop prospects for corn as a result of auspicious weather was largely responsible. Corn closed nervous, 2¼ to 3⅝ net lower; wheat a shade to ⅞ off. Oats ¾ to ⅞ down and provisions varying from 17 decline to a rise of 10c.

Generally fine weather over the week-end, together with a forecast that the excellent conditions would remain effective at least temporarily, were emphasized by reports of many holiday observers from Chicago that the corn crop was making substantial progress. Agreement was much more nearly unanimous than of late that the weather taken as a whole, was good for forcing the crop along towards maturity. Besides country offerings of old corn were decidedly increased and so too were purchases by Chicago handlers.

Heavy receipts of corn in Chicago yesterday, 603 cars, added to the weight on prices. A decrease of 1,158,000 bushels in the corn visible supply failed to act as an offset, and the market showed but little power to rally, although the decrease was materially greater than last week or a year ago. Oats gave way owing to sympathy with corn, notwithstanding that the movement of oats to Chicago a present is relatively small.

Wheat Lower.

Downturns in the value of wheat were ascribed largely to favorable weather north-west likely to bring about a liberal movement of new spring wheat, both domestic and Canadian. Lower quotations at Liverpool were also a bear influence and there was 3,181,000 bushels increase of the United States visible supply total. Meanwhile the amount of wheat on ocean passage also increased 800,000 bushels for the week.

Provisions were easier on account of scattered selling, despite an upturn in the hog market.

STERLING EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 7. —(Canadian Press). — Sterling exchange rates were quoted here yesterday as:

Demand $4.85½.
Cables $4.85 15-16.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir: I have during my tour through Canada and the United States passed through a great many cities and town and have seen some very nice places both on this side of the line and on the other side, and while I am not given to writing to the paper, I feel that a word of appreciation from one, who has done considerable travelling, on the ideal location and surroundings of your beautiful little city, would not be amiss to the citizens of Peterborough.

I, too, want to congratulate the citizens of Peterborough on the most splendid facilities that are open to them and to the travelling public in the restaurant—the Elite Sweets Cafe.

For a city of its size, I can confidently say that in thousands of miles of travelling I have not seen anything to equal it in appearance, and the food and service are par excellence, and I have met with the most cordial good feeling and kindly treatment not only from the citizens of Peterborough, but throughout my stay in Canada.

Thanking you Mr Editor, for your valuable space, I remain, yours faithfully

J W. WORTH.

Ten Cars Leave Track When Shasta Limited Hits Spreading Rail.

MANY SHAKEN UP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—(Canadian Press.)—Three passengers were seriously injured and dozen shaken and bruised when several cars of the fast Shasta Limited of the Southern Pacific Lines, running here to Portland, Oreogn, with a holiday crowd, were derailed at Zamora, Calif., early to-day. Ten of the train's twelve steel cars left the rails, according to reports reaching here. The wreck was attributed by trainmen to a spreading rail.

THREE MORE DIE FROM SHOOTING

De Capna's List of Victims Raised To Eight—Man Murders Wife.

KILLED BY POLICE.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., September 6. Canadian Press. — With the death to-day of Ferdinand Coodwinski, 53, the death toll in the shooting here on Saturday night, when Tony de Capua killed seven members of his family, rose to eight. Goodwinski, a neighbor was shot through the abdomen by De Capua, when he ran into the latter's house on hearing the shots. Three other persons, including a policeman, also shot by De Capua, are in the hospital.

De Capua tried to escape from the hospital to-day, making a break for an open window but a police guard brought him down with a bullet in the leg. He was shot twice in an exchange of shots with the police on Saturday night.

Early to-day, Peter Austeick, aged 34, shot and killed his wife, Catharine at their home not far from the De Capua house. When the police arrived, Austeick opened fire on them and was killed by a fusillade from the police squad.

CANADIAN PAPERS TOO SENSATIONAL

Not So Bad As Americans, British Editors Admit.

TORONTO, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press).—The British newspaper editors, now in Toronto, in the course of their Canadian visit see a tendency to "American sensationalism" in the press of Canada. "I don't like your big headlines," John Sidney King, President of the British Weekly Newspapers Society, declared. "They exaggerate the story far more than it is really worth." He admitted they are "not so bad as the American newspapers." "Your papers, too, are leaning toward the sensational. Here, again, however, you are not nearly so bad as the American newspapers," he went on.

The English visitors were amazed also at the size of Canadian newspapers, at the "excellent methods" of production and modern plants of Canadian papers, and at the prosperity of newspapers in the smaller towns of the Dominion. "I am particularly impressed with the large number of small town newspapers in existence, which seem to be in very prosperous condition," Arthur Caunt, managing editor of The Morecombe Visitor, summed up.

The seventy men and thirty women in the party return to England from Montreal on Friday.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

Before the car had come to a full stop in front of the Hathaway home in Serenity Boulevard, Cherry was flying down the path to meet it, her tear-marked face strained but eager with hope, her arms unconsciously outstretched for the light burden of the baby she had not wanted but which, now that it had been snatched from her, she had found to be her greatest treasure.

Bob opened the door of the little coupe, and Faith stepped out immediately, the baby held high, triumphantly in her arms. With a great cry of joy, which brought a score of reporters and photographers running from the house, Cherry flung herself upon her sister, her hands frantically grasping at the blanketed bundle. A half dozen cameras, placed and aimed hastily, recorded the scene of a kidnapped child thus dramatically restored to its bereft mother.

"We'll have to tell the reporters the truth, darling," Bob murmured to Faith. "I'll handle them. You take Cherry into the house and feed the baby."

"I'll feed my baby myself!" Cherry cried passionately, holding the baby so tightly that a little whimper came from the bundle. "Oh, precious sweet! Mother's baby!" she crooned, her musical voice rich with real mother love and exquisitely deepened by the suffering she had endured for eight hours.

Cherry's face, illuminated by joy, flushed and sparkled through the rainbow of her tears, was a sight of such moving beauty that even the reporters, avid for news and hardened to emotion, fell back, allowing her to pass unquestioned into the house. For once her golden eyes were unconscious of an audience, for they were fixed with prayerful intensity upon the tiny face that smiled up at her from the crook of her right arm.

"I've already prepared her bottle," Cherry's hushed, happy voice came softly. "Mrs. Lundy showed me how. Oh, to think I had to be showed to fix my own baby's food! Something told me you'd bring her back. You always save me, darling. I—I can't thank you—but—you know! Darling Faith!"

They passed together through the living room, Cherry holding the baby out in her arms for Mrs. Minnock and Mrs. Lundy to see. But neither Cherry nor Faith could talk with them. With Faith's arm about Cherry's shoulder, the sisters walked on steadily to the hall, but when Faith was about to turn into her own room, where the baby had always slept, Cherry drew her on down the corridor.

"I've taken Hope's crib and chiffonier into my room, Faith," she said, her eyes meeting her sister's bravely but pleadingly. "I'm going to be Hope's mother now. If she hadn't found been, or if she had—been harmed, I should have killed myself out of remorse. I'll never neglect her again."

Faith bowed her head, turned it slightly aside, so that Cherry should not see the agony in her eyes, nor the doubt. For Faith could not believe that Cherry's nature could be changed utterly, even by such a crisis as she had just passed through.

"I—hope you'll let me help, darling," she said unsteadily. "I've grown so used to taking care of her. She knows my ways, and—I know hers—"

"I'll have to learn," Cherry said sturdily. "You'll teach me, won't you?"

Faith was "teaching her," doing her best to hide the ache of jealousy in her heart, when Bob came into Cherry's room, announcing in a grim voice:

"Glenn Andrews is here, Cherry, demanding to see you. Shall I send him away?"

"Shall I leave, honey?" Faith asked when Bob had gone to get Glen Andrews for the interview which Cherry had granted him.

"No," Cherry said, as she buttoned a fresh dress upon the baby. "I want you to stay. I—may need moral support."

Faith did not doubt that she would when she saw Glenn Andrews' red, angry face. His rust-blonde hair usually so sleek, was rumpled, his gray eyes narrowed unpleasantly. In his clenched hand he carried a crumpled newspaper.

"What do you mean, Cherry, letting me in for this rotten front-Page scandal?" he demanded immediately after Bob had closed the door upon his own departure.

"I couldn't lie about whom I was with," she told him sharply. "If you are ashamed of having been with me you should never have persuaded me to leave my baby alone to go with you. I promise you I won't do it again!"

"And I promise you I won't ask you!" the man flung at her. "God knows I was warned often enough that you're a cheap little publicity-seeker—that you'd land me on the front page in a scandal if I persisted in going with you—"

"Mr. Andrews!" Faith rose from the edge of the bed and advanced upon him, her brown eyes blazing with anger. "My sister is in no condition to listen to your insults. If you had an ounce of manhood you'd be rejoicing with her that her child has been found and apologizing humbly for your own share in the blame for its kidnaping. You'd better go now—"

"Oh, I'm glad the baby is safe, of course!" Glen Andrews admitted furiously, "but I want her to know she's damaged my reputation in this town irreparably. I'm a newcomer here, expecting to make it my home and to found a business here, and then she lets me in for this—"

"I'm sorry I've hurt your business, Glenn," Cherry amazed Faith by saying almost humbly. "I told the reporters, when they questioned me, that we were not—in love with each other, that we were only friends, that I had no intention of marrying you when I get my divorce. The afternoon papers will carry that information, I believe and your precious reputation will not be further damaged, unless you have already made things worse by coming here looking as you do now. I fancy," she added, a slightly bitter smile curling her lovely little mouth, "that you can go back to Selma Pruitt, and be received joyously. She is, unaccountably, I admit, in love with you, and I'm sure you'll find that your connection with this terrible 'scandal' has not ruined your chances in that direction. I wish you joy! And now—good-bye! I'm very busy—and shall be in the future—with my baby!"

The man glared at her for a long minute, then swerved furiously toward the door. His hand was upon the knob when he turned, his face curiously changed, as if he had realized suddenly what he was doing, what he had lost. Before Faith could interpose her tall body between them, Glenn had staggered blindly toward Cherry. He dropped to his knees, like a drunken man.

"Don't send me away, Cherry! Forgive me! I was crazy, I guess! God knows I don't want Selma! I—want you! Cherry, darling, Forgive me! I can't live without you!"

"Get up off your knees, Glenn!" Cherry said crisply, lifting the baby into her arms and holding it against her heart. "You are making yourself ridiculous."

The man lifted a haggard face and stared at her humbly. "Will you—marry me—Cherry?" He brought out the momentous word as if it were very hard to say. But then he gathered courage: "Marry me, darling, marry me! I don't care about—scandal, anything else but you!"

FASHION NOTES.

BY HEDDA HOYT

(United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (United Press).—Every woman must have something on her hip these days although in most cases it is nothing more or less than a string belt!

The two-piece dress mode is to continue throughout the late summer and early fall at least and new models are all shown with low-placed string belts. Two-piece frocks hailing from Paris show a little longer skirt line, the hem extending below the knees. Jumper portions are likewise a bit longer, often extending to the knees. The belt may be worn at a low hipline or at the top of the hips according to one's taste.

Colored suede belts outlined in gilt clips are among the gayer models shown. Cut-out leather effects with gold or silver leather or contrasting colored corded silk showing beneath the cut-outs are also frequently seen. Tailored belts for the daytime frock in felt and cloth, finished and stitched exactly like leather, are used on several smart frocks. Snake skin belts continue to have followers although this medium is used mostly upon sports dresses. One of the unusual snake belts is made of narrow strips of leather woven together to represent a snake. The silver buckle is shaped like a snake's head and the opposite end of the belt ends in a silver tail.

Cartridge belts of suede or leather are effectively as well as useful on sports frocks. These are fitted with little pockets in which one can carry change.

Buckles are the most interesting portions of the belts today in-as-much as the buckle is usually a trick contraption with a combination which none save the wearer can fathom. It's like opening a safe to open some of the imported buckles. The modernistic trend in buckles is found in many of the department store models. Disc effects are popular. The combination of gold and silver metal is often used.

Some shops are showing sets including wristlets and belt. The wristlets are made exactly like the belt and of course, are to be worn over the long sleeves of the sports costume. These are shown in gay reds and greens often outlined in metal clips.

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

Is it quaint or very modern?—this period frock of copper-colored taffeta with gold lace and a copper-colored flower with green leaves.

What is the most remarkable fact concerning the present-day fashion? What would you say if someone were to ask you that question and expect an answer hot off the waffle iron?

Maybe you would say short skirts and maybe you would say comfortable waistlines. Maybe you would say short hair—maybe you would say something else. But it seems to me that the most noteworthy single fact about the present fashions is that we have not one mode but two modes—running along in parallel lines with apparently no tendency to convergence.

Even parallel lines, mathematicians now tell us, do eventually meet somewhere off in space and maybe these two parallel fashions will meet—but for the present straight, apparently scant, skirts seem as straight and apparently scant as ever and bouffant or period skirts seem just as bouffant.

You see some fashion observers thought the robe de style or period frock with its wide hips and full skirts would before long have a decided effect on the general mode, that skirts generally would become flared or hooped or other wise enlarged. But here we are at the beginning of another season with a large number of new frocks and coats just as straight line as ever. And here also is the period frock to be seen at almost every evening assemblage of well-dressed women.

The bodices of the new bouffant skirts are quite generally closely moulded with a defined waistline just a shade below what we used to consider normal. Sometimes the outward line of the fullness of the skirt goes out rather abruptly at the hips—sometimes radiates outward as far as the hem in a long crescendo.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7th, 1927.

According to astrology this should be a rarely fortunate day in which the stars stimulate the dwellers on the planet Earth.

It is a rule most auspicious for persons of high ambitions and should bring good luck to those who have already won success.

Politically, the men who hold office are supposed to be most lucky and able to continue the realization of their best laid plans.

This is an auspicious sway for those who seek employment or advancement.

There should be special good luck for all who belong to the profession of journalism, for they will find much demand for their services.

Good returns are promised for those who advertise, while this planetary government prevails.

This is a lucky wedding day, making not only for continued happiness, but for with it great prosperity and progress.

Theatres and all places of amusement should benefit under this direction of the stars.

The evening is read as unusually fortunate for any sort of entertainment.

Women are peculiarly well directed at this time, when they are to receive much recognition for public service and particularly for important reform work.

Treachery affecting the international relations of foreign powers is foretold, and it will be most disturbing to Great Britain.

New honors for American diplomats are indicated and among them two will gain great fame, it is prophesied.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of an eventful year in which marriage for the young is probable.

Children born on this day probably will be uniformly happy and successful all through life. They should be lucky in love.

SLICED VEGETABLES.

If you slice all vegetables on a board, instead of in your hand, you will avoid straining your hands and also lessen fatigue.

NEW PARIS HATS SHOW COURAGE IN THEIR CHIC

SLASHED BRIMS, SMASHING BOWS AND PINS OF FINE CUT LEAD FOR FALL

Butterfly bow in Spanish red velvet.

It should be "Lady Lindbergh"—if it isn't.

Biarritz, France, Sept. 7.

Dearest Cousin:

Father, I fear, will rue the day that cousin Angela descended upon Biarritz; fresh from Paris, with clothes that made my small wardrobe look positively niggardly.

I could have been unmoved by her dozens of beautiful evening gowns, and her beach ensembles, but when I was obliged to yield her supremacy in hats, I really reached the point of emotion where tears must balm the soul.

She Looks Different.

Angela, you see, is tall and beautiful; and even in these dull days when women all look alike, she manages to look different. She has frocks just overlaid with embroidery, coats draping with fur, negligées that are visions in mauve and jade—and even in her millinery she manages to convey the idea that she will not bend her proud head to the obvious.

Two of her hats have been sensations here, and I had them photographed for you—perhaps you would like to copy them. Both are from Agnes, and you know she knows her millinery.

Challenging Chapeau.

That aviator chapeau; which ought to be named Lady Lindbergh if it isn't, is in the most marvelous deep blue—something of the color of the sky at night, and it is fitted marvelously so that it outlines the lovely line of her head at the back and sides. The front is slashed to give an excuse for a very nifty ornament of silver threads.

I can't begin to tell you how romantic and imaginative this looks in these days when hats have so little courage. But the other is even more challenging. This turban with the big butterfly bow at the back is made of Spanish red velvet. When Angela appeared one rather chilly day in a black satin frock, this hat and a silver fox fur dangling about her shoulders, I decided there was no justice in the world. She wanted to give me the hat—but she was safe. I could never have carried it. I knew it—and she did. So I insisted that she keep it so that I might retain the pleasure of looking at it rather than yield it by possession.

Diamond Shaped Trimming.

She has the most lovely white chiffon gown with diamond shaped petals over which she wears the most beautifully tailored coat of black crepe with a huge crimson rose on her shoulder.

Another gown that is too lovely is a pale gray chiffon evening gown, the skirt of which is entirely covered with diamond shaped points all heavily beaded in tiny gold beads. The blouse has a square neckline and a tailored belt with a gold buckle.

When she affects simplicity, she does it with such distinction that you marvel at the artistry. For instance, she has one black satin gown that is quite plain, with a very simple bodice and straight plain sleeves, and a skirt draped slightly in the front. This drapery is held in place by a large ornament of rhinestones in onyx checkerboard design. It is the sort of gown any woman would adore to possess, and yet most of us would find too severe.

Popular Gray.

Of course; when her outfit was revealed to me in all its splendor, realized that I had not done right by myself at all, so if we return to Paris next week, without even going to the Lido, there is going to be no complaining from me. And I shall haunt the couturier's mirror-lined rooms until I have the inspiration I need.

Gray, of course, promises to be very smart, but I shall avoid it. There is no color that is capable of more double dealing that gray. On some women it is marvelous, but even at its best I distrust it. However, I am expecting to look upon green with mind open to conviction, and combinations of black and white will find me an easy victim.

Back to Paris.

Another reason why I'm glad to go back to Paris is that Jacques is on his way home. Need I say more? At any rate, you know I will, so be prepared.

All sorts of loving messages and best wishes accompany this somewhat incoherent letter. Mother joins me in regards.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SWORD FISH

Uncle Wiggily had been living in his shell cottage at the seashore about two weeks, and there was still more than another week before he would need to return to his hollow stump bungalow in the woods, when something happened one day. It was such a strange adventure that I am going to tell you about it from the beginning to the end.

It started when the Woozie Wolf, who had been roaming the forest in a vain search for the rabbit near Uncle Wiggily's bungalow, heard from the Weasel that Mr. Longears was at the seashore.

"Oh, so he's at the shore, is he?" growled the Wolf. "No wonder I couldn't find him here. I'll take a trip to the shore myself!"

But when the Wolf reached the ocean beach he found it was so open, and so bright, with the sun shining on the white sand, that there was not half the chance there had been in the dark forest to slink upon the rabbit to catch him slyly.

"Take that!" snarled the Sword Fish.

Every time the Wolf tried to sneak up on Uncle Wiggily the rabbit looked down the beach and saw the bad chap loping across the wide sands and Uncle Wiggily had time to hop away.

"How can I catch that rabbit?" snarled the Wolf, talking out loud to himself one day as he sat on the edge of the ocean beach, near a place where the ocean waves were curling in. "How can I catch him?"

"Why don't you push him into the water and give me a chance at him?" asked a voice out in the ocean a little way.

"Who are you that you should want to help catch Uncle Wiggily?" asked the Wolf.

"I am the Sword Fish," was the answer, "and I would like a little rabbit myself."

With that a big fish swimming around out in the salty waves, thrust his head up and, surely enough, his nose was long and sharp, just like a soldier's sword.

"If you can manage to push Uncle Wiggily into the water so I can get at him," went on the long-nosed fish, "I will stick him through and through with my sword. Then I'll share him with you."

"It sounds like a good plan," chuckled the wolf. "And, bless my teeth, here comes Uncle Wiggily now. He has two little boy rabbits with him. They are playing some sort of a game. I'll hide behind this bunch of seaweed and when I get a chance I'll rush out, bump into Mr. Longears, knock him into the water and you can do the rest."

"Right!" gurgled the Sword Fish. "I'll stick him for you. I can't come out on the sand, of course, or I'd do it there. But I'll get him in the water."

"Get ready now!" whispered the Wolf. "Here he comes!" The Wolf ran to hide himself behind some seaweed while Uncle Wiggily hopped down the beach with Jumper and Bumper, two of his little rabbit boys. And the Sword Fish hid himself just beneath the waves with his sharp nose all ready. Uncle Wiggily was playing the game so hard with Jumper and Bumper that he never thought of any danger.

"Here you are! Catch this!" shouted Bumper kicking a football into the air for his Daddy to run after. The Wolf saw the big rubber and leather ball filled with air sail upward. He saw Uncle Wiggily running along the sand close to the edge of the waves to make the catch.

"Now is my chance!" whispered the Wolf. "He will be looking up at the football and won't see me coming. I can bump him into the water and the Sword Fish can tickle him in the ribs with that long nose of his."

No sooner said than done! Straight at Uncle Wiggily rushed the Wolf. The bunny gentleman was looking up at the football, anxious to get it in his paws. Out in the ocean the Sword Fish raised himself, his long, sharp nose ready.

But just as the Wolf was about to bump Mr. Longears, Jumper cried:

"Look out for the Bad Chap, Daddy cums!"

Uncle Wiggily jumped aside just in time, and the Wolf, instead of pushing the rabbit into the water, pushed the football instead. The football sailed out over the waves and the Sword Fish seeing it coming, thought it was the bunny. "Take that!" snarled the Sword Fish making a stab upward with his sharp nose. But he punched a hole in the football. And out rushed the air with a loud banging noise like that of a gun.

"Wow!" howled the Sword Fish much surprised. "What a funny rabbit!" The flobby football stuck to his sharp nose and he couldn't get it off, swimming away with it. And the Wolf was so frightened by the bursting ball that he ran away, with his tail between his legs.

"My! That was a narrow escape!" laughed Mr. Longears when it was all over. "Your football is lost, boys, but I'll buy you another." And Jumper and Bumper said they would much rather lose their football than have the Sword Fish stab their Daddy. So it all came out for the best. And if the ice pick doesn't dig some pepper out of the salt cellar and sprinkle it in the sugar bowl to fool the milk pitcher, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Saw Fish.

BURNBRAE MEN AT FALL WORK

Most Farmers Had Grain in Before Recent Heavy Rains.

CROPS LOOK GOOD

BURNBRAE, Sept. 7.—The weatherman seems to do things by very extreme methods this year and after a period of very dry weather through early harvest, the past week has been just the reverse and almost too much rain has fallen. The majority of farmers were through before the rain started, but several with later grain have been caught in the deluge and will have a repetition of their 1926 experience when harvesting was delayed by wet weather almost to October. However, those farmers who are not through with their threshing, and they are many, have a fine chance now to get the fall work done. The rainfall has put the ground in splendid shape for plowing and prospects are that more fall wheat will be shown here than usual.

Then, too, a greater amount of after-harvest cultivation can be done, a real factor in controlling the weed situation, which has become a real factor in the farm plans now with the appointment of district weed inspectors. The local office holder, Mr. John Ingram, has been making his rounds and in some parts of the township finds conditions are very good indeed. Mr. Ingram is well qualified for his work as his record as a practical farmer has shown that he can control the weeds pretty effectively on his own farm.

One noxious weed which is bound to give trouble here is the perennial sow thistle. This has already secured a firm stand in many of the low flats about Burnbrae and Menie districts and the eradication of this troublesome weed is bound to mean the loss of a good many dollars, both in time and crops. However, local farmers would do well to get the situation in hand before the weed completely chokes out all crops as it has done in some parts of Ontario.

Pasture crops are looking better following the rain, and the milk flow, which dropped rapidly the last week of August, is holding steady again. Cheese prices have taken on a decidedly stronger feeling and the outlook is hopeful for the dairy market. A few farmers who are short of pasture have begun feeding grain in view of the higher cheese prices.

The corn and root crops are also showing the benefit of the rains. While the corn crop generally is not very good owing to the extremely poor crop in low ground, yet it will be better than expected a few weeks ago, providing frost holds off until the end of the month. Percy Oddie has two of the finest fields of corn seen in this district. They are entered in the field crop competition and on the first of September Mr. Oddie found a stalk twelve feet in length. The stand is very even and growth is still noticeable.

Mr. J. Willis is one farmer in the Menie district who has confidence in his industry and has added to his operations by buying the 100 acre farm of Mr. Charles Milne. This farm is equipped with electric lights and is ideally located a mile east of Menie. Mr. Willis altogether works over 400 acres in the community and his fine family of boys give him lots of help to carry on big scale farming.

LINDSAY BOY SHOT HUNTING

CAR FERRY USED BY MANY TOURISTS

Efforts of Trent Valley Waterway Association Are Appreciated.

The Rochester-Cobourg Car Ferry Company reports generous patronage by motorists, and is appreciative of the efforts of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce, Automobile Club and Trent Waterway Development Association in acquainting the U. S. tourists with this route to the Kawartha Lakes, says F. G. Stinson, Secretary of these bodies.

On this route they may relieve the monotony and strain of constant motoring, and loading their car on a flat car, enjoy a five hours' sail for the moderate fee of $12, excluding the passenger rates. If the business continues to increase the probabilities are that this fee will be lowered.

In Rochester the secretaries of the Chamber of Commerce and Automobile Club and local manager of the steamship line report enlarged interest in the Kawartha Lakes on the part of their tourist patronage, and they have agreed to distribute Kawartha Lakes and Trent Waterway literature, considering this good business as it will improve their own. All of these officials, who have at some time or other visited this district, were enthusiastic about its fishing, hunting and holidaying advantages, and its proximity to the larger cities.

During the winter these organizations, represented by Mr. Stinson, are busy in the States with the "ballyhoo" which brings the tourist traffic in the summer.

CATHOLIC W. L.

Mrs. Daniel Cavanagh of Ennismore, Diocesan representative, read a very comprenensive report of the proceedings of seventh annual national convention of the Catholic Women's League, held in Montreal in June of this year, giving a detailed insight into the session held there. The sum of $50 was moved to be donated to the national fund, following this report.

Inspirational Address.

Rev. S. A. Corrigan of Frankford spoke eloquently and fluently on the work of the Catholic Women's League, based on their motto, "For God and Canada," a motto, suggesting, he said, noble and unselfish effort in the right directions. "The Catholic Women's League is an organization formed first to foster a greater love of religion in the hearts of our Catholic people and also to make known this faith and its practices to those who are not members of the church. In these endeavors, the members are also doing much for their country, as there is only one thing that will bring uprightness and morality to the daily lives of the people, and that one thing is religion.

"Citizens of a country like this must realize that they are responsible to God in their daily actions. Before the Great War, Europe boasted proudly of its learning and culture. But agreements torn to shreds and treaties regarded as mere scraps of paper resulted from a lack of a knowledge of the principles which constitute morality and the will and determination at all times to follow the right path.

"There exists in our midst a singular lack of understanding of our faith, its principles and objectives. This is fed by false history or by inherited prejudices, and results in many instances in our people being regarded as enigmas in the community."

The reverend speaker went on to exhort his hearers to strive in all things to be Catholic, in their daily lives, in their homes, and in their upholding of all matters and efforts connected in any way with their Church and its practices.

Following out the idea of "Service," as suggested by the addresses of the two speakers, Mrs. F. A Hodgson here read an original poem on Service, which was much enjoyed by the audience.

Diocesan Reports

Reports of the diocesan subdivisions, of which there are twelve in this Diocese, were then read, as follows: The Peterborough report was given by Miss Norah Shevlin, showing total receipts during the past twelvemonth of $2,931.08. The report from Lindsay, given by Mrs. T. J. Spratt, showed receipts of $980 and expenditures of $840. Mrs. T. A. Walsh gave the report from Hastings, showing a balance on hand of $93.54, and the Norwood report, showing a balance of $100, was given by Mrs. W. J. McLaughlin. The reports from Powassan and Lakefield were read by Mrs. William Young of Ennismore, and Mrs. P. N. Wynn of Downeyville gave the report from that centre. Kinmount report was given by Mrs. M. D. Hickey; Cobourg report by Miss Anna Holmes, showing total receipts of $1,046.40, and Ennismore was reported for by Mrs. Ed. Donoghue. The reports in every instance showed activity along general lines and excellent work by the members and officers. Votes of thanks to the different ladies and also to the speakers of the afternoon, were passed by the meeting.

Downeyville was chosen as the next place of meeting for the Diocesan convention.

His Lordship Bishop O'Brien then spoke briefly, speaking of the activities of the League and the splendid work done by it, and exhorting the members to activity along two lines in particular, the encouragement of study clubs and the fostering of vocations.

Election of Officers

Scrutineers were then appointed for the election of officers, in Mrs. F. A. Hodgson of Peterborough and Miss M. R. Baker of Lindsay, the voting delegates being called to the platform. The elections resulted as follows:

Diocesan President Miss D. Piggott of Downeyville; 1st Vice President, Mrs. D. Cavanagh of Ennismore; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. William Young of Ennismore; 3rd Vice President, Mrs. B. J. Gough of Lindsay; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Norah Shevlin of Peterborough; Recording Secretary, Miss M. Bolger of Cobourg; Treasurer, Miss Ruby Perdue of Downeyville; Delegates to next annual convention of the National Chapter in Calgary. Miss D. Piggott; and alternate, Mrs. William Young of Ennismore.

The retiring President, Mrs. Lalonde of Cobourg, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, by little Margaret Crough and Margaret O'Donoghue, gowned in white for the occasion, and the service of supper, with attention to every detail calculated to make the meal a real success, followed. The pianiste of the afternoon, Mrs. John F. Scollard of Ennismore, and Mr. Joseph Walsh of Lindsay, present with his mother, Mrs. J. J. Walsh, provided music during the supper hour. At the conclusion, a hearty vote of thanks for their abundant hospitality was accorded by the members to the ladies and to Rev. Father McAuley.

Ladies present yesterday included: From Cobourg, Mesdames Lalonde, Fitzgerald, Lelay, Flanigan and Holmes. From Lakefield, Mesdames Lawless, Charlton and Allen. From Lindsay, Mrs. T. J. MANY ATTEND LEAGUE SERVICE

Devotional Department is in Charge of Program at Petherick's.

PETHERICKS CORNERS, Sept. 7. —The regular league service on Thursday evening was in charge of the devotional convenor, Thomas Fry. Fifty-two were in attendance, with the khaki in the lead. The contest is nearing the close and the race to the wire is bound to be an exciting one, as only a few points separate the leaders. The meeting opened with a short song service and after the business was over the leader, Albert Petherick, took charge. The programme consisted of a hymn by the Whites, Scripture lesson and devotional talk, Thomas Fry; a trio by Messrs. F. Barnum, T. Fry and the Rev. C. D. Daniel, and an interesting discussion period on the devotional text book led by the Rev. Mr. Daniel.

The next meeting on Thursday evening, is in charge of Mr. Earl Fairman, leader of the Missionary group.

Among the visitors at last week's League meeting were Miss Jean Armstrong, Keene; Miss Helen Atkinson, Campbellford; Miss Jennie Mundell, Kingston, and Miss Leita Morton, Hollaway.

Melville Petherick and his gang have begun threshing in this district during the past week and will likely continue operatoins in the neighborhood for the next two weeks.

The food value of the oyster is exceptionally high. It is digestible, nutritious and wholesome, almost as self-sufficient as milk, and possesses a higher proportion of glycogen than any other food. Its value is much increased by cooking, the addition of the necessary starches and fats making it a perfectly balanced food.

School children need VIROL

If your child is "looking pale," take it as a danger sign. The child may degenerate into a permanent state of ill-health.

Virol is rich in vitamins and precious food substances that promote growth and development. Given regularly now, it will save the cost and anxiety of "patching up health" in future years.

MONTREAL, Sept. 7. Canadian Press).—For a couple of hours or so the Princes of Wales and Prince George returned to Montreal today, but they go back to Cartierville afterwards, where they have been in residence since Saturday, and motor direct from Cartierville to the royal train. They leave for Quebec early tomorrow. The two Princes returned to Montreal shortly before noon and paid a call on H.M.S. Calcutta, which lies in Montreal harbor. Afterwards Prince George had a game of squash while the Prince of Wales attended to some personal affairs. The brothers play golf this afternoon before returning to Cartierville.

FRENCH REVENUE HIGHER LAST MONTH

Total Nearly Five Billion Francs, Exclusive of Special Funds.

French government revenue from all sources in July 1927 totalled 4,747,157,40 francs as against 2,994,093,100 francs during June. This amount includes neither the receipts for the postal administration, carried in a separate budget nor the returns allocated to the Autonomous Sinking Fund—which are derived from the tobacco monopoly, the 7 per cent first transfer tax and the inheritance tax. This fact must be kept in mind when comparing the figures with those for previous years.

Out of the above total, according to official figures transmitted to the Bankers Trust Company of New York by is French Information Service, exceptional resources amounted to 77,144,000 francs, and returns from normal and permanent revenue to 4,670,013,400 francs as against 2,883,634,300 in June 1927. When compared with the corresponding figures for July 1926, returns for July 1927 show an increase of 1,497,377,800 francs, due allowance being made for the reevnue now allocated to the Autonomous Sinking Fund.

The total receipts from normal and permanent sources for the first seven months of this year were 22,611,041,300 francs of 5,946,991,000 more than for the corresponding period of the preceding year and 1,033,357,600 francs more than budgetary estimates.

Receipts of the postal administration during July amounted to 203,334,000 francs or 30,955,00 francs less than budgetary estimates and 2,137,000 less than for the corresponding month of 1926.

NOT ENOUGH VOTERS FOR AN ELECTION

BLYTHEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 3.—In school district No. 50, near here, there are about 100 persons who are qualified to vote if they pay their poll tax. Of this number, however, only two men have paid their dollar which allows them to vote or to hold office.

Since there are only two qualified voters, there can be no elections. Without any election, there can be no school board, there will be no salaries for teachers and, consequently, no school.

All this came to light when Attorney T. J. Crowder was employed by two teachers to enforce a contract made with the school board. He discovered that the two men on the board were non-residents of the district and couldn't hold office. Then he called a special election and found there were only two persons who could vote. School bells may not ring in September.

Attacked by Sciatica and Bad Backache

Chas. Edwards Found Relief In Dodd's Kidney Pills

"I had a severe attack of sciatica in the fall of last year," writes Mr. Chas. Edwards, 1524, 13th Avenue West, Calgary. I also had pains in my back and tried several remedies but got very little relief from any of them. I remembered we had a Dodd's Almanac in the house which I got and read the many testimonials of those who had got relief from Rheumatism, Lumbago, and Sciatica by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"I made a start at once and soon felt they were doing me good. I took three boxes and felt all right."

Four Miles of Cars Wait To Cross River

WINDSOR, Sept. 7.—All records were broken Monday for the number of automombiles crossing the river at Windsor and Walkerville.

Officials of the two ferry companies estimate that at least 20,000 cars were in the Border Cities late last night awaiting transportation to Detroit.

At 10 o'clock there were two lines of automobiles reaching from the Windsor ferry dock to Memorial Park on Hall Avenue, each about four miles long. Every member of the Police Department, assisted by firemen and citizens, would be directing traffic in Windsor and Walkerville all night, Chief Constable Daniel Thompson said.

Despite congested streets, especially in the downtown districts, not a single serious accident has been reported to police of the Border Cities during the week-end.

Lord's Stage Manager Retires On Pension

LONDON, Sept. 6 (Canadian Press Despatch).—The "stage manager" of the House of Lords is about to retire under the age limit governing civil servants. For the past 22 years Mr. Thomas Whitehead has been resident superintendent of the House of Lords. When His Majesty opens Parliament in State the Peers attend in their robes (although they do not wear their coronets). The climax of the King's impressive entry into the Lords' Chamber is reached when the electric light, hitherto shining but feebly, is gradually increased until it reaches its full power as His Majesty hands the Queen to the seat on his left and assumes his seat upon the Throne.

It was Mr. Whitehead's special duty to see that not a speck of dust was to be found in all the appointments for this pageantry, and to ensure that the electric light was switched to its full power at the exactly suitable moment.

Their Happiness brings good digestion

Children hail with glee the meal that starts with Puffed Rice. They love the nutlike flavour and the crunchy crispness. They "chew their food" when Puffed Rice is served.

Their very happiness aids digestion. The stomach greets Puffed Rice because Puffed Rice pleases the palate. More abundant nourishment is taken from other food eaten at the same time.

Good at any meal • • • or in between meals • • • after school, for instance, or before going to bed.

Serve with whole milk or cream. Then children won't need coaxing to take the amount of milk food they should have every-day.

Puffed Wheat, too

Quaker Puffed Wheat is another cereal delight—grains of wheat exploded like the rice. Most mothers get a package each of the wheat and the rice, and thus supply variety to all the family.

FACE OF WOMAN CHANGED TO MAN'S

Conan Doyle Tells of Odd Psychic Adventure With Medium.

By HENRY T. RUSSELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, (United Press).—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, having withdrawn for all time the character of Sherlock Holmes from future stories, has more time to devote to spiritualism and the first result of this increased interest has caused English scientists to smile while psychists are impressed.

In a document published by Conan Doyle that famous writer told of an experience in which he and his wife saw the face of an old woman transformed into that of an old man.

The famous creator of "Sherlock Holmes" explained how he and Lady Conan Doyle with their guests, Mrs. C. A. Wickland and Doctor Carl A. Wickland, noted psychic investigator of California, had a strange psychic adventure at Doyle's country home in Sussex, using Mrs. Wickland as their medim.

After a visit to an old moated grange, Mrs. Wickland is said to have suddenly exclaimed:

"There is such a strange old man walking beside us."

A moment later, she answered questions concerning the appearance of the "strange old man", explaining that he came from the moat which the party had just left, "through that door that opened."

"We had driven home," wrote Conan Doyle, "and were seated among the roses on my verandah, the Wicklands, my wife, and myself. We were talking of other things when the Seer suddenly gave a start. 'He's here.'

"Then came the amazing moment. Before our eyes she changed in an instant into a heavy-faced, sullen old man, with bent back and loose, senile lips. The whole expression was utterly different. She choked and spluttered in an effort to express the thoughts of the control."

It was this statement which, in effect, means that a living woman suddenly and visibly becomes a man, which caused the widest and most varied type of comment throughout England.

Psychics, of course, are almost unanimous in lending absolute credence to the report, which, they claim, is but one more demonstration of those spiritual powers which, in our generation of scientific progress, of quasi-supernatural scientific devices like wireless telephony, are sneered at by many.

Scientists, however, are inclined, if not to actually doubt the fact involved, at any rate to ask for scientific and absolute proofs of them.

CANADIAN STARS WILL COMPETE SINGLES EVENT

United States Tennis Championship Tournament to Open September 12th.

AT FOREST HILLS

Jack Wright to Meet Mooney of Atlanta in First Round.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—Three Canadian tennis stars will compete in the United States singles championship tournament starting on September 12 at Forest Hills, N.Y.

The draw of 64 players announced yesterday revealed that Jack Wright, Canadian champion of Montreal, who is one of the eight foreign "seeded" players, will meet Jack Mooney of Atlanta, Ga., in the first round. The Canadian Davis Cup star is "seeded" in the third quarter of the draw.

C. W. Leslie of Montreal is drawn against Lucian E. Williams of Chicago in the first round and Gilbert Nunns of Toronto meet Neil J. Sullivan of Philadelphia.

"Big Bill" Tilden faces the prospect of battling the three French "Musketeers" of tennis on successive days in his attempt to win back the championship now held by Rene La Coste of France. The draw showed Jean Borotra, Henri Cochet and La Coste "seeded" in such a manner that they will block Tilden's path in the quarter finals, semi-finals and finals, respectively, providing none of the four are previously eliminated. If form prevails, "Little Bill" Johnston will be La Coste's semi-final opponent so that it is possible that the little Californian may be the one to meet Tilden in the finals, if "Big Bill" gets by his other rivals.

Tilden's opening opponent will be Fritz Mercur, Lehigh University player, who eliminated Manuel Alonso at Seabright. Next he probably will meet Berkeley Bell, Dallas, Texas, youngster; Yoshiro Ohta of the Japanese Davis Cup team, a seeded player; and then the three crack Frenchmen, with a dramatic La Coste battle looming if he can get past the others.

LaCoste opens against Frank C. Owens of Atlanta and then takes on probably Neil Sullivan of Lehigh, George Lott of Chicago, who beat him a few weeks ago at Southampton; Manuel Alonso, second in the national ranking; "Little Bill" Johnston and Tilden.

The Davis Cup veteran, Johnston, seeded at the top of the second half, is slated to meet two of the French, taking on Jacques Brugnon in the quarter finals before meeting La Coste in the next round. "Little Bill" starts play against George King, tenth ranking American, who defeated him two years ago at Seabright.

First round matches of other favorites are: Cochet vs. Percy Kynaston, Rockville Center, N.Y.; Borotra vs. Teizo Toba of Japan; Lott vs. Allen Behr of New York; and John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., against Kenneth Appel, Princeton, inter-collegiate doubles champion.

In making the draw the United States Lawn Tennis Association made two lists of seeded players. The American "Big Eight" comprises in order: Tilden, Johnston, Alonso; Francis T. Hunter, Tilden's probable Davis Cup doubles partner; Lott; Richard N. Williams; Lewis N. White of Austin, Texas, and Doeg.

Of the foreign players La Coste was placed first with Cochet next, then Borotra; Jacques Brugnon, French Davis Cup doubles player; Jean Washer, Belgian champion; Wright; Yoshiro Ohta and Ryiki Miki of the Japanese Davis Cup team.

Veteran Ball Player Succumbs At Toledo

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 7 (A.P.).—Old time baseball fans learned with sorrow yesterday of the death in Toledo, Ohio, of Lave Cross, star third baseman in the heyday of his career.

Most of Lave's career in the major leagues was spent in Philadelphia, first with the Philadelphia Nationals and then with the Americans. Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, said yesterday that Lave was one of the old Athletics who loved the game for the game itself.

The Phillies obtained Cross about 1890. While with the Phillies he alternated between catching and 3rd base. He caught certain pitchers and at other times played third. He played in infield position with his catcher's glove, there being no rule against it at the time.

Cross played with the Phillies until 1897 when he was sent to St. Louis in a deal that brought Monte Cross, who was not related to Lave, to Philadelphia. He was with Brooklyn after that and then came to the Athletics, with whom he remained until 1906. His last big league engagement was with Washington.

COBOURG VISITORS LOSE AT SOFTBALL

Royal Oaks of Park Street Church Defeat Them 32-19.

A Cobourg ball team, headed by the Rev. Mr. Norton, invaded the city yesterday and engaged in a soft ball game with the Royal Oaks class of Park street Baptist church, in which they were vanquished by a score of 32-19, in spite of the stellar performance of their minister. The victors were then the hosts at a banquet in the church basement. Mr. Norton thanked the Peterboro Club for the entertainment and was replied to by Messrs. Smith and Thompson of Park street. The Cobourg boys left at 6 p.m., as they were anxious to arrive home early.

SPENDS IDLE DAY AT TRAINING CAMP

Former Champion Starts 48-Hour Layoff From Training.

LINCOLN FIELDS, Crete, Ills., Sept 7 (Canadian Press).—The only commotion around Jack Dempsey's training camp yesterday was the chugging of a track scraper, the creaking of machines digging a lake to beautify the infield, and the snores of Dempsey himself.

Dempsey started a 48-hour layoff, made a flying trip into Chicago for a conference with Promoter Tex Rickard, returning at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He immediately went to bed, and at 4 o'clock started for Olympia Field to take a few swings at golf balls.

There was no road work, no bag punching, no work of any kind — just a complete day of rest except for nine holes of golf. Manager Flynn says he wants Dempsey to rest as hard for these two days as he has worked for the past three days.

be around that figure. He likes the be around that flure. He likes the way he is being conditioned. He claims he is not a bit worried about his legs or his wind, and asserts he will show the public the only heavyweight champion that ever came back by the time he gets through with Tunney.

"It doesn't make any difference what either Tunney or I do in training," Dempsey said. "What counts is what we will do on the night we meet in the ring. You can say for me that I will be a much better fighter than the one he whipped in Philadelphia. I doubt if Tunney will be any better than he was then."

TUNNEY INJURED DURING WORKOUT

Receives Inch Cut Over Right Eye From Sparring Partner.

LAKE VILLA, Ills., Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—Gene Tunney sustained a cut an inch long over his right eye while boxing with Chuck Wiggins, Indianapolis light heavyweight, in his daily workout of eight rounds yesterday.

The wound, which bled rather freely, will prevent Tunney from boxing to-day as originally scheduled, and may force him to lay off longer than that. Wiggins locked heads with the champion in the third round of their boxing. When Gene drew away, blood spilled from the wound directly over the right eye.

The accident did not prevent Tunney boxing three rounds with Billy Vidabeck directly after the session with Wiggins. Gene started the workout with two rounds of bag punching.

The title-holder, just settling into the steady grind of preparation for the title defence against Jack Dempsey in Soldiers' Field September 22, made light of the injury and refused to halt the round when the wound began to bleed. Gene smiled at Wiggins' apologies and said:

"Let's box; that's nothing at all."

Gene's set-to with the Indianapolis light heavyweight had been hot all the way to the point of the accident. Chuck set a fast pace, tearing into the champion for the first two rounds and landing several stiff left hooks to Tunney's head. Gene mixed willingly, clipping heavy right counters to Chuck's chin. When Wiggins tired from the blows and reeled to close quarters, his head bumped solidly into Tunney's forehead.

Davis Cup Players Training For Match

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 7 (Canadian Press). — Little Bill Johnson of California, flashed his best form yesterday in his first work at the Germantown Cricket Club in preparation for United States' defence of the Davis Cup Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A few hours after his arrival from Boston, where he played in the national doubles championship Monday, the Californian was on the Germantown courts playing with George M. Lott, Jr., as his opponent.

The French team, which arrived from New England yesterday and which will carry the challenge to the United States for the third successive year, also worked out on the Germantown courts. They kept no scores but displayed excellent form. Rene La Coste played with Jean Washer, while Jacques Brugnon worked out with Jean Borotra.

PIRATES HOLD LEAGUE LEAD

Kremer Holds Reds to Three Hits for 5 to 0 Victory.

ISSUES NO PASSES

NEW YORK September 7. Canadian Press. — The Pirates held their slender lead in the National League pennant race yesterday by defeating Cincinnati 5 to 0, at Pittsburgh.

Ray Kremer gave proof of a complete return to form by holding the Reds to three scattered hits. Only 28 men faced the big Pirate hurler, who experienced difficulty in working back into trim again after a knee injury earlier in the season. He issued no passes.

First base was as far as any Cincinnati runner got throughout the game.

Before the game Barney Dreyfuss, Pirate owner, announced that Manager Bush had been retained to pilot the Corsairs next year.

The New York National kept hard on the heels of the Pirates with a 9 to 6 verdict over the Braves in the New York series final. It gave the Giants 27 victories in their last 34 games.

This was the last appearance together for the clubs, the season's count giving New York 15 out of 22 games.

Win First 13-1.

Battering two Chicago pitchers the Cardinals took the first game of a scheduled double header at St. Louis yesterday 13 to 1, while the second was postponed because of rain after the Cubs had gained a one run lead in the first inning. Two games will be played here to-day.

The Cubs' lone run in the opener game was in the sixth when English bunted safely and scored on Wilson's single. The Cubs were debited with four errors.

Pitcher Frank House started the second game for the Cardinals opposing Carlson. English scored as Schuble was throwing out Stephenson at first. The Cards retired in order in their half and the Cubs were threatening to score, with Beck on first and Hartnett on third, and one out, when the rain started.

Only games scheduled.

DEMPSEY RUINS OTHER FIGHTERS

Tunney Only One To Amount To Much After Meeting Him.

SHARKEY MAY COME BACK.

(By Henry L. Farrell, United Press Sports Editor.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 2 (United Press).—With the notable exception of Gene Tunney, the records will show, not one fighter amounted to much after he had met Jack Dempsey.

Tunney is the notable exception because he whipped the killer and the killer didn't land any of the punches that had brought to a close the career of so many others.

Jess Willard never amounted to much after he was butchered by Dempsey and it may be that he wasn't much before that.

Fred Fulton was positively ruined by Dempsey and it may be, in the same way that he was terrible before Dempsey knocked him silly with one punch.

Billy Miske was started to his grave by the beating he took from Dempsey, but it is one of the tragedies of the game that Miske was dying when he fought the killer and made the sacrifice of his life to get the purse money for his fight.

Georges Carpentier was so softened up by the hammering he received from the champion at that time that he turned into one of the easy marks of the ring, falling before the clown Siki, Gibbons and Tunney.

Tom Gibbons went the limit with Dempsey in Shelby, but he took a terrible trimming. One punch on the temple made his head so sore that he couldn't wear a hat for days.

Up to the time that he met Gene Tunney, Gibbons never had been knocked down, but he was knocked out by Tunney. It wasn't the punches of Tunney that caused his defeat that sweltering night, it was the failure of his own structure to hold up.

Tunney has always held it against the writer that after the Gibbons and Dempsey fights we went to greater lenghts to explain why they had lost than to tell why he had won. But that is neither here nor there.

All of this leads up to a question of whato effect the terrible body beating he took from Dempsey will have upon the future of young Jack Sharkey, one of the best prospects in the heavyweight class, despite the fact that he was knocked out by Dempsey.

If Sharkey hasn't been crushed inside and softened by the terrific lacing he took in the stomach—even before that questioned punch that finished him—he ought to go on.

Sharkey is not of the sensitive type who would be ruined mentally by the humiliation of a knockout. He has enough ego to believe that he could come back and beat Dempsey and he also has the consolation of a personal opinion that he was fouled.

Sharkey was a good fighter before he met Dempsey and he should be a better fighter now if he hasn't been broken up by the punishment. Unless he has an unconquerable ego the lessons he learned in the Dempsey fight should bear fruit many fold.

Most important, the lesson Sharkey should have learned was that he is not the only young man in the business who knows how to fight. He should have been taught at a great cost that skilled trainers and a smart manager deserve attention and that two or more heads are sometimes better than one and are always better than one when that one is dazed and dizzy from a punch.

Sharkey has natural tools, which if used in accordance with instructions, might have won his fight with Dempsey or at least might have given him a more graceful exit from the ring. He is a beautiful boxer and instead of trying to be a killer like Dempsey his game is to follow that of Tunney, chop 'em down and then let 'em have it.

The young Boston heavyweight should have learned also that he hasn't enough of a punch to bring down a rugged fighter like Dempsey or Paulino or a clever boxer like Tunney or Delaney. He punched himself out on Dempsey in the first round and all he saw was Dempsey's knees shaking and Dempsey tearing back at him on his wobbly pins.

Another lesson to be learned was that he needs footwork. He acted like he had glue on his shoes in the Dempsey fight. He didn't know how to back-step or side-step away from the Dempsey rushes and had to stand there and take them.

William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing commission, told him he was making a mistake by not paying attention to footwork when he was training for Dempsey. Muldoon told him to get some fast little fellows to work with but Sharkey ignored the advice—and suffered for it.

If he has not been badly injured Sharkey ought to go on and he is in a good spot to get to his goal. Regardless of the winner of the Dempsey-Tunney fight someone will have to be found to meet the champion next year and Sharkey has a chance to fight himself back into first place among the challengers—

If Dempsey hasn't ruined him.

Southpaw Joe Pate of the Philadelphia Athletics made his major league debut last season. His first year as a big leaguer is probably without parallel as to pitchers.

Pate came to the Athletics from Fort Worth of the Texas League. For years he has been a big star in that organization. Several times he was labeled for a big league berth but each spring found him back in the Lone Star state.

At an age when a good many pitchers are regarded as veterans, Pate finally landed in the big show. After a few starts in which he met with varied success, Connie Mack decided that he had just the proper stuff to be highly successful as a relief pitcher.

Last season Pate worked in 47 games, not one of them a complete affair. He performed so efficiently in relief roles that he received credit for nine victories and didn't suffer a single defeat all season in his unique role.

Newark Ball Club On Auction Block

NEWARK, N.J., Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—The greater Newark Baseball Club, holder of the International League franchise, will be sold at auction to-day, and the Newark News yesterday said there were indications that the principal creditors and stockholders would pool their interests and take over the holdings if the highest bid does not exceed $500,000.

The paper also mentioned the possibility of Connie Mack of Philadelphia buying the club for, or in partnership with, Jack Dunn. It was said, however, there was little likelihood of a $600,000 bid being received, and there were no indications that the creditors would accept the two-thirds loss which would result if the club were sold for the $300,000. The latter figure was said by the News to be the most probable offer.

The creditors have the privilege of petitioning the courts to transfer the club's holding to them if the bids do not meet with their approval.

BISONS TAKE 3RD STRAIGHT

Score Ten Runs in Sixth to Defeat Colts 11 to 3.

ORIOLES WIN 7-4

NEW YORK, September 7. — Canadian Press. — The Buffalo Bisons took their third straight game from the Tribe by handing the Colts a 11 to 3 beating at Rochester yesterday. A wild sixth inning in which the Bisons scored 10 runs, proved the downfall of the Tribe.

Proffitt went the route for the League leaders and kept nine hits well scattered.

Baltimore made it three straight, defeating the Keystones at Reading 7 to 4. A big first inning, when five runs were scored, was enough for the Orioles to win. After the first, Slappey pitched good ball, allowing only four hits to eight innings.

The Bears defeated the Skeeters at Newark yesterday afternoon 6 to 4. The visitors got to Brennan in the eighth inning, and he was yanked in favor of Boney who was lucky to hold the Pests in check.

With one out in the opening round Kelly hit for the circuit and from then on the Bears kept out in front. Newark scored three more in the third by timely stick work, and another in the eighth.

75 FEET—88 MINUTES.

PONCA CITY, Okla., Sept. 7.—(United Press).— Crawling at a speed which defied forty-nine competitors, Billy B, prize 50-year-old of the "stables" of Mayor L. Dale Beaver of Fairfax, Arizona, won the $3,780 added 75 foot turtle race for all comers at the 101 Ranch speedway yesterday.

Ponca City's one day racing season—the fourth annual held—saw the finest turnout of thoroughbred terrapins ever to compete on the course.

There were 3,780 of them in the preliminary heats, the pets of the southwestern followers of "the laziest sport in the world."

Each paid a $2 entry fee as a contribution to the prize money.

Billy B's record breaking time for the 25 yards was 1.28.5. He went straight for the shade as turtles will; when he was released in the bright sun at the starting line. The elimination contests which determined the fifty starters in the derby began early. Groups of entrants were put through their places and the winners selected for the main race. Backers of each tortoise cheered it on while the police held back the crowds.

Finally the best of the three thousand odd racers were brought to the starting point. The fronts of their shells were placed on the mark. The starter's gun sounded and they were off. A few made straight for the nearest shade, waddling with intensive purpose. Others looked searchingly for lily-pads on a refreshing pond. They saw only dry dust and gave up in despair—left at the post. Billy B, a veteran of the turtle track, seemed to know what was expected of him and soon took the lead and held it. He won by half a shell.

The race was promoted by the pioneer riders of the prairie, an organization of cow men, who held their annual reunion yesterday.

YANKEES SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER

Defeat Red Sox 14-2 in First, Dropping Second 5 to 2.

HOMER FOR GEHRIG

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—Babe Ruth reeled off three homers to equal his 1926 performance of 47, before 20,000 fans at Boston yesterday, while the Yankees split with the Red Sox in a double-header, winning the first by 14 to 2 and dropping the other, 5 to 2. Ruth made a pair of circuit wallops off Welzer in the sixth and seventh innings of the first contest and the other in the ninth of the nightcap. Gehrig hit a four-bagger in the first contest, bringing his total to 45.

The King of Swat drove out his first big wallop with two on base, the ball sailing over the high centre field fence, and was easily the longest home run ever made at Fenway Park. One was on base for the second homer and none on the third time.

The Washington Senators made their last appearance of the season at Philadelphia dividing a double-header with the Athletics by winning the first game 14 to 9, and dropping the second, 4 to 0.

Marberry and Walberg were knocked out in the first game but Braxton stopped the Mack hitting, while the Senators hammered Walberg's three successors at will. Six triples, and home runs by Goslin and Bluege featured the slugging in this game.

Rommel held the Griffmen to four scattered hits in the second game and outpitched Horace Lisenbee. Jacobson hit a homer in the fifth inning. Simmons made his first appearance in six weeks in the fourth inning of the first game as a pinch hitter for French. He fanned.

Browns Win 7—4

St. Louis made it two out of three at Cleveland, winning 7 to 4. Gaston outpitched a trio of Cleveland pitchers, being effective with men on the bases. Yesterday's game marked the close of the last series at Cleveland with the Browns.

Bill Barrett's home run in the seventh inning with the bases filled and the score tied, enabled the White Sox to take the closing game of the Detroit series from the Tigers. The score was 9 to 6.

Both starting pitchers were taken out in the seventh. Billings retired with three runners on the sacks and Barret, the first batter to face Smith lifted the ball out of the park for his second home run in two days.

Lou Blue, captain of the Tigers, was ordered from the field in the seventh after a prolonged argument with Umpire Van Graflin. The dispute arose when Van Graflin called Flaskamper safe at first on his grounder to Tavener.

TRENT VALLEY LODGE.

Trent Valley Lodge, situated at the foot of Rice Lake seems to be enjoying its share of American tourists. Some nice catches of fish have been caught by the guests.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Roseneath Anglican church put on a concert on Thursday. An impromptu platform was erected at short notice from which instrumental and vocal solos were rendered, all supplied by the members of the church.

The local sportsmen were somewhat disappointed on September 1, the opening of the duck season. Not many birds were bagged, as there were not many to bag.

OSHAWA WINS CRICKET GAME

Defeats Local Club By Narrow Margin of Four Runs.

SCORING VERY LOW.

In an exciting match at the Oval on Monday afternoon the local club lost to Oshawa by the narrow margin of four runs.

Oshawa won the toss and batted first; but soon found runs hard to get, the bowling and fielding of the Peterborough team being excellent, and they were all out for the small total of 45 runs, Haley being the only batsman to reach double figures. Thorpe and Dunkerly bowled unchanged, the former securing 5 wickets for 2., and the latter 4 for 14. Smith and Train each made smart catches.

Peterborough opened their innings with Dunkerley and Stuart and these two were not separated until 21 runs were on the board, and it looked as if the local club were to secure an easy victory, but cricket is very uncertain, and the only other batsmen to secure any runs were Hammond and Dr. Hewitt, the remainder of the team failed dismally and 9 wickets were down for 41 runs. One wicket to fall and 5 runs to win when Imming went to bat, but in trying to make a snarp single Monkman was run out on a very close decision, in fact some of the Oshawa members thought he was safe. However, Peterborough lost by 4 runs in a well fought and sporting game. A. Haley secured 5 wickets for 7 runs and Pickup 3 for 11.

A return match has been arranged at Oshawa next Saturday, and Peterborough expect to field a stronger XI. and reverse the decision.

SUPREMES WIN SECOND GAME

Babe Vincent and Dot Mortimer Battery Against Danforths.

FOR TORONTO TITLE.

The first game was a tie affair, and a third game to decide the honors will be played at the same park on Monday night next.

CONTROLLING NATURE'S FORCES

Much of man's energy and thought has been given to learning how to control the various forces of Nature. The radio, aeroplane, automobile, and such modern inventions show how well man has succeeded in understanding some of Nature's laws, and directing her forces for the good of society.

As yet, no perfect instrument has ever been devised and, sooner or later, all man-made machines break down. This is because of our inability to understand all of the natural facts in relation to the manufacture of mechanical devices.

We learn in more or less of a stumbling manner how to temporarily use the law of gravity, and at the present time a great deal of success has been achieved from the development of the aeroplane which, made and operated in a certain manner, practically overcomes the law of gravity.

Rivers are kept within certain boundaries for a time, and the power of their rushing waters used to move machinery, but our control of the force of gravitation is not yet perfect enough to prevent such catastrophies as the Mississippi and Imperial Valley floods. In some parts of the world cyclones and hurricanes still raise havoc, and even with his newer knowledge of building construction, man has not been able to protect himself against such violent outbursts of Nature.

Man's body has often been called a finely regulated machine, but it is more than that. The various tissues and organs gathered together in a single body is really a little world in itself, and the artistic triumph of the Creator's infinite intelligence.

Man is the only single unit in Nature that can boast of having the power to consciously regulate its action and environment. We are born with all of the organic functions working perfectly, and they will continue to do so for an indefinite time if we will only learn to live so as not to interfere with such normal functioning. Man can change his environment to his best advantage, and regulate his habits of eating, exercising, and thinking so there will be no dis-ease or dis-order in his body. No internal floods or hurricanes can develop if we will simply follow the laws of Nature which we can learn by our own experience, and from the experiences of others.

Outside of external accidents, nothing should interfere with the functioning of our bodies except our ignorance of the principles of right living. Such ignorance is the only important sin, and is the Mother of all suffering.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: P. B. X. writes: "I am enclosing an advertisement. Can you recommend this prescription for reducing, and will it affect the heart, as I have a slight touch of heart trouble?"

ANSWER: I do not at any time recommend remedies of any kind. I conduct this column daily for your benefit, to teach you how to take care of yourself so there will be no need for any queer "remedies" to correct conditions caused by injudicious living. If you will diet as I recommend in my reducing articles, your weight will surely come to the normal, and your "touch" of heart trouble will disappear as you stop burdening your heart by making it take care of excessive weight.

QUESTION: W. L. H. writes: "What is the cause of upper and lower eyelids being swollen all the time; also, what causes a person to see his nose when reading?"

ANSWER: Inflammation of the eyelids is caused by the same bad habits which produce gastritis, enteritis, colitis, or any inflammation of the digestive organs. When the stomach or intestines are inflamed, it is liable to affect any of the mucous membranes of the body. If you are bothered by seeing your nose when you read, it may be because your eyes do not focus properly. Go to a good optometrist and see if properly fitted glasses will not correct this trouble.

QUESTION: Gertrude writes: "Is not the combination of cherries and milk poison? We were taught to look upon this mixture as "sudden death"."

ANSWER: Cherries and milk form a perfect combination. But, remember, do not use any starch at the same time, for therein lies the source of the mischief that is blamed upon an otherwise good combination.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

SYMPATHY

I knew him when we both were boys.
I knew him when we took our brides;
Together once we knew life's joys.
And lots of other things besides.
But he went east and I went west.
Each chasing wealth's bright-featured bird,
And neither one his friend addressed
A line—but now and then we heard.

Some traveler had told him when
My wife passed on. (There's nothing now
Worth ever working for again;
When she died I died, too, somehow.)
I heard about his only son,
When someone saw him for awhile.
(They said that since he lost the one
No other man had seen him smile.)

A lot of things that should be said
I wished that I was there to say;
And when he heard that she was dead
I knew he felt the selfsame way.
I knew, if fate should ever bring
Us face to face before we pass,
That I would tell him ev'rything
And he would talk about my lass.

And then last night he just walked in
(He had some business in the west),
And he was rather bent and thin,
And I was grayer than he guessed.
We talked about the price of land,
And how the crops would do this fall,
And when he left he squeezed my hand.
And then we sighed, and that was all.

S. O. S. SIGNALS

ter, no details were given.

Within a few minutes of the receipt of the S.O.S. several ships, obeying the immutable law of the seas, were rushing under full steam towards the estimated position of the trans-Atlantic airplane. The liner Transylvania, westward bound, appeared to be nearer Old Glory than any other ship. The steamer reported that she was eighty-three miles away.

High Sea Running.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.)— The Independent Wireless Company, shortly after nine o'clock this morning, announced ships in North Atlantic had reported high sea was running and a strong wind prevailed. For this reason it was noted, locating of the monoplane Old Glory and the rescue of its two pilots and passenger would be difficult.

Prepare Reception.

ROME, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—Despite the receipt of news of an S.O.S. from the Old Glory, which caused profound regret here, aeronautical officials continue to be optimistic about the eventual success of the flight. The fact that an S.O.S. was received, officials asserted, means that the machine is still flying, since the radio apparatus is understood to be on the wing of the plane. Hope is expressed that the distress signal was merely a call for temporary assistance. Preparations for the reception of the plane at Ciampino, or some other air field in Italy, were still going on to-day.

Sister Ship Of Raphael.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.)—The monoplane Old Glory is a sister of the ill-fated St. Raphael, differing only in the color of its pain. Both the Rome-bound plane and the British ship, which disappeared on a westward voyage across the Atlantic with Princess Lowenstein Wertheim and her two pilot escorts, are Fokker monoplanes of the same model and equipped with 450 horse-power Bristol Jupiter engines. Although flares and rockets were carried on the Old Glory, it was thought here they would be of little service since day was breaking at sea when the plane sent out its distress call.

Sends Messages.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 7.—A radio message from Lloyd Bertaud, one of Old Glory's pilots to his wife at Old Orchard was picked up at 4 o'clock eastern standard time, by J. Brenner, chief radio officer in charge of Cape Elizabeth naval station. It read:

"The ship is heavy, making 100 miles an hour, everything going fine. About 90 miles north of Digby, N. S."

Bertaud reported that the automatic transmitter, which had not been heard, was "running continuously now." He said there would be no further radio messages for about an hour as he was going up to take his turn at the controls, which were in the hands of Pilot Hill the first three and a half hours.

Plane Reaches Burma.

Theatres

AT THE GRAND

GRAND TO-NIGHT.

Since big colored shows have come into vogue, critics, both those of signed article fame and the more ordinary daily grind fellows, have been given to making editorial comments upon the difference between the varicolored Negro choristers; and the Caucasian sister reputed to be at once the lure and nemesis of the stage door Johnnie.

That there is a difference, other than the mere fact that one is Negro, and the other White is admitted, but few have been able to definitely describe the difference. Yet it is quite simple. There are just two points of difference.

The great distinction is the difference between pose and action. From Ziegfeld down, or up as one may prefer, the choruses to which we have been accustomed have been trained to present beautiful stage pictures. Most of the glory of the eye appeal has been in the spectacular effect of mass beautiy presented in cleverly effected arrangements, each evolving into a pretty pose.

With the Negro chorister, the effect sought has been precisely the opposite. These girls have been trained into presenting a kaleidescope of cyclonic activity, a veritable riot of movement that is intoxicating, if not bewildering. How in the world they remember all of the intricacies of their speedy dance steps and the accompanying gestures is in itself enough to give one some mental acrobatics. Therein is the basin of jazz, and the difference between the two types of choruses.

Another difference is physiological. White beauties are either blonde or brunette, with an occasional drab or red featured damsel.

In 'Mamie Smith" show or any other show with 18 colored girls in the chorus, there is likely to be just that many different types of beauty, for the race is a human bouquet with a vast number of color combinations among them.

The producer of more than one of these shows has been disappointed after a nation wide search for exact types, for be it known that so complex has become the present day types of Negro that the word "colored" is the only descriptive adjective sufficiently comprehensive to describe them.

"HULA" COLORFUL SOUTH SEA ROMANCE, STARS CLARA BOW

Sounds terrible, but that is the part she portrays—a flapper of Hawaii—in her latest starring Paramount vehicle "Hula" which comes to the Capitol Theatre for a three day run starting tomorrow.

When Miss Bow read Armine Von Tempski's popular novel she begged studio officials to buy it for her. The Paramount corporation lost no time in securing the rights, agreeing that it undoubtedly was one of the best they could obtain for her.

"Hula" is a story of social life on Hawaii; of an American girl, born and raised on "the crossroads of the Pacific" who remains herself amid an artificial atmosphere created by an irresponsible set of "fast livers."

In this interesting but strange situation comes Clive Brook, leading man. The troubles of lively Miss Bow in obtaining her real love make up one of the most fascinating screen tales of the day. Romance, color, smiles and tears are all rolled together in this fast moving story.

The production was directed by Victor Fleming, famous for his success with "Mantrap" then "The "Rough Riders" and more recently "The Way of All Flesh," starring Emil Jannings. In addition to Mr. Brook, who has demonstrated himself one of the most popular leading men of the day, Miss Bow is supported by a hand-picked cast consisting of Arlette Marchal, Arnold Kent, Albert Gran and Agostino Borgato. Doris Anderson adapted the novel. The screen play was prepared by Ethel Doherty.

NEWSPAPERMEN NOT AGREED ON HEWART'S TALK

One British Editor Says All Were Not Included in Criticism.

ONLY SENSATIONALISTS.

Others Refute the Statements Made By Lord Chief Justice of England.

TORONTO, Sept. 7. — (Canadian Press). — Lord Hewart's recent criticism of the press was not at all so vindictive as Canadian Newspapers have viewed it, in the opinion of members of the British Newspaper Society who have just examined the report of Lord Hewart's address before Toronto Service Clubs a few days ago.

"I think you have failed to see the humour in his address," John King, President, said to-day. "This is no attack on the press. It is simply a criticism of certain elements of the press, certain sensational elements that are well-known to newspapermen. He points out in his address that there is a better side to newspapers, too. He is not trying to include all papers."

Nevertheless, other members of the party are not sure that Lord Hewart's "attack" should be overlooked. Sir Richard Winfrey, managing director of the Peterborough Advertiser, challenges Lord Hewart's view that it is the abnormal, rather than the normal, in which people are interested and to which the papers give space. He also refutes Lord Hewart's statement that the law was generous to newspapers.

Arthur Caunt, of Blackpool, thought there there was nothing wrong with the tendency to magnify one or few powerful newspaper voices.

KING CANUTE NAMED IN SUIT

Decision On His Horn Taken as Precedent By New Jersey Court.

HEIRLOOM CASE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. —The name of King Canute, known to most people as the Sovereign whose command failed to prevent the tide from coming in and wetting the hem of his Royal robe, figured, only recently in a dispute that arose over a diamond ring in the Chancery Court of New Jersey.

It was Vice-Chancellor Maja Leon Berry of Toms River, N.J., and Newark that raised the shadow of the Danish King of England, now 1,000 years dead.

Surrender Heirloom.

In the opinion filed in Trenton, N.J., on Aug. 29, Chancellor Berry ruled that a diamond ring, valued as an heirloom, should be surrendered by the present holder, Mrs. Mart A. Bloomsburg of Jersey City, to her sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen A. R. Burr of Bordertown, a daughter of Robert Bloomsburg, the original possessor.

The heirloom had been handed by Mrs. Burr's father to his wife, and then to the daughter, Helen. According to Chancellor Berry's opinion Mr. Bloomsburg gave Helen the ring in the presence of her brother, George, who borrowed it in 1909. In spite of a receipt for the ring which his widow, the present holder. So Helen sued to recover it.

King Canute's Present.

"What court should have jurisdiction over such a case?? Back went Chancellor Berry to the year 1584, to the case of Pusey v. Pusey This litigation, which involved the retention in the Pusey family of a horn received from King Canute nearly 600 years before, was decided by the High Court of Chancery. Since then ruled Chancellor Berry, the Court of Chancery has had jurisdiction in cases where the recovery of heirlooms is involved.

The horn involved in the Pusey case was delivered to the Pusey family by Canute along with a considerable estate. Upon the horn was graven: "Pecote this horn to hold huy thy land." The horn was the equivalent of a piece of paper; it was the bill of deed, the symbol of possession of the land.

Although the ring belonging to Mrs. Helen Burr carries with it no property, it is an heirloom even as the horn of King Canute. Thus th award of the ring to its rightfu owner came under the jurisdiction o the Jersey Court of Chancery.

BREWERY HERE WILL BE FINEST ONE IN ONTARIO

Opportunities For Profit Pointed Out By Buffalo Man.

IN CHARGE OF FINANCE.

Should Be Large Market For Produce of Local Plant, He Says.

Harold E. Cook, of Cook and Company, Buffalo, brokers, gives information regarding Peterborough Brewery Co. "In underwriting the capital stock of the Peterborough Brewery Ltd., the brokers are desirous of pointing out to the prospective purchasers some of the salient facts in the development of brewery securities as result of Government Liquor Control Act. During the month of August of the present year, tourists from the United States spent approximately $31,000,000 in this Province, all in cash. This was contributed by motorists alone, who came into the Province in 300,000 motorcars.

"The history of breweries within the past nine months sounds almost fantastical. The Toronto Globe of Nov. 16, 1926, stated that there was more profit from a brewery in Canada with a sale of 200 barrels per day of beer than from a flowing oil well with a production of 2000 barrels per day. It is the policy of the Canadian Government not to issue additional licenses in the Province of Ont. The Peterborough Brewery Co., Ltd., has acquired the assets of the Calcutt Brewery Co. and will construct the most modern and finest equipped brewery in the Province. The people of Peterborough are invited to participate in the earnings of this enterprise.

"One of the remarkable features of the city of Peterborough is that it boasts of forty-one diversified industries," continued Mr. Cook. "This, in itself, is a remarkable tribute to its enterprise and the energy of its inhabitants. While a part of this issue has been reserved for subscription in United States, where there is a ready market for such investment, an allotment has been made for subscription for the people of Peterborough. Attractive as is the preferred stock of this company, which gives 8% return per annum, the real opportunity for profit lies in the common shares, which in this financing is given as a bonus. In other words, with every purchase of $100 par value preferred stock, two shares will be given as bonus. On the completion of the financing of the Peterborough Brewery Co., application will be made to list the stock on the Toronto and Montreal Exchanges. Peterborough needs such an industry. As an example of this, the city of Kingston, has an old brewery in no way comparable to the industry contemplated in Peterborough. This brewery was re-incorporated with a capitalization of $500,000 less than three months ago, and the shares of this company were placed on Montreal Exchange and have risen to 6¼ points over par already. This is due to the earnings of this company in Kingston vicinity.

"Peterborough is infinitely better situated and the Peterborough Brewery will be much more economically arranged, therefore, the success of the Kingston Brewery should be greatly eclipsed by Peterborough Brewery Co., Ltd.

"Another illustration of the earning power of brewery securities: Prior to the Referendum of Quebec, shares for a provincial brewery company were selling for $10 per share. Within a few months' time these shares were selling for $200 per share. Lately these shares were spread four for one and the new shares are selling on the Montreal stock exchange in excess of $75 per share.

"It is estimated in the Province of Saskatchewan more than $4,000,000 worth of beer and ales was purchased by the Liquor Board, last year. With its population in comparison with the population of Ontario it can be readily seen that a wide opportunity exists for the holders of stock in the Peterborough Brewery Ltd. We offer this stock to the people of Peterborough as a sound investment concerning combining as it does safety of principal with unlimited opportunity for profit. As a part of this issue has been reserved for subscription in the United States, the opportunity for Peterborough people is limited. It is expected this offer will be over-subscribed.

Mr. Cook who is at present at the Empress Hotel, can give some very interesting facts about this company. Subscription and further particulars may also be secured from him.

COOK-BOOK COVER.

Glazed cretonne or gingham or gay oil cloth should be used to cover your cook book. It will keep clean and add a colorful note also.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

JOLLY JINGLES By Graham Hunter

GAS THIEVES BREAK PUMPS

Considerable Damage Done Two George Street Pumps Over Week End.

THEFTS COMMON.

Unmistakable evidence of the activities of gas stealers from their tanks on George street during the extended week end holiday was discovered on the resumption of business yesterday by J. W. Watson and F. R. J. McPherson.

Mr. Watson found the nozzle of his gas tank so badly damaged that its use was attended with great inconvenience, and he has been put to some expense and worry to repair the havoc. Still greater destruction was wrought on the property of his neighbors, the F. R. J. McPherson Company, where the expensive bowl at the top of the tank was cracked, apparently by impact from the nozzle. A fifty dollar bill will barely cover the damage.

Mr. Watson says the mischief is obviously the work of miscreants who tried to help themselves to gas from the tanks. Many of the hose attached to tanks on city streets are invariably filled with gas, and unless the nozzle is firmly locked in position at the side, a night thief can filch nearly half a gallon of gas by simply draining the hose. The damage to the nozzle was caused, he thinks, by the plunderers throwing it to the ground and possibly in their haste to make a getaway, running over it with the car. The hose was in its place when Mr. Watson arrived yesterday, but it is quite probable that other passers-by seeing it on the ground had sufficient social spirit to replace it in its proper position.

The cracking of the bowl of Messrs. MacPhersons' gas tank has been caused either by hasty and clumsy handling of the hose or else, by studied vindictiveness following failure to obtain any gas on account of the fact that the hose was left empty.

Mr. Watson has on several occasons suffered loss at the hands of gasoline thieves. Through leaving the tank unlocked while absent for a brief interval he has found himself more than once short of several gallons taken in daylight by motorists who omitted the formality of paying. It is known, he said, that there are men in this community who boast that they are able to run their cars without the expenditure of a cent for gasoline.

In some cases this type of thief is not content with merely draining the hose of its contents. He not infrequently carries a handle which can be affixed to the pump, from which he fills his tank at the expense of the dealer who had hoped by taking with him his own handle to protect himself from theft in his absence.

Interviewed this morning, J. Angus MacPherson, secretary-treasurer of the F. R. J. MacPherson Company, confirmed the report. He was entirely convinced that the mischief was the sequel to an attempt at stealing gasoline.

No clue has been found as to the identity of the perpetrators.

COUNCIL GUESTS OF LOUIS YEOTES

Mayor, Aldermen and City Officials Have Dinner at Elite Sweets.

The Mayor, Alderman, and City officals were guests of Louis Yeotes at a chicken supper after last night's meeting of the City Council, their first meeting since Mr. Yeotes opened his new Elite Sweets Cafe. All the facilities of this newest addition to the city's restaurants were at the disposal of the aldermen and a splendid dinner was served.

The Mayor and other members of the party voiced their appreciation of the splendid appointments of the cafe, which they characterised as something of which a city of this size might be proud. Mr. Yeote's chef and staff also were praised for the well prepared and well served meal.

TINY GARDENS BRIGHTEN CITY

Two Ladies Have Profusion of Flowers at Public Places.

RARELY MOLESTED.

"Brighten up the corner where you are," the favorite song of little children, might well be taken as the motto of two ladies of the city who have done their best to beautify two otherwise rather unattractive corners of the city streets.

At the corner of Brock and Chambers street, Mrs. Harold Dunford has a tiny bit of land in front of her home and an equally small portion at the rear, every inch of which has been utilised for the growth of lovely flowers. An extraordinary tribute to Mrs. Dunford's courage in growing flowers at a very public section is the fact that these blooms have only in one instance been molested since they were planted the children and adults of the neighborhood evidently appreciating to their fullest the effort to make the corner more attractive.

In the tiny patch of ground here, and in the trim window boxes, Mrs. Dunford has planted white sweet alyssum blue lobelia, large flaming tuberose begonias, geraniums and asters, petunias and verbenas. Ivy and clematis climb up the stone wall at the rear, and there are pansies in profusion at the foot of a tiny rosetree in the front, a Madame Herriot Beauty with coral pink blooms.

The other bit of beauty in flowers, that brightens a dingy corner, is at the crossing of Aylmer and Simcoe streets, where Mrs. George Foster has a little rear garden filled with asters and geraniums, zinnias and marigolds and phlox and the red coleus plants that add a bit of vivid color to the scene.

Royal Windsor Lands.

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press).—The Royal Windsor arrived here at 1.50 p.m. after flying from Old Orchard, Maine. It will be re-fuelled here and leave soon for England.

Fliers make Dates.

Tully and Medcalf ate a hearty breakfast before going to the air field. They went over their machine carefully and found everything to their satisfaction. Without ceremony they jumped into their plane. Just before they started both expressed confidence that they would have lunch in London to-morrow. Medcalf made an appointment with a motion picture camera men to lunch with him in New York three weeks hence.

The plane took the air easily and soared over the harbor at an altitude of about 500 feet. Then it sheered off to the eastward, gradually rising to two thousand feet, and keeping at that height until it passed out of sight over Cape St. Francis, thirty miles away.

The two fliers had not been informed of Old Glory's S.O.S. when they took off. Local authorities however had inserted a memo describing the details of Old Glory's distress call in the fliers' map case where it would be found when they opened the case to use their charts.

Royal Windsor On Way.

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Sept. 7.—(Canadian Press.) — The Royal Windsor soared gracefully into the air to resume its trans-Atlantic flight England-ward at 4.55 o'clock this morning and as the first streaks of dawn were tinting the eastern sky, headed its nose toward Harbor Grace, Nfld., its next stop. The take-off was perfect. The giant monoplane rose without an effort after a short run and after a short circle of the beach, raced out to sea.

Wood and Schiller estimated they would reach Newfoundland in between eight and nine hours. They would take on additional fuel and their hop-off for England would be made at the first favorable moment.

AROUND THE CITY

Members of the Y.W.C.A. Outdoor Club and friends enjoyed a jolly picnic and corn roast last evening. Mr. H. Rye kindly conducted the party down the river in his motor boat, "Strathmore." The group around the camp fire, with the moon casting shadows over the river, made a very pretty picture. On the trip home 'Y' songs re-echoed across the water and announced to the campers that the Y.W.C.A. girls certainly enjoy their outdoor hikes. Next Tuesday evening will be the last hike of the season and the girls have asked for another trip down the river.

At 11.45 last night, the Fire Department was called to 475 Hunter street west, where an automobile in the street had caught fire. The fire, which had its origin in a short circuit, was quickly extinguished and little damage was done.

NEW TRUCK IS RECEIVED BY FIREMEN

Big Ladder Truck Carries Total of 398 Feet of Ladders.

MUCH EQUIPMENT.

Department Is Now Fully Motorized—Viewed By City Council.

The new ladder truck for the Peterborough Fire Department arrived yesterday and, last night, was viewed by the Council, before the City Hall. This morning the men are being instructed in the handling of the machine. The advent of this latest acquisition marks the passing of the last of the old horse-drawn vehicles from the ranks of the local Fire Brigade. The addition of this motor apparatus will add greatly to the efficiency of the department, as, for some fires, the ladder truck is needed as soon as, if not before, the others.

This truck, which is made by the American La France Fire Equipment Company of Toronto, weighs 12,150 pounds, and carries a total of 398 feet of ladders. The equipment consists of the following: One 55 foot ladder; one 45 foot, two 35 foot, all extension ladders; one 30 foot, one 28 foot, two 24 foot, one 20 foot, one 18 foot, and one 16 foot wall ladders; a 12 foot and a 14 foot roof ladder, also one 12 foot extension ladder.

There are two pick-axes, four axes, two shovels, two forks, one pair of insulated wire cutters, four dipper buckets, six pike poles, two crotch poles, four fire department lanterns, a tin roof cutter, door opener and two crow-bars, besides 14 foot and 16 foot pompier laddiers; a life net, and three cellar pipes off the old truck.

The equipment of the department now stands completely motorized, with a 1,000 gallon pump, two motor combination chemical wagons, a city service truck, Chief's car, a steamer, a ladder truck, and a horse drawn hose wagon in reserve.

should supply to the adjacent communities their beer, rather than receive it from outside sources, and the money will remain in Peterborough. In the summer time the demand for beer from tourists is larger in Peterborough than in any city of its size in Ontario. These are but two of the many reasons for choosing Peterborough as a site.

"Do you not consider that there are sufficient breweries to supply the present demand in Ontario?" Mr. Doyle was asked.

"When it is considered that Ontario contains well over three million people and 25 per cent. of these are residing in Eastern Ontario, and that there are but four cities in Eastern Ontario with breweries, their need and demand are easily explained," he pointed out."

"You must have given a great deal of thought to this prior to giving up your position with the Government?"

"After studying the situation for some years and realizing that the brewery industry is developing into one of our most important enterprises and that tremendous fortunes were made in the distilling industry due to the many restrictions that were placed on the beer industry, we realized that when these restrictions were removed the public at large, would demand more of the lighter beverages of ale and lager, and the facilities for supplying this demand are entirely inadequate and out of proportion with the facilities for supplying the stronger liquors.

"It is the intention therefore of the Peterborough Breweries to build a very large plant, which will be not only constructed of the very finest material, but the most studied in its process of manufacture, in fact, unsurpassed in the province of Ontario."

"Under whose supervision will the plant be constructed?"

"I am very pleased to be able to state that we have been successful in securing the greatest brewery architect on the continent of America, under whose supervision the entire plant will be constructed. Julius Schultz is at present the architect of the Canada Brewers Association, Labat's Breweries Ltd., Dow's, and the Peace Bridge Breweries' plant."

Continuing, Mr. Doyle said: "I personally have invested all my available resources in this enterprise and have also transferred my interest to the brewery industry because of the close study I have given to the matter due to my association with the Belleville brewery where profits have been beyond all expectations. That, in a word, is my reason for associating myself with the Peterborough Brewery Company Limited."

Mr. Doyle quotes the following from Mr. Schultz when he saw the site chosen for the new brewery, on his visit to Peterborough on Saturday last: "In the thirty-five years I have been associated with the brewing industry, never have I seen conditions so generally propitious to the success of a brewery as lies in that industrial site—water, transportation and building. It is ideal and perfect."

IN POLICE COURT.

William Henry, aged 20, in the Police Court this morning, before Magistrate O. A. Langley, "guessed" he would plead guilty to stealing four buggy wheels and will do his guessing in jail during the next 3 months.

Crown Attorney G. W. Hatton, acting for the prosecution, stated that Henry had bought an old buggy without wheels for fifty cents and stole the wheels to put the rig in working condition.

The loser lodged a complaint with the Provincial officer and Constable N. F. Maker traced the theft to Henry and recovered the stolen property.

The boy's mother appeared in court and pleaded with Magistrate Langley to let him off with a fine. His Worship replied, "The fine is three months in jail. People cannot get off with a fine for theft."

Mr. Hatton extended the felicitation of counsel and police to Magistrate Langley on being honored in his election as President of the Magistrates Association of Ontario. His Worship replied in suitable terms.

FOURTH DEATH FROM QUARREL

Man Struck By Body Falling From Window Succumbs.

FIGHT OVER $500.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (Canadian Press).—The fourth death from the shooting which came as the climax to a conference over a five hundred dollar real estate transaction here yesterday occurred to-day when Robert McGrearity died in hospital of injuries received when he was struck by the body of Victor Steinberg as it hurtled from the ninth floor of a building to the street. Charles M. Bernstein, Baltimore, who surrendered to the police late last night, six hours after the shooting, was named as the killer. He refused to make a statement. The dead are: Victor Steinberg, Charles Herskowitz, Henry C. Cohen, and McGrearity. The three first mentioned were all shot when Bernstein, it is alleged, became angry and drew a gun from his pocket.

LOCAL KIWANIAN SPEAKS AT C.N.E.

Dr. J. J. Craig Gives Address on National Unity at Ladies' Luncheon.

Dr. John J. Craig, of Peterborough, was one of the three speakers at the Prince Edward Island Day luncheon given in the Women's Building at the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday by the Agricultural Department of the Ontario Government. The other speakers were Mrs. Ewan MacDonald, better known as L. M. Montgomery, author of "Anne of Green Gables," and Miss Burnham, of the Dominion Immigration Depadtment.

Dr. Craig was one of a party of Kiwanians who were seeking pointers from the National Exhibition for the Produced in Canada Fair to be held here by the Kiwanis Club on October 10. The other members of the party were Isaac P. McNabb, president of the Kiwanis Club, Harry J. Boyle and Carl Browne. With the exception of the superintendent of the Womens Institute of the Department of Agriculture, the Peterborough Kiwanians were the only males present at the luncheon.

Dr. Craig, addressing his audience as "Citizens of Canada," reminded his hearers that it is ours to carry on the work set going by the Fathers of Confederation. The progress made by the country since 1867, he said, had surpassed even the most sanguine expectations of the statesmen who made Canada a nation from the Atlantic to the Pacific, but the work was not yet completed. "The work that remains for us to do," he said, "is the unifying of Canada by breaking down the barriers that divide." Among the barriers, Dr. Craig enumerated the geographical dividing lines, especially the great Laurentian Shield around the north shores of Lake Superior separating the Prairie Provinces from the East. He also touched on the racial barriers, mentioning the difficulties not yet entirely removed between the French and English speaking sections of the Dominion.

Urging great unity of purpose among the various provinces, Dr. Craig declared that too few Canadians go from one province to another.

Paying a tribute to the work of the Womens' Institute in helping forward the cause of Canadian unity, Dr. Craig mentioned the fact that at the luncheon he found himself seated between a lady from Manitoba and another from Prince Edward Island.

Their purpose in visiting the Exhibition, Dr. Craig said, was two fold. One was to raise funds to carry on the work of the Kiwanis Club in Peterborough. The other was to show their fellow-citizens what was actually produced in their own country and bring home to them their part in supporting home industries and promoting a feeling of community of interests.

As a result of the visit of the Kiwanians yesterday, a promise was secured from the hostess at the luncheon, Mrs. H. M. Aitken, one of the greatest authorities in household economy in the land, that she will visit the Fair in October and give a demonstration in home cooking.

Mrs. McDonald, probably the most widely known daughter of Prince Edward Island, spoke of the pleasure it always gives her to tell of her own lovely land, whose loviliness strikes her with a "beautiful blow," when she returns to it after an absence. Although she had lived in Ontario for sixteen years she loved to go back to the old island, Mrs. McDonald said.

Miss Burnham spoke a few words on behalf of the bewildered settlers coming to this country, and stressed the difficulty Old Country women experience in adapting themselves to Canadian conditions. The Women's Institutes, she stated, had proved themselves friends in need to many settlers in rural sections.

Wheat Prices High Because Of Wet Weather

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. — (Canadian Press).—Owing a good deal to rains in parts of Canada apt to interfere with harvesting there, wheat prices averaged higher early to-day. The strength of quotations at Liverpool counted also as a bull factor. Starting unchanged to 5-8c higher, wheat sagged somewhat and then hardened again. Corn and oats were also firmer, corn opening at ¼c off to 3-8c up, and subsequently scoring general gains. Provisions had a downward trend.

Opening prices were: Wheat, September, 133; December, 137 3-8. Corn, September, 101 7-8; December, 104¼. Oats, September, 43 1-8; December, 47 1-8.

McIntyre and Noranda Only Mines To Go Higher

TORONTO, Sept. 7. — (Canadian Press). — Strong upturn in McIntyre carrying it to 27.05 for an 80 point gain, was the only bullish feature of the heavy trading on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning when the whole list turned slowly downward. Hollinger lost 55 points at 16.50 and Amulet 20 at 4.91. Area sold nine lower at 73, Bidgood lost 3 at 22, Duprat lost 1½ at 11, and the active Kirkland Lake dropped three at 230. Wright Hargreaves at 7.65 and Teck Hughes at 9.50 were only slightly below yesterday's advances Noranda firmed ten at 24.50.

Wave Of Selling Fails To Halt Upward Move

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.— (Canadian Press.) — The stock market to-day gave another impressive demonstration of strength. The average of twenty leading industrial shares was lifted to a new record high while the average of twenty leading rails was elevated to around the highest level since the war, with about fifty individual issues breaking through to new high levels for the year, or longer.

A wave of selling for both accounts swept through the market at midday, but offerings were well absorbed and the market quickly headed upward again under the leadership of the motors and specialties. The weekly steel trade reviews reported little change in that industry, although the iron age composite price for pig iron has dropped to within two cents of the lowest level since 1916. Gains in the industrial list ran from one to six points in the active issues, although a few stocks recorded even larger advances. Several strong spots developed in Oil, Textile, Leather, Public Utilities and Copper shares.

Expectations of further increase in freight traffic this month attracted new buying into the railroad shares, which moved upward under the leadership of New York Central. The banks called about $5,000,000 in loans during the morning, but call money continued in plentiful supply at the renewal figure of 3½ per cent.

Toronto Market Active Most Stocks Being Firm

TORONTO, Sept. 7. — (Canadian Press). — Cosmos Imperial, climbing 2¾ points at 31, was a firm leader Stock Exchange this morning. Bell Telephone rights firmed a half at 9¾ and City Dairy was marked up six at 1.61. Nickel strengthened fractionally at 66¾.

McColl, sharing the leadership of the oils with Imperial, climbed ¾ at 46¼, but Imperial was steady at 52½. British American eased slightly at 26¼.

Industrial Alcohol featured the Liquor section with a gain of ; at 34¾ in heavy trading ,while the quieter walkers eased a half at 51 and Carlings lost a full point at 27½.

A substantial gain of 2½ points by the Bank of Toronto at 222½ featured bank section ,in which there was heavy trading.

LOVE IS EVIDENCE OF GOD'S PRESENCE

Mrs. Berg Gives Inspiring Address at Bethany Tabernacle.

"I believe the only evidence of the true abiding presence of the Holy Spirit in the life of the Child of God is the gift that is so spoken of in I. Corinthians, 13 chapter "Love." This was the opening remark of Mrs. Berg in her first message of the Victorious Life Conference, now being held in Bethany Tabernacle at 2.30 each afternoon this week.

"Only three more days to hear something that is surely of more value to you than much gold. These deeply spiritual and truly scriptural messages are a blessing to all who hear," said the Rev. R. Keith Mills.

Mr. Haas, the Miami business man who is managing Mrs. Berg's evangelistic tour, said last evening, that only at a few places on this tour has Mrs. Berg been able to hold Victorious Life meetings, owing to her many other duties, but that everywhere that she has spoken on this subject, multitudes have been blessed and helped.

Nearly seventy-five people heard Mrs. Berg's message on "Love" yesterday, and all went away carrying not only a desire but a strong purpose to throw the veil of Love over the imperfections of others. A large number of those present at the close of the message signified that they wanted to possess this gift in their lives.

Mrs. Berg speaks this afternoon on "The Holy Spirit" and "Faith to Receive."

At the meeting last evening a number were prayed for, for spiritual and physical needs.

DOCTORS HEAR OF PROBLEMS AND ADVANCES

President and Secretary of Ontario Association Address District Meeting.

AT ANNUAL DINNER.

Dr. Neal Re-elected Councillor —Dr. Stobie, of Belleville, Vice-Councillor.

Something of the problems confronting the Ontario Medical Association and the accomplishments of the past year was touched on by President Dr. Weston Krupp of Woodstock and Secretary Dr. T. C. Routley of Toronto, addressing the members of District Number 6 at their annual dinner at the Empress Hotel today.

Dr. F. C. Neal, Counsellor for this district, presided. The welcome of the City was expressed by His Worship Mayor Dr. W. T. Holloway, who assured the visitors that the freedom of the city was theirs and expressed the hope that they would all learn something from this gathering.

Dr. Krupp confined his remarks to medical publicity and the treatment of indigents. These, he said, were subjects on which the members were not in unison. With the great amount of publicity that has grown up within the last fifteen or twenty years for the claims of a certain class of people, he said, it seemed to him that the profession must abandon its policy of silence and let the people know what it could do for them. There are certain misconceptions among the people which only a medical man can correct. Health films and newspaper articles were among the methods he suggested.

Speaking of the treatment of indigents, Dr. Krupp said that from ten to forty per cent of the business of most doctors was unpaid for. Besides this, many people who can't afford to pay won't go to a doctor because of this, and diseases which could be checked by early treatment have gone too far when they do go, so that a cure is impossible. The profession has carried the load cheerfully for many years, but some form of sickness insurance would make it possible for workmen with large families and small salaries to have peace of mind, knowing that no emergency would find them unprepared.

Dr. Krupp concluded his remarks with some talk about the changes in the profession. The passing of the old family physician, who was advisor in many things besides medicine, is in line with the advances made in industry. Service is the slogan of the times and the public expects better service from its doctors the same as from very one else. He stressed the advisibility of doctors having as much equipment as possible so that the public might have confidence that everything possible would be done.

This is a year of national jubilee and stock taking and the doctors should take stock. Canadian medicine has developed many things in its environment that excite the admiration of those in older lands, including extra-mural education. The Canadian Association is endeavoring to establish a College of Physicians and Surgeons to do the same work here that the British and American Colleges do in those countries.

Dr. Routley referred to the progress made by the Association in the past nine years. Nine years ago there were 400 members in 13 affiliated societies, and the annual budget is $20,000. Still only half the

MISS IVA PETRIE WINS SECOND PRIZE

Local Woman Is Prize Winner at Canadian National Exhibition.

Second prize in the nutrition contest for the branches of the Women's Institute at the Canadian National Exhibition yesterday, was awarded to a local competitor, Miss Iva Petrie. The first prize went to a lady from Sudbury, Miss Mary Jackson.

Miss Petrie's score was 191 out of a possible 200. Eighty competitors took part in the contest, which was in an open class resulting in the strongest competition possible.

Miss Petrie was a member of the Peterborough County team which took part in competitions at the C. N. E. last year. The value of her prize is $11.00.

In the Household Science Section, the local team failed to land any of the prizes, which went to Wellington, Perth, Huron, Brant and Kent counties in the order named. All the winning counties have taken part in the competition for many years, explains J. B. Nelson, the local agricultural representative, and have succeeded after many failures. The experience gained by Peterborough County may stand in good stead in later efforts.

Legation Staff Is Nearly Wiped Out; Hungarians Drown Off Constantinople

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 8.—Five members of the Hungarian Legation were drowned when the wind overturned a sailboat in which they were sailing to the island in the Sea of Marmora known to the Turks as a spot of misfortune. The accident wiped out all of the personnel of the legation except the Secretary, who was prevented by a previous engagement from joining his friends.

The Turkish boatman escaped—being rescued by a Turkish steamer named Salem, which means peace, or calm.

The island where the Hungarians were going for a picnic has had an evil reputation since the Young Turks used it for marooning Constantinople scavenger dogs following the revolution of 1908. Turkish boatmen usually give it a wide berth, declaring that even today when the wind is right it carries the howls of the starved scavengers to haunt the heartless citizens of Constantinople.

HOLD CONFERENCES CONCERNING SETTLERS FROM THE CONTINENT

Particular Object Is To Insure Larger Percentage of Britons.

OFFICIALS MEET.

Figures Show Majority Now Neither English Nor French.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8.—An agreement between the department of immigration and the railway companies, in operation for the past few years, was renewed last spring for a further period of three years, starting September 1.

There is now a prospect of it being modified and to that end certain conferences have just been held.

For Northern Immigrants

The particular object sought by the modification is to insure that the majority of immigrants shall be from Britain or the countries of Northern Europe. At the present time there is no particular restriction or immigration from any of the European countries, assuming that the physical and moral standards are measured up to.

30,000 This Year

The railway companies have taken it upon themselves to see that those who are brought out secure employment. In the season which is now ending the immigrants under this plan have totalled about 30,000, which is considered satisfactory so far as quality is concerned, but the racial origins are not regarded with so much favor.

The figures have indicated a preponderance of people who are neither English nor French, and this fact has occasioned some criticism.

Agreement Likely

What is now proposed in such a modification of the agreement, either formally or by common understanding, as will insure that at all times, the majority of the newcomers shall be from the countries of Northern Europe. There have been conferences on the subject this week which are expected to result in an understanding along the lines indicated.

CARLING PLANE HOUR OVERDUE

VISIBILITY POOR.

BELFAST, Sept. 8. — (Canadian Press.)—Up to 7.30 o'clock this morning, no information had been received here regarding the progress of the monoplane Sir John Carling, flying from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to London. Weather conditions over Ireland were bad with wind and rain. Every police station in the south and west of Ireland was on the alert this morning watching for the approach of the Canadian plane. The Sir John Carling was not expected to reach the Irish coast until 11 a.m. London time.

An Hour Overdue.

LONDON, Sept. 8. — (Canadian Press.)—The observation officer at the Croydon aerodrome stated at 12.30 o'clock to-day, British summer time, that no word had been received about the airplane Sir John Carling since it left Newfoundland yesterday. It was said that this fact was regarded as somewhat disquieting. The officer added that as the plane had not been reported over the coast of Ireland she was considered overdue at noon.

SUGGEST RETURN.

"ROYAL WINDSOR"—The committee in charge of the Windsor to Windsor flight this afternoon wired C. A. Duke Schiller and Prill-Wood, suggesting that they abandon their flight and return home. This action was taken in view of the apparent disaster to Old Glory and the fact that the Sir John Carling plane is missing.

Queensland Crisis Work of Foreigners

MELBOURNE Australia, Sept. 8. (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's.) — In a speech at the Constitutional Club yesterday, Premier S. M. Bruce expressed the opinion that the Queensland railway crisis was caused by a comparatively few extremists seeking to destroy an Australian industry and ruin the workers. They were mostly foreigners fattening on Australian workers.

The Australian States, he said, should recognize equally with the Commonwealth that Australia did not require foreign extremists. "If I had my way I would throw them out of Australia," he said. The position was now reached in Queensland, he said, where it was possible the industry of all Australia might be paralyzed. In the course of the forthcoming session the Federal Parliament will be asked to consider a means of preventing the extension of disputes beyond the bounds of the industry wherein it began," Premier Bruce concluded.

DEMAND MADE TO STOP FLIGHTS

Public Opinion Is Against Long-Distance Water Hops.

20 LOST AT SEA.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—An international demand for a check on the spectacular aeroplane stunt flights followed today in the wake of the disappearance within the yast year of twenty trans-oceanic fliers and the death of forty-seven men in overseas flight preparations.

Statements of the aviation authorities in this country and Italy and the press comment in England and Germany deprecated the feasibility of long distance over-water hops and contained protests against allowing aviators to fly into "foolhardy" adventures.

Reaction against spectacular flying became evident when six men and one woman were lost in the Dole trans-Pacific derby and has been emphasized with the disappearance of the monoplanes Old Glory and Sir John Carling in the Atlantic.

The death toll of trans-oceanic flights since, fall of 1926, will have mounted to forty-seven if Old Glory and Sir John Carling and their crews are not found.

Twenty persons, including two women, have been lost at sea, while seven were killed in preparation for the flights.

MAN STABBED.

DETROIT, Sept. 8. —(Canadian Press). — Stabbed three times in the left side of the neck, body of man believed to be Patrick A. Derry, Cobalt, Ontario, mine owner was found to-day on a street near downtown district. Police found a silver nugget in one of his pockets.

GRAVE DOUBT EXPRESSED FOR SAFETY OF AVIATORS IN TRANS-ATLANTIC FLIGHT

Sir John Carling Was Expected in London at Noon.

NINE HOURS OVERDUE.

Search Is Being Continued For Missing Plane, Old Glory.

LONDON, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Late afternoon editions of the London newspapers began to reflect considerable anxiety for the safety of the aeroplane Sir John Carling on its flight from London, Ontario, to London, England.

At four o'clock this afternoon, British summer time, no reports had been received that she had even been sighted off the Irish coast, where she had been expected to appear before noon. Furthermore no reports about the aeroplane had been received from any other source. The Carling had been looked for at Croydon some time about two o'clock, and the absence of any word from her was regarded in some quarters as somewhat ominous.

Anxiety was intensified because lack of news from the Sir John Carling came so close upon the heels of the mysterious disappearance of the Old Glory. Accounts of a futile search for the latter plane were still being carried out under prominent headlines on front pages of papers in the English capital.

BELFAST, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press)—Reports from civic guard stations along the Galway shore up to 4.10 o'clock this afternoon, British summer time stated that they had failed to sight the Sir John Carling. Visibility was bad, a strong southwesterly gale was blowing and a heavy mist was hanging over the coast.

Hope Sinks To-day.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.— (Canadian Press.)—Hope for the survival of the intrepid crew of the monoplane Old Glory sank to-day. The time set for the plane to span the ocean on her way from Old Orchard, Maine, to Rome, passed with no news of her whereabouts or the fate of Pilots Lloyd Bertaud and James Hill and their passenger, Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror.

The Old Glory should have arrived over Bordeaux, France, before Wednesday midnight, Eastern Standard time, figuring from the fact that she was sighted 350 miles east of St. Johns, Ndfl., at 11.57 o'clock, Eastern Standard time, Tuesday night, and that she had been making about a hundred miles an hour. From St. John to Bordeaux is approximately 2,500 miles.

Despite reports from two other steamers which gave up their search last night, that there was little hope for the survival of the three occupants of the plane, the liners Nova Scotia, American Merchant and California swept a stretch of hundreds of miles off Newfoundland for a clue to the fate of the plane and its occupants. The steamers Transylvania and Carmania were among the first to hear distress calls, but after vainly searching the ocean at the position where the plane was estimated to have come down, resumed their courses.

"Think little hope of survival in view of rough seas at time of casualty," reported the Transylvania in announcing it was giving up the search.

The Carmania reported: "Regret search for mising plane Old Glory without result. Weather cloudy, squally, and rough breaking sea. Consider very small chance of survival of collapsible boat under perfect condition. Now proceeding on great circle to Cape Race."

Searched For 15 Hours.

ABOARD THE CUNARD LINER TRANSYLVANIA AT SEA, Sept. 8. —(United Press.)—From dawn until darkness yesterday the Transylvania searched in mid-Atlantic for the Old Glory. Failing to find any trace of the plane the steamer resumed its journey to New York.

For more than fifteen hours Captain Bone and the officers kept a strict watch on the horizon and zig-

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 8.—(United Press.)— Eugene Dorherty, a grave digger in Calvary cemetery, Long Island City, had just finished a six foot grave when the side caved in and buried him.

Dorherty was dead when two other grave diggers extricated his body twenty minutes later.

Folies Bergere Wire Kills Actress; Current Conducted By Metal On Dress

PARIS, Sept. 8.—The stage of the Folie Bergere was the scene Tuesday night of an electrocution when a pretty 20-year-old actress, Cosette Gaillard, wearing a sequin dress, came in contact with a live wire.

The popular actress had just finished a scene and was leaving the stage in her white sequin dress, which received the clamorous approval of the audience, when the tragic accident occurred. The hem of the steel skirt brushed against a wire which feeds the stage lights and by a strange coincidence the wire was frayed at the point of contact. The dress served as a perfect conductor and passed 200 volts through the actress's body.

The contact was broken when Mlle. Gaillard fell headlong to the floor. She was able to rise to her feet but did not recognize any of the persons who gathered about her. Her friends, however, did not consider her condition serious and after escorting her home left her alone. Yesterday morning her condition was worse and she was taken to a hospital where she died within a few hours.

RECOMMENDS ACTION BE TAKEN AGAINST THE QUEBEC BREWERIES

Arrears on Gallonage and Sales Taxes of Liquor Shipments.

PROSECUTE OFFENDERS.

Submission Presented By Commission Counsel at Ottawa Sittings.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Recommendation that action be entered against Quebec breweries in arrears on gallonage and sales taxes and that prosecution be entered against any individuals appearing to have committed criminal offences in connection with the camouflaging of liquor shipments from the province was made to the Royal Commission on Customs yesterday.

The submission, presented by R. L. Calder, K.C., Commission counsel, further recommended that evidence relating to the conduct of several breweries investigated be submitted to the Minister of National Revenue "for such action in reference to cancellation or withholding of licenses of the breweries as the findings and evidence submit."

Several Breweries

Yesterday's submission by Commission counsel made reference to the Frontenac Breweries Limited, Sterling Brewing Co., Ltd., and Silver Brewing Co., Limited. An earlier submission had been made, said Mr. Calder in respect of Le Brasserie Champlain Ltee., the National Breweries Ltd., and Molsons Brewery Ltd. Allegations regarding Frontenac Breweries Ltd., and Silver Spring Brewing Co. Ltd., were denied in detail by J. Lemarche, Montreal, counsel for these companies. A statement on behalf of the Sterling Brewing Co., Ltd., will be made on Thursday.

"The evidence," stated Mr. Calder in his submission, "discloses arrears of sales and gallonage taxes on the part of the Frontenac Breweries Ltd., Sterling Brewing Company Limited and Silver Spring Brewery Co., Ltd., in the amounts shown in the reports filed by the auditors of the Commission as at the respective dates reported on in each case."

Mr. Calder further declared that "The evidence establishes that large quantities of beer were shipped by rail from Frontenac Breweries Limited into the United States camouflaged as some commodity, the importation of which was not prohibited into the United States, the method adopted being to forward the car on

Plan Flight From Canada to Australia

HULL, Que., Sept. 8.— (Canadian Press.)— A communication from Ex-Lieut. R. N. E. (Dick) Storer, formerly of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Vancouver, asking the city to contribute $1,000 towards expenses entailed in a proposed flight from Canada to Australia and return, was received by the Hull City Council Tuesday night. It was said a plane to be known as "The Spirit of Canada" was already being constructed and that the flight was planned for next spring. A letter from Mr. Storer setting out plans for the long hop, was filed by the City Council "for future reference."

The letter set out that the proposed flight would be "a venture of National and Empire importance to start and encourage commercial flying in Canada and eventually give an air mail service to this Dominion, linking it up with other countries."

POLICE WANT SIGNS ERECTED

Parking By-laws Cannot Be Enforced in the Meantime.

SECTION 22 IS BAR.

Failure of the City Council to provide the necessary signs renders it impossible for the police, fully to enforce the parking bylaws, declared Chief of Police Samuel Newhall, interviewed this afternoon at his office in the Police Station.

Referring to the statement made at the regular meeting of the Council on Tuesday night by Alderman J. O. Fife, to the effect that there were already too many silent policemen in the city, the Chief said he regarded it as a compliment to the force. "The police," said the Chief, "know enough to be silent and to mind their own business in matters where they have no authority." Explaining their position, the Chief quoted Section 22 of the Traffic Bylaws 2723 and 2562, which reads:

None of the provisions of by-laws respecting parking shall come into effect until suitable signs have been erected clearly indicating parking restrictions.

"The signs have not yet been erected," said Chief Newhall. "How then, in the face of that section can the by-law be enforced?"

The Chief further declared that he, personally, had gone to a great deal of trouble to ascertain the prices for all the standard parking signs. The information he secured was, said the Chief, placed in the hands of the Council, but nothing was done.

The police, said the Chief, had advanced as far as was possible. They could move no farther until the Council made a step ahead.

"Whatever bylaw the Council passes," finally said the Chief, "the police will be glad to enforce it. At present we can do nothing until the signs are erected."

UNIDENTIFIED MAN FOUND ILL IN BARN

Dies in Hospital at Brockville—Letters Only Clues To Name.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 8 (Canadian Press) —An unidentified man found ill in a barn on the property of John Murray, near here, last night, died during the night in the General Hospital. He carried letters signed "Mrs. H. L. Smith, Welland, Ont," and addressed to Duncan. An inquest will be held.

COUNCIL ORDERS REMOVAL OF RAILS

MIDLAND, Ont., Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Dispute of several years standing over the title to Midland Avenue, between the Canadian National Railways and the Town of Midland, flared up last night when workmen under the orders of the Council removed rails which had been laid by the railway across the avenue.

Mounted Police Quell Trouble With Indians

CORNWALL, Ont., September 8. Canadian Press. — The presence of armed members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at the St. Regis Indian Reservation near here has quelled the threatened trouble arising from an attempt by contractors to erect a building there under government contract to house the reservation school teachers. Some of the Indians complained that they had not been consulted and the contractors were prevented from continuing work. Since the arrival of the police two of the Indian chiefs have been arrested and will be tried before the resident Indian Agent. Work on the building has recommenced.

DRAYTON IS BOOMED AS TORY LEADER

Strong Support is Forthcoming For Sir Henry at Convention.

ENCOURAGE ATTENDANCE.

Bennett, Cahan and Guthrie Also Aspirants For Leadership.

OTTAWA, Sept. 8. —With the Conservative convention just a little over four weeks away, interest in the gathering deepening, and it is stimulated by the certainty of a contest for the leadership, but uncertainty as to the outcome of it. As was the case with the Liberals in 1919, several names are put forward, but none with that conspicuous prominence that ensures success With such a condition prevailing, the effect will likely be to encourage the full attendance of those selected as delegates for constituencies or at large.

Perhaps the latest development is a boom for Sir Henry Drayton. His stock appears to be going up, although whether it will reach the required maximum is not so sure.

Mr Bennett

Hon. R. B. Bennett's name is put forward with much prominence while Hon. Hugh Guthrie has not lost any ground, and C. H. Cahan, M.P., is a formidable force to be figured on. Treating them alphabetically, there are four outstanding names now to the front—Messrs. Bennett, Cahan, Drayton and Guthrie. Each will have a good volume of support. On behalf of Mr. Bennett, it is urged that he has singular ability, parliamentary experience, prestige at the bar and in finance, and also wealth. He is credited with that intellectual equipment that suggests the broad outlook. Against him about the only argument heard is that is is inclined to be "opinionated," and not the easiest man to get along with if his own particular idea does not prevail. No one questions his parliamentary power.

Mr Guthrie

Mr. Guthrie, temporary leader, did well in the last session, and it has often been stated that if the choice of leader were left to the members of the house, he would be it. He looks the part physically and has had much parliamentary experience from both sides of the house. The fact that he is a convert from Liberalism does not operate against his prominence in the party, even though some impose objections to any but one of simon pure being chosen as leader. The French people are a very big element in the country and ability to speak to them in their own tongue is considered a valued accomplishment for any political leader.

Sir Henry Drayton.

Sir Henry Drayton, spending much time abroad in recent years has acquired the French language, and while this is only an incident, it may prove helpful to his support at Winnipeg. It will come mainly from Ontario, but the Quebec delegation will be the second largest.

Mr. Cahan.

Then there is Mr. Cahan, of Montreal whose strength is not minimized. He is after the leadership and does not conceal the fact. He has much parliamentary experience, is a former Nova Scotia leader, has specialized in constitutional questions and will have strong support, especially from Quebec, where he practices his profession and is very much in touch with the population. There is no doubt that at least in the initial ballots, if not all through at Winnipeg the majority of the Quebec delegation will support Mr. Cahan. All that is heard against him is that he is rather old.

The idea appears to be subsiding that a young outsider will be selected. What is considered essential is the equipment not only of political but parliamentary experience, and thus the choice is likely to be either from within the present parliament or from among those who have served in that qualifying school. Unless Premier Ferguson should reconsider, as is most unlikely, or Sir Thomas White is persuaded, the choice is likely to be from among the four above mentioned.

Magrath Not Candidate.

Toronto, Sept. 8. —Charles A. Magrath, chairman of the Hydro-Electric power commission of Ontario gave an emphatic denial to the Spectator this morning to the rumors or suggestions that he was out to capture the Tory leadership from the national convention, which meets in Winnipeg next month.

"I never took the matter seriously," Mr. Magrath said, in reply to queries, when the reports were brought to his attention. "I have no intention of any such thing, even if others have thought of it."

Mr. Magrath explained that he had been absent in the west on purely personal matters. While there he saw nobody in connection with the convention nor discussed the question with any person. As regards his position on the Hydro as providing him with large enough a job in a sphere where he can, render real public service.

OCEAN LINERS CONTINUE HUNT FOR MISSING ATLANTIC FLIERS; REPORT ROUGH SEAS BREAKING Believed To Have Small Chance of Survival Under Present Conditions.

NO DETAILS GIVEN.

Might Be Able To Survive For Days if Gasoline Dumped.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—A message received from the master of the steamer American Merchant at the office of the American Merchant Lines shortly after 5 p.m. Eastern Standard time last night stated that the ship was the nearest American vessel to the vicinity in which the monoplane "Old Glory" was last heard from and was now headed toward the last known position of the plane. The text of the message was:

"nearest American vessel to Old Glory plane. Have deviated toward her last known position.

(Signed) "Mitchell, Master."

Seas Squally

A second message, wirelessed to The Associated Press from the S.S. Carmania at 5.20 p.m. Eastern Standard time read:

"Now nightfall and quite dark. Regret search for missing plane Old Glory without result. Weather conditions, fresh westerly winds, cloudy, squally and rough breaking sea. Consider very small chance survival of collapsible boat under present conditions. Now proceeding on great circle to Cape Race.

(Signed) "Commander."

Another Added to List

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (A.P.).—The name of the monoplane Old Glory was last night tentatively added to that long sad list headed "Position unknown; lost at sea."

And three more men who only Tuesday joked and laughed and kissed their loved ones were generally believed to have joined that gallant company of their comrades of the air, who during the present season dared death, and lost.

For 14 hours Lloyd Bertaud and James D. Hill, the pilots, and Philip A. Payne, their passenger, are known to have stayed in the air on their way from Old Orchard, Me., to Rome. But it was 40 hours at least they needed, and fourteen found them but five hours out over the ocean.

It was then that some mysterious tragedy occurred, something so swift and terrible that there was no time to inform an anxious world of its nature or its cause.

At 11.57 p.m. Eastern Standard time Tuesday night the steamer California sighted the giant Fokker 350 miles east of Cape Race and reported that all was well. Hours passed and confidence grew that another plane was to cross the sea in safety.

And then, at 3.17 o'clock yesterday morning, there crackled through the air the terse message that for all its brevity spoke volumes of tragedy.

"WRHP—S.O.S., five hours out of Newfoundland, east," the message read, and the officers of five ships which picked up the call knew that Old Glory had come to a premature end of its path to fame.

No Details

There were no details. Was Old Glory in a tail spin? Was she on fire? Did her crew meet their death in a watery crash immediately after that message was sent? or were they floating in their rubber craft beside the wreckage of their plane?

These things no man could tell, but every effort was made at once to find out. The nearest ship of all those crossing the sea was the Transylvania, Captain David W. Bone, commanding. It was 65 miles from the estimated position of Old Glory and turned at once to the rescue under forced drafts. Other ships turned also from their course to obey the summons of the S.O.S., in accordance with the law of men of the sea.

Toward noon messages from Captain Bone to the Cunard Line offices and The Associated Press told of his having reached his destination at 9.30 Eastern Standard time, and of having found no trace of Old Glory. He was proceeding, he said, toward the position of the California at the time it sighted the plane Tuesday night.

Then silence fell over the sea and those ashore. The wives of Bertaud and Payne and the mother of Hill, who is unmarried, could only sit and wait and paint for themselves the picture of what was happening on the water.

What comfort they could get they had to take from the knowledge that every effort was being made by men who live a life in which sudden disaster and glorious rescue are not infrequent.

Survive for Days

Anthony H. G. Fokker, designer an builder of the plane, expressed the opinion that if there had been time to dump the gasoline and so turn the main tank into a great float, the aviators might be able to survive for days.

Hope was seen in the fact that there was a lapse of time, one report said as much as six minutes, between the "S.O.S." call and the addition "Five hours out of Newfoundland, east." If there was a period of six minutes after it was known that danger threatened before the plane hit the water, it was generally agreed the fliers would have had ample opportunity to arrange their safety devices.

The special dump valve in the gasoline tank was made to drop the whole load in 45 seconds. The collapsible rubber raft with its supply of water and emergency rations could be made ready in little more than that.

But though hope lived, it was not a lusty hope. For hope has flamed and died too many times for too many luckless fliers this summer for it to burn with any great brilliance again after an "S.O.S." has been given.

Fokker expressed the opinion that engine trouble must have been the cause of the disaster, and said this danger would always remain in over water flights with single engine planes.

But others were more inclined to lay the blame upon the Goddess known as Fate—the Goddess to whom Bertaud and Hill prayed in their last moment on the ground.

There had been considerable discussion as to which of the pilots should take the heavy plane up from the beach, the take off being considered in advance as probably the most dangerous moment of the whole flight. In the end it was decided, as though by tacit agreement that their lives hung to a great extent on chance, to leave the matter to luck.

A coin was spun and Hill won the honor of the dangerous take off. He accomplished the feat without mishap, the ship taking the air at 1.23 o'clock (E.S.T.) Tuesday afternoon.

In this detail Bertaud and Hill and Payne left chance to make a decision for them, and the superstitious expressed the belief to-day that chance rode their plane and turned against them just as they seemed to be well on their way to a glorious success.

Whittles Dynamite Cap Believed It Rouge

PEMBROKE, Ont., Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Whittling at a dynamite cap which he believed to be "lip rouge," caused Hector Brunette, aged 12, of Petawawa, to lose the sight of his right eye, while hopes are being entertained that the sight of the left eye way be saved.

His younger sister, Kathleen, was at Black Bay and brought Hector home a present, which she had found. She said it was "lip rouge."

FINE BARN BURNED WITH SEASON'S CROP

B. E. Hagerman Loses Heavily —Some Insurance Carried.

STIRLIG, SeNpt. 8.— On Sunday evening about 5 o'clock, the fine steel barn of B. E. Hagerman, 7th concession of Rawdon, was burned. Mr. John B. Hagerman, who lives on the adjoining farm was the first to notice the fire, which followed a rumbling noise like that of a passing motor car.

It was only the matter of a few minutes when the whole inside of the barn was a seething furnace. A team of horses were the only animals in the stables, and they were got out. The whole season's crop was gathered in except about eight loads and all was destroyed. The insurance carried partially covers the loss to Mr. Hagerman.

Mr. Hagerman was for many years a noted breeder of Holstein cattle but had disposed of his whole herd last spring. His barn was built to house valuable animals and was counted the best in that section of the county.

ROYAL WINDSOR AT COAST TOWN

Expect To Make Hop-off For Destination Across Atlantic To-day.

IDEAL WEATHER.

HARBOR GRACE, N.F., Sept. 8.—(AP).—Covering 868 miles in 7-hours and 55 minutes, Phil Wood and Lieut. C. A. "Duke" Schiller brought their monoplane Royal Windsor in from Old Orchard, Me., yesterday, on the last land hop of their fog-delayed flight from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, England.

They landed here to be greeted with two important bits of news, the fact that their Canadian trans-Atlantic flight rivals had hopped off for London in the Sir John Carling some five hours and a half ahead of their arrival, and that the America to Rome monoplane Old Glory had called for help and then became silent somewhere in the North Atlantic early yesterday.

Both developments were believed to have caused the fliers to order their plane refueled at once and announced their intention of hopping off again as soon as possible, but it later decided to abandon any attempt to continue the flight last night.

Fearing a recurrence of the fire which on Monday night threatened to destroy the Sir John Carling, it was decided not to begin refueling the Windsor until daylight to-day. It will take about four hours to take aboard 300 gallons of gasoline necessary to complete the trip and the hop off, as a result, probably will not be made before this afternoon.

The Windsor came in yesterday on a course somewhat south of that followed to Newfoundland by the Sir John Carling and Old Glory on their flights from Maine owing to rain and mist encountered while crossing Placentia Bay on the south coast.

Elsewhere the fliers said they struck ideal flying weather.

The weather was cloudy on arrival here, but visibility was good and the fliers swung wide of the town to land half way down the runway behind Target Hill in the fact of a gentle north-west wind.

It was Schiller who computed the flying time from Old Orchard, where the plane hopped into the rosy light of an early dawn at 4.55 a.m. (E.S.T.). The fliers wrist watch showed 12.50 as he stepped from the plane here.

Hear of S. O. S.

The fliers left Old Orchard ignorant of the fact that the Old Glory was in distress and both showed astonishment when they were told of its "S.O.S." signals. They expressed sympathy for the Old Glory's crew and sincerely optimistic beliefs that the men would be picked up safe.

Headed by Acting Judge Casey and C. H. Hutchings, inspector general of police, who motored 70 miles from St. Johns, towns people and residents from the surrounding country gathered at the aerodrome here to greet the fliers.

The men went immediately to a hotel to rest, but planned to return to the field later to inspect their plane and scan weather reports which will be furnished them by the British Air Ministry through the medium of the cable company office here.

MONSOON FAILS TO HALT FLIERS CIRCLING GLOBE

Brock and Schlee Endure the Ordeal on the Way to Rangoon.

TWICE TURNED BACK.

Eight Hour Struggle Over Strange Territory During Driving Storm.

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 8.— The American around-the-world fliers, William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee arrived here at 2.20 p.m. in their monoplane, Pride of Detroit. They had left Calcutta, India, at dawn. The distance from Calcutta to Rangoon is 665 miles.

Twelve days out of Harbor Grace, Nfld., the fliers had covered more than 800 miles, and by the end of the week were expected to reach Tokio, half-way mark of their journey.

If the same time is taken for the second half of the flight they should reach Harbor Grace, Nfld., a few hours, perhaps even a day or two ahead of the 28 days, 14 hours and 36 minutes required by Linton Wells and Edward S. Evans in their record-breaking trip around the world.

Through Monsoon.

RANGOON, Burma, Sept. 8. —William S. Brock and Edward F. Schlee flew through a monsoon yesterday on their way from Calcutta, India, to Burma, and compared with it the crossing of the Atlantic was a picnic.

It was by far the most trying experience thus far of their flight around the world in the monoplane, Pride of Detroit.

The distance was only 665 miles but it was an eight-hour struggle over strange territory, in the face of fierce winds and blinding rain.

Twice Turned Back.

Twice they turned back. They flew at various altitudes, hoping for an abatement of the wind and rain.

In their path lay the Yohama mountains, which they had to cross if they were to reach Burma. Hardly able to see, they yet managed to clear the peaks by a few hundred feet.

Lost Bearings

Once they lost their bearings. They made for the coast and picked up the river, which they followed the rest of the way.

Once on the other side of the Yohahas, the weather cleared and as they approached Rangoon it was quite fair.

The appearance of the Pride of Detroit was a relief to the crowd of Rangoon citizens at the field.

In spite of the time they lost in maneuvers and head winds, the fliers averaged more than 83 miles an hour for the 665 miles. They had left Calcutta at 5.40 a. m. and arrived at 2.25 p.m.

To Bangkok

Brock and Schlee said they intended to continue to Bangkok, Siam early to-day.

Their itinerary after that calls for a stop at Hanoi, Hong Kong, Shanghai, Tokio, Midway islands and home.

SCHOOLS OPEN FOR NEW TERM

Attendance is Good at All the Campbellford Schools.

ONE NEW TEACHER.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 8. — The Campbellford High School opened on Tuesday with an attendance that will equal that of last year. E. H. Greig, Principal, stated that exact attendance figures were as yet unobtainable since many of the out-of-town pupils had not attended for the short session. This fact, coupled with the usual complications attendant upon such occasions, made it quite impossible to issue any exact statement. The teaching staff will be the same as last year. Each of the teachers was present on the opening day.

The public schools opened with a complete staff of twelve teachers reporting for duty. Principal Charles Haig was unable to give the exact number of pupils who would receive tuition this term, but placed the number at approximately four hundred and forty-one. Of these, thirty will be entrance class pupils and forty-two kindergarden-primary. This will make an average class of almost thirty-seven in the Campbellford Public Schools. In some cases the number of pupils in one class is as low as thirty and the largest number is forty-two.

The Public Schools staff is the same as last year with the exception of the kindergarten-primary, which is in charge of Miss C. H. McGirr, Durham, Ont. Miss McGirr is a graduate of the College of Education, University of Toronto, and has had teaching experience in the City of Toronto and Parry Sound. She is deeply interested in the kindergarten work and prefers it to the duties of teaching in the higher grades of the public schools or on the staff of a High School or Collegiate Institute.

CORN CROPS GOOD AROUND WARSAW

Farmers Busy Drawing in Grain and Second Alfalfa.

WARSAW, Sept. 8.—Monday was a joy to the farmers, especially those who still had grain out. It was a good drying day, and in the afternoon the drawing in of grain and second cut alfalfa was rushed.

Corn looks healthy and is picking up, but generally it is not as tall nor as heavy as usual. Allan U. Payne has a splendid crop. In the spring it appeared so poor that for a time it was thought the only thing to do was to tear it up but he had a force of men and the whole field was carefully hoed so that now it is splendid; sunflowers are mixed with it. James Hawthorne also has a good field.

Buckwheat is ripening and some is being cut. It is generally a good crop. Much grain was put in barns quite damp last week.

MRS. T. J. KETCHESON.

BURNBRAE, Sept. 8.— Residents of this community received a distinct shock on Sunday morning when word was received of the sudden death of a highly respected members of Menie district in the person of Mrs. T. J. Ketcheson. The deceased had been in poor health for some years and of late had been in a rather weakened condition, but the sudden call was entirely unexpected and has cast a shadow of gloom over the whole community.

The late Mrs. Ketcheson was, before her marriage, Miss May Hickerson, of Janesville, Ohio. One brother, Mr. A. Hickerson, of Akron, Ohio, was able to be present at the funeral. He had not seen his sister for twenty years and unfortunately did not arrive in time to see her alive. The deceased was a great favorite with her many friends and neighbors around Menie and she will be sorely missed by them.

The funeral service was held at the residence, Menie, on Tuesday afternoon at 2.30, conducted by Rev. C. D. Daniel of Seymour circuit, assisted by Rev. D. A. McKenzie and Rev. Hugh Shaw, with interment afterwards in Burnbrae cemetery. During the service Mrs. H. Shaw and Mrs. W. R. Mather, of Toronto, rendered a beautiful duet.

Pallbearers were neighbors of the deceased, Messrs. John Thompson, George Ingram, Alex. Milne, Andrew Milne, Robert Linn and John Rannie.

The sympahty of every member of the community goes out to Mr. Ketcheson in his time of sorrow.

WEDDING BELLS.

WANNAMAKER—DERRY.

MARMORA, Sept. 8.—Holy Trinity church, orth Marmora, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Wednesday when its organist of the past two years, Annie Eliza, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Derry, of Marmora township, became the bride of Herbert Roy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wannamaker of Madoc township. The sacred edifice was prettily decorated for the occasion. The ceremony was performed at 10 a.m. by the rector, Rev. A. B. Caldwell. The bride who was given away by her father, looked most becoming in her costume of blue flat crepe trimmed with sand, with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of gladiolus mixed with other blooms. Both bride and bridegroom were unattended. During the service Lohengrin's bridal chorus was ably played by Miss Anna Smith, of Madoc. At noon about thirty relatives and near friends sat down to the wedding repast served at the home of the bride.

The happy couple left later in the day on a trip to Oshawa and other points. Upon their return they will reside in Madoc township.

For students of languages who desire to study abroad this year courses are available in 60 educational centers on the Continent, according to the British Board of Education.

THRESHING ACTIVE THROUGHOUT WEST

Mid-summer Temperatures in West Result in Re-doubled Threshing Activities.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Midsummer temperatures in all parts of Western Canada during the past two days has resulted in re-doubled cutting and threshing activity, with a daily increase shown in the movement of the new crop to country elevators.

Tuesday the mercury climbed to well above the 80 mark at several points and despite scattered showers in parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan during the night, the weather map gives promise of continued favorable conditions.

Alberta and Saskatchewan farmers have completed from 40 to 100 per cent of wheat cutting and threshing is well advanced in some districts. The average in Manitoba ranges between 25 to 70 per cent, while threshing has been confined to isolated fields in the southern part of the province. Threshing, however, is expected to be general in the West by the end of this week.

Excellent recovery of fields hailed out in sections of Alberta early in August is reported and special devices are being attached to the binders in field that were lodged by recent storms.

The progress being made in the harvest fields is reflected to some extent by the inspections report issued here yesterday. New wheat totalled 64 cars, 6 of these grading No. 1 Northern; 2 No. 2, and 31 graded No. 3 Northern. Fifteen cars contained tough grain. New rye numbered 111 cars of which 36 graded 1, 2 or 3 C.W. The first of this season's barley has arrived but most was classified "No grade."

In this, as in many other ways, we insure the quality of Carnation Milk. Insure that it really will add richness and flavor whenever you use it. For Carnation is just pure, fresh milk—evaporated to double richness, "homogenized" so that every drop has its full share of cream. Diluted, it is used in cooking to give greater smoothness and richness. Undiluted, it takes the place of cream at one-third the cost of cream. MOVEMENT MADE TO RETURN COLONIES

Germany Is Given a Seat On Mandate Commission of League.

GENEVA, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press). — What was said in the League circles to be the first step towards eventual restoration of one or more of Germany's colonies which were lost to her as a result of the war was taken today when Germany was assured a seat on the League of Nations Mandate Commission, supervising her former colonies. This came as a result of the decision of the Council this afternoon to increase the membership of the Commission from nine to ten. A German member will be appointed shortly.

APPEAL IS CARRIED TO SUPREME COURT

Appellate Division Grants Permission To Take Brook's Case To Higher Body.

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—An appeal will be carried to the Supreme Court of Canada from the decision of the Ontario Appellate Division which refused to allow the Bartlett Brooks appeal against the sentence of five years for attempting to procure an illegal operation on the late Ruth Dembner. Permission to take the case to the Supreme Court had been given by the Appellate Division in refusing the appeal.

HON. W. R. MOTHERWELL TO BE HERE FOR FAIR

Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa Will Visit Peterborough Thursday Next.

The invitation of President Denne and Directors to Hon. Mr. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, to visit the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition has been accepted and Mr. Motherwell will be with us on Thursday afternoon of Fair week and make an address. The Peterborough Fair is looked upon by both the Federal and Provincial Governments as worthy of their support and the Fair Board will have the greatest pleasure in showing the Minister the importance of the Peterborough Fair to this district and how well it is endeavoring to meet the demands.

Landlord Alters Shop And Loses All Rent

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (United Press).—Rejoice with the Okay Style Shop Incorporated—for it isn't going to pay any rent for seven and a half years.

The landlord, making some alterations cut six inches off the store leased by the Okay Company. The company continued to do business in the other couple feet it had for its store and, meantime, sued the landlord.

The Court ruled the reduction of space by six inches amounted to partial eviction and suspended the rent of $6,500 annually for the life of the lease. The lease has seven and a half years to run.

DR. BANTING RETURNS.

Says Eskimos Are Not Immune From White Man's Diseases.

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Much information of value to him professionally was obtained by Dr. F. G. Banting, of insulin fame, on his trip to the Arctic Circle on the Government steamer Beothic, in company with A. Y. Jackson, Toronto. Dr. Banting has just returned to Toronto. Eskimos, he said, are not yet racially immune from white man's diseases. They are becoming subject to tuberculosis and last year suffered greatly from influenza.

doctors of the province are members. He urged the members to confine their efforts to the young men just starting out, in the endeavor to help them and get them and members so that in years to come the membership might include all the doctors.

He referred to the victory gained by the association in having the designation doctor restricted to licentiates of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons. This, he said, is not because they have any quarrel with those outside their ranks but because they wanted the public safeguarded from men who have not had proper training and preparation.

Dr. F. C. Neal of Peterborough was re-elected Counsellor for the district and Dr. Stobie of Belleville was re-elected Vice-Counsellor. Both elections were by acclamation. An invitation to hold next year's meeting in Belleville was received.

Windsor Went Search.

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—The pilots of the Royal Windsor announced at breakfast this morning, after they had received reports of the fruitless search for Old Glory, conducted during the night by steamships, that they had decided it was useless for them to institute a search with their plane.

Hearts Offers Reward.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press.)— William Randolph Hearst, publisher, backer of the Old Glory flight, to-day offered a reward of $25,000 to the captain and crew of the ship that finds the missing occupants.

His announcement follows:

"I know that no reward is necessary to stimulate the search for the Old Glory and its occupants, but I will gladly give $25,000 to the captain and crew of the ship which finds them merely as an expression of my gratitude."

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 8.—Additional reports received here to-day of the Old Glory's flight over Newfoundland showed that she was seen at St. Lawrence at 11 p.m. Tuesday and sighted next at Burin, then at Colinet, and about midnight at St. Josephs. This would indicate that the plane crossed the east coast considerably north of Cape Race, probably in the neighborhood of Witless Bay.

POLICE SERGT. REID HAS MANY VISITORS

Invitation To Meet Him Before Going Home Accepted By a Number of Business Men.

The neat little invitation placed in the cars parked on George Street yesterday by the police, inviting the owner to call on Sergeant Reid before going home, found a ready response from a number of business men (including The Examiner which was justly entitled to it) and it is presumed all were treated alike, and today the familiar lines of many cars were missing from George Street, where they have parked from morning till noon, and noon till night without interruption. The block between Hunter and Brock Streets must have had a good many offenders, as it looks like a Thursday half holiday today, so far as parked cars is concerned. It evidently, after all, was not the liquor store that was filling the block.

Cotton Prices Soar Rising 200 Points

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press.)—Soaring cotton prices, all the options making an extreme rise of 200 points, permitted under the rules of trading, and confused fluctuations of stock prices were the outstanding incidents in to-day's financial markets.

Immediate reflection of the government cotton report was seen in advance of three points or so in several of the Southern and South-western railroad shares.

Included in the list of stocks which achieved new peaks for the year, or longer were United States Steel at 151 5-8, American Smelting 178 7-8, Consolidated Gas 119¾, Postum 124¾ and Pennsylvania 67. Call money was renewed at 3½.

List Is Reactionary Trading Slackens Off

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press). — Dome Mines and Potter Doal were about the only firm features in a reactionary list on the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, when trading again slackened off. Dome firmed 25 cents at 8.80 and Potter gained 2¼ at 16. Amulet sold down ten at 4.85 and Area accompanied it downward with a two-point loss at 70. Ribago lost 1⅛ at 33½, and Kirkland Lake in heavy trading lost seven at 219. McIntyre eased ten at 26.90, Noranda twenty at 24.40, and Teck Hughes two at 9.38.

Bank Stocks Make Further Gains On Market

TORONTO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Further sharp gains in bank stocks were features of this morning's quiet session on the Toronto Stock Exchange. The regular list had a downward tendency that was relieved by only occasional firm spots. Standard Bank was marked up eight at 233, Toronto three at 287, and Commerce three at 288, while Dominion lost four at 265. Industrial Alcohol was leader of the regular list, with a point gain at 36½. Cosmos selling steadily around 31, and Brazilian losing half at 185. Imperial Oil eased 54⅛, and McColl at 45¼ and British American at 26¼ were also easier. Liquor stocks firmed a little in line with Industrial Alcohol, and Canada Cement moved up more than four points at 185.

Wheat Market Rallies From Early Decline

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Reports of stormy weather over parts of Canada rallied the wheat market today from an early decline. Speculative offerings were light, and houses with foreign connections were buyers. Opening unchanged to ½ cent lower, wheat soon scored an all-round advance. Corn and oats developed strength also, corn starting unchanged to ⅜c off and subsequently showing decided general upturn. Provisions were easier.

Noranda Smelters Are Nearly Ready

Noranda day by day is drawing closer to the production stage. The exact date that the large smelter will start with a capaciy of 500 tons daily, is not as yet certain, but it is less than six week away, according to the last estimate. There are some who state that the market has well discounted this development by its last move but if such is the case then the market has in no way reflected the acquisition by Noranda of Waite Montgomery and the Alderson and MacKay Mine, control of each having been purchased from Noah Timmins, president of Hollinger Consolidated.

Little is being done on the Waite Montgomery property, other than the extending of a Canadian National spur into the property so that the ore can be shipped to the smelter. On the Horne property and Alderson and MacKay mine, operations are being pushed and meeting with excellent results. It has not been generally realized that two simultaneous operations, both of them putting high grade copper ore in sight, are adding heavily and quickly to the ore reserves of the mine which were conservatively estimated at $40,000,000 when the recent amalgamation took place.

Another Quebec operation on which little news has been available but which promises to provide some spectacular information in the not distant future is that of the Harvie Exploration, also operating in Quebec. This company has four distinct operations going on, one township east of Rouyn. On one, a shaft is down 125 feet and has cut two bodies of copper which gave commercial values in test pits on surface and in a prospect drift on the 45 feet level.

Where cut on the deep level, values showed an improvement and the latest news is that a diamond drill cut the same bodies at a vertical depth of 182 feet. This would seem to assure the company a large body of copper ore running between $12 and $15 a ton. High gold values have been cut in the 100 feet level of another of the operations, but the official details are not available.

One of the reasons advanced for the weakness in Hollinger is that propaganda has been going on in regard to the ore of Hollinger raking out of the property to the east. The writer got a technical authrity well posted on the situation to explain the situation and his technical treatise when put into plain language is:

Hollinger's ore does rake to the east, into the Schummacher property, just as McIntyre's ore rakes into Plenaurum, and it was for this reason that Hollinger secured Schummacher, just as McIntyre secured the Plenaurum property. The strong point made was that when the Hollinger Consolidation was completed, the properties on the east netted a much higher price than those on the west because of the rake of the ore to the east which, it was considered at that time, made the property to the east more valuable.

The cry now is that what in 1926 was considered a valuable asset, is today mooted as a menace.

Mine Trading Hectic During Past Week

Trading in mining shares during the past week was the most hectic in the history of the industry in Canada. Over two million shares changed hands on the Standard Exchange, Toronto. This is a record in volume.

Quebec shares furnished the bulk of the activity with Amulet providing the leadership. This stock sold up to $5 on the news that out of 19 diamond drill holes, 17 had cut ore. Many engineers deprecate the idea of estimating ore on diamond drill results, but the public is not so conservative and the market is in the hands of the public. Amulet has 20,000,000 dollar shares outstanding so that the present valuation on the property is $10,000,000, which is small compared with other mines having sizeable ore bodies. Amulet of course is a long way from production.

Noranda shares snapped back in the market due to the announcement that the company had contracted with British Metals Corporation to take its total copper output over a period of years. Many have shied at Noranda, expecting that the company would have trouble marketing its product. Sir Robert Horne, speaking at the British Empire Mining Congress at Montreal this week, said the Empire was independent in time of stress for raw metals except for copper, and they were looking for Canada and Africa to make up this deficiency. This would seem to pressage for Canada an excellent market in Britain for all the copper it can produce.

Central Manitoba Mines shares sold up this week to $2 on a report from Winnipeg that a new discovery of importance had been made on the property. This service on August 1 said that important announcements that would have an important effect on the position of the shares are to be expected. This referred to the news that is now reaching the public but we were precluded from going into any of the details at the time. Central Mannitoba shares up as a very large producer that will take a year or so to come into its own.

The Hollinger situation remains unchanged. No official statement in regard the position of the enterprise has been forthcoming, but the writer is satisfied, rumours to the contrary, that there is nothing wrong with the mine and it would not surprise to see the shares snap back into their old strong position any time.

Canadians look to see the old antipathy against Canadian mines and Canadian mining finance that has existed in London, Eng., disappear as a result of the Empire Mining Congress now meeting in various leading centres of the Dominion. Attended by some 400 leading mining engineers and metallurgists from points within the Empire, the Congress will visit all the leading mining camps of Canada. The result is the delegates will go home sound and well posted missionaries for Canadian mining. England has never been able to understand Canadian methods of mining finance which are based on the experience of United States. These leaders of the industry, now looking over the mines will be in a position to tell them at home that while they may not like our ways of raising funds there is ample evidence that there must be considerable merit to them as witness the many large and sucessful operation which they visited in their tour. A movement which has already been given birth to at the Congress which will help for a better understanding of Canada's potential mineral wealth is that a survey of the mineral resources of the Empire be made so as to assist in times of stress. The facts about this survey will be made immediately available throughout the Empire as the felling is that Canada will not have to wait for a period of stress to feel the benefits.

EXTRA QUEENS CAN BE SAVED

Come in Useful for Building Up Colonies if Kept Through Winter.

METHOD EXPLAINED

In the fall there will be found in most apiaries a few colonies that are considered too weak for safe wintering and these are generally united to make one strong colony in place of two or more weak ones. The usual method of uniting, however, results in the loss of many good queens that might be of great value the following spring. For the past five or six years the Bee Division of the Dominion Experimental Farms has been very successful in uniting weak colonies as follows.—During the latter end of September or early in October half the combs are removed from each weak colony. In the centre of half these treated colonies is placed a tight fitting division board so that the combs and bees of the colony are on one side of it. The combs and bees from the other colonies are then brought over and placed on the opposite side of the division so that there are now two weak colonies in one hive but completely separated from each other. A block of wood is placed in the entrance of the hive so that it provides two small entrances, one at each corner of the front. This block should be pushed in so that it will touch the front edge of the division board. Late swarms, nuclei or bees from mating boxes can be brought together in this manner and will winter safely in cellar or packing case.

In the spring these extra queens are very useful to replace drone laying or failing queens or to requeen colonies that became queenless during the winter. It is often difficult to obtain queens in the early spring and in any case much valuable time is lost in brood rearing and a few surplus queens in the apiary at this time will often turn useless colonies into honey producers.

MEAT AND TOBACCO

LONDON, Sept. 8.—(By The Canadian Press).—The Port of London is notorious for self-concealment. To few eyes and understandings does it reveal its vastness, its world supremacy. But after an observation of the traffic of the Thames and riverside industry, conviction began to creep into the minds of members of both Houses of Parliament and members of the Port of London Authorities on a recent visit when the steamboat turned into the new King George V. Dock, and thence progressed to the Victoria and Albert Docks. The long vistas of ocean-going vessels were deeply impressive when viewed from the deck of the little inspection craft, though they indicated, of course, but a part of the work of the Port.

To give an idea of another part, the visitors were taken over the new cold storage department, where the distribution of meat has been immensely advanced by modern devices. Over 70 per cent. of all the meat imported into the United Kingdom is handled in London; and the cold storage accomodation is equal to three and a half million carcasses of mutton. It appears, however, that the proportion of imported meat to the whole of the meat eaten in the country is apt to be exaggerated, as London consumes very much more chilled meat than the rest of the country, a curious feature is a decrease in rabbits from Australia, which before the war amounted to 30 millions a year, and now have fallen to fewer than ten millions. The reason is that Australia has found more profit in rabbit-fur than in rabbit-flesh.

Lord Ritchie, the chairman of the Authority, gave some particulars of the port in an after-luncheon speech. Last year the tonnage reached close upon 50 millions; and, whereas the tonnage of all other British ports sank, that of London increased by 4.7 per cent. The value of the imports and exports in 1925 (the last year for which figures are available) amounted to 745 1-2 millions in sterling. Two items were singled out for mention—the store of iodine, worth £2,385,000, practically the world's supply; and that of tobacco, valued at 50 millions sterling.

What Mrs. Fred Sullivan, of Peterborough, Says:

"My grocer got me to try Rinso, and when I saw how much work it saved by soaking clothes clean, I knew why so many women were talking about it. It makes the wash snowy white, without any hard rubbing whatever. Even boiling is unnecessary and that saves gas bills. One of my friends uses it in her washing machine. You should hear her praise Rinso."

MRS. FRED. SULLIVAN,

Clothes snowy, dazzling white - just by soaking

It's really amazing. Millions of women are getting new, glorious results on washday . . . in half the time, with half the work . . . . merely by soaking the clothes clean in Rinso. They are loud in their praises, and write the makers thousands of letters of appreciation like the one above.

Rinso soaks white clothes whiter, colored clothes brighter, everything cleaner, than you could get them by rubbing, scrubbing and boiling . . . . the old-fashioned methods.

Even the most ground-in dirt at cuffs and edges disappears with a gentle rub.

Rinso contains nothing to hurt clothes or hands . . . no acids, bleach or harsh chemicals.

The makers of the eleven leading washing machines, after thoroughly testing it, highly recommend Rinso. Try Rinso just once . . . and you'll see why so many women write to tell how pleased they are.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1927.

THE NORTHERN INVASION.

The arrival in Toronto of a motorcade composed of 1,500 residents of Northern Ontario who travelled to the Provincial capital in 400 automobiles, has been one of the outstanding events of the week.

The significance of such a pilgrimage is not being lost sight of by those who realize the value of a demonstration of this nature in selling the wealth and resources of this Province to the people of Old Ontario.

We in the southern portion of the Province have been slow in recognizing the possibilities of the Northland, and it is well that such an imposing delegation has come down to Toronto to "teach the poor benighted people of Southern Ontario a little geography," as Hon. Wm. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, expresses it.

The linking up of this bewilderingly wealthy land of mines, forests and agricultural prospects with the earlier settled part of the Province by a system of good roads and better railway accommodation means much to the people of Ontario, and those of the south are delighted to have had the opportunity of welcoming such an imposing and impressive contingent of enthusiastic and prosperous northerners.

THE AMUSEMENT TAX.

The announcement that after November 1 no Provincial amusement tax will be charged on tickets costing 25c or less will be popular.

This tax, a heritage of the war, has been in a good many instances a nuisance, and there is general satisfaction that it is being eliminated in the case of small admission charges.

It is hoped that before long the Provincial Government will see its way clear to do away with this levy altogether; certainly it should not be collected from amateur sporting events and similar entertainment.

The application of the tax to football games, baseball fixtures and other contests of this nature in small centres where the admission charge is low has been more irritating than profitable, and the 25c exemption will be received with decided satisfaction by athletic clubs and those responsible for the collection of the tax.

The present cut would be even more appreciated if it could be regarded as the first step in a policy of complete elimination of this form of raising Provincial revenue.

FOR LOVERS OF HORSES.

Lovers of horses—and despite the horde of automobiles in evidence there are plenty of people who still take a keen interest in horses—will find much to please them at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

The big fair has in recent years been noted for the excellence of the horses exhibited here, but it is predicted that the showing this year will surpass the best previous record in this respect, and the judging of these exhibits in front of the grandstand permits Exhibition visitors to see the many splendid horses under the best possible conditions.

Those who like to watch fast horses in competition are being provided for in one of the best list of harness horse events the Peterborough Industrial has yet arranged, with purses totalling $1,250, and a fine list of speedy horses assured.

But in addition, the Exhibition has another treat for horse lovers this year in the appearance here of the wonderful jumping horses of Sir Clifford Sifton, Alfred Rogers, Frank O'Connor and other well-known Canadian owners. This unusual attraction is expected to be one of the sensations of the Exhibition, and will bring to Peterborough visitors from all over the district anxious to see these splendid horses in action.

STICK TO THE TIME LIMIT.

The City Council has decided that the merits of the angle method of parking have not been sufficiently tested, and the bylaw accordingly is being allowed to remain in effect.

While The Examiner has heard much criticism of the system and is not itself enamoured of the plan, it hopes that the test of the angle method will be continued under conditions that will give it a fair chance.

Up to the present angle parking has served to encourage car-owners to use George street as a permanent parking area, advantage being taken of the fact that more cars could be parked to leave automobiles standing for hours at a time.

That condition should be eliminated.

Car-owners should be given to understand that the fact that the city has marked out parking spaces is not to be construed as an invitation to monopolize such spaces.

There is a time limit; why not have it enforced in a manner that will show motorists that it is not a mere gesture?

Teeth must be put in the restrictions; if this is not done there will be congestion and confusion under any system that may be adopted.

THE GARY VACANCY.

Judge Gary's successor as chairman of the United States Steel Corporation is still to be selected—or at least to be announced. The directors held a meeting this week, but no decision has been made public.

It is no small thing to select a man for Judge Gary's post. The amount of money involved in United States Steel, the ramifications of the corporation's business, the improtance of its affairs from a national and international standpoint, the gravity of the decisions that must be made from time to time, are such as to give responsible directors great cause for deliberation in picking a head. The chairman who died last month was the man largely responsible for making the United States Steel Corporation what it is today. It was his business child. He tended it lovingly and faithfully for many years. The child is now a man, but the need for constant care and supervision remains greater than ever. That is why the selection of a successor to Judge Gary is so important. Several outstanding men have been mentioned. None of them may get the position. It may go to someone hitherto unthought of.

The Gary post will be satisfactorily filled, of course. No man is indispensable in this day and age. No man is beyond replacement. Individuals, no matter how important, are mere temporary cogs in the great business machines of today. They come and go, but well-founded enterprises live on, as lasting tributes to those who laid the plans so thoroughly and provided so carefully for the future. In time, of course, the greatest of institutions disappear, or are reshaped. Changing conditions mean changed industry and commerce. Where, for instance, are the great wagon factories and buggy plants of only a few years ago. Many of them have been transformed into automobile works, keeping pace with the change in man's travel methods. So with the steel industry and many others. A century or so hence all our present conceptions will have been largely dashed away. The civilization that we think so highly developed will be seen, no doubt, as the merest crudity compared with the developments of that day. The machines that we use now will be obsolete or forgotten. The airplanes of which we are so proud may draw the smiles of the people of tomorrow who view samples preserved in museums. The costly locomotives of 1927, with their inefficient use of coal, will be another museum wonder, just as the machines of a century or so ago are regarded by us now.

The world moves rapidly. Great men arise and function for a little while. The truly great leave their impress. The others are forgotten. Each age bequeaths something to the next. This is how civilization develops.—Border Cities Star.

"GOING TO COLLEGE."

A writer on colleges in the United States has given us a review of conditions of higher education in that country in which the highly increasing tendency—the rush almost—to get into college and universities is strongly emphasized. It is interesting because these conditions in a lesser degree are reflected in Canada. So great has this tendency become that many thousands of applicants, fifty per cent. of whom at least meet the requirements of entrance, are being rejected. It is simply impossible with the existing facilities to accommodate them all, and, besides, notwithstanding the wealth of the nation, individually and collectively, it is difficult to find the money easily to keep pace with the flood of seekers. Universities in the United States are of two kinds, endowed and state, both very much crowded. The oldest, the best as well as the best known, such as Harvard and Yale, are in the former class, and these depend for growth in accommodation upon voluntary contributions, and they must come in millions. The state universities, which are free or practically so, are maintained out of state funds and the measure of taxation involved has always to be taken into consideration, although in matters of education in the United States, as in Canada, the people dig down into their pockets more quickly for and grumble less about the money required than for any other purpose.

The mere keeping up with the demand for higher education, however, is becoming more and more of a problem, and the same is true of Canada. Quite recently the Dominion Bureau of Statistics issued a report showing marvellous increase in collegiate and university attendance, and The Journal at the time commented upon the problem of handling, or providing, for the product. Most graduates are unwilling to go, or return to anything but "soft collar" jobs; in other words, to the farm or to trades, and a large number have to seek employment in the United States. There is no indication of any slacking in the tendency and there comes the inevitable question, what is the harvest to be?

The writer in question explains that there are several reasons for college expansion. One is the social urge. To have a degree is a mark of social superiority and an open sesame to society; to not have it is a sign of "inferiority complex." Another is that owing to modern industrial conditions there is nothing for the youth to do until between 16 and 18 years of age, except to go to school. Then again the school is taking the place of home and of even the church in certain respects? The college is becoming a social institution to "fill the gaps of other institutions which have lost much of their authority," and "the next generation is to be thrown back largely upon the school, the press and the movies." And, perhaps, most important of all in the eyes of the average American is the worth of a college degree in dollars and cents in making a living. Education is being evaluated in this way by leading professional educationalists, notwithstanding that cultural and spiritual values cannot be measured by the commercial yardstick. It is generally thought, apart from all other considerations that a boy with a college training has a better chance materially and socially in life than one who has not. The social urge, we are told, is also shown in the flock of girls that are going, or trying to go to college.

Prime Minister Baldwin in his recent speech in Toronto before the Empire and Canadian Clubs rather hit the nail on the head in his characteristic direct way. "If," he said, "you regard education from the point of view of enabling you to earn a salary you miss one of the best things for which education stands." The problem for the future would seem to be to so adjust the training and the curricula, academic and otherwise, as best to make us to fit in with life as a whole, without too much stress upon any one phase of it, and without taking away the underpinning upon which industry and commerce must rest."—Ottawa Journal.

A Thought For To-day

Occasionally you hear people say that they wish they had never been born. They look like the little boy who wanted to go out in the garden and eat a few worms.

A series of small disappointments has probably hit this "someone" and he or she theatrically talks of ending it all.

Not one person in one hundred who parades this self-pity actually knows what real trouble is.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

Faith, watching Cherry intently as Glenn Andrews pleaded with her to marry him, saw triumph flash in her sister's strange, golden eyes, a flush of pleasure dye the cheeks that had been so waxen-white with anxiety over the kidnapping of her baby. She wanted to cry out to Cherry, to warn her not to commit herself to a man who had shown himself so despicable. But when Cherry spoke, Faith realized that there had been no need to warn Cherry.

"I'm sorry, Glenn. Please get up off your knees. I won't marry you. You must know that I couldn't after—after the way you behaved today. No, don't interrupt me, please," she ordered him, a little sternly, as the man was about to protest vehemently. "I would have accepted you last night, or the night before. Why Glenn, I almost prayed for you to say the words! I—"

"Then you do love me!" Andrews exulted, his arms going about her waist again, striving to strain her rigid little body to his.

"No, I don't love you," Cherry denied steadily. "I—I tried to make myself believe I did, because I wanted to marry you. I wanted security—and—your love for me. I wanted the protection of your name for myself and my baby. But—maybe I'm growing up at last, Glenn. I've got my baby back, and she's all that matters now. I'm going to be a mother to her, and try to make up to her for my failure—

"But for Faith, I might never have seen my baby again! But what I'm trying to tell you is that I'm going to try to quit thinking of myself alone, as I've always done. I'm not going to marry any man just for what he can do for me. I rather think," she said musingly, seeming hardly to notice that Glenn Andrews had risen to his feet, "that I shan't marry anyone—ever."

An ugly expression settled about Glenn Andrews' eyes and mouth. "So you're planning to go on living off your brother-in-law, are you?"

"I work for my living!" Cherry flamed. "Bob says I'm worth every penny of the thirty-five dollars a week he pays me—"

"Oh, so you're going to keep on working, eh?" Andrews sneered. "I thought you were going to devote every hour of your days and nights to taking care of the baby. Well, good-bye. Thanks for telling me the truth—that you'd planned to marry me for my position and my money. I'll not renew the offer."

When he had gone, flinging himself out of the room like a man possessed of a demon, Cherry's bright head, which she had continued to hold so proudly as long as the man was in the room, drooped upon her breast.

"Oh, Faith," Cherry moaned, laying her head wearily upon Faith's shoulder. "I'm trapped, trapped! Glenn's right! If I do what I want to do—stay at home—your home!—and take care of my baby, we'll both be utterly dependent upon Bob. If I work, I'll be shifting my responsibilities to your shoulders. My baby will grow up, hardly knowing me as her real mother. She'll look to you for everything—her care, training, affection, guidance—Oh, Faith, tell me what to do! I want to be good! I do so want to be good." Again Cherry was a child, turning instinctively to the sister who had been more of a mother to her than the poor woman who was dead.

Faith forced herself to make the answer which she knew would spell happiness for Cherry, although it meant continued misery of jealousy for herself:

"You will be happier if you go on working, darling. You can be Hope's mother at night, endearing yourself to her as only you know how to do. And she's so young yet, dear. Maybe the future will offer a solution—"

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

The pendant earring takes on a soaring motion when worn by the girl who dances the Charleston and other modern dances. The girl with the partner is wearing emerald and pearl earrings with a necklace to match. Above in the circle is a pearl and amethyst earring and below an onyx earring with a baroque pearl in the center. The girl below wears airplane earrings of tiny diamonds that dangle on a fine platinum chain.

"The gem that twinkling bangs from Beauty's ear" doesn't always hang nowadays. Sometimes it soars and bobs about in a really surprising manner. We call them pendant earrings, and so they may be when they are displayed in the jeweler's showcase, but not pendant in the least when worn by the girl who dances the Charleston or some of its more recent variations.

The other day I watched a light-footed young dancer whose earrings seemed to fly out at right angles to her sleekly coiffed head, and it occurred to me that that particular angle and motion of the earring was something entirely modern. Our grandmothers could not even have imagined it.

Rubies, I am told, have recently sprung into a place of great importance among the jewelers of the Rue de la Paix in Paris. There is also a slight movement toward amethysts. One of the leading French jewelers is showing a brooch which combines amethysts, topazes, turquoises and brilliants on a blue enameled bar. The stones are arranged in a low square formation with circular settings at either end. Sounds like quite a medley, but it is really very beautiful.

One of the best known women of fashion in Paris wears her hair long, in a tight knot at the nape of the neck. She wore ornamental hairpins consisting of two large pearl balls bound with hoops of small brilliants. These pins were placed one at either side of the knot.

Very few women wore necklaces but every one wore bracelets and earrings, is the comment made concerning a fashionable evening gathering in Paris recently. One of the most beautiful of the great dressmakers wears as many as six bracelets and they are all wide. One is four inches wide and none less than an inch wide and yet there are six of these bracelets on one arm.

HOROSCOPE

The Stars Incline, but do not Compel.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1927.

(Copyright, 1927, McClure Syndicate.)

Another lucky day is foretold by astrologers who find that benefic aspects dominate in the government of the stars.

There is an especially good sign for all sorts of property agreements and transactions.

Real estate is subject to a planetary direction making for much activity and great profits.

Engineers and builders are subject to a sway that makes certain the under taking of the most ambitious enterprises.

There will be much bridge building as well as many engineering projects that are connected with waterways.

Astrologers foretell a tremendous expansion of aviation, owing to a sudden demand for airplanes.

Economies in certain directions will offset tremendous outlays of public money, the seersprophesy.

This is a day for the orderly arrangement of one's affairs and for the initial steps in enterprises of many sorts.

Reclamation projects again are to claim attention of Congress, it is forecast, and western states are to benefit greatly.

Astrologers prognosticate an unprecedented development of business and commerce on the Pacific Coast.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of great good fortune in which relations may be concerned.

Children born on this day probably will be possessors of happy dispositions and fine minds. Many persons of philosophical trend of thought are born under this sign.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1927

(Copyright, McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

This is one of the threatening days in planetary government, according to astrology, which finds adverse aspects dominant.

While this configuration prevails it is well to keep quiet and to avoid all sorts of risks.

Under this sway it is supposed to be easy to make bad investments and to turn attention to losing business interests.

While the seers prophesy for the coming months sound business, they warn against speculation and counsel thrift.

Great waste of public funds is to be revealed in more than one state, and there will be much public resentment regarding taxes, if the stars are rightly read.

Serious contests between labor and capital will take place, but they will be quiet conflicts of brains.

While there may be a few strikes, astrologers foretell new methods of settling difficulties in various lines of industry.

Again co-operation is subject to much encouragement and likely to be more popular than ever before.

With the rapid disappearance of old traditions and old policies in the world, there will be a final sweep of famous persons from the arena of life.

Women who have mastered the secrets of beauty now will turn attention to artistic development, it is foretold.

A period of tremendous intellectual evolution is already begun, it is said, and it will make rapid progress.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have rather a disturbed year, it is foretold, and they should be careful in all business affairs.

Children born on this day may be stubborn, determined and hard to direct. Many mechanical geniuses are born under this sign.

FASHION NOTES.

BY HEDDA HOYT

(United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (United Press).—In New York, as in all large cities, you can see them; elderly ladies who still live and dress in the styles of their heyday. Wide skirts supported by buckram, plummed hats with large crowns, handbags shaped like carpetbags, high-topped buttoned boots, veils, etc., are some of the items these old timers have failed to drop with the time. The materials worn by these dear old ladies prove that their gowns were of best quality, for, they lived in an age when quality meant style. A reef or two taken in their skirts and they would pass unnoticed in modern crowds. But to them old ways are best. Dear old souls, whose eyes are closed to our modern ways of dressing, you are at least dignified in your odd trappings!

What impression will our modern women who fail to ride with the tide of fashion create some 20 years hence? Will short-hemmed and short-haired old ladies be the laughing stock of the new generation? One wonders!

It is very difficult when one grows too old to care about coping with styles to accept new ideas of dress. We can all number among our friends chignon-ed women. Yet the chignon died the day Irene Castle clipped her first lock. Time will tell whether the chignon shall return again. If long hair doesn't come in style again, a long-haired woman will be a curiosity 15 years hence.

The other day I saw an old lady wearing flowing widow's weeds and the thought occurred to me that deep mourning weeds were a thing of the past. Certainly in New York one doesn't see much of the long veil. This doubtless, was done away with when fashion decreed less conspicuous mourning apparel.

SWEETENED VEGETABLES

All summer vegetables have a nicer taste if from one to four tablespoons of sugar is added to the boiling water.

LAKEFIELD FAIR PROGRAM GOOD

Many New Attractions Are Being Arranged This Year.

LAKEFIELD NEWS.

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 8.—The annual Fall Fair of the Lakefield Agricultural Society will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 27 and 28, and promises this year to inaugurate a new era in the history of the Society. There are fashions in fall fairs as in ladies' apparel and the directors are determined to keep up to date.

The grounds are being put in excellent shape and a banner year is expected.

A drawing contest has been arranged for and will be put on in two classes, for horses of 2800 pounds and under and for those over 2800 pounds.

Entries are asked for a tug of war, either township teams or groups of men in any locality in the district.

A novelty in the shape of a nail driving contest for ladies will be introduced and there are several foot races on the programme.

The concert will also provide a novelty as it is expected that there will be a dramatic contest for short comedies, to be given by young people of the district assisted by good musical talent.

The excursion to Bobcaygeon per steamer "Stoney Lake" on Labor Day which was under the auspices of the Citizens' Band was highly successful with a large crowd and ideal weather and a good time for old and young.

Mr. S. S. Spence is receiving many compliments at present on the beautiful specimen of the Angels trumpet which is in bloom in front of his residence. Growing in a small tube the plant now measures close to seven feet and has a cluster of creamy white trumpets of large size. It is an ornament to Mr. Spence's property and is a plant very rarely seen.

About thirty neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Miss Mary Northcott prior to her marriage and presented her with a miscellaneous shower.

Jack Frost has hoisted his signal and one sees an occasional branch on some of the trees tipped with the red flag of coming autumn. These signs show, that while the days may be of summer heat, that autumn has them marked for her own.

LABOR CONFIRMS PREMIER'S BELIEF

But Fails To Return Compliment—Calls Him Insincere.

LONDON, Sept. 8.—(United Press)—It is strange that Premier Baldwin's Canadian speeches attesting to the sanity and solidity of British labor should be so promptly and emphatically confirmed as by the Trade Unions Congress at Edinburgh yesterday in an overwhelming repudiation of communism and Moscow influence, while at the same time the Congress declared in almost equally strong terms that Mr. Baldwin was "insincere, untrustworthy, reactionary and not the friend of labor."

That British labor does not want to have anything to do with the Reds was made plain last evening in an excited turbulent debate in which it was emphasized that neither now nor in the future will the general body of British trade unionists have any dealings with the communist party nor the minority movement which was described as "camouflage communism."

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—With deliveries rather liberal on September contracts here and with speculative demand failing to develop volume, wheat prices reacted yesterday from early upturns. The world's available supply of wheat showed an increase of 4,343,000 bushels, making the total 154,172,000 bushels as against 132,277,000 bushels a year ago.

Wheat closed nervuos, ⅜ to ¾c net lower; corn 1 to 1⅛ down; oats at ½c decline to ¼c advance and provisions varying from 10c setback to a rise of 7 cents.

Until near the end of the day wheat prices averaged higher owing to rains likely to interfere with the harvest in parts of Canada. Besides the forecast pointed to additional unwelcome moisture both sides of the Canadian boundary and the Australian growers' pool estimated New South Wales' crop at 16,000,000 bushels, an amount 21,000,000 bushels less than last year's production. On the other hand, export demand for wheat from North America was again slow, total sales yesterday aggregating only 500,000 bushels.

The majority of wheat traders here appeared to be undecided as to the course of the market for a long pull. Meanwhile trans-Atlantic buyers seemed to be waiting for the Canadian crop to move in larger bulk and flour increased arrivals of domestic spring wheat northwest. Under such circumstances early buyers here turned to the selling side and in the absence of any aggressive support the market receded all around to below Tuesday's finish.

Corn was in good demand early, but, outside buying was absent, the same as in wheat.

Provisions were easier for the most part, responsive to the course of hog values.

CHICAGO CATTLE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Cattle 13,000; vealers steady; yearlings and heavy steers up to $14.90; bulk fed steers $12.50 to $14.00; stockers trade slowing down; bulk at $7.50 to $8.75; strictly choice Wyoming yearlings up to $10.10 to the country; most sausage bulls $5.50 to $6.00; few $6.25; vealers $14.00 to $15.00; mostly $14.00 to $14.50.

Hogs, 16,000; market very uneven, but active; packing sows 10 to 15c higher, top $11.40; bulk good and choice 160 to 200 pounds $10.75 to $11.35; 220 to 250 pounds $10.75 to $11.25; 300 to 300 pounds $10.25 to $10.90; most packing sows $8.85 to $9.25; light weights up to $9.60; bulk pigs $8.75 to $9.50; best strong weights $10.00.

Shippers took 6,000; estimated holdover 6,000.

WARSAW NEWS.

WARSAW, Sept. 8.—Mr. Alex Currie returned to Warsaw on Sunday afternoon. At the evening service in the United church he read the Scripture lesson, and preached the sermon. His subject was "God waiting for man's reply", based on the text "Advise me now, what answer shall I give to Him that sent me?"

Mr. Currie showed that a prophet in some form was always waiting for our reply to God. Often it is life itself, sometimes man's worst enemy is himself and is long unrecognized. Sometimes it is conscience, and sometimes it is Christ himself.

Mr. McClarry and Mr. Wilkie of Hamilton exchanged pulpits on Sunday.

Mrs. Wall from Peterborough is visiting Mrs. Thomas Crowe.

Miss Laura Bowen, who is in the Bell Telephone office in Toronto, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen.

Miss Jean Bowen accompanied her sister to Toronto and will visit with her uncle for a week.

Miss Elsie Cooper went to Peterborough on Tuesday morning. She has secured a position in the Robert Fair store.

Mr. and Mrs. Butcher from Chicago spent the week end and holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Payne. They left on Tuesday morning for New York. Mr. Wilkie, who occupied the Presbyterian pulpit, visited Mr. R. Payne on Sunday. Mrs. Butcher and he had at one time attended the same school.

Mr. John Albert Graham left for Provost last week. He is very much improved in health by his sojourn in Warsaw.

Those who need to travel on the boundary may take heart. There is definite promise of work being done on it in a week's time.

Warsaw school re-opened on Tuesday with an attendance of sixty-five pupils.

DUCK HUNTERS GET GOOD 'BAG'

Those Going South Fare Better Than Up River Shooters.

EARLY SPECIES.

With the opening of the duck season the hunters were out in force. Those who went down the river enjoyed a good "bag" while those who went north had only fair success. The early black duck was most prominent.

THE FIRST FABRICS FOR FALL

Are to Be on Display on Saturday and All Next Week in Our Fashion Dept. Main Floor

It's a Season for Contrast

TO present to you the large stock of beautiful fabrics now ready for your fall sewing, we have arranged a special display to be staged in our Fabric Department every day next week.

Here you may see the very lovely weaves that are favoriter for the season—Figured French Delaine, Wool Kasha, Wool Crepellas, Brocaded Linings, Shot Taffetas, the new soft silky woolens and a wide range of All-Wool Coatings in checks and plaids. Crepellas 35 inch in Sand.

WHERE last year fashion makers cried out for combination of color, this year they clamor for combination of fabrics. Chiffon and Satin, Taffeta and Velvet are almost universal in evening frocks. Some frocks shown in Paris openings have bodies of Chiffon, skirts of Satin, and wide hem bandings of Velvet. Crepe Satin is a favorite fabric, since its two surfaces, one plain, the other "pebbled," provide an easy road to contrast.

Velvet comes next in importance. It is used for sports frocks, combined with silk and soft wools, for evening gowns, for light-weight coats, and for evening wraps.

The Color Chart

7500, Ivory
7521, Pralinn (Coral)
7548, Framboise (Old Rose)
7560, Acajou (Athenia)
7542, Faisan (Wood Brown)
7599, Gendarme (French Blue)
7617, Argent (Silver Grey)
7644, Marron (Nut Brown)
7539, Reseda Green
7620, Acier (Mid Grey)
4824, Rouge (Cardinal Red)

Accessories that Flatter the New Mode

THE word "ensemble" no longer refers to a matching dress and coat only. Every costume now must be an ensemble—a collection of carefully planned details, all blending to make one complete picture. Flowers, gloves, handkerchief, handbag, beads, stockings, shoes, in the same color theme are essentials in the new season's smartness.

Among the new Flowers are Chrysanthemums, shaggy and long petaled, to flop on the left shoulder of the tailored or semi-formal gown.

Evening Flowers are a-quiver with Rhinestones and Silver Threads in rose and green.

The prim Gardenia, invariably accompanying the tailored suit or coat.

Our Pattern Service

Is it an uneven hem you want, short at the front and long at the back?—cleverly draped down on the left and up on the right side?

Is it the new tight hip, drawn up to the natural waistline?—or the bolero which the young girls are wearing? — or the wrap-around effect of the new coats? — or the useful combination of afternoon jacket over sleeveless evening dress?

All these points and many others are included in the new patterns, specially designed to enable you to make your own dresses easily, and smartly.

The new catalogue of fall ideas is now in the Fabric Department. You may choose your Butterick pattern there, or buy the new Quarterly Fashion Book for 25c.

A Showing of New Fall Hats

All Next Week on Second Floor

IN conjunction with the showing of new fabrics we are displaying, next week, a collection of the new Fall Hats, of which we most cordially invite your inspection.

Included among them are the wide brimmed Velvet Hats, ordained for early fall wear, long silky-haired velours, felts of the fine quality known as "Soleil," and a few smart combinations of felt and velvet.

All these in both large and small head sizes.

SATURDAY AND ALL NEXT WEEK.

Next week in our Millinery Department.

School Days Are Granted Fabrics All Their Own

THE fabrics that fashion school girls' dresses are very definitely outlined this year. Among them Velveteens rank first. Velveteen makes a whole dress, a tailored jacket for a wool plaid skirt, or a plain straight jumper top over a corduroy skirt.

Woollens are plaided, striped or checked. The cheveron stripe (in the upper right corner of the illustration above) is particularly popular, in the close-fitting tops of dresses over plain pleated skirts.

All-Wool Jerseys are used for very little children, as well as for high school girls. Frocks for the latter are generally two-piece. Those for little girls are smocked, with matching bloomers, while kindergarten boys wear shorts and jerseys made of green, blue or tan Wool Jersey Cloth.

Peterborough Exhibition Unites People of Town and Country

By-Product of Exhibition Directors' Harmony an Asset to Central Ontario--No Class Distinctions Only the Common Bond of Enthusiasm and Industry.

Farmer and townsmen unite in the directorate of the Peterborough Exhibition in a spirit of goodwill and co-operation that is perceptibly permeating this whole district.

If the exhibition effected nothing more than this harmony and understanding it has more than justified its existence and all the effort that has been focused upon it.

The hiving of farmers among themselves and the smug segregation of townsmen will not get us as a people anywhere. But, working together as partners and without any overhanging atmosphere of class consciousness and of industrial variance we can do all that men have ever done.

That is the secret of Peterborough Exhibition Board's success. There is no sign of selfishness among its members.

* * * * * *

John Henry Garbutt, farmer, D. Hughes Charles, banker, Robert Leary, liveryman, Harry Webber, farmer, these men have gone to their graves, but in their day they played their part in advancing the Peterborough Exhibition, and in their associations they knew no divisive distinctions.

"Passing Around the Honor."

Today Tom McIndoo, farmer, could be president if he really wanted the position for whatever honor is attached to it. When Roland Denne speaks of passing around the presidency which he has so commendably assumed for years he finds no assertion of personal claims or desires among his associates. They literally think of the welfare of the Exhibition first, and none of them wishes to disrupt the smooth-working organization which swings around Mr. Denne.

* * * * * *

That arrangement, however, cannot run along interminably. But, whenever Mr. McIndoo expresses a willingness to step up to the president's chair he has only to declare himself and a farmer will again be the chief director.

Drones Don't Stay Long.

No, there is no self-glorification on the Exhibition Board, but there is plenty of opportunity for work. Drones are not wanted in that hive. Directors must be workers, and they neither look for nor expect remuneration.

The only reward the directors seek is a record list of entries and another record attendance.

The farmer and townspeople can repay the Director by doing their full share to realize the dream veiled in the Barnum flaboyancy, "greater, grander and better than ever."

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

Campbellford September 8. — Mr. William Grills and his daughter, Miss Luella Grills left yesterday for Winnipeg. Mr. Grills is one of the delegates from this county to attend the coming Conservative convention in that city. While in the west, they will visit relatives in Winnipeg and several other cities.

The tennis fixture which was to be played on the local courts yesterday afternoon has been indefinitely postponed. Port Hope and the local club seemed unable to arrange a meeting here for at least another two weeks. At such a late date in the season it was considered unwise to set any definite time. On Saturday, September 10th, the Campbellford Club will send players to Point Anne to play in the Tummon Cup finals.

Mr. T. A. Brown, Toronto, motored to town yesterday. Mr. Brown has several business interests in and around Campbellford.

Miss Mildred Robertson of Montreal, was the guest of Mrs A. (Dr.) Haig Front street for the week end.

Mr. and Mrr. George Chatell and Miss Edna Chatell of Cleveland O. are spending their vacations at Fred Smiths summer resort Crow Bay.

Mrs. A. H. McKeel is visiting friends in Toronto. Mr. McKeel has just returned to town after spending a few days at the exhibition.

The office building and club rooms of the Campbellford Cloth Company are being redecorated throughout the entire interior. The work will be completed in another few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Naddo and Miss Norma Nadoo, motored to Toronto to attend the exhibition.

Miss Elizabeth Donald of Vancouver B.C., is visiting her mother, Mrs. James Donald, and her sister, Miss Jennie Donald. She will spend the month of September renewing friendships and old acquaintances in and about the town.

Miss Kathleen Locke, who has just returned from two months abroad, reports a very delightful holiday. On the evening Miss Locke attended the Paris opera, the theatre orchestra opened the evening's entertainment by playing the Canadian National Anthem in honor of the large number of Canadians known to be present. In London through a chance meeting with an influential friend, Miss Locke was shown through Westminster Abbey after night with only a flashlight for illumination. Those who recall the stately old structure with its inimitable oak carved ceilings, stately arches and awesome cloisters will readily appreciate the unusual experience. After they had made a round of the more interesting sections of the structure, Mr. Nicholson, organist at Westminster Abbey, came in and played to the visitors for an hour and a half. During this time no lights save the organist's lamp was burning in the building. There were eleven in the party. Without exception the party of tourists can not be too emphatic in their approval of the hospitality shown them in each of the countries which they visited.

Industrial apprentices to the number of 2500 are enrolled for technical training in Chicago schools. Many trades are represented and the work is supported by trades unions and employers.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 8. — Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Valway and son George, Flint City, Michigan, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bullen.

Mr. James Robinson is in town after spending some time in Toronto.

Mr. Jos. Whitehead of Stirling spent Tuesday in town.

Mr. Chas. Lynch of Rochester is spending his vacation at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. James White are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Williams. Both Mr. and Mrs. White are former residents of Campbellford, Mr. White at one time being on the staff of the Campbellford Herald. They are now living in Stratford.

The local Lawn Bowling Club was represented at the Labor Day tournaments in Cobourg by two rinks and by the same number in Port Hope. In both places they were losers by a narrow margin. In Cobourg, Campbellford was eliminated by the small difference of three points. The play must have been worth seeing if the scores are a true indication of the evenness of the match.

Harry MacLaren is unable to attend school due to illness.

Miss Hazel LeBrash of Rochester is spending her vacation as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Menzies.

Mr. M. G. Cook, local representative of the Sun Life Insurance Company, is spending his vacation in Detroit. Mr. Cook's vacation is at the expense of the company as a bonus for having sold a certain amount of new insurance.

shipping and customs documents as being a shipment in transit in bond through Canada from one point in the United States to another point in the United States."

Made to Maritimes

Continuing, he said, "The evidence further discloses that shipments of beer were made from Silver Springs Brewery Co., Ltd., premises, and from the premises of the Frontenac Breweries Ltd. to Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, camouflaged as groceries and shipped in the names of licensed grocers in the Province of Quebec."

The shipment of beer, said Mr. Calder, "camouflaged as some other commodity is a crime under the Criminal Code and in the case of shipments to the United States prevents the Government of Canada from carrying out the obligations under the anti-smuggling treaty with the United States, to notify the United States authorities of all shipments of goods the importation of which the United States prohibited by law."

Mr. Calder further submitted that "The evidence discloses that Silver Springs Brewery Co., Ltd., entered local sales in their books as export sales to evade gallonage and sales tax and made false sales tax returns. The gallonage and sales tax have since been paid."

J. Lemarche said that insofar as the Silver Spring Brewing Co., Ltd., was concerned a report by one of the auditors for the Commission showed that although some mistakes had been made respecting payment of taxes, these mistakes had been rectified. Mr. Lemarche said any mistakes made had been of an unintentional character. There was no evidence, he continued, that this concern had camouflaged shipments of beer as the beer had been sold to a licensed grocer in Quebec province.

With regard to Frontenac Breweries Ltd., all differences in respect to payment of taxes had been settled between the company and the department, said Mr. Lemarche. On one hand the brewing company had owed money for taxes, while on the other hand in certain cases the brewery had overpaid money. Mr. Lemarche declared that there was no evidence of camouflaging in respect to beer shipments by the Frontenac Breweries Ltd., and that neither this company nor the Spring Brewing Co. Ltd. had performed any wrong.

Bronfman Questioned

Harry Bronfman, of Britcan Investments Limited, was examined by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., Commission counsel, in respect to the various liquor interests he had.

Mr. Bronfman testified that he and his three brothers had been interested in a number of liquor concerns in Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia and one at Kenora, Ont. These came largely under the direction of his brother Sam.

"When you turn your eyes eastward—what did you have in the East?" asked Mr. Rowell.

Witness replied that he and his brothers had been interested in two firms in Quebec province. Replying to further questions, he said that they also had had concerns in the Maritimes, one at St. John, N.B., two in Nova Scotia and one in Prince Edward Island.

"You appear to have been rather pioneers in this chain of stores business," commented Mr. Rowell. "How many of these companies are still operating in Canada that have been referred to?" asked counsel.

Mr. Bronfman replied that only one—the Atlas Company in the Maritimes—was operating. He and his brothers were interested in a number of firms outside of Canada, said Mr. Bronfman, whose evidence will be continued today.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIIPEG, Sept. 8.—Heavy rainfall in Alberta which has delayed harvesting operations in some sections, coupled with firmer Liverpool cables, gave values a moderate upward lift on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday. The pit trade again was purely local in character shippers and exporters reporting foreign orders exceptionally light. Wheat scored its best advance around midsession, when prices jumped around 1c. The close was 1-4c. higher to 1-8c. down.

Coarse grains were inactive, oats and flax advancing fractionally, while barley and rye sank below Tuesdays close.

Crescents Lose to Deloro 16-1 in Play-Off

CRESCENTS OUT OF THE RUNNING FOR 1927 INTERMEDIATE TITLE

East Peterborough Champions Held Runless Until Eighth Inning.

NUMEROUS ERRORS.

Deloro's Ontario Intermediate champions played true to form, yesterday, at Belleville, and put the Crescents out of the running for the 1927 baseball title.

The winners almost claimed a shut out holding the East Peterborough champions runless until the eighth innings when Freddie Jones scored the only run. When the nine innings were over Deloro had scored 16 runs, hitting both Mein and Billingsley hard.

It was a very different team play than that handed out on Saturday at Exhibition Park. Belleville ball diamond was very rough and both teams had great difficulty in fielding which accounted for the numerous errors.

Mein got off to a poor start for the Crescents when Deloro put across four runs on one hit. The Peterboro team failed to give their pitcher the support that they have been noted for all season, the infield making many wild throws.

In the fourth after eight runs had been put across, Billingsley replaced Mein and went strong until the seventh when he was touched for seven hits and six runs.

Deloro team was stronger in the infield than on Saturday with H Quinn and Hughes back on the line up. The second baseman in six times to bat, got two three baggers and one single.

Jack went strong for Deloro and kept the hard hitting Crescents down to five hits. Twice with runners on he struck the third man out. In five of the nine innings only three men faced him each frame.

The Play.

Deloro lost the toss and the Crescents were the home team. In the first, J. Quinn made first when Scully muffled the ball, A. Quinn bunted but Kenneally recovered it only to have Barry drop the peg. Boudreau walked, Jack doubled Regan sacrificed and Brown and Hughes went out on fly ball. 4 runs, 1 hit, 2 errors.

LeBarr, first man up for the Crescents struck out, J. Jones flied to Regan and Kenneally grounded to Woods.

In the second, Narrie lifted on to F. Jones, Woods singled and made second when Ranger dropped the ball. J. Quinn grounded to Ranger and A. Quinn tripled. Boudreau closed the frame when he flied to F. Jones.

Ranger made first when A. Quinn dropped the ball but was caught stealing second. Barry singled but Scully hit to Jack for a double play, Jack to A. Quinn to Hughes.

Jack and Regan both singled to open the third for Deloro. Brown was out at first. Hughes singled but was caught off third and Narrie popped one to Ranger. Corbitt hit one to deep left which was taken by Brown. Jones failed to make first. Mein walked and Lebarr was hit but J. Jones hit one to Jack.

Deloro added two more in the fourth when J. Quinn singled and A. Quinn got his second three bagger. Billingsley replaced Mein in the box Boudreau hit to Lebarr, Jack struck out and Regan grounded to Ranger. Kenneally and Barry went down on infield flies and Ranger struck out. In the fifth, only three men faced Billingsley, he struck out Narrie, Brown hit out to J. Jones and Hughes hit to Corbett.

The Crescents in the fifth got two men on. Scully grounded to third. Corbett flied to Brown. F. Jones made first when Hughes dropped the ball. Billingsley walked but Lebarr struck out to retire the side.

In the sixth, J. Quinn got the first hit of the game off Billingsley but the other three men up failed to make first. In this innings, none of the Petes got to first sac.

Ten batters faced Billingsley in the seventh, getting two doubles and four singles, these coupled with two errors gave Deloro six runs.

In the seventh, the Petes went down in a row and Deloro scored one run when both Ranger and Scully made wild throws.

F. Jones the first man up for the Crescents in the eighth singled. Billingsley did likewise but was caught at second. Jones stole to third and scored when Lebarr singled to A. Quinn, F. Jones struck out.

For the final frame for Deloro, Quinn brothers struck out and Boudreau grounded to Corbett.

Kenneally singled but was caught stealing second. Ranger flied to first base. Barry singled and Scully struck out.

PIRATES LEAD BY HALF GAME

League Lead Lessened By Cincinnati's Win Over Pittsburgh 6-5.

COSTLY FUMBLES.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Cincinnati gave the pennant aspirations of the Pittsburgh Pirates another jolt yesterday by taking the odd game of a five-game Pittsburgh series, 6 to 5, with the second place Giants idle. The defeat narrowed the Pirates hold on first place to half a game. Hill, who started for Pittsburgh, was wild and was relieved by Dawson in the eighth. Costly fielding fumbles also figured largely in the Cincinnati scoring.

The Reds scored three runs in the third inning on two walks, a double by Dressen, a sacrifice fly and Harris' muff of Wright's throw on Bressler's grounder. Cincinnati put two more runs across in the next inning on a single, another walk, and a second two-base hit by Dressen, the second run going in on Bernhart's low return to Traynor of Dressen's hit. The visitors' sixth run was scored in the sixth on a single by Sukeforth, a stolen base, Smith's wild throw and Dressen's sacrifice fly.

Pirates Held Scoreless.

The Pirates were held scoreless until the third, when two runs were counted on a walk, singles by the Waner brothers and a double steal on which Lloyd Waner scored. Wright's double and Traynor's single added another in the sixth. Wright hit for the circuit in the eighth with the bases empty.

Pittsburgh attempted a come-back in the last inning when Harriss tripled with one out and scored on Smith's sacrifice fly. Bricknell was sent in to pinch hit for Dawson but lined out to Pittenger.

Lloyd Waner returned to middle field after having been out of the game since Monday with a split finger.

The third place Cardinals and the fourth place Chicago Cubs divided a double-header at St. Louis. The Cards took the first, 6 to 2, and the Cubs copped the second, 8 to 4.

The Cardinals are now two games behind first place and one and a half games behind New York in second place.

The Cardinals swatted Carlson and Nehf for 13 safeties in the first game, including a home run by Bell with two on in the sixth. Orsatti, recently obtained from Houston, got four hits. Frankhouse, also obtained from Houston, pitched well until the eighth, when he was relieved by Haines after walking two men.

The Cubs batted Rhem out in the fourth inning of the second game after he had allowed three runs. Wilson, Chicago centre fielder, hit his 24th and 25th homers of the season in the seventh and ninth innings. No one was on base either time.

Divide Twin Bill.

The seventh place Brooklyn Robins and the tail-end Phillies divided a double-header at Philadelphia, the Phillies winning the opener by 3 to 2 and taking the short end of a 9 to 1 verdict in the second. Petty had the Quakers blanked with three hits until the ninth, when he was driven from the box and nicked for three runs. Babe Herman hit a home run in each contest. The clubs broke even on the season's series with 11 victories apiece.

Only games scheduled.

RUTH LEADING BY FOUR RUNS

Makes Two Homers For Total of 49 Circuit Blows.

YANKS WIN 12-10.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Babe Ruth personally conducted the Yankees to a 12 to 10 victory over the Red Sox in the last game between the clubs this year before 12,000 fans as Boston yesterday. He made two homers for a total of 49, making him four up on Gehrig. He hoisted off MacFayden in the opening stanza with none on base. In the sixth his double drove in two runs and he later scored. In the eighth, with Shawkey on base, he connected with the Harris delivery for another of his famous smashes.

The Red Hose put over an eight-run attack in the fourth but could not hold the lead.

Only one game scheduled.

EX-CHAMPION WILL RESUME TRAINING

Dempsey To Take Up Duties After 48-Hour Lay-off.

LINCOLN FIELDS, Crete, Ills., Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—After a 48-hour lay off, Jack Dempsey will put on his ring togs to-day to resume training for his world's heavyweight championship battle with Gene Tunney.

The boxing to-day and Friday will be private, except to newspaper correspondents, but the former titleholder may appear before the public on Saturday, because the Kickapoo Indians are going to make Dempsey a chief on that day. Tom Gibbons was made a chief by the Black Hawkes at Shelby before he fought Dempsey, and the latter wants to catch up on the St. Paul veteran.

To-day's programme calls for road work in the morning and four or five rounds of boxing in the afternoon. The present plan of Manager Flynn is to have boxing the next four days, and another lay-off starting Monday.

Dempsey, as a result of his loafing for two days, was peppy and cheerful and no doubt will be full of fight when he goes against his sparring partners to-day.

HAVE YOU PILES

Then You Have Something to Learn

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is stagnation of blood circulation in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in hundreds of cases with a marvelous record of success, such a wonderful record that HEM-ROID is now sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from McDermid & Jury, McDermid Drug Co. today. It has given quick and lasting relief to thousands and must do the same for you or money back.

The Keys blasted Vincent off the hill in the sixth inning of the final game and Earnshaw was unable to stem the rally until after five runs had crossed the plate.

Buffalo made a clean sweep of the five-game series at Rochester by winning a double-header by scores of 12 to 1 and 8 to 0. Hollingsworth won his eighth straight game and 15th of the season in the first game, while Lefty Falk held the Tribe to three hits and a shutout in the seven-inning second game.

TUNNEY DECLARES HOLIDAY AT CAMP

Nurses Cracked Eyelid Inflicted By Partner in Sparring Bout.

TUNNEY CAMP, Lake Villa, Ills., Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Nursing a cracked eyelid inflicted by Chuck Wiggins' head in a sparring bout, Gene Tunney declared a holiday yesterday and visited with friends across the Lake Villa.

The vacation will continue through to-day, with boxing workouts probable for both Friday and Saturday.

Gene exposed the cut over his right eye before leaving camp for the day and assured newspapermen it would heal completely by the end of the week. Just a year ago this time while training for the first battle with Jack Dempsey, Gene said he suffered a similar accident without harmful results. No stitches were necessary to close the wound.

Hope To See Cubs and Warsaw Play Off For League Cup.

SECTION CHAMPIONS.

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 8.—With the Cubs of Lakefield victors of the Northern Section and Warsaw winners of the Southern Section of the North Peterborough Softball League, the softball fans are anxious to know when the playoff will be. The matter has been discussed at some length and an unusual amount of interest has been shown. A suggestion was made that the tie be played off at one of the school fairs on some neutral ground. This game would be the climax of the entire season's play, and it seems hardly fair to disappoint the fans, many of whom have followed with interest every game in their own section.

JOCKEYS INJURED IN TRACK SMASHUP

Two Horses Killed in Pile-up on Washington Park Course.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8 (Canadian Press).—Six horses went down, two being killed and two jockeys were seriously injured, and four others shaken up when a big field of eleven selling-platers piled up near the first turn in the mile and a furlong sixth race at Washington Park yesterday.

The spill came directly in front of the clubhouse and was the most serious ever to occur on a Chicago track. Jockey Mick Walter, riding his first race on any track, was believed to have suffered a broken neck, and G. Hughes, another jockey, was also seriously hurt. Jockeys on the other four horses were shaken up and bruised.

The horses killed in the spill were "Fifteen Sixty," owned by H. P. Gardner of Kentucky, and "Pommard," owned by A. Peternal of California. Others which went down were "Princess Elma," "Roella," "Stone Age" and "Ann H."

The big field, with more than a half dozen inexperienced riders up, headed for the turn near the clubhouse closely grouped. One rider attempted to cut across the bunched field and "Princess Elma" went down. The others tumbled over until the width of the track in front of the clubhouse was filled with writhing horses and prostrate jockeys.

The race was won by "Happy New Year" which came from behind in the stretch after cutting of his field.

Enjoy the Comfort, Safety and Economy of Gum-Dipped Tires

The sections of tires reproduced above are a part of the Firestone Dealer program. Study these two sections and you, too, will understand what Firestone means by tires built for service and tires made to sell.

The Firestone Gum-Dipped Balloon Tire with its scientifically designed tread permits free flexing, easier riding, extra comfort and safety, while the gum-dipping process gives it the wear-resisting properties that give thousands of extra miles.

The ordinary balloon tire with heavy flat tread design is obviously stiffer and rides harder. The excess rubber, placed for appearance at the edges of the tread, is not only wasted but produces hinging action causing ply separation and "shoulder breaks."

Your local Firestone Dealer will gladly explain the gum-dipping process and other advantages that only Firestone Gum-Dipped tires can give. See him today.

ROYALS LOSE TO OTTAWAS IN FIRST GAME

Glebe Team Piles Up Six Run Margin in Loose Game.

FINAL SCORE 10-4.

Holmes Pitches Well But Gets Poor Support—Winners Always in Lead.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 8.—Glebes came through with a smart win in their first game of a home-and-home series with Peterborough Royals in the Juvenile O.B.A.A. play downs here yesterday by a score of 10 to 4. Both teams played loosely in the field, being charged up with seven errors apiece. It was the pitching of Taylor that won the game for the Glebes. He yielded eight hits, struck out ten, and was also prominent at bat. His pitching completely baffled the Peterborough aggregation and struck them out when hits were badly needed.

From the end of the first inning the Glebes were always in the lead, scoring all their runs in three innings, three in the first, four in the third, and three in the sixth. Peterborough made a big bid in the first when they scored two runs, but were quickly overtaken in the same inning when Glebes scored three. From then on it was Glebes' game.

The hitting of Beveridge was a feature when he rapped out a long three-bagger in the third inning, scoring McGill. This started their big rally, in which they gathered four runs. Sharpe was the most consistent hitter, rapping out three hits in four trips to the plate, a double and two singles.

The game was a well-played one outside of the errors that were committed, the teams putting up a good brand of baseball for youngsters. Holmes, who hurled for the Petes, pitched a good game, but found it too heavy when his team-mates did not give him any support that was worth while mentioning. Taylor, Beveridge, and Sharpe were the pick for the winners, while Holmes, Hatton and Gordon starred for the visitors.

AT THE GRAND

MAMIE SMITH AND HER GANG.

There was nothing dull about the entertainment offered by Mamie Smith and Her Gang in the revue which opened the 1927-28 theatrical season at the Grand last night.

For those who like their music "hot" and "dirty," and who appreciate the modern type of dancing with speed and action there was bountiful fare in the programme presented by these colored and colorful entertainers. Mamie Smith herself, a noted "blues" singer, whose efforts in record-making have won her fame, offered a number of her characteristic songs in a manner that made her audience regret the fact that she appeared but twice on the programme. She has an excellent voice and knows how to deliver her songs.

Outside of her numbers, the revue was chiefly notable for its dancing. There was a chorus with an extensive routine that stepped faster than anything seen here in a long time, while individual dancers kept up the same mad pace and added special features of their own. The company's orchestra numbered but six performers, although the volume they produced kept the audience busy counting them to make sure that reinforcements had not arrived in the orchestra pit.

A contortionistic dance by Leon Claxton was one of the high lights of the performance. Claxton, billed as the "Human twister" "was nothing else but" as he likely would express it. The comedy, never very subtle, was provided chiefly by John Mason.

AT THE REGENT.

ZANE GREY WESTERN HAS HOLT AND HIGH ROMANCE

A fascinating love story spun against the background of the far west with some of the most spectacular scenic effects ever recorded by a camera. That's "Man of the Forest," a Paramount picture from Zane Grey's novel with Jack Holt, Georgia Hale and El Brendel in the leading roles, which opens at the Regent Theatre.

This western narrative of adventurous romance has been treated by the director, John Waters, who also made "Born to the West" and "Forlorn River," in refreshing fashion. Of absorbing interest, the production is not dependent on freak horseman or markmanship or an exaggerated theme of conflict, but instead, presents a plausible romance in which the wilderness background is only incidental.

Holt offers another splendid characterization in the title role. Georgia Hale, making her first appearance in an outdoor picture, enacts the heroine. A fine vein of comedy, developed by El Brendel, who scored heavily in "The Campus Flirt," is carried with deft directional touch.

Warner Oland makes a thoroughly detestable villain as the man who schemes to defraud Miss Hale of her ranch and claim her love under false pretense. Incidentally the theme of his conflict with Holt is developed in splendid fashion.

Made in the high mountains of California, the scenery is inspiringly beautiful and would make the picture above the average even if the praiseworthy efforts of an excellent cast were absent. Tom Kennedy Ivan Christie, Bruce Gordon and Vester Pegg are numbered among the hard riders.

TENNIS TROPHIES ARE ON DISPLAY

Two Handsome Cups Are Offered For City Title-Holders.

The trpohies for the Y.M.C.A. tennis tournament are now on display in Warne Bros.' window. The Dean Cup, presented by Joseph Dean, is a particularly fine example of the trophy maker's art. It is decorated with a tennis scene by a very new process whereby an actual photograph is etched upon the silver. This cup is for the men's singles. The other cup, presented by F. D. Kerr, K.C., is for the ladies' singles.

Players are urged to get their entries in on time to enable them to compete for these coveted prizes.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. FRANK McCOY

The Fast Way to Health

1926 McCOY HEALTH SERVICE - LOS ANGELES - CAL.

Recently a great deal of publicity has been given to several cases where death resulted from Landry's disease. This is a form of acute ascending spinal paralysis, and has been named after Gene Landry, a French physician who spent considerable time in investigating this rare disorder. Dr. Landry died in 1865, so you can see that even though this is a rare disease, we have known about it for a long time.

Acute inflammation starts in the lower spine, and if it is not stopped, gradually ascends the spinal cord and produces paralysis, which begins in the toes and creeps up the body as the different spinal centers are affected. When the fever and degeneration reach the nerves controlling respiration, death usually ensues very quickly. Patients have, however, been kept alive for several days by artificial respiration, and in a few instances this treatment has sustained life until the fever disappeared, allowing the patient to recover.

The common basic cause of this paralysis is essentially the same as with infantile paralysis or spinal meningitis. A systemic toxicosis must exist before such spinal inflammation can be generated.

At the first sign of any kind of paralysis, it is important to reduce the general bodily toxemia as rapidly as possible. To accomplish this, no food of any kind should be taken until the trouble has been arrested. The poisons which are eliminated through the skin should be washed away hourly by sponge baths. Several enemas should be taken daily to insure a thorough cleansing of the colon.

If the paralysis has already extended to the lungs, it is necessary to keep up artificial respiration. The circulation of the blood can be increased by several gentle massage treatments daily.

All of these methods may be used at the same time, and nothing should be neglected which will reduce the fever and remove all poisonous waste material from the system.

If any food is given while this critical change is taking place, it will only act as poison to the body and no food substance of any kind should be allowed. It is the height of folly to expect milk, eggnogs or any other kind of food to be assimilated by the body during a fever crisis.

Feeding by the rectum is even more harmful than when food is taken into the stomach. All stimulation should be avoided and no saline or glucose used. The one thought must be to eliminate every kind of poison from the body as rapidly as possible. This is not only true in Landry's disease, but in every kind of paralysis.

In the treatment of any acute disease, there is one word to remember above all others and it will stand repetition—ELIMINATION—ELIMINATION—ELIMINATION.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: P. M. writes: "I read your article recommending fasting for absorbing a clot of blood from the brain. I know a woman who had a stroke from a clot of blood on the brain thirteen years ago that somewhat paralyzed her right side. She hasn't spoken a word since. She moves her lips and mumbles away, but cannot even say "yes" or "no." Do you think fasting would cure a case of such long standing? She is about forty-five, weight, one hundred and fifty, and is the picture of health."

ANSWER: I am sure your friend would be helped by fasting, but it would take a fast of two or three weeks to accomplish good results. The best plan would be to have her go to some doctor in the city who understands the fasting cure—who would encourage her and watch her case during the fast.

QUESTION: L. M. writes: "Will you kindly state some of the symptoms of a cancer in the stomach? Is any there pain or bloating?"

ANSWER: Sometimes there is a certain amount of pain and some bloating but in most cases the nerves of sensation seem to be cut off by the growth, and the rule is that very little pain is left. There is usually considerable bloating, especially through the intestines. You may be needlessly worrying over the symptoms of gastritis or stomach ulcer. Do not guess about it, and do not try to diagnose your own case.

QUESTION: R. M. L. writes: "Generally speaking, what are the starches?

ANSWER: The grains and those vegetables classed as "tubers" which grow under the ground.

There are more than 207 persons in America with net incomes of more than $1,000,000 a year. Ninety-six of these live in New York. Three women have incomes between three and four million dollars each.

Lyrics Of Life

(By Douglas Malloch.)

THE THINGS SHE WRITES

Want to know what's going on
In the house from dawn to dawn?
Would you like to know the news,
Hats and dresses, what and whose?
If you'd really like to know
What things cost and how things go,
Late or early, days or nights,
Read the letters that she writes.

If she doesn't tell you much
About the house and home and such
When she sits her down to pen
Just a note back home again,
Get the letter if you can,
Make her let you read it, man,
And you'll hear a whole lot more
Than you ever guessed before.

Maybe you may know just what
Is going on, and maybe not;
But, if not, to learn it all
Ask her sister in St. Paul,
If you'd like to know what's new
Around the house, as most men do,
What she likes and how she lives,
Write and ask her relatives.

WANT WALKS ON HIGHWAYS

Members of Dominion Grange Ask For Provision For Pedestrians.

URGE FLAG FLYING.

TORONTO, Sept. 8.—The questions of the construction of side paths on all Provincial highways, glaring headlights, and of inculcating in all the youth of the country a proper respect for the British flag, were among those discussed at the annual meeting of the Dominion Grange held in the Carls-Rite Hotel.

A resolution was passed that the Dominion Grange memorialize the Provincial Department of Highways to construct side paths for all pedestrians on all roads under their supervision, and so remove one of the great menaces to public safety due to rapid and congested traffic. It was further resolved that much more stringent regulations be enforced regarding glaring headlights on motor cars.

It was also resolved that the question of flying the British flag on all public school premises and bringing it before the Government be left with the executive of the Dominion Grange to ascertain the law at present and if necessary impress upon the Government the great desirability of inculcating in all the youth of the country a proper respect for the emblem of the Empire.

A wire was received from the Master of the National Grange regretting that organization's inability to send a representative to the Dominion meeting on account of sickness, wishing the Dominion Grange every success and inviting the whole association to the meeting of the National Grange to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, in November. Sister Robinson, of St. Thomas, was chosen as the official representative to this meeting. Bro. Lethbridge will also be sent.

Peterboro Industrial Exhibition

A GUARANTEE FROM THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition is primarily an Agricultural Fair, organized for the purpose of providing open competition to producers of agricultural products of all kinds, thereby giving an incentive for producing the very best of everything that comes from the farm.

It also offers opportunity for competition in garden products, flowers and fruits, poultry, in which both the City and Country come together; in fine arts, ladies' work, home cooking, etc.

A purely Agricultural Fair could not be financed, consequently it must have added and diversified attractions, and this is the guarantee the President and Directors give to the citizens of Peterborough and Central Ontario District.

"That the products of the farm, whether they be live stock, grains, or dairy products, will always have first consideration, and that the Fair will present a well-balanced programme so that at all times it will be competitive, educational, interesting and enjoyable."

That is WHY the Peterborough Fair has such an extensive prize list;

WHY it makes an effort to have all local manufacturers represented by exhibits;

WHY our merchants take the opportunity to display newest Fall wares;

WHY the vaudeville is clean and clever and this year the biggest and best programme yet offered;

WHY good purses are paid for three afternoons' horse racing;

WHY three famous strings of jumping horses will be here Friday and Saturday of Fair week;

WHY the biggest Midway that has yet appeared in Peterborough will be seen this year;

WHY Peterborough's Dog Show at the Fair is second only to Toronto;

WHY Peterborough's Horticultural exhibit is one of the best in the Province.

No one in the district who is interested can afford to miss seeing this year's Peterborough Fair. Everything has been set to break every record previously made. All Peterborough citizens will see it. Every one in the district should visit it one or more days.

Congress Votes Four To One To Break Negotiations With Council.

ACCEPTS PROPOSALS.

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Sept. 8.—(Canadian Press.) — Trade Union Congress to-day confirmed the General Council's proposals to break off negotiations with the All-Russian Council of Trade Unions. The card vote resulted in 2,551,000 votes for the proposals and 620,000 against.

Attendance at Exhibition.

Given an average day, the Exhibition attendance to-day should pass the total for the entire Exhibition last year. An attendance of only 89,000 is needed to equal the 1926 record aggregate of 1,573,000.

Rain, which started to fall early last night, caused a slight shrinkage in the Exhibition attendance as compared with last year. The figure yesterday was 102,000, or 7,000 less than on the corresponding day of 1926; but the aggregate attendance is still far in advance of the same period of the previous year. The following are the figures:

	1927	1926
Second Wednesday	102,000	106,900
Second Monday ..	260,000	258,000
Second Saturday ..	186,000	85,000
First Friday	103,000	85,500
First Thursday ...	131,000	120,000
First Wednesday ..	222,000	90,000
First Tuesday	215,300	211,000
First Monday	60,000	85,500
First Saturday	104,000	101,000
Attend. to date	1,484,000	1,240,600

Decrease on day 7,000.
Increasee to date 244,000.

FAMILY GONE; GHOSTS VANISH

Oshawa People Visit House Where Strange Things Happened.

POLICE SCEPTICAL.

OSHAWA, Sept. 8.— The spooks supposed to have been conducting a reign of terror in a house in Cedardale, in the south end of the city, have vanished and so have Mr. and Mrs. William Jordon, who have occupied the house for the past three weeks.

The stories of dishes leaping through the air, chimneys crumbling and bowls breaking which have been discredited throughout the city and taken as a joke generally, were described last night as a "lot of foolishness" by Chief of Police Owen D. Friend, who sent a man to the haunted house to make an investigation.

The family, it is believed, have moved to Toronto and many of those who visited the house last night found it quite empty.

Curious Are Disappointed.

People were roaming about the house, on the roof, and loafing in every corner to catch a glimpse of some flying obstacle but before many minutes had elapsed they were convinced that their ghost story had collapsed.

The family came to this city less than a month ago from Kingston, and state that they were molested in the same manner there. Chief of Police Friend is unable to account for the weird tales but will give no further thought to the matter. It is believed by neighbouring residents that the family have been under some mental strain for a considerable period. Dropping of mysterious notes, an enormous hand seen on the bell, the broom spinning about on the floor, a bottle flying across the room, narrowly missing Mr. Jordon's head, were some of the spooky occurrences supposed to have taken place.

Practically no furniture was in the house. Mattresses were located on the floor, while a box served as a table. Even residents in the neighborhood of the mysterious house know little about the family, but it is hoped that, now they have left this city, the ghosts have also departed.

PARADE CUP IS PRESENTED

John I. Allen, Donor of Trophy, Makes Presentation at St. Peter's.

FOR SCHOOL MARCHING.

A pleasing feature of the re-opening of St. Peter's shcool was the presentation of the Confederation Cup won by the pupils in the recent Dominion Day parade. At ten o'clock on Wednesday morning John I. Allen, the donor of the beautiful cup, met in the principal's office a committee of the Separate School Board, composed of the chairman, Mr. Corkery, and Messrs. Giroux and Merrell. The entire student body was assembled on the campus for the ceremony.

Representing His Lordship Bishop O'Brien, who was unavoidably absent Rev. Father Corkery congratulated the Sisters and pupils upon their victory and thanked Mr. Allen for his generosity in offering so handsome a prize.

As an interested spectator of the parade Mr. Allen praised the excellent showing made by all the schools of the city, and declared himself to be entirely in accord with the judge's decision. He then presented the cup to Mr. Corkery, chairman of the School Board.

Mr. Corkery, in replying, thanked the winners and expressed the hope that this victory would prove to be an incentive to maintain a high standard of discipline throughout the year. He also voiced his high appreciation of Mr. Allen's keen interest in all the activities of the young people of the city. Amidst the hearty applause of the vast assembly, Chairman Corkery then presented the beautiful troph, to the jubilant winners and on behalf of the school Frank Grant moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Allen.

Messrs. Giroux and Merrell also addressed congratulatory remarks to the school and warmly thanked Mr. Allen for his interest in the Dominion Day celebration. After a rousing three cheers for Mr. Allen the pupils were dismissed for the remainder of the morning.

ARMED ROBBERS TAKE JEWELRY

Steal Goods Worth $15,000 From Detroit Store.

LEAVE IN HASTE.

DETROIT, Mich. Sept. 8.—Diamonds and jewellery valued at $15,000 were taken from the jewellery store at Morris Greenberg, 8931 Twelfth Street, by three armed robbers yesterday. A motorist pursued the men for eight blocks but they outdistanced him. The men executed the robbery with such haste that they overlooked a wallet containing $25,000 worth of uncut stones in a corner of the safe which was open.

According to Greenberg's story, a young man came in and asked to see some diamond rings. Greenberg brought out a tray. As he did so another man came in and wanted a new crystal in his watch. Greenberg was examining the watch when a third man entered. All three drew pistols which they leveled at Greenberg, his wife and his 16-year-old son. The jeweller and his family were ordered into the rear room where their hands were taped behind them.

Greenberg wore a diamond ring valued at $500 on a finger of his right hand. Noticing it, one of the robbers demanded that he hand it over and when the jeweller refused, threatened to cut the finger off. Greenberg gave him the ring.

YOUTH PLAYS FOOLISH PRANK

Calls For Help While Sitting Safely in a Canoe.

AT EAST CITY.

Working on the roof of his house which is near the east bank of the Otonabee, a Peterborough resident, hearing cries of "Help, help, I'm drowning," rushed to the water's edge, only to find a youth safely seated in a canoe, paddling serenely down the river. Not unnaturally, intending rescuer, irritated at being made the victim of such a senseless joke, spoke his mind with considerable asperity. And in return received a great deal of impertinence from the free and easy youth, who announced that he would cry out what he liked to his heart's content. It was not an empty threat. He paddled down the river raising his call of feigned alarm. It is a safe bet, he never heard the story of the shepherd boy, who called "Wolf, Wolf," as he watched his sheep on the mountain side.

OBITUARY.

MRS. J. B. CUNCANNON.

Word has been received by the relatives in this city that Mrs. J. B. Cuncannon of Morrin, Alberta, passed away Sunday, September 4, after a year's illness. Mrs. Cuncannon was a resident of Peterborough before going west, about twenty years ago.

MADELINE FLETCHER.

The funeral service of Madeline Fletcher, who died at Nicholls Hospital on September 4 was held yesterday in St. Paul's Presbyterian church, Rev. J. E. Todd officiated in the absence of Rev. W. Allan. Pall-bearers were two members of the Sunbeam Circle of the Ancient Order of Foresters, two members of the Female Voice Choir, two pupils of the Queen Alexandra school, of which organizations she was a member, and two members from St. Paul's Sunday school. One hundred and fifty-five wreaths were sent by sympathizers. The church chimes were played by Martin Chenhall. Interment was made at Little Lake cemetery.

Madeline Fletcher was a step-sister of Nina Fletcher, who was killed two months ago in a car accident on George street. She was the daughter of Private William Ethridge of the East Surrey Regiment, Mrs. Fletcher's first husband, who was killed at Hill 60 in 1916.

BRITAIN WON'T BE GUARANTOR FOR NEW PACT

Extension of Locarno Ideas to Eastern Europe Is Given Sympathy.

FRENCH STAND UNCERTAIN.

Thought That Poland Hopes To Force Recognition of Present Boundaries.

LONDON, Sept. 8 (United Press).—The British Government does not intend to extend the obligations and responsibilities already incurred under the Locarno Treaty, although it is ready to give every assistance to ensure the future peace and stability of Europe.

This was the authoritative statement made to the British United Press to-day in high circles. Any attempt on the part of Poland under the new non-aggression pact which would revive the Geneva protocol to get Great Britain as part guarantor, will, therefore, be resisted.

It is expected, however, that the Polish plan will eventually take form in an Eastern Locarno, where Germany and Poland play the principal parts with Britain an interested and sympathetic onlooker, but there is much speculation as to what the French attitude will be. It is asserted in Paris that one of Poland's ideas is to force Germany to pledge herself to recognize her eastern frontiers as immutable, and if Germany fails to make such a pledge then the occupation of the Rhineland will be prolonged under the plea that Germany is still a menace to the peace of Europe.

INQUIRE INTO FATAL CRASH

Officials Investigate Train Collision Which Killed Three.

56 OTHERS HURT.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 8. — (Canadian Press).—Injuries sustained by at least fifty-six persons who were passengers aboard a special race track inter-urban which crashed through the open switch into a line of heavily loaded freight cars last night were being checked by railroad officials to-day. Three persons were killed in the wreck and at least five more were in a critical condition.

The car was travelling at forty miles an hour when it swerved from the main line into a switch and crashed head-on into the box cars. Those seated near the front of the car were most seriously injured. The motorman was killed instantly and two other persons fatally hurt.

Dr. ERNEST MACMILLAN, F. R. C. O., PRINCIPAL OF TORONTO CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC, says: "On several occasions I have had the pleasure of hearing Dorothy Allan Park sing, and have also been frequently associated with her in the music of church services. She has a fine, rich soprano voice which she uses to full advantage, her diction and musical taste are excellent, and I have no hesitation in recommending her to anyone who may be looking for a good artist in either Concert or Church work."

G. D. ATKINSON, ORGANIST AND CHOIRMASTER, SHERBOURNE UNITED CHURCH, TORONTO, says: "Dorothy Allan Park has a full, rich soprano voice which she uses with charming distinction and expressiveness. As a church soloists, she is one of the most reliable, musically, and effective of all with whom I have the pleasure of working, and her service of song has been a matter of most favorable comment. As a concert singer her record is an enviable one, and she also has those rare personal qualities which make her musical offerings of still greater acceptance."

LEO SMITH, MUS. BAC., F. R. M. C. M., says: "Dorothy Allan Park's singing, both from the purely aesthetic beauty of her tone and the artistic nature of her interpretations seems to me to be of the highest orders. The evolution of song writing, with its trend towards complex harmonic problems makes it necessary that we have singers who not only possess beautiful voices, but who also possess a keen harmonic and rythmic sense, together with a critical appreciation of musical values. In my opinion Mrs. Park unites these qualifications in a remarkable degree, and I fee, sure that as public taste for Leider-singing continues to grow so will a recognition of her great talents become a matter of more national interest."

Dorothy Allan Park will give a Recital in Peterborough on Monday, September Nineteenth

MANY COUNTRIES CONSIDER BAN ON LONG, DANGEROUS FLIGHTS; BRITAIN OPPOSES THIS COURSE

Pioneers Always Face Risks, of Opinion of Air Marshal.

HOPE ABANDONED.

Windsor Pilot Ordered To Return Home For Long Overland Flight.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(United Press.)—The intimation of Premier Mackenzie King in Ottawa last night that the Canadian Parliament at the next session, may be asked to pass legislation to prevent hazardous trans-Atlantic flights has stirred up a public opinion here, which is divided on the whole question. The evening newspapers give a most prominent display to Premier King's words and acrry news from France, the United States and Germany deploring the great loss of lives in long distance flights. Agitation for ending such flights, unless reasonable guarantees for the safety of the flyers can be secured, is sure to succeed.

On the other hand, the opinion of Air Marshal Sir Sefton Branker that a flight from east to west must be done and it is idle to talk of prohibiting the attempt, is also prominently quoted. In official air circles the opinion is expressed that pioneers in aviation must face the risk of all pioneers, but that no man should attempt a flight for which every precaution against failure has not been taken. Every machine that leaves Great Britain on any flight has to be certified as airworthy by the Air Ministry and cannot depart without certificates.

Field Lighted Up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press). — While hope faded for the safety of Tully and Medcalf in the Sir John Carling as the hours passed without a report of their being sighted, the flying field at Croydon was brilliantly illuminated all night with colored searchlights playing. Estimates as to the length of time their gasoline supply would last if they were still in the air varied considerably, but the most optimistic did not extend beyond four o'clock this morning, London time, or ten p.m., eastern standard, last night.

Liners traversing the North Atlantic route were still combing the sea at last reports for some trace of the Old Glory or of the rubber lifeboat with which the three men aboard her were equipped.

Public Re-action.

Public re-action against "foolhardiness" of "suicidal" aeroplane flights to-day appeared to be bringing results on two continents.

At least one projected trans-Atlantic flight has been cancelled another faces postponement, and the authorities in two countries threaten to curb by law further dangerous air undertakings.

However, in the face of this opposition, eight projected trans-Atlantic expeditions went forward with their preparations.

Janney Held Up.

Announcement that he may postpone his Ottawa-London flight until next spring because financial backing could not be secured in view of the recent unsuccessful trans-oceanic attempts was made at Ottawa by Capt. E. L. Janney.

Supporters of the Windsor-Windsor flight of the monoplane Royal Windsor have ordered the plane's pilots, Duke Schiller and Phil Wood, at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, to abandon their flight and return home.

Germans May Be Stopped.

That the flights of two German aviators may be called off was seen in the action of the German Ministry of Transportation in summoning to Berlin Herman Koehl and Baron

CANDLING EXHIBIT FOR KIWANIS FAIR

Hon. W. R. Motherwell To Have Expert at Made-in-Canada Exhibition.

Mr. J. J. Duffus and the Honorable G. N. Gordon have arranged, through the Honorable W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, for an egg candling exhibit to be sent to the Made in Canada Exhibition, promoted by the Kiwanis Club, in the Armouries next month.

This is a very interesting exhibition, showing the testing of eggs, and the danger of using eggs which have become stale.

The egg candling exhibit will also show very simple and effective means for any person to detect, without difficulty, the condition and food value of eggs.

The Honorable Mr. Motherwell is also sending an officer in charge, to explain, to those attending the Made in Canada Exhibition, the principle and the proper method of egg grading and testing.

A.Y.P.A. ACTIVE IN PREPARATION FOR MEETINGS

Dominion Conference Will Be Held in Peterborough Next Month.

300 DELEGATES.

Committees Report Progress To Meeting Of District Council.

Preparations for the entertainment of the delegates to the Dominion Conference of the Anglican Young People's Association are being pushed by a number of energetic committees of the Peterborough District Council, it was shown at last night's meeting of the council. The meeting, which was held in All Saints' Church Guild Room, was presided over by President John Bent of Christ Church branch, Omemee, and was attended by many members. The branches represented were Christ Church, Omemee, St. Thomas' Church, Millbrook, St. Paul's, Lindsay, and St. John's, St. Lukes' and All Saints' Peterborough.

The convenors of the various committees reported on their plans or their progress. The matter of billeting the 300 or more delegates cannot be finally arranged until closer to the time of the conference, which opens on October 20, but the committe is already lining up the parishes of the city to get an approximate idea of where they can be accommodated.

The program and banquet committees have their work well in hand, while refreshment committee is considering the division of responsibility for the lunches between the various branches. The reception committee is planning the transportation of the delegates to their billets and is also considering some form of outing on Saturday, October 22.

It was announced by the secretary of the general committee that many prominent clergy would attend the meetings, among them being the Bishops of Montreal and Niagara. The addresse at the devotional meetings of the conference will probably be given by their Lordships.

Business pertaining to the Peterborough Council was also transacted. The treasurer was instructed to pay the bill for prizes for the annual picnic and those branches which have not already paid their allotment for this purpose were reminded of its being due.

The banner for the branch winning the most points in the Athletic events at the picnic was handed over to Millbrook, which won by a large margin, by A. Hope of All Saints', which branch held it last year. Mrs. P. C. Howard, president of the Millbrook branch, received it.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough District Council will be held on October 13. A nominating committee headed by Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield was appointed to draw up a slate of officers for the ensuing year. Another item which will come up will be the changing of the date of the meetings from the second Thursday of the month to some other time. This was moved by Rev. Dr. Blagrave of St. John's, who called attention to the fact that Thursday is choir practice night in most of the churches.

A short program was given, consisting of ukulele selections by the Misses Margery and Bernice Hamilton and Mr. Marvin Hamilton. Refreshments weree served by host branch. The thanks of the visitors was expressed by R. Stone of Millbrook.

Study Agriculture In the Dominion

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Primarily to study agricultural conditions in Canada and the United States, Prince Von Bismarck, grandson of the famous "Iron Chancellor" of Germany, is a visitor in Winnipeg. The Prince plans to visit settlements in Manitoba where German and Hungarian immigrants have taken up farms and also to view at first hand the operations of the Canadian wheat pool.

The Prince will stop over in Ottawa on his way east and later visit Texas and other southern states to investigate the cotton industry.

THREE MORE DIE WITH PARALYSIS

First Deaths Reported From Town Near Edmonton.

SCHOOLS STILL CLOSED.

EDMONTON, Alta., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press).—Faced with a report of one more case of infantile paralysis, bringing the September total to seventeen, the City Board of Health has extended its order which prevents the opening of Public, Separate, and Private Schools for one week, until September 19th. The seriousness of the situation was realized with the report that of the seventy cases recored to date seven have died, usually within a couple of days.

From Provincial points in Central Alberta, the first deaths were reported from Sedgwick, Chipman, and Forestburg, yesterday, one child dying in each town. Schools are closed at these points also at Lacombe and Kitcoty. Vegreville and other towns are adopting preventive measures.

Epidemic Abating

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—A general abatement in the spread of infantile paralysis, which reached the proportions of a mild epidemic in Northern Alberta and Western British Columbia, was reported today from the areas of infection. Only one new case developed overnight in Edmonton while reports from other parts of Alberta, Trail, Rossland, and Nelson, indicate that the situation is well under control.

The death toll from this dread malady stands at fourteen, nine fatalities occurring in Edmonton alone. More than a hundred children ranging in age from one to 20 years, have been under treatment since the disease manifested itself nearly three weeks ago.

EXCELLENT PRIZE LIST ARRANGED

Dog Show Will Be One of the Best in the Province.

The Peterborough Exhibition are very anxious that all dog owners in the city will enter their dogs at their Annual Dog Show held in conjunction with the Exhibition. They have prepared a very excellent prize list which provides special prizes for all breeds of dogs. The dogs do not have to be registered stock as many prizes are won by dogs that are not registered. For those who do not wish to compete against outside dogs there have been many classes made for local competition only, and for which many valuable prizes are to be awarded. If you have competed in former years and have not been successful in winning, why not try again under a different judge? The judge this year is Dr. James E. Hair, one of the foremost dog judges in America. The entry closes September 10th. Any information will be cheerfully given by the Show Secretary, W. E. Jackson, 509 Homewood avenue. 'Phone 365W.

Entries will be taken at the store of H. LeBrun & Co. during the week.

Enter your dog and boost the Peterborough Show, which is second only to the Dog Show held at the Canadian National Exhibition.

PARIS, Sept. 9.—Although barely 13 years old, Mlle. Claudie Korthals, Dutch girl, is exhibiting at the Salon of Independent Artists here. Her work, chiefly animal studies taken from life, has won high praise from critics, particularly when they learned that she had just entered her teens. She is the daughter of a widely known Dutch caricaturist.

WOMAN'S VIEW OF REAL MAN TOLD KIWANIS

Mrs. Brandt Berg Addresses Local Club On Keeping Alive of Sentiment.

W. Y. MILLS HERE.

Lieutenant-Governor of Division Pays Official Visit of Inspection.

Mrs. Virginia Brandt Berg of Miami, was the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon to-day, delivering a splendid inspirational address on "A Pot of Gold at the End of the Rainbow." It was Mrs. Berg's thirty-fourth appearance before a Kiwanis Club, and she showed a deep appreciation of the objects of the organization, and of the work that is being done.

Another visitor to-day was W. Y. Mills of Kingston, Lieutenant-Governor of this division of the Ontario-Quebec District of Kiwanis. He will spend the evening with the local Kiwanians, making his official inspection of the records, and will to-night attend the meeting of the Board of Directors. The Lieutenant-Governor congratulated the Peterborough Club on taking so high a position in the International efficiency contest in 1926 results of which have just been announced. Under President John J. Craig the club did so good work last year that it led all Canadian Clusb in its class and was second only to a United States' club. Other work, not shown in the efficency report, but known to the district officers, was favorably commented upon by Mr. Mills, and he urged a continuance of the splendid service being rendered in Peterboro by the sixty-odd members of the club.

A musical treat was given by Win Philip, saxophonist, and Mose Yokom pianist, both artists being recalled several times to answer encores.

The booster of the day was E. Vernon Morphet of Quaker Oats Company, and his prize winners were Frank Dawson, Dr. J. C. Green and Robert Haddow.

Best Things Live on.

In leading up to the subject of her address, Mrs. Berg told of the Miami disaster of a year ago, and of the recuperation of the city. She remarked that perhaps Peterborough

WILL UNVEIL WAR MEMORIAL

Sir Arthur Currie to be in Brighton on Sunday, Sept. 18.

NOTABLE PROGRAM

One of the most notable events in many years in this district will be the visit of General Sir Arthur Currie, G.C.M.G., K.C.B., LL.D., to Brighton on Sunday, Sept. 18, for the purpose of unveiling the war memorial and dedicating the Memorial Park. Sir Arthur's visit has been arranged by the Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L., Brighton branch. The erection of the memorial is being sponsored by the people of Brighton and vicinity generally. The dedicatory services, it is expected, will bring together the various militia units of Central Ontario, and will be the occasion of one of the largest gatherings of war veterans held since demobilization.

Many other prominent officers of the old Canadian corps, including Brig.-Gen. J. A. Gunn, C.M.G., D.S.O., Provincial President of the Canadian Legion of the B.E.S.L. in Ontario, have accepted invitations to attend. The services will be conducted by Capt. the Rev. Sidney Lambert, Chaplain of Christie Street Military Hospital, Toronto, who suffered the loss of a limb in action overseas.

The events at Brighton, on Sept. 18, mark the first occasion in which the world famous leader of the Canadian corps has visited this part of Ontario. Sir Arthur Currie rose to the highest rank of any officer who undertook service with the British forces from the ranks of civilians. His leadership of the Canadian corps in the final one hundred days of the war stamped him as a military genius and earned for him the repeated praise of Field Marshal Haig, Commander-in-Chief of the British forces, and of Marshal Foch, Generalissimo of the Allied forces. An invitation is extended by the war veterans and citizens of Brighton to the people of the surrounding district to be present for this notable event.

Strikers Raid Trucks During Labor Dispute

NEW YORK, N.Y., Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—The first disorders of a strike begun Wednesday by 7,000 truckmen occurred yesterday when a small group of strikers stormed a caravan of seven trucks manned by non-union men, broke the windshield of the leading machine, cut the ropes holding the loads of newsprint paper rolls on the seven trucks, and escaped the revolver fire of police. No arrests were made.

CARS DERAILED; NO PERSON HURT

Accident Occurs on C.N.R. Line Near Lansdowne, Ont.

SPLIT RAIL CAUSE.

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press). — Several cars of Canadian National westbound passenger train No. 17 were derailed one and one-half miles west of Lansdowne Station at 2.30 o'clock this morning. It is understood that no person was injured. Montreal and Belleville wrecking crews are at work upon the clearing of the line.

Official Statement.

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press). — An official report of the Canadian National Railways to-day says:

"Believed to have been caused by a split rail, Canadian National Railways train No. 17, which left Montreal for Toronto at 11 o'clock last night, was derailed near Lansdowne, east of this city, early this morning. Three Pullman coaches and a business car belonging to a foreign railroad left the rails but remained upright. None of the passengers or train crew was injured.

"The engine, tender, and front cars all passed the danger point safely. Pullman coaches at a nearby point were requisitioned and the passengers in the derailed cars transferred to these to complete the journey to Toronto."

PRESENT PARKING SYSTEM SUITABLE

Is the Opinion of F. G. Stinson, Secretary of Local Chamber of Commerce.

A legislative body, such as the City Council, naturally consider a problem very carefully to make sure they are right, before proceeding with any definite steps in the matter. That, said F. G. Stinson, was their procedure in connection with the angle parking by-law. Rescinding the by-law would have been a mistake in policy and a decided mistake as far as motorists are concerned. Continuing, he states, "It is quite true as His Worship, the Mayor, pointed out, that no one offered any logical reason as to why the by-law should be rescinded. People who shopped between the hours of twelve and one and five and six report that, under the old system of parallel parking they were unable to get within blocks of their destination, with their cars, in the business section. Under the present system of angle parking there is a line continually moving in and out all the time and a great many have found shopping conditions much more satisfactory for the reason that they are able to get within reasonable walking distance of the establishments in which they wish to do business.

Although not wishing to boast, Mr. Stinson points out that the policy adopted by the Council is that suggested by the Automobile Club in a resolution passed on this matter a short time ago.

Mr. Stinson also noted the fact that the police are rigidly enforcing the thirty-minute parking by-law. This was emphatically brought to his attention when he noticed that his car was marked for two and one-half hours overtime outside his offices, yesterday. It has always been a great convenience for Mr. Stinson to leave his car before his office, but if the law is to be universally and indiscriminately enforced he is quite willing to drive it to the market or any other parking zone, as there is no reason for prolonged parking in the business section. If the present angles are altered slightly, leaving more room for driving in the center of the street, we will hear no more about angle parking. We owe it to our American visitors to have parking conditions and regulations in such shape that there will be no undue hardship worked upon anyone. The average shopper does his shopping in thirty minutes and then can move his car to another block.

In the interests of the motoring community, the Automobile Club was very much opposed to the rescinding of the angle parking.

Round-World Fliers Had Been Posted With Missing Men

Fliers Turn Up in Chinese City 30 Hours After Leaving Rangoon—Interest Again Centres on Fliers Lost in the Atlantic.

HOPE IS PRACTICALLY ABANDONED FOR SAFETY OF FIVE GALLANT FLIERS

Both Ships Have Been Missing Many Hours and Search of the Ocean in Their Path Proves Fruitless.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. —(Canadian Piress). —With the round-the-world plane "Pride of Detroit" safe after a day of anxiety, interest centered to-day in the fate of five airmen of the Trans-Atlantic plane Old Glory and Sir John Carling.

Fear for the Pride of Detroit's crew, William Brock and Edward Schlee, was dissipated early to-day. After more than thirty hours lackf o advices as to their progress since they left Rangoon, Burma on Wednesday night, word came that they had departed from Hanoi and arrived at Hong Kong.

Meanwhile, no word came to lighten apprenhension over the fate of the Old Glory bearing Lloyd Betraud, James Hill, and their passenger, Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, or Sir John Carling, bearing the Canadian fliers, Capt. Terry Tully and Lieut. James Medcalf.

With nearly half their world circle completed, Brock and Schlee left Rangoon on the comparatively simple jump of 350 miles to Bangkok, the colorful capital of Siam. Four hours would have been a liberal allowance for this trip in the absence of untoward development and extension of the jump to Hano should not have more than doubled the time of the flight.

Ninth Plane Missing

Their "ship" would be the ninth in the space of a few brief months to be posted on the new air-navigation rosters first as "overdue," then as "missing."

The North Atlantic yesterday still held as an agonizing secret the fate of four planes and ten lives and somewhere in the wide Pacific rest the answer to the complete disappearance of three planes and seven persons.

Carling Still Missing.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.— (A. P.)— The Canadian monoplane Sir John Carling was believed last night to have ended its flight to London in the port of missing planes which has engulfed eight others during the summer.

The last of those eight was the monoplane Old Glory, which disappeared Wednesday and of which no trace had been found last night.

The Carling, manned by Captain Terrence Tully and Lieut. James Medcalf, took off from Harbor Grace, N.F., at 8.25 a.m. (E.S.T.) Wednesday and from the moment it faded from the sight of watchers on the field no eye beheld it.

At 3.17 o'clock of the same morning, Old Glory, which had previously been reported proceeding swiftly overland and sea, sent out its electrifying "S.O.S." giving its position only as "five hours out of Newfoundland, east." Then it, too, disappeared as though into some secret realm unknown to man. Three men were on board, Lloyd Betaud and J. D. Hill, pilots, and Philip Payne, managing editor of the New York Daily Mirror, and Flight manager for William Randolph Hearst.

Ships Comb the Sea.

Three ships were still combing the sea yesterday for Old Glory, but none knew where to look for the Carling. As no report had been had of her from the time she passed out over the sea, it was impossible even to estimate the probable general location of its disaster if disaster there was.

Optimists saw some hope for the two plane in the amount of gasoline they carried. Old Glory's gas could have kept her in the air if she did not plunge into the sea after her "S.O.S." until 3 o'clock last night. The Carling's supply might keep her up until 4 o'clock this morning.

But less hopeful persons argued that if either plane were still in the air last night it would surely have reached land. Had Old Glory continued on its course after the "S.O.S." it should have crossed the Irish coast at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon; the Carling should have got there early yesterday morning.

Thirty great liners were on the North Atlantic while the flights in progress, and shipping men believed that had either plane crossed the sea it would have been sighted surely by one and probably many times. They pointed out that Old Glory had progressed hardly 300 miles over the water before it was sighted.

MANY MATTERS ARE DISCUSSED BY LABOR MEN

Harry Gainey Tells of Deliberations of Canadian Union Congress.

ASK FOR PENSIONS.

Peterborough Resolution About Sanitation in Barber Colleges Adopted.

Questions relative to the Provincial Employment Offices, Education, Fair Wage Regulations, Hours of Labor and Conditions of Employment, Public Health and Safety, Immigration and Colonization, Minimum Wages, Old Age Pensions, Picketing and Injunction, Trade Union Organization and Amalgamation and Workmen's Compensation were considered by the Trades and Labor Congress which met in September, reports Harry Gainey, who has returned from attending the Congress at Edmonton, where he represented the International Journeymen Barbers' Association.

Two hundred and seventy-five delegates were in attendance, says Mr. Gainey, forty of whom were international representatives.

Senator Gideon Robertson, Labor's sole representative in the Upper Chamber, attended the Congress and presided over the deliberations of the Committee on Workmen's Compensation.

John Cliff, assistant secretary of the British Transport Workers, attended as fraternal delegate from the Trades and Labor Congress of Great Britain. Thomas McQuade represented the American Federation of Labor.

Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor in the Dominion Government, briefly reviewed the industrial legislation passed by the King Government, citing the Old Age Pension Act as the most recent enactment.

A resolution urging that all provincial executives except in British Columbia, where it is unnecessary, should press for provincial laws that will put into effect at once Old Age Pensions under the recent Federal legislation, was unanimously carried. Two resolutions pressing for the extension of minimum wages for women and girls were approved.

Statements of the executive report with regard to registration of union labels, compensation for government employees, electoral reform, and changes desired in the Criminal Code relative to picketing, sedition, and blasphemous libel were endorsed by the convention.

The Congress approved the following resolution introduced by Peterborough Local 402 Journey Barbers' Union of America: "Whereas the insanitary conditions of many so-called barber colleges and barber shops and the lack of teaching the pupils or attendants the proper rudi-

ROYAL WINDSOR AID IN SEARCH FOR OLD GLORY

Weather Permitting, Would Search Ocean at Position Given in S.O.S.

LITTLE HOPE FOR CREW.

Have Confidence That Carling Plane Will Reach Destination Safely.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, September 9. — Phil Wood and "Duke" Schiller, navigator and pilot of the monoplane Royal Windsor, which is now at Harbor Grace awaiting favorable weather for a trans-atlantic flight, announced last night that as soon as weather permitted they would search the ocean at the position given in the 'S.O.S.' message sent out early Wednesday by the Old Glory.

The fliers expressed doubt as to the continuance of their flight from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, Eng., because of a message received last night from their backers advising against taking the chance.

While admitting regretfully that there appeared little hope for the crew of the Old Glory, Wood and Schiller maintained that they were not unduly concerned over the non-appearance in England of the Sir John Carling, which hopped off from Harbor Grace early on Wednesday on her flight from London, Ont. to London, Eng.

"She has fuel for 35 hours on board and is well engined," Wood said. "The possibility of making non-stop trans-Atlantic flights has been amply demonstrated by the successful efforts of Lindbergh, Chamberlain, Byrd and Brock. It is quite likely that they met with headwinds off the British coast which slowed down their speed.

"I have the fullest confidence in Tully and Medcalf, who are piloting the Sir John Carling, and expect to hear any moment that they have reached land."

Wood and Schiller spent the day in overhauling their plane. A small leak in one of the gasoline tanks caused by the jar of landing, was repaired. The work of refueling was proceeding this evening.

HOLD VIGIL AT CROYDON

Weary Watchers Without News From Canadan Plane Early This Morning.

VISIBILITY POOR.

CROYDEN, Sept. 9. — (Canadian Press.) — The weary watchers on Croyden Field were still without news of the Canadian plane, Sir John Carling, at one o'clock this morning.

Searchlights were blazing into the overhanging clouds in the hope of aiding the fliers to make a landing if by any chance they had crossed the Atlantic without having been sighted by a single ship.

Colored searchlights were flashed all night and all landing lights were burned in hope of guiding the Sir John Carling should it manage to reach the London area. Hope that the Canadian plane will reach its destination is slight as the visiblity is miserable, with low hanging clouds and much rain. Only professional fliers, air ministry officials and reporters were keeping vigil on the rain-swept field in the hope that the Carling might weather the storm.

Optimism faded last night even among airmen who had expected to hear that the Carling had made a forced landing even if it managed to reach Ireland or England. There was much speculation among fliers as to whether the light from lighthouses on the Irish and English coasts were sufficiently bright to guide the plane through such gray weather.

Newspaper comment was anything but comforting, the papers recounting 17 lives already lost this year in Atlantic and Pacific flights.

An air ministry official said last night that in his opinion there is no longer any hope that the plane would reach Croydon. If it accomplished the ocean crossing he thought it would descend immediately on reaching land.

Sisters At Aerodrome.

Among those who paid a brief visit to the aerodrome yesterday were the two sisters of Captain Terry Tully, pilot of the overdue Canadian plane. They left the field nearly heartbroken at the absence of news.

Their anxiety was all the greater as fate seems to have pursued the male members of the family of four brothers. One is missing in the present Atlantic flight, one was killed in the war, another died suddenly from a heart affection, while the fourth was killed in a motor accident.

The walls of the fortress of the once great city of Teotihuacan in Mexico are of laid stone more than 200 feet thick.

FOUR BROTHERS GIVE EVIDENCE BEFORE BOARD

Commission Inquire Into Bronfman Interests Connected With Liquor Traffic.

USE FAKE LABELS.

Concerned Operations of Liquor Export Houses in Western Provinces.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press). — The Royal Customs commission listened yesterday to evidence given by four brothers. They were Harry, Sam, Abe and Alan Bronfman, all of whom have been connected with the liquor traffic in Canada. From one or the other of them, Hon. N. W. Rowell, K. C., commission counsel, gathered many details of the operation of liquor export houses in Saskatchewan, Alberta, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia by the Bronfman interests. The facts gleaned nearly all all had to do with ancient history. The operation of liquor export houses in Saskatchewan along the United States border. The "mixing" of liquor at Yorkton, Bask., and at Regina, and the sale of whiskey from Eastern Atlantic ports for shipment to Havana, were activities of Bronfmann interests which progressed some years ago. These, according to evidence have now passed into other channels. Harry Bronfman told the commission that he is now concentrating his efforts on the erection of a distillery near Montreal, and there is a company called the Brintcan Investment, Ltd., also in Montreal, in which some of the brothers are interested. A profit and loss statment of this company was filed with the commission yesterday.

"Mixing" of Liquor.

Sam Bronfman was the member of the family who gave the Commissioners the major part of the information brought out yesterday about the business formerly run in the Province of Saskatchewan. At Yorkton, he said, "mixing" of liquor was carried on. Constituents were alcohol distilled water ,whiskey, sherry and some claret to bring up the colour. Mr. Rowell was interested in the labelling of these mixed and bottled liquors. He produced some labels for Scotch Whiskey, which this witness said had been printed in Winnipeg. The names of the Scottish firms, he thought were fictitious but he justified the use of Scotch labels by saying that this name merely indicated a certain kind of liquor. As for ficitious names of Scotch firms, he said that such labels were printed in Scotland, as well as in Canada. The labels produced by Mr. Rowell which counsel said, had been found on the premises of the Yorkton distributors, at Yorkton, Sask., were printed by the firm of Bulman & Company, Winnipeg, the witness said.

There was reference to a visit paid by Assistant Inspector Cyril Knowles of Winnipeg, to the premises of the Dominion Distributors, at Regina. This was a company in which Harry Bronfman and Sam Bronfman were interested, and Sam Bronfman told of coming to Ottawa and complaining of the way in which customs officer Knowles had conducted his visit. It was reported to him, said the witness, that Mr. Knowles had announced his suspicion that compounding of liquor was taking place on the premises, that he moved boxes and barrels round in an effort to find a compounding room in the basement of the building, and that he generally acted in a manner which was not consistent with such an inspection. In consequence of this, said Mr. Bronfman, he and one of his brothers had laid a complaint.

Found Nothing.

"He came and found nothing, and he was disappointed, so he raised a row," said Sam Bronfman with reference to Mr. Knowles. This witness stated that the members of his family had been assessed over $190,000 for income tax in 1921. This was an "arbitrary assessment" to cover four years, and it had been said He was not aware that any of the members of the family had made any signed income tax returns to the Government.

In an effort to ascertain how landing certificates for liquor consigned to Havana were obtained ,Mr. Rowell asked A. H. Varrillo, who stated that he was whiskey broker, how much it was necessary to pay to get these certificates. Mr. Rowell's question was specifically applicable to a shipment in 1922 aboard the schooner Arcola for which it later developed, two sets of bogus landing certificates were presented. Mr. Carrillo said he did not think landing certificates were obtained in return for payment. He admitted, however, that he had some suspicions that the Arcola liquor was not really going to Havana when the bogus certificates of landing were presented.

SCHOOL OPENS IN MILLBROOK

Third Teacher May be Necessary for Continuation Classes.

NO CHANGE IN STAFF

MILLBROOK, Sept. 9.—The holidays ended on Tuesday, September 6, when the local Continuation and Public schools reopened with a good attendance of scholars in each case.

At the last meeting of the school board there was some discussion as to engaging a third teacher for the Continuation School, but it was finally decided to wait until the full quota of pupils for the term was enrolled and see then if an extra teacher will be required. The former principal, Miss S. Muir, and the assistant principal, Mr. H. Jordan, are again the staff for the current year.

There is no change in the public school staff, Mr. B. B. Dawson being the principal; Mr. H. J. Anderson in charge of the junior, and Miss Betty Montgomery the primary room.

Mr. A. A. Smith was called to Uxbridge last week owing to the death of his brother, Mr. John Albert Smith, on Thursday, September 1st. The funeral took place from deceased's late residence on Sunday, interment being in the Uxbridge cemetery.

Mr. George Bonner is listed as receiving second prize for his wheat (Dawson's Golden Chaff) at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Rev. Canon and Mrs. Allen arrived home on Sunday from their nine weeks' holiday abroad during which time they visited the grave of their only son, T. A. Allen, of the Princess Pat's regiment, finding the cemetery, not far from Amiens, in France, beautifully kept, and the flowers particularly lovely. Sometime was also spent at Mrs. Allen's old home in the village of Shenley, fifteen miles north of London, and in the world's metropolis itself, as well as other points in England and Scotland. While on the continent they were in Paris for a week, and travelled through Holland and Belgium, stopping at the leading cities en route.

The church, dating back to the eleventh century, which Mrs. Allen attended as a girl, in which she was organist, and in which her marriage to Rev. Canon Allen took place during the time the latter was curate at Shenley, was one of the points of special interest during the visit home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Byam, and family, are enjoying their annual camping outing at Deyell's Landing, Otonabee river.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Williamson, Mr. J. Steele, and Gordon Reynolds, (Toronto), were among the guests at the Byam camp on Labor Day.

Acids in Stomach Cause Indigestion

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful of powder or four tablets in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

HEAVY GRAIN YIELD IN WEST

Canadian Crop of 400,000,000 Bushels Estimated By Sir John Aird.

BIG ALBERTA CROP.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 9. — (Canadian Press). — A western Canadian crop of 400,000,000 bushels with 175,000,000 bushels in Alberta, is the estimate by Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who arrived in the city yesterday. He is accompanied by Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Board of Directors, Sir Thomas White, vice-president and Mr. C. H. Logan, general manager.

Sir John predicts that there will be the greatest movement of wheat via Vancouver this year that Canada has known, his prediction being based not only on the big Alberta crop, but on the fact that the big grain handling organizations on the prairies now control elevators in Vancouver.

The new freight rates, he believes, will also be an advantage to Vancouver as well as to Eastern Canadian seaports. One of the effects of the new tariff, he thinks, will be that less Canadian wheat will move by way of Buffalo, and more by way of Quebec and Montreal.

The new rail rates will help Quebec and will not injure Montreal while they will eventually lead to Winter shipment from Halifax and St. John," he said.

The party found business conditions generally throughout the west, satisfactory. Sir Joseph Filavelle said that the demand for the Hudson Bay Railway by the people of Central Canada had become so urgent that no Government could refuse the completion of the road any longer. He doubted if it could ever be of great value in the export of grain from central Canada, but it would open up great mineralized area in Northern Manitoba and lead to the settlement of that part of the country, and would be justified for that reason.

SALMON STAYING 50 MILES OFF COAST

British Columbia Salmon Horde Has Been Hiding This Summer.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press).—The mystery of where the British Columbia salmon horde has been hiding this summer may be explained by reports brought here by officers of ships encountering vast schools of the finny tribe off the Vancouver Island coast far out to sea.

About fifty miles off the coast, according to these reports, the sea seemed alive with unnumbered salmon, immense numbers of sharks and dogfish following the in-bound silver hordes. The ships also passed great masses of smaller fish, probably pilchards or herring, which have been similarly dilatory in reaching the fishing grounds.

The salmon season in British Columbia has been exceptionally late and the catches extremely light, although numerous fish are now reported off the Columbia River and reports from Siberia are that there has been a tremendous run of salmon there, especially in the Kamchatka region.

In Northern British Columbia waters, the catch has been disappointing. In the vicinity of the Queen Charlotte Islands, a curious phenomenon is reported and may have a bearing on the scarcity of the salmon, the waters around the island being the color of milk.

MEAT HOOKS ARE FOUND IN SHARK

Crew of Little Tank Steamer Tell Story About a Fish.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 9.—(By Canadian Press).—The crew of the little tank steamer Nanaimolite tell this story with a straight face and even the ship's cook vouches for it, so perhaps it's true.

It was the season for sharks when the vessel headed north along the California coast with her cargo of Peruvian oil. The crew found time hanging heavily on their hands and decided to do a bit of fishing. It would be fun, they thought, landing one of those big blue fellows with the high dorsal fins.

So they raided the cooks' pantry for meat hooks, attached them to a line and promptly lost them both. The cook was furious. "I wish", he said, "that you would keep your lily-white hands off the gear in my galley. You must know that I am responsible, and I did not sign on to supply iron tonic to any unfortunate Pacific shark."

The crew took this rebuke meekly, stole another hook, baited it with a piece of the ship's cat, and hooked a twelve-foot flopper. They hauled him aboard, butchered him with axes, opened his maw to see if any sailormen were cached there—and found the chef's two missing hooks. That's their story—and they stick to it.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1927.

ON BEHALF OF PEDESTRIANS.

For the resolution passed by the Dominion Grange calling upon the Ontario Highways Department to construct sidepaths for pedestrians on all roads under its jurisdiction, there will be much support.

The Provincial highways are, under existing conditions, decidedly dangerous promenades for those who have to walk.

Many pedestrians have been killed on Ontario roads in the past few years, and the death list is growing as the traffic increases.

There has been no provision made for walkers in the construction of the Provincial highways; they have to take their choice of trying to scramble along the side of the road or facing death by using the highway.

The condition deserves attention from the Provincial authorities, for in spite of the growing use of the motor car there are numerous people who have to travel on foot and they are entitled to some accommodation that will protect them from the constant danger of being cut down by passing automobiles.

The Dominion Grange has called attention to a matter that should have serious consideration from those entrusted with protecting public safety.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition has been successful for a number of reasons, one of which is the very important one that it is well-balanced.

There is something for everybody.

It is charged in regard to some exhibitions that amusement features are over-stressed to the detriment of agriculture and other exhibits.

Of other fairs the complaint is heard that there is too little in the way of entertainment.

The Peterborough Industrial has been able to strike a happy medium.

No one department has been over-accentuated at the expense of the others, and the result is an exhibition of all-round merit, a wonderful showing of livestock and agricultural products, splendid special exhibits by merchants and manufacturers, and as well, a host of amusement features.

The great popularity of Peterborough's big fair all over Central Ontario is explained to a great extent by this happy balancing of its various departments so that every visitor can be sure of seeing something of particular interest to himself.

This year's Exhibition will be found to be a particularly successful demonstration of what skilful planning can produce in the direction of an all-round fair.

CLEARING UP THE SITUATION.

Car-owners who made the mistake yesterday of leaving their automobiles parked on George street for more than half an hour found on their return a neat invitation to call at the Police Station and explain matters.

The time limit, in others words, is now being enforced, and the result of this activity on the part of the Police Department was a much appreciated betterment of conditions in the business section.

Motorists are being informed, when they pay a visit to the Police Station, that a fine will follow a second offence, and this warning is expected to have the desired effect, thereby doing away with a great deal of the congestion that has been in evidence during recent months.

The Examiner is sure that the efforts of the police to clear up the situation will meet with general approval; merchants, shoppers and pedestrians will all appreciate the fact that George street in the business section is no longer to be littered up with cars that have been standing for hours, keeping legitimate shoppers from getting near the stores in which they desire to do business.

Those who have been persistent offenders would be wise to seek a better parking area; the one they have been using is likely to be expensive.

At the same time the City Council should see to it that the necessary signs mentioned in the traffic regulations in regard to parking should be placed in position as soon as possible.

CALL OFF THE FLIGHTS.

The committee in charge of the Windsor-to-Windsor flight has acted wisely in suggesting to Pilots Schiller and Wood that they abandon their flight and return home.

The needless sacrifice of lives in these spectacular but valueless trans-ocean flights must be stopped.

To the long list of victims the names of two Canadian flyers, Captain Terrence Tully and Lieut. James Medcalfe, it is feared must be added.

Their attempt to navigate the stormy air passage over the North Atlantic from Newfoundland to England in the monoplane Sir John Carling has apparently ended in disaster, and two of Canada's most useful flyers have been sacrificed.

These men were doing fine service at home where their work, while not so spectacular as the flight of the Carling, was much more valuable.

Had they succeeded in safely completing that perilous journey nothing of importance in so far as the development of aeronautics would have been accomplished.

It has already been proven that given favourable weather conditions it is possible for an aeroplane to bridge the Atlantic; it has even more conclusively been demonstrated that aviators who make such attempts are simply gambling with death in a game in which the cards are stacked against them.

To add the names of Schiller and Wood to the appalling death list would be criminal folly.

No one doubts the bravery of the two; they would not have volunteered for the flight had they been afraid to face the perils of the Atlantic passage.

It is not necessary for them to go out and crash into the ocean to prove they are not cowards.

A SIMPLE LESSON.

Lower the tax rate and collect more taxes.

This is the way it works out. Uncle Sam has been proving it for several years. The same result followed in Canada when a reduction was made in our income levy schedule.

Washington figures issued this week show that despite cuts in income rates and doing away with many so-called nuisance taxes, internal revenue collections for the year 1927 were nearly $30,000,000 ahead of the same total for the previous fiscal year.

It is interesting to note that the principal increase in American revenue from miscellaneous sources came from the tobacco manufacturers. This total was $376,000,000, or $6,000,000 more than from the year before, due to large increases in the sale of cigarettes. It is to be hoped that the Canadian Government will learn a lesson from these figures and make changes necessary to give Canadian smokers the cigarettes they want at a reasonable figure. Millions of cigarettes are being smuggled into Canada every year because the price on this side of the line is outrageously high. Think of a well-known cigarette that is sold in Detroit at two packages for a quarter, commanding 45 cents for a single package in Windsor. Yet this is the fact. A Government that permits this sort of thing to go on, that allows such a rank injustice to our tobacco industry and retailers, to say nothing of the public, is falling short of its responsibilities. People can hardly be blamed for smuggling when disparities like this exist.

The Government's duty, of course, is plain. Bring down the rate of taxation and watch the amount collected by taxation go up. A man who opened a store and started selling 15-cent articles at 45 cents might have a nice-looking establishment and a handsome margin of profit, but neither would do him much good if he couldn't sell the articles. In the matter of cigarettes, high prices are the fault of neither manufacturers nor dealers. The trouble lies in the excessive Government tax. If the rate comes down it seems to be an assured thing that the Government's total income from this source will go up. Why, then, the delay in making such an obvious change?—Border Cities Star.

A PATRIOTIC SPEECH.

A somewhat notable speech was made on Thursday last by Sir Henry Drayton, member of Parliament for West York, and a former Minister of Finance, at a great picnic in honor of one of the French-Canadian members, Lawrence A. Wilson, member for Vaudreuil-Soulanges, one of the Quebec constituencies. The occasion was one of good will, and Sir Henry made use of it to promote the Bonne Entente between these two great Provinces of the Dominion. His address was all the more noteworthy because he spoke in French, and on this account he was given a remarkably cordial hearing, the huge crowd cheering him again and again as he emphasized the truth that Canadians of English and French speech must work together for a bigger and better Canada. In the course of his address Sir Henry gave utterance to this fine paragraph:

"I have great hopes that some day we will all agree on that great truth of first importance that the great essential to real national growth is the multiplication of Canadian homes, that happy and contented homes can only be supported by the pay-roll, and that our first duty is to see to it that the children of Canada can secure diversified and properly remunerative employment at home.

"I confess I have a weakness for the culture of France, that I particularly admire the country life both in Quebec and in France. This is simply because I know it. I would like you all to know the country life in Ontario, and the virtues of the English character; you would, I believe, think just as well of the English as I think of the French."

In making use of such sentiments as these, Sir Henry proved himself to be a true citizen of the Dominion. He recognized the primary fact that the English and French races are in Canada, that both have played a great part in the development of the country, and are both destined to take foremost places, in the future, in the up-building of Canada. For this reason, he declared that both peoples must cheerfully recognize this historic position and extend to each other in the future the utmost toleration and confidence. In this great relationship there is no place for the assumption of superiority on the part of either people. The proper attitude, he asserted, was one in which each would cordially endeavor to assist the other, thereby rendering mutual service to their country. The interest of both races demands the most cordial co-operation. The speaker very appropriately pointed out that in thus working for the unity and progress of the Dominion, the only rivalry should be patriotic service. French-speaking Canadians have just as much right to be proud of the history, achievements and traditions of France as English-speaking Canadians have to glory in their British heritage.—Brantford Expositor.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press). — The foreign demand for Canadian grain continued quiet on the Montreal market yesterday and business was generally dull.

There was some inquiry from exporters for Canadian western barley in the local market and sales of odd loads of No. 3 were made at 17½c per bushel over the Winnipeg October option, c.i. f., Montreal.

The car lot trade for local account was also quiet but prices were unchanged.

The flour market was featureless, prices for Spring and Winter wheat grades being steady under a fair demand.

Prices for all lines of millfed were well maintained with a fair trade passing. The market for standard grades of rolled oats quiet but firm.

The egg market was again fairly active and prices for all grades were unchanged. The receipts were 1,336 cases.

The demand for butter continued of a limited character but the undertone was firm. The receipts were 1,992 packages.

Extreme dullness marked the local and export trade in cheese but values were unchanged, the receipts were 5,208 boxes.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Houses with foreign connections were buyers of future deliveries here and Sir John Mullen, financial agent of the British Government and of the Bank of England, who was a visitor yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade ,said that owing to wet harvest conditions Great Britain would be probably a good purchaser of wheat on this side of the Atlantic .

Wheat closed firm, 3-8 to 3-4 net higher; corn 1 3-8 to 1 3-4 up; oats showing ½ to ¾ advance, and provisions varying from 17c decline to a rise of 30c.

VOICE OF PEOPLE

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Sir: It is a great loss in business to Peterborough that the roads farther north are not looked after. Gooderham, a village in Haliburton, with a $30,000.00 school, wants to trade in Peterborough, its nearest city, but the road from Hugh Cochrane's at Catchecoma north on the Buckhorn road, as far as the boundary between Peterborough County and Haliburton County is so bad people cannot come to Peterborough with trucks and other cars, but have to go away round to Lindsay. It is almost straight north from Peterborough to village of Gooderham, and the road from Peterborough is as I say, up to within fourteen miles of the boundary between the two counties, is fine. It is a Harvey township road, subsidized by the Ontario Government from Buckhorn to Rockcroft, and from that north to Westlake's and Cochrane's at the famous and beautiful Catchecoma Lakes, is kept up by private parties, although this is a public road.

The north would like to trade with Peterborough, and we presume your merchants would like the business. If the roads from Gooderham were made passable for cars, this would be accomplished. Yours truly,

NORTH.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GOES TO CROW LAKE

Intermediate Classes Hold a Pleasant Picnic on Labor Day.

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, Sept. 9—The three intermediate classes of Zion Sabbath school celebrated Labor Day by holding their annual picnic at Crow Lake, and, needless to say, with ideal weather prevailing, the event was a wonderful success. Cars left Rylstone store at 9.45 a.m. and proceeded to Deloro where the boys and girls were shown over the plant and viewed all the wonderful processes of smelting the ore. This experience was well worth the trip as few had been to Deloro before. The party returned to Crow Lake at noon where dinner was served. Then came the ball games and bathing along the fine sandy beach. Everyone took part in the sports and when going home time came all were tired but happy and left somewhat reluctantly, but looking forward to another good time next year.

Church Service.

At the Sunday evening service at Zion, Rev. C. Daniel delivered a splendid sermon in keeping with the spirit of Labor Day.

Service at Burnbrae, St. Andrew's, on Sunday morning was conducted by Rev. Hugh Shaw in the absence of the minister, Rev. D. A. McKenzie, on a short holiday. The previous Sabbath, the congregation received an unexpected, but none the less welcome message from an old Burnbrae boy who was on a flying visit to the old scenes. This was none other than the Rev. James Hutcheon, president of the Unitarian College, Chicago, who called on his brothers and sisters here over that week end.

Ms. Thomas Shaw of Massachusetts has been visiting his brother, Rev. Hugh Shaw, at Menie.

Mrs. W. R. Mather of Toronto spent a few days early in the week with friends here.

Burnbrae young people and older folks as well regret that Miss Annie Tinney has decided to leave the community. During the year that she has been with Mrs. J. H. Watson she has won for herself a wide circle of friends who, while they regret her departure from their midst, wish her every success upon the matrimonial seas.

While at date of writing, the time for St. Andrew's annual anniversary services and fowl supepr is not definitely set the probable date is October 23rd for the Sunday event with the supper on the following Tuesday. The Radio Quartette of Belleville will be secured for the occasion if possible. These splendid singers created a fine impression last year.

Burnbrae School, S.S. No. 1, opened on Tuesday with Mr. Earl Fairman again in charge.

S.S. No. 11 is undergoing repairs and the opening will be somewhat delayed. Miss Hazel Thomas is again teacher for this school.

BUILDING ACTIVITY SHOWN IN TORONTO

Transportation Area is Centre of Important Construction Work.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—Visitors to the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto will see wonderful transformation and activity in the vicinity of the new Union Station recently opened to the public. Directly across from the station is the new 26-story C.P.R. hotel, occupying almost an entire block, the construction of which will start early in September. This hotel will have 1,000 rooms and baths. Visitors by boat will find the new $1,000,000 terminal facilities of the Canada Steamship Co. at the foot of Bay street the last word in comfort and convenience. Work on the new Federal Building, to be used as the customs house, will commence shortly on the south-east corner of Bay and Front, and it will be one of Toronto's most imposing structures.

On the north-east corner and directly opposite the main entrance to the Fleet street boulevard will be the new Commerce and Transportation Building, a 10-story fireproof office and store building, with a modern garage in the rear, having storage capacity for 426 cars. Owing to this advantageous location in the heart of the transportation district of Toronto this building will be used as a terminal for the principal automobile bus lines entering Toronto. This splendid structure will be located on one of the busiest and most valuable corners in Canada, and already over 65 per cent. of the available space has been contracted for, for the most part by nationally known firms.

The Commerce and Transportation Building is being erected and financed by the well-known bond house of G. A. Stinson & Co., who have been established since 1883. For 44 years, no bond sold by this house has failed to pay principal, and interest when due.

ROUND-WORLD FLIERS, ETC.

by the Steamer California.

The search for Old Glory was spurred, if anything can spur the traditional zeal of men of the sea in rescue work, by the offer of a $25,000 reward to the crew saving the plane's occupants, made by Hearst.

Searched Without Result.

The futility that the searchers felt, however, was expressed for all in a wireless sent to his office by Captain David W. Bone of the Transylvania:

"Have searched area without result," the message read. "Fear little hope of survival in view of the rough sea at time of casualty. Am proceeding on voyage."

Some time later the Carmania which also had been taking part in the search, wirelessed:

"Regret search for missing plane Old Glory without result. Weather cloudy, squally, with rough breaking sea. Consider very small chance of survival collapsible boat under present conditions. Am now proceeding from the great circle course to Cape Race.

After these two had left, three ships remained, but there was little hope that they would find anything. And for the Sir John Carling not a single boat turned from its course, for there was nothing to tell them which way to turn or where to go.

Pride of Detroit Delayed.

HONG-KONG, Sept. 9 (United Press).—The American around-the-world fliers, William S. Brook and Edward F. Schlee, arrived here from Hanoi, French Indo-China, at 3.30 p.m. to-day.

Flying eastward from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, they reached the Pacific Ocean on their fourteenth day flighting, setting a new world's record. They had covered approximately 9,550 miles of their 22,067 itinerary around the world.

The Pride of Detroit left Hanoi at 7 p.m., and was due at Hong-Kong, 525 miles away, shortly after noon.

Their late arrival was due to dull weather, low-lying clouds and poor visibility, which necessitated flying at reduced speed for the sake of safety.

CORNS

Ends pain at once

No waiting—one minute after you apply Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads the pain is gone. After the corn is healed it never comes back. If new shoes irritate the spot again, a Zino-pad fixes it overnight. Old methods of paring corns, or using caustic acids, are dangerous.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads are safe, antiseptic, protective, healing. They stop the cause of corns—rubbing and pressing of shoes. At all druggist's and shoe dealer's. Cost but a trifle.

Dr Scholl's Zino-pads

Put one on—the pain is gone!

WEDDING BELLS.

BUTCHART—MUIR.

MILLBROOK, Sept. 9.—A wedding of local interest took place at the Hillcrest church of Christ (Disciples) corner of Bathurst and Vaughan Road, Toronto, on Saturday, September 3, when Mrs. R. Stewart Muir, 27 Albany Road, Toronto, was united in marriage to Mr. Reuben Butchart, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles T. Scott, D.D., pastor of the Carlton street United church, Hamilton, assisted by Rev. Hugh B. Kilgour, of Toronto.

Miss Shirley L. Muir, principal of the local Continuation school, is Mrs. Butchart's daughter.

If You Don't Boost Peterborough's Exhibition Who Will?

"Well, we had a good show last year. Maybe we'll have another this year and maybe we'll not. We'll see when the time comes.

Suppose the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition had adopted that attitude at their annual meeting in January what would public opinion said of them.

* * * * * *

And yet that casual almost indifferent manner is exactly the lukewarm frame of mind of some persons as the Peterborough Exhibition.

"I saw the Fair last year" these half-hearted supporters say, "and I may go down next week and I might not. I'll see when the time comes."

Christ declared that the lukewarm Christian made Him sick. He is neither hot nor cold. And the citizen who is lukewarm to the Exhibition is neither strongly for it nor against it.

He's no. the stuff that progress is made of. If the directors had to depend upon his feeble spirit they would be far behind their present status.

* * * * * *

There are persons a hundred miles or more away from here who are probably saying: "I'm thinking of going up to the Peterborough Fair next week" and so on.

You can't find fault with their indecision. They are beyond our orbit. But what car be said of those nearer home and of others in our midst?

Visitors from Ottawa and London exhibitions, men whose business takes them to all the larger fairs, affirm that the Peterborough Exhibition ranks with Ottawa and London. They are won by the smart appearance of the grounds, the accommodation for the exhibitors and the public, and by the large crowds.

Let us all be ardent, honest-to-goodness boosters for our own Exhibition.

You don't have to make any apologies for the Peterborough Exhibition—your exhibition.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Solomon Dedicates the Tempie

Text: 1 Kings 8: 1-11, 62, 63.

Then Solomon assembled the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, the chief of the fathers of the children of Israel, unto King Solomon in Jerusalem, that they might bring up the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David, which is Zion.

And all the men of Israel assembled themselves unto King Solomon at the feast, in the month Ethanim, which is the seventh month.

And all the elders of Israel came, and the priests took up the ark.

And they brought up the ark of the Lord, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle, even those did the priests and the Levites bring up.

And King Solomon, and all the congregation of Israel, that were assembled unto him, were with him before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, that could not be told nor numbered for multitude.

And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord unto his place, into the oracle of the house, to the most holy place, even under the wings of the cherubims.

For the cherubims spread forth their two wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubims covered the ark, and the staves thereof, above.

And they drew out the staves, that the ends of the staves were seen out in the holy place before the oracle, and they were not seen without: and there they are unto this day.

There was nothing in the ark, save the two tables of stone, which Moses put there at Horeb, when the Lord made a covenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt.

And it came to pass, when the priests were come out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house of the Lord.

So that the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

And the king, and all Israel with him, offered sacrifice before the Lord.

And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered unto the Lord, two and twenty thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheep. So the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord.

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Sept. 11. Solomon Dedicates the Temple. 1 Kings 8: 1-11, 62, 63.

By WM. E. GILROY, D.D.
(Editor of The Congregationalist)

It is a great hour when a building project attains its achievement. The man or woman who has watched a future home emerging from excavation and foundation to the final coat of paint and the last touches that make the home inhabitable knows something of the process.

There are anxieties and sometimes heartbreaks not infrequently the whole result is a tragic disappointment, but where the home fulfills the plans and expectations its completion brings a peculiar sense of joy. Longfellow expressed something of this in his beautiful poem, "The Hanging of the Crane."

The joy of a home in personal life is even magnified in the fulfillment of some great community project where from day to day the dwellers in village, town, or city see the gradual upbuilding of some hall or public work which is to represent henceforth a rallying place or a symbol of community spirit and activity.

House of God

How much more are all these things enriched in their spiritual significance when the building is the house of God! There is a sense, of course, in which, as Paul said, "God does not dwell in houses made with hands."

Even Solomon in the grandeur of his temple building acknowledged in the beauty of his prayer that as the whole world could not contain the glory of God much less could the house that he had built. Nevertheless religion derives much of its meaning from symbols and associations, from living presences and great truths made real and vital through their concrete expression or through their localization in certain definite and material forms.

It is for this reason that we value portraits and statues of great men. Having these things does not make greater the truth that their lives expressed, but it does make more real and present their influences.

All primitive religions lay great stress upon form and symbol. With spiritual progress men learn to distinguish between the symbol and the act, but it should be remembered that even our Divine Master who taught that God is a spirit and that they who worship must worship in spirit and in truth set a high value upon the synagogue, and as he had opportunity graced with his presence the temple with which some of his most significant acts and teachings were associated.

Task of Religion

The whole task of religion in life is to make intangible things tangible, to bring the spiritual into the sphere of the real, and toward this great end the religious spirit craves both a fellowship and a place for its expression. We may well distinguish between Christianity and churchianity; but Christianity would have little power did it not make its actuality known through some such institution as the church.

The building of a great temple, such as that erected by Solomon, is an event in the life of a people. In a fine chapter on architecture in Victor Hugo's "Notre Dame," the author has told the story of the significance of eras of building in the world's history. It was largely in architecture that the human spirit found expression, and in the great structures that come down from antiquity we have an opportunity of discerning how great were the thoughts and purposes of men and how wonderful, though different from our own, were the eras of civilization that have come and gone.

The verses of our lessons are associated with the holy things in a nation's life, and with the housing of these in a structure worthy to receive them. The skeptic might fail to see in the little box known as the Ark of the Covenant the real place of God's presence which Israelites found in it. The man of faith who is no skeptic may see in fact the fulfillment of such a conception in the passing of the Ark and may emphasize the truth that the true presence of God cannot be confined to even the most beautiful temple erected to his praise.

Use Determines Holiness

It is, however, the use to which things are put and the relationships in which they are found that constitute their holiness. No dedication of a building to God can make it in deed and in truth a church, but if that dedication be the expression of devout men and women who gather together to the church in the true faith of Christ and with the purpose of fulfilling Christ's mission in the world, there will be found a true church even though the building be unpretentious and though its membership be not large.

It is not the size or beauty of a structure that makes it a church of God, though we should not be too ready to dissociate beauty and magnificence with the house of God. There is no glory in religious ugliness.

We ought to covet for the church the beauty and worth that we would desire in our own home, remembering always that great art is associated with simplicity and that tawdriness in elaboration and decoration is as much an offence as ugliness in form. Pride in a beautiful church building, simple, dignified and worthy to stand in a community, has its value.

A well- proportioned church with its spire pointing to heaven situated upon a hill or upon a well-kept village green in itself is an inspiration toward higher things.

PLANE TROUBLE HOLDS UP MAIL

Letters Taken Off Ship May Reach Destinations Behind Time.

PLANE NOT REPAIRED.

QUEBEC, September 9. Canadian Press. — Canada's first transatlantic air mail attempt broke down this morning when the Vannessa biplane, piloted by Major Tudhope of the Royal Canadian force, was unable to leave Rimouski with the mail of the inward bound steamer Empress of France this morning. Some trouble, the exact nature of which is not known here yet, developed with the biplane, and Major Tudhope was still trying to fix the plane before leaving for Montreal.

While this could not be ascertained at the Quebec post office, it was believed by the officials there that 500 pounds of letter mail which the biplane was to take to Montreal, was left at Rimouski by the Empress of France. In that event the mail in question stands a chance of reaching its destination in Canada several hours later than would have been the case if it had been brought to Quebec by the liner which is due here at 3.30 this afternoon.

WOMAN'S VIEW OF REAL MAN

people do not fully appreciate the splendid conditions existing here, where the wonderful industries contribute so much to prosperity. In her Tabernacle in Miami, hundreds of people are being fed every day, and many are still dying as a result of the hurricane. Still, she said, it is remarkable how some can bear up under losses that would stagger others. One man who had been a heavy loser through the hurricane, told her, "After all, I've still got the best things in life."

"The best things in life cannot be bought with money," the speaker declared, — "sunshine, the love of a good pure woman, the affection of a little child. The best in life is free." Speaking from the point of view of a woman, Mrs. Berg said many men are losing one thing out of their manhood, that Kiwanis is helping to make up for ,and that is the fine sentiment that seems to wither in the atmosphere of business. Money-getting is often like a Midas touch. Men are often too busy to stop to speak to a little child in the street; they are too engrossed in business to pet a dog, or indulge in friendly humor. They are so engrossed in one one thing that when a fellow happens to be slipping they cant stop to give him a helping hand—in fact, they are too busy to think of it. "You men may talk about women being sentimental," Mrs .Berg said, "but when a man has lost his sentiment he has lost the best in life."

Avoirdupos Not Manhood.

In the speaker's opinion, avoirdupois does not constitute manhood. A man might weigh two hundred pounds and still be just a walking advertisement for a butcher shop. Nor is it the money he is making that constitutees manhood — his heart might be just like a safety deposit box, hard and steely. "God never intended to make man lopsided on the side of business,' 'she declared. "When men get engrossed in business they have no sentiment in their hearts, and then," she added whimsically, "women feel it. Poets ,philosophers, toilers, merchants, you are all looking for the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow ,but unless you find happiness you lose life's Holy Grail itself. You may find yourself at the top of the ladder in society, business, wealth, and fame, but at the expense of fellowship and friendship and sentiment. The real man will keep that finer touch of sentiment, and will not allow his finer sensibilities to be killed by the Midas touch."

"Service for other people is the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow," said Mrs. Berg in closing. "I am glad for Kiwanis because the fellow who needs a slap on the back is getting it through these organizations."

Rev. J. Douglas Paterson, with the club for the first time since his visit overseas, expressed the thanks of the gathering to the musicians and speaker, and Dr. E .H. Wood presented Mrs. Berg with a bouquet of flowers.

FISHERMAN HOOKS TWO BIG 'LUNGE

Lands 25 Pounder at Buckhorn Other One Gets Away.

While casting last Tuesday, Charles H. Cogreve, of Chicago, hooked and landed a 25 lb. muskie. On the same evening, while trolling, he struck another large one only 100 yards from the landing dock. After playing the fish for about 15 minutes he brought him within five feet of the canoe, when the big fish jumped out of the water and threw the bait out of his month. The shaft or shank of the spoon, a Lowe No. 8 was bent at right angles and the bark of the hook was broken off Mr. Cogreve, who is an annual and old guest of the Buckhorn House, is of the opinion that the lunge fishing is as good this year as it was a quarter of a century ago.

LIQUOR STORE FRONT BRIGHTER

Gilt Sign and New Awning Give Air of Prosperity.

So far as proclaiming its identity is concerned, the local liquor store no longer hides its light under a bushel. In fine guilt letters the announcement, "Liquor Control Board of Ontario," tells the world of the function of the store. A fine new awning of white canvas, coupled with the cream coloured front, gives an air of genuine prosperity to the whole establishment.

Brazilian's Gain Feature At Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—Brazilian's sharp gain of four and seven-eighths at 188 7-8 was the conspicuous feature of an uncertain market on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. With no definite price trend, changes were mostly negligible in quality. Canadian Pacific Railway dropped two at 185, and Cosmos eased a quarter at 30¾, while Page Hersey was also easier at 78¾.

Gooderham and Worts was fractionally lower at 47½, and Walkers steady at 50½. Industrial Alcohol firming slightly at 38. British American Oil was sold within narrow limits around 26½. Bank stocks were active but steady.

Higher Quotations On Chicago Market

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—Unexpected higher quotations at Liverpool led to an early upturn today in wheat prices here. Meanwhile corn advanced owing to excessive rain in parts of Illinois and Iowa. Opening at ⅝c to ¾c gain, Chicago wheat subsequently held near to initial figures. Corn started ½c to ⅝c up and later continued to show firmness. Oats sympathized with corn and wheat. Provisions also tended upward.

Opening prices were: Wheat, September 1.33¾, December 1.37⅝. Corn, September 1.02¾, December 1.04⅞. Oats, September 44⅜, December 48.

Potter Doal Leads Active, Weak, Market

TORONTO, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—Potter Doal, on a turnover of upwards of two hundred thousand shares, climbed three points to 19 in heavy trading on the Standard Mining Exchange today. The session's turnover topped the million share mark and stocks were inclined to lose ground. Amulet eased eight at 4.72 at noon after slumping to 4.50, while Area lost ten at 57. Laval Quebec was 1½ lower at 39½, McIntyre down 25 at 26.75, and Noranda down 20 at 24.00. Hollinger was a strong feature with a gain of 35 cents at 17.10 and Dome firmed two at 902. Teck Hughes at 925 and Tough Oakes at 31¾ were both slightly lower.

General Trend Changes In Wall Street To-day

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—Higher money rates and unfavorable trade news induced sufficient selling in today's stock market to turn the general course of prices reactionary, despite the valiant efforts of pools to keep prices headed upwards. Call money was marked up to four per cent. the highest rate in more than a month, coincident with the calling of about $20,000,000 in bank loans. United States Steel Common, in which a powerful pool is reported to be operating, was marked up to a new record high at 156½, on reports that the August tonnage statement, due tomorrow, would show a moderate increase in unfilled orders instead of the decrease expected a few weeks ago. Steel quickly sold off two points in the wave of liquidation which followed the raising the call money rate.

Oils changed hands in rather large blocks at advancing prices. Bullish activity was most pronounced, however, in such specialties as Continental Insurance, International Telephone, United Fruit, and Mackay Companies, which sold four to six points above yesterday's final quotations.

Unfavorable traffic and earnings reports accelerated the selling of railroad shares, with Atchison, Erie Common, Texas and Pacific, and Norfolk and Western all yielding a point or more below yesterday's final quotations. Gulf States Steel and Murray sold at their lowest prices of the year.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

Before noon, Stephen Churchill, who had been Cherry's lawyer in her trial for the murder of Ralph Cluny, and who was representing her in her divorce suit against Chris Wiley, arrived to congratulate his client on the finding of the kidnapped baby and to discuss protective measures against Chris.

"I have here an application for a court order restraining the father of your child from molesting her or you in any way, pending the outcome of the divorce proceedings," Churchill informed Cherry.

"Why can't they arrest him and lock him up for kidnapping my baby"? Cherry demanded hotly.

"My dear, he committed no crime according to the law," Churchill reminded her. "The child is legally as much his as yours. But if the court grants my request, any disobedience of the restraining order will constitute contempt of court and make him liable to arrest and imprisonment. I think it wise to take this precaution, though I don't think your estimable husband will have the nerve to try any more shenanigans, after the razzing he's getting in the papers today."

"He'd better not!" Cherry cried fiercely. "But Hope will not be left unguarded for a moment. My suit comes to trial next Thursday, doesn't it, Mr. Churchill?"

"Yes, and so far as the suit is concerned, Chris' dastardly behavior will prove of help. His kidnapping of the baby and his hiding her in the filthy cabin of an aged and incompetent old colored woman will be construed as decisive evidence of cruelty by the judge, or I'm the world's poorest guesser."

Chris Wiley's lawyer must have "guessed" pretty much as did Churchill, for Saturday morning's papers carried the announcement that Cherry's husband had withdrawn his own suit for divorce, after having been notified of the court's action in regard to the restraining order requested by Churchill.

"That means that Chris won't contest your suit, Cherry," Bob elucidated. "You'll win without a struggle. By this time next week you'll be nobody's wife, unless you defy the conventions and get married a day or two after your divorce."

"I'm not marrying again, thank you," Cherry retorted. "But it's a great relief to know that my divorce can be granted quietly, without a jury trial. Heaven knows I don't want any more publicity again in my life."

They were at the breakfast table—Jim Lane, looking a little more tired and discouraged than ever; Faith with violet shadows under her eyes, testifying to the emotional strain she had suffered the last thirty hours; Bob, looking let down and listless, but happy that the family had safely passed through another crisis; and Cherry, all signs of suffering erased from her lovely young face, but a deeper, sweeter expression in her golden eyes.

Bob slowly crumbled a bit of muffin between his fingers before he addressed Cherry again. "Things are pretty quiet at the office right now, honey. All things considered, I think you might as well stay at home until after the divorce hearing is over. You've gone through a great deal and you'll feel the reaction. Besides, you will want to keep your eye on the baby, just for your own satisfaction, not that Chris would dare molest her now—"

"You're a darling, Bob!" Cherry choked, then, rising so suddenly that her chair was overturned, she ran around the table and kissed Bob on the mouth, cheeks and eyelids. Faith, watching, her heart beating painfully, saw Bob's hands close convulsively upon Cherry's shoulders, before he laughingly told her to "behave" herself.

"Going to ask for alimony, Cherry?" Jim Lane surprised them all by demanding suddenly, after clearing his throat raucously.

Color flamed in Cherry's cheeks. "Of course not! I wouldn't touch—"

"Better tell that lawyer chap of yours to get what he can for your baby," Jim Lane told her sternly. "You ain't got a right to stand in her way and Chris hadn't ought to be let off too easy."

DRESS

By MARY MARSHALL

9-6

As light as fine flannel is this pastel pink leather jacket lined with matching crepe de chine and worn with a pink flannel pleated skirt.

There is nothing at all new in the use of leather for raiment. If Adam and Eve didn't wear skins it was just because the Garden of Eden was such a balmy spot that they didn't feel the need. If it had been a chillier spot woman's first garment might have been a leather jacket in place of the much discussed fig leaf.

Long before primitive man learned how to spin or to weave or to sew or to use bronze or iron, he had found ways of slaying animals, and sharpened stones enough to fashion their skins into raiment. As the fur or hair wore off from these primitive fur wraps they became the first leather garments.

It is a far cry, however, from those early coverings of leather to the up-to-date leather jacket that is worn by the smartly dressed woman of today. Really remarkable progress has been made within the past year or so in the making of pliable, light-weight leather.

I heard the other day of a leather jacket that, all complete, weighed but thirty ounces, and the old objection to leather jackets on the ground of their weight has been done away with. Leather is dyed in a really remarkable manner so that it takes on beautiful colors.

It didn't really seem as if there was anything we didn't know about the new things for autumn—didn't seem as if there could be after all the shops and dressmaking establishments and importers' showrooms we had visited. Yet when a reader wrote and asked me the other day whether turtle-neck sweaters were going to be fashionable, I had to admit myself stumped. I straightway asked a young woman who has charge of the sweater department of one of the smartest of sports wear shops. Real turtle necks, she assured me, were no more—turtle necks that extend up the neck. The present version is the crew-neck sweater with a round neck and only about an inch of ribbing that fits closely about the lower part of the neck.

FASHION NOTES.

BY HEDDA HOYT

(United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (United Press) One who ponders over subway advertisements is bound to come to the conclusion that 'the skin you like to touch' isn't so attractive if combined with 'that something which makes friends turn their heads aside.' The very delicate manner of enlightening the public on 'bad breath' symptoms proves that however scrupulous we may be about our persons we have to be on guard for the time when some friend turns his or her head aside. Head turning, it seems is the danger signal!

We can think of several minor physical detiils which might go far towards making one unpopular. For instance one might be inclined to turn one's head aside from the woman who has unmanicured or poorly manicured finger nails. Oily hair that waits for the full moon for washing might incur a head turn. Blotchy make-up might also be included among the things to avoid in polite society. Women, it seems, are expected to pay more attention to the minor details of perfect grooming than men are. As long as a man's finger nails are clean he passes muster. Not so a woman!

Concerning the care of the finger nails, powder polishes are far preferable to gummy red liquid polishes. The powder polish looks more natural and permits the half-moon of the nail to show. When liquid polishes are used they should be of natural color and should be removed and reapplied often as these polishes turn brown within a few days time. Fingernails should be neither short nor long, just long enough to act as a protection for the cushion of the finger.

Almost every woman requires make-up to take away the oily appearance of the complexion. However, when one tries to combine a virginal white nose and chin with brazenly red cheeks and lips the effect is bound to be startling. After the cleansing cream, a thin layer of natural colored powder dusted over the entire face and neck, a natural-toned rouge blended over the cheeks and a layer of dusting powder applied over this to blend the red with the white should be sufficient. Lip rouge should be chosen which matches perfectly with the lip coloring. Most women plaster their faces with powder and rouge in the morning and keep replastering all day long. By night, the face looks sallow and soggy and lines appear which add five years to one's age.

Some women think that hair holds the wave better when it is oily and needs washing. Whether this is true or not, we are inclined to adhere to the advantages of hair that is washed each week. The woman who radiates cleanliness is bound to radiate beauty! All artificial beautifiers should be chosen with the idea of imitating health and Nature's colorings.

FUR STORAGE

If you have not stored your furs be sure that they have turpentine soaked newspapers wrapped around them during summer months.

SET COLOR

Add a half ounce of sugar of lead to a gallon of water and soak chintzes, ginghams and other colored cottons one hour to set the color.

DELICIOUS CORN

Corn on the cob is twice as tender and sweet if it is boiled in the husk, after the silks have been removed and the husk tied up again.

PULVERIZED MINT

Pulverized dried mint leaves give an unusual flavor to meat sauces and salad dressings without definitely tasting like mint.

SOUR CREAM

Sour cream should be cherished. Dressing made from it is ideal for cucumber and other salads and, just seasoned, it is tasty on lettuce.

VEGETABLE BOX

The thirfty housewife will keep a covered box for fresh uncooked vegetables, as the air and heat wilt and toughen them.

Better-Class Women Use

ONE of the commonest obstacles to the average woman's peace-of-mind was the old-time "sanitary pad." Uncertain and unsafe, it has now been supplanted with scientific protection that is absolute.

With the amazing absorbency of 16 times its own weight in moisture, KOTEX, the new way, is 5 times as absorbent as the ordinary cotton pad. It is the only sanitary pad filled with Cellucotton wadding, the world's super-absorbent.

Also, it deodorizes while it acts. Also—it discards easily as tissue. No laundry, no disposal embarrassment. Obtain at any store. 12 in a box.

Note particularly that the package is marked KOTEX. If not, don't accept — it is not genuine Kotex.

Lacoste and Tilden Triumph in Davis Cup Play

TILDEN WINS FROM COCHET IN CUP PLAY

U. S. Break Even With France in First Two Matches.

JOHNSTON BEATEN

Little Californian Lacks Control in Vain Fight Against Lacoste.

GERMANTOWN CLUB, Philadelphia, Sept. 9 (A.P.).—Wielding as potent a racquet as he ever has flashed in international tennis competition "Big Bill" Tilden turned the tables on his French rival Henri Cochet, yesterday and enabled the United States to break even with France in the first two matches of the Davis Cup challenge round.

Tilden, with an attack of dazzling brilliancy, outstroked and outplayed Cochet in four thrilling sets, decided by scores of 6—4, 2—6, 6—2, 8—6, after the machine-like game of Rene LaCoste had crushed "Little Bill" Johnston by the decisive count of 6—3 6—2, 6—2.

Johnston's rout was as tragic and complete as Tilden's triumph was spectacular. The little Californian was only a shadow of his former self, lacking control, as well as power in a vain fight against the flawless defence and tactics of La Coste. Tilden, in contrast, seldom has reached such astonishing heights of stroking genius. Slumping now and then especially in the second set he always was able to lift his game to brilliant heights to outvolley outdrive and outmanoeuver France's most brilliant performer.

Tilden as a result is the rock upon which rested last night hopes of the United States of successfully defending the Davis Cup in the face of the most formidable challenge to this country's team supremacy in eight years.

Switch Plans

So convinced were America's strategists of this, as well as of Johnston's decline that they switched their plans suddenly after yesterday's play, announcing that Francis T. Hunter, instead of "Little Bill" will pair with Tilden in the doubles today against Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra. Four hours previously it had been declared Johnston and Tilden would carry the entire burden.

To keep the Davis Cup, the Americans will need a triumph in the doubles today as well as a victory by Tilden over La Coste in Saturday's singles, for Johnston on his form yesterday, probably will have a slim chance of upsetting Cochet in the remaining singles battle.

Disappointing as was Johnston's exhibition yesterday, apparently marking a definite decline in the gallant little Californian's game, it was more than offset for the colorful crowd of 10,000 spectators by Tilden's thrilling triumph over the youth who has been more of a Nemesis to the American ace than any other player in the past year. It was Cochet who put "Big Bill" out of the running for his seventh straight American title last year and it was the plucky former ball boy of Lyons who upset Tilden in the Wimbledon semi-finals this season.

There were all the elements of drama to start with in the renewal of their rivalry, aside from the fact that the back of the United States was perilously close to the wall, but Tilden's performance lifted it to even greater heights than had been anticipated. It was sweet revenge, therefor, for the lanky American, as he not only broke Cochet's "spell" over him but proved to an astonished gathering that he has come back for the biggest battles of his tennis career with all his old weapons all his old mastery of stroke at his command.

It takes a flock of superlatives to tell the story of this 34-year-old veteran's victory how he outdazzled the dazzler, beating youth at the latter's own game, and bringing to bear a slashing attack that rolled up the amazing total of 54 aces and placements in four sets.

Plays Steady Game

The Tilden who did this was not the player whose principal victories in the past have come from his base line defence ,his control and his ability to beat anyone at long range. Yesterday, Tilden was rampant, all over the court, "scrambling," as he puts it, for everything. His "cannonball" service was as good as ever, as his 15 aces testify. His backhand drives were strokes of beauty and precision. He came to the net to outvolley a player whose chief forte has been his play at the barrier.

There were times when Tilden leaped from the heights to the depths, just as there were moments when Cochet held the upper hand. But when "Big Bill" needed points he usually got them. Two streaks of brilliancy that had Cochet seemingly helpless illustrate this. The first occurred in the third set when Tilden reeled off five games in a row to take a commanding lead. The other came in the final set when "Big Bill," trailing at 5—6, ran off three straight games to settle the set and the match.

Both of these spurts checked Cochet's chance just as the latter seemed to be improving. Both revealed all of Tilden's mastery of stroke, punctuated as they were by rippling placements, booming service aces and spectacular volleys. In the first instance Cochet had gained renewed hope by taking the second set rather easily and squaring the match. In the last ,the French star seemed to have at least an even chance of taking the fourth set and again squaring the count. Had the match gone to a fifth set, Cochet's youth and stamina might have been a deciding factor, but he was blasted aside by Tilden's stroking dynamite. It was a fitting finish as the American crashed over a service ace for the final and deciding point.

Johnston's defeat by the 23-year-old La Coste, who holds the American singles title ended the Californian's mastery over his French rivals in Davis Cup competition. "Little Bill," it had been felt, held the "Indian sign" on these invaders, but whatever spell his racquet weaved previously was completely missing yesterday. Johnston had neither the stroking power ,the control nor the stamina to withstand La Coste's steady pounding. The outcome was apparent from the first few games of the opening set when La Coste ran up a lead that he never delinquished.

Punched Drives

Occasionally Johnston "punched" over his famous forehand drives with good effect, but for the most part he was wild, hitting far out of the court or driving into the net. He missed many of these shots by inches at the barrier, but they were the margin between victory and defeat. La Coste forced the battle now and then, as he took advantage of openings, but he didn't need to. His defence was so impregnable he was so consistently keeping the ball in play that Johnston contributed to his success in errors. The American's service also lacked its former effectiveness and was broken through 8 out of 13 times. Johnston was a tragic figure. He tried pluckily to stem the tide, calling on every resource, but except for a spurt or two he was far from the "Little Bill" of old.

YANKS HOLD ST. LOUIS 2-1

New York Club Hang Up Their 19th Victory Over Browns.

PITCHERS' DUEL

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press)—The New York Yankees hung up their 19th victory from the St. Louis Browns yesterday, Waite Hoyt winning a pitching duel against Sam Jones, a former teammate, by 2 to 1. It was Hoyt's twentieth victory of the season. He yielded only three hits, one being Ken Williams' 17th four bagger. Jones gave but four safeties. Ruth drew three bases on balls in four times up.

It was Lazzeri Day at the Yankee Stadium, with 20,000 fans on hand. Before the contest the Yanks' star infielder was presented with a floral horseshoe by a committee of prominent Italian-Americans headed by Acting Mayor McKee.

Boston defeated the visiting Cleveland team in a see-saw game yesterday, 10 to 8, the result being due largely to the hitting of Rothrock and Tobin. Pitchers Shaute and Underhill experienced difficulties in the sixth and seventh innings, mainly because of their wildness, and the Red Sox piled up seven runs to overcome the Indians' early lead.

Tigers Lose 9—1

The Athletics defeated the Detroit Tigers in the opening game of the series at Philadelphia, by a score of 9 to 1. Lefty Groves fanned eight of the Tigers in winning the 19th game of the season, and also hit a home run, a single and a sacrifice fly that accounted for three runs.

Sammy Hale hit for the circuit in the first inning.

Scoring enough runs to win off their old teammate Thurston ,in two innings yesterday, the White Sox started off their eastern invasion with a 4 to 3 victory at Washington. In the third Reynolds hit a homer to right centre scoring Metzler after Goslin, in the second had belted the ball over the right field wall for his 13th circuit clout of the season.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—F. R. Martin, of Hamilton, is the newly-crowned champion of the Canadian Seniors' Golf Association. He succeeded to the title previously held by the veteran, George S. Lyon, of Toronto, by defeating George L. Robinson, of the Lambton Golf Club, Toronto, in an 18-hole play-off, the two having ended the 36-hole competition in a tie at 161.

Yesterday Martin showed the fighting characteristics which brought him the Canadian amateur championship twice, in 1902 and 1910. In fourth place on Wednesday with an 83, four strokes behind the leader, George Robinson, Martin had a brilliant 78 in the second round, while Robinson was a trifle below his first day's form with an 82 added to his 79.

But it was in the play-off that the Hamiltonian, playing in his first seniors' tourney, showed the fighting spirit of a champion. He was slow to start, but once settled down clicked off pars and birdies smartly, making the turn in 40, while Robinson took a 41. Martin reached his greatest pinnacle when the contest was at its height, coming home in a 38 for his 78 of the day, while his rival for laurels wavered, recovered and then weakened badly at the seventeenth hole.

All square at the 17th tee, the contest attracted a large gallery. Robinson took an excursion into the rough from the tee; came out into a sand trap; blasted out to the fairway and then pulled off into the rough again, while Martin was on the edge of the green in three, and certain to be two strokes up going to the 18th, but the Hamiltonian was not content to win on a temporary lapse by his opponent, but virtually clinched the title by holing a 40-foot putt from the edge of the green for a birdie four. Martin gained three strokes on the hole. He played the 18th safely to retain his margin.

Kept At Their Best.

The title-holder not only had to play brilliant golf to force a play-off in the tourney with George Robinson, but he and his Lambton rival had to keep at their best to turn aside the threat of such leading contenders as F. A. Parker, of Lambton, a former seniors' champion; J. E. Caldwell, the veteran from Rivermead, Ottawa, and W. G. Ross, of Royal Montreal. Parker could do no better than his 82 of the first day, and finished in third place, with a gross 164. J. E. Caldwell took fourth place with 166, while W. G. Ross started off badly by finding sand traps and added an 87 to his 81 of the first day for a gross of 168, which gave him fifth position.

There were rare battles in the four sections for the low net scores. One of the features was a gross 90 and net 66 turned in by A. E. Dyment, a 24 handicap player from Toronto.

To-day foursome matches are being played, while in the afternoon Canada meets the United States team of seniors in the annual international team competition, a series in which the United States leads at present.

LEAFS LOSE TO SYRACUSE

Heavy Barrage of Hits Off Former Tiger Settles Dispute.

STARS WIN 5-3

MAPLE LEAF STADIUM, Sept. 9.—Syracuse won the odd game in five from the Leafs yesterday by a score of 9 to 4. Jess Doyle started in the box for the locals, but was batted out in the fifth when he was touched up for a homer, two triples and a double following a sound lacing in the opening frame. Walter Brown, late of the Giants, replaced him and did well, excepting in the seventh when his own mistakes got him into trouble. "Stan" Lucas, former Toronto sand lotter, who has been out on loan with the Hanover club of the Blue Ringe league, pitched the last two innings and retired the Stars in order, showing fine steadiness and perfect control.

Reading had little trouble in taking the opening game of the Newark series from the Bears yesterday by a score of 5 to 3. Harrison twirled fine ball for the Keys and had the Bears at his mercy most of the time. He was given sensational support, especially by Jarrett, who made two spectacular catches and robbed Carlyle of circuit clouts.

Zubris, who started for Newark, was no puzzle, and Boney, who followed him, fared little better.

Only two games scheduled.

CUBS TAKE FINAL GAME

Slam Four Pitchers for 16 Hits, Chicago Defeats Cards 11 to 7.

IN THIRD POSITION

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press.)—Slamming four pitchers for 16 hits, the Chicago Cubs took the final game of the St. Louis series from the Cardinals yesterday, 11 to 7, and went back into third place in the tight National League pennant race.

The Cubs now are leading the Cardinals by one percentage point. The two teams got an even break in the series. This was the 25th victory of the season for Charley Root, who kept the Cardinal hits well scattered except in the fifth and seventh. Schuble hit a homer with one on in the fifth. Nehf relieved Root in the ninth after he had allowed a single and a walk. Nehf allowed another walk, filling the bases with none out. The rally was cut short with two runs, however, when Bottomley forced Adams, Frisch sacrificed and Douthit struck out. Every Cub got at least one hit while seven got two hits each. Both of Hack Wilson's safeties were triples. The Cubs' big inning was the sixth when they got five runs and sent Sherdel and H. Bell to the showers. They garnered four singles and a double, together with two bases on balls, in that frame.

Only one game scheduled.

HAGEN LEADING IN FIRST ROUND

Duplicates Practice Round of Par 70 in Defence of Title.

ARMOUR TIED AT 72

CHICAGO, Ill., September 9.—Walter Hagen yesterday duplicated his practice round of par 70 and took the lead at the end of the first round in defence of his title as western open golf champion.

Hagen was exactly par on both nines of Number 3 course of Olympis Fields Club, which was one stroke better than the next best score, shared by Frank Walsh, of Appleton, Wis., Dick Grout of Okmulgee, and Eddie Murphy of Chicago.

There were two other perfect scores, however, Tommy Armour, of Washington, American and Canadian open champion, and Al Watrous of Grand Rapids, scoring 72 each on Number 1 course, whose par is two strokes higher than that of Number 4. Hagen and the others who played Number 4 yesterday, will take their turn on the first links to-day.

Armour's par scoring yesterday was a distinct recovery from his final practice round in which he took 82, including 45 blows for the final nine of the fourth course.

He was a trifle erratic yesterday, driving so nearly out of bounds on the first hole that he played a provisional ball and holed into Butterfield Creek on the tenth, where he took seven. The national open champion, however, got four birdies and was over par on only three holes.

Evans gets 73.

Chick Evans, playing with Armour, and keeping up his recent recovery from a long slump, got a 73, going one above par on four holes and bagging three birdies. This pair carried a large gallery as did Hagen and Gene Sarazen. Hagen's par on the second nine was matched by Sarazen, as Evans tied Armour's par on the homeward lap, but the former national champion took 38 to reach the turn.

Hagen owed his leading score to an eagle three on the 515 yard first hole, where he sank a long approach putt from off the carpet, for he went one above par on the three holes and got only one birdie. This was Walter's second eagle on that hole for he sank a 30 foot putt there two years ago in his victory over William Mehlhorn in the finals for the professional golfers' championship.

There were a half dozen 72's on the fourth course, which many experts pronounce as difficult at Number 1, less than 100 yards longer.

These 72's were made by Harry Cooper of Los Angeles, who lost the play-off for the national open to Armour; Bob MacDonald, Tom Kennett and Walter Kennett, of Chicago; Neil McIntyre of Indianapolis, and Vincent Eldred of Olean, N. Y.

In addition to Chick Evans, another Chicago amateur, Art Sweet, who writes golf for a livelihood,scored 73, although his card was three above par as he played the fourth course. Tied with these two leading amateurs were William Laughlin of Evansville, Ind.; Frank Kennett, of Kalamazoo; J. W. Kenny of Toledo, Mike Patton, of Memphis, and Dave Tosh of Chicago. Third among the amateurs was Eddie Held of St. Louis, runner up in the western amateur, who scored 74.

Kenneth Hisert of the home club, and Rudy Knepper, were the next amateurs on the list, with 75 each, tying with a dozen professionals including such noted players as Emmett French, Bill Mehlhorn Mike Brady and Al Espinosa.

The Canadian amateur champion, Don Carrick, took 76 over the first course.

LOCKFITTERS WIN LEAGUE PLAY-OFF

Defeat Assemblers 12-3 in Last Game of Lockworks Series.

The Lockfitters outclassed the Assemblers last night in the final game and won by the score of 12 to 3, giving them the League championship and the handsome trophy donated by A. Cuchette. These two teams have been playing good ball and Manager Burke was confident his team would have won, until Manager Hunts' Lockfitters put the locks on them and in the first two innings scored 6 runs, and then in the fourth scored four runs and in the fifth two more. The Assemblers got their runs in the first and second innings and were allowed no more. Westbrook pitched a nice game.

Teams were:

Lockfitters: Murphy, Johnston, Guerin, Collins, Black, Westbrook, Hunt, Companario, Daniels, Heffer-man.

Assemblers: Wilshaw, Westbrook, Burke, Nichols, De'Carlo, Liddell, Primeau, Burke; Connors, Morroco.

Umpires: C. Nichols, M. Whaley.

H. Nichols had to be replaced by Wilshaw when he got his ankle sprained in stealing third.

Westbrook allowed 3 hits and 1 walk; struck out 12.

For the Assemblers, Connors allowed 8 hits and 4 walks and had 2 strike outs.

Burke's record was 3 hits, 1 walk, and 4 strike outs, and H. Westbrook 4 hits and 7 strike outs.

WEBBER TURNER VERY OPTIMISTIC

Expects a Great Influx To Peterborough Fair Week.

Webber Turner, in charge of grandstand attractions and concessionaires at the Peterborough Exhibition, and who has been in Toronto at the big Fair there, is also looking after the interests of our own Exhibition, sends advance notice to the Board to prepare for the biggest crowd Peterborough has been required to accommodate. The interest taken in the growth of the Peterborough Fair is manifested many miles away from this city by those who are interested as exhibitors, midway attractions, concessions and amusements, and Mr. Turner has had more inquiries by far than ever before and closed more contracts than for any other Fair that he has had charge of his present departments.

A Blue Ribbon Costs 22 Cents At the Factory But Try to Win One at Toronto or Peterboro

You Wouldn't Hang the Grand Prix de Paris in a Stable Nor Put a Vanleek Hill Fair Ribbon in a Glass Case—They Mean Nothing When They Leave the Factory.

For 22 cents you can buy a blue or red badge of the fancy rosette design such as you see on a horse's bridle at the Peterborough Exhibition.

That is the price of them in quantity lots. They come a little higher if you want only a few of them. They indicate the prizes the horses or other stock have won.

The same company will sell those badges to the Fair directors of Toronto, Ottawa, London, Peterborough, Picton, Norwood, Campbellford, Bancroft, Douro, Chemong and all the other agricultural associations that buy them at 22 cents each.

* * * * * *

Leaving the factory they are bright ribbons and as Rube Goldberg the cartoonist might say "they don't mean anything."

And Then They Come to Life.

But the breath of life and character is breathed into them when they reach their destinations, the secretaries of the respective exhibitions. They fall into categories and classifications as sharply defined and marked off as the distinctions among men from prince to pauper.

At the top of the list, analagous to the position of prince in the human scale, we have the Toronto badges. A Toronto blue ribbon does mean something. Try and get it, and you will soon realize what it stands for.

* * * * * *

A poultry breeder is more likely to boast that he won twenty firsts at London than twenty firsts at Vankleek Hill.

Let "Hy" Curtis of Warkworth win with his sheep and swine at Ottawa and he will just about forget that he is a director of Percy township's smart fair.

So you see what the Peterborough Exhibition directors have been striving for—class, rank, prestige, reputation—call it what you will.

In the old days a Smith or Monaghan or Otonabee farmer went home from the Peterborough Fair with a cluster of badges—but they didn't mean anything—not much at any rate.

Bits of Color For the Stable.

They were all very well as stable decorations, to pin up in a stall soon to be obliterated and forgotten beneath layers of dust. You didn't take the trouble to put them in a glass case or advertise your winning as you have seen others telling the world they were awarded the "Grand Prix de Paris" or some other intrinsically worthless symbol almost beyond price.

In the old days Peterborough farmers had little competition, those of them who prepared their best animals for the Fair.

Today they often have to meet winners or other exhibitors from Toronto and Ottawa. The directors raised their prize money, and attracted breeders of the best cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

Peterborough Ribbons Gain Grace.

That is the simple explanation of why a Peterborough Exhibition ribbon means something now. The directors have not yet accomplished their aspirations, but they have moved a long way toward them in the last ten years.

Let us all help them hold the position they have already won. Let us make the Peterborough Exhibition secure in that group next to Toronto.

QUAKERS VS THISTLE IN SOCCER GAME

Semi-Final E. A. Peck Cup at King Edward Park at 3 O'clock.

The replay cup tie of the E. A. Peck trophy, between the Quaker Oats and the Thistle takes place on Saturday afternoon at King Edward Park. Kick off at three o'clock.

In the previous game, these two teams battled during the regulation time and failed to decide a winner but they will settle that issue when they fight it out to a finish under the extra time ruling.

The Thistle team for this game has not been chosen but in all probability it will be chosen before the hour of kick-off.

The Quakers eleven will be:—Montgomery, goal; A. Maker and H. Curtis, backs; Horn, Robb and Downey halves; A. Wilson, Carmichael, A. Mitchell, T. Wilson and Foster forwards.

All signed players of both teams be on hand at the pavilion no later than 2.45 propmt.

Flanagan, Secretary; E. J. Harvey, Supervisor of Agencies; H. W. Manning, Assistant Supervisor of Agencies; A. F. Hall, Assistant Actuary and J. A. McCamus, Director of Field Service.

JUMP INTO CANAL SAVES GIRLS' LIVES

Forced To Leap From Windows —Companions Perish.

LONDON, Eng., Sept. 9. —(Canadian Press). — Only by a quick jump from the windows of a building into Regent Canal, with their clothes ablaze, did several girls escape death in a fire which killed four or their companions and injured several others. The fire originated in a film Waste Products Company and spread through tons of celluloid and other inflammables. Four girls perished immediately in the fiery blast, others dashed for the stairs while several jumped from the windows into the canal, where they were picked up by barges.

CLARA BOW IN "HULA."

Clara Bow, the lively little lady of the movies who starred in Elinor Glyn's "It," and who was characterized by the famous novel-maker as being one of the most fascinating of human types, has the stellar and title role in "Hula," and enacts it to perfection. The quality of absolute unself consciousness which Madame Glyn declared to be an essential for the possessor of the mysterious quality of "It," is very evident in this picture, where the leading lady does all manner of stunts without any apparent unease. However, she is an attractive small creature as the Hawaiian damself who falls madly in love with Hal, a resident Englishman in the island colony, a part played by Clive Brook in fine style.

"Hula" is compelled to take strong measures in order to obtain possession of her white-skinned lover, but she does not relent and finally achieves her goal. An English girl who has been Hal's fiancee visits the island, but she relaxes her grasp on the hero when she thinks he has lost his money and Hula is triumphant. The picture shows several colorful scenes from island life, including a good deal of expert surf riding, and the parties of the Calhoun crowd, the rough dwellers of the household of which Hula is a member, are also a portion of the production, which is entertaining and amusing.

AT THE REGENT.

Jack Holt's perfect physical condition served him in good stead during the making of "Man of the Forest," a Zane Grey Paramount picture playing at Regent Theatre.

At the end of a hundred foot fall down a cliff with his horse, Jack got up, dusted himself off, recovered his hat and was ready to go on with the filming. The tumble happened ten thousand feet above sea level, in the California Sierras, where the company was on location, when a narrow trail along which his horse was loping gave way without warning. Animal and rider plunged down the embankment.

"You can't hurt a polo player," was all Jack said when frightened men rushed to his rescue. Beyond a few scratches and bruises which he refused to recognize he had escaped unscathed.

Polo is just one of the strenuous diversions by which Holt stays always as hard as nails. He enjoys keeping fit and it aids him in avoiding injury.

Jumping on and off horses, picking up passengers while galloping along, rolling down mountains, battling with villains; all these require him to be in perfect trim. An idea of the physical feats of which Holt is capable may be gained from viewing his latest thriller.

Georgia Hale, the leading woman, and El Brendell are co-featured.

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE — CCLXXXI — Science in the World War—XXIX. Enemies of the Tanks. — by MAX HAHN

After the tanks' victory at Cambrai the allies lost some of their gained ground because they didn't have enough reserves to hold the area.

The germans immediately began to plant underground mines and to dig pits for the tanks to fall into. These were part of their general scheme of halting the tanks.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

In addition to mines and tank-traps, mud, shell-holes and concrete barriers helped reduce the efficiency of the allied tanks.

The greatest enemy of the tank was artillery fire. The french developed small whippet tanks, which made poor targets for the enemy guns because of their size.

JOLLY JINGLES By Graham Hunter

MANY COUNTRIES

Gunther Von Huenfeld and Lieut. Otto Koennecke, all of whom were planning hops to North America.

Added to these developments came reports from Windsor, Ont., and Madrid, Spain, that Governmental interference in dangerous flights would be sought. Madrid reports said the Spanish Government would not sanction further flights unless they are practical and planned in great detail. Premier King of Canada intimated at Ottawa that Parliament may be asked to pass legislation at the next session to stop trans-Atlantic flying to and from the Dominion.

Defence of the risks taken on trans-Atlantic flights was voiced by Air Vice-Marshal Sir Sefton Branckner in Liverpool. "The flight from east to west has to be done," he said, "and it is idle to talk of prohibiting the attempt. You can no more prevent a man from attempting to fly the Atlantic than you can prevent him from climbing Mount Everest."

May Have Flown North.

LONDON, Sept. 9 (United Press).—As dawn and early forenoon arrived and passed to-day without news of the monoplane Sir John Carling, meteorologists advanced the theory to-day that strong south-westerly winds might have forced the Sir John Carling off its course and toward the direction of Scandinavia, but there were no reports of the plane from Scandinavia.

Mrs. Medcalf Mourns.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(United Press.)—Until early to-day Mrs. Medcalf, wife of Lieut. Medcalf, of the missing "Sir John Carling" still hoped for news of her husband, but now she is scarcely able to speak and is crying bitterly.

"It is terribly hard to believe that perhaps he is drowned," she said.

"One minute all sorts of queer hopes stick in my mind and the next all is black despair. It is all so sudden and Jimmy always succeeded when he set out to do anything. He is utterly fearless. When I first heard of the flight I had no fear and the idea did not dawn on me that it might fail in the endless ocean, but now I have very little hope left.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—The steamer Kyle, under charter of The New York Daily Mirror, has set out on a search for Old Glory.

Flight Called Off

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 9 (Canadian Press).—C. A. "Duke" Schiller and Phil Wood, pilots of the "Royal Windsor," were definitely notified by the local flight committee today to return home and abandon their proposed flight to Windsor, England. It was also decided to enter the plane in the national air derby 2,400 mile nonstop race from New York to Spokane, Washington, which starts September 21.

The fliers were advised to abandon their plans to search for Old Glory as such a serch is considered useless. They were asked to return home at once, and will probably make a nonstop flight from Newfoundland here.

Prize Withdrawn.

BOSTON, September 9. Canadian Press. — Withdrawal of the Boston airport trans-atlantic purse for the current year because of unseasonable weather, and the return of the contributions, was announced to-day by the trustees. The amount of the purse had been set at $25,000, and was to have gone to the first flyer to land in Boston on a hop from the other side.

BRIDGE CLOSED DURING REPAIRS

Wallace's Point Structure Is Being Repaired By Ontario Bridge Company.

BLOCKED TWO MONTHS.

The Ontario Bridge Company commenced work this morning in the building of the new pier in the Wallace Point bridge. The bridge will be closed for at least two months so all motorists wishing to cross the river must go by Bensford.

ANOTHER STRING OF JUMPERS COMING

Mr. George H. McLaughlin, of Oshawa, Sending His Stable of Hunters.

Through the loyalty of Mr. Frank O'Connor, an old Peterborough boy, to his home town, and the kindness of the Toronto Hunt Club, Sir Clifford Sifton, Mr. Alfred Rogers, Toronto, and Mr. George H. McLaughlin, of Oshawa, the Peterborough Fair will have the very fine stables of jumpers at the Exhibition here on Friday and Saturday next. This feature has never been on a Peterboro programme before, and the Fair Board is delighted that arrangements have been completed for their appearance, as they are a decided acquisition and will be greatly appreciated by the large crowds who will be on hand to witness them on Friday and Saturday.

TEACHING AT THE CONSERVATORY

Mr. and Mrs. Liddle, now teaching music at the Peterborough Conservatory of Music, were formerly of the staff of the Toronto Conservatory of Music for a number of years. Mrs. Liddle teaches all branches of voice culture and is a pupil of George Sweet, of the Metropolitan Opera, New York. Having been on tour throughout the continent in concert and recital and soloist in prominent churches in Toronto, and at present contralto soloist in George street United church of this city, Mrs. Liddle is a specialist in repertory of songs and opera and teaches French, German, Italian and Latin texts.

Mr. Liddle is a pupil of Professor Michael Hambourg, an organist pupil of Dr. H. A. Wheeldon, Mus. Bach., F.R.C.O., Metropolitan Church, Toronto. During a series of daily organ recitals Mr. Liddle replaced Mr. Wheeldon when it was necessary for him to leave the city. Mr. Liddle studied theory with Dr. J. Humphrey Anger of Toronto Conservatory, and is prepared to teach theory of music in all its branches. Quite an extensive study of voice with Dr. J. H. MacHenry, Francis Fisher Powers and finally with Mr. Dalton Baker of Toronto, using as a text-book "Singing of the Future" by Francon Davies, specializing in Oratorio and Opera, was made by Mr. Liddle who is organist and choir master in George street United church. Mr. and Mrs. Liddle will be heard in recital in the near future.

Heavy Frost Reported Throughout Alberta

CALGARY, Alta., September 9. Canadian Press. — Frost was reported from a few districts in this province last night, the heaviest being recorded in the Lethbridge district. A light frost was recorded at Rosebud. Reports received from other districts indicated that they had escaped.

The official government thermometer in Calgary did not touch the freezing point, the minimum being 36 above, or four degrees above freezing. In some sections of the city a light hoar frost was reported, but it was not expected that it would do any damage.

At Lethbridge the mercury dropped to freezing while at Cardston two degrees of frost were reported. Pincher Creek, 3 degrees; Spring Coulee, 5 deg. Late wheat in the foothills area might be somewhat damaged as a result, it was stated.

AROUND THE CITY

The fire department had two calls yesterday. The first was at 10.34 a.m. to 500 Aylmer Street North, which was extinguished without damage. The second came at 3.12 p.m. to Driscoll Terrace. It is believed that the blaze originated from some children playing with matches but it was checked before it had gained headway.

The window of Hooper's confectionery store at 414 George street shows a very effective and striking arrangement of blue and yellow, in advertisement of the popular "G B" chocolates. The two colors are combined effectively in an arrangement of paper streamers and festoons. Commencing at the sides and converging to points at the centre are blue and yellow swirls that serve to emphasize the size of the immense sunflower in the middle, with its blue centre, while lambrequins of the paper are developed in the same bright shades and a ground of blue and yellow brings out the rose and white and gold of the candy boxes.

IN POLICE COURT.

In getting drunk, you are now out of fashion, remarked Magistrate O. A. Langley, in the Police Court, this morning, to a local man who was found intoxicated in the city last night. "You are one of a small number, about half a dozen in this city."

Accused, who paid a fine for a similar offence, last week, pleaded guilty. A twenty dollar fine was the penalty imposed.

PARTY OF SOLDIERS RETURN FROM CHINA

Had Very Little Fighting to Do in Orient—Arrive at Vancouver.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 9.—(By Canadian Press).—After six months of service in China, a party of seventeen soldiers have arrived here to undergo treatment at the Shaughnessy Military Hospital, glad to get away from the zone of barricades and humid atmosphere.

Enthusiastically acclaiming Vancouver, in climate and food as 300 per cent better than the "blinking" Orient, each of the men wore the first grin of satisfaction in many weeks.

Beyond a scrimmage or two with Chinese at the barracks and vast experience in the laborious task of building barriers and stringing barbed wire, as well as the unromantic duty of withstanding torrential rains and humid atmosphere, these returning Tommies had little to occupy their mind.

The Chinese soldiers, especially the Southerner, were "comic" looking chaps with queer taste for useless firearms, in the opinion of the invalided Imperials. They have modern rifles of every make and pockets full of ammunition, but scarcely one man in a hundred possesses a round that will fit his rifle.

On the question of fighting, the men had little to say. "The British policy seemed to be 'turn cheek' one of them remarked dolefully. "So we seldom hit back. However, I think many of the boys had satisfactory scraps when there were no witnesses around."

NATURAL CAUSES FOR MAN'S DEATH

Jury Brings In Verdict On Man Found Dying in Barn.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Sept. 9.—(Canadian Press.)—Death from natural causes was the verdict of the coroner's jury which last night investigated the death of Duncan Hood, formerly of Welland, who died shortly after being found ill in a barn on the outskirts of the town. Dr. T. F. Robertson, who conducted a post mortem, said that exposure and lack of food were the causes of death. Hood had been employed as a farm laborer in this vicinity earlier this summer.

WORLD PEACE GUIDE WORD OF COUNCIL

Reich Would Accept Compulsory Arbitration Clause of World Court.

OUTLAW WAR.

Stresemann Announces Germany Would Seek To Be Pioneer in Aiding Peace.

GENEVA, Sept. 10 (A.P.).—Peace as the future guiding policy of mankind received a big impetus yesterday in that great world forum into which the Assembly of the League of Nations is developing.

Germany, first among the Great Powers to take such a step, announced through Dr. Gustav Stresemann, Foreign Minister, to the accompaniment of great applause of the delegates and public, that the Reich would accept the compulsory arbitration clause of the world court of justice, and in solemn tones assured the assembly that Germany would not only travel along the road of peace, but would seek to be a pioneer in everything that pertained to peace.

Mystic Force

M. Briand, the French Foreign Minister, with Dr. Stresemann and Sir Austen Chamberlain, one of the chief artisans of the Locarno agreement, in an address to the international newspapermen which electrified everybody, declared his conviction that peace possessed that mystic force which ensured its permanency on earth.

The Polish delegation, after negotiations with the statesmen of the Great Powers which disappointed earlier hopes, took the bit in their teeth and last night introduced in the Assembly a resolution branding all wars of aggression as international crimes, and committing all the signatory nations to settle disputes of whatever nature by pacific means.

Owing to apprehension that their original demand for pacts of non-aggression might be interpreted as an attempt to revise the Geneva protocol, which expired after opposition emanating principally from Great Britain, the Polish delegates eliminated this feature from their proposal, but M. Sokal, Polish representative, pleaded vigorously with the Assembly to approve his declaration outlawing war, believing that it would at least have a great moral force and would strengthen the covenant of the League of Nations. This resolution will be considered later by the Assembly.

Closer Collaboration

Declaring that the post-war period has brought a spiritual upheaval as well as economic and social changes, Dr. Stresemann advocated closer economic collaboration between all nations, with just wages and fair conditions for workers, and then affirmed that war can no longer be a creative force that opens paths to better destinies.

"Public opinion in Germany," he said, "is in entire agreement with the fundamental ideas of mutual understanding and peace. More than any other country Germany needs security, if it is to support a growing population in a reduced territory. Therefore we are most anxious to be pioneers in achieving general peace, which is the ideal of the League of Nations."

On Mandate Commission

GENEVA, Switzerland, Sept 10 (A.P.).—Germany yesterday achieved its ambition of membership of the League of Nations Mandate Commission, when the Council of the League appointed on the Commission Ludwig Kastl, German representative, who henceforth will have a voice in the administration of the former German colonies, lost to Germany through the war.

Herr Kastl has seen long service in German Colonial administration. After the war and the surrender of German South Africa he was appointed German Commission accredited to the authorities of occupation. Later he served for several years as head of the reparations department of the Reich's Ministry of Finance.

BRIBERY RAMPANT SAYS U.S. DRY CHIEF

Announces Start of Clean-up in Ranks of Prohibition Agents.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10. Canadian Press. — Bribery is rampant in the Federal prohibition enforcement, Assistant Secreary of the Treasury Lowman declared to-day in announcing the start of a general clean up in the ranks of the dry agents.

"There are many incompetent and crooked men in the service," he added, "and by many I mean a whole lot. They are everywhere. We are after them. Some times my anger gets tired signing dismissal orders."

Lowman explained that an average of from three to four are being discharged daily. On some days the dismissal orders are stacked high on his desk, he said.

VOTING MONDAY IN NORTH HURON

Several Cabinet Ministers Make Appearance in Support of Liberal Nominee.

GUTHRIE PRESENT.

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—The closing days of the North Huron by-election campaign finds supporters of three candidates confident of victory. The election is caused by the death of John H. King, who was Progressive member from the riding in the Federal House.

A feature of the campaign has been the presence in the riding of a number of Federal Cabinet Ministers in support of the campaign of Archis Hislop, Liberal nominee, and the addresses made by Hon. E. C. Drury, former Premier of Ontario, who has declared that he has not forsaken the principles of his Progressive platform in joining forces with the Liberal workers. Included among the speakers on behalf of Mr. Hislop are Right Hon. Mackenzie King, Hon. W. D. Euler, Hon. James Malcolm, Hon. J. C. Elliott, Hon. James A. Robb, and Hon Lucien Cannon. Others who addressed meetings were Mitchell Hepburn M.P., of West Elgin; Thomas McMillan, M.P.; Hon. Duncan Marshall, F. D. Sanderson, M.P., and Mrs. Brickendon of London. Meetings have been held in all parts of the riding and closing meetings are being held in Goderich on Saturday night.

The campaign of Sheldon Bicker, U.F.O. nominee, has been supported strongly by Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P. for East Grey, who has been an outspoken exponent of a change in government to group control.

Women's Meetings

J. J. Morrison and several other U.F.O. leaders have been supporting the campaign of Mr. Bricker. Special attention has been paid to the women of the rural sections. Several afternoon meetings have been held for their special attention.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, temporary leader of the Conservative party has been in the riding on behalf of George Spotton, the Conservative nominee. Just two meetings have been held in his behalf as his campaign has been more of the personal canvass character. Mr. Spotton has been a candidate on two previous occasions.

National issues have been discussed at considerable length, but much of the campaign has centred about probelms which are more largely of local character, with special reference being made by both U.F.O. and Conservative workers to grants made for public works in the riding. North Huron has been the battleground for many keen fights, but none have been more strenuous than the one just closing. Election day is Monday next.

Fliers' Jinx Follows Another Air Venture

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 10 — (Canadian Press.)—Canada's first attempt to inaugurate an air service ended in failure yesterday, the jinx that has followed most of the recent air ventures, both national and international, adding another victim in the Montreal-made seaplane that went out to rush Empress of France mails from Father Point to Montreal. With thirty-five bags of mail on board, the Vickers seaplane, piloted by Major Tudhope, turned its nose to Montreal early yesterday morning and was about to take off from Father Point when the acident occurred The plane rose from the water but failed to clear the long Rimouski wharf, against which one of the pontoons crashed. Major Tudhope and his machine fell into the St. Lawrence. The pilot and all the mail were rescued, but the plane was wrecked, according to reports received at Montreal and Quebec during the day.

Local post office officials stated that the mail taken on the plane was being rushed by train to Montreal. It would arrive here approximately at the same time as usual.

ANGLE PARKING IS FAVORED BY ALD. J. O. FIFE

Should Apply To All Streets Possible, Is His Contention.

TIME LIMIT NEEDED.

Present By-law Should Be Rescinded and Problem Studied Thoroughly.

Approached by The Examiner this morning, Alderman J. O. Fife said it was not so much the angle parking system that he was opposing but the manner in which the parking problem on a whole was being solved. He said he firmly believed that angle parking was the only real solution of the parking problem; if adopted on all streets where practicable.

"True, I opposed the present bylaw calling for angle parking on only a few blocks on George Street and also supported the bylaw to rescind it on the logical grounds that it was only a partial law and would not solve the parking problem," he said. It would only make matters more intricate and conflict with other bylaws and create unnecessary inconveniences among motorists. Several amendments will have to be made in our parking bylaws before it is workable.

"Now my policy is not to criticize in a destructive manner unless I think I have something better to offer. Now my policy was not to pass the present angle bylaw as it now stands and to rescind others instead of amending. A committee should be appointed to draft out a bylaw covering details, having the same approved by a larger committee before it is finally taken to the Council.

My solution of the parking problem is angle parking on all streets wherever practicable, restricted areas, and time limits. Where horizontal parking is necessary it should be plainly designated by signs. Back this up with good judgment in enforcing the bylaw and with a few stop and go signs and one or two "no left turn" corners, and I believe it would be approved by the citizens in general."

DAIRY SUPPLIES SELL RAPIDLY

Two Ladies Report Thefts of Fowl at Recent Markets.

POTATOES $1.50.

Two different vendors in the basket section reported thefts of fowl during recent Saturday morning markets. One woman lost a goose, another a fat chicken.

Cucumbers were 75 cents a basket, pears 40 cents a basket and 65 cents a peck, onions 35 cents for a small basket and green tomatoes 40 cents. Crabapples were 30 cents a peck, black currants 25 cents for two quarts, and blueberries 9 cents a pint. Apples were 45 cents a peck.

WINDSOR, Ont., September 10 —Canadian Press. — Seven border youths charged with robbery of a roadhouse in East Sandwich township were arraigned in Ford city court yesterday afternoon before Magistrate W. A. Smith, and remanded for a week without being asked to plead. Bail of $5000 was forthcoming for two of them, Gerald Moynahan and Newton Campbell. Their alleged accomplices are Joseph Gardner, Earl Gardner, Lance Gardner, "Red" Lipton and Clifford Ouellette.

Transmits Images By Invisible Rays In Noctovisor Showing For Scientists

LEEDS, England, September 10. — The meetings of the British Association for the Advancement of Science came to an end after a two-hour session in which papers on special phases of economics and natural science were read.

Many members seized the opportunity of witnessing demonstrations of noctovision a modification made by John L. Baird, the Scottish inventor, of his television system.

When the noctovision apparatus is used the subject whose image is to be transmitted sits in total darkness. In reality he is bathed in invisible infra-red rays. His image appears on the screen at the receiving end in a flickering, rosy glow, strongly reminiscent of the first moving pictures. The features are recognizable, but the infra-red rays produce a certain amount of distortion in the colour values.

As in television, in which the person at the transmitting end sits in the glare of an ordinary artificial light, the eye is tricked. What may be called a slicing and chopping machine optically reduces the reflection of the face to tens of thousands of fragments. Each fragment is converted into the electric impulse. At the receiving end the impulses are re-converted into light fragments, each of which is placed in its correct position on the screen. This process occurs with almost instantaneous rapidity, so that the eye does not realize that it is assembling an optical mosaic and accepting it as a whole.

There is reason why total darkness should reign in the transmitting room when the infra-red rays are used for noctovision. Baird seats his subject in the inky gloom simply to drive home the point that their counterfeit presentments are being sent by invisible rays.

CARRIED ON LIQUOR TRAFFIC IN VIOLATION OF THE LAW

Submissions Laid Before Customs Commission With Respects Bronfman Interests.

FOUR BROTHERS.

Evidence Shows They Secured Immunity From Prosecution In So Doing.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press.)— Submissions by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., commission counsel, with respect to the Bronfman interests were made to the Royal Commission on Customs just before a late adjournment last evening. Four members of this family, who engaged in the liquor business on a large scale in various parts of Canada, have appeared here as witnesses.

Mr. Rowell's submissions and suggested findings were as follows:

The evidence discloses the Bronfmans carried on their business at Yorkton and Regina in violation of the law and secured immunity from prosecution in so doing. In particular they:

(1) Compounded, labelled and sold liquor contrary to the provisions of the Excise Act, Sections 187 to 196.

(2) Carried on their business in violation of the provisions of the Food and Drugs Act, 10-11 George V, Cap. 27, and the regulations made thereunder.

(3) Violated Section 186 of the Excise Act in reference to labels.

(4) Falsely applied trade marks to their goods or applied false descriptions to such goods, contrary to the provisions of the criminal code.

Used Forged Labels.

(5) Used forged United States' revenue stamps and forged United States and Scottish liquor labels on goods bottled by them at Regina for the American market.

(2) Government officials who attempted to interfere with them were called off.

(3) Harry Bronfman attempted to bribe Cyril Knowles, customs officer, in order to prevent him from interfering with their business.

(4) The Bronfman interests exported liquors in bond at St. John and Halifax, and in respect of certain of the shipments the evidence discloses that forged or fraudulent landing certificates were produced to the department to secure the release of bonds.

(5) That the Bronfman companies and the Bronfsmans individually have not made income tax returns, as required by law, particularly for the years 1921 and 1922.

(6) That in respect to the business profits tax, the Bronfmans made no returns whatever.

Recommendations.

1. That the evidence and exhibits showing the violations of the criminal code, of the excise act and of the foods and drugs act, be submitted to the Department of Justice in order that prosecutions may be instituted against the parties who, upon the evidence and exhibits, appear to have violated the law.

2. That the evidence and exhibits relating to income tax be submitted to the commissioner of taxation for review in the light of the facts disclosed in the evidence and exhibts.

3. That the evidence and exhibits relating to the business profits act be submitted to the commission of taxation for review.

4. That the evidence and exhibits relating to business profits tax be referred to the ministers of national revenue for review and the collection of the tax due the government.

5. That the department investigate all shipments of the Bronfman companies under bond to ascertain if the goods reached the port named in the entry, and if not that proceedings be taken to collect the amount of the bonds covering such shipments.

BRIAND LAUDS GERMAN STAND

Says Friendship Between Two Countries Will Continue to Grow.

PIONEER OF PEACE.

GENEVA, September 10 (Canadian Press). — Speaking from the rostrom of the League of Nations assembly before a great audience, Aristide Briand, French Foreign Minister, to-day delivered another notable oration, during which he enunciated his conviction of the certainty that the rapprochement between France and Germany would continue to develop uninterruptedly in the interest of world peace.

M. Briand began by lauding Gus-Stresemann, German Foreign Minister, who is representing Germany in the Assembly. The French Minister alluded to Herr Stresemann's announcement that Germany would sign the compulsory arbitration clause of the World Court of Justice, and wanted to be a pioneer in the movement for peace. M. Briand declared this noble discourse came as a ray of light to dissipate the mist.

MORNING POST OPPOSED TO CRY TO BAN FLIGHTS

London Paper Says Britain Owes Much To Daring Pioneers.

SCHLEE AT SHANGHAI.

Round World Flier's Wife Hopes He Will Abandon Ocean Flight.

LONDON, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press Cable). — The Morning Post does not agree with the people who are clamoring for prevention by law of fliers' efforts to span the Atlantic Ocean because of the perils connected therewith, and says it is foolish to try to set a limit to human endeavor.

"If Sebastian Cabot and Jacques Cartier had been prevented from sailing for Newfoundland," The Post says, "Canada might have remained in the womb of time." The Post adds: "It would be strange if the country made by intrepid pioneers should now forbid exploration in a new sphere."

Hopes Husband Sensible

DETROIT, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—Mrs. Leah Schlee, wife of Edward Schlee, round the world flier, told The Associated Press today that she had cabled her husband at Tokio, advising him to "use his own judgment" in making the projected flight from Tokyo to one of the small islands of the Midway group. "I do hope he'll be sensible, though, and decide to take a boat to Vancouver," Mrs. Schlee said.

Detroit at Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press.)—The round the world monoplane Pride of Detroit arrived here from Hong Kong at 5.30 p.m. to-night after a flight of 780 miles. The Pride of Detroit landed at the Chinese Nationalist Government aerodrome, ten miles outside the International settlement.

Four Flights Abandoned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press.) — The intensified storm of protest against trans-oceanic flying left in its wake to-day the virtual abandonment of at least four more projected overseas hops and prospects of presidential investigation to make the adventure safe.

The Navy Department openly displayed its opposition to trans-oceanic flights at this time by withdrawing the leave of an officer and an ensign planning flight. President Coolidge voiced concern over the recent disasters and planned a personal investigation, two cities withdrew $25,000 prizes for trans-Atlantic victors, and friends and relatives of three men planning long over the water hops appealed to the fliers to abandon their intentions

Meanwhile the fruitless search went on for the United States' monoplane Old Glory and the Canadian monoplane Sir John Carling, long missing in attempted flights eastward over the Atlantic.

Abandonment of the projected Windsor flight of the Canadian plane Royal Windsor and the Paris flight of Capt. Rene Fonck appeared almost a certainty to-day. Despite the increase in sentiment in Canada, the United States and Europe against trans-oceanic flights, Ruth Elder, pretty 23 year old Lakeland aviatrix, is determined to make the attempt to fly from New York to Paris. 'They shall not stop me,' she declared in Tampa, Florida, yesterday after bringing the monoplane "American Girl" to a landing at the edge of an eleven hundred mile hop from Detroit.

Wives Still Hopeful.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10. — United Press. — The wife of Lloyd Bertaud has faith in the luck of the lost transatlantic flyer and believes the three occupants of Old Glory will be found.

"They are safe" Mrs. Bertaud said over and over. Mrs. Bertaud still maintains a calm exterior and refuses to believe her husband is at the bottom of the sea.

"I can only pray," was Mrs. Philip A. Payne's comment. She is the wife of the newspaperman who accompanied the two fliers.

Payne Born in Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press). — Philip Payne, managing editor of The New York Daily Mirror, travelling as a passenger on the ill-fated Old Glory with Lloyd Betraud and James Hill, was born in Toronto. When a boy he moved to Gravenhurst and began his journalistic career on The Gravenhurst Banner.

Schiller Going Home

WINDSOR, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—"Will leave as soon as possible for Windsor," is the statement contained in a wire sent to the local flight committee last night by C. A. "Duke" Schiller, pilot of the Royal Windsor. The wire was in answer to a message sent to Schiller on Friday by the committee, definitely abandoning the trans-Atlantic flight of the plane.

Steamer Kyle Search For Plane Old Glory

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Sept. 10. .. The coastal steamer Kyle, steaming 15 knots an hour, set out from here at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon to follow the course of Old Glory from the Newfoundland coast to the point some 500 hundred miles out where it is believed the big American-to-Rome monoplane crashed into the sea in the darkness of last Tuesday morning after her wireless had sent out one despairing call for help.

The Kyle, sailed by Captain Ken Travenor, is under charter to the New York Daily Mirror, owned by William Randolph Hearst, sponsor of flight. Phil. Payne, managing editor of the Mirror, was the third man in the plane with pilots Lloyd Bertaud and J. D. Hill, when the Old Glory took off from Old Orchard in Maine, last Monday noon.

The Kyle is equipped with wireless and a powerful searchlight.

Capt. Travenor will also keep a sharp look-out for traces of the London to London monoplane, Sir John Carling which left the Harbor Grace airport at daybreak on Wednesday and has not been heard from since.

PRESENTATION TO R. A. BROWN

Former General Manager of Canadian Nashua Co. Leaving City.

GOES TO MIDDLETOWN.

As announced a short time ago, R. A. Brown has received an important promotion as manager of the Nashua Paper Company's Middle West plant at Middletown, Ohio, and is leaving Peterborough in a few days to assume his new duties.

While visiting the local plant yesterday for a short time, he was made the recipient of an address and presentation by the entire office staff, which gathered on short notice for the event, and to say farewell.

Jack Marshall, who is succeeding Mr. Brown in the local plant as manager, referred to the high esteem in which Mr. Brown is held by the entire organization, and to the success he has made of the business here, and predicted for him further recognition of his ability and loyalty to the company with which he is connected.

They all wished both Mr. and Mrs. Brown a happy time in their new home.

Miss Hall made the presentation of a handsome fully equipped club bag.

Mr. Brown was completely taken by surprise and spoke feelingly of his association with the office staff since the inception of the company here.

He would look back at his work here with them with pleasure; he knew the company would continue to make good under the direction of the new officers, and could say that his residence here with his wife and family would always bring about pleasant recollections.

Mr. Brown was further entertained by members of the plant last evening.

Cherbourg Police Won't Allow American Legion to Parade.

CHERBOURG, September 10 — United Press. — The chairman and the entire municipal committee planning the parade and reception for the American Legionaires upon their arrival here next Friday, resigned today. The action was the result of the police order refusing to sanction the Legion parade here in view of the recent Communist manifestations here and the fear of more trouble if the parade is held.

CHARGES VOICED BY DR. BANTING AROUSE OTTAWA

Reported To Have Said That Eskimos Were Being Exploited.

AWAIT REPORTS.

Interview Classed as Bad Taste By Federal Officials.

OTTAWA September 10. — An interview at Toronto, given by Dr. F. G. Banting, of insulin fame, reflecting upon the treatment of Eskimos by the Hudson Bay Company, has attracted attention and unfavorable comment here. Dr. Banting went to the Arctic regions on the annual expedition under the auspices of the Interior department, and returned a few days ago on the Beothic. Dr. Livingstone of the Indian Affairs Department, who went with him, has not returned, nor has a report yet been received from any of the officials on the expedition.

Awaits Reports.

Dr. Banting is credited with saying that the Eskimos are being exploited in various ways by the Hudson Bay Company, such as encouraging the use of white men's clothing and food. The department will wait to hear from its officers, annually detailed to make reports on conditions up there, but in the meantime Dr. Banting's interview is classed as bad taste. He wanted a trip, and suggested that he might go as medical officer. This position being filled the department said it would be glad to take him along as a guest, and he went in that capacity.

In Press First.

The view is expressed that if what he observed called for comment, it should have been reported to the department at least before being published in the press. Official reports are awaited.

DE LUXE 'BUS PUT IN LOCAL SERVICE

New Vehicle Seats 25 Passengers—Has Wicker Chairs.

The Peterborough 'bus service has procured a new twenty-five passenger Gotfredson 'bus, painted in maroon on the upper portion and "Pig Skin Brown" on the lower, with "Peterborough 'Bus Line" done in gold letters. There is a single door, full width, at the front, instead of the folding doors, which were less convenient. Behind the driver there is a double row of wicker chairs finished in plush, with leather trimmings, and equipped with pneumatic cushions, and on the same side, at the back, is a "safety door," which is kept barred. At the extreme rear is a seat which extends the whole width of the 'bus, and will seat five comfortably, while down the other side is a single row of wickers, to the aisle side of which are hinged small auxiliary seats. The 'bus is large and comfortable, with plenty of knee room to each seat. The 'bus is typical of the regular De Luxe "Rubber Necking" 'buses of the large cities in its inside furnishings, having a small crank window adjuster at each window, centre and side curtains, and a buzzer. In the top are two ventilators which, with the aid of the windows, will serve to keep the atmosphere clean and cool in the warmest weather, and the six well shaded globes give a good white but not glaring light.

The 'bus, which is equipped with governor, limiting its speed to 35 miles per hour, has plenty of power, which, combined with its roominess, makes it ideal for picnic parties. It has a 219-inch wheel base and is equipped with Booster brakes, which give 640-lb. pressure in addition to the regular braking power of the engine, which insures perfect safety, under all conditions.

The officials of this company hope the citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity of such excellent service and accommodation to travel De Luxe in 'buses of the Peterborough 'Bus Line.

OFFICER KILLED; INDIANS ARE HELD

Three Men in Custody in Connection With the Murder.

Leach, fisheries patrol officer, whose body was found on board his stranded launch. The Indians are being held at Port Alberni.

RACES HELPING PLANE MAKERS

Benefit Will Be Derived From Contests, Experts Think.

GRUELLING TESTS.

In the race for the King's Cup and subsequent races for light aeroplanes in Great Britain speed averages of from 82.9 to 144.7 miles an hour were made. The winner piloted a Moth plane and on the fastest lap made 95.6 miles an hour. According to advices received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its British Information Service the races included three wide-swept turns so that on straight courses the speeds would have been higher.

While several of the light planes had to make forced landings because of minor engine troubles, this is not to the discredit of the power units, for small engines are rarely subjected to hours of flight at full throttle at more than the official maximum revolutions. It is felt that as in motor car racing these events will help to improve the manufacture of the planes, for dormant weaknesses are forced to the front by the gruelling tests and the makers are thus enabled to improve their engines for the every-day use of the private owner.

In another trial the Tiger Moth monoplane, produced by the De Havilland Aircraft Company, reached a speed of 170 miles an hour on half-throttle opening, with an air-cooled four cylinder in line engine of only 5¼ litres (6 quart) capacity. It is believed that when further experience has been secured speeds approaching 200 miles an hour will b ereached, and that for its power the Tiger Moth is the fastest machine in the world.

In an unusual test of a light aeroplane, a British woman pilot flew 1,300 miles in one day and made 79 landings in an effort to ascertain how many aerodromes and possible landings could be reached in one day. An average speed of 80 miles an hour was maintained throughout the test.

LARGE ENROLMENT IN TWO SCHOOLS

Only One Change in Staff at Lakefield—Thieves About.

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 10.—Both Public and High school re-opened for the autumn term on Tuesday morning, Sept. 6th inst., with the largest enrolment on record in the Public school. The staff in the High school is the same as last year, with J. M. Simpson, the principal and Misses B. S. Curtis and M. E. Connell, the assistants.

In the Public school there is one change in the staff, Harry Wannamaker is taking Room III, being appointed to take the place vacated by Miss Simpson. The other teachers are Miss Duff (principal), Miss E. V. Kennedy, Miss Myrtle Payne, Miss Eva Hill and Miss Elsie Kidd.

There have been a few cases of petty theft in the village which show that a few people are below the standard of the average residents of Lakefield. Flowers and potted plants have disappeared from the verandahs of some prominent residents and the places they beautified are left bare and the culprits have the meagre and decidedly doubtful satisfaction of possessing these blooms but not being able to display them as they can be identified.

Rev. Gerald Hibbard of Quebec was in charge of the morning service in St. John's church and Rev. A. W. Mackenzie was in charge of the evening service on Sunday last.

BRICKS OF GRAPES FOR MAKING WINE

Company Selling Them Faces Charges in United States' Courts.

CHICAGO Ill., September 10. — Bricks weighing a pound and a half a piece, and selling at a price of $2 each throughout the country, aroused the curiosity of the Federal authorities and resulted in an investigation which has culminated in indictments against the officials of the Vino Sano Grape Brick Company, charging conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Investigation revealed that the bricks were made of compressed grapes. On each brick was a printed caution that if water should be added to the contents of the brick the contents would ferment after three days and become alcoholic.

While the label was in the form of a caution it also contained recipes for the transformation of the brick into various wines through the addition of flavors.

BALLOONS USED BY THE INDIANS CENTURIES AGO

Revelations Contained in Old Manuscript Show They Did Electro-Plating.

USED DRY BATTERIES.

Kokatnur, Hindu Scientist of New York, Tells Chemical Society.

DETROIT, Sept 10.—(United Press.)—Four pages of Sanskrit manuscript, discovered in India, indicated that hydrogen, oxygen, dry batteries, electro-plating and balloons were known there utnold centuries ago, V. H. Kokatnur, Hindu scientist, of New York, told the American Chemical society.

Great monuments, such as the 10-ton wrought iron pillar near Delhi, and the 24-foot wrought iron gun at Nurvar, indicated the knowledge of Indians thousands of years ago compared favorably to the knowledge of the worlds most eminent scientists to-day, Kokatnur said.

Against Co-Education

Other high lights to-day were statements that mixed chemistry classes of boys and girls made poorer progress than one-sex classes; that rapid scientific progress was a threat to the stability of the world; that arts and crafts are disappearing from the home, and that the oldest manufacturers were threatened by synthetic processes.

Mixed classes in general chemistry resulted in 38 per cent. more failures than where students were segregated by sexes, Professor Alex. Silverman, Pittsburg university, said.

Killing World's Navies.

Science is killing the navies of the world, Dr. E. K. Mees, Eastman research director, of Rochester, N.Y., declared. It would be foolish for the United States to build up a big navy, because science might at any time discover a more effective weapon than a navy and wipe it out.

Culinary arts are being replaced by the canner, delicatessen store and restaurant, he said.

Mees holds that scientific discoveries threaten almost every kind of business, occupation and profession, and pointed out that an automobile manufacturer only produces one "best" model to see it surpassed by another model.

POSSIBILITY OF STRIKE BREAK

Split in Ranks of Queensland Railway May Result in Break-up.

CLERKS RETURN.

BRISBANE, Australia, Sept. 10. — (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's). —A split in the ranks of the railwaymen has suddenly brought about the possibility of a collapse in the railway strike in Queensland. Guards, shunters and others of the operating staff are signing on to-day and the clerks' union has ordered its members to apply for re-employment. Various other grades have decided to accept the railway commissioners' terms. At the same time the Board of Trade has requested the Disputes Committee to make a definite order regarding the South Johnstone sugar mill where the employment of "black listed" workers lead to the railway tie-up.

Justice Webb of the Disputes Committee has decided to make an order extending transportation facilities for the products of the South Johnstone sugar mill and if the order is not carried out by the railway workers within twenty-four hours, he will give whatever relief the mill management likes to ask for.

The transportation facilities at the South Johnstone mill were tied up, when in sympathy with the mill workers, the railway workers had refused ti handle the products of the mill.

The Queensland parliamentary Labor party defeated a motion of nonconfidence in Premier W. McCormack, by 38 votes against 4, and the Trades Council rejected by motion, the resolution passed by the Railwaymen's Union calling on the party executive to expel Premier W. McCormack from the Labor ranks

MAKING PLANS TO SAVE HALIBUT

Fishermen Catch Too Many Young Fish—Experiments Necessary.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 10.—(By Canadian Press).—The international halibut commission is still working on plans for the salvation of the halibut, one of the most valuable of the North Pacific's food fishes. Investigation and research have been in progress for several years and while the methods of conservation have not yet been definitely decided upon, the commission has been convinced that the halibut's numbers are declining in an alarming degree.

The present supply of halibut, according to government experts, is being maintained by resorting to new and far distant fishing banks, by more intensive fishing on depleted banks and the use of smaller hooks.

One of the problems faced by the industry is the tendency of fishermen to catch young fish, but the difficulty of educating fishermen to take only the largest of the species is appreciated.

"A fundamental fault of our present knowledge", says J. P. Babcock, commissioner of British Columbia fisheries, "is that we do not know what balance should be maintained between adults and young, between marine spawners and non-spawners. This can only be determined by skillfully framed and continued experiments.

ALL GOOD SEATS FOR FIGHT SOLD

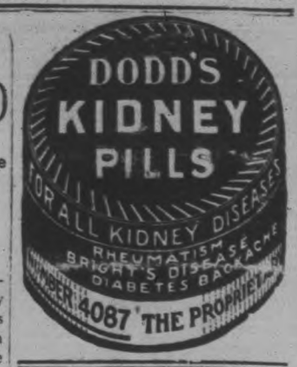
Advance Sale Takes Up All the $30 and $40 Seats.

RECORD PURSE.

CHICAGO, Ill., September 10 (Canadian Press). — All forty and thirty dollar seats, the choicest locations for the Tunney-Dempsey battle in Soldier Field, on September 22, have been sold, Tex Rickard has announced. Because of the rush of business, Rickard said he had been unable to tabulate the figures but his guess was that the advance sale had exceeded the two million dollars mark, assuring a record purse for the battle.

TIMBER ON INDIAN RESERVES

The total quantity of timber cut for sale on Indian reserves in Canada in the fiscal year 1926, was approximately ninety million feet board measure and in addition to this the Indians cut for their own use about seven million feet of timber for building and fencing purposes and twenty thousand cords of wood for fuel, besides an unreported quantity of ash, maple, hickory, etc., for the native manufacture of snowshoes, baskets, axe handles, and similar products.



WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, Man., September 10 —Steady foreign markets tended to give buoyancy to values on the Winnipeg Grain Market yesterday, offsetting the bearish influence improved weather in the Canadian West was expected to exert. Despite spasmodic pressure, the market held firm, the close reflecting gains ranging from ⅜c to ⅝c, October and May, being relatively the strongest.

Shipping houses were moderate buyers, their purchases being attributed to overnight seaboard sales.

Good demand for rye, boosted the prices of that commodity 2c to 2¼c. Germany was a big buyer of rye. Oats were unchanged to ⅜c down; barley ¼c lower to ¼c higher; flax, ¼c lower to ¼c higher.

The People Are Partners With Directors In The Exhibition

They Have Shown Their Approval in the Past and the Directors Have Broadened Their Plans to That Scale of Encouragement —This Year's Success Now Depends Upon the Weather and the People's Patronage.

The people of this district are partners with the directors in the present successful development of Peterborough's Exhibition. And this district embraces all of Peterborough county with large sections of Hastings, Northumberland, Durham and Victoria counties.

It has been an old, implicit partnership, and a pleasant one. Most successful enterprises are agreeable to their promoters.

This partnership of town and country folk has continued for years, has survived many discouragements and surmounted difficulties that were often distressing.

Next week the partners should reach their fullest co-operation, and again demonstrate conclusively that the Peterborough Exhibition deserves to be ranked with Ottawa and London.

This means that there should be an attendance record, that the people will respond with their loyal support to the most ambitious effort the directors of the Peterborough Exhibition have ever attempted.

• • •

For the last twelve months the Directors have been meeting and planning, yes, and begging and building for the future in a general way of course, but particularly for the events of next week.

That is their contribution to the partnership. There is no money in it for them, no reward except the satisfaction of sharing in a community undertaking that is intended primarily to stimulate interest in the agricultural industry in Central Ontario, and incidentally helping to build up this province and nation.

Isn't that a worth while project? Doesn't it invite your hearty assistance, apart altogether from the special attractions, the amusements that are necessary garnishment to the directors' main purpose and programme.

• • •

This work could not have been carried on in the past, nor can its success continue without public support. The people generally have signified their approval of the progress of the Peterborough Exhibition. These latter years have been particularly encouraging in the extent of the exhibits and the mounting figures at the turnstiles.

• • •

The directors have done their best. The general public take up the burden next week. They can lift the fame of the Peterborough Exhibition to a new pinnacle, and the directors feel confident that they will do so.

The executive of the league has prepared an especially interesting program for the occasion and a very pleasnat evening is assured all those who attend. While this particular form of entertainment is novel here, it has been practiced by Toronto churches for several years. As a means of becoming acquainted with other young people and of perhaps meeting old friends, the freshmen of the University consider these functions as absolutely unbeatable.

Mr. G. A. Thompson of the staff of the Standard Bank of Canada here, has received offical notice of his move to the branch at Bloomfield, where he will be manger. For several years Mr. Thompson has been one of the prominent citizens of this town. For two years past he has been a member of the Board of Education. Mr. Thompson was also one of the business managers of the Presbyterian Church here.

Reverend N. Clarke Wallace, rector of the Christ Church here, left this morning by train for Toronto, where his marriage to Miss Louise Lockhart is to take place Wednesday, Sept. 14th. Mr. Wallace although but a few months resident here, has enjoyed exceptional popularity not only among his parishioners but among the citizens of the town in general. His ready wit and clever repartee together with his complete knowledge of the events of the moment assure him a sincere welcome anywhere.

Mr. Wallace has been granted two months leave of absence and after his marriage will spend his vacation abroad. When interviewed, Mr. Wallace stated that he expected to spend the major part of his honeymoon in the British Isles, but would possibly visit France and Switzerland for a short time.

During the rector's absence, arrangments have been made for many prominent churchmen to occupy the pulpit of Christ Church here. Next Sunday, the Rev. Dr. Kingston, Dean of Residence of Trinity College, Toronto, will have charge of the services.

The complete list of events, classes and prizes for the Campbellford Fair is now on issue. Those who have anything to exhibit should see these booklets and enter their exhibits in the proper classes at an early date.

WHAT IS GAINED?

Premier King has intimated that at the next session of the House Canada's Parliament may have an opportunity of considering legislation to prohibit trans-ocean flying.

Whether such a ban would prove feasible or not, there is undoubtedly a very strong tide of public opinion against a continuation of foolhardy attempts that are at best a gamble against disaster.

British air officials take the position that pioneers in long distance flying must face the risks of all pioneers, but it will be difficult to convince the public that aviation has gained anything from the ill-fated flights that have already claimed the lives of some of the world's best flyers.

If out of the death of such men some information had come that would enable similar accidents to be avoided there might be some ground for claiming that the loss of life was to that extent at least justified.

But no one can say how the intrepid flyers whose death is being mourned were lost; they simply flew off into the blue and disappeared forever.

Whether sleet or storm or engine trouble caused the disaster cannot be said; they're gone and the world's knowledge of aviation has not been increased one iota.

Why go on sacrificing other brave men?

THE LAW COMES FIRST.

Commenting upon the large number of United States motorists who have figured in recent accidents in Ontario, The Stratford Beacon-Herald explains this condition by charging that many drivers from over the border pay no attention at all to the speed limits, and that they are inclined to want to stay too close to the middle of the road in passing another car.

The Stratford paper calls upon the Highways Department to insist upon its regulations being observed by tourists as well as by Ontario citizens, and it is right in so doing.

The tourist traffic brings a very large amount of revenue into the Province each year and we are glad to see our friends from the States coming in ever greater numbers.

It should be the duty of everyone to cordially welcome the tourists, give them every assistance, and show them all the courtesy possible.

The Examiner would be the last to suggest that such visitors should be the victims of over-zealous officials.

But the regulations against reckless driving must be enforced whether the offender hails from Ohio or from Peterborough.

Even in the interest of business or as a gesture of good-will, we cannot afford to let tourists or anybody else get the idea "that our traffic laws do not mean anything."

The roads are our; we have the right to say how they shall be used, and the motorist who ignores the rules laid down for the protection of the public must be dealt with no matter where his home may be.

SEE IT THOROUGHLY—SEE IT ALL.

Peterborough's Industrial Exhibition, now recognized as one of the best fairs held in the Province, will occupy the centre of attention so far as this section of Ontario is concerned during the whole of next week.

Everything that could be done in the way of careful planning to make this year's Exhibition a record-breaking success has been done; new features have been added, more prize money has been offered, the entire grandstand is now covered, new fences have been erected, a cattle barn has been built, the whole plant has been put in splendid shape.

The issue is now up to the people of Peterborough and the district.

The success of the Exhibition and its future expansion depend upon the attendance next week.

The more people who file through the gates, then the larger will be Peterborough's Exhibition in 1928.

The fair will grow in proportion to the support it receives, for the Directors have no intention of marking time so long as they are assured that the citizens of Peterborough and of Central Ontario are behind them.

The Examiner, therefore, urges its readers to plan to visit the Peterborough Exhibition next week, not merely once as was sufficient a decade ago perhaps, but as often as they can.

Make Exhibition week a gala period and enjoy yourself at Peterborough's big fair.

See it thoroughly—see it all.

There are too many features for the Exhibition to be "done" in a day.

In fact, each day has its own distinctive features, and the visitor who comes but once cannot help missing something worth while.

WE WANT THE RIGHT KIND.

Figures issued as to the number of immigrants arriving in Canada at first examination are most gratifying inasmuch as they show that the Dominion's population is being increased at the rate of 3,000 a week by these new arrivals.

But a second glance reveals a condition that should cause some thought inasmuch as the number of British-born immigrants is falling well below that of new citizens from other countries.

Indeed during May, June, July and August of this year 47,443 immigrants have been admitted from all parts of Europe and Asia, as against 32,515 from the British Isles, and while among the foreign-born immigrants there are undoubtedly many who will make good citizens and good Canadians, it is equally true that a large proportion consists of people of very doubtful value who bring with them to this country a love for the Soviet system and for Communism that makes them more of a national menace than a national asset.

Already Canada possesses too many of this type who are living together, establishing schools of Bolshevism and atheism, and endeavouring to spread the doctrine of the Soviet.

A very careful scrutiny of the foreign-born applicants for admission into Canada would seem to be necessary.

We want more people, but we can afford to wait for the right kind.

Enemies of the British Empire and of the British form of government should find no welcome on the mat when they knock at Canada's door.

NEWSPAPERMEN GET IMPRESSIONS.

Visiting British newspapermen have been giving out some of their impressions as a result of their visit to this Dominion. They are struck by the intense loyalty of the people of Canada to the British Empire. Just why this loyalty business should be forever stressed, is becoming painful to a good many Canadians who regard their patriotism as something to be taken as a matter of course. There is no loyalty question in Canada, no Imperial issues of moment, and there is no reason whatever why a party of weekly newspapermen from the British Isles should express surprise at the loyalty of a people who contributed 500,000 and better in the Great War.

Our problems in Canada are economic, just the same as the problems in the Old Land, although by no means to the same degree of intensity. We have great open spaces and lack of population. England has little room and a surplus of population for her industrial and agricultural requirements. Common sense should dictate that more of an equilibrium should be established between the two. And yet this country, as one Britisher remarked, is no country for the slacker. Canada needs young men and women of industry and intelligence. The spirit of this Dominion is much against paternalism in government, no matter how essential the dole system may be in Britain as an insurance scheme against unemployment ills.

The British visitors declared that most of the British settlers of recent years, whom they had interviewed had declared themselves satisfied and hopeful of the future. Some, of course, were grumbling. But the best proof of the adaptability of the average Old Countryman to Canadian conditions lies in the fact that very few who settle in Canada ever return except for a visit to their old home. With the machinery which is now functioning to establish settlers on the land, there is no comparison with the hardships which the early pioneers had to endure. Two or three years hard work, and a good many capable farm operators can find in radio, the telephone and automobile sufficient diversion to make life fairly attractive until the final goal of independence is attained, and their holding free and unencumbered. But hard work with intelligent direction is a requisite. To those not afraid, and willing to endure the vicissitudes of the Canadian weather and all that it means, the goal is success eventually. Thousands are living who can attest the truth of the remark. And when the settler comes to Canada with his family now, his chances of success are far greater than they were a couple of generations ago, as far as governmental assistance goes.—St. Catharines Standard.

NO PLACE FOR COMMUNISTS.

No recent visitor has proved himself a finer booster for Canada than Premier Baldwin and his splendid optimism for our future, coming from such a source, will be worth more than many thousands spent on immigration propaganda. During his short stay amongst us he seems to have discovered the real spirit of the people and an excerpt from his recent speech to the people of Scotland who have done so much in building up this Dominion stresses the importance of individuality and self-reliance as against the grey uniformity and stagnation of socialist theory.

"Canada," he says, "is a land of good wages and unlimited possibilities. It has been built up primarily by British brains, capital and skill. The secret of its success is the British character. The will is there to work, to confront difficulties and hardships, and surmount them in a spirit of self-reliance. None but the people themselves can build a fabric of society and industrial life, for if the people of a nation are pauperized in spirit they will build nothing but a poorhouse for a grumbling population. I shrink on reflecting what would have been the fate of Canada if the early settlers had relied on the socialist doctrine of nationalization instead of the Scottish qualities which have brought such great prosperity. It is a striking contrast coming back from Canada to my own country. Are the leaders here not satisfied to seek the Millennium unless they can get it by methods of Communism? It is a long way from Canada to Communism, but it is a very short way from Communism to disaster."

It certainly is a "long way from Canada to Communism" if such a doctrine means a general control of industry by the state and a bureaucratic autocracy such as has been established in Russia. This form of government is anathema to 99 per cent. of Canadians and is utterly opposed to every quality and aspiration of a people who treasure personal freedom, initiative and self-reliance as the very essence of their constitution. But Canadians are not hide-bound to things as they are. They are ready to acknowledge that there are many things in society that can be improved. They are believers in the reality of social evolution, but realize that such evolution is a slow process and that nothing is gained by rushing into costly demonstrations of unproven theories.

In this connection Canada has not hesitated to try out very drastic forms of public ownership and co-operative control when such methods seemed to offer a better chance of success than private operation. In the management of the National Railways, the development of the Hydro-Electric Commission, and the extension of the great western wheat pool she has demonstrated to the world that such methods can bring business results if relieved of all meddling by the state. But Canadians remain and will remain unalterably opposed to undue governmental interference in private business and any form of bureaucracy which must bring stagnation and disaster to a young and growing country.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition—make it the biggest yet.

Tommy Church, M.P., has not yet announced that he will not accept the Conservative leadership. But perhaps there is no need of such an announcement.

The Canadian National Exhibition has reached an attendance record this year that will be hard to equal in 1928. But the "Ex" has a habit of coming through.

"The suggestion that sidepaths be constructed on roads under the Department of Highways should not be lightly cast aside," says The Globe. "The pedestrian is still entitled to consideration."

The Tunney-Dempsey bout will undoubtedly be "the battle of the century" so far as gate receipts are concerned. And the money taken in is the only thing that counts in modern prize fighting.

MONTREAL GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—The export trade in Canadian grain continued extremely dull here yesterday.

Outside of a few small sales of the different lines of grain made in the local market for domestic account, there was nothing new in the trade note. Prices were steady.

Owing to the further weakness in Winnipeg cash wheat prices, the undertone to the Spring wheat flour market here was easier, but there was no change in prices. The export trade was fair, but the local demand was quiet.

A steady feeling prevailed in Winter wheat flour with a small trade passing in car lots of choice grades.

The millfeed market continued active and firm. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats was quiet and prices were unchanged.

There was a good inquiry from London, England, buyers for baled hay yesterday and a little business was worked. The exports of hay from the port of Montreal for the week ending September 7, 1927, were 21,979 bales.

A good business was transacted in all grades of eggs and prices were firm. The receipts were 857 cases.

The butter market was without any new feature to note, prices being steady with only a small trade passing. The receipts were 1,416 packages.

Owing to the improved demand from local and foreign buyers, the undertone to the cheese market was stronger and prices were marked up a fraction.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—Good sized business both in wheat and rye yesterday accompanied higher prices for breadstuffs, especially rye. Private cables said scantiness of the German rye crop amounted to a calamity and that rye quotations were advancing fast.

Rye in Chicago yesterday closed strong 2½ to 3¼c net higher; wheat firm at ⅝ to 1c gain; corn unchanged to ¼c better; oats showing 1 to 1⅝c rise, and provisions at upturns ranging from 2 to 50 cents.

Buying of breadstuffs for immediate shipment to Europe totalled yesterday 600,000 bushels of wheat and 500,000 bushels of rye. The wheat included considerable domestic No. 2 hard winter. Meanwhile it was announced too that clearings of wheat and flour from North America this week aggregated 11,467,000 bushels, an amount much larger than a year ago. Incidentally, the fact that rye here was selling at a discount of 5½c under corn for December delivery attracted a good deal of notice.

Wheat had an upward trend owing largely to higher Liverpool quotations than were looked for and because of erroneous talk current that 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels reduction was probable in the official estimate yesterday afternoon of domestic Spring wheat yield compared with last month's forecast.

The government report when issued showed instead of such a curtailment an actual increase of 10,000,000 bushels.

A Thought For To-day

WHAT'S WEALTH?

A calm devotion to one's native sod,
That's wealth,
A faith implicit in the Living God,
That's wealth;
A few choice friends that feel life's fuller meaning,
Who sense reality yet prize the dreaming,
Who from the skies see knowledge ever streaming,
That's wealth.
A body sparkling with the health of youth,
That's wealth;
A mind serenely poised, restrained by truth,
That's wealth;
An eye that feeds on flowers and fields and skies
That sees the heaven in a baby's eyes,
That finds in life the door to Paradise;
That's wealth.
A home among the trees, the blue above,
That's wealth;
The perfect goodness of a woman's love,
That's wealth;
The sense to grin when all the world looks wrong,
To take defeat with gameness and a song,
To smile a smile when worry comes along,
That's wealth.

Hundreds of Furnaces are Installed

Blind Folded

Scientists have made two vital discoveries regarding domestic heating. The first is that practically all inefficient heating systems are the result of improper installations. The second—that Warm Air, scientifically installed, is healthier and more economical than any other system.

As a result of these discoveries, heating engineers have prepared a Standard Code for installing Warm Air systems which guarantees efficiency and winter comfort such as has never before been attained. Today no home owner need install his heating system "blind-folded". McClary's Sunshine Furnace is now installed according to Standard Code—assuring a job infinitely more efficient, healthful and money-saving than any yet discovered.

CODE INSTALLED

McClary's are the only Canadian members of the National Warm Air Heating and Ventilating Association—an association which has adopted a scientific code for installing warm air furnaces. By insisting on a McClary's "Code Installed" Sunshine Furnace you are guaranteed a heating system which costs less to buy and less to maintain than more elaborate systems—yet provides 70 degrees of heat in every room.

Ventiblast

McClary's Ventiblast is an exclusive feature of McClary's Sunshine Furnace which burns soft coal equally as well as hard coal, coke or wood. It mixes pre-heated air with soft coal gases and converts them into flame—thus eliminating soot, waste and dust.

Fill in and mail attached coupon, and we will send you name and address of the nearest McClary's dealer who will guarantee a "Code Installed" heating system which will give lifetime satisfaction.

REPORTED ACTS OF ROYALTY FOR OVER 30 YEARS

George Smith Recently Met Tragic Death While at Work.

ENJOYED CONFIDENCE.

Kings and Princes Considered Him as Friend as Well as Newspaperman.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press). — No newspaperman in the Empire was on more intimate terms with Royalty, or was held in more regard by members of the Royal family and members of his own profession than was George Smith, who, as already recorded, met his death through being knocked down by a motor. His end was doubly tragic. A few weeks ago he went down to the offices of the Press Association on a Saturday morning, and found himself "off the diary." "For heaven's sake find me some sort of an assignment," he exclaimed to the city news editor, and was told since he was so determined not to take a day's holiday he might as well assist at the flying meeting at Hendon. He went out to the aerodrome, and in crossing a road was knocked down by an auto, the injuries resulting in his death. Only three years previously he was involved in another motor accident, in which he sustained a compound fracture of the right leg and lost the index finger of his right hand.

For 33 years George Smith "followed" for the Press Association the doings of the principal members of the Royal family in Great Britain. The King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of Connaught looked upon him not merely as a newspaperman but as a friend. The Prince had his own special nickname for Smith. In reporting the sayings and movements of Royalty, Smith was always the soul of discretion, and in his handling of his responsible duty he invariably carried himself with a personal modesty of bearing, and showed a readiness to be helpful to members of his own profession not so fortunately placed as himself, which would serve as a perfect example for younger men to follow.

Once, when the Prince of Wales returned from one of his Empire tours, the crowd which welcomed him at St. James' Palace was so large and so boisterous, that it was impossible to hear what the Prince said in a short speech delivered from one of the windows. Smith saw the Prince later in the Palace, and took down a neat little speech of what the Prince had said—or at any rate of what he had intended to say. "Will that do?" asked the Prince, and Smith said it would do very well. He went out to the rest of the anxious "boys" of Fleet street, and straightway dictated the whole of the vital speech to them.

King Edward, too, thought a lot of Smith's work. Once when the late King presented new colors to the Guards, the press representatives were too far away to hear a word of the King's speech. Smith wrote out a speech and submitted it to the King's Controller, Lord Knollys. Lord Knollys later said to Smith: "The King says this is very nice, but unfortunately it is not what he said. The King has made some alterations, and thinks it will be all right if you publish it in its amended form." Smith found that the "copy" had been edited by the King in his own hand with a green pencil. The "copy" remained one of Smith's most cherished possessions.

One day Smith telephoned to an equerry of one of the Royal Princes and found the gentleman out. The telephone was answered by a new maid, who was evidently impressed with her new service. "Just say, please, that George Smith called up," requested the reporter. When the equerry returned he was informed of the call. "Did he say who he was?" asked the equerry. "Well, sir," replied the novice in Royal service, trembling with loyal excitement, "I think he said he was George the Fifth."

Advance Is Resumed In New York Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.— (Canadian Press.)—Speculators for the advance regained control of the price movement in to-days stock market after an early period of irregularity. Buying orders for both accounts were distributed over a broad list with the standard industrials again in the forefront of the advance. Frequent efforts to unsettle the list by hammering supposedly weak issues made little headway and short covering was rather general in the late trading.

While a good investment demand was reported for some of seasoned dividend paying issues, pool activities were believed to be largely responsible for the rally. Heavy buying of Studebaker, which crossed 61 to a new peak, and a renewed demand for General Motors, which moved up four points to within a fraction of its peak price, were the features. The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 800,000 shares.

Dome's Rise Features Toronto Stock Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—A climb to 10.25 in Dome Mines, a full dollar above yesterday, was the feature of this morning's active session of the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. Other stocks generally moved slightly higher. Firm features were Industrial Alcohol, with a gain of a point at 37½, and Shredded Wheat also a point higher at 69. The tractions were steady, although Brazilian eased fractionally at 188.

The oils and liquor stocks all firmed fractionally, save for McColl, which eased an eighth at 44¼. Quarter point advances were recorded in Gooderham and Worts at 47¼, British American Oil at 26⅝, Imperial Oil at 53¾ and Carlings at 28. In the banks, Toronto eased two at 285, and Dominion one at 270.

Mine Market Active; Most Stocks Advance

TORONTO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—Dome Mines in a sensational climb of a dollar and forty cents was the outstanding feature of the week's closing session of the Standard Mining Exchange this morning, when in active trading most classes of stock advanced. Dome sold up to 10.40 and closed at the high.

Almost a third of the session's turnover was in Potter Doal, which closed 1½ higher at 19½. Amulet gained seven at 4.77, Nipissing sixteen at 5.76, and Laval-Quebec 1¼ at 40½, while Lake Shore was up fifteen at 24.65. Teck Hughes and Noranda were slightly higher and Area accompanied Amulet with a point and three quarter gain at 59¾.

Crop Report Favorable Wheat Prices Down

CHICAGO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—Wheat prices underwent a material setback early today because of the bearish aspects of the Government crop report. The official estimate of the domestic Spring wheat yield was much larger than expected. Opening 1¼c to 1⅝c off, wheat underwent some additional decline before beginning to rally. Corn and oats were also weak, corn starting ⅝c to 1¼c down and subsequently sagging further. Provisions eased down a little. Opening prices were.

JURY NAMES DRIVER OF CAR

Says Peter Symons Was Last Known To Be In Charge.

WOMAN KILLED.

BOWMANVILLE, Sept. 10. — No new evidence of any importance was brought out at the adjourned inquest held last night into the death of Mrs. Helen Brown, who was killed in a motor accident on Kingston Highway, opposite The House That Jack Built, a roadhouse three miles east of Oshawa. Witnesses examined last night by Acting Crown Attorney Archie Cochrane were Kenneth Prior, nephew of Mrs. Brown; Mrs. Florence Appleton, Henry Levy and Mrs. Lavene, occupants of the car with Mrs. Brown; Sidney Baldwin, undertaker, and Provincial Constable J. H. Fewtrell, Cobourg.

The case went to the jury after a few remarks from Coroner A. S. Tilley. The jury was out exactly one hour, and brought in the following verdict: "We your jury, sworn to inquire into the death of one Helen Brown on the morning of Aug. 25, find the deceased met her death by being struck by an automobile owned by David Prusky of Peterborough, and, according to evidence submitted to us, the last person known to have been driving the car previous to the accident was Peter Symonds of Oshawa.

Detective W. J. Ward of Toronto, appeared before Police Magistrate W. F. Floyd this afternoon, and was charged with criminal negligence and is out on $5,000 bail. Peter Symonds is charged with manslaughter and with leaving the scene of an accident.

NEW PRINCESS BORN IN JAPAN

Rejoicing Tempered By Disappointment Because Heir Is Desired.

SALUTES FIRED.

TOKYO, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press). —Japan's celebration of a happy event at the Imperial Palace was tempered to-day by a feeling of some disappointment because the wee arrival was a princess and not a prince.

Nevertheless, there was general rejoicing when the news that the young Empress Nagako had become a mother for the second time was made known early to-day by the traditional booming of cannon and broadcast by radio. Bands played and flags were displayed everywhere.

FRANCE RAISES DUTY ON WHEAT

Tariff Change of Seven Cents a Bushel Affects Canada.

EFFECTIVE AT ONCE.

OTTAWA, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—France has increased the tariff on Canadian wheat from twenty cents to twenty-seven cents, approximately, per bushel, according to official advice received to-day from the Canadian Trade Commissioner. The higher rate comes into effect immediately.

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—About a thousand dollars was secured by robbers who broke into a local sports club last night and held up the players at the points of their revolvers. A shot was fired as they entered, the bullet going through the shirt sleeve of one of the players.

But You're Not One of These

The best costs the most. This is an axiom of economy which experience demonstrates to us every day. And it is as true of agricultural exhibitions as it is of boots and clothes and motor cars.

And to get the best exhibits the directors of the Peterborough Exhibition had to increase their prizes to a figure that would attract the prominent breeders.

That done, and it took courage to do it, the directors realized that they had to provide snug accommodation for the high pedigreed stock. Hence new buildings and a general renovation of the grounds and a furbishing of them up to the freshness and brightness of the new units.

It was a snow-balling of improvements and progress and consequent costs.

And you'll be proud of the Peterborough Exhibition plant next week.

The directors are excellent stewards.

A PLACE FOR EVERY DOLLAR.

They have received grants from the City and County Councils and from private citizens, and every lump sum was ear-marked for a special purpose. They can tell you what money went into the grandstand extension, what was spent on painting and repairs, and what went into the new buildings.

Today Peterborough can boast of a high standard Exhibition. And to meet its additional outlay this year the directors signed a note with their banker making themselves personally liable for the loan.

That is the risk they accept, and there will probably be sneering persons right here in the city who will object to the continuing admission price of 35 cents.

These persons may not know that most of the township fairs in the district charge 35 cents at the gate, and some of the more pretentious ones like Picton let you into their grounds for 50 cents.

LOYALTY TO OWN TOWN FIRST.

These perhaps are the self-same persons who grumble about the Toronto price being cheaper than Peterborough; and they contribute their money to the Toronto Exhibition whose surplus is turned into the treasury of the city of Toronto.

This is an edifying philanthropy, but why should anyone boast of helping reduce the Toronto tax rate while grumbling of a ten-cent charge that is needed for the upbuilding of your own Peterborough Exhibition?

Loyalty, like charity, does well to begin at home.

REDS SUFFER MANY BLOWS FROM UNIONS

Leaders Seek To Re-assure Public About Actions in Power.

NO CONFISCATION.

Delegates Refuse Proposal To Expel Sailors' and Firemen's Union.

LONDON, Sept. 10 (United Press). —The Extremists and the Communists of Great Britain have suffered a series of staggering blows from the Trades Union Congress, meeting here, which has demonstrated a determination that Labor will remain in the hands of sober and responsible leaders. Some fear is expressed that this swing to the right of the Labor organization may drive the extremists underground, but the Labor leaders believe that the Communists have long reached the apex of their strength and have done all the harm possible.

The break with Russia was the last straw and Labor is determined to recover as rapidly as possible from the effect of the general strike and to reassure the public that Labor when in power will not chase after schemes of confiscation and economic experiment, which would be likely to disturb the financial and industrial fabric of the nation. The eyes of the Labor leaders are on the next election and this has had a very sobering effect.

"The big surprise yesterday was the refusal of the Labor Congress to allow itself to be stampeded by Tomkins and Pollitt, both prominent left wingers, who advocated the expulsion of Havelock Wilson's Sailors' and Firemen's Union.

"Let Wilson have a fair fight if he wants one," roared Herbert Smith when he was attacked by the Miners' delegates, and it was agreed to leave the matter for the consideration of the general council. Wilson meanwhile seems indifferent to any action the Trade Union Congress may take because he is working for industrial peace and he believes the majority of the workers are with him.

SAINT and SINNER

By ANNE AUSTIN

"Bob, I'd like to speak to you a moment before you go to the office," Cherry said softly, wistfully, as her brother-in-law was rising from the breakfast table.

"Secrets, honey?" Bob asked lightly, leading the way to the sun parlor which the family considered his home "office." Faith watched them go, Cherry's little hand tucked affectionately in the crook of Bob's right arm, and for the thousandth time she reflected on how beautiful a couple they made.

When the door to the sun parlor had closed on them Cherry raised her luminous, misty golden eyes to Bob's quizzical, tenderly smiling face. And before either knew what was happening, the eyes of both had changed, swam with a feeling long suppressed. Bob's face lost its smile, grew pale; his mouth quivered, then tightened. With a pathetic, child-like sob, Cherry crept close to him, laid her head against his breast, her small hands clinging to his shoulders. Bob's arms went around her, crushingly, as if he had forgotten everything in the world but the fact that the girl he had loved so passionately was in his arms, against his pounding heart.

But when Cherry suddenly raised her face, with its passion-drunk, swimming eyes, her lips quiveringly inviting his kiss, he came to his senses with a great shudder, put her almost vioently from him, so that she staggered a little, one hand going up instinctively to hide her telltale eyes.

"What did you want to speak to me about?" he asked harshly, because his heart was still pounding and his nerves singing.

"I—wanted to know—if you agree with Dad," Cherry began to gasp, her flaming face averted, her eyes still shielded by her trembling hand, "that I should ask alimony from Chris —for the baby. I don't want anything of Chris for myself, but—Day says I have no right to deny the baby—"

Bob looked at her, scowlingly, for he thought he hated her for having made him forget Faith and his duty and that higher love of his even for a moment. "Chris forced you into the marriage It's his baby. I think he ought to support her. And my own business is not too prosperous right now—" As he talked, harshly, his hate turned in upon himself. He was hurting her, making her feel dependent. Oh, money, or the lack of it, was a shameful thing!

"All right," Cherry gasped, turning sharply away toward the door. "I'll tell Churchill — to-day. I'd refused before to consider alimony—" She tore open the door and was gone before Bob could retract, or soften his apparently mercenary advice.

The next week, on Thursday, September first, Cherry went alone to the courthouse and faced the ordeal of her divorce hearing. She had refused to allow Faith to accompany her, and Bob, still avoiding her because of the unhallowed memory they shared of a moment of treason to Faith, did not offer to lend the support of his presence. The case was heard "in chambers," that is, Judge Grimshaw, who had regarded himself as an old friend of Cherry's since her trial for the murder of Ralph Cluny, gravely listening to Stephen Churhcill's presentation of the case Since Chris Wiley, at the eleventh hour, had withdrawn his counter suit for divorce and had instructed his attorney not to contest Cherry's own suit, the case was not tried by jury. Cherry was awarded her decree within fifteen minutes, on the grounds of mental cruelty, was also awarded sole custody of her daughter, Hope Wiley, the right to resume her maiden name, Lane, and fifteen dollars a week from Chris for the support of the child. She had instructed Churchill to ask for that sum and no more.

"Thank you, Judge Grimshaw," Cherry quavered, her golden eyes smiling mistly.

"You're welcome, Miss Cherry Lane!" Judge Grimshaw retorted, offering his hand Cherry Lane! She was free, free

It is as good as a trip to the art museum to go shopping for velvets and other rich fabrics nowadays, and as the days grow shorter and autumn draws nearer an ever new supply of marvelous fabrics will be added to the collections.

The new velvets are not really heavy or warm. Some of the chiffon and georgette velvets have been worn even in summer, and there is hardly a way in which chiffon or thin crepe can be draped and manipulated that cannot also be applied to velvets.

Velvet hardly needs elaborate trimming. Sufficient unto itself is the splendor thereof. Afternoon frocks of thin black velvet are often determined merely with cream lace. That combination—black velvet and cream lace—has been loved by artists ever since the days of Van Dyke.

Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

To-day's Bedtime Story

(Copyright, 1927, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

One day while Uncle Wiggily was hopping along the ocean beach with his wife, and listening to her tell how much she liked the vacation at the shore, the rabbit gentleman suddenly exclaimed:

"Oh, what a lot of seaweed!" And, truly, great piles of it had been washed up on the beach in the night by the tide. But now the tide was low and the seaweed had dried in the wind.

"Yes, there is a lot of seaweed," said Mrs. Longears, "but what good is it except for the children to play with?" At that moment Baby Bunty and the other forty 'leven little rabbits were having fun on the beach.

"I think I could make a house of that seaweed," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Nonsense!" his wife answered. "Besides, if you did, what good would a seaweed house be when you have a cute little cottage made of shells?" This last was true enough for at the shore the rabbits lived in a bungalow made of the shells of clams, oysters, periwinkles and other water creatures.

8-22

"I have you!" barked the Sea Lion.

"Well if I had a little house made of seaweed," said the rabbit gentleman, "I could come and sit in it on hot afternoons and think of adventures. Yes, I shall make me a seaweed house."

"You can't pile up the slimpsy stuff," declared his wife. "It will fall down as fast as you stack it up. Why, it won't even pack like wet snow, though I have seen you make houses of that."

"You shall see me make a house of this weed," promised Mr. Longears, and when he had politely taken his wife to the shell cottage he set to work making the seaweed one for himself.

There was much driftwood on the beach, cast up by the tide, and taking some long sticks, Uncle Wiggily thrust them into the sand, well up above high water mark. He stuck four sticks in the sand for the corner posts of his house and across the top laid driftwood boards for the roof.

"Strictly speaking," murmured the rabbit gentleman to himself as he worked away, "this is partly a wood, partly a sand and partly a seaweed house. But what matter? It will shade me from the sun."

When the wooden frame of his house was firm in the sand, the rabbit gentleman festooned over it long streamers of the dried weed. These hung down like curtains of grass, and when enough had been draped over the edges of the roof poles there were four closed-in sides to the cute little house.

On the roof boards Uncle Wiggily piled more weed until the sun could not shine through and in a short time the seaweed house was finished. The floor was of sand, and the walls and roof of dried seaweed, or grass, which rustled in the wind. There were no doors or windows to Uncle Wiggily's queer little house, but he could easily push his way in through any side wall. And when he was through, the parted, dangling seaweed fell together again.

"Ah, this is just like being a Pirate!" chuckled the rabbit as he sat in his seaweed cabin on a stool made from odd bits of driftwood. "I must give a party and invite my wife, Nurse Jane and all the little bunnies. I'll give a clam bake, that's what I'll do!"

Uncle Wiggily was thinking so much about his seaweed house and the clam bake party he was going to give that he never saw a salty old Sea Lion climbing out on the beach, hunching himself along by his flippers and his long tusky teeth.

"I'll catch Uncle Wiggily in his seaweed house!" growled the Sea Lion. "I'm glad the Fuzzy Fox sent me word about this rabbit being here." For the Fox had done just that.

Nearer and nearer along the sandy beach the salty Sea Lion lunched himself by his flippers and his feet's until he was quite close to the seaweed house. Uncle Wiggily was still inside,

FASHION NOTES.

BY HEDDA HOYT
(United Press Fashion Editor)

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (United Press). It isn't what clothes cost you
It isn't that they fit
You'll never crash the gates, dear,
If you haven't got some "it!"

Clothes that have 'it' require wearers that have an equal amount of 'it!' A gown may reek with smartness, it may be thumb-printed by the best Parisian couturier but if you yourself haven't sufficient personality to carry it, leave it alone.

Unusual and distinctive gowns should only be attempted by women who have an over-dose of individuality. Drab women actually seem to look their best in gowns which are turned out by the carloads. Their personalities are dwarfed by exotic silhouettes and colorings.

Every woman can develop a certain amount of "it" if she cares to. Most people have to work hard to put over the fact that they have personality. It's a job without a vacation. The less personality one has to begin with, the harder one has to work. Clothes do much towards developing personality but there's a lot of homework to be done with the old torso before it can be bedecked with gowns expressing something besides cloth. Lots of women try to gain personality by being "good listeners." Good listeners seldom make howling successes as they are too busy providing applause for the other fellow. It's a case of "put up or shut up" in most instances. You've got to put up a front if you expect other people to notice you. The person with personality is always noticed. A woman may be quiet, full of personality but if she doesn't continually impress others with the fact, they are prone to believe that she is as drab as a doormat.

Learn to sit, stand and walk correctly. Improve your personal charms constantly. If you have a deformity, forget it and others will soon forget it. Let the high lights shine on your good points. At all times be immaculate. Develop a cheerful disposition and don't be antagonistic. It's easier to agree with people than to disagree except on vital points. Believe in yourself. Regard your body as a clothes rack, as a display ground for fashion. Once dressed, forget the gown and let your personality outshine the gown. Don't attempt to wear a gown unless it adds something to the impression you are trying to give. Look your best at all times whether in gingham or chiffon and have confidence in your 'it' carrying you along. Soon you'll find that people find you interesting. To be interesting to others is to have "it." When you have developed from a nonentity into a type, live up to that type. Dress to the type. If the world's a stage, play a character part and don't be content to act in a mob scene. It isn't beauty that gets women by, it's hard work and personality!

PRESENTATION TO MISS A. JACKSON

Employee of City Engineer's Office To Be Married Shortly.

The City officials and office staff last night held a social gathering in the committee room of the City Buildings in order to show their high esteem of Miss Alice Jackson of the City Engineer's Office, who is to be married this month.

Miss Jackson was presented with a beautiful secretaire, and the following address was read by City Engineer Parsons:

Miss Alice E. Jackson.

Dear Miss Jackson: Your associates on the City Hall staff desire to give expression to their best wishes for you on the occasion of your approaching marriage.

Our association together in the municipal work has been very pleasant. With some of us it has continued during several years, and all, including those of us who have been associated with you for a shorter time, have learned to respect and esteem you as a colleague and as a friend.

We regret that you will before long bring to a close our official relationship, but this regret is modified by the knowledge that our friendship will continue.

We ask you to accept this writing desk as an evidence of our friendship and a token of our best wishes that you may have a most happy future."

The evening closed with the serving of refreshments.

There is positively nothing for you to sell either now or later in order to further qualify for a prize. The prizes will be awarded only for the best names submitted, and an order for 100 pairs will have no more influence on the final awards than will an order for one pair. It's the name submitted, not the number of stockings a contestant orders that counts.

As a guide to the type of names that would be acceptable, the following have been suggested by non-contestants: Princess Bess, Princess Pat, Betty Ross, Princess Mary, Pollyana, Dolly Gray, Dolly Varden and Cinderella, and they appeal to us. Contestants may therefore submit any one of these names if they can think of no other names more suitable, for these have just as much chance of winning a prize as any others.

RULES—Read Carefully

Contestants may submit as many names as they wish, but each name submitted must be accompanied by $2.00 for one pair of stockings as described above.

No contestant is expected, now or later, to sell anything or buy anything, other than the one pair of stockings, in order to further qualify for the prizes or to get the Ladies' Home Journal, McCall's Magazine or an extra pair of silk stockings FREE. In the event of a tie for any of the first three prizes a simple tie-breaker will be sent to those concerned, but under no circumstances will any further money be asked or accepted. In the event of any ties for any of the remaining fifteen prizes, the awards will be duplicated.

Contest closes OCTOBER 31ST, 1927. Entries post-marked as being mailed later will not be accepted.

Contestants agree to abide by the rules of this contest as herein set forth, and to the decision of the judges as being final.

TERRY JUNIOR STILL HOPEFUL

Thinks Father Will Be Found —Doesn't Like Reporters.

"KEEPS STIFF LIP."

TORONTO, Sept. 10.— (Canadian Press.)—Ever since Capt. Terry Tully took off with Lieut. James Medcalf in the Sir John Carling on the London to London flight, which has not succeeded, Capt. Tully's nine year old son has remained steadfast. "Its a great big hop, but Daddy's going to make it." This is what he has been saying for two weeks.

Young Terry Tully voraciously devours the morning editions and rushes out after afternoon editions for word of his Dad. For the reporters who "put stuff in the papers" he has no great liking "Oh, yes, some of them are all right," he says, "but I don't like them putting it in the paper that I feel sad and cry and things like that. Gee! I'm keeping a stiff lip, ain't I. No, I don't like getting my picture taken. It's kind of a nuisance. You'd think I was somebody important."

7,010 ACCIDENTS DURING AUGUST

Fatalities Reported To Compensation Board in Month Number 53.

INCREASES NOTED.

There were 7,010 accidents reported to the Workmen's Compensation Board in the month of August, 1927, this being an increase of 795 over the previous month of July and 415 more than in August, 1926. The fatalities last month numbered 53. This brings the total number of accidents reported to the Board to the end of August this year to 46,911, as compared with 42,344 during the same period last year. The fatal cases numbered 274, as against 237 for the corresponding period last year.

The benefits awarded during August amounted to $496,241.29, as against $446,342.27 during August a year ago, and the total benefits awarded to date this year are $4,064,645.93 (being $3,365,910.09 compensation and $698,735.84 for medical aid), as compared with $3,708,349.34 benefits for the same period of 1926 (of which $3,067,600.69 was for compensation and $640,748.65 for medical aid).

Speaking of these figures, R. B. Morley, general manager of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations states that the Associations received reports through the Workmen's Compensation Board of 8,589 accidents, including 25 death cases, for the seven months ending the first of August, 1927. These cases all involved a loss of seven days time or more and Mr. Morley points out that the total payroll of the classes included in the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations is in excess of two-thirds of the total payroll in Schedule 1. Mr. Morley adds that the total number of accidents reported by all industries in Ontario in August is the highest figure for the whole period under compensation in Ontario.

CARRIED ON LIQUOR TRAFFIC

mission endeavored to ascertain the truth about an allegation of attempted bribery of a Customs officer. According to Assistant Inspector Cyril Knowles, of the Customs preventive service at Winnipeg, Harry Bronfman, now of Montreal, but formerly in the Saskatchewan liquor business, attempted to bribe him at the town of Gainsborough, in the autumn of 1920. According to Harry Bronfman, the story of attempted bribery told by Officer Knowles is absolutely untrue. The statement of Officer Knowles was taken some months ago when the Commission was in the West. The evidence of Harry Bronfman, and of other defence witnesses, who corroborated his testimony, was taken yesterday.

Seizure of three liquor-laden automobiles, in the small hours of a November morning in 1920, was the first act in the drama out of which came the charge of attempted bribery. Officer Knowles and a companion stopped the cars, which were making for the United States border with their precious freight. They found the cars had not reported to Customs on entering Canada, as required by law. They seized the cars.

Then the Americans who were driving the cars went with the officers to Gainsborough, where a Bronfman export house was located. The Customs officers required payment of a deposit amounting to more than $3,000 before they released the cars. This, according to evidence, was paid by Harry Bronfman and Max Heppner, of Winnipeg, who were both in the business.

The testimony of witnesses on both sides was identical up to this point. Then there was a sharp divergence. Officer Knowles declared that Harry Bronfman offered him money to "keep out of his district." His statement is supported by witnesses. Harry Bronfman denied this absolutely, and his statement also met with strong support from several witnesses yesterday. The evidence is contradictory.

There was some evidence about a box of samples of liquor sent from a Regina warehouse in which the Bronfmans were interested. It was alleged by Officer Knowles that this box was tampered with before it reached its destination, the Department of Customs at Ottawa. This was denied.

Shortly before adjournment, Officer Knowles was called to the stand by Mr. Rowell. As his evidence had already been taken in the West, counsel asked him only about points which were raised by the evidence yesterday.

Argument for and against was brief. A. J. Andrews, K.C., appearing for Harry Bronfman, declared that the attitude of Officer Knowles toward Harry Bronfman was inspired by spite. Mr. Rowell contended that there was no evidence to support this, and paid a tribute to Mr. Knowles for assistance given to counsel for the Commission.

The Commission adjourned until Monday.

CATTLE GRAIN, AND PRODUCE

Government figures on corn yield are about 9,000,000 bushels in excess of private estimates. Although this information was not available during trade hours, the corn market ran into a lot of selling that wiped out an early advance based on excessive rains in sections of Iowa and Illinois, but later offset by favorable temperatures for maturing the new crop.

Oats were firmer on account of smallness of receipts and because of talk of a better cash demand. The government report as to oats was bullish, confirming private forecasts of a small yield, 88,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Provisions rose with hog values, which attained the highest level since early in May.

THE TONIC THAT GIVES STRENGTH

After Acute Diseases the Blood Must Be Built Up Before Recovery Is Complete.

Fevers and other acute diseases like pneumonia and influenza, leave the patient weak, with thin blood and unstrung nerves. The period of convalescence is often long and trying, and years of poor health have frequently followed so brief an illness as an attack of influenza or pneumonia.

Much of this sort of misery could be avoided by taking steps to build up the blood so that it can carry to the nerves and other tissues of the body the elements they need to restore their normal functional activities. To build up the blood and restore it to its rich, health-giving vigor, no other medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From first to last it is their mission to improve the blood and thus restore good health and vigor.

The value of these pills in conditions describe above is shown by the statement of Mrs. Rebecca O'Brien, Pembroke, Ont., who says: "In Nov., 1923, I was stricken with pneumonia, and at the time but little hope was held out for my recovery. However, with the best of care I was able to walk about after some months. But I did not recover my strength. The doctor told me I was anaemic. My appetite was poor. I grew nervous and restless. I was deathly pale and practically gave up hope of ever being strong again. However, remembering that in my girlhood I had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with decided success, I decided to try them again. By the time I had used two boxes there was no doubt the pills were helping me. Continuing their use I was soon able to attend to my household duties. I continued taking the pills, however, until I had used twelve boxes, by which time I was enjoying better health than at any time in the previous ten years. In gratitude for what the pills have done for me I give this statement in the hope that it may point the way to health to some other weak, despondent woman."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HE SAVED HIS CIGAR

GREENVILLE, O., Sept. 10.—Fifty-two years ago, a store keeper gave T. J. Burns a 10-cent cigar. Burns decided to "keep it until after supper" and after supper decided to keep it until he was older. On his seventy-seventh birthday recently he smoked the cigar that he had kept moist and wrapped in cotton so many years.

Tilden and Hunter Win Doubles From France

FRANCE BEATEN IN THE DOUBLES FOR DAVIS CUP

Take Second and Fourth, But Fall Under Tilden Volley.

U. S. WIN FIVE SETS.

Americans Take Three Games in a Row in Third Set.

GERMANTOWN CLUB, Philadelphia, Pa., September 10 (A.P.).—"Big Bill" Tilden again rose to dramatic heights yesterday to check France's Davis Cup challenge and give the United States a 2 to 1 lead in the most stirring battle in years for the famous international tennis trophy.

"Big Bill" didn't do it single handed this time, but his racquet, always flashing in the thickest of the fight, was the dynamic, deciding factor in a sensational 5-set doubles triumph that he and his stocky partner, Francis T. Hunter, scored over Jacques Brugnon and Jean Borotra.

The scores were 3—6, 6—3, 4—6, 6—0.

As a result the United States needs only one more victory in today's remaining two singles matches to clinch possession of the Davis Cup for the eighth successive year. France must take both contests to emerge the winner.

With Tilden as rampant as he was Thursday in conquering Henri Cochet and in playing the leading role in the doubles yesterday, the American ace may clinch the cup in the first match today.

Hard-Fought Battle

Yesterday's doubles match was a hard fought, see-saw struggle for four sets, with little to choose in the sparkling duels that found Tilden on one side and Boratra on the other bearing the brunt of battle. But it was turned into a rout in the final set, largely because the French wilted under the terrific pace, yielding to the superior stamina of their opponents, but also partly because of a sporting but costly point-throwing gesture by the "Bounding Basque," Borotra.

This gesture came in the fourth game of the deciding set at a time when Tilden and Hunter, although leading 3—0, appeared a bit shaky. On his own service, Borotra was leading 30—15 when he served a ball to Tilden that was called "in" by the linesman as "Big Bill" barely got his racquet on it. But to the Basque it appeared out—by at least four inches, he said afterward. The score was called at 40—15, but Borotra then deliberately double-faulted.

Costly Error

The crowd cheered the Frenchman. It appeared a magnificent gesture but it also proved costly. Upset, Borotra missed an easy return and in a prolonged deuce battle the Americans captured the game to assume a lead of 4—0 that virtually settled the match. Had the game gone to the French, as appeared likely before the disputed point, it might have changed the whole complexion of the final set. Instead of trailing at 0—4, the French would have been 1—0, spurred on perhaps and still possessing a fighting chance.

As it was, the Frenchman went to pieces and put up only feeble resistance as their rivals pounded their way through the next two games to clinch the match.

The Americans, although taking full advantage of this "break," earned their victory by superior teamwork, better generalship and a craftily executed attack that combined terrific speed with soft lobs, tricky trap shots with well-placed lobs. Hunter, a bit uncertain at several stages, gave Tilden brilliant support on the whole, but it was Big Bill who directed the strategy and brought off the greatest as well as decisive shots.

Tilden's service was never more invincible. When the French pierced Hunter's delivery three times "breaks" that accounted chiefly for their victories in the first and fourth sets, they never were able to upset Tilden's service. Only twice did they even force it to deuce. The American had wonderful control as well as thunderbolt swiftness to his service shots. Once, in the first set, when he trailed at 15—40 and seemed in danger of being broken through "Big Bill" shot over four successive aces to win the game.

Tilden Impassable

Back court or at the net, Tilden was virtually impassable, bringing off amazing backhand recoveries, or sharply angled volleys that left the crowd of 12,000 spectators gasping. In vain the French tried shifting their attack to Hunter, but Tilden himself foiled much of this strategy by the amazing agility with which he covered at times fully two-thirds of the court. Hunter himself, although losing control occasionally, had the stuff to withstand all the pressure the challengers brought to bear. His volleys and lobs, wild at first grew better, and his ferocious forehanders played a big part in battering down the rench defence.

Borotra was the more brilliant but also the more erratic of the French stars. The Basque was not as deadly as usual overhead, nor was his service reliable, but he scored more placements than any other player. Brungnon, holding his own at first and making marvelous block-volleys, tired perceptibly as the match went on. Boasting less stamina than any of the others, "Toto" wilted in the final set.

YANKEES HOLD ST. LOUIS 9-3

Defeat Browns For 20th Time in 20 Attempts This Season.

NO HOMERS MADE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—The New York Yankees again ran their steam roller over the St. Louis Browns here yesterday, winning for the 20th time in 20 attempts this season. The score was 9 to 3.

Urban Shocker, pitching for the Yanks, allowed only three hits, and but for an error by Gehrig and a lapse of control on his own part in the fourth inning, might have had a shut-out, as only one hit went into the scoring of the Browns' three runs in that inning. The Yanks scored five runs off Elam Vangilden in the fifth and he was replaced by Nevers after three more were added in the sixth.

Although no home runs were made, Babe Ruth hit the ball in timely fashion, driving in four runs with two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Tigers Even Series.

The Detroit Tigers evened the series with the Athletics yesterday by taking the second game at Philadelphia by a score of 5-2. Howard Ehmke was hit hard from the start but lasted for six innings. Bob Fothergill got two doubles and triple in four times up. Whitehill held the Athletics to four hits.

Slim Harriss held Cleveland to five hits at Boston yesterday, enabling Boston to take its second straight victody from the Indians, 6 to 1. Three bases on balls and a hit batter gave the visitors their only run in the third. Hartley's hitting was timely.

Three hits, all singles, were all the home team could make yesterday off Ted Lyons, ace of the White Sox pitching staff, and Chicago shut out the Senators, 8 to 0. Lyons yielded one base on balls.

Marberry, whose usual role is that of relief hurler, started the game for Washington. He retired in favor of Braxton after the Sox in the sixth added four runs to the four they already had scored.

Break World Record For Bowling Team

WINNIPEG, Sept. 10.—(Canadian Press).—The Acme Paper Box five pin bowling team of Winnipeg, participants in the Mercantile League here, shattered the world's record for four man teams in a league match when they rolled up a score of 873 pins without handicap. The former world's record of 863 was made by the Irving Air Chute team of Dayton, Ohio.

Inside Sportin Dope

By A Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

I suppose this finds you all excited because the Peterborough Exhibition is on next week. With the horse races and the jumpers and the midway and all the other features, I know you'll be looking for a big week, and for onst me and you can agree. She'll be a real lively session all week, and I expect to see all the customers there.

Well, Mac, they has been a lotta baseball played since my last. For 1 thing, Mister Swanston's lads has put themselves in front in the Lakeshore playoff serious, and barring a whole lotta bad brakes, they oughta clean up the race this week and be ready for the bosses of the Toronto playoffs. If Mister Jeff Hardill hadda had his usual brand to dish out to the Sparkplugs the serious woulda been over Mon., but he was about as helpless that day as a marathon swimmer without grease, and while our lads cuffed Mister Dainty's shoots for 8 runs, the opposition grabbed 9 from us. At that, if Mister Batten hadda lost his bat just before Mister Dainty pitched the last ball, the game woulda been served up, for the Duke, as I call him, tossed in the tieing run with that last pitch, and Mister Batten wouldn't accept it.

However, Mon. the Petes got their revenge when they smeared Mister Benson's boys 10 to 2. Mister Harrison, Mister Jim Hall and Mister Rose was missing, and when you figger these birds had made 7 of the Petes 12 hits in Oshawa and drive in 6 runs, you'd of thought the Petes woulda missed them worst than the liquor store is missing its Yankee customers. But the lads that was left went at Mister Dainty just like he was 1 of them batting practice heavers, and they'd no trouble coming home in front. It was no great shucks of a ball game, but the fans and the fannies liked the fight put up by the Petes, and they're all looking forward to seeing them cop the serious and bump into the Toronto champs.

I see, Mac, the Council has decided to leave the ball park alone for a while. They oughta. If they ever pull down the stands and fences it'll be a long time before Peterborough'll have a closed grounds again. The Exhibition diamond can't take care of all of the teams, Mac. You try running all the seriouses from the bantams up to senior down there and you're going to have a hecka trouble on your hands. Add the senior outfit to what has been using the Exhibition Grounds and somebody'll be outa luck. And it wouldn't be the seniors. In a ordinary year they'd earn the most jack, and as the Exhibition is managed by good business men, the team what brings in the biggest returns in the box office would naturally get the gravy in the matter of dates and practice hours, and the smaller fry could go look for a place to play. We need both the park across the river and the Exhibition Grounds, Mac, if we're going to stay in baseball, and with the 2 of them there is none too much accommodation. They ain't nobody kicking about providing tennis courts and bowling greens. Let them come, say we, but for the love of Pete, we don't need to throw away the best ball park in Eastern Ont. to furnish the other accommodation.

Well, that's that. In passing I just wanta congratulate the Crescents upon forcing Deloro to go 3 games to take the serious. Them Smelters win the title last year, and when they are right they is a tough gang to put away. They carry two much punch and class for the E. P. gang, but nevertheless the Crescent youngsters showed some smart ball in the serious, and they deserve a big chunk of praise on their season's record. They're up and coming, them boys, and if they hold together for next season they'll make a lotta them step on the gas.

My, how I do ramble on! Anyway, Mac, I've run outa anything to say. Hoping you are the same.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

U. S. DEFEND CUP TO-DAY

Players Rest Up For Battle Against Challenging British Four.

POLO TROPHY.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—On turf grown firm again after recent rains and every advance weather prospect pleasing the United States will to-day defend the international polo cup against a challenging British four.

Only the ponies, an independent part of the polo equation, were in action yesterday. The mounts who are to carry the best players of the two countries were exercised by their grooms, but the eight men who wield their mallets in the first test to-day rested for the battle.

Play will begin at 4 o'clock.

The Americans who won the cup in 1921 and successfully defended it in 1924, must win two games to retain possession of the championship symbol. The second game is scheduled for Wednesday, September 14. If a third game is necessary it will be announced after the second engagement.

Meadow Brook, seat of polo on Long Island, has been dressed with British and United States flags and prepared to seat some 40,000 spectators.

The British outfit, the Army-in-India team, is regarded as the strongest threat presented to the United States since 1914, when Great Britain last won. Rumors of a last minute shift in the British line-up met with prompt denial. "The British team is ready for test as it stands, and there will be no change in the line-up," said Colonel-Commandant H. A. Tompkinson, head of the invading forces. "The side which starts against the United States to-day will be the side which was named three weeks ago. No shift now is contemplated. What the British line-up will be for the second game, of course, depends to some extent on developments in the first match. We look for a fine game."

The British team will be made up of Captain Pert, No. 1; Major Williams, No. 2; Captain Roark, No. 3, and Major Atkinson, back.

Captain Roark, a genial Irishman, is generally regarded as the most spectacular of the British players, and is to the challenging team what the hard-riding and sensational Hitchcock is to the defenders.

The United States team is made up of veterans, the captain, Devereaux Milburn, one of the game's greatest backs, being 46 years of age. J. Watson Webb, at No. 1, is 42, and Malcolm Stevenson, No. 3, is 39. No. 2, Hitchcock, Jr., 27 years of age, is the youngster of the team, but he has been playing polo since childhood, and it has been said that "Tommy" could ride before he could walk.

BUNCHED HITS TO BEAT BROWNS

League Leaders Given Drubbing By Leafs in Sixth Inning.

FINAL COUNT 12-4.

Maple Leaf Stadium, September 10 —Toronto slaughtered the champions in the making from Buffalo here yesterday afternoon, 12 to 4. They slugged the left hander Leverenz for 15 hits, stole bases at will and generally smothered the Bison pitcher who was left in and the Clymerites did not not look anything formidable behind the severe hitting lambasting.

Sorrell was entirely too good for the visitors except in two innings. He struck out eight. In the fourth four hits scored three for Buffalo and in the eighth two safeties counted the fourth.

Burke had three hits for Toronto, Webb, Hargrave Jacobson and Alexander two each, and the rest one each. No Leaf went hitless.

Rochester was unable to solve the slants of Wild Bill Hellahan of the Stars yesterday, and as a result went down to defeat by a score of 6 to 3 at Syracuse. Hellahan gave the Tribesmen but eight hits and struck out 11 men. Thermahlen started for Rochester but was removed in favor of Horn in the fifth after he suffered a slight kink in his throwing arm, Ira Smith, the Stars' second baseman, hit the first ball Horne pitched over the left field fence, scoring Gainer and sending Syracuse into the lead by two runs.

Reading made it two straight at Newark when they defeated the Bears, 4 to 2, Bill Jarrett's home run in the first inning with two on giving the Keys their margin of victory.

Slicker Parks hurled for the visitors and although the Pennsylvanians were outhit, the pitchers' work in the pinches held the Bruins in check.

Only three games scheduled.

PIRATES HOLD LEAGUE LEAD

Defeat Philadelphia 3-2 in the First of Three-Game Series.

PITCHERS' BATTLE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press).—Vic Aldridge won a pitchers' battle over Herb Pruett, and Pittsburgh clung to its lead in the National League pennant chase yesterday by defeating Philadelphia, 3 to 2, in the first of a three-game series at Pittsburgh.

The Pirates got to Pruett in the fourth inning for five of their total of eight hits and scored all three of their runs. Alridge allowed the Phillies but six hits, and they were unable to bunch them effectively to overcome the Pirates' lead.

Except for their big fourth inning the Pirates were helpless before Pruett. In that inning Traynor hit the only extra base clout of the game, a triple, and later scored Pittsburgh's first run. Four singles drove in the other two runs.

The Phillies pushed over a run in the fifth inning on consecutive hits by Wrightstone and Leach and Wilson's sacrifice. They scored another in the seventh in similar fashion, Wrightstone and Leach singling and Wilson sacrificing.

Giants Keep Pace

The New York Giants kept pace with the league leading Pirates by winning at Chicago, 7 to 2, in the first game of the series. The Giants are trailing the Corsairs by half a contest.

About 33,000 fans turned out to watch the opening of the East-West tussle. Solid hitting combined with a lethargic play by "Sharkey" Adams and steady hurling by Grimes was responsible for the New York triumph.

The McGraw men put the game away in the second inning. Hornsby started a rally with a walk and scored when Jackson drove the ball over the left field wall for a home run. Harper followed with a triple and crossed the plate on Taylor's safety.

Three more runs were put over by the invaders in the fourth after Adams had a chance to retire the side. With two down, Taylor walked; Grimes tapped to Adams, who had plenty of time to throw to first or second, but he hesitated and then threw to second too late to get Taylor. English shot the ball to first but Grimes beat the peg by a step. Mann followed with a double, scoring Taylor, and Weinert was replaced by Jones. The new pitcher was greeted with a single by Lindstrom, Grimes and Mann scoring. The other New York run came in the eighth on Mann's walk, and singles by Lindstrom and Rousch.

Grimes pitched fine ball and fanned Heck Wilson with the bases loaded in the fourth after which he walked Grimm to force in a run. The other Cub tally was made on Jones' double, Adams' single and a grounder by English.

Reds Win 8—1

The Cincinnati Reds bunched their hits off Greenfield in the fourth, and Genewich and Morrison in the eighth to pile up an eight to one victory over the Boston Braves in the first game of the Cincinnati series yesterday. Eppa Rixey held the Braves to eight widely scattered hits.

The Braves scored their only run in the second inning on Brown's double and Moore's single. Morrison allowed the only walk of the game.

The world champion Cardinals assumed third place from the Cubs yesterday by a sensational 8 to 6 victory over the Robins in the opener of a four-game St. Louis series, with two out in the tenth, Lester Bell slammed a home run off Petty with two on base to settle the issue.

Brooklyn grasped a one-run lead in the ninth on Babe Herman's second homer of the game, but the Cards levelled the count in their half of the inning on Douthitt's double and a single by Holm.

The Dodgers scored another run in the tenth on Statz's single, Hafey's fumble, a sacrifice and an infield grounder on which Statz beat Frisch's throw to the plate.

In the St. Louis tenth, Bottomley and Hafey walked and, with two batters out, Bell lifted the ball close to the left field stands.

IVANHOE VILLAGE IS SWEPT BY FIRE

United Church and Several Building Are Destroyed.

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Sept. 10.—The Village of Ivanhoe was swept by fire on Thursday night and the Beulah United Church and several other buildings are in ruins. The insurance was slight, there being but $1,600 on the brick church and little on the storehouses and barns belonging to T. E. Fleming and John Benson, which were burned.

The fire started from a spark from a chimney which landed on the Benson building, and the upspringing of wind sent the sparks to the Fleming warehouse and the church.

Only after the help of the Madoc Fire Department were the adjacent damaged dwelling and store of T. E. Fleming saved. Three buildings between the church and the other buildings were saved by bucket brigades and the firemen.

YOUNG AND REFFER WILL PLAY TO-DAY

Match Their Irons For Quebec Open Golf Championship.

OTTAWA, Ont., September 10 (Canadian Press). — Jack Young, professional of the Royal Montreal Club, and Earl Keffer, lanky and bespectacled pro. of the Royal Ottawa Club, will match their woods and irons to-day for the Quebec open golf championship. The two golf teachers tied yesterday in the 36-hole titular competition over the Royal Ottawa course with sparkling totals of 145, one stroke under par for the holes played.

The tie was greeted amid a scene that was tense when Keffer barely missed a fifteen foot putt on the final green, which, if he had made it, would have given him the trophy.

The local aspirant, who had made a wonderful showing in the morning round with a card of 69 for the first eighteen holes, wavered in the afternoon round, turning in a 76, three above par.

On the other hand, Young, who had a 74 in the morning, came through the second round with colours flying, doing the first nine in par 35 and cutting the next nine down to 36 for a total of 71. He gained a stroke on the tenth, lost two on the eleventh, gained another on the twelfth, played par golf on the next two, and gained one stroke on the fourteenth and sixteenth holes, with par shooting on the others.

Young's card was in some time before Keeffer came to the eighteenth green, and when it was learned that Keeffer needed a four to take the lead a gallery of several hundred people centred their entire attention on his approach shot, which landed about fifteen feet from the flog, for three. If he could sink the putt, he would be the winner by a stroke, and excitement was keen. He played the ball carefully, and to everyone it appeared that it would drop for the needed point. It was not to be, however, and the sphere came to rest not more than two inches, and perhaps less, from the edge of the cup.

The tie will be decided to-day after the amateur players have got away in their championship play.

C. C. Fraser, of Kanawaki, was the first amateur, finishing in the open competition with a total of 148. He shot a 75 in the morning round, two over par, and in the afternoon came back with a par card of 73. In the first round he lost three strokes on the first nine, but was one under par on the homeward route. The afternoon round resulted in a 37 for the first nine and a 36 for the inward nine. Jack Cameron's 151 was the next best amateur card of the tourney. The Rivermead star took a 77 in the first eighteen and a 74 in the next.

R. Cunningham, Mississauga pro., was the best scorer after Keffer and Young, going around the 36 in 147. He had a 71 in the morning, and fell back to 76 in the afternoon. Next in order were A. H. Murray, pro. from Beaconsfield, with 148, and there were two 149's, turned in by A. J. Hulburt, Thornhill pro., and E. Wakelam, Kent G. C., Quebec. The pro. prizes are placed among the six who have been mentioned. There is only one amateur prize, which was taken by C. C. Fraser.

The next pro. in order was J. R. Brown, of Summerlea, who had a card of 150. Taken all round there was some very creditable scoring. Practically the entire entry list finished in the lower eighties at the most, and there were many who came home below 160 for the 36 holes.

To-day will be the Amateurs' Day, and interest will be keen. Low scores promise to be the order.

AMERICA DOESN'T KNOW DECALOGUE

By NEA Service

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Americans don't know the Ten Commandments. That is the indisputable conclusion reached by a religious paper here after a two months' survey. "There shall be no false faces before me" was written as one of the commandments. Others were: "Keep away from your neighbor's wife", "You should not take thy neighbor's cow", "The Ten Commandments is a swell picture," "Thou shalt not murder" was the contribution of a police magistrate. Boys and girls of Sunday School age knew the Decalogue much better than adults.

Crooks Hire Special To Get Out of Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 10.—New York gunmen who are believed to have figured in the reign of crime here left the city in a specially chartered Michigan Central train, it was learned yesterday.

Five of the gunmen, with two women, appeared at the station on Sunday night, and asked the price of a special train to New York. They were told $4,100. Without quibbling the money was handed over and in a very short time the party pulled out of the station eastward bound.

Police believe that only two members of the gang remain in Detroit. They are Raymond Schocker, said by the police to be the leader, and Moss Lizz (his alleged lieutenant). Schocker was beaten almost to death and also shot this week by two men who lured him into a room in the Carlton Plaza Hotel. He is in receiving hospital, where he is under heavy guard and is strapped to his bed. Lizz is under arrest on an investigation charge.

"SWEET ROSIE O'GRADY", SONG FAMOUS FOR TWENTY YEARS IS THEME OF MOTION PICTURE

The picture comes to the Capitol Theatre Monday for three days.

The wistful story of Rosie O'Grady, the Second Avenue foundling, was immortalized in the song, along with the unforgettable Ben Shapiro, the kindly old pawnbroker, and patrolman Jimmy Brady, who lavished their love upon the waif who was left on a doorstep.

A. Alyn Warren has the role of Uncle Ben Shapiro the pawnbroker and it is said that he presented the lovable old character of the song with touching effect. William Conklin appears as the bluff Patrolman Grady, with a hand as big as a ham and a heart as great as all outdoors.

The characterization of Victor McQuade, the youthful lover, is presented by Cullen Landis. A capable supporting cast aids the principals in a presentation of one of the most popular memories of bygone age. Frank R. Strayer, the director, according to advance notices from the New York showing, was careful to recall the customs and costumes of the early 1900's, with the result that "Sweet Rosie O'Grady" as a picture, is said to bring back memories as readily as does the unforgettable melody which once was the song of Broadway.

The story of the song concerns the discovery of a waif on the pawnbroker's doorstep. Shapiro becomes her guardian, but Brady is a daily caller and the child comes into girlhood nourished by their love, the scope of her whole life limited to the environs of Second Avenue. How she meets the son of a wealthy family, wins his love and is humiliated and finally emerges victorious, combined to build not only a song that sent its wistful notes down through the years, but a story that has never been quite forgotten owing to its tender appeal to the human heart.

AT THE REGENT.

"THE CLIMBERS" GIVES IRENE RICH SPLENDID EMOTIONAL VEHICLE

All the pomp and circumstances of an Old World Court are embodied in "The Climbers," the Warner Bros. production starring Irene Rich, which comes to the Regent Theatre next Monday for a run of three days.

During the reign of King Ferdinand VII., the Court of Spain became guilty of prodigal expenditure, clandestine love, reckless gaiety and dark intrigue. There it was that a pitiless social "climber" caused the banishment of the beautiful Duchess of Arrogan.

Irene Rich as the Duchess has an opportunity to portray one of the most colorful and romantic roles of her career. She emerges from the character of a gentle-mannered woman of high degree to the tempestuous and fiery-spirited "hell-cat" of New Spain, a woman whose mind and heart are embittered for all men.

Then into her life comes a dashing, light-hearted cavalier who lays siege to her heart with a resistless and charming persistence. Discovery that she loves him also brings the revelation that he was the man who unwittingly caused her exile. Hate and love are at war in her heart.

The Illustrious New

CHRYSLER 72

Performance and Riding Results That Outdistance All Rivals

You probably cannot even imagine out of your past experience a car that gives you a speed ability of 72 and more miles an hour from a 75 horsepower motor—that flashes from 5 to 25 miles an hour in 7 seconds—

That even takes mountain grades at constant acceleration and literally wipes hills out of reckoning—that hasn't a vestige of engine tremor or road shock—

That handles more easily at 70 and 72 than most cars do at 45—that cradles you softly over cobblestones or rutted dirt—that is luxurious and beautiful beyond description—And, finally, that bears the assurance of safety, dependability and long life that only Chrysler Standardized Quality can give.

You can't imagine such a car, for there never was such a car in its class as the Illustrious New "72"—longer, roomier, faster, handsomer than the "70," and rubber insulated throughout—giving you features and qualities heretofore limited only to the most expensive cars, at remarkably low prices.

Only by seeing it and then by riding and driving it can you fully appreciate just how far Chrysler has widened the gap between the "72" and all others in this class.

You are cordially invited to test the Canadian-built Chrysler "72"—to learn for yourself why Canadians are rating it beyond comparison in new features and in every element that determines real motor car value.

New Chrysler "Red-Head" Engine

For those who seek supreme performance, going beyond even the standard announced—Chrysler furnishes the new "Red-Head" engine as regular equipment on the Illustrious New Chrysler "72" Roadster. This engine is designed to take full advantage of high-compression gas. It is also available for all other "72" body models at slight extra cost.

Illustrious New Chrysler "72" prices—Roadster, (with rumble seat), $2175; 2-passenger Coupe, (with rumble seat), $2275; Coupe, (4-passenger), $2345; Sedan, 4-door, (close-coupled), $2345; Royal Sedan, $2345; Convertible Coupe, (with rumble seat), $2575; Crown Sedan, $2580. All prices for delivery in Peterboro, and include 2 Bumpers, Spare Tire and Cover, License and tank full of Gasoline.

DISTRIBUTION OF FISH FRY

Over 50,000,000 whitefish fry were distributed from Gull Harbour hatchery, Lake Winnipeg, over a wide area extending as far as Berens river about 100 miles from the hatchery. This long transfer was made possible by virtue of a miniature hatchery set up on the Canadian Government steamer Bradbury. With the exception of last year, when 51,000,000 fry were planted out, this is the largest distribution since 1920 from Gull Harbour hatchery.

MADE HER BABY PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zepherin Lavoie, Three Rivers, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels, and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise." Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote healthful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DOROTHY ALLAN PARK,
Teacher of Singing.

"I have pleasure in referring to the superior abilities of Mrs. Dorothy Allan Park as a church and concert soprano.

Mrs. Park has a full rich soprano voice which she uses with charming distinction and expressiveness. As a church soloist she is one of the most reliable, musicianly and effective of all with whom I have ever had the pleasure of working, and her service of song has been a matter of most favorable comment. As a concert singer her record is an enviable one and she also has those rare personal qualities which make her musical offerings of still greater acceptance."

BOY STRUCK BY MOTOR CAR

David Berg Darts Out in Front of Automobile on George Street.

NOT BADLY HURT.

While his mother, Mrs. Virginia Brandt Berg, was addressing an evangelistic service at Bethany Tabernacle, eight-year-old David Berg of Miami, Florida, was knocked down and slightly injured by a car driven by Walter M. Terrace last night a few minutes after ten o'clock.

The boy, who had just left a confectioner's store, darted out from between two cars parked on the east side of George Street, almost opposite The Examiner Office and got in the way of Mr. Terrace's car, which was travelling north. Mr. Terrace immediately applied his brakes, but the wheels skidded and the left front bumper struck the boy on the knee just as he had almost succeeded in running clear of the oncoming car. As the boy was overturned his head came in contact with an ornamental device on the radiator. Promptly the car was stopped, and Mrs. Terrace carried the injured boy into Moncur's drug store. Dr. D. N. Carmichael was called, and on examination found the boy to be suffering from superficial wounds on the knee and head. After a little medical attention he was able to rejoin his mother at the conclusion of the service.

WEDDING BELLS.

CAVANAGH—BULGER.

COBOURG, Sept. 10.— The marriage took place in St. Michaels church here on Monday morning, at 7.30, Rev Monsignor Kelley officiating, of Miss Grace Bulger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bulger, Perry street, Cobourg, to Mr. Hubert Cavanagh, Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Cavanagh. The bride wore a gown of white crepe de chine, with points of lace, and wedding veil, arranged with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Angelina Bulger, wearing orchid crepe de chine, and orchid hat, and carrying pink sweet peas. Mr. Edward Cavanagh was groomsman for his brother. After the wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cavanagh left for a motor trip to Ottawa and Montreal. They will reside in Toronto.

DRISCOLL—LEROUX.

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Sacred Heart Church, Alexandria Ont., on Tuesday, Sept. 6th, when Alice, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leroux of Alexandria, became the bride of Cornelius Driscoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Flurence Driscoll, of Peterborough, Ont.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father A. Huot, of Alexandria.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was daintily gowned in a dress of rose biege romain crepe, with hat and shoes of black satin.

After the ceremony the happy couple motored to the bride's home, where a buffet luncheon was served. Later, they left on the 10.20 train for Ottawa, Toronto and Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a blue flat crepe dress, blue charmeen coat, sand colored hat and shoes. Many lovely gifts were received by the young couple, testifying to the high esteem in which they were held.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Driscoll will reside on Stanley avenue, Peterborough.

MULLIGAN—CROOKSHANKS.

The wedding took place at half-past one o'clock to-day at George Street United Church, which was prettily decorated with palms and gladioli, of Carrie Estella, daughter of Mrs. S. Crookshanks and the late Rev. S. Crookshanks, of this city, to Reginald Clarke Mulligan, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Mulligan of Bobcaygeon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Todd, pastor of the church. Mr. J. H. Renwick played the wedding music.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. J. W. Crookshanks, wore a lovely gown of beige lace and chiffon, with brown velvet girdle and hat of brown velvet and beige tulle. Her slippers and hose were brown, and she carried a bouquet of Madame Butterfly roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Greta Stinson, wore green georgette trimmed with lace, with black velvet hat, silver slippers and hose, and carried a bouquet of Columbia roses.

Mr. John Carlisle acted as best man.

After the ceremony, an informal buffet luncheon was served to the immediate relatives, at the home of the bride's mother, Mr. and Mrs. Mulligan leaving later for Muskoka, to reside in Toronto on their return.

The bride travelled in a brown sports dress and coat, with hat, shoes and hose to match, wearing the gift of the bridegroom, an amber fox fur.

"She has a voice of very fine quality, and her singing is marked with declamatory fervour, and admirable enunciation and phrasing." —Hector Charlesworth in "Saturday Night."

"Her singing throughout had a stately charm that the songs revealed excellently. The breadth and dignity of her interpretation had fitting counterpart in the melodic beauty of her sustained phrases. It was singing you could delight in."—Toronto "Telegram."

"The voice is of luscious quality in the mezzo range, golden and lovely in the soprano,—clear as the notes of a thrush,—and at times seeming almost a pure contralto. It is this surprising range and variety of tone colour that makes her voice so effective, and her repertoire so extensive."—Toronto "Courier."

Dorothy Allan Park will give a Recital on Monday, September 19th, in the Conservatory Hall, assisted by Maurice Park. Mary Agnes Logan at the piano. Tickets, 50 cents, may be obtained from pupils and at Kent's Drug Store.

OBITUARY.

MRS. ELLEN CORKERY

On Saturday morning, September 3, about 12.30, there passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, a well known and highly respected resident of Otonabee in the person of Mrs. Ellen Corkery. Although the deceased had been in failing health for a short time, her illness was not considered to be of a serious nature until a few days before her death, which came as a sad shock to the community in which she had lived and been esteemed, and where she was ever ready to lend a helping hand. Four children are left to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother: Daniel, living on the homestead; John of Peterborough; Mrs. T Fitzgerald of Otonabee, and Mrs Francis Leahy of Douro; also four brothers, John Sullivan of Peterborough; Michael, Patrick and Dennis of Otonabee. Her husband predeceased her some years ago. The funeral took place from the home of her son, Daniel, to the Church of The Immaculate Conception on Monday morning, where Requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father Guiry, from whence the remains were conveyed to St. Peter's Cemetery for interment; the grave-side prayers being recited by Father Guiry also. The large funeral cortege, together with the numerous spiritual and floral bouquets testified to the great esteem in which the deceased was held. The pallbearers were P. Sullivan, brother of the deceased; E. Fitzgerald, W. Devlin, F. Kearney, D. McCarthy, and M. Ross.

HENRY COOK.

Mrs. R. G. Long received a cablegram this morning saying that her father, Henry Cook, had passed away after a short illness at Mortimer, England. He was in his 90th year.

DAVID J. DESAUTELS.

The death occurred in Redlands, California, on Sunday, September 4, of David J. Desautels, a former resident of Peterboro, and brother of Edward J. and Mabel G. Desautels of 40 George street. Interment took place in Redlands, Cal.

POLICE COMMISSION CONSIDERS PARKING

Recommends That Council Buy Electrical Traffic Signal.

The Police Commission, at its meeting this morning decided to recommend to the City Council that suitable electric signals be erected at the busy street corners in this city in order to direct the traffic. Chief Constable Newhall said that this would relieve policemen who at present had to be taken off night duty to direct traffic in the daytime.

Up to the end of August $15,760 has been spent by the Commission, which is well within the estimates for the present year.

The Commission asked Chief Newhall to draw up a plan as to the kind and time limit on parking on the various streets in the city, which the members will study and then pass on to the City Council.

IN POLICE COURT.

Three youths from the Township of Otonabee appeared in the police court this morning charged with drinking liquor in other than a residence, and were fined $15 and costs.

Hon. G. N. Gordon K. C., appeared for the boys and, entering a plea of guilty, said that they had gone to a party in East City last night, and not knowing the law, they were found drinking outside. He said it was their first offence, and asked that the minimum fine be imposed.

Magistrate Langley said that he had been imposing $20 fines for warnings had been given and citizens must learn that they have to keep the law.

Four local taxi drivers pleaded guilty to trespassing at the C.P.R station, and were fined $10 each. Constable Evans of the C.P.R. reported that he had found these men playing crap. They were warned that in case of a second offence their taxi licenses would in all probability be cancelled. Hon. G. N. Gordon represented the men.

searching parties to investigate the possibility that it might have belonged to one of the seven fliers missing in the recent Dole air race from the mainland to Honolulu.

The collar was similar to those on the Kapok jackets issued by the navy to its fliers. Lieut. V. R. Knope, navigator of the missing monoplane Miss Doron, who with Mildred Doran, Michigan school teacher and Pilot J. A. Pedlar has been missing since the flight, may have had one of the jackets, the searchers believe.

MacIntosh To Fly.

DUBLIN, Sept. 10 (Canadian Press) —Capt. Robert MacIntosh, pilot of the airplane Princess Xenia, declared today that he had no intention of abandoning his projected flight to America. He said that he would start on his trans-Atlantic journey as soon as favorable conditions were reported.

HEAVY VOTING IN BY-ELECTION ENDS STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN

Perfect Weather Aids in Bringing Record Turnout in North Huron.

THREE CANDIDATES.

Keen Interest Has Been Aroused in the Riding By Many Speakers.

GODERICH, Ont., September 12.—Canadian Press. With perfect weather giving promise of a record turnout of voters, the electors of North Huron went to the polls this morning to decide by their ballots which of three candidates should be the successor in the House of Commons to the late John W. King, Progressive member for the riding whose death last spring necessitated a by-election. Votes are being recorded in large numbers this morning. The Liberals are pinning their faith on Archie Hislop, while George Spotton is the standard bearer for the Conservatives, and Sheldon Bricker is doing battle on behalf of the U.F.O.

An exceptionally heavy vote is certain due to the keen interest aroused throughout the riding by the intensive campaign waged by all three parties interested.

The total vote cast in the last general election was 11,300 but this figure will probably be exceeded in to-day's contest. There are 77 polling sub-divisions in the riding, which includes the towns of Goderich, Wingham Wroxeter, Blyth and Brussels. A heavy vote is concentrated in the Townships of Grey, Howack, Morris, East WaWwanosh, West Wawanosh, Turnberry, Ashfield and Colborn.

TWO WOMEN WANT TO FLY

Continue Plans in Spite of Growing Protests Against Ocean Hops.

AVIATION REPORTS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., September 12 (United Press). — Despite growing protests against trans-oceanic flights, two women fliers continued to-day with their plans to span the Atlantic.

Miss Ruth Elder and George W. Haldeman, her navigator, were expected to arrive this week from Florida in their single Moreland plane to spend a few days here before setting out for Europe. The flight is backed by Wheeling, W.Va., business men.

On Long Isinad, Miss Frances W. Grayson, student flier and real estate broker, has been making tests with a Sikorsky Amphibian plane, two-motored, of a new design. The craft belongs to Miss Grayson and Mrs. Ange Ancker, wealthy young sportswoman of Aiken, S.C. Miss Grayson and an experienced male pilot yet to be selected will attempt the flight later in the month if additional trials are satisfactory.

DETROITERS MAY QUIT.

TOKIO, September 12 (Canadian Press). — The plans of Edward Schlee and William Brock for their next step in the round-the-world flight remained unknown here to-day, but there was a growing tendency to regard their projected hop from Japan to the Midway Islands, half-way across the Pacific, as suicidal.

Advices from Omaru to-day said the fliers were undecided on whether to attempt the flight to Midway Island. It was the opinion of the Japanese fliers that such an undertaking would be plain suicide, and that any attempt to cross the Pacific by following the Kurile and Aleutian Island chains northward would be most hazardous.

FIVE BALLOONS DOWN.

DETROIT, September 12 (Canadian Press). — Seven of the fifteen balloons entered in the Gordon-Bennett International Trophy race still were unreported this morning, more than forty hours after leaving Ford Airport here on Saturday afternoon, and the officials of the event were inclined to believe that all of the bags still were in the air. Three others were reported seen last night in the Carolinas, and five reported safe landings.

PLANE CRASHES.

LONDON, September 12 (Canadian Press). — The Air Ministry has received news that the British seaplane Crusader, entered in the Schneider Cup races, crashed near Venice to-day. Flying Officer H. M. Schofield was injured.

INTEND TO FLY.

OMURA, Japan, September 12 (Canadian Press). — Edward Schlee and William Brock, co-pilots of the round-the-world monoplane, Pride of Detroit, told the Associated Press here to-day that they firmly expected to fly from Japan to Midway Island, then to Honolulu, and on to San Francisco, and so on.

BALLOONS LAND SAFELY.

DETROIT, September 12 (Canadian Press). — The Italian balloon Dux, piloted by Lt.-Col. Leone, and the English balloon Bee, with Capt. G. Meager as pilot, entrants in the Gordon - Bennett International Trophy race, landed safely last night, according to messages from the pilots received here to-day. The Dux landed near Newberry, South Carolina, and the Bee came to earth near Norfolk, Virginia. The Belgian balloon Belgica, piloted by Lieut. De Muyter, landed to-day near Syracuse, South Carolina.

Hunt Alleged Slayer With 200 Armed Men

CANEADEA N. Y. Sept. 12.—With two hundred armed men searching through the lowlands of the Genesee River, fresh impetus was given yesterday to the hunt for Leroy Wagner, farmer, wanted for the slaying of two State troopers.

It was said the hunted man had stolen a small truck from the farm of Dorrance Chamberlin.

The shooting took place at the Wagner home when the troopers went there to arrest Wagner on a charge of defrauding Clarence Benjamin the owner of a filling station out of $6.40.

HARVEST HOME SERVICE HELD

Park Street Church Well decorated For Thanksgiving Services.

SUITABLE ADDRESSES.

Park Street Baptist Church was very nicely decorated yesterday for Harvest Home Sunday. The windows and pulpit bore mute but striking evidence of God's great goodness to mankind and a most impressive climax to the decorations was effected by a beautifully woven cascade effect reaching from the Baptistry to the organ top from which flowed a magnificent and beautiful array of the bounty of the soil. A very unique feature of the decorations was the innovation of six canaries in their cages, proving a wonderful asset in the singing.

The pastor, the Rev. J. L. Harton, delivered both the morning and evening services, on subjects appropriate to the great festal occasion. The topic for the evening message was "The Amiable Man," and he pointed out the wisdom of the old Italian proverb to the effect that "It is possible to be so good that one is good for nothing."

In the afternoon Mr. Wearing delivered an address to an open session of the Sunday School, in which he admonished the Baptists of the city to conbine in their great work for the Kingdom.

Other speakers for the afternoon were the pastor, the Rev. J. L. Harton, and the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Murray Street Church, who also voiced the desire for a great unity of interest and work between the two church. Miss Mann, who was the first suprintendent at the opening of the Sunday School at a small mission on Dalhousie Street, 39 years ago, gave a brief outline of its organization and growth since that time.

Corn On Cob Is Poser To Visiting Surgeons

ROCHESTER, Minn., September 12. —All the scientific learning of twenty-five distinguished British surgeons who came to Rochester to inspect the Mayo clinic during a tour of American medical centres failed them when they were confronted with sweet corn on the cob.

On the diner of the train which brought the party to Rochester sweet corn was a part of the menu but they did not know how to eat it until the steward saw their plight and gave a clinical demonstration.

THE WEATHER

There was a little white frost this morning, although the temperature did not descend dangerously near the freezing point. This summer is generally believed to have been a very cool one. In some respects it has been. There were few really uncomfortably hot days. And again the night temperatures were not as low as usual. This fact accounts for the average temperature of the summer being but little different from the ordinary and average summer in this particular section of Ontario.—W.P.

FORMER LEADER TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen To Address Gathering on National Issues.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 12 (Canadian Press). — Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former Leader of the Opposition, will attend the Conservative Convention opening in Winnipeg on October 10.

Definite advice to this effect, received from Meighen over the week-end by General A. D. McRae, M.P., Chairman of the National Committee preparing for the meeting, removes the uncertainty which has been prevailing in respect to the former Conservative leader's intentions in the matter.

Mr. Meighen has also acceded to the request of the National Committee to address the Convention on National Issues. The probability is that he will speak on the opening day of the meeting. Mrs. Meighen will also be present.

From the several provinces, there has come to the National Committee during the past month requests for definite information regarding Mr. Meighen's intentions. Invariably these communications were to the effect that the former leader should be urged to attend the rally.

FARMING WEST ENJOYING YEAR OF PROSPERITY

Thanks To Good Weather and Less Favorable Conditions in Europe.

CATTLE PRICES HIGH.

Report Far Better Than the Market Experts Had Looked For.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12. — Thanks to the weather the farmers of the mid-west and the northwest will enjoy a year of prosperity.

Commenting on the U. S. Department of Agriculture crop report John A. Bunnell, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, which is the world's greatest grain exchange, to-day told the United Press that the great region is almost guaranteed a prosperous season.

The government's report showed that the condition of the corn crop on Sept. 1 was 69.7 per cent. of normal, indicating a production of 2,455,561,000 bushels compared with 2,647,000,000 bushels last year.

Spring wheat was 82.7 per cent. of normal, indicating a production of 308,125,000 bushels compared with 205,000,000 in 1926. The indicated production of all wheat for the season was placed at 860,892,000 bushels. Condition of oats indicated a production of 1,191,396,000 bushels compared with 1,250,000,000 last year.

"The indicated wheat crop means prosperity for the northwest because of present prices," Bunnell said. "Rye is also good and while oats are only fair, hay is abundant. In fact, the northwest's aggregate production is excellent."

Weather for the corn crop has been ideal since September 1, Bunnell said. Two or three weeks more favorable weather will give the corn farmers a wonderful season.

"Because corn planting was late the farmers simply can't raise too much. Another indication of their prosperity is the fact that hogs and cattle are high. Corn actually is marketed on the hoof as it were and the outlook is good because livestock and cattle are bringing such good prices."

Bunnell pointed out there was a good export demand for farm products because European production has not been very good. The mid-west and northwest are almost guaranteed a prosperous season," the president of the Board of Trade said. "Wheat already is beyond hurt while the quantity of the corn crop cannot be diminished by unfavorable weather. A frost only would impair its quality."

Bunnell said the report was better than the market experts had looked for. While he was unable to translate the report into actual dollars and cents—that would require many days of calculation — he was sure that the picture was a rosy one for the farmers.

WINDSOR FLIERS PREPARE FOR RETURN FLIGHT TO HOME PORT

Canada Qualified For the Privilege

LONDON, Sept. 12 (Canadian Press Cable). — The Observer, commenting on Canada's candidacy for a seat on the League Council, says it would be hard to pick another candidate more powerfully qualified for the privilege. The Great War was warrant enough of Canada's capacity for international service, and she has played other parts since then.

In numbers and influence taken together, continues The Observer, Canada ranks high in the list of candidates, and above all it would be invaluable for the League to have for the first time, a direct representative from North America upon the Council.

BRITISH LANDS UPHOLD LEAGUE

Canadian and English Delegates Express Their Faith.

AT ASSEMBLY.

GENEVA, Sept. 12. — (Canadian Press.)—Faith in the principle of arbitration was expressed in the general discussion of the League of Nations Assembly to-day. The Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader in the Canadian Senate and Minister without portfolio in the Mackenzie King Government, said that while some decisions had gone against her, Canada still believes in the principle of arbitration.

The Canadian delegate explained the working of the constitution of the Province of Quebec, where peoples of two different races live harmoniously side by side and declared that this was an example to the world. The Hon. Mr. Dandurand said that Canada was the only nation which had lowered her tariff since the Great War.

League Is Basis.

GENEVA, Sept. 12. — (Canadian Press.)— "We make the League of Nations the basis of all our foreign policy," declared Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, receiving the entire press here this evening.

AROUND THE CITY

The Fire Brigade had a call to a stable and drive shed, on Driscoll Terrace at 7.10 a.m. Saturday morning to a small blaze that was quickly extinguished.

There were also three calls to 417 Driscoll Terrace, one at 11.39 a.m one at 6.03 p.m., and the last at 11.29 p.m. It is thought that this is the work of a fire bug and investigations are being pursued which are expected to reveal the identity of the miscreant. There are many speculations as to the motive impelling these acts, ranging from that of spite to lunacy.

In England it was once the custom for physicians to receive no pay in case they failed to cure.

Wood Characterizes Orders From Backers as "Greatest Setback of My Life."

AWAIT FINE WEATHER.

Would Prepare For New York-Spokane Race on September 21st.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Sept. 12.—(Canadian Press.)—Orders received Saturday to abandon his attempted flight in the monoplane Royal Windsor from Windsor, Ont., to Windsor, Eng., were characterized Saturday night by Phil Wood, co-pilot with Duke Schiller of the plane, as "the greatest setback of my life."

The flier said he would stick by his flight committee's orders, however, and return home to prepare for the New York-Spokane race on September 21, abandoning both the idea of trans-Atlantic flight or an air-search for the Old Glory. The fliers are receiving hourly weather reports on conditions from Maine to Newfoundland and announced they were ready to hop off at any itme. Their route will lie across Newfoundland and Cape Race, Cabot Strait and Nova Scotia to the Maine coast. Adverse weather may hold them here until dawn Monday.

"A thrill which speedboat racing lacks to-day," and the "idea of a Canadain owned plane flown by Canadians from Canada to England," which would be unique and "put Canadian flying on the map," prompted his plan for an ocean hop Wood said. He said he would feel the loss of his chance, not only on account of the backers of his flight, but because of his co-pilot Schiller.

Selected Schiller.

"Looking for a pilot," he added, "I selected Duke Schiller whom I've known personally for 12 years. I think him one of the best fliers in the world to-day. I induced Schiller to apply to the Canadian government to grant a leave of absence for the ocean flight and he forfeited his seniority position in the fire-patrol service to get it. All this has been sacrificed by the failure of trans-Atlantic fliers to reach their destination."

Expressing his first public opinion on the ill-fated flight of the other Canadian plane, the Sir John Carling, carrying Captain Terry Tully and Lieutenant James Medcalf, Wood said he attributed the failure of the flight to "inexperience in the fog and night flying."

"I doubt if the engine failed. I believe they ran into a fog felt of high altitude in the darkness and the plane started a spin and side-slipped to the ocean. I think the plane was well across before the accident."

Implicit Confidence.

Declaring that he and Schiller still had "implicit confidence" in their plane and were "ready to start to-morrow for England," Wood turned to the Old Glory flight, declaring, "I cannot express my sorrow for Bertaud. We were life-long friends, married on the same day. In my short life this day has been the saddest I hope to see. The hotel bellboy here delivered me many cables and opening one I read this:

"'My heart goes out to-day for your heroic offer to search for Old Glory and my all. May God bless you.' It was signed Helen Bertaud—Lloyd's wife.

"Those are milestones in a flier's life."

Courtney Released.

LONDON, Sept. 12. — (Canadian Press.)—Captain Frank T. Courtney's projected Atlatic flight has been abandoned until next year the Westminser Gazette announces. Courtney is at Corunna, Spain, where he landed on his interrupted flight to America, and up to Saturday had declared his intention to complete the flight.

The Westminster Gazette, however, which sponsored the flight, sent him a message releasing him from his obligation to carry on, and suggesting that this was in the best public and scientific interest.

No Trace Found.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Sept. 12.— A message received last night from the steamer Kyle, which is conducting a search for the missing trans-Atlantic plane Old Glory, said that nothing had been found of the missing plane so far.

The Kyle reported rough weather and a heavy sea

Posse Hunts Men Linked With Handcuffs Escaped From Guards While on Way to Jail

PITMAN, N.J., September 12. — Two prisoners handcuffed together but armed with a revolver and a blackjack are at large near this place and a posse of policemen and volunteers is scouring woodlands and fields for them. The pair escaped when being taken to the county jail.

The men were arrested at Clayton, five miles distant, on Saturday evening with an automobile alleged to have been stolen from Elizabethtown, Pa. The authorities there refused to divulge their names.

Robert Green, Town Marshal of Clayton, with his son, Robert, Jr., as driver, started from the county jail with the two men after they had had a preliminary hearing before Squire W. Reed Skinner. At Tyler's Mill, a lonely spot on the Glassboro Woodbury Pike between Pitman and Barnsboro, one of the men complained of the handcuffs pinching him and asked Green to ease them. When Green moved to help him, one of the men took his blackjack from his pocket and hit the son on the head. The car went into a ditch and was disabled. The other prisoner seized Green's revolver and struck him over the temple. Both men, with the handcuffs still on them, leaped from the car and fled into the woods.

Green and his son soon revived and hailed a passing motor car. Word was quickly sent to Pitman and the town's fire siren was blown to summon volunteers to pursue the fugitives. Under-Sheriff J. K. Tryon took charge of the man hunt. He is assisted by many volunteers all armed. Policemen from neighbouring towns and State police are being rushed to Pitman. The police do not believe the fugitives can break the manacles, but it is feared they may force some motorist or farmer to aid them in getting out of this section. All roads are being watched.

NORTH IRELAND WISHES SOUTH ALL SUCESS BUT WON'T JOIN

Marquis of Dufferin and Ava Tells of the New Regime.

SPEAKER OF SENATE.

Son of Former Governor-General in Canada To Visit Friends.

QUEBEC, Que., Sept. 12.—While the North of Ireland wishes all success to the South, it does not desire to be amalgamated with it, according to the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, Speaker of the Senate of North Ireland since 1921, and a native born Ottawa man, who has come out to visit friends in the Capital and other sections of the Dominion for a few weeks.

The Marquis, who came over on the Montrose, has been Speaker of the Senate of North Ireland since 1921, and this morning, upon arrival at Quebec, stated that there was a slight improvement to be noticed in business in general, an improvement in the employment situation, a very slight improvement in the linen industry and a slight improvement in shipbuilding.

He said that the people of North Ireland found that self-government had so far proved to be a very successful experiment, and added that the North's relations with the South were much better than they had been. All that the North desired, he stated, was to be left alone and allowed to work out its own salvation.

Son of a former Governor General of Canada, Lord Dufferin, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava who is accompanied by the Marchioness was born in Ottawa. He is going to Rideau Hall for some little time, but, after that, does not know what his future plans will be for the next few weeks, as he has to go back to Ireland for the beginning of November, when the North of Ireland Parliament opens.

The Montrose, in addition to bringing the son of a former Governor-General out to the Dominion, also brought the son of the present Governor-General, in the person of Capt. the Hon. Brassey Freeman-Thomas, accompanied by his wife, the former Miss, Maxine Forbes - Robertson daughter of Sir Johnston and Lady Forbes-Robertson.

They are on their first visit to Canada, and experienced a most enjoyable voyage across the Atlantic. Capt. Freeman-Thomas spent not a little time on the boat deck of the Canadian Pacific liner, exercising his little black Spaniel, which made the crossing with him.

OLD MASTERS

Home they brought her warrior dead;
She nor swooned, nor uttered cry.
All her maidens, watching, said:
"She must weep or she will die."

Then they praised him, soft and low,
Called him worthy to be loved,
Truest friend and noblest foe;
Yet she neither spoke nor moved.

Stole a maiden from her place,
Lightly to the warrior stepped,
Took the face-cloth from the face;
Yet she neither moved nor wept.

Rose a nurse of ninety years,
Set his child upon her knee—
Like summer tempest came her tears.
"Sweet my child, I live for thee."

GENEVA, Sept. 12 (Canadian Press Cable).—The prospects of Canada being elected to a non-permanent seat on the League of Nations Council, seems at present to be very favorable.

FARMERS ABLE TO GET IN GRAIN

Weather Suitable For Farm Work in the Warsaw District.

WARSAW NEWS.

WARSAW, September 12. — The farmers are rejoicing in the splendid weather this week. Probably by the end of the week the grain harvest will be all in or stacked. Many barns have wet grain, and much of the threshed stuff needs turning.

The teachers and trustees met in Warsaw School on Wednesday evening to arrange for the school fair, which is to be held on September 21.

The Warsaw Women's Institute met on Thursday afternoon. The president was unable to be present. Norwood Institute also was absent, because of the funeral of a prominent Norwood lady. Plans were made for the booth and lunch counter at the school fair. Mrs. Thomas Cooper was not present to give her report of the Council meeting. Mr. James Hawthorne's report of the deliberations of the Council regarding making the present Town Hall suitable for the necessary community work was given. It was to the effect that while they realized the present hall is hardly adequate, they did not feel they were in a position to do anything just now. Even if they were, no work could be done this year. It might be well for the Institute to get plans and estimates and present the matter on nomination day.

There will be an Institute convention in Belleville this year, as there was last, and Mr. Putnam is anxious to see some of the Warsaw ladies there, as well as at Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Digweed and little Eric left on Sunday by motor to visit friends near Niagara.

Fred Crowe went to Toronto to attend the Exhibition.

Mrs. Lawrence McCracken spent a week in Toronto.

Dr. Munro attended the medical convention on Thursday.

Bart Allan and Charles Foster went to Belleville on Tuesday on business.

WILLIAMS OUT OF CUP RACES

Entry Withdrawn Because of Insufficient Time To Complete Plane Tests.

WOULD SET RECORD.

WASHINGTON, September 12. — Announcement that the United States will not compete in the Schneider Seaplane Cup Races at Venice this month, caused deep dismay in aviation circles here.

T. Douglas Robinson, acting Secretary of the Navy, said that America's lone entry had been withdrawn from the speed contest because of insufficient time to complete the tests of the machine.

Decision not to participate in the races was taken after Lieutenant "Al" J. Williams racing pilot of the Navy, sent word from Port Washington, L. I., the project was "impracticable."

Williams had been working desperately for weeks to prepare the racing seaplane, already won twice by the United States. One more win would have given the United States permanent possession of the trophy. Italy has one win to her credit, made at Norfolk, Va., last Fall.

William's report came as the cruiser Trenton was prepared to rush the plane to Italy.

Although bitterly disappointed over being forced to withdraw from the Schneider race, Lieutenant Williams said, he will make an attempt to bring the airplane speed record to the United States. The attempt will probably be made Monday or Tuesday of next week and the start will be made from the ground instead of from the water. The pontoons on Williams' fast little seaplane were dismantled on Saturday and land gear will be attached.

WORLD FLIERS FORCED DOWN BY HEAVY GALE

Scheduled Shanghai to Tokio Hop Halted at Omura Aerodrome.

LOST THEIR WAY.

Police Investigating Landing Because Aviators Landed Near Fortified Zone.

TOKYO, Sept. 12 (A.P.).—Caught in thunderstorms which prevented their seeing across Bungo Channel, a 20-mile strait separating the Island of Kiushiu from the province of Shikoku, on the Island of the same name, the Pride of Detroit, attempting a round-the-world flight, was forced to halt her scheduled Shanghai to Tokyo hop and land at Omura naval aerodrome near Nagasaki at 5.45 p.m. yesterday.

Dispatches received from Omura stated that the police had begun investigation of the landing, because the fliers landed near the fortified zone.

The fliers, however, hoped when they landed that they would be able to resume the flight today. What effect the police investigation would have on their plane had not been learned here.

Swept Off Course

The fliers landed at 5.45 p.m. about 100 miles from Kagoshima, which had reported them as passing over at 1.35 a.m., their course from Kagoshima to Tokyo would have necessitated their flying northeast, but their manoeuvring during the storm evidently swept them far off their course, for Nagasaki is slightly west of north from Kagoshima.

In a statement to the press, Edward F. Schlee, Detroit oil man, said that it was while they were crossing the prefecture of Miyazaki that the storm came up. He said that William S. Brock, the pilot, continued on the course, until they approached the Bungo Channel, which connects the Japanese inland sea with the Pacific, when they discovered that the weather was so thick that they could not see the opposite shore.

MANIAC KILLS BANK CLERK

Paris Butcher Goes Mad, Terrorizes Passengers on Express Train.

WOUNDS OTHERS.

PARIS, September 12. — France last night was horrified by the gruesome accounts of how a carload of passengers on the Paris-Calais express train on Wednesday night was terrorized by a powerful maniac who, after raging in the corridor and brandishing a butcher knife while the passengers barricaded themselves in their compartments, brutally murdered with knife slashes a young man who attempted to intervene and wounded three others before escaping from the train.

The man, identified as Lucien Sadilec, a butcher of Saint Ouen, a Paris suburb, was captured in a field near Breteuil after savage resistance against police and a civilians' posse. The man is described by those who witnessed his arrest as being nearer a beast than a human, snarling, biting, frothing at the mouth, and struggling with such terrific strength that he had to be tied hand and foot and lashed to a long plank before he could be transported to the Beauvais Jail.

He entered the train quietly enough, but suddenly threw into a panic two old ladies in the compartment when with violet shouts he jumped to his feet, knife in hand. They took refuge with screams in an adjoining compartment.

The murdered man, a young bank clerk, Emile Betel, was in another compartment, and was awakened from sleep by the man rampaging in the corridor, beating upon windows and looking out the door. He said to his friend:

"That man must be crazy."

The maniac heard the remark and rushed upon him, striking terrific blows with the knife. Three passengers trying to intervene received wounds and fled while the maniac hurled the body of Betel from the moving train.

Meanwhile the passengers released the alarm signal and halted the train and armed guards attempted to capture the criminal, who escaped through a window on the other side of the train.

Attempts to question Sadilec are fruitless, as he is still in a bestial rage apparently not understanding the words addressed to him.

Neighbours in St.Ouen say that Sadilec was subject to drunken rages and had been abandoned by his wife whom he terrorized.

WINNIPEG WHEAT.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 12 (Canadian Press)—The bottom literally fell out of the wheat market here on Saturday, steady selling pressure, inspired by excellent investing weather in Western Canada, and bearish outside news, dragging wheat prices down 3¼ to 3½c.

Buying orders, confined almost exclusively to local "shorts," failed to make any impression and liquidations which swamped the pit gave the market a weak undertone at the close.

In sympathy with wheat, the coarse grains slumped drastically. Oats finished 5-8 to 1 3-8c down; barley, 2 5-8 to 3¼c lower; flax, 1¼ to 1 7-8c down, and rye 1 to 1 7-8c below the previous day's close.

CAMPBELLFORD NEWS.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 12.—Mrs. Charles Nancarrow, Montreal, is spending two weeks with relatives and friends in town.

Miss Helen MacDonald, who is teaching at Wade's Corners school, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. MacDonald.

In spite of the thunder storm and heavy rain on Saturday, the merchants of town report a good day's business. In corroboration of this statement, some of the license markers on the parked cars indicated tourists from the States of Ohio, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and Texas. There was also a British Columbia car in town. The electric storm was apparently more severe in the district immediately north of the town. Farmers from that section report exceedingly heavy rain with violent thunder and lightning. No damage has been reported up to the present time.

Rev. Dr. Kingston, Dean of Residence of Trinity College, Toronto, occupied the pulpit of Christ Church for the services yesterday. He also addressed the Sunday school in the afternoon. Dr. Kingston's sermons were greatly appreciated by the large congregations which filled the church both morning and evening.

At the morning service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed to almost a complete congregation. At the evening service, Mrs. F. deF. Free sang, "He Feedeth His Flock." Rev. James Grier announced that he would be absent from his pulpit for the morning service next Sunday, it being his duty to take charge of the Holy Communion service at Brighton. The student minister of the Brighton church will occupy the local pulpit for that service.

All ex-service men are asked to remember the meeting of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., to be held in their rooms at the armouries at eight o'clock this Tuesday evening. The purpose of the meeting is to make final arrangements regarding the local club's activities in connection with the unveiling of the Brighton War Memorial, Sunday, Sept. 18th.

PEERS DEFEAT RELIGIOUS BILL

Act Which Would Have Hampered Missions Shelved in Japan.

Sympathy For Work.

TORONTO, Sept. 12.—Special.—When Rev. R. C. Armstrong, secretary of the National Christian Council of Japan, returned from Tokyo to Toronto last year, the Religious Bills, a government measure, was arousing grave concern in the Christian community in Japan. His return to Japan this month is under happier auspices, as the measure has been modified and disposed of after a most careful consideration from all angles, messages from the Japanese capital state.

It is stated that missionaries in Japan are taking new courage from the shelving of the law proposed by the Minister of Education to control all religious teaching. The bill was decisively beaten in the Upper House.

"Christianity found friends in many unexpected quarters when this bill came before the Diet", writes one missionary. "Many objectionable features were stricken out or modified. The debates were keen, intelligent, fair, and revealed a knowledge of Christianity and a wish to promote its growth that should hearten any doubting Thomas. The bill was finally shelved in the House of Peers."

Commenting on this action, one of the leading newspapers said in part:

"Among the factors which impressed them (the Peers) was the extent of the indirect influence of Christianity among the people of this country ....The Christians are numerically a small body but for every family that numbers professed Christians among its members, there are many who have come in contact with Christian work and teaching, and, though not adherents of any Christian body, are averse to any step that would hamper the liberty that Christians value. The episode effectively illustrates the general sympathy of the people of Japan, and their legislature, with the Christian movement....and the power of a vigorous and educated minority to influence the course of government."

Rev. Dr. Armstrong, who has for 25 years been getting personally into touch with leaders of thought in Japan, through his sympathetic interpretations of Japanese philosophies in his books and articles, is a graduate of the University of Toronto and a missionary of the United Church of Canada. He will resume active work among the university students of Tokyo in October. With him goes Rev. Robert Claire Wright of Prince Edward Island to commence his missionary career.

THIRTEEN HURT IN BUS WRECK

Driver of Passing Car Loses Control and Causes Crash.

VEHICLES DAMAGED.

LANSING, Mich., Sept. 12.—Thirteen persons were injured, none fatally, early yesterday when a highway 'bus travelling towards Detroit was struck by an automobile operated by Tony Ruggerllo, Detroit. The accident occurred during a heavy rainstorm, one mile east of East Lansing.

State police summoned to the scene of the mishap ordered the injured removed to the Edward W. Sparrow Hospital in Lansing. Mrs. Margaret Hewitt, wife of Reed Hewitt, employed in the advertising department of the State Journal, and her son, Douglas, were injured most seriously. Ruggerllo, according to state police, apparently lost control of the car he was driving when the right wheel slipped on the pavement upon the shoulder of the highway.

Attempting to right the car and bring it back up on the road he pulled it directly in front of the 'bus, tearing the front wheels entirely from the larger vehicle. The coach then careened into the side of the 'bus, causing the heaviest damage.

Lynn Mills, driver of the 'bus, was thrown from behind the wheel on the pavement, but fortunately escaped injury. Every piece of glass in both vehicles was broken.

Following a statement to state police, Ruggerllo was released. All persons in the automobile operated by Ruggerllo were injured except the driver himself.

IN POLICE COURT.

Wilbert Butcher and Michael Martin were each given a month in the common jail with hard labor, by His Worship Magistrate O. A. Langley this morning for assaulting Bruce Mahaffy of 500 Sherbrook street.

The accused on Saturday night September 3rd it is charged, tried to get Mahaffy to steal a car off the market square. He refused to take the car and when he was going home he was attacekd by Butcher and Martin. Butcher, he says, struck him in the pit of the stomach, knocking him out, and then threatened to use a knife. The police found Mahaffy lying on the street unable to move.

The two accused were sought all week by the police and were arrested on Saturday night when they came into the city.

A boy who gave his age as sixteen years, pleaded guilty to taking a car owned by Gordon Thompson from the market square on Saturday night. With the stolen car he struck another, causing considerable damage to both. Chief Constable Newhall asked for a week's remand, for it is believed it is not the first car the accused has taken.

Albert Dewey selected summarily trial before the magistrate in the charge of assaulting Police Sergeant John Deannard on Saturday night. He did not plead as the crown asked for a remand for a week.

The police station received a call from a resident on Smith street on Saturday night to come and arrest Dewey who was intoxicated. Sergt. Deannard and Detective Carey went up in the police car and while the Sergeant was putting Dewey in the car the prisoner struck him in the face breaking his nose.

The scrap was not all one sided, for Dewey, who is a large man, appeared in court this morning with one eye badly swollen, and a cut on one side of his face. Dewey is employed with the Ontario Amelsite Ltd., which is laying the pavement on Smith street. The prisoner was granted $2000 bail.

Two women, who are residents of Park street, appeared before His Worship. One was said to have used abusive language. A neighbours' scrap was the result which ended in the police being summoned.

Magistrate Langley after the charge had been withdrawn on the paying of the cost by the accused reprimanded both of the women severely.

Call Loan Rate Up; Recessions In Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 12 (Canadian Press). — Stiffening money rates brought about another sharp re-action in to-day's Stock Market. Prices started upward at the opening with about twenty individual issues elevated to new high ground, but sold down when the renewal rate on call loans was marked up to four per cent. Rallying tendencies quickly developed, but these disappeared when banks called about $20,000,000 in loans and sent the call rate up to four and a half per cent., the highest level since the first week in July.

United States Steel Common, after duplicating the year's high of 157 for the present issue, sold down to 153 5-8, Studebaker re-acted from 63 to 60, and similar recessions took place in a number of other standard industrial and railroad issues. A temporary outburst of strength developed in the oil shares when one block of 13,000 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey changed hands at forty, but the buying movement quickly died down when selling pressure increased against the rest of the list.

Gains In Majority On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 12 (Canadian Press).—Gains outnumbered losses in this morning's active trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange. Canada Malting, Brazilian, and British American Oil were the leaders in point activity, the former, a new issue, being traded in to the extent of 12,000 shares. Initial sales in the stock were made at 31, a rapid decline ensuing and prices falling as low as 27¼ before noon. However, a recovery of 1¾ to 29 was effected.

Brazilian continued in demand, selling up to 191 with the noon close ½ a point lower. British American Oil touched 29 on sales of more than 2,000 shares. Carlings decline one point to 27. Fractional recessions were also shown by F. N. Burt, McColl and International Petroleum. Among the investment issues, Bank of Commerce and Royal Bank continued to sell off, the former declining one point while Royal at 320 was off two.

All Grains Decline Corn Leading Crop

CHICAGO, September 12 (Canadian Press). — All grain went down in price early to-day, with corn taking the lead. Fine weather and big receipts broke the corn market.

Opening 1¼c to 3c lower, corn continued to descend. Wheat started ⅝c off to ⅛c up, scored additional gains, and then underwent a general sag. Oats were easier. Provisions displayed relative strength.

Opening prices were: Wheat, September 1.31, December 1.34⅞. Corn, September 98, December 99½. Oats, September 44¼, December 47½.

Dome Mines Continues Rapid Advance To-day

TORONTO, Sept. 12.— (Canadian Press.) —With transactions totalling more than 800,000 sahres, trading on the standard stock and mining exchange to-day was featured by the strength of the majority of leading stocks. Dome Mines, in favor last Saturday with a gain of 1.40, was again in demand and moved up 35 points to 10.73. Hollinger and Teck Hughes shared in the general improvement, the former advancing thirty cents to 17.80, while Teck Hughes added eight to 9.33. Nipissing was the leader among the silver stocks, gaining 79 cents to 6.55. The advance followed a fifteen cent gain on Saturday last.

IMPROVING GROUNDS.

Exhibition Board To Beautify Strip Along Lansdowne Street.

Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board has asked the Township of North Monaghan to make a grant of an eight-foot strip of land running along the north fence of the Exhibition Grounds on Lansdowne Street. This is the strip which, under ordinary circumstances, would be occupied by a sidewalk.

It is the intention of the Board to erect a brand new wire fence and to plant trees along the area, making a boulevard of it in an attempt to clean up the unsightly weed growths that have detracted so much from the appearance of the place.

ROTARIAN FROM PORTO RICA IS HEARD TO-DAY

Herb Brown Refers To Pleasant Relationships With Local Club.

FIGHTING DIPHTHERIA.

Oshawa's Medical Officer of Health Endorses Local Campaign.

Rotarian Herb. Brown, of San Juan, Porto Rica, who has been spending the summer at Gull Lake, and who has been a most welcome visitor at the meetings of the local club, was the speaker at to-day's luncheon of the Peterborough Rotary Club and gave a sparkling address that was much appreciated by the members.

Rotarian Brown referred to the most enjoyable summer he had spent in Ontario and to the relationships established with Peterborough Rotarians, whose kindnesses he would always most gratefully remember. He appreciated most sincerely the associations he had enjoyed during the summer and paid a tribute to the people in the Gull Lake district, who were, he said, Rotarians in heart, if not in fact.

After going seventeen years in Porto Rica with only two weeks' holidays, Rotarian Brown remarked that this year he had five months' and he found that as a result he was able to get much closer to his two boys. He passed that tip on to Peterborough Rotarians, telling them they would find it well worth while to get on more intimate terms with their boys or with their neighbor's boys if they they had none of their own.

Rotarian Brown concluded his talk with a whimsical recital of his impressions of a trip to Venezuela, his witty description of conditions in that South American country being full of interest to the Rotarians.

Rotarian Fred L. Roy, who presided to-day, expressed the regret of members of the local club at the departure of Rotarian Brown and said that they were looking forward to having him with them again next season.

Mrs. Braund contributed two most enjoyable vocal solos to the programme, her rich voice being admirably displayed in these numbers. Mrs. Richardson was an effective accompanist.

Rotarian Dr. A. W. McPherson called the attention of Rotarians to the campaign to drive out diphtheria that is being inaugurated in Peterborough, and Rotarian Dr. McKay, Medical Officer of Health of Oshawa, who was a guest to-day, strongly endorsed the plan. He pointed out that in Oshawa in the past seven years, although the population had practically doubled during the period, the number of cases of diphtheria had decreased to 15 a year as compared with 50 to 100 seven years ago, while the deaths from this disease averaged but 1 per year as against 15. If there was anything that the medical profession were sure of, he declared, it was that diphtheria could be prevented by immunizing the people and he advised the pre-school years as the best time for this to be done.
